12 Be not surety about thy power: for if thou be iurety, take care to pay it.

13 Goe not to law with a Iudge: for they will iure for him according to his honour.

14 Trust all not by the way with a bold fellow, lest he become grieuous vnto thee: for he will doe according to his owne will, and then shall perishe with him through his folly.

15 Strive not with an angry man, and goe not with him into a solitary place: for blood is as nothing in his sight: and where there is no helpe, he will overthrow thee.

16 Consult not with a foole: for he cannot keepe counsell.

17 Doe no secret thing before a stranger: for thou knowest not what he will bring forth.

18 Open not thine heart to every man, lest he requite thee with a shrewd turne.

CHAP. IX.

We are aduised how to use our wits, 3 What women so aduise, to aduise to change an old friend, 13 Not to be familiar with men in authority, 14 Not to know our neighbours: 15 and to conuerse with wisdom.

BE not ielous ouer the wife of thy besome, and beate her not an euill lesson against thy selfe.

2 Give not thy soule vnto a woman, to see her foot vpon thy substance.

3 Meet not with a harlot, lest thou fall into her snare.

4 Use not much the company of a woman, that is a finger, lest thou be taken with her attempt.

5 Gaze not on a masie, that thou fall not by those things that are precious in her.

6 Give not thy soule vnto harlots, that thou loise not thine inheritance.

7 Looke not round about thee in the streets of the city, neither wandre thou in the solitary places thereof.

8 Turne away thine eye from a beautifull woman, and looke not vpon anothers beauty: for many haue bene deceiued by the beauty of a woman for herewith leue is kindled as a fire.

9 Sit not at all with another mans wife, nor sit downe with her in thine armes, and spend not thy money with her at the wine, lest thine heart encline vnto her, and so thorow thy desire thou fall into destruction.

10 For sake not an old friend, for the new is not comparable to him: a new friend is as new wine: when it is cold thou shalt drinke it with pleasure.

11 Enuy not the glory of a fower: for thou knowest not what shall be his end.

12 Delight not in the thing that the vngodly haue pleasure in, but remember they shall not goe unpunished vnto their graue.

13 Keepe thee far from the man that hath power to kill, so shalt thou not doubt the feare of death: and if thou come vnto him, make no fault, least he take away thy life presently: remember that thou goest in the midst of snares, and that thou walkest vpon the battlements of the city.

14 As oere as thou canst, gastie at thy neighbor, and comit with the wife.

15 Let thy talke be with the wife, and all thy communication in the Law of the most High.

16 And let iust men eate and drinke with thee, and let thy glorying be in the feare of the Lord.

17 For the hand of the artificeer, the worker shall bee commanded: and the wise ruler of the people, for his speech.

18 A man of an ill tongue is dangerous in his city, and he that is rash in his talke shall be hated.

CHAP. X.

The commodities of a wise ruler: 4 God setteth him vp, 7 The inconueniences of pride, iniustice, and courtinesse, 14 What God hath done to the ground, 15 What soeuer he honoureth, 19 and who soeuer.

A Wise Iudge will instruct his people, and the gouernement of a prudent man is well ordered.

 2 As the Judge of the people is himselfe, so are his officers; and what manner of men the Ruler of the city is, such are all they that dwell therein.
 3 An unwise King sitteth on his people, but through the power of them which are an authority, the city shall be inhabited.
 4 The power of the earth is in the hand of the Lord, and in due time, he will requite it as it is preferable.

 6 Beare not hatred to thy neighbour: for every wrongdought do nothing at all by in various practices.
 7 Pride is hateful before God and man: and by both doth out comest inquiry.
 8 Because of variegateness of things, iniquities and riches got by deceit, the Kingdome is translated from one people to another.

9 Why is earth and ashes proud? There is not a more wicked thing then a covetous man: for such a one feareth his own selfe to sale, because while he lieth, he careth not about his bowels.
 10 The Physician cureth of a long disease; and he that is to day a King to morrow shall die.
 11 For when a man's lord, he shall inherit exceeding things, beasts and worms.
 12 The beginning of pride is, when one departeth from God; and his heart is turned away from his Maker.

13 For pride is the beginning of sin, and he that hath it, shall give out abundance out: and therefore the Lord bringeth upon the to change calamities, and overthroweth the wisely.
 14 The Lord hath an army of thousands of Angels, and he will be not be in their aid.
 15 The Lord is he which hath the hearts of the proud nations: he turneth the bow in their place.
 16 The Lord overthroweth corner-stones of the heathen: and destroyed them to the foundations of the earth.
 17 He turneth some of them away, and destroyed them, and hath made their monuments to cease from the earth.
 18 Pride was not made for men, nor furious anger for them: that are the honor of a woman.

19 They that feare the Lord, are a to be seed, and they that looe him, an honourable plant: they that regard not the Law, are a dishonourable seed: they that transgress the Commandements, are a detestable seed.
 20 A strong brethren betwixt themselves, is honourable, so are they that feare the Lord in his eyes.
 21 The feare of the Lord giveth force to the obtaining of authority: but roughness and pride is the losing thereof.
 22 Whether be he rich, noble, or poor, their glory is the will of the Lord.
 23 It is not meet to despise the poor man that hath understanding; neither is it convenient to magnifie a full man.
 24 Great men, in Judges, and Potentes shall be honoured, yet is there none of them greater then he that feareth the Lord.
 25 Vnto the servant that is wise, shall they that are free doe service: and he that hath knowledge, shall not be bought when he is reformed.
 26 Be not envious in doing any business, and boast not thy selfe in the time of thy distress.
 27 Better is he that laboureth and aboundeth in all things, then he that doeth himselfe, and watecheth his hand.

 30 The poor man is honoured for his stillness, and the rich man is honoured for his riches.
 31 He that is honoured in poverty, how much more in riches? and he that is dishonourable in riches, how much more in poverty?

constant cheer, and were old in thy work.
 21 Marvell not at the works of sinners; but trust in the Lord, and abide in thy labours; for it is an easy thing in the sight of the Lord on the sudden to make a poore man rich.

22 The blessing of the Lord is in the reward of the goodly, and suddenly he maketh his blessing to flourish.

23 Say not, What profit is there of my labours? and what good things shall I haue hereafter?

24 Against, say not, I haue enough, and possess many things; and what shall come to me hereafter?

25 In the day of prosperity there is a forgetfulness of affliction; and in the day of affliction, there is no remembrance of prosperity.

26 For it is an easy thing vnto the Lord, in the day of death to reward a man according to his ways.

27 The affliction of an houre maketh a mans forgetfulness; and in his end his deeds shall be discovered.

28 Judge now blessed before his death: for a man shall be knowne in his children.

29 Bring not cury man into thine house, for the deceitfull man hath many treasures.

30 Like as a partridge taken [and kept] in a cage, so is the heart of the goodly; and like as a spy watcheth he for thy fall.

31 For he lieth in wait, and stretcheth out his net, and in things worthy praise will lay blame vpon thee.

32 Of a sparke of fire, a heape of coales is kindled; and a small man is yett waite for blood.

33 Like the head of a malicious man, (for he worketh wickedness) lett he bring vpon thee a perpetual blot.

34 Receive a stranger into thine house, and he will disturbe thee, & turne thee out of thine own.

CHAP. XII.

1 Be not liberall to the vngodly. 2 Trust not thine tongue, nor the wicked.

When thou wait doe good, know to whom thou doest it; for, shall thou be thanked for thy benches.

3 Doe good to the goodly man, and thou shalt finde a recompence; and if not from him, yet from the most High.

4 There can no good come to him that is alwayes occupied in euill: nor to him that girth no almes.

5 Doe to the goodly man, and helps not a sinner.

6 Give well vnto him that is lowly, but give not to the vngodly: hold backe thy bread, and give it not vnto him, lest he ouermaster thee thereby: for [Iacob] shall receive twice as much euill for all the good thou shalt haue done vnto him.

7 For the most High hateth flippers, and will repay vengeance vnto the vngodly, and keepeth them against the mighty day of their punishment.

8 Give vnto the good, and helps not the sinner.

9 A friend cannot be knowne in prosperity, and an enemy cannot be hidden in adversity.

10 In the prosperity of a man, enemies will be grieved; but in his adversity, euen a friend will depart.

11 Neuer trust thine enemy: for lips as yron reth, so is his wickednesse.

12 Though he humble himselfe and see crouching, yet take good heed, and beware of him; and thou shalt see vnto him, as if thou hadst a looking glasse, and thou shalt know that his trust hath not bene altogether wisedome.

13 See him not by thine, lest when he hath spoken, thou shalt see him standing vpon the place, neither lett him sit at thy right hand, lest he seek to take thy feet, and thou at the last remember thy words, and be pricked therewith.

14 Wise will pity a charmer that is better with a serpent, or any such as come him wide beards?

15 So one that goeth to a sinner, and is deluded with him in his sin, who will pity?

16 For a while he will abide with thee, but if thou begin to fall, he will not tarry.

17 An enemy speaketh sweetly with his lips, but in his heart he imagineth how to throw thee into a pit; he will weep with his eyes, but if he finde opportunity, he will not be satisfied with blood.

18 If adversity come vpon thee, thou shalt finde him there; but, and though he pretend to helpe thee, yet shall he undermine thee.

19 Hee will shake his head, and clasp his hands, and whisper much, and change his countenance.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Keepe not company with the proud, for a mischief shall come vnto thee. 2 Like will to like. 3 The difference betwixt the rich and the poore. 4 A mans heart will change his countenance.

He that toucheth pitch shall be defiled therewith, and he that hath fellowship with a proud man, shall be like vnto him.

2 Bargaen not thy selfe about thy power while thou liest, and haue no fellowship with one that is mightier & richer then thy selfe. For how agree the kettle and the earthen pot together? for if the one be broken against the other, it shall be broken.

3 The rich man hath done wrong, and yet hee chategeth withall: the poore is wronged, and hee must entreat also.

4 If thou be for his profit, he will vse thee; but if thou haue nothing, he will forsake thee.

5 If thou haue any thing, hee will liue with thee, yet he will make thee bare, & will not be sorry for it.

6 If he haue need of thee, hee will deuiue thee, and smile vpon thee, and put thee in hope; hee will speake thee faire and say, What hast thou?

7 And hee will shame thee by his meats, vntill hee haue drawne thee dry twice or thrice, and at the last hee will laugh thee to scorn: afterward when hee see thee, hee will forsake thee, and shake his head at thee.

8 Beware that thou be not deceived, and brought downe in thy iollity.

9 If thou be inuaded of a mighty man, withdraw thy selfe, and so much the more will hee inuade thee.

10 Praise thou not vpon him, lest thou be put backe, stand not farre off, lest thou be forgotten.

11 Affect not to be made equal vnto him in talke, and beleeue not his many words: for with much communication will hee tempt thee, and smiling vpon thee, will get our thy secrets.

12 But cruelly hee will lay vpon thy words, and will not spare to do thee hurt, and to put thee in perill.

13 Obferue and take good heed, for thou shalt be in perill of thy overthrowing when thou hearest these things, awake in thy sleepe.

14 Lose the Lord all thy life, and call vpon him for thy saluation.

15 Euery beast loueth his like, and euery man loueth his neighbour.

16 All flesh conuerteth according to kind, and a man will cleaue to his like.

17 What fellowship hath the Wolfe with the lambe? so the sinner with the goodly.

18 What agreement is there between the rich and a dog? and what peace between the rich and the poore?

19 As the wilde ass is the Lyons prey in the wilderness, so the rich eat vp the poore.

20 As the proud hateth familiarity, so doth the rich abhorre the poore.

21 A rich man beginning to fall, is held vp of his friends: but a poore man being downe, is thrust also away by his friends.

22 When a rich man is fallen, he hath many helpers: but hee speaketh things not to be spoken, and yet men iustifie him, the poore man sips, and yet they rebeked him too: he that spake wisely had him no place.

23 When a rich man speaketh, every man holdeth his tongue, and looketh what he saith: they enuill it to the clouds; but if the poore man speake, they say, What fellow is this? and if he stumble, they will helpe to overthrow him.

24 Riches are good vnto him that hath no sin, and poverty is euill in the mouth of the vngodly.

25 The heart of a man changeth his vnderstanding, whether it be for good or euill: and a merry heart maketh a cheerefull countenance.

26 A cheerefull countenance is a token a heart of that is in prosperitie, and the finding out of paganism is a vaine studie: labour of the minde.

C H A P. XIII.

1 A good conscience maketh men happy, & the righteous doth good to him. 2 The desire of good.

3 Measure happy that draw neare vnto wisdom: for wisdom is the man that hath not wisdom with his mouth, and is not pricked with the multitude of sinnes.

4 Blessed is he whose confidence hath not deceived him, and who is not fallen from his hope in the Lord.

5 Riches are not comely for a niggard, and what should an enuious man doe with money?

6 He that gathereth by defrauding his owne soule, gathereth for others that shall spend his goods treacherously.

7 He that is euill to himselfe, to whom will he be good? he shall not take pleasure in his goods.

8 There is none worse then he that quencheth himselfe; and this is a recompence of his wickednesse.

9 And if he doth good, he doth it vngodly, and at the last he will declare his wickednesse.

10 The enuious man hath a wicked eye, he turneth away his face, and despiseth men.

11 A covetous mans eye is not satisfied with his portion, and the iniquity of the wicked drieth vp his soule.

12 A wicked eye enuieeth [his] bread, and he is a niggard at his cabbe.

13 My loue, according to thy ability, doe good to thy fellow, and giue to the Lord his due offering.

14 Remember that death will not be long in coming, and that the consent of the graue is not shewed vnto thee.

15 Doe good vnto thy friend before thou die, and according to thy ability, stretch out thy hand and giue to him.

16 Deferre not thy selfe off [the] good day, and let not the part of a good desire ouerpass thee.

17 Shall thou not leaue thy travels vnto another? and thy labours to be diuided by loc?

18 Giue and take, and sanctifie thy soule: for there is no seeking of diuinitie in the graue.

19 All things waxeth old as a garment: for a consuetudine from the beginning is, that death shall die: death

18 As of the graue leaues on a thicke tree, some fall, and some grow: so is the generation of flesh and blood, some cometh to an end, and another is borne.

19 Every worke rotteth and consumeth away, and the worker thereof shall goe withall.

20 Blessed is the man that doth meditate good things in wisdom, and that reasoneth of holy things by his vnderstanding.

21 He that couereth her wayes in his heart, shall also haue vnderstanding in her seruice.

22 Goe after her as one that tracteth, and lie in wait in her wayes.

23 He that sitteth in at her windowes, shall also hearken at her doores.

24 He that doth lodge vnder her house, shall also fasten a spinn in her walls.

25 He shall pinch his nose with vnto her, and shall lodge in a lodging where good things are.

26 He shall sit for his children vnder her shadow, and shall lodge vnder her branches.

27 By her he shall be conuerted from heere, and in her glory shall he dwell.

C H A P. XV.

1 Wisdom embraceth those that feare God, & the wicked shall not get her: 2 We may not charge God with our sinnes: for he created and left vs to our felices.

3 It is thus speaketh the Lord will do good, and he that hath the knowledge of the Lord shall obtaine her.

4 He that is a mother shall she that is a virgin, and recting him as a wife married of a virgin.

5 He that is the head of vnicertaintie, shall the foall him, & give him the gesser of wisdom to drink.

6 He shall be stayed vpon her, and shall not be moved; and shall rely vpon her, and shall not be confounded.

7 She shall exalt him above his neighbours, and in the midst of the congregation shall he open his mouth.

8 He shall finde joy and a crowne of gladnesse: & the shall cause him to inherit an everlasting name.

9 But foolish men shall not attaine vnto her, and sinners shall not see her.

10 For this is not from pride, and thou that are lyers cannot remember her.

11 Pride is not stanchy in the mouth of a sinner; for he was not sent him of the Lord.

12 For praise shall be uttered in wisdom, and the Lord will prosper it.

13 Say not thou, it is through the Lord that I fell away, for thou oughtest not to doe the things that he hateth.

14 Say not thou, he hath caused me to erre, for he hath no need of the sinfull man.

15 The Lord hateth all abominacion, and they that feare God loue it not.

16 He himselfe made man from the beginning, and left him in the hand of his counsell.

17 If thou wilt, to keep the commandments, and to performe acceptable iustitias.

18 He hath set fire and water before thee: stretch forth thy hand to whether thou wilt.

19 Before man is life and death, and whether him liketh, shall be giuen him.

20 For the wisdom of the Lord is great, and he is mighty in power, and beholdeth all things.

21 And his spirit is vpon them that feare him, and he knoweth every worke of man.

22 He hath founded no man to be wickedly, neither hath he giuen any man liues to sinne.

CHAP. XVI.

1 It is better to have youth than many lead children. 2 The wicked are not feared for their number. 3 Both the wrath and the mercy of the Lord are great. 4 The wickedness of the hid. 5 Gods workes are unsearchable.

Effect not a multitude of unprofitable children, neither delight in vncdially foones.

2 Though they multiply, they are not in them, except the feare of the Lord be with them.

3 Trust not those in their life, neither respect their multitude: for one that is iust, is better then a thousand, and better it is to die without children, than to haue them that are vniust.

4 For by one that hath vnderstanding shall the city be replenished: but the number of the wicked shall speedily become desolate.

5 Many such things haue I seene with mine eyes, and mine ear hath heard greater things then these.

6 In the congregation of the vngodly shall a fire be kindled, and in a rebellious nation wrath is set on fire.

7 Hee was not pacified towards the old gyants, who sell away in the strength of their foolishness.

8 Whether spured be the place where Lot soourned, yet abhorred there for their pride.

9 He pittied not the people of perdition, who were taken away in their sinnes.

10 Not the six hundred thousand souldiers, who were gathered together in the hardnesse of their hearts.

11 And if there be one stiff-necked among the people, it is maruell if he escape unpunished: for mercy and wrath are with him, he is mighty to giue, and to powre out displeasur.

12 As his mercy is great, so is his correction also: for he iudgeth a man according to his workes.

13 The sinners shall not scape with his spoiles, and the possession of the godly shall not be frustrate.

14 Make way for every worke of mercy: for every man shall be iudged according to his workes.

15 The Lord hardened Pharaoh, that he would not know him, that his powerfull workes might be knowne to the world.

16 His mercy is manifest to every creature, and he hath separated his light from the darkness with an Adamant.

17 Say not thou, I will hide my selfe from the Lord: shall any remember me from above? I shall not be remembered among so many people: for what is my soule among such an infinite number of creatures?

18 Behold, the heauen and the heauen of heauen, the deepe, and the earth, and all that therein is, shall be moued when he shall iudge.

19 The mountains also, and foundation of the earth shall be shaken with trembling, when the Lord lookeb vpon them.

20 No heart can thinke vpon these things worldly: and who is able to conceiue his wayes?

21 It is a trespass which no man can see, for the most part of his workes are hid.

22 Who can declare the workes of his iustice? or who can endure them? for his Covenant is a secret, and the triall of all things is in the end.

23 He that wanteth vnderstanding, will thinke vpon vaine things: and a foolish man bringeth himselfe to foolishnes.

24 My son, hearken vnto mee, and learne knowledge, and make my words with thy heart.

25 I will shew forth doctrine in weight, and declare his knowledge exactly.

26 The workes of the Lord be done in iudgement from the beginning: and from the cloud he made them: he disposed the parts thereof.

27 He garnished his workes for euer, and in his hand are the chiefes of them vnto all generations: they neither labour, nor are weary, nor cease from these workes.

28 None of them hindreth another, and they shall neuer disobey his word.

29 After this, the Lord looked vpon the earth, and fitted it with his lightnings.

30 With all manner of liuing things hath he created the face thereof, and they shall continue there againe.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Now God created and furnished man: he made him as himselfe: he made him as himselfe in all things as he is.

2 The Lord created man of the earth, and turned him into it againe. 3 He gaue them few daies and a short time, and power hee doeth his things therein.

4 Hee enuied them for strength by themselves, and made them according to his image.

5 And put the feare of mee vpon all flesh, and gaue him dominion ouer beasts and fowles.

6 They received the vnto of the five operations of the Lord, and in the first place hee impoised vnto them vnderstanding, and in the secondly speech: an interpreter of the cogitations thereof.

7 Counsell, and a tongue, and eyes, ears, and an heart gaue hee them to vnderstand.

8 He filled them with the knowledge of vnderstanding, and shewed them good and euill.

9 He set his eye vpon their hearts, that he might shew them the greatnes of his workes.

10 He gaue them to glory in his marueilous adoe for euery, that they might declare his workes with vnderstanding.

11 And the best shall praise his holy Name.

12 Besides thought gaue them knowledge, and the law of life for an heritage.

13 He made an euertlasting Covenant with them, and shewed them his iudgements.

14 Their eyes saw the Majesty of his glory, and their ears heard his glorious voyce.

15 Hee said vnto them, Beware of all vniustnes, and be ye gaurd every man commandment concerning his neighbour.

16 Their wayes are euery before him, and shall not be hid from his eyes.

17 Every man from his youth is giuen to euill, neither could they make to themselves fleshy hearts for shew.

18 For in the disposition of the nations of the whole earth, he set a ruler ouer every people: but Israel is the Lords portion.

19 Whom bring his first borne mee nourished with discipline, and giuing him the light of his loue, doeth mee forsake him.

20 Therefore all their workes are as the same before him, and his eyes are continually vpon their wayes.

21 None of their vniustnes deedes are hid from him, but all their sinnes are before the Lord.

22 But the Lord being gracious, and knowing his workmanship, neither lett, nor forsake them, but spored them.

23 The almes of a man is as a signet with him, and hee will keepe the good deedes of man, as the apple of the eye, and gaue repentance to his sonnes and daughters.

23. Afterward he will rise up, and reward them
 24. And render unto them according to their works.
 25. But unto them that repent, he granted them
 26. Repentance and comforted those that sit in patience.
 27. Because unto the Lord, and for sake they find
 28. Make thy prayer before his face, and offend not.
 29. Turne againe to the most High, and turne
 30. Away from iniquitie: for he will lead thee out of
 31. Darkness intoe light of health, and have thou a
 32. Joyment thou shalt surely.

33. Who shall praise the most High in the grave,
 34. In land of them which line and give thanks?
 35. Thou shalt praise the Lord from the dead, as
 36. From one that is not: the living and found in heart
 37. Shall praise the Lord.

38. How grieves the loving husband of the Lord
 39. Our God, and his compassion was such as turne
 40. Unto him in holincke.

41. For all things cannot bee in men, because the
 42. Soune of man is not immortal.
 43. What is higher then the Sun? yet the light
 44. thereof faileth: and flesh and blood will imagine
 45. Sudd.

46. He vieweth the power of the height of hea-
 47. ven, and all men are but earth and ashen.

CHAP. XVIII.

1. Gods wonders are to be wondered at: 2. Mans
 3. life is short: 4. Gods mercies: 5. Do not ble-
 6. mish the good deeds which are done: 7. Deferre
 8. not to be justified: 9. Follow not thy lusts.

1. He that loveth his neighbor, created all things in
 2. general.
 3. The Lord only is righteous, and there is none
 4. other but he.

5. Who girdeth the world with the palms of
 6. his hand, and all things obey his will; for he is
 7. the King of all by his power: dividing he things
 8. among them from prophesie.

9. To whom hath he given power to declare his
 10. works? and who shall find out his noble deeds?
 11. Who shall number the strength of his Maie-
 12. sty? and who shall also tell out his mercies?

13. As for the wondrous works of the Lord, there
 14. may nothing be taken from them, neither may any
 15. thing be put unto them, neither can the grounds of
 16. them be found out.

17. When a man hath done, then he beginneth, and
 18. when he hath done, then he shall be doable.
 19. What is man, and whereof serveth he? what
 20. is his strength, and what is his skill?

21. The number of a mans daies at the most
 22. are an hundred yeeres.
 23. As a drop of water unto the Sea; and a gra-
 24. vel stone in comparison of the sand, so are a thou-
 25. sand yeeres to the daies of eternitie.

26. Therefore is God patient with them, and
 27. speweth forth his mercy upon them.
 28. He loveth and perceived their end: and to be cruel?
 29. Therefore he multiplied his compassion.

30. The mercy of man is toward his neighbour,
 31. but the mercy of the Lord is upon all flesh: he re-
 32. peth, and unrighteous, and teacheth, and bringeth
 33. againe as a shepherd his flocke.

34. He hath mercy on them that receive discipline
 35. and that diligently seeke after his Indgements.
 36. My son, bleasith not thy good deeds, neither
 37. vnto miserable words when thou givest any
 38. thing.

39. Shall not the dew asswage the heate? so is a
 40. word better then a gift.

41. Loveth not a word better then a gift? but
 42. both are with a gracious man.

43. A foole will upbraid charitably, and a gift of
 44. the envious ennimeth the eyes.

45. Learn, before thou speake, and vie thy face
 46. of ever thou be sicke.
 47. Before judgment examine thy selfe, and in
 48. the day of visitation thou shalt find away.

49. Humble thy selfe before thou be sicke, and in
 50. the time of sickness show repentance.
 51. Let nothing hinder thee to pay thy vow in
 52. due time, and deferre not until death to be justified.

53. Before thou prayest, prepare thy selfe, and be
 54. not as one that tempteth the Lord.
 55. Think upon the wrath that shall be at the
 56. end, and the time of vengeance when he shall turne
 57. away his face.

58. When thou hast enough, remember the time
 59. of hunger, and when thou art rich, thinke upon pe-
 60. nury and need.

61. From the morning until the evening the
 62. time is changed, and all things are sooner done be-
 63. fore the Lord.

64. A wife man will feare in every thing, and in
 65. the day of sinning he will beware of offence: but a
 66. foole he will not observe time.

67. Every man of understanding knoweth wise-
 68. dome, and will give praise unto him that found her.
 69. They that were of understanding in sayings,
 70. became also wise themselves, and powered forth
 71. exquisite parables.

72. God not after thy lusts, but reframe thy
 73. selfe from thine appetites.
 74. If thou givest thy soule the desires that please
 75. her, she will make thee a laughing stocke to thine
 76. enemies that maligne thee.

77. Take not pleasure in much good chere: nei-
 78. ther be tyed to the expence thereof.
 79. Be not made a begger by banqueting upon
 80. borrowing, when thou hast nothing in thy purse
 81. for thou shalt be in waite for thy owne life and be
 82. talked on.

CHAP. XIX.

1. Wine and women seduce wise men: 2. Say not
 3. all thou knowest: 4. Reprove thy friend without
 5. anger: 6. There is no wisdom in wickedness.

7. Labouring man that is given to drunkenness
 8. shall not be rich, and hee that contenteth
 9. himselfe with little shall fall by little and little.

10. Wine and women will make men of under-
 11. standing to fall away, and he that cleauneth to har-
 12. lots, will become impudent.

13. Moths and worms shall haue him to heritage,
 14. and a bold man shall be taken away.
 15. He that is hasty to give credit, is light mind-
 16. ed, and he that smeth, shall offend against his
 17. owne soule.

18. Who so taketh pleasure in wickednes, shall be
 19. condemned, but he that resisteth pleasures, crow-
 20. neth his life.

21. He that can rule his tongue, shall line with-
 22. out strife, and he that hath babling, shall have
 23. lesse chere.
 24. Recheife not unto another that which is told
 25. unto thee, and thou shalt seee never the worse.

26. Whether it be to friend or foe, talke not of
 27. other mens liues, and if thou canst without offence,
 28. reueale them not.

29. For he heard and observed thee, and when
 30. time cometh he will shate thee:
 31. If thou hast heard a word, let it die with thee,
 32. and be bold it will not burst thee.
 33. A foole travaileth with a word, as a woman
 34. in labour of a child.

12 As an arrow that sticketh in a mans thigh, so is a word which a fooler beliveth.
 13 Admonish a friend, it may bee hee hath not done it: and if he have done it, that he doe it no more.
 14 Admonish thy friend, it may be hee hath not said it, and if he have, that hee speak it not againe.
 15 Admonish a friend for many times, it is a slander, and beloveth not every tale.
 16 There is one that slipper, in his speech, but not from his heart, and who is he that hath not offended with his tongue?
 17 Admonish thy neighbour before thou threaten him, and not being angry, give place to the law of the most High.

18 The feare of the Lord is the first step, for he accepted of him, and wisdom obtained his love.
 19 The knowledge of the commandments of the Lord, is the doctrine of life, and they that doe things that please him, shall receive the fruit of the tree of immortality.
 20 The feare of the Lord is all wisdom, and in all wisdom is the performance of the law, and the knowledge of his omnipotency.
 21 If a man say to his neighbour, I will not doe as it pleaseth thee, though afterward he do it, hee angreth him that nourisheth him.
 22 The knowledge of wickednes is not wisdom, neither at any time the counsel of sinners, prudence.
 23 There is a wicked deede, and the same an abomination; and there is a foole wanting in wisdom.
 24 He that hath small understanding, and feareth God, is better then one that hath much wisdom, and transgresseth the Law of the most High.
 25 There is an exquisite subtilty, and the same is vniust, and there is one that turneth aside to make iudgement appeare: and there is a wise man that iustifieth in iudgement.
 26 There is a wicked man that hangeth downe his head sadly, but inwardly he is full of deceit.
 27 Casting downe his countenance, and making as if he heard nowhere he is not knowne, he will doe thee a mischief before thou be aware.
 28 And if for weake of power hee bee hindered from sinning, yet when hee findeth opportunity, he will doe euill.
 29 A man may be knowne by his looks, and one that hath understanding, by his countenance when thou meetest him.
 30 A mans strike, and certaine laughter, and gace, shew what he is.

CHAP. XX.

1 Of silence and speaking. 2 Of gifts and paine. 3 Of saying by the tongue. 4 Of being. 5 Of shewing advertisement.

There is a reproche that is not comely, againe, forge man holdeth his tongue, and he is wise.
 2 It is much better to reprove, then to be angry secretly: and hee that confesseth his fault shall be preferred from hurt.
 3 How good is it when thou art reprov'd, to shew repentance? for so shalt thou escape without blame.
 4 As is the lust of an Emmer to devour a Virgine, so is hee that executeth iudgement with violence.
 5 There is one that keepeth silence, and is found without another by much babbling becommeth hateful.
 6 Some man holdeth his tongue, because hee hath not an answer, and some keepeth silence, knowing his time.

7 A wife man will hold his tongue, as will hee that is opportunitie: but a babbler and a foole will regard no time.
 8 He that speaketh many words shall be abhorred, and hee that carketh to himselfe authority therein, shall be hated.
 9 There is a siner that hath good success in evil things, as there is a game that turneth to losse.
 10 There is a gift that shall not profit thee, and there is a gift whose recompence is double.
 11 There is an abatement because of glory, and there is that lifeth vp his head from a low estate.
 12 There is that buyeth much for a little, and receiveth it sinen fold.
 13 A wife man by his words maketh himselfe beloved: but the graces of fooler shall be rewarded out.
 14 The gift of a foole shall doe thee no good when thou hast it, neither yet of the envious, for his necessities for hee + looketh to receive many things for one.
 15 He giveth little, and vpraideth much: hee preacheth his mouth like a cryer: so day he lendeth, and to morrow will hee owe it againe, such an one is to be feared of God and man.
 16 The foole saith, I have no friends, I have no thanks for all my good deedes, and they that eat my bread, speake euill of me.
 17 How oft, and of how many shall he be laughed to scorn, for he knoweth not aright what it is to haue, and it is all one vnto him, as if hee had it not.
 18 To slip vpon a pavement, is better then to slip with the tongue: so the fall of the wicked shall come speedily.
 19 An vnreasonable tale will alwayes be in the mouth of the vnwise.
 20 A wife sentence shall be received when it cometh out of a foolers mouth, for he will not speake it in due season.
 21 There is a hundred sinning through words, and when hee taketh rest, hee shall not be troubled.
 22 He that destroyeth his own soule through his foolishnes, and by accepting of persons, overthroweth himselfe.
 23 There is that for his foolishnes, promiseth to his friend, and maketh him his enemye the nothing.
 24 A lie is a foule blot in a mans get, it is continually in the mouth of the vntrouth.
 25 A thiefe is better then a man that is accustomed to lie: but they both shall haue destruction to heritage.
 26 The disposition of a liar is dishonourable, and his shame is euer with him.
 27 A wife man shall promote himselfe, by honour with his words: and hee that hath understanding will please great men.
 28 Hee that tilleth his land shall increase his heape: and he that pleaseth great men, shall get pardon for iniquitie.
 29 Presents and gifts, blind the eyes of a wife, and I stop vp his mouth that hee cannot reprove.
 30 Wisdom that is hid, and treasure that is hoarded vp, what profit is in them both?
 31 Better is he that hideth his folly, then a man that hideth his wisdom.
 32 Necessary patience in seeking the Lord, is better then he that leadeh his life without a guide.

CHAP. XXI.

1 Else from fame as from a serpent. 2 His oppression will vnder the rich. 3 The end of the world shall be taught. 4 The differences between the foole and the wife.

Man that thou findest? doe fo no more, but
 1. Lett pardon for thy former sins.
 2. Flye from him, as from the face of a serpent:
 for if thou commit to nere it, it will bite thee:
 the teeth thereof are as the teeth of a lyon, slaying the soules of men.

3. All iniquitie is as a two edged sword, the wounde wherof cannot be healed.

4. To rise and doe wrong, will waste riches thus the hour of proud men shall be made desolate.

5. A prayer out of a pious mans mouth reacheth to the eares of God, and his iudgement cometh speedily.

6. He that heareth to be reprooued, is in the way of sinners: but hee that feareth the Lord, will repent from his heart.

7. A eloquent man is knowne farre and nere, but a man of vnderstanding knoweth when hee disspecth.

8. Hee that buildeth his house with other mens money, is like one that gathereth himselfe stones for a comb of his iudiciall.

9. The congregation of the wicked is like tow wrapp'd together, and the end of them is a stiepe of fire to consume them.

10. The way of sinners, is made plaine with stones, but as th. end thereof is the pit of hell.

11. He that keepeth the Law of the Lord, getteth the vnderstanding thereof: and the perdition of the feare of the Lord is wisdom.

12. Hee that is not wise will not be taught: but there is a witnesse which multiplieth out of itselfe.

13. The knowledge of a wise man shall abound like a flood, and his counsell is like a pure fountaine of life.

14. The inner parts of a foole are like a broken vessel, and hee will hold no knowledge as long as hee liueth.

15. If a iudiciall man heare a wise word, he will commend it, and adde vnto it: but as foure is one of the vnderstanding heareth it, it displeaseth him, and hee hath it by tunc his backe.

16. The talking of a foole is like a burden in the way: but grace shall be found in y lips of the wise.

17. They inquire at the mouth of the wise man in the congregation, and they shall ponder his words in their heart.

18. As is a house that is destroyed, so is the dome to a foole: and the knowledge of the wife, is as talke without meate.

19. Doctrine vnto foolcs is as feathers on the feer, and like manacles on the right hand.

20. A foole liueth vpon his voice with laughter, but a wise man hath scarce smile a hazzle.

21. Learning is vnto a wife man, as an ornament of gold, and like a defence vpon his right arme.

22. A foolish mans tongue is sooner in blasphemous speech: but a mans experience is ashamed of him.

23. A foole will be proued at the voice of his neighbours: but a wise man will stand without.

24. It is the punishment of a man to hearken at the glorie: but a wise man will be grieved with the shame.

25. The lips of sinners will be telling such things as pertaine vnto them, but the words of such as are vnderstanding are righted in the ballance.

26. The heart of a foole is in their mouth, but the mouth of the wife is in their heart.

27. When the vngodly curse the iust, hee curseth his own soule.

28. A whisperer desireth his owne soule, and is hated wher hee is: but a discreet man shall dwell in peace.

CHAP. XXII.

1. Of the foolish man; and a foolish daughter.

2. Woe rather for sinners then for the dead: 12
 Middle not with them. 16 The wife man beu't will not forsake. 20 He will loose a friend.

A Stodfull man is compared to a filthy stone, and any one with which hee is out of his degree is a Stodfull man: compared to the fish of a dangull, every man that catcheth it vp, will shake his hand.

3. An still nurtured soule is the dishonour of his father that begeth: but a [foolish] daughter is borne to his losse.

4. A wife daughter shall bring an inheritance to her husband: but shee that looeth dishonour, is her fathers heauensse.

5. She that is blind, dishonoureth both her father and her husband: but they both shall despise her.

6. A tale out of the mouth [is] as [is] [is] [is] [is] [is] mourning: but stripes and correction of wisdom are sweeter out of taste.

7. Who lo teacheth a foole, is as one that glazeth a poulheard together, and as he that walketh out from a sound sleepe.

8. He that telleth a tale to a foole, speaketh to one in a chamber when he hath told his tale he will say, What is the matter?

9. If children touch heuently, and haue [where] with-all, they shall loose the benefesse of their parents.

10. But children being haughty, through diuides, and want of nurture, doe taine the nobility of the ir hundred.

11. Woe for the dead, for he hath lost the light and weeps for the foole, for hee waiteth vnto standing: make lires weeping for the dead, for hee is as without life of a foole is worse then death.

12. Seuen dayes doe men moure for him that is dead: but for a foole, and an vngodly man all the dayes of his liue.

13. Take not much with a foole, and doe not to him: he hath no vnderstanding, beware of him, lest thou haue trouble: and thou shalt neuer be deliued with his fooleries depart from him, & thou shalt find rest, and neuer be disquieted with madnesse.

14. What is he better then hee? and what is the same thereto: but a foole?

15. Sand, and salt, and a masse of iron is easieer to beare, then a mans without vnderstanding.

16. A timber yett and bound together in a building cannot be loosed with shaking: so the heart that is stablished by aduised counsell, shall feare at no time.

17. A heart fedd vpon a thought of vnderstand-ing, is as a faire plaine: when the wall of a city is as a high place, will neuer stand against the wind: so a fearefull heart in the imagination of a foole, cannot stand against any feare.

18. Hee that pricketh the eye, shall make eares to fall, and hee that pricketh the heare, maketh it to shew his knowledge.

19. Who so catcheth a stone as the bird, hee throweth them away, and hee that vbraidereth his friend breaketh friendship.

20. Though a man dreweth a sword at thy friend, yet despair not: for there may be a returning (to favour).

21. If thou hast opened thy mouth against thy friend, feare not, for there may be a reconciliation:
 except for vbraiding, or pride, or disclosing of secrets, or a treacherous wound: for, for these things euery friend will depart.

22. See the fall of thy neighbour in his pasture,
 and that thou wilt rejoice in his punishment abide he shall visit him in the time of his trouble, that thou mayest take him with him in his backings for a means that it is not wily to be condemned, nor the rich that is foolish to be had in admiration.

20 As the vapour and smother of a furnace goeth before the fire: so railing before blood

21 I will not be ashamed to defend a friend:
neither will I hide my selfe from him.

22 And if any evil happen unto me by him, enemy one that heareth it, will beware of him.

23 Who shall let a watch before my mouth, and a seale of wisdom upon my lips, that I fall not suddenly by them, and that my tongue destroy me not?

CHAP. XXII

1 A prayer for grace to see him, 9 We may not see his glory: 12 But remember our parents, 16 Of three sorts of sins. 23 The adulterous wife sinneth many ways.

Lord, Father and governour of all my whole life, leasse mee not to their counsailes, and let me not fall by them.

2 Who will set scourges over my thoughts, and the discipline of wisdoms durst mine heart, that they spare me not for mine ignorances, and it passe not by my fingers?

3 Let mine ignorances increaseth, and my fingers abound to my destruction, and I fall before mine adversaries, and mine enemy rejoyce over mee, whose hope is far from thy mercy.

4 O Lord, Father, and God of my life, give mee not a proud looke, but turne away from thy ferments alwayes a haughty mind.

5 Turne away from me vaine hopes, and conceipience, and thou shalt hold me up, that is desirous alwayes to see thee.

6 Let not the greedinesse of the belly, nor full of the best cake hold of me, and give use over mee thy servants into an impatient mind.

7 Heave, O ye children, the discipline of the mouth: He that is despotic, shall never be taken in his lips.

8 The sinner shall be left in his foolishness: both the euill speaker and the proud shall fall thereby.

9 A vow that thou thy mouth in swearing: neither vie thy selfe to the naming of the holy One.

10 For as a servant that is continually beaten, shall use: bee without a blow marke, so hee that swareth and nameth God continually, shall not be faultlesse.

11 As water that is full much sweating, that he filled with iniquity, and the plague shall never depart from his house: if he shall offend, his sinne shall be upon him: and if he acknowledge not his sinne, he shall have a double offence, and if hee be aware in vaine, he shall not be innocent, but his house shall be full of castigation.

12 There is a word that is clothed about with deaths: God voucheth that it is not found in the heritage of innocents, for all such things shall be far from the godly, and they shall not walke in their sins.

13 Vie not thy mouth to vntemperate swearing, for therein is the word of sinne.

14 Remember thy father and thy mother, when thou shalt stand among great men. Bee not forgetful before them, and so thou by thy custom become a foole, and with that thou shalt not beare borne, and curse the day of thy nativity.

15 The man that is accustomed to opprobrious words, will neuer be reformed all the dayes of his life.

16 Two sorts of sinne shall be found in the child will bring with it a hotte mind in as a burning see, it will neuer be quenched till it be consumed: a foreswearer in the body of his flesh, will neuer staffe will he hath kindled, first.

17 All bread is sweet to a vntemperate, but will not laste off till hee die.

18 A man that breakech wordes, sayinge in his heart, Who seeth mee? I am compelled to sweare with dainty the wale cover mee, and he seeth mee, what need I to feare? the most High will not remember my sinnes.

19 Such a man ouerly seareth the eyes of men, and knoweth not that the eyes of the Lord are ten thousand times higher then the Sun, beholding all the wayes of men and considering the most secret parts.

20 He knew all things ere ever they were created, so also after they were perfected, hee looked vpon them all.

21 This man shall be punished in the finnes of the city, and where he is punished, hee shall be taken.

22 Thus shall it goe also with the wife that teaseth her husband, and bringeth in an heire by another.

23 For first she hath disobeyed the Law of the most High, and secondly, she hath disobeyed against her owne husband, and thirdly, she hath played the whore in adultery, and brought children by another man.

24 She shall be brought out into the Congregation, and a inquisition shall be made of her children:

25 Her children shall not take root, and her breast shall bring forth no fruit.

26 She that leaseth her memory to be cursed, and her reproch shall not be blotted out.

27 And they that remaine, shall knowe that there is nothing better then the feare of the Lord, and that there is nothing sweeter, then to take heed vnto the Commandement of the Lord.

28 It is good glory to follow the Lord, and to be reioiced of him in long life.

CHAP. XXIII

2 My wisdome doth I praise her selfe, for shee beginning, 11 her dwelling, 13 her glory, 15 her fruit, 16 her marriage and possession.

Wisdome shall praise her selfe, and shall glory in the midst of her people.

1 In the Congregation of the most High, shall the open her mouth, and triumph before his power.

2 I came out of the mouth of the most High, and covered the earth as a cloud.

3 I dwell in high places, and my throne is in clouds, pillars.

4 I alone compassed the circuit, and becomen and walked in the bottomes of the deepe.

5 In the wastes of the sea, and in all the earth, and in every people and nation I got a possession.

6 With all these I sought rest, and in whose inheritance shall I abide?

7 So hee Creator of all things gaue mee a commandement, and hee that made mee caused my inheritance to rest, and said, Let thy dwelling be in Jacob, and thine inheritance in Israel.

8 Hee created mee from the beginning before the world, and I shall neuer faile.

9 In the holy Tabernacle I formed before him and so was I established in Sion.

10 Likewise in the beloved citie her gate was rest, and in Ierusalem was my power.

18 And I took root in an honourable people,
 19 In the portion of the Lords inheritance.
 20 I was exalted like a cedar in Libanus, and as a Cypress tree upon the mountains of Hermon.
 21 I was exalted like a Palm tree in Engaddi, and as a Rose-shrub in Jericho, as a fair Olive tree in a pleasant field; and grow up as a Pine tree by the water.
 22 I gave a sweet smell like Cassia and Afonida, and I yielded a pleasant Odour like the best Myrrour, as Galbanum and Onix and Sweet Storax, and as the linc of Frankincense in the Tabernacle.
 23 As the Turpentine tree, I stretched out my branches; and my branches are the branches of honour and grace.
 24 As the vine brought I forth pleasant savour, and my flowers are the fruit of honour and riches.
 25 I am the mother of faire love and feare, and knowledge, and holy hope, therefore being exceed small, and given to all my children, which are named of him.
 26 Come unto me all ye that be desirous of me, and fill your vessels with my fruits.
 27 For my memoriall is sweeter then honey, and mine inheritance then the honey combe.
 28 They that eat mee shall yet be hungry, and they that drinke me shall yet be thirsty.
 29 He that obeyeth me shall never be confounded, and they that worke by me shall not do amisse.
 30 All these things are the booke of the Covenant of the most high God, even the Law which Moses commanded for an heritage unto the Congregations of Israhel.
 31 Faint not to bee strong in the Lord, that he may confirme you, vnto vanities for the Lord Almighty is God alone, and besides him there is no other Saviour.
 32 Hee alleth all things with his wisdom, as Phylon, and as Tegrin in the time of new fruits.
 33 Hee maketh the understanding to abound like Ephraim, as Jordan in the time of the harvest.
 34 Hee maketh the doctrine of knowledge appeare as the light, and as Geon in the time of vintage.
 35 The first man knew her not perfectly, no more shall the last find her out.
 36 For her thoughts are more then the Sea, and her counsels profounder then the great deepe.
 37 I also came out as a brooke from straits, and as a conduit into a garden.
 38 I fished will watter my best garden, and will watter abundantly my garden bed: and loe, my brooke became a river, and my rhyne became a sea.
 39 I will yet make doctrine to shine as the morning, and will stand forth her light as the sun.
 40 I will yet powre out doctrine approprie, and haue it to all ages for ever.
 41 Behold that I have not laboured for my fellowes, but for all them that seeke wisdom.
 C. H. R. P. XXV.
 1 What things are beautiful, and what harmful.
 2 What is the crowne of eye. 3 What things make man happy. 4. Nothing worse then a wicked woman.
 5 In three things I was beautified and hood vp
 I beautifull, both before God and men: the vni-ty of brethren, the love of neighbors, a man and a wife that agree together.
 6 Three sorts of men my Soule hath had, I am greatly offended as their life, a poore man that is proud, a rich man that is a liar, and an old adulter-er that dooth.

4 If thou hast gathered nothing in thy youth, how canst thou find any thing in thine age?
 5 Oh how comely a thing is iudgement for gray haire, and for ancient men to know counsell?
 6 Oh how comely is the wisdom of old men, and vnderstanding and counsell to men of honour.
 7 Much experience is the crowne of old men, and the feare of God is their glory.
 8 There be nine things which I haue iudged in mine heart to be happy, and the tenth I will venter with my tongue: a man that hath ioy of his children, and he that liueth to see the fall of his enemy.
 9 Well is him that dwelleth with a wife of vnder-standing, and that hath not slipped with his tongue, and that hath not serued a man more vrworthy then himselfe.
 10 Well is them that hath found prudence, and he that speaketh in the eares of him that will heare.
 11 Oh how great is he that findeth wisdom: yet is there none aboue him that seareth the Lord.
 12 But the loue of the Lord possesseth all things:
 for illimitatione that holdeth it, vnto whom shall he be likened?
 13 The feare of the Lord is the beginning of his loue: and faith is the beginning of cleansing vnto him.
 14 [Gint me] any plague, but the plague of the heart, and my wickednesse but the wickednesse of a woman.
 15 And any addition, but the addition from them that hate me: and any reuenge, but the reuenge of enemies.
 16 There is no head aboue the head of a serpent, and there is no wrath aboue the wrath of an enemy.
 17 I had rather dwell with a lyon, and a dragon, then to keepe house with a wicked woman.
 18 The wickednesse of a woman change her face, and darken her countenance like blacke cloth.
 19 Her husband shall sit among his neighbours:
 and when he heareth it, shall speeche bitterly.
 20 All wickednesse is but little to the wickednesse of a woman: let the portion of a finner fall vpon her.
 21 As the climbing vp a sandy way, is to the feet of the aged, so is a wife full of words to a quiet man.
 22 It is not at the beauty of a woman, and desire her not for pleasure.
 23 A woman if she maintaine her husband, is full of anger, impudency, and much reproach.
 24 A wicked woman aboath the courage, maketh a heavy countenance, and a wounded heart: a woman that will not comfort her husband in distresse, maketh weak hands, and feeble knees.
 25 Of the woman came the beginning of sinne, and through her we all die.
 26 Give the water no passage: neither a wicked woman liberty to gad abroad.
 27 If shee seee thee not, thou wouldest haue her, but shee will see thee, and thou shalt haue a bill of diuorcement, and let her goe.
 C. H. R. P. XXVI.
 1 A good wife, and a good conscience doe glad men. 2 A wicked wife is a still falling. 3 Of good and bad wares. 4 Of three things that are grieuous. 5 Merchants and stocke, are not without sinne.
 6 Blessed is the man that hath a virtuous wife, for the number of his dayes shall be double.
 7 A virtuous woman reuerenceth her husband, and hee shall subside the yeeres of his life in peace.

3 A good wife is a good portion, which shall bring in the portion of them that feare the Lord.

4 Whether a man be rich or poore, if he have a good rejoyce towards the Lord, he shall at all times enjoy towards a cheerefull countenance.

5 There be three things that mine heart feareth; and for the fourth I was fore afraid: the slander of a city, the gathering together of an unruly multitude, and a false accusation; all these are worse then death.

6 But a griefe of heart and sorrow, is a woman that is able to overcome another woman, and a scourge of the tongue which communicateth with all.

7 An euill wife is a yoke (shaken to and fro): but that hath hold of her, is as though hee held a scorpion.

8 A drunken woman, and a gadder a broode, causeth great anger, and she will not cover her own shame.

9 The whoredome of a woman may be knowen in her haughty lookes, and eye-lids.

10 If thy daughter be shamelesse, keepe her in chastity: lest she abuse her selfe through overmuch liberty.

11 Wash over an impudent eye: and marvell not if she trespass against thee.

12 She will open her mouth as a thirsty traveller, when he hath found a fountain: and drinks of euery water nere her: by euery fledge will she sit downe, and open her quiver against euery arrow.

13 The grace of a wife delighteth her husband, and her discretion will fix his bones.

14 A silent and louing woman is a gift of the Lord, and there is nothing so much worth, as a mind well instructed.

15 A shamefast and faithfull woman is a double grace, and her countenance cannot be valued.

16 As the sunne when it ariseth in the high heauen: so is the beauty of a good wife in the ordering of her house.

17 As the cleere light is vpon the holy candle-sticke: so is the beauty of the face in ripe age.

18 As the golden pillars are vpon the sockets of siluer: so are the iuste feet with a constant heart.

19 My son, keep the house of these age found: and graue not thy strength vnto strangers.

20 When thou hast gotten a fruitfull possession through all the field: sowe it with thine owne seed, trusting in the goodnesse of thy stocke.

21 So thy race which thou leauest shall be magnified, having the confidence of their good descent.

22 An hartle shall be accounted, as spittles: but a married woman is a tower against death to her husband.

23 A wicked woman is giuen as a portion to a wicked man, but a godly woman is giuen to him that feareth the Lord.

24 A dishonour woman contemneth shame, but an honest woman will reuerence her husband.

25 A shamelesse woman shall be counted as a dog, but she that is shamefast will feare the Lord.

26 As a woman that honoureth her husband shall be indged wife of all: but she that dishonoureth him in her pride, shall be counted vngodly of all.

27 A loud crying woman, and a cold, shall be sought out to drive away the enemies.

28 There be two things that grieue my heart: and the third maketh me angry: a man of war that suffereth poverty, and men of vnderstanding that are not set by: and one that returneth from righteousness to sin: the Lord prepareth such a one for the sword.

29 A merchant shall hardly keepe himselfe from doing wrong, and an huckler shall not be freed from fraude.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 Of flowers in selling and buying. 7 Our speech will tell what is in vs. 16 A friend is left by discovering his secrets. 25 Hee that diggeth a pit shall fall into it.

2 Any man that is fined for a small matter: and hee that seeketh for abundance will turne his eyes away.

3 As a nail sticketh fast betweene the ioyntings of the stones: so doth sinne sticketh close betweene buying and selling.

4 Vnlesse a man hold himselfe diligently in the feare of the Lord, his house shall loose be overthrown.

5 As when one sitteth with a fiere, he refuse to remaine, so the sin of man in his talk.

6 The furnace proceeth the potters vessels: so the trial of a man is in his reasoning.

7 The stout declareth if the treee haue bene dressed, so is the vtterance of a conceit in the heart of man.

8 Praise no man before thou hearest him speake, for this is the trial of men.

9 If thou followest righteousnesse, thou shalt obtaine her, & put her on as a glorious long robe.

10 The birds will resort vnto their like, so will truth returne vnto them that practise in her.

11 As the Lion lieth in wait for the prey: so sin for them that worke iniquity.

12 The discourse of a godly man is alwayes with wisdom: but a foole changeth as the Moone.

13 If thou be among the vndiscreet, observe thine time: but bee continually among men of vnderstanding.

14 The discourse of foolkes is ieklesome, and their sport is in the wantonnes of sin.

15 The talke of him that sweareth much, maketh the laire stand vpright: and their brawles make one stop his eares.

16 The strife of the proud is bloodshedding, and their reuillings are grieuous to the eare.

17 Who so discovereth secrets, loseth his credit, and shall neuer find friend to his minde.

18 Loue thy friend, and be faithfull vnto him: but if thou bewrayest his secrets, follow no more after him.

19 For as a man hath destroyed his enemy: so hast thou lost the loue of thy neighbour.

20 As one that letteth a bird go out of his hand, so hast thou let thy neighbour goe, and shalt not get him againe.

21 Follow after him no more, for he is too farre off: he is as a roe escaped out of the snare.

22 As for a wound, it may be bound vp, and after reuiling, there may be reconciliation: but he that bewrayeth secrets, is without hope.

23 He that winketh with the eye, will keepe euill, and hee that knoweth him, will depart from him.

24 When thou art present, he will speake sweetly, and will admire thy words: but at the back hee will writhe his mouth, and slander thy doings.

25 I haue hated many things, but nothing liked him, for the Lord will hate him.

26 Who so catcheth a stone on high, catcheth it on his owne head, and a deceitfull brooke shall make wounds.

27 Who so diggeth a pit, shall fall therein: and he that setteth a trap, shall be taken therin.

19 They that rejoyce at the fall of the righteous, shall be taken in their own snare, and caught in the snare which they have laid.

20 Malice and wrath, even these are abominations, and the fullness of them shall bring them down.

CHAPTER XXVII

1 Against revenge, 2 Quarrelling, 3 Anger, 4 The Lord's anger.

1 He that reproveth, shall find vengeance from the Lord, and he will surely keep his sin.

2 Forgive thy neighbour the hurt that he hath done thee: so shall thy sin also be forgiven when thou prayest.

3 One man beareth hatred against another, and shall be made pardon from the Lord.

4 He showeth no mercy to a man, which is like himselfe, and doeth not also forgiveness of his owne sinnes.

5 If he that is but flesh nourish hatred, who hath interest for pardon of his sinnes?

6 Remember thine end, and let omittie cause, [remember] corruption and death: and abide in the Commandements.

7 Remember the Commandements, and heare no malice to thy neighbour: [remember] the Commandment of the Highest, and abide in innocencie.

8 Abstaine from strife, and thou shalt dwell without strife: for a furious man will kindle strife.

9 If thou shalt make dissimulation friends, and makest debate among them, thou shalt be at peace.

10 The wrath of the Lord is, so is his wrath, and according to his riches his anger increaseth: and the stronger they are which contend, the more they will be increased.

11 An hasty contention kindleth a fire, and an hasty speaking sheddeth blood.

12 If thou blow the spark, it shall burne: if thou spit upon it, it shall be quenched, and both these come out of thy mouth.

13 Curse the williferer, and double torment shall be his: he shall be destroyed sinfully that were at peace.

14 A scolding tongue hath distressed many: and wringeth them from nation to nation, strong cities hath he pulled downe, and overthroweth the houses of great men.

15 A backbiting tongue hath cast out verities, and depriveth them of their labours.

16 Whose heart is vexed with it, shall never find rest, and never dwell quietly.

17 The stroke of the whip maketh wounds in the flesh, but the stroke of the tongue breaketh the bones.

18 Many have fallen by the edge of the sword, but not so many as have fallen by the tongue.

19 Well is he that is defended from it, and hath not passed therow the yoke thereof, who hath not drawne the yoke thereof, nor hath been bound in her bands.

20 For the yoke thereof is a yoke of iron, and the bands thereof are bands of death.

21 The death thereof is in still death, the griefe thereof better than it.

22 It shall not leave thee, nor shall it cease, and it shall not leave thee, nor shall it cease, and it shall not leave thee, nor shall it cease.

23 Such is the reward of the Lord, and he will requite it.

and it shall burne in them, and not be quenched, it shall be set upon them as a Lion, and devour their house as a Leopard.

24 Eekee that thou hedge thy possession about with thornes, and binde up thy silver and gold.

25 Add weight thy words in a balance, and make it abate and barre for thy mouth.

26 Beware thou slide not by it, lest thou fall be fore him that lyeth in wait.

CHAPTER XXIX

1 We must show mercy and lenity: 2 but the Lord never must be despised the leader. 3 Give alms to the poor, and thou shalt be blessed.

4 A good man will not make his fury, 18 To be surety and undertake for others is dangerous. 19 Is letter to live at home then to journey.

20 The Lord is mercifull, will kind vnto his weake & poor, and he that strengtheneth his hand, expect the commandments.

21 Tend to thy neighbour in time of his need, and pay thou thy neighbour againe in due season.

22 Keep thy word, and speak faithfully with him, and thou shalt always finde the thing that is necessary for thee.

23 Many, when a thing was lent them, reckoned it to be found, and put them to trouble that helped them.

24 Till he hath receivd, hee will kisse a mans hand, and for his neighbours money he will speake submissively: but when hee shall receive, hee will prolong the time, and returne words of grace, and compassie of the time.

25 If hee be puffed up, hee shall hardly receive the halfe, and hee will count as if hee had found credit, he hath despised him of his money, and hee hath gotten him an enemy without cause: he perverteth him with cursings and railings: and for honour he will pay him damage.

26 Many therefore have refused to lend for other mens ill dealing, fearing to be defrauded.

27 Yet have thou patience with a man in point of time, and delay not to show him mercy.

28 Helpe the poore for the Commandments sake, and turne him not away because of his poverty.

29 Lend thy money for thy brother, and thy friend, and let it not rust under a stone to be lost.

30 Lay up thy treasure according to the Commandment of the most High, and it shall bring thee more profit then gold.

31 Shut up almes in thy store-house, and it shall deliver thee from all affliction.

32 He shall fight for thee against thine enemies, because thou hast done him good, and he shall be thy shield and strong defence.

33 An honest man is surety for his neighbour that hee shall be repaid, and he shall forsake him.

34 Forgett not the friendship of thy surety: for he hath given his life for thee.

35 A sinner will overthrow the good man of his surety.

36 And he that is wofull and melancholous, shall loose his life in danger that delivered him.

37 Suretyship hath vnto many of good estate, and maketh them as a wave of the sea: mighty men hath it driven from their houses, so that they wandered among strange nations.

38 A wicked man transgressing the Commandments of the Lord, shall fall into destruction, and hee that undertaketh, and followeth, shall also be destroyed.

39 Helpe thy neighbour according to thy power, and thou shalt be blessed, and thy name shall be famous.

40 Helpe thy neighbour according to thy power, and thou shalt be blessed, and thy name shall be famous.

41 Helpe thy neighbour according to thy power, and thou shalt be blessed, and thy name shall be famous.

42 Helpe thy neighbour according to thy power, and thou shalt be blessed, and thy name shall be famous.

19 The chief thing for life is water and bread, and clothing, and an house to cover them.
 20 Better is the life of a poore man in a waste country, then delicate fare in another mans house.
 21 Be it little or much, hold thee contented, that thou haue not the reproch of thy house.
 22 For it is a miserable thing to goe from house to house: for where thou art a stranger, thou shalt not open thy mouth.
 23 Thou shalt entertaine and feast, and haue to shewe: moreover, thou shalt heare bit. or word:
 24 Coue thou stranger, and furnish a table, and feed me of that thou hast ready.
 25 Give place thou stranger, to an honorable man, my brother cometh to be lodged, and I haue need of mine house.
 26 These things are gracious to a man of vnder-standing: the vnderstanding of house rooms, and reproching of the lesnier.

CHAP. XXX.

1 It is good to correct our children, y and wht to correct them. 2 Health is better then Wealth, Health and life are thoreward by griefe.
HEE that toucheth his soule, catcheth him selfe the rod, that he may haue ioy of him in the end.
 2 He that chastiseth his seruant, shall haue ioy in him, and shall reioyce of him among his acquaintance.
 3 He that teacheth his seruant, giveth the enemy and before his treasures hee shall reioyce of him.
 4 Though his father die, yet hee is as though he were not dead: for hee hath left one behinde him, that is like himselfe.
 5 While he liueth he law and reioyced in him:
 and when hee died, he was not forrowfull.
 6 He left behind him an auger against his enemies, and woe that shall requite knithe to his friends.
 7 He that maketh too much of his life, shall hee leaue his wounds, and his wounds will be troubled at every cry.
 8 A house not taken, becommeth head strong:
 and a wailer left to himselfe, will be wifull.
 9 Coker thy child, and he shall make thee a friend: play with him, and hee will bring thee to himselfe.
 10 Laugh not with him, lest thou haue forrow with him: and lest thou gualt thy speech in the end.
 11 Give him no liberty in his youth, and whake out at his follies.
 12 Bow downe his necke while hee is young, and beate him on the sides while hee is a childe: lest hee waxe stubborn, and be disobedient vnto thee, and so bring forrow to thine heart.
 13 Chastise thy soune, and hold him to labour, lest his lewd behauiour be an offence vnto thee.
 14 Better is the poore, being found and strong of constitution, then a rich man that is afflicted in his body.
 15 Health and good face of body are above all gold, and a strong body above infinite wealth.
 16 There is no riches about a found body, and no ioy about the ioy of the heart.
 17 Death is better then a bitter life, or cruetnall sickness.
 18 Delicates poured vpon a mouth flux vpon the mesent of meat set vpon a graue.
 19 What good doth the offering vnto an idol?
 For neither can it eate nor smell: so is he that is possessed of the Lord.

20 Hee seeth with his eyes, and groweth on as Enoch that inbreedeth a virgin, and Enoch.
 21 Give not ouer thy spirit to beueticall, and afflict not thy selfe in thine own counsel.
 22 The gladness of the heart is the life of man, and the ioyfullnes of a man prolongeth his dayes.
 23 Love thine enemy, and comfort thy heart:
 remoue sorrow far from thee: for sorrow hath killed many, and there is no profit therein.
 24 Envy and wrath shorten the life, and care-lesse bringeth age before the time.
 25 A cheerefull and good heart will last a tale of his meat and diet.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 Of the desire of riches. 2 A of moderate and excess in eating and drinking wine.
Watching for riches, consumeth the flesh, and the care thereof pricketh sludy sleepe.
 2 Watching care will not let a man sleepe, as a fort disease breineth sleepe.
 3 The rich hath great labour in watching riches together, and when hee crieth, he is filled with delicates.
 4 The poore laboureth in his poore estate, and when hee leaureth off, he is still needy.
 5 Hee that loneth gold, shall not be satisfied, and hee that followeth corruption, shall haue enough thereof.
 6 Gold hath bene the ruine of many, and their destruction was present.
 7 It is a stumbling blocke vnto them that sacrifice vnto it, and every looke shall be taken therewith.
 8 Blessed is the rich that is found without bla-msh, and hath not gone after gold.
 9 Who is he? and we will call him blessed, for wonderful things hath he done among his people.
 10 Who hath herie, tried thereby, and found perfect? Then let him glory. Who might offend, and hath not offended, or done evil, hath not done ill.
 11 His goods shall be established, and the congregation shall declare his times.
 12 If thou sit at a banquet table, be not iuddy vpon it, as if thou hadst it, there is much more to it.
 13 Remember that a wretched eye is an euill thing, and what is treated more wicked then an eye?
 therefore it weepeth & vpon every occasion.
 14 Stretch not thine hand whichever thou see to take, and thrust it not with him into the dish.
 15 Iudge of thy neighbour by thy life: and be discreet in every point.
 16 Eate as it becometh a man, that whate which are set before thee: and deuoure not, lest thou be hated.
 17 Leape off first for sinners sake, and be not vntimely, lest thou offend.
 18 When thou sitest among many, reach not thine hand out first of all.
 19 A very little is sufficient for a man well satiated, & hee fetcheth not his wind short: vpon on his bed.
 20 Sound sleepe cometh of moderate eating:
 hee riseth early, and his wits are with him, but the paine of watching, and chollic, and pang of the belly are with an vnsatisfiable man.
 21 And if thou hast bene forced to eat, vntill thou art full, vntill thou shalt haue rest.
 22 My son, beare me, & despise not me, and at the last thou shalt finde as I told thee: all thy works be quicke, so shall there no scilless come vnto thee.
 23 Who is liberal of his meat, men shall praise him, and the report of his good shall be kept: and hee shall be beloved.

24 But against him that is a nigard of his meat, the whole city shall murmur, and the testimonies of his nigardnesse shall not be doubted of.

25 Show not thy valiantnesse in wine, for wine both destroyed man.

26 The furnace proueth the edg by dipping: so doth wise hearts of the proud by drunkennes.

27 Wine is as good as life to a man, if it bee drunke moderately, what life is then to a man that is without wine, for it was made to make men glad.

28 Wine measurably drunke, and in season, bringeth gladnesse of the heart, and cheerfulness of the minde.

29 But wine drunke with excess, maketh bitterness of the mind, with brawling & quarrelling.

30 Drunkennesse increaseth the rage of a fole till he offend, it diminisheth strength, and maketh wounds.

31 Rebule not thy neighbour in the wine, and despise him not in his mirth: gine him no despisfull words, and presse not vpon him with vrging him to drinke.)

CHAP. XXXII.

1 Of his duty that is chief, or master in a feast. 24 Of the floure of God. 28 Of counsell, 29 Of a ragged and smooth way. 32 Trust not to any but to thy selfe and to God.

If thou be made the maister (of the feast) lift not thy selfe vp, but be among them as one of the rest: take diligenc care for them, and so fit thy selfe.

2 And when thou hast done all thy office, take thy place, that thou mayest be merry with them, and receive a crowne for thy well ordering of the feast.

3 Speake those that art the elder, for it becometh thee, but with sound iudgment, and haile not musike.

Eccl. 3. 7
Ecc. 2. 7

Eccl. 2. 7

4 Power not out words where there is a musick, and shew not forth wisdom out of time.

5 A comfort of musike in a banquet of wine, is as a signet of Carbuncle set in gold.

6 As a signet of an Emeraude set in a worke of gold, so is melody of musike with pleasant wine.

7 Speake young man, if there be need of thee, and yet fearely when thou art twice asked.

8 Let thy speech be short, comprehending much in few words: be as one that knoweth, and yet holdeth his tongue.

Eccl. 2. 7

9 If thou be among great men, make not thy selfe equall with them, and when ancient men are in place, vie not many words.

10 Before the thunder goeth lightning: and before a storme fall man shall go famous.

11 Rise vp betimes, and be not the last: but get thee home without delay.

12 There take thy pastime, and doe what thou wilt: but sin not by proud speech.

13 And for the festings, blese him that made thee, and hath replenished thee with his good things.

14 Who so feareth the Lord, will receive his discipline, and they that seeke him early, shall find favour.

15 He that feareth the Law, shall be filled therewith: but the hypocrite will be offended therat.

16 They that feare the Lord, shall finde iudgement, and shall kinde iustice as a light.

17 A small man will not be reprooued, but sheweth an excise according to his will.

18 A man of counsell will be considerate, but a strange & proud man is not daunted with feare: gine who of himselfe be hath done without counsell.

19 Doe nothing without aduise, and when thou hast done, reuerent noc.

20 Goe not in a way wherein thou mayest fall, and stumble not among the stones.

21 Be not confident in a plaine way.

22 And beware of thine owne children.

23 In every good worke trust thine owne soule: for this is the keeping of the Commandement.

24 He that becometh in the Lord, taketh heed to the Commandement, and he that trusteth in him, shall face neuer the worse.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 The safety of him that feareth the Lord. 2 The wise and the foolish. 7 Times and seasons are of God: 20 Men in his hands as clay in the hands of the potter. 28 Chiefly regard thy selfe. 29 Of sermons.

Here shall no euill happen vnto him that feareth the Lord, but in temptation euen againe he will deliuer him.

2 A wise man hath not the Law, but he that is an hypocrite therein, is as a ship in a storme.

3 A man of vnderstanding trusteth in the Law, and the Law is faithfull vnto him as an oracle.

4 Prepare what to say, and so thou shalt be heard, and bind vp instruction, and thou shalt make answer.

5 The heart of the foolish is like a cart wheele: and his thoughts are like a rolling axeltree.

6 A railing bovie is as a mocking friend, he neigheth vnder eury one that sitteth vpon him.

7 Why doeth one day excell another? when as all the light of eury day in the yeere is of the Sunne.

8 By the knowledge of the Lord they were distinguished: and he altered seasons and feasts.

9 Some of them hath bee made high dayes, and hallowed them, and some of them hath he made ordinary dayes.

10 And all men are from the ground, and Adam was created of earth.

11 As much knowledge the Lord hath diuided them, and made their wayes diuers.

12 Some of them hath he blessed, and exalted, and some of them hath he sanctified, and set neere himselfe: but some of them hath he cursed, and brought low, and turned out of their places.

13 As if the clay is in the potters hand to fashion it at his pleasure: so man is in the hand of him that made him, to render to them as liketh him best.

14 Good is set against euill, and life against death: so is godly against the fumer, and the surer against the godly.

15 So looke vpon, all the workes of the most high, and there are two, and two, one against another.

16 I awaked vp last of all, as one that gathered after the grape gatherers: by the blessing of the Lord I profited, and filled my wine-press, like a gatherer of grapes.

17 Consider that I laboured not for my selfe only, but for all them that seeke learning.

18 Heare me, O ye great men of the people, and hearken with your eares, ye rulers of the Congregation.

19 Gine not thy soune, and wife, thy brother, and friend power ouer thee while thou liuest, and gine not thy goods to another lest it report thee: and thou content for the same againe.

20 As long as thou liuest, and hast breath in thee, gine not thy selfe ouer to any.

21 For better it is that thy children should seeke to thee, then that thou shouldst stand to their courtship.

22 In all thy workes keepe to thy selfe be presumptuous, leaue not a stain in thine honour.

22 At the time when thou shalt end thy dayes, and finish thy life, distribute thine inheritance.
 23 Fodder, a wand, and burdens are for the Ass: and bread, correction, and works for a servant.
 24 If thou set thy servant to labour, thou shalt surely rest: but if thou set him to be idle, he shall looke liberty.
 25 A yoke and a collar doe bow the necke: so are tortures and torments for an enill Iuuent.
 26 Send him to labour, that he be not idle: for idleness teacheth much euill.
 27 Set him to worke as is fit for him: if he be not obedient, put on more heauy fetters.
 28 But be not excessive toward any, and without discretion doe nothing.
 29 * If thou haue a servant, let him be with thee as thy little, because thou hast bought him with a price.
 30 * If thou haue a servant, intreat him as a brother: for thou hast need of him, as of thine owne soule: if thou intreat him euill, and he run from thee, which way wilt thou goe to seeke him?
 C H A P. XXXIII.

1 Of dreames. 2 The praise and blessing of them that feare the Lord. 3 The offering of the ancient, and prayer of the poore innocents.

The hopes of a man vaine, of vnderstanding, are vaine and falsly, and dreames lift vp foolles.
 2 Whose regardeth dreames is like him that catcheth at a shadowe, & followeth after the wind.
 3 The vision of dreames, is the resemblance of our thing to another, euen as the likenesse of a face to a face.

4 * Of an vncleane thing, what can be cleasid? and from that thing which is falsse, what truth can come?
 5 Distinations, and soothsayings, and dreames are wine: and the heart fancieth as a womans heart in trauaile.

6 If they be not sent from the most High in thy visitation, let not thy heart vpon them.
 7 For dreames haue deuiid many, and they haue faied that put their trust in many.

8 The Law shall be found perfect without lies: and wisdom is perfection to a faithfull mouth.
 9 A man that hath: trauid, knoweth many things: and he that hath much experience, will declare wisdom.

10 He that hath no experience, knoweth little: but he that hath trauaile, is full of prudence.
 11 When I trauid, I saw many things: and I vnderstand more then I can expresse.

12 I was oft times in danger of death, yet I was deliuered because of those things.
 13 The spirit of those that feare the Lord, shall live, for their hope is in him that sauech them.

14 Whoso feareth the Lord, shall not feare, nor be afraid, for he is his hope.
 15 Blessed is the soule of him that feareth the Lord: to whom doeth he louke? and who is his strength?

16 For the eyes of the Lord are vpon them that loue him, he is their mighty protection, and strong Ray, a defence from heat, and a cower from the Sun at noone, a preferuation from stumbling, and a helpe from falling.

17 Hee raiseth vp the soules, and lighteneth the eyes: he giveth heath, life, and blessing.
 18 * He that sacrificeth of a thing wrongfully gotten, his offering is ridiculous, and the gifts of vniuit men are not accepted.

19 The most High is not pleased with the offerings of the wicked, neither is he purified for same, by the multitude of sacrifices.

20 Whoso bringeth an offering of the goods of the poore, doeth as one that killeth the soules before his fathers eyes.
 21 The bread of the needy, is their life: hee that detraucth him thereof, is a man of blood.
 22 Hee that taketh away his neighbours lining, sayeth him & hee that detraucth the labourer of his hire, is a bloodshedder.

23 When one buildeth, and another pulleth downe, what profit haue they then but labour?
 24 When one prayeth, and another curseth, whose voyce will the Lord heare?
 25 * He that washeth himselfe after the touching of a dead body, if he touch it againe, what manleth his washing?
 26 So is it with a man that fasteth for his sinne, & geth againe and doeth the same: who will heare his prayer, or what doth his humbling profit him?

 13 He will not accept any person against a poore man: but will heare the prayer of the oppressed.
 14 Hee will not despise the supplication of the fatherlesse: nor the widow when she powereth out her complaint.
 15 Doeth not the teares run downe the widows cheekes? and is not her cry against him that smiteth them to fall?
 16 He that serueth the Lord shall be accepted with favour, and his prayers shall reach vnto the clouds.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

Honour due to the Physicians, and why. How to weare and recourse for the dead. The wisdom of the learned man and of the labourer, and Artificer, with the use of them both.

- 1 Honour a Physician with the honour due vnto him, for the wises which you may haue of him for the Lord hath created him.
- 2 For of the most High cometh healing, and he shall receive the honour of the King.
- 3 The skill of the Physician shall lift vp his head: and in the sight of great men hee shall be in admiration.
- 4 The Lord hath created medicines out of the Caligand he that is wise will not abhorre them.
- 5 Was not the water made sweet with wood, that the vertue thereof might be knowne?
- 6 And he hat a giuen men skill, that he might be heaual in his maye, his wits.
- 7 With such doth he heale [men] and taketh away their paines.
- 8 Of such doth the Apothecary make a confession, and of his works there is no end, and forasmuch as peace cometh all the earth.
- 9 My son, in thy sickness, be not negligent, but pray vnto the Lord, and he will make thee whole.
- 10 Leane off from sinne, and order thy hands aright, and cleanse thy heart from all wickednesse.
- 11 Giue a sweet incense, and a memoriall of fine soure: and make a fat offering, thy not being.
- 12 Then giue place to the Highpriest, for the Lord hath created him: let him not goe from thee, for thou hast need of him.
- 13 There is a time when in their hands there is good successe.
- 14 For they shall also pray vnto the Lord, that he would prosper that which they giue, for ease and remedy to prolong life.
- 15 He that sinneeth before his maker, let him sell into the hand of the Physician.
- 16 My soune, let teares fall downe ouer the dead, and begin to lament, as if thou hadst suffered great harme thy selfe: and then couer his body according to the custome, & neglect not his buriall.
- 17 Weepe bitterly, and make great moane, and woe lamentation: as he is worthy, and that a day or two, lest thou be euill spoken: and then comfort thy selfe for thy heauinesse.
- 18 For of heauinesse cometh death, and the heauinesse of the heart breaketh strength.
- 19 In affliction also forsow remembrance: and the life of the poore is the curie of the heart.
- 20 Take no heauinesse to heart, driue it away, and remember the last end.
- 21 Forget it not, for there is no ouering againe: thou shalt not doe him good, & there thy selfe.
- 22 Remember: my iudgement: for thine also shall be so yeech day for me, and to day for thee.
- 23 When the dead is rest, let his remembrance rest, and be comforted for him when his spirit is departed from him.
- 24 The wisdom of a learned man cometh by opportunity of lectures: and hee that hath little business, shall become wise.

- 25 How can he get wisdom: that holdeth the plough, and thargeth in the good, that draweth oxen, and is occupied in their labors, and whole talketh is of bullocks?
- 26 He giueth his mind to make farrowes, and is diligent to giue the lime fodder.
- 27 So euery carpenter and workman, that is a-bowreth night and day, and they that cut and grape scales, and are diligent to make great variety, and giue themselves to counterfeit imagery, and vnto to finish 2 worke.
- 28 The smith also sitting by the anvil, and considering the yve worke, he vapour of the fire weareth his flesh, and he fighteth with the heat of the furnace: the noise of the hammer and the anvil is euen in his eares, and his eyes looke still vpon the patterne of the thing that he maketh, but seeth not vnto to finish his worke, and watcheth to possibill it perfectly.
- 29 So doth the potter sitting at his work, and turning the wheele about with his feet, who is alway ready to set his worke, and maketh all his worke by number.
- 30 He fashioneth the clay with his arme, and weareth downe his strength before his furnace: he applyeth himselfe to load it ouer a end, he is diligent to make cleane the furnace.
- 31 All these trust to their hands: and euery one is wise in his worke.
- 32 Without these cannot a city be inhabited: and they shall not dwell where they will, nor gett up and downe.
- 33 They shall not be sought for in publicke assemblies, nor sit high in the Congregation: they shall not sit on the Iudges seat, nor vnderstand the sentence of iudgement: they cannot declare in iurie and iudgement, and they shall not be found where parables are spoken.
- 34 But they will maintaine the flax of the world, and [all] their desire is in the work of their craft.

A description of him that doth not wisely, of his vberations to praise God for his workers, which are good to the good, and to him that are bad.

- 1 He that giueth his mind to the Law of the Lord, and is occupied in the meditation thereof, will seeke out the wise dome of all the science, and be occupied in prophesies.
- 2 He will keepe the sayings of the renowned: many is where subtle parables are, he will be they also.
- 3 He will seeke out the secrets of great sentences, and be content in dark parables.
- 4 He shall serue among great men, and appeare before Princes: he will trauell throug strange countries for which vnto the good and the euill among men.
- 5 He will giue his heart no resort early to and Lord that made him, and will pray before the most High, and will open his mouth to prayer, and make supplication for his sin.
- 6 When the great Lord will, he shall be filled with the spirit of vnderstanding: there shall power ouer wise sentences, and giue thanks vnto the Lord in his prayer.
- 7 He shall direct his counsell and knowledge, and in his secrets shall he meditate.
- 8 He shall show forth that which he hath learned, and shall glory in the Law of the Command of the Lord.

CHAP. XL.

Many shall commend his understanding and so long as the world endureth, it shall not be blot- ted out, his memoriall shall not depart away, and his Name shall live from generation to generation.

10 Nations shall shew forth his wisdom, and the congregation shall declare his praise.

11 If he die, he shall have a greater name then a thousand; and if he live, he shall increase it.

12 Yet I have more to say which I have thought upon, for I am filled as the Moone at the full.

13 Hearken unto me, ye holy children, and budge forth as a rose growing by the brooke of the field.

14 And give yett sweet favour as frankincense, and flourish as a lilly, send forth a smell, and sing a song of praise, bless the Lord in all his works.

15 Magnifie his Name, and shew forth his praise with the songs of your lips, and with harpes, and in praying him you shall say after this manner.

16 All the workes of the Lord are exceeding good, and whatsoever he commandeth shall be accomplished in due season.

17 And none may say, What is this? wherefore is that? for at time convenient they shall all bee brought out, at his commandment the waters stand as an heap, and at the words of his mouth the ramparts of waters.

18 At his commandment is done whatsoever pleaseth him, & none can hinder when he will save.

19 The workes of all flesh are before him, and nothing can be hid from his eyes.

20 How hath hee overruled us to our undoing, and there is nothing wonderfull before him.

21 A man need not to say, What is this? wherefore is that? for hee hath made all things for their wise.

22 His blessing covered the dry land, as a river, and watered it as a flood.

23 As he hath turned the waters into salt, so shall the heathen inherit his wrath.

24 As his eyes are plaine unto the holy, so are they stumbling blocks unto the wicked.

25 For the good are good things created from the beginning; for small things for sinners.

26 The principall things for the whole life of mans life, are water, fire, iron, and salt, honey, and oyle, and clothing.

27 All these things are for good to the godly; as to the sinners they are turned into evil.

28 There be spirits that are created for vengeance which in their day layen fore strokes, in the time of destruction they powre out their sinne, & suppose a wrath of him that made them.

29 Fire, and haile, and famine, and death, all these were created for vengeance.

30 Trees of wild beasts and scorpions, serpents, and the sword, punishing the wicked to destruction.

31 They shall reioyce in his commandment, and they shall be ready upon earth when need is, and when their time is come, they shall not transgress his word.

32 Therefore from the beginning I was resolved and thought upon these things, and have left them in writing.

33 All the workes of the Lord are good, and he will give every needfull thing in due season.

34 So that a man cannot say, This is worse then that; for in time they shall all be well approved.

35 And therefore praise yett the Lord with the whole heart, and mouth, and bless the Name of the Lord.

1 Many miseries in a mans life. 2 The reward of unrighteousnesse, and the fruit of true dealing. 3 A virtuous wife, and an honest friend reioyce the heart; but the feare of the Lord is done all. 4 A beggers life is not fill.

5 Reare-trail is created for every man, and an heavy yoke is upon the sonnes of Adam, from the day that they goe out of their mothers wombe, till the day that they returne to the mother of all things.

6 Their imagination of things to come, and the day of death [trouble] their thoughts and [cause] feare of heart.

7 From him that sitteth on a throne of glory vnto him that is humbled in earth, and ashes.

8 From him that weareth purple, and a crowne vnto him that is clothed with almes frocke.

9 Wrath and enuy, trouble and vnguidance, feare of death, and anger, and strife, and in the time of rest upon his bed, his night sleepe doe change his knowledge.

10 A little or nothing is his rest, and after ward he is in his sleepe, as in a day of keeping watch, troubled in the vision of his heart, as if he were escaped out of a battell.

11 When all is safe, he awaketh, and marvelleth that the feare was nothing.

12 Such things happen vnto all flesh, both man and beast, & that is seuen fold more vpon sinners.

13 Death and bloodshed, strife and sword, calamities, famine, tribulation, and the scourge.

14 These things are created for the wicked, and for their sinnes can the good.

15 All things that are of the earth, shall turne to the earth againe, and that which is of the hea- ven, doth commo into the sea.

16 All iniquity and iniustice shall be blotted out; but true dealing shall endure for ever.

17 The goods of the vaine shall decay, vnto a river, and shall vanish with noise, like a great chauder in ruine.

18 While he openeth his hand, he shall reioyce; so shall transgressor come to nothing.

19 The children of the vngodly shall not bring forth many branches; but are as vncleane rootes vpon a hard rocke.

20 The weed growing vpon every water, and beside of a river, shall be pulled vp before all grass.

21 Beneficence is as a most fruitfull garden, and misericordie endureth for ever.

22 To labour and to bee content with that a man hath is a sweet life; but his that findeth a treasure is aboute them both.

23 Children and the building of a city continue a mans name; but a blamelesse wife is counted above them both.

24 Wine and musike reioyce the heart; but the love of wisdom is above them both.

25 The Pipe and the harp make sweet melody; but a pleasant tongue is above them both.

26 Thine eye desireth favour and beauty; but more then both, cometh while it is green.

27 A friend and companion neuer meane amisse; but above both is a wife with her husband.

28 Riches and helpe are against time of trouble; but almes shall deliver more then them both.

29 Gold and silver make the foot stand fast; but comfitt is esteemed above them both.

30 Riches and strength lift vp the heart; but the feare of the Lord is above them both; these are no want in the feast of the Lord, and it needeth not to seek helpe.

17 *The leaue of the Lord is a fruitful garden, and conceit him about all glory.

18 My soue, lead not a beggers life: for better is it to die then to beg.

19 The life of him that dependeth on another mans table, is not to be counted for a life: for he polureth himselfe with other mens meat, but a wife man well nurtured will beware thereof.

20 Begging is sweet in the mouth of the shame-licke: but in his belly there shall be as a fire.

CHAP. XLII

1 The remembrance of death: 2 Death is not to be feared: 3 The vngodly shall be accursed: 4 of an unke and a good name: 5 My soue is to be uttered: 16 of what things we should be ashamed.

Death, how bitter is the remembrance of thee to a man that liueth at rest in his possessions, vnto the man that hath nothing to vex him, and that hath prosperitie in all things: yea, vnto him that is yet able to receive meate?

2 O death, acceptable is thy sentence vnto the weedy, and vnto him whose strength faileth, that is now in the last age, and is vexed with all things, and to him that despaireth, and hath lost patience.

3 Feare not the sentence of vsuch, remember them that haue bene before thee, and that come after, for this is the sentence of § Lord ouer all flesh.

4 And why art thou against the pleasure of the most High? there is no inquisition in the graue, whether thou haue liued ten, or an hundred, or a thousand yeeres.

5 The children of sinners are abominable children: and they that are countenance in the dwelling of the vngodly.

6 The inheritance of sinners children shall perish, and their posteritie shall haue a perperuall reproach.

7 The children will complaine of an vngodly father, because they shall be reproached for his sake.

8 Woe be vnto you vngodly men, which haue forsaken the Law of the most High God: for if you increase, it shall be to your destruction.

9 And if you be borne, you shall be borne to a curse; and if you die, a curse shall be your portion.

10 *All that are of the earth shall turne to earth againe: so the vngodly shall goe from a curse to destruction.

11 The mourning of men is about their bodies: but an ill name of sinners shall be blotted out.

12 Haue regard to thy name: for that shall continue with thee about a thousand great treasures of gold.

13 A good life hath but few dayes: but a good name endureth for euer.

14 My children, keepe discipline in peace: for wisdom is hid, and a treasure that is not seene, what profit is in them both?

15 A man that hideth his foolishnesse, is better then a man that hideth his wisdom.

16 Therefore be shamefast according to my word: for it is not good to retriue all shamefastnesse, neither is it altogether approoued in every thing.

17 Be ashamed of whoredome before father and mother, and of a lie before a prince: a mighty man.

18 of an offence before a iudge and Ruler, of iniurie before a Congregation and people, of vnkind dealing before thy partner and friend:

19 And of theft in regard of the place where thou sojournest, and in regard of the truth of God, and his Conenant, and to leaue with thine elbow vpou the meat, and of forswearing to giue and take.

20 And of silence before them that salute thee, and to looke vpon an harlot:

21 And to turne away thy face from thy kinfolman, or to take away a portion or a gift, or to gaze vpon a nother mans wife, 22 Or to be ouer bold with his meate, and come not neere her bed, or of vbraiding speeches before frend and after thou hast giuen, vpon said more.

23 Or of iterating and vsuaking againe that which thou hast heard, and of reuening of feares.

24 So shalt thou be truly shamefast, and find felour before all men.

CHAP. XLII

1 Wherof we should not be ashamed: 2 Beware of the curse of thy daughter: 3 Beware of a woman: 15 The workes most gratefull of God.

Of these things be not thou ashamed, and accept no person to sinne thereby.

2 Of the law of the most High, and his conuention and of Iudgement to iustifie the vngodly:

3 Of reckoning with thy partners, and of seruicem or of the gift of the heritage of friends:

4 Of exactnesse of balance and weights: or of getting much or little:

5 And of merchandise: of indifferent selling of much correction of children, and to make the side of an euill seruant to bleed.

6 Sure keeping is good where an euill wife is, and shut vp where many hands are.

7 Decline all things in number and weight, and put all in writing that thou giuest out, or receiue in.

8 Be not ashamed to informe the vniue and foolish, and the extreme aged: that conuerseth with those that are young, thus shalt thou be truly learned, and approved of all men liuing.

9 The father waketh for the daughter, when no man knoweth, and the care for her taketh away sleepe: when she is young, lest she passe away the flower of her age, and being married, lest she should be hated:

10 In her virginity, lest she should be defiled, and gotten with child in her fathers house: and having an husband, lest she should misbehaue her selfe: when she is married, lest she should be barren.

11 Keepe a sure watch over a shamelesse daughter, lest shee make thee a laughing stocke to thine enemies, and a by-word in the city, and a reproach among the people, and make the ashamed before the multitude.

12 Behold not every bodys beauty, and sit not in the midst of women.

13 For from garments cometh much, and from woman wickednesse.

14 Better is the foolishnesse of a man, then a courteous woman, a woman, I say, which bringeth shame and reproach.

15 I will now remember the workes of the Lord, and declare the things that I haue seene: in the wordes of the Lord are his workes.

16 The Sunne that giueth light, looketh vpon all things: and the works thereof is full of the glory of the Lord.

17 The Lord hath not giuen power to the Saints to declare all his marueilous workes, which the Almighty Lord firmly sealed, that whosoever is, might be established for his glory.

18 Hee seeketh out the deuce, and the heart, and considereth their crafty denices: for the Lord knoweth all that may be known, and he beholdeth the signs of the world.

19 Hee doeth such the things that are past, and for to come, and revealeth the secrets of hidden things.
 20 *No thought escapeth him, neither any word is hidden from him.
 21 He hath garnished the excellent works of his wisdom, and he is from everlasting to everlasting, unto him may nothing be added, neither can hee be diminished, and he hath no need of any counsellor.
 22 O how desirable are all his workes, and that a man may see even to a sparke.
 23 All these things live and remaine for ever, for all uses, and they are all obedient.
 24 All things are double one against another, and he hath made nothing vnprofit.
 25 One thingest abheth the good of another: and who shall be filled with beholding his glory?
 C H A P. XIIII.

1 The works of God in heaven & on earth are in 1000: & are exceeding glorious & wonderful. 29 Yes God himselfe in his power & wisdom is above all.
The pride of the height, the cleare firmament, the beauty of heaven with his glorious shew;
 2 The Sunne when it appeareth, declaring at his rising a marvellous instrument, the works of the most High.
 3 At noone it parcheth the countrey, and who can abide the burning heate thereof?
 4 A man blowing a furnace, is in works of heat, but the Sunne burneth the mountains three times more: breathing out fiery vapours, and sending forth bright beames it dimmeth the eyes.
 5 Great is the Lord that made it, and at his commandement it runneth hastily.
 6 * He made the Moone also to serve in her season, for a declaration of tyme, and a signe of the world:
 7 * From the Moone is the signe of lunaticke light that decreaseth in her perfection.
 8 The month is called after her name, increasing wonderfully in her changing, being an instrument of the armies above, shining in the firmament of heaven.
 9 The beauty of heaven, the glory of the Starres, an ornament giving light in the highest places of the Lord.
 10 At the commandment of the holy One, they will stand in their order, and never faile in their watches.

11 * Looke vpon the rainbow, and praise him that made it, very beautifull it is in the brightnesse thereof.
 12 * It compasseth the heaven about with a glorious circle, and the hands of the most High haue bended it.
 13 By his commandement he maketh the snow to fall apace, and sendeth swiftly the lightning of his iudgement.
 14 Through this the treasures are opened, and alouder the fourth as fowles.
 15 By his great power hee maketh the clouds firme, and the hailstones are broken small.
 16 At his sight the mountains are shaken, and at his will the fourth winde bloweth.
 17 The noise of the thunder maketh the earth to tremble: so doth the Northern storme, and the whirlewind: as birds flying he scattereth the snow, and the falling downe thereof is as the lighting of grasshoppers.
 18 The eye maruelleth at the beauty of the whitnesse thereof, and the heart is astonished at the raining of it.
 19 The heart softens as it beholds her powreth on the earth, and being congelated, it lieth on the top of the sharpe flakes.

 20 When the cold North-wind bloweth: and the water is congelated into ice, it abideth vpon every thing gathering together of water, and closeth the water as with a bridle.
 21 It demoureth the mountains, and burneth the wilderness, and consumeth the grasse as fire.
 22 A present remedy of all is a mist coming speedily: to a dew coming after heat refresheth.
 23 By his counsell he appareth the seapes, and planteth lands therein.
 24 They that sail on the Sea, tell of the danger thereof, and when we heare it with our eares, we maruel thereat.
 25 For therein be strange and wondrous workes, variety of all kinds of beasts, and whales created.
 26 By him the end of them hath prosperous successe, and by his word all things consist.
 27 We may speake much, and yet come short: wherefore in silence, he is all.
 28 How shal we be able to imagine him? for he is great above all his workes.
 29 * The Lord is terrible and very great, and marvellous is his power.
 30 When you glorifie the Lord, extol him as much as you can: for euen yet will hee farre exceed, and when you exalt him, yet forth all your strength, and be not wearye for you can neuer goe far enough.
 31 * Who hath seen him that he might tell, as it is: and who can imagine him as he is?
 32 There are yet hid greater things then these be, for we haue seene but a few of his workes:
 33 For the Lord hath made all things, and to the godly hath hee giuen wisdom.
 C H A P. XV.

1 The praise of certain holy men: 16 Of Enoch, 17 Noah, 19 Abraham, 20 Isaac, 23 and 24 Job.
Let vs now praise famous men, and our fathers that begate vs.
 2 The Lord hath wrought great glory by them through his great power from the beginning.
 3 Such as did beare rule in their kingdomes, men renowned for their power, giving counsell by their vnderstanding, and declaring propheties:
 4 Leaders of the people by their counsells, and by their knowledges of learning meet for the people, wise and eloquent in their instructions.
 5 Such as found out musicall tunes, and recited verses in writing.
 6 Rich men furnished with ability, living peaceably in their habitations.
 7 All these were honoured in their generations, and were the glory of their times.
 8 There be of them that haue left name behind them, that their praises might be reported.
 9 And some there be which haue no memoriall, who are perished as though they had neuer bene borne, and are become as though they had neuer bene borne, and their children after them.
 10 But these were mercifull men, whose righteousness hath not bene forgotten.
 11 With their seed shall continually remaine a good inheritance, and their children are within the Countrey.
 12 Their seed stands fast, and their children for their sakes.
 13 Their seed shall remaine for ever, and their glory shall not be blotted out.
 14 Their bodies are buried in peace, but their spirits search for encumbrance.

17 * The people will tell of their wisdoms and the Congregation will show forth their praise.

18 * Enoch pleased the Lord, and was translated, being an example of repentance to all generations.

19 * Noah was found perfect and righteous in the time of wrath, hee was take in exchange (for the world) therefore was he left as a remnant vnto the earth when the flood came.

20 An everlasting Covenant was made with him: that all flesh should perish no more by the flood.

21 Abraham was a great father of many people, in glory was there none like vnto him:

22 Who kept the Law of the most High, and was in Covenant with him, he established the Covenant in his flesh, and when he was pronounced, he was found faithful.

23 Therefore he assured him by a oath, that he would bless the Nations in his seed, and that hee would multiply him as the dust of the earth, and exalt his seed as the stars, and cause them to inherit from sea to sea, and from the river vnto the utmost part of the land.

24 With Isaac did he establish likewise (for Abraham his fathers sake) the blessing of all men and his covenant.

25 And made it rest vpon the head of Jacob. He acknowledged him in his blessing, and gave him an heritage, and diuided his portions, among the twelve tribes did hee part them.

CHAP. XLV.

The praise of Moses, of Aaron, and of Phineas.

1 And hee brought out of him a mercifull man, which found fauour in the sight of all flesh, even Moses beloved of God and men, whose memoriall is blessed.

2 He made him like to the glorious Saints, and magnified him so that his countenance stood in feare of him.

3 By his words he caused the wonders to cease, and to cease him glorious in the sight of kings, and gave him a commandment for his people, and shewed him part of his glory.

4 He justified him in his faithfulness, and meeknes, and chose him out of all men.

5 He made him to beare his voice, and brought him into the dark cloud, and gave him commandmentes before his face, euen the Law of life, and knowledge that hee might teach Iacob his Commandmentes, and Iacob his Iudgements.

6 Hee exalted Aaron an holy man like vnto him, euen his brother, of the tribe of Levi.

7 An everlasting Covenant he made with him, and gave him the Priesthood among the people, he beautified him with comely ornaments, and clothed him with a robe of glory.

8 He put vpon him perisick glory: and strengthened him with rich garments, with breeches, with a long robe, and the Kibod.

9 And he compassed him with Pomegranates, and with many golden beiles round about, that as hee went, there might be a sound, and a noise made, that might be heard in the Temple, for a memoriall to the children of his people.

10 With an holy garment with gold, and blue silke, and purple, the worke of the embroiderer: with a brethplate of Iudgement, and with Vriem and Thumaim.

11 With twisted scarlet, the worke of the cunning worke-man, with precious stones graven like Scales, and set in gold, the worke of the Jeweller, with a writing engrained for a memoriall, after the number of the Tribes of Israel.

12 Hee set a crowne of gold vpon the mitre wherein was engraued, Heliothle, an ornament of honour, a costly worke, the cabbres of the eyes, goodly and beautifull.

13 Before him there was none such, neither did euer any stranger put them on, but onely his children, and his childrens children perpetually.

14 Their sacrifices shall bee wholly consumed, eury day twice continually.

15 Moyses consecrated him, and anointed him with holy oyle, this was appointed vnto him by an everlasting Covenant, and to his seed so long as the heauens should remaine, that they should minister vnto him, and create the office of the Priesthood, and bless the people in his Name.

16 He chose him out of all men lining, to offer sacrifices to the Lord, increase and a sweet sauaour for a memoriall, to make reconciliation for his people.

17 He gave vnto him his commandmentes and authority in the statutes of iudgements, that he should teach Iacob the testimonies, and informe Israel in his Lawes.

18 Strangers conspired together against him, and maligned him in the wilderness, euen the men that were of Dauidas and Abimeus side, and that congregation of Kere with fury and wrath.

19 This the Lord saw, and it displeaseth him, and in his wrathfull indignation were they consumed: he did wonders vpon them to consume them with the fiery flame.

20 But he made Aaron more honourable, and gave him an heritage, and diuided vnto him the first fruits of the increase: especially he prepared bread in abundance:

21 For they eate of the sacrifices of the Lord which hee gave vnto him and his seed.

22 Howbeit, in the land of the people he had no inheritance: neither had he any portion among the people, for the Lord himselfe is his portion and inheritance.

23 The third in glory is Phineas, the sonne of Eleazar, because he had zeale in the feare of the Lord, and stood vp with good courage of heart, when the people were turned backe, and made reconciliation for Israel.

24 Therefore was there a covenant of peace made with him, that he should be the chiefe of the Sanctuary, and of his people, & that he and his posterity should haue the dignity of the Priesthood for euer: According to the Covenant made with Dauid son of Iesse, of the tribe of Iuda, that the inheritance of the King should be to his posterity alone: so the inheritance of Aaron, should also be vnto his seed.

25 God giue you wisdoms in your heart, so iudge his people in righteousness, that their good things be not abolished, and that their glory may endure for euer.

CHAP. XLVI.

The praise of Iosias, of Caleb, of Samuel.

1 Iosias the son of Nause was valiant in the wars, and was the successor of Moyses in prophetie, who according to his name was made great, for the saving of the Elect of God, and taking vengeance of the enemies that rose vp against them that he might set Israel in their inheritance.

2 How great glory gave he when he did lift vp his hands, and stretched out his sword against the cities?

3 Who before him so stood (as it is) for the Lord himself brought his enemies unto him.

4 Did not the Sunne goe backe by his measures? and was not one day as long as two?

5 He called vpon the most High Lord, when the enemies pressed vpon him on euery side, and the great Lord heard him.

6 And with hailstones of mighty power he made the battell to fall violently vpon the nations, and in the descent [of Bethoron] he destroyed them that resisted, that the nations might know all their strength, because he fought in the sight of the Lord, and he followed the mighty One.

7 In the time of Moyses also, hee did a worke of mercy, he and Caleb the sonne of Iephonne; in that they withstood the congregation, and withheld the people from sin, and appeased the wicked murmuring.

8 And of five hundred thousand people on foot, they two were preferred to bring them into the heritage, euen vnto the land that floweth with milke and honey.

9 The Lord gaue strength also vnto Caleb, which remained with him vnto his old age, so that he entered vpon the high places of the land, and his seed obtained it for an heritage.

10 That all the children of Israel might see that it is good to follow the Lord.

11 And concerning the Iudges, euery one by name, whose heart went not a whoring, nor departed from the Lord, let their memory be blessed.

12 Let their houses flourish out of their place; and let the name of them that were honored, be continued vpon their children.

13 Samuel the Prophet of the Lord, beloved of his Lord, established a kingdome, and anointed Princes ouer his people.

14 By the law of the Lord he iudged the congregation, and the Lord had respect vnto Iacob.

15 By his faithfulness he was found a true Prophet, and by his word he was knowen to be faithful in vision.

16 He called vpon the mighty Lord, when his enemies pressed vpon him on euery side, when he offered the sucking Lambe.

17 And the Lord thundered from heauen, and with a great noyse made his voyce to be heard.

18 And he destroyed the rulers of the Tyrants, and all the Princes of the Philistines.

19 And before his long sleepe he made a prophesie in the sight of the Lord and his anointed I haue not taken any mans goods, so much as a shoe, and no man did accuse him.

20 And after his death hee prophesied, and shewed the King his end, and lift vp his voyce from the earth in prophesie, to blot out the wickednesse of the people.

CHAPTER XLVII.

1 The praise of Nathan. 2 Of David. 13 Of Solomon his glory and infirmities, 23 Of his end and punishment.

AND after him rose vp Nathan to prophesie in the time of David.

2 As is the fat taken away from y peace offering, so was David chosen out of the children of Israel.

3 He played with byones as with kids, and with a beare as with lambe.

4 Slew he not a Gyant when he was yet but young? and did he not take away reproch from the people, when he lifted vp his hand with the stones in the sling, and beat down the boasting of Goliath?

5 For he called vpon the most high Lord, and he gaue him strength in his right hand to slay that mighty warrior, and set vp the borne of his people.

6 So the people honoured him with ten thousand, and praised him in the blessings of the Lord, in that he gaue him a crowne of glory.

7 For he destroyed the enemies on euery side, and brought to nought the Philistines his adversaries, and brake their borne in sunder vnto this day.

8 In all his workes hee praised the holy One most High with words of glory, with his who's heart he sang songs, and loued him that made him.

9 He set fingers also before the Akar, that by their voyces they might make sweet melody, and daily sing praises in their songs.

10 He beautified their feasts, and set in order the solemne times, until the end, that they might praise his holy Name, and that the Temple might sound from morning.

11 The Lord tooke away his sin, and exalted his honour for euer: hee gaue him a covenant of kings, a throne of glory in Israel.

12 After him rose vp a wife sonne, and for his sake he dwelt at large.

13 Solomon reigned in a peaceable time, and was honoured: for God made all quiet round about him, that hee might build an house in his Name, and prepare his Sanctuary for euer.

14 How wise wast thou in thy youth, and as a flood filled with vnderstanding?

15 Thy soule conered the whole earth, and thou filledst it with darke parables.

16 Thy Name went far into the Ilands: and for thy peace thou wast beloved.

17 The cogneries marvelled at thee for thy songs, and pronouns, and parables, and interpretations.

18 By the Name of the Lord God, which is called the Lord God of Israel, thou didst gather gold as time, and didst multiply silver as lead.

19 Thou didst how thy loines vnto women, and by thy body thou wast brought into subiection.

20 Thou didst raise thy house, and pollute thy seed, so that thou broughtest wrath vpon thy children, and wast grieved for thy folly.

21 So the kingdome was diuided, and out of Ephraim ruled a rebellious kingdome.

22 But the Lord will neuer leaue off his mercy, neither shall any of his workes petill, neither will hee abolish the posterity of his Eklet, and the seed of him that loath him hee will not eate away: wherefore hee gaue a covenant vnto Iacob, and out of him a roote vnto David.

23 Thus scolded Solomon with his fathers, and of his seed he left behind him Roboam euen the foolishnesse of the people, and one that had no vnderstanding, who turned away the people through his counsel: there was also Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat, who caused Israel to sinne, and shewed Ephraim the way of sinne.

24 And their sinnes were multiplied exceedingly, that they were driuen out of the land.

25 For they sought out all wickednesse, till the vengeance came vpon them.

CHAPTER XLVIII.

1 The praise of Elias, 12 Of Elicum, 17 and of Ezechias.

THEN stood vp Elias the Prophet as fire, and his word burne like a lampe.

2 He brought a sore famine vpon them, and by his zeale he diminished their number.

3 By the word of the Lord hee shut vp the brazen, and also three times brought downe fire.

4 O Elias, how wast thou honoured in thy wonderful deede! and who may glory like vnto thee!

ings 5 Who didst raise vp a dead man from death, and his soule from the place of the dead, by the word of the most High.

ings 6 * Who broughtest Kings to destruction, and honorable men from their beds.

ings 7 Who heardest the rebuke of the Lord in Sinai, and in Horeb the iudgement of vengeance.

ings 8 * Who anointed Kings to take reuenge, and Prophets to succeed after him.

ings 9 * Who was taken vp in a whirlwinde of fire, and in a charer of fiery horses :

ings 10 Who wast ordained to reproofes in their times, to pacifie the wrath of the Lords iudgement, before it brake forth into fury, and to turne the heart of the Father vnto the son, and to restore the tribes of Iacob.

ings 11 Blessed are they that saw thee, and slept in peace, for we shall surely liue.

ings 12 * Effray was couered with a whirle-winde : and Elizens was filled with his spirit :
whilst he liued he was not moued [with the presence] of any Prince, neither could any bring him into infection.

ings 13 * No word could overcome him, and * after his death his body prophesied.

ings 14 He did wonders in his life, and at his death were his works maruellous.

ings 15 For all this the people repented not, neither departed they from their sinnes, * till they were spoyled, and carried out of their land, and were scattered through all the earth : yet there remained a small people, and a ruler in the house of Dauid.

ings 16 Of whom, some did that which was pleasing to God, and issue multiplied less.

ings 17 * Ezekias fortified his city, and brought in water into the middle thereof: he digged the hard rocke with yron, and made wells for waters.

ings 18 In his time * Sennacherib came vp, and sent Rabfacc, and lift vp his hand against Sion, and boasted proudly.

ings 19 Then trembled their hearts and hands, and they were in pain as women in travail.

ings 20 But they called vpon the Lord which is merci-full, and stretched out their hands towards him, & immediately the holy One heard them: out of Heauen, and deliuered them by the ministry of Esay.

ings 21 * He smote the hoste of the Assyrians, and his Angel destroyed them.

ings 22 For Ezekias had done the thing that pleased the Lord, and was strong in the waters of Dauid his father, as Esay the Prophet, who was great and faithfull in his vision, had commanded him.

ings 23 * In his time the Sun went backward, and he lengthened the Kings life.

ings 24 Hee saw by an excellent Spirit what should come to passe at the last, and hee comforted them that moaned in Sion.

ings 25 Hee shewed what should come to passe for euer, and secret things or euer they came.

C H A P. X L I X.

ings 1 The praise of Iosias, of Dauid, and Ezekias, & of Ieremy, of Ezekiel, of Zorobabel, of Iesus
the sonne of Iosias, of Nehemiah, of Ieremias, of Ieremias, and of Adam.

ings 2 The remembrance of Iosias is like the composition of the perfume that is made by the Arc of the Apothecary : it is sweet as honey in all mouthes, and as musike at a banquet of wine.

ings 3 He behaued himselfe virginly in the communion of the people, and took away the abomi-nations of iniquity.

ings 4 He directed his heart vnto the Lord, and in the time of the wngodly he established the worship of God.

ings 4 All excepte Dauid, and Ezechias, and Iosias were defoliate : for they forsooke the Law of the most High [euen] the Kings of Iudah failed.

ings 5 Therefore he gaue their power vnto others, and their glory to a strange nation.

ings 6 * They burnt the chosen City of the Sanctuary, and made the streets desolate, according to the prophecie of Ieremias :

ings 7 For they increased him enill, who neuerthelesse was a Prophet * sanctified in his mothers wombe, that he might root out, and afflicke, and destroy, and that he might build vp also and place.

ings 8 * It was Ezechiel who saw the glorious vision, which was shewed him vpon the chariot of the Cherubims.

ings 9 For he * made mention of the enemies vnder [the figure of] the raine, and directed them that went right.

ings 10 And of the twelue Prophets, let the memori-all be blessed : and let their bones flourish againe out of their place : for they comforted Iacob, and deliuered them by assured hope.

ings 11 * How shall we magnifie Zorobabel ? euen he was as a signe on the right hand.

ings 12 So was Iesus the son of Iosias, who in their time builded the house, and set vp an holy Temple to the Lord, which was prepared for eter-nall glory.

ings 13 * And among the Elect was Neemias, whose renowme is great, who raised vp for vs the walls that were fallen, and set vp the gates and the bars, and raised vp our ruines againe.

ings 14 But vpon the earth was no man created like
* Enoch, for he was taken from the earth.

ings 15 Neither was there a man borne like vnto Ioseph, a gouernour of his brethren, a stay of the people, whose bones were regarded of the Lord.

ings 16 * Sem and Seth were in great honour among men, and so was Adam about euery living thing in the creation.

C H A P. L.

ings 1 Of Simon the sonne of Onias. 22 How the people were taught to praise God and pray. 27 The conclusion.

ings 1 Simon the high Priest, the son of Onias, who in his life repaired the house againe, and in his daies fortified the Temple :

ings 2 And by him was built from the foundation the double height, the high Iestresse of the wall about the Temple.

ings 3 In his daies the Cisternae to receiue water, boring in compassie by the Sea, was couered with plates of brass.

ings 4 He tooke care of the Temple that it should not fall, and fortified the city against besieging.

ings 5 How was he honoured in the middle of the people in his coming out of the Sanctuary :

ings 6 He was as the morning star in the midde of a cloud, and as the Mounce at the full.

ings 7 As the Sun shining vpon the Temple of the most High, and as the Rainbow giuing light in the bright clouds.

ings 8 And as the flowre of Roses in the spring of that yeere, as Lilies by the riuers of waters, and as the branches of the Frankincense tree in the time of Summer.

ings 9 As fire and iacens in the ceester, and as a vessel of beaten gold, set w all manner of precious stones.

ings 10 And as a faire Olive tree budding forth fruit, and as a Cypresse tree * groweth vp to the clouds.

11 When he put on the robe of honour, and was clothed with the periclion of glory when he went vp to the holy Altar, he made the garment of holinesse honorable.

12 When he took the portions out of the Priests hands, he himselfe stood by the heards of the Altar, compassed with his brethren round about, as a young Cedar in Libanus, and as palm trees compassed they him round about.

13 So were all the sons of Aaron in their glory, and the oblations of the Lord in their hands, before all the Congregation of Israel.

14 And finishing the seruice at the Altar, that he might adorne the offering of the most high Almighty, he stretched out his hand in the cup, and powred of the blood of the grape, he powred out at the foot of the Altar, a sweet smelling savour unto the most high King of all.

15 Then shouted the sons of Aaron, and sounded the silver Trumpets, & made a great noise to be heard, for a remembrance before the most High.

17 Then all the people together hasted and fell downe to the earth, upon their faces to worship their Lord God Almighty, the most High.

18 The singers also sang praises with their voices, with great variety of sounds was there made sweet melody.

19 And the people besought the Lord the most high by prayer before him that is mercifull, till the solemnity of the Lord was ended, and they had finished his seruice.

20 Then he went downe and lifted vp his hands ouer the whole Congregation of the children of Israel, to give the blessing of the Lord with his lips, and to reioyce in his Name.

21 And they bowed themselves downe to worship the second time, that they might receive a blessing from the most High.

22 Now therefore bless ye the God of all, which maketh such wondrous things euery where, which exalteth our daies from the wombe, and dealteth with vs according to his mercy.

23 He grant vs ioyfullnesse of heart, and that peace may be in our daies in Israel for euer.

24 That he would confirme his mercy with vs, and deliuer vs at his time.

25 There be two manner of nations which my heart abhorreth, and the third is no nation.

26 They that sit vpon the mountaine of Sarraria, and they that dwell among the Philistines, and they that dwell among the Ammonites, and they that dwell in Sichem.

27 Iesus the sonne of Sirach of Ierusalem hath written in this booke the instruction of vnderstanding and knowledge, who out of his heart powred forth wisdom.

28 Blessed is he that shall be exercised in these things, and her that layeth them vp in his heart, shall become wise.

29 For if he doe them, he shall be strong to all things, for the light of the Lord leadeth him, who giueth wisdom to the godly: blessed be the Lord for euer, Amen. Amen.

C H A P T E R

¶ A prayer of Iesus the soune of Sirach.

I will thanke thee, O Lord and King, and praise thee, O God my Saviour, I doe give praise vnto thy Name:

1 For thou art my defender and helper, and hast preferred my body from destruction, and from the snare of the slanderous tongue, and from the lips that forge lies, and hast bene my helper against mine aduersaries:

2 And hast deliuered me according to the multitude of thy mercies, & greatness of thy Name, from the teeth of them that were ready to deuour me, and out of the hands of such as sought after my life; & from the manifold afflictions which I had:

3 From the choking of fire on euery side, and from the mids of the fire which I kindled not:

4 From the depth of the belly of hell, from an vnicorne tongue, and from lying words:

5 By an accusation to the King from an vniuersal tongue: my soule drew neere euen vnto death, my life was neere to the hell beneath:

6 They compassed me on euery side, and there was no man to helpe me: I looked for the succour of men, but there was none:

7 Then thought I vpon thy mercy, O Lord, and vpon thy Acts of old, how thou deliuerest such as wait for thee, and I snest them out of the hands of the cucumers:

8 Then lifted I vp my supplication from the earth, and prayed for deliuerance from death.

9 I called vpon the Lord, the Father of my Lord, that he would not leave mee in the daies of my trouble, and in the time of the proud, when there was no helpe.

10 I will praise thy Name continually, and will sing praise with thanksgiving, and so my prayer was heard:

11 For thou hast deliuered me from destruction, and deliuered me from the euill time: therefore will I give thanks, and praise thee, and bless thy Name, O Lord.

12 When I was yet young, or euer I went abroad, I desired widownes openly in my prayer.

13 I prayed for her before the Temple, and will seeke her out, euen to the end:

14 Euen from the flower till the grape was ripe, hath my heart delighted in her, my foot went the right way, from my youth vp sought I after her.

15 I bowed downe mine eare a little, and receiued her, and got much learning.

16 I professed therein, [therefore] will I ascribe the glory vnto him that giueth me widownes.

17 For I purposed, to doe after her, and earnestly I followed that which is good, so shall I not be confounded.

18 My soule hath wrestled with her, & in my doings I was exact, I stretched forth my hands to the heauens above, and bewailed my ignorances of her.

19 I directed my soule vnto her, and I found her in parents, I haue had my heart ioyned wth her from the beginning, therefore shall I not be forsaken.

20 My heart was troubled in seeking her: therefore haue I gotten a good possession.

21 The Lord hath giuen me a tongue for my reward, and I will praise him therewith.

22 Draw neere vnto me you vnlearned, and dwell in the house of learning.

23 Wherefore are you slow, and what say you of these things, (seeing poor soales are very thisty?)

24 I opened my mouth and said, say here for your felices without money.

25 Put your necke vnder the yoke, and let your soule receive instruction, (it is hard at hand to hnd.)

26 Behold with your eyes, how that I haue had but little labour, and haue gotten vnto me much rest.

27 Get learning with a great summe of money, and get much gold by her.

28 Let your soule reioyce in his mercy, and be not ashamed of his praise.

29 Worke your worke betimes, and in his stead he will give you your reward.

BARUCH.

CHAP. I.

1 Baruch wrote a booke in Babylon: & The Jews there wept at the reading of it. 7 They send money and the booke to the brethyn at Hierusalem.

And these are the words of the booke, which Baruch the son of Nerias, the son of Maasias, the sonne of Sedecias, the sonne of Asudias, the sonne of Charbias, wrote in Babylon.

2 In the nyth yeece, and in the seventh day of the month, what came as the Chaldeans tooke Ierusalem, and burnt it with fire.

3 And Baruch did read the words of this booke, in the hearing of Iehonias, the sonne of Ierachim, King of Iudah, and in the eares of all the people, that came to [heare] the booke.

4 And in the hearing of the Nobles, and of the Kings sounes, and in the hearing of the Elders, and of all the people, from the lowest vnto the highest, euen of all them which dwelt at Babylon by f[r]intz Sod.

5 When vpon they wept, fasted, and prayd before the Lord.

6 They made also a collection of money, according to euery mans power.

7 And they sent it to Ierusalem, vnto Ioschim the high Priest: the son of Chelcias, sounce of Salum, and to the Priests, and to all the people which were found with him at Ierusalem.

8 At the same time when he received the vessels of the house of the Lord, that were carried out of the Temple, to reuenee them into the land of Iuda, the tenth day of the month Sivan [sumely] silver vessels, which Sedecias the sonne of Iudas, King of Iudah had made.

9 After that, Nabuchodonosor King of Babylon had carried away Iehonias, and the Princes, and the Captiues, and the mighty men, and the people of the land from Ierusalem, and brought them vnto Babylon.

10 And they said, Behold, we haue sent you money to buy you burnt offerings, and saine offerings, and incense, and prepare ye f[r] Maunz, and offer vpon the Altar of the Lord our God.

11 And pray for the life of Nabuchodonosor King of Babylon, and for the life of Belthasar his sonne, that their dayes may be vpon earch as the dayes of heuyn.

12 And the Lord will giue vs strength, and lighten our eyes, and we shall liue vnder the shadow of Nabuchodonosor King of Babylon, and vnder the shadow of Belthasar his sonne, and we shall see the sounce many dayes, and saine fauour in their fight.

13 Pray for vs also vnto the Lord our God, for we haue sinned against the Lord our God, and vnto this day the fury of the Lord and his wrath is not turned from vs.

14 And ye shall reade this booke, which we haue sent vnto you, to make confession in the house of the Lord, vpon the tenth and thirteenth dayes.

15 And ye shall say, O to the Lord our God be length righteousnesse, bur vnto vs the confusion of faces, as it is come to passe this day vnto Iudas, and to the inhabitants of Ierusalem, 16 And to our Kings, and to our Princes, and to our Priests, and to our Prophets, & to our Fathers.

17 For we haue sinned before the Lord,

18 And disobeyd him, and haue not hearkened vnto the voyce of the Lord our God to walke in the Commandements that he gaue vs openly:

19 Since the day that the Lord brought our forefathers out of the land of Egypt, vnto this present day, we haue been disobedient vnto the Lord our God, and we haue bene negligent in not hearing his voyce.

20 Wherefore the enils cleped vnto vs, and the curse which the Lord appointed by Moyses his seruaunt, at the time that he brought our Fathers out of the land of Egypt, to giue vs a land that floweth with milke and honey, like as it is to be this day.

21 Nevertheless, we haue not hearkened vnto the voyce of the Lord our God, according vnto all the words of the Prophets, whom he sent vnto vs.

22 But euery man followed the imagination of his owne wicked heart, to serue strange gods, and to doe still in the sight of the Lord our God.

CHAP. II.

The prayer and confession which the Iewes at Babylon made, and sent in that booke vnto the brethyn in Ierusalem.

Therefore the Lord hath made good his word, which he pronounced against vs and against our Iudges that iudged Israel, and against our Kings, and against our princes, and against the meyn of Israel and Iuda,

2 To bring vpon vs great plagues, such as neuer happened vnder the whole heauen, as it came to passe in Ierusalem, according to the things that were written in the Law of Moyses:

3 That a man should eat the flesh of his owne sounce, and the flesh of his owne daughter.

4 Moreover, he hath deliuered them to be in subjection to all the kingdomes that are round about vs, to be as a reproch and desolation among all the people round about where the Lord hath scattered them.

5 Thus we f[r] were cast downe, and not exalted, because wee haue sinned against the Lord our God, and haue not bene obedient vnto his voyce.

6 To the Lord our God appertaineth righteousness: but vnto vs and to our Fathers open shame: as appeareth this day.

7 For all these plagues are come vpon vs, which the Lord hath pronounced against vs.

8 Yet haue we not prayed before the Lord, that wee might turne euery one from the imaginations of his wicked heart.

9 Wherefore the Lord watched ouer vs for euill, and the Lord hath brought it vpon vs: for the Lord is righteous in all his workes which hee hath commanded vs.

10 Yet we haue not hearkened vnto his voyce, to walke in the Commandements of the Lord, that he hath set before vs.

11 And now, O Lord God of Israel, that hast brought thy people out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and high arme, and with signes, and with wonders, and with great power, and hast gotten thy selfe a Name, as appeareth this day:

12 O Lord our God, wee haue sinned, wee haue done vngodly, wee haue dealt vnrighteously in all thine ordinances.

13 Let thy wrath turne from vs: for we are but a few left among the heathen, whys thou hast scattered vs.

24 Heare our prayers, O Lord, and our petitions, and obsecrate for their owne sake, and give vs favour in the sight of them which haue led vs awaie

25 That all the earth may know that thou art the Lord our God; because Israel and his posteritie is t called by thy Name.

26 O Lord, I beseech downe from thy holy house, and consider vs; how downe thine eare, O Lord, so heare vs.

27 O Open mine eyes, and behold: for the dead that are in the graues, whose soules are taken from their bodies, will giue vnto the Lord neither praise nor righteousness.

28 But the soule that is greatly vexed, which goeth sleepeing and feeble, and the eyes that faile, and the hungry soule will giue thee praise and righteousness, O Lord.

29 Therefore we doe not make our humble supplication before thee, O Lord our God, for the righteousness of our Fathers, and of our Kings.

30 For thou hast sent out thy wrath and indignation vpon vs, as thou hast spoken by thy seruants the Prophet, saying, 31 Thus saith the Lord, Bow downe your shoulders to serue the King of Babylon: for shall ye remaine in the land that I giue vnto your Fathers.

32 But if ye will not heare the voyce of the Lord, to serue the King of Babylon, 33 I will cause to cease out of the cities of Iuda, and from without Ierusalem, the voyce of mirth, and the voyce of ioy, the voyce of the bridegroom, and the voyce of the bride, and the whole land shall be desolate of inhabitants.

34 But woe would not hearken vnto thy voyce, O Lord, the King of Babylon: therefore hast thou made good the words that thou spakest by thy seruants the Prophets; namely, that the houses of our Kings, and the houses of our Fathers should be taken out of their places.

35 And Ioe, they are cast out to the heat of the day, and to the frost of the night, and they died in great misery, by famine, by sword, and by pestilence.

36 And the house which is called by thy Name, I haue thou laid waste: as it is to be seene this day, for the wickednesse of the house of Israel, and the haughtinesse of Iuda.

37 O Lord our God, thou hast dealt with vs after all thy goodness, and according to all that great mercie of thine.

38 As thou spakest by thy seruant Moyses, in the day when thou diddest command him to write thy Lawe before the children of Israel, saying, 39 If ye will not heare my voyce, surely I this very great multitude shall be turned into a small number among the nations, where I will scatter them.

40 For I knew that they would not heare me, because it is a stiff-necked people: but in the land of their captivity, they shall remember themselves.

41 And shall know that I am the Lord their God: for I giue them an heart, and eares to heare.

42 And they shall praise me in the land of their captivity, and chaunge vpon my Name.

43 And remember from their stiff necke, and from their wicked deeds, for they shall remember the way of their Fathers which sinned before I Lord.

44 And I will bring them againe into the land which I promised with an oath vnto their Fathers, Abraham, Isaac, and Iacob, and they shall be lords of it, and I will increase them, and they shall not be diminished.

35 And I will make an everlasting covenant with them, to be their God, and they shall be my people: and I will no more drine my people of Israel out of the land, that I haue giuen them.

CHAPTER III.

2 The rest of their prayer and confession, contained in the booke which Baruch wrote and sent to Ierusalem. 30 Wisdom was bestowed first on Iacob and was sent vpon the earth.

Lord Almighty, God of Israel: the soule in anguish, the troubled spirit cryeth vnto thee.

2 Heare, O Lord, and haue mercy: for thou art mercifull, and haue pitie vpon vs, because we haue sinned before thee.

3 For thou endarest for euer, and wee perish vnto thee.

4 O Lord Almighty, thou God of Israel, heare now the prayers of the dead Ieruzalites, and of their children, which haue sinned before thee, and not hearkned vnto the voyce of thee their God: for the which caust these plagues cleaue vnto vs.

5 Remember not the iniquities of our forefathers: but thinke vpon thy power and thy Name, now at this time.

6 For thou art the Lord our God, and thee, O Lord, will we praise.

7 And for this cause thou hast put thy feare in our hearts, to the intent that we should call vpon thy Name, and praise thee in our captivity: for we haue called to mind all the iniquity of our forefathers that sinned before thee.

8 Behold wee are yet this day in our captivity, where thou hast scattered vs, for a reproch and a curse, and to bee subiect to payments, according to all the iniquities of our fathers, which departed from the Lord our God.

9 Heare Israel the Commandments of life, giuing care to vnderstand wisdom.

10 How hapeth it, Israel, that thou art in thine enemies land, that thou art waxen old in a strange country, that thou art desiled with the dead?

11 That thou art counted with them that are gone downe into the graue?

12 Thou hast forsaken the fountaine of wisdom.

13 For if thou hadst walked in the way of God, thou shouldst haue dwelled in peace for euer.

14 Learn where is wisdom, where is strength, where is vnderstanding, where thou mayest know also where is length of daies, and life, where is the light of the eyes, and peace.

15 Who hath found out her place? or who hath come into her secret?

16 Where are the prizes of the heathen become, and in what are ruled the beasts vpon the earth, 17 They that had their pasture with the toules of the syre, and they that hoarded vp silver and gold, wherein men trust, made no end of their getting?

18 For they that wrought in silver, and were so careful, and whose workes are vnfearchable, 19 They are vntilld, and gone downe to the graue, and others are come vp in their steads.

20 Young men haue seene light, and dwell vpon the earth: but the way of knowledge haue they not knowne, 21 Nor vnderstood the pathes thereof, nor laid hold of it, their children were farr off from that way.

22 It hath not bene heard of in Canaan: neither hath it bene seene in Theman.

23 The Agrarians that seeke wisdom vpon earth, the merchants of Meru, and of Theman, the authors of fables, add fetchers out of vnderstanding, 24 O Israel, how great is the house of God? and how large is the place of his possession?

25 Great, and hath none end: high, and vnumeasurable.

26 There were the gyants, famous from the beginning, that were of so great stature, and so expert in warre.

27 These did not the Lord chuse, neither gave he the way of knowledge vnto them.

28 But they were destroyed, because they had no wisdom, and perished through their owne foolishnesse.

29 Who hath gone vp into heauen, and taken her, and brought her down from the clouds?

30 Who hath gone ouer the sea, and found her, and will bring her for pure gold?

31 No man knoweth her way, nor thinketh of her path.

32 But he that knoweth all things, knoweth her, and hath round her out with his vnderstanding: he that prepared the earth for euermore, hath filled it with her fruites.

33 He that sendeth forth light, and it goeth: calleth it again, and it obeyeth him with feare.

34 The stars shined in their watches, and reioyced: when hee calleth vnto them, they say, Here we be, and so with cheerefulness they shewed light vnto him that made them.

35 This is our God, and there shall none other be accounted of in comparison of him.

36 Hee hath found out all the way of knowledge, and hath giuen it vnto Iacob his seruant, and to Israel his beloued.

37 Afterward did he shew himselfe vpon earth, and conuersed with men.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The booke of Commendament, is that Wisdom which was commended in the former booke: as The Seruants are mooued to patience, and to hope for the deliuerance.

2 This is the Booke of the Commendament of God: and the Law that endureth for euer: all they that keepe it shall come to life; but such as leaue it, shall die.

3 Take thee, O Iacob, and take heed of it: walke in the presence of the light thereof, that thou mayest be illuminated.

4 Give not thine honour to another, nor the things that are profitable vnto thee, to a strange nation.

5 O Israel, happy are we: for things that are pleasing to God, are made knowne vnto vs.

6 Be of good cheere, my people, the memoriall of Israel.

7 Yet were sold to the nations, not for [your] deliquency: but because you moued God to wrath: ye were deliuered vnto the enemies.

8 For ye provoked him that made you, by sacrificing vnto deuitis, and not to God.

9 Ye haue forgotten the euerlasting God, that brought you vp, and ye haue grieued Ierusalem, that nursed you.

10 For when shee saw the wrath of God coming vpon you, shee said, hearken, O yee that dwell about Ierusalem: God hath brought vpon you great mourning.

11 For I saw the captivity of my soues and daughters, which the Euerlasting brought vpon them.

12 With ioy did I nourish them: but sent them away with weeping and mourning.

12 Let no man reioyce ouer me a widow, and forsaken of many, who for the sinnes of my children, am left desolate: because they departed from the Law of God.

13 They knew not his Statutes, nor walked in the wayes of his Commandement, nor trode in the pathes of discipline in his righteousnesse.

14 Let them that dwell about Sion come, and remember ye the captivity of my soues and daughters, which the Euerlasting hath brought vpon them.

15 For he hath brought a nation vpon them from farre: a shamelesse nation, & of a strange language, who neither reuerenced old man, nor prized child.

16 These haue carried away the dares beloued children of the widow, and left her that was alone desolate without daughters.

17 But what can I helpe you?

18 For he that brought these plagues vpon you, will deliuer you from the hands of your enemies.

19 See your way, O my children, see your way: for I am left desolate.

20 I haue put off the clothing of peace, and put vpon me the sackcloth of my prayer, I will cry out to the Euerlasting: I in my daies.

21 Be of good cheere, O my children, say vnto the Lord: and hee shall deliuer you from the power and hand of the enemies.

22 For my hope is in the Euerlasting, that he will saue you, and joy is come vnto me from the holy One, because of the mercy which shall come vnto you from the Euerlasting our Saviour.

23 For I sent you out with mourning and weeping: but God will giue you to me againe with ioy and gladnesse for euer.

24 Like as now the neighbours of Sion haue steepe your captiuitie: so shall they see shortly your saluation from our God, which shall come vpon you with great glory and brightness of the Euerlasting.

25 My children suffer patiently the wrath, that is come vpon you from God: for thine enemy hath persecuted thee: but shortly thou shalt see his destruction, and shalt tread vpon his necke.

26 Misdemeanours haue gone rough wayes, and were taken away as a flocke caught of the enemies.

27 Be of good comfort, O my children, and cry vnto God: for you shall be remembered of him that thought these things vpon you.

28 For as it was your mind to goe astray from God: so being returned seeketh him ten times more.

29 For he that hath brought these plagues vpon you, shall bring you euerlasting ioy againe with your saluation.

30 Take a good heart, O Ierusalem: for he that gaue thee that name, will comfort thee.

31 Miserable are they that afflicted thee, and reioyced at thy fall.

32 Miserable are the cities which thy children serued: miserable is the that received thy soues.

33 For as thou reioyced at thy ruine, and wast glad at thy fall: so shall shee be grieved for her owne defolation.

34 For I will take away the reioycing of her great multitude, and her pride shall be turned into mourning.

35 For fire shall come vpon her from the Euerlasting, long to endure: and she shall be inhabited of deuitis for a great time.

36 O Ierusalem, looke about thee towards the East, and behold the ioy that cometh vnto thee from God.

37 Lo, thy soues come whom thou sentest away: they come gathered together, from the East to the West,

1 Jerusalem is moued to reioyce, and to behold their returne out of captiuitie with glory.

Put off, O Ierusalem, the garment of thy mourning and affliction, and put on the comeliness of the glory that cometh from God for euer.

2 Cast about thee a double garment of the righteousness which cometh from God: for hee hath set a diadem on thine head, of the glory of the Everlasting.

3 For God will shew thy brightness vnto every country vnder Heauen.

4 For thy Name shall be called of God for euer, The peace of righteousness, and the glory of Gods worship.

5 Arise, O Ierusalem, and stand on high, and looke about toward the East, and behold thy children gathered from the West vnto the East, by the Word of the holy One, reioycing in the remembrance of God.

6 For they departed from thee on foot, and were led away of their enemies: but God bringeth them vnto thee exalted with glory, as children of the Kingdom.

7 For God hath appointed that every high hill, and bankes of long continuance should bee cast downe, and valleyes filled vp, to make euen the ground, that Israel may goe safely in the glory of God.

8 Moreover thou the Woods, and every sweet smelling tree, shall overshadow Israel by the commandement of God.

9 For God shall lead Israel with ioy, in the light of his glory, with the mercy and righteousness that cometh from him.

The Epistle of Ieremy.

C H A P. VI.

1 The cause of the captiuitie is their sinne. 2 The Place whereto they were carried, in Babylon: The manner of whose Idoles and Idolatry are set forth as large in this Chapter.

A Copy of an Epistle which Ieremy sent vnto them, which were to be led captiues into Babylon, by the King of the Babylonians, to certifye them as it was commanded him of God.

2 Because of the finnes which ye haue committed before God, ye shall bee led away captiues vnto Babylon by Nabuchodonosor King of the Babylonians.

3 So when ye be come vnto Babylon, ye shall remaine there many yeeres, and for a long season, namely, seuen generations: and after that I will bring you away peaceably from thence.

4 Now shall ye see in Babylon gods of silver and gold, and of wood, borne vpon shoulders, which cause the nations to feare.

5 Beware therefore that ye be in no wise like to strangers, neither be ye afraid of them, when ye see the multitude before them, and beauid them, worshipping them.

6 But say ye in your hearts, O Lord, we must worship thee.

7 For mine Angel is with you, and I will sende calling for your soules.

8 As for their toyne, it is polished by the workman, and they the metal: are gilde and cast with silver: yet are they but tisse and can not speak.

9 And taking gold — it were for a virgin that looses to goe gay, they make crowns for the heads of their gods.

10 Sometimes also the Priests gousse from their gods gold and silver, & bestow it vpon themselves.

11 Yea, they will giue thereof to their common harlots, and decke them as men with garments [being] gods of silver, and gods of gold, and wood. 12 Yet cannot these gods save themselves from rust and moths, though they be covered with purple raiment.

13 They wipe their faces, because of the dust of the Temple, which there is much vpon them.

14 And he that cannot put to death one that offendeth him, holdeth a Scepter as though he were a Iudge of the countrey.

15 Hee hath also in his right hand a dagger, and an axe: but cannot decliner himselfe from water and thence.

16 Wherby they are knowen not to be gods: therefore feare them not.

17 For like as a vessel that a man useth, is nothing worth when it is broken: euen so it is with their gods: when they be set vp in the Temple, their eyes be full of dust, thow the feet of them that come in.

18 And as the doores are made sure on every side vpon him that offendeth the king as being committed to suffer death: euen so the Priests make fast their temples, with doores, with lockes and bars, lest their gods be spoiled with robbers.

19 They light them candles, yea, more then for themselves, wherof they cannot see one.

20 They are as one of the beames of the temple, yet they say, their hearts are gnawed vpon by things creeping out of the earth, and when they enter them and their clothes they scete it not.

21 Their faces are blacked through the smoke that cometh out of the Temple.

22 Vpon their bodies and heads sit Bats, Swallows, and Birds, and the Cats also.

23 By this you may knowe that they are no gods: therefore feare them not.

24 Notwithstanding the gold that is about them to make them beautiful, except they wipe off the rust, they will not shine: for neither when they were molten did they seeke it.

25 The things wherewith there is no breath, are bought for a most high price.

26 They are borne vpon shoulders, hauing no feet, wherby they declare vnto men that they be nothing worth.

27 They also that serue them are ashamed: for if they fall to the ground at any time, they cannot rise vp againe of themselves: neither is one set them vp againe, as they moue of themselves: neither if they be bowed downe, can they make themselves straight: but they set gifts before them as vnto dead men.

28 As for the things that are sacrificed vnto them, their Priests sell all: & abuse in like manner their wives lay vp part thereof in salt: but vnto the poore and impotent they giue nothing of it.

29 Menstruous women, and women in child-bed eat their sacrifices: by these things ye may knowe that they are no gods: feare them not.

30 For how can they be called Gods? because women feede meate before the gods of silver, gold, and wood.

31 And the Priests sit in their temples, hauing their clothes rent, and their beads and beards thauen, and nothing vpon their heads.

32 They rore and cry before their gods: as men doe at the sea: when one is dead.

33 The priests also eate of their garments, and clothe their wives and children.

34 Whether it be euill that one doth vnto them, or good, they are not able to recompense it: they can neither set vp a King, nor put him downe.

35 In like maner, they can neither giue riches nor money: although a man make a vow vnto them, and keepe it not, they will not require it.

36 They can take no man from death, neither deliuer the weake from the mighty.

37 They cannot restore a blind man to his sight, nor helpe any man in his distresse.

38 They can show no mercy to the widow, nor doe good to the fatherlesse.

39 Their gods of wood, and which are overlaid with gold and silver, are like the flowers that be hewen out of the mountain, they that worship them shalbe confounded.

40 How should a man then thinke and say that they are gods? when euen the Caldeans themselues dishonour them.

41 Who if they shall see one dumbe that cannot speake, they bring him and increat Bel, that he may speake, as though he were able to vnderstand.

42 Yet they cannot vnderstand this themselves, and leaue them: for they haue no knowledge.

43 The women also with cords about them, sitting in the wayes, burne braun for perfume: but if any or them, drawe by some that passeth by, lie with him, she reproacheth her fellow that she was not thought as worthy as herselfe, nor her cord broken.

44 Whatsoever is done among them is false: how may it then be thought or said that they are gods?

45 They are made of respersters and goldsmiths, they can be working like them the workman will haue them to be.

46 And they themselves that made them can neuer continue long, how should then the things that are made of them be gods?

47 For they leile lies and reproaches to them that come vnto.

48 For when there cometh any war or plague vpon them, they sittes counsell with themselves where they may be hidden with them.

49 How thus cannot men perceiue, that they be no gods wax: can neither saue themselves from war, nor from plague?

50 For seeing they be but of wood, and overlaid with silver and gold, it shall bee knowen hereafter that they are false.

51 And it shall manifestly appeare to all nations and Kings, that they are no gods: but the worker of mens hands, and that there is no worke of God in them.

52 Who then may not know that they are no gods?

53 For whether can they set vp a King in the land, nor giue raue vnto men.

54 Neither can they iudge their owne cause, nor redresse a wrong being vnto them: for they are as crows between heauen and earth.

55 Whereupon when fire falleth vpon the bonds of gods of wood, or laid ouer with gold or silver, their priests will flee away, and escape: but they themselves shall be burnt asunder like beames.

56 Moreover, they cannot withstand any King, or enemies: how can it then be thought or said that they be gods?

57 Neither are those gods of wood, and laid ouer with silver or gold, able to escape either from thieues or robbers.

58 Whoe gold and silver, and garments wherewith they are clothed, they that are strong doe take, and goe away with all: neither are they able to helpe themselves.

59 Therefore it is better to be a King, & sheweth his power, or else a profitable vessel in no house, which the owner shall haue vfe of, then such false gods: or to be a deore in an house to keepe such things safe as be therein, then such false gods: or a pillar of wood in a place, then such false gods.

60 For Sun, Moone, and Starres, being bright, and sent to doe their offices are obedient.

61 In like manner, the lightning when it breaketh forth is easie to be scene, and after the same manner the wind bloweth in euery countrey.

62 And when God commandeth the cloudes to goe ouer the whole world: they doe as they are bidden.

63 And the fire sent from heauen to consume hills and woods, doth as it is commanded: but these are like vnto them neither in shew nor power.

64 Wherefore it is neither to be supposed, nor said that they are gods, seeing they are able, neither to iudge causes, nor to doe good vnto men.

65 Knowing therefore that they are no gods, feare them not.

66 For they can neither curse, nor blesse Kings.

67 Neither can they shew signes in the heauen among the heathen: nor shine as the Sun, nor giue light as the Moone.

68 The beasts are better than they, for they ent get vnder a couer and helpe themselves.

69 It is then by no means manifest vnto vs that they are gods: therefore feare them not.

70 For as a scarcrow in a garden of cucumbers keepeth nothing: so are their gods of wood and laid ouer with silver and gold.

71 And likewise their gods of wood, and laid ouer with silver & gold, are like to a white thorn in an orchard, that euery bird stretcheth vnto as able, so to a dead body that is cast into the darke.

72 And you shall know them to be no gods, by the bright purple that cometh vpon them: and they themselves afterwards shall be care, and shall be a reproach in the countrey.

73 Better therefore is the rust man that hath none idols: for he shall be sure from reproach,

¶ The song of the three holy children, which followeth in the third Chapter of Daniel after this place, [And they walked in the midst of the fire, praising God, and blessing the Lord.] That which followeth, is not in the Hebrew to wit, [Then Azarias stood vp] vnto these words, [And Nabuchodonosor.

17 Azarias his prayer and confession in the same, 18 Whom the Caldeans about the oven were captiued, but the three children within were not hurt, as The song of the three children in the oven.

19 Hen Azarias stood vp and prayed on this manner, and opening his mouth in the midst of the fire, said,
2 Blessed art thou, O Lord God of our fathers: thy Name is worthy to be praised and glorified for euermore.

3 For thou art righteous in all the things that thou hast done to vs: yea, thus are all thy workes; thy wayes are right and all thy iudgements true.

4 In all the things that thou hast brought vpon vs, and vpon the holy city of our fathers, euen Ierusalem, thou hast executed true iudgment: for according to truth and iudgement didst thou bring all these things vpon vs, because of our sinnes.

5 For we haue sinned, and committed iniquity, departing from thee.

6 In all things haue we trespassed, and not obeyed thy commandments, nor kept them, neither done as thou hast commanded vs, that it might goe well with vs.

7 All therefore all that thou hast brought vpon vs, and euery thing that thou hast don to vs, thou hast don in true iudgement.

8 And thou diddest deliuer vs into the hands of Babylonians, most hatefull forfakers of God, and of an vnjust King and the most wicked in all the world.

9 And now we cannot open our mouths we are become a shame and a reproch to thy seruants, and to them that worship thee.

10 Yea, deliuer vs not vp wholly, for thy Names sake, neither disanul thou thy Couenant.

11 And cause not thy mercy to depart from vs: for thy beloued Abrahams sake: for thy seruant Iudas sake, and for thy holy Israels sake.

12 For whom thou hast spoken and promised, That thou wouldst multiply their seed as the starrs of heauen, and as the sand that lieth vpon the sea shore.

13 For we, O Lord, are become less then any nation, and be kept vnder this day in all the world, because of our sinnes.

14 Neither is there at this time, Priuce or Protector, or leader, or burnt offering, or sacrifice: or oblation, or incense, or place to sacrifice, before thee, and to find mercy.

15 Remember therefore in a contrite heart, and an humble spirit let vs be accepted.

16 Like as in the burnt offering of rams and bullocks: like as in ten thousand of fat lambs: so let our sacrifice be in thy sight this day; and I pray, that wee may wholly goe after thee: for they shall not be counted that put their trust in thee.

17 And now we follow thee with all our heart; we leave thee, and seek thy face.

18 Put vs not to shame: but deale with vs after thy louing kindeesse, and according to the multitude of thy mercies.

19 Bellier vs also according to thy marvellous workes, and gae glory to thy Name, O Lord, and let all them that doe thy seruants hurt, be ashamed.

20 And let them be confounded in all their power and might, and let their strength be broken.

21 And let them know that thou art Lord, the only God, and glorious ouer the whole world.

22 And the Kings seruants that put them in, ceased not to make the oven hot with groins, pitch, tow and small wood.

23 So that the flame steamed forth above the furnace, forty and nine cubites:

24 And it passed thorow, and burnt those Caldeans it found about the furnace.

25 But the Angel of the Lord came downe into the oven, together with Azarias and his fellows, and smote the flame of the fire out of the oven:

26 And made the midst of the furnace, as it had bene a moist whiffing wind, so that the fire touched them not at all, neither hurt, nor troubled them.

27 Then the three, as out of one mouth, praised, glorified, and blessed God in the furnace, saying, 28 Blessed art thou, O Lord God of our fathers, and to be praised and exalted about all for ever.

29 And blessed is thy glorious and holy Name: and to be praised and exalted about all for ever.

30 Blessed art thou in the Temple of thine holy glory: and to be praised and glorified about all for ever.

31 Blessed art thou that beholdest the depths, and sittest vpon the cherubims, and to be praised and exalted about all for ever.

32 Blessed art thou on the glorious throne of thy Kingdom: and to be praised and glorified about all for ever.

33 Blessed art thou in the firmament of heauen, and about all to be praised and glorified for ever.

34 O all ye workes of the Lord, blese ye the Lord: praise and exalt him about all for ever.

35 O ye heauens, blese ye the Lord; praise and exalt him about all for ever.

 52 O ye mountaines and litle hills, blesse ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for euer.
 53 O all ye things that grow on the earth, blesse ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for euer.
 54 O ye fountaines, blesse ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for euer.
 55 O yee Seas, and rivers, blesse ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for euer.
 56 O ye whales and all that mooue in the waters, blesse ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for euer.

57 O all ye Soules of the just, blesse ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for euer.
 58 O all ye beasts and cattell, blesse ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for euer.
 59 O ye children of men, blesse ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for euer.
 60 O Israel, blesse ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for euer.
 61 O ye Priests of the Lord, blesse ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for euer.
 62 O ye seruants of the Lord, blesse ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for euer.

 64 O ye [holy and humble men of heart, blesse ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for euer.
 65 O Ananias, Azarias, and Misael, blesse ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for euer: For hee hath deliuered vs from [hell, and freed vs from the hand of death, and deliuered vs out of the aids of the furnace, [and [burning flame, taken out of the middle of the fire hath he deliuered vs.
 66 O give thanks vnto the Lord, because he is gracious: for his mercy endureth for euer.
 67 O all ye that worship the Lord, blesse the God of gods, praise him, and give him thanks: for his mercy endureth for euer.

The history of Susanna, set apart from the beginning of Daniel, because it is not in Hebrew, as neither the narration of Bel and the Dragon.

16 Two Iudges hid themselves in the garden of Susanna, to haue their pleasure of her: in which whil they could not obtayne, they accus'd her to be condemned for adultery. But Daniel examineth the matter againe, and findeth the two Iudges false.

Here dwelt a man in Babylon, called Ioachim.
 2 And hee tooke a wife, whose name was Susanna, the daughter of Chelcias, a very faire woman, and one that feared the Lord.

3 Her parents also were righteous, and taught their daughter according to the Law of Moyses.
 4 Now Ioachim was a great rich man, and had a faire garden buyning vnto his house, and to him resorted the lewds: because he was more honourable then all others.
 5 The same yeere were appointed two of the chiefest of the people to be Iudges; such as the Lord spake of, that wickednes came from Babilonia from ancient Iudges, who seemed to gouerne the people.
 6 These kept much at Ioachims house, and all that had any suites in law came vnto them.
 7 Now when the people departed away at noone Susanna went into her husbands garden to walke.
 8 And the two Elders saw her going in sunny day, and walking: so that their harts were inflamed towards her.
 9 And they peruerced their owne minde, and turned away their eyes that they might not looke vnto heauen, nor remember iust iudgements.
 10 And albeit they both were wounded with her looke; yet durst not one shew another his grieue.

11 For they were ashamed to declare their harts, that they desired to haue to doe with her.
 12 Yet they watched diligently from day to day to see her.
 13 And the one said to the other: Let vs now goe home: for it is dinner time.
 14 So when they were gone out they parted the one from the other, and turning backe againe, they came to the same place, and after that they had asked one another the cause, they acknowledged their lust: then appointed they a time both together, when they might finde her alone.
 15 And it fell out as they watched a fit time, she went in as before, with two maides only, and she was desirous to wash her selfe in the garden: for it was hote.
 16 And there was no body there sine the two Elders, that had hid themselves, and watched her.
 17 Then she said to her maides, Bring me oyle and washing balls, and shut the garden doore, that I may wash me.
 18 And they did as she bade them, and shut the garden doores, and went out themselves at [being doores to fetch the things that she had commaunded them: but they saw not the Elders, because they were hid.
 19 Now when the maides were gone soorth, the two Elders rose vp, and ran vnto her, saying:
 20 Behold, the garden doores are shut that no man can see vs, and we are in lone with thee: therefore consent vnto vs, and lie with vs.
 21 If thou wilt not, we will beare witness against thee, that a young man was with thee: and therefore thou didst send away thy maids from thee.

28 Then Susanna sighed, and said, I am straited on every side for if I do this thing it is death unto me; and if I do it not, I cannot escape your hands.

29 It is better for mee to fall into your hands, than not do it, then to sin in the sight of the Lord.

30 With that Susanna cryed with a loud voyce; and the two Elders cryed out against her.

31 Then ranne the one, and opened the garden doore.

32 So when the seruants of the house heard the cry in the garden, they rashed in at a private doore, to see what was done vnto her.

33 But when the Elders had declared their matter, the seruants were greatly affamed: for there was neuer such a report made of Susanna.

34 And it came to passe the next day, when the people were assembled to her husband Ioachim, the two Elders came also full of malicious imagination against Susanna to put her to death.

35 And said before the people, Seid for Susanna, the daughter of Chelcias, Ioachims wife. And so they seat.

36 So she came with her father and mother, her children, and all her kindred.

37 Now Susanna was a very delicate woman, and beautiful to behold.

38 And these wicked men commanded to vncouer her face (for she was covered) that they might be filled with her beauty.

39 Therefore her friends, & all that saw her, wept.

40 Then the two Elders stood vp in the midst of the people, and laid their hands vpon her head.

41 And the weeping looked vp towards heauen: for her heart trusted in the Lord.

42 And the Elders said, As we walked in the garden alone, this woman came in with two maids, & shut the garden doores, and sent the maids away.

43 Then a young man who there was hid, came vnto her, and lay with her.

44 Then we that stood in a corner of the garden, seeing this wickednesse, ran vnto them.

45 And when we saw them together, the man we could not hold our tongue was stronger than we, and opened the doore, and leaped in.

46 But hauing taken this woman, we asked who the young man was: but she would not tell vs, these things doe we testify.

47 Then the assembly belieued them, as those that were the Elders and Iudges of the people: so they condemned her to death.

48 Then Susanna cryed out with a loud voyce and said, O ouerlaking God, that knowest the secrets, and knowest all things before they be:

49 Thou knowest that they haue borne false witness against me, and behold, I must die: whereas I neuer did such things as these men haue maliciously intimated against me.

50 And the Lord heard her voyce.

51 Therefore when she was led to be put to death, the Lord raised vp the holy spirit of a young youth, whose name was Daniel.

52 Who cried with a loud voyce: I am cleare from the blood of this woman.

47 Then all the people turned them towards him, and said: What meane these words that thou hast spoken?

48 So he standing in the midst of them, said, Are ye such fooles, ye souldiers of Israel, that without examination or knowledge of the truth, ye haue condemned a daughter of Israel?

49 Returne againe to the place of Iudgement: for they haue borne false witness against her.

50 Wherefore all the people turned againe in haste, and the Elders said vnto him, Come hee downe among vs, and shew it vs, seeing God hath giuen thee the honour of an Elder.

51 Then said Daniel vnto them, For that two beside one farre from another, and will examine them.

52 So when they were put asunder one from another, he called one of them, and said vnto him, O thou that art waxen old in wickednesse, now thy sin which thou hast committed aforetime, are come [to light.]

53 For thou hast pronounced false iudgement; and hast condemned the innocent, and hast let the guilty goe free, albeit the Lord saith, The innocent, and righteous shall thou not slay.

54 Now then, if thou hast true her, tell me, vnder what tree sawest thou them compassing together when as I seeret, Vnder a fmaslike tree.

55 And Daniel said, Very well, thou hast lied against thine owne head: for euen now the Angel of God hath receiued the sentence of God, to cut thee in two.

56 So he put him aside, and commanded to bring the other, and said vnto him, O thou seed of Cham, and not of Israhel: beauty hath deceiued thee, and hath peruerced thine heart.

57 Thus haue ye dealt with the daughters of Israhel, and they for feare compassed with you: but the daughter of Iudah would not abate your wickednesse.

58 Now therefore tell me, vnder what tree didst thou take euen compassing together? who answered, vnder a holme tree.

59 Then said Daniel vnto him, Well: thou hast also lied against thine owne head: for the Angel of God waiteth with the sword, to cut thee in two that he may destroy you.

60 With that all the assembly cryed out with a loud voyce, and praised God, who saucth them that trust in him.

61 And they rose against the two Elders, (for Daniel had confuted them of false witness by their owne mouth.)

62 And according to the Law of Moses; they did vnto them, in such sort as they maliciously intended to doe to their neighbour: And they put them to death. Thus the innocent blood was saued the same day.

63 Therefore Chelcias and his wife praised God for their daughter Susanna, with Ioachim her husband, and all the kindred: because there was no dishonesty found in her.

64 From that day forth was Daniel had in great reputation in the sight of the people.

THE HISTORY OF THE DESTRUCTION OF Bel and the Dragon, cut off from the end of Daniel.

Gr. 2. 1. Dragon

19 The fraud of Bels Priests is discovered by Daniel, and the Dragon slain which was worshipped
20 Daniel is preferred in the Lions den
21 The King doth acknowledge the God of Daniel, and casteth his enemies into the same denne.

19 Then laughed deride and held the King that he should not goe in afraid, Behold now the punishment, and marke well whose footsteppe are these.

20 And the King said, I see the footsteppe of men, women, and children: and then the King was angry.

21 And tooke the Priests with their wives, children, who showed him the priy doores wher they came in, and consumed such things as were vpon the table.

22 Therefore the King slew them, and deliuered Bel into Daniels power, who destroyed him and his temple.

23 And in that same place there was a great Dragon, which they of Babylon worshipped.

24 And the King said vnto Daniel, While thou also say that this is of brass? loe, he lieth, he eateth and drinketh, thou canst not say that he is no living god: therefore worship him.

25 Then said Daniel vnto the King, I will worship the Lord my God: for he is the living God.

26 But giue me leave, O King, and I shall say this Dragon without sword or stake. The King said, I giue thee leave.

27 Then Daniel took pitch, fat, and haire, and did seeth them together, and made lumps thereof: this he put in the Dragons mouth, and in the Dragon burst in sunder: and Daniel said, Loe, these are the gods you worship.

28 When they of Babylon heard that they tooke great indignation, and conspired against the King, saying, The King is become a Jew, and he hath destroyed Bel, he hath slaine the Dragon, and put the Priests to death.

29 So they came to the King, and said, Deliuere vs Daniel, or else we will destroy thee & thine house.

30 Now when the King saw that they pressed him sore, being constrained, he deliuered Daniel vnto them:

31 Who cast him into the Lions denne, where he was sixe dayes.

32 And in the den there were seuen Lions, and they had giuen them euery day two carcasses, and two sheepe, which they were not giuen to them, so the intent they might deuoure Daniel.

33 Now there was in Iury a Prophet, called Habakkuk, who had made postage, and had broken bread in a bowle, and was going into the field, for to bring it to the reapers.

34 But the Angel of the Lord said vnto Habakkuk, Giue, carry the dinner that thou hast, into Babylon, vnto Daniel, who is in the Lions den.

35 And Habakuk said, Lord, I neuer saw Babylon: neither doe I know where the den is.

36 Then the Angel of the Lord tooke him by the crowne, and bare him by the haire of his head, and through the vehemency of his spirit, set him in Babylon ouer the den.

37 And Habakuk cried, saying, O Daniel, Dinner, Take the dinner which God hath sent thee.

38 And Daniel said, Thou hast remembered me, O God: neither hast thou forsaken them that seek thee, and loue thee.

39 So Daniel arose, and did eat: and the Angel of the Lord set Habakuk in his owne place againe immediatly.

And King Astyages was gathered to his fathers, and Cyrus of Persia received his kingdom.

2 And Daniel conversed with the King, and was honoured aboue all his friends.

3 Now the Babylonians had an idole called Bel, and there were spent vpon him euery day twelue great measures of fine flour, forty sheepe, and sixe vessels of wine.

4 And the King worshipped it, and went daily to adore it: but Daniel worshipped his owne God. And the King said vnto him, Why dost thou not worship Bel?

5 Who answered, and said, Because I may not worship scoules made with hands, but the living God, who hath created the heauen and the earth, and hath sovereignty ouer all flesh.

6 Then said the King vnto him, Thinkest thou not that Bel is a living god? seest thou not how much he eateth and drinketh euery day?

7 Then Daniel smiled, and said, O King, be not deceived, for this is but clay within, and brass without, and did neuer eat or drinke any thing.

8 So the King was wroth, and called for his Priests, and said vnto them, If ye tell mee not what this is that deuoureth the expences, ye shall die.

9 But if ye can certifie me that Bel deuoureth them, then Daniel shall die: for hee hath spoken blasphemy against Bel. And Daniel said vnto the King, Let it be according to thy word.

10 Now the Priests of Bel were thirtie, and ten, besides their wives and children: and the King went with Daniel into the Temple of Bel.

11 So Bels Priests said, Loe, we goe out: but thou, O King, set on the meat, and make ready the wine, and shut the doore fast, and seale it with thine owne signet.

12 And to morrow when thou comest in, if thou findest not that Bel hath eaten vp all, we will suffer death: or else Daniel that speaketh falsely against vs.

13 And they little regarded it: for vnder the table they had made a priuy entrance, whereby they entered in continually, and consumed those things.

14 So when they were gone forth, the King set meate before Bel. Now Daniel had commanded his seruants to bring allies, and those they strewed thorough all the temple, in the presence of the King, when they went they out, and shut the doore, and sealed it with the Kings signet, and so departed.

15 Now in the night came the Priests, with their wives and children, (as they were wont to doe) and did eat and drinke vp all.

16 In the morning betime the King arose, and Daniel with him.

17 And the King said, Daniel, are the scales whole? And hee said, Yea, O King, they be whole.

18 And as soone as hee had opened the doore, the King looked vpon the table, and cried with a loud voyce, Great art thou, O Bel, and with thee is the secret at all.

THE PRAYER OF MANASSES KING OF Iuda, when he was holden captiue in Babylon.

LORD, Almighty God of our Fathers, Abraham, Isaac, & Jacob, and of their righteous seed, who hast made heauen and earth, with all the ornaments thereof: who hast found the Sea by the word of thy Commandement: who hast shut vp the deepe, and sealed it by thy terrible and glorious Name, whom all men feare and tremble before thy power: for the Majesty of thy glory cannot be borne, and thine angry threatening toward sinners is importable: but thy mercifull promise is vnmeasurable, and vnsearchable: for thou art the most high Lord, of great compassion, long suffering, very mercifull, and repentest of the euils of men. Thou therefore, O Lord, that art the God of the iust, hast not appointed repentance to the iust, as to Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, which haue not sinned against thee, but thou hast appointed repentance vnto them that are sinners: for I haue sinned above the number of the sands of the Sea. My transgressions, O Lord, are multiplied: my transgressions are multiplied, and I am not worthy to behold and see the height of heauen, for the multitude of mine iniquity. I am bowed downe with many iron bands, that I cannot lift vp mine head: neither haue any release: for I haue prouoked thy wrath, and done euill before thee: I did not thy will, neither kept I thy Commandements: I haue set vp abominations, and haue multiplied offences. Now therefore I bow the knee of my heart, beseeching thee of grace: I haue sinned, O Lord, I haue sinned, and I acknowledge mine iniquities: wherefore I humbly beseech thee, forgive me, O Lord, forgive me, and destroy me: not with mine iniquities. Be not angry with me for ever, by retaining euill for mee, and her condemne me into the lower parts of the earth: For thou art the God, euen the God of them that repent: and in me thou wilt shew all thy goodness: for thou wilt saue me that am vniuersally according to thy great mercy. Therefore I will praise thee for euer all the dayes of my life: for all the powers of the heauen doe praise thee, and thine is the glory for euer and euer. Amen.

THE FIRST BOOKE OF THE Maccabees.

CHAP. I.

By Antiochus came leues to see vp the fashion of the Gentiles in Ierusalem, and spoiled it, and the Temple in it, and set vp thereon the abominations of desolation, and slew those that did witness their children.

And it happened, after that Alexander some of Philip the Macedonian, who came out of the land of Chetrim, had smitten Darius King of the Persians and Medes, that he reigned in hisland the first ouer Greece,

1 And made many wars, and was many yeeres holden, he slew the Kings of the earth.

2 And went through to the ends of the earth, and tooke spoiles of many nations, insomuch that the earth was quiet before him: whereupon he was exalted, and his heart was lifted vp.

3 And he gathered a mighty strong host, and ruled ouer countreys, and nations, and Kings, who became tributaries vnto him.

4 And after these things he fell sicke, and perished, so that he should die.

5 Wherefore he called his seruants, such as were honorable, and had bene brought vp with him from his youth, and parted his kingdome among them while he was yet alive.

6 So Alexander reigned twenty yeeres, and (then) died.

7 And his seruants here rule euer on in his place.

8 And after his death they all put crownes vpon themselves: so did their sonnes after them many yeeres, and euils were multiplied in the earth.

9 And there came out of them a wicked rooue, Antiochus [surnamed] Epiphanes, sonne of Antiochus the King, who had bene an hostage at Rome, and he reigned in the hundred and thirty and seventh yeere of the kingdome of the Grekes.

10 In those dayes went there out of Israel wicked men, who perswaded many, saying, Let vs goe and make a covenant with the heathen that are round about vs: for since we departed from them, we haue had much sorrow.

11 So this deuice pleased them well.

12 Then certaine of the people were so forward herin, that they went to the King, who gave them licence to doe after the ordinances of the heathen.

13 Whereupon they build a place of exercise at Ierusalem, according to the customes of the heathen.

14 And made themselves vncircumcised, and forsooke the holy Covenant, and ioynd themselves to the heathen, and were sold to doe mischiefe.

15 Now when the kingdome was established before Antiochus, hee thought to raigne ouer Egypt, that he might haue the dominions of two realmes.

16 Wherefore hee entered into Egypt with a great multitude, with chariots and horsemen, and much men, and a great naue.

17 And made war against Ptoleme king of E-

Egypt, but Pharaoh was afraid of him, and fled, and many were wounded to death.

19 Thus they got the strong cities in the land of Egypt, and hee tooke the spoiles thereof.

20 And after that Antiochus had fainten Egypt, he returned againe in the hundred forty and third yeere, and went vp against Israel and Ierusalem with a great multitude.

21 And entered proudly into the Sanctuary, and tooke away the golden Altar, and the candlestick of light, and all the vessel thereof.

22 And the table of the Showbread, and the pouring vessels, and the vials, and the censers of gold, and the vail, and the crownes, and the golden ornaments that were before the Temple, all which he pulled off.

23 He tooke also the silver and the gold, and the precious vessels: also hee tooke the hidden treasures which hee found.

24 And when he had taken all away, he went into his owne land, having made a great massacre, and spoken very proudly.

25 Therefore there was great mourning in Israel, in every place where they were.

26 So that the Princes and Elders mourned, the virgins and young men were made feeble, and the beauty of women was changed.

27 Every bridegroome tooke vp lamentation, and there that late in the marriage chamber, was in heavinesse.

28 The Land also was mourned for the inhabitants thereof, and all the house of Jacob was covered with confusion.

29 And after two yeeres fully expired, the king sent his chiefe collector of tribute vnto the cities of Iuda, who came vnto Ierusalem with a great multitude.

30 And spake peaceable words vnto them, but [all was] deceit: for when they had given him credence, hee fell suddenly vpon the city, and smote it very sore, and destroyed much people of Israel.

31 And when he had taken the spoiles of the city, he set it on fire, and pulled downe the houses and wals thereof on every side.

32 But the women and children took they captiue, and possessed the cattell.

33 Then builded they the city of David with a great and strong wall, [and] with mighty towers, and made it a strong hold for them.

34 And they put therein a small nation, wicked men, and fortified [themselves] therein.

35 They stored it also with armour and vittuals, when they had gathered together the spoiles of Ierusalem, they laid them vp there, and so they became a sore sinne.

36 For it was a place to lie in wait against the Sanctuary, and an euill advertisement to Israel.

37 Thus they shed innocēt blood on every side of the Sanctuary, and defiled it.

38 Inasmuch that the inhabitants of Ierusalem fled because of them, whereupon the city was made an habitation of strangers, and became strange to those that were borne in her, and her owne children left her.

39 Her Sanctuary was laid waste like a wilderness, her feasts were turned into mourning, her Sabbaths into reproach, her honor into contumpe.

40 As had bin her glory, so was her dishonour in Ierusalem. Her excellency was turned into mourning.

41 Moreover, king Antiochus wrote to his whole Kingdome, that all should bee one people, 42 And every one should leaue his lawes: so all the heathen agreed according to the commandement of the King.

43 Yes, many also of the Iudaelites consented to his religion, and sacrificed vnto idols, and profaned the Sabbath.

44 For the King had sent letters by messengers vnto Ierusalem, and the cities of Iuda, that they should follow [the strange lawes of the land,

45 And forbid burnt offerings, and sacrifice, and drink offerings in the Temple, and that they should profane the Sabbath, and festiual dayes:

46 And pollute the Sanctuary, and holy people, 47 Set vp altars, & groves, and chappels of idols, and sacrifice swines flesh, and vncleane beasts:

48 That they should also leaue their children vncircumcised, and make their sooles abominable with all manner of vncleanness and profanations

49 To the end they might forget the law, and change all the ordinances.

50 And whosoever would not doe according to the commandement of the King, [he said] hee should die.

51 In the selfe same manner wrote he to his whole Kingdome, and appointed overseers ouer all the people, commanding the cities of Iuda to sacrifice city by city.

52 Then many of the people were gathered vnto them, to wit, every one that forsok the law, and so they committed euils in the land.

53 [And drove the Iudaelites into secret places, euen wherefoeuer they could see fit secretum.

54 Now the thirtieth day of the month Chislev, in the hundred forty and fift yeere, they set vp the abomination of desolation vpon the Altar, and builded idle altars therewith: vnto the cities of Iuda on every side:

55 And burnt incense at the doores of their houses, and in the streets.

56 And when they had reur in pieces the booke of the Law which they found, they burnt them with fire.

57 And wherefoeuer was found with any the booke of the Testament, or if any consented to the Law, the King's commandement was, that they should put him to death.

58 Thus did they by their authority vnto the Iudaelites every month, to as many as were found in the cities.

59 Now the first and twentieth day of the month, they did sacrifice vnto the idle altars, which was vpon the Altar of God.

60 As which time, according to the commandement, they put to death certaine women that had carried their children to bee circumcised.

61 And they hanged the infants about their necks, and rifled their houses, and slew them that had circumcised them.

62 Howbeit, many in Israel were fully reformed and confirmed in themselves, not to eate any vncleane thing.

63 Wherefore they chose rather to die, than they might not be defiled with meats, and that they might not profane the holy Couenant: so that they died.

64 And these was very great wrath vpon Israel.

General.

IN those dayes Joseph Maccathias the son of John, the sonne of Simeon, a Priest of the sonnes of Ie-ruxib from Ierusalem and dwelt in Modin.

2 And he had five sonnes, Ioanan, called of Caddia.

3 Simeon called Thasi:

4 Judas who was called Maccabeus:

5 Eleazar called Azaraz, and Ionathan, whose surname was Apphus.

6 And when he saw the blasphemies that were committed in Iuda, and Ierusalem,

7 He said, Woe is me, wherefore was I borne to see this misery of my people, and of the holy city, and to dwell there when it was delivered into the hand of the enemy, and the Sanctuary into the hand of strangers?

8 Her Temple is become as a man without glory.

9 Her glorious vessels are carried away into captivity, her solants are slaine in the streets, her young men with the sword of the enemy.

10 What nation hath not had a part in her kingdome, and gotten of her prayles?

11 All her ornaments are taken away, of a free woman she is become a bondslave.

12 And behold, our Sanctuary, cuts our beauty and our glory is layd waste, and the Gentiles have profaned it.

13 To what end therefore shall we live any longer?

14 Then Maccathias and his sonnes rent their clothes, and put on sackcloth, and mourned very deere.

15 In the meane while the Kings officers, such as compelled the people to rehol, came into the city
Modin to make them sacrifice.

16 And when many of Israel came vnto them,
Maccathias also and his sonnes came together.

17 Then answered the Kings officers, and said to Maccathias on this wise, Thou art a ruler, and an honorable and great man in this city, and strengthened with sons and brethren.

18 Now therefore come thou first, and fulfill the kings commandment, like as all the heathen have done, yet and the men of Iuda also, and such as profane at Ierusalem: so shalt thou and thine house bee in the number of the Kings friends, and thou and thy children shall be honoured with siluer and gold and many rewards.

19 Then Maccathias answered, and spake with a loud voyce, Though all the nations that are vnder the Kings dominion obey him, and fall away e-uery one from the religion of their fathers, and give consent to his commandments:

20 Yet will I and my sonnes, and my brethren, walke in the covenant of our Fathers.

21 God forbid that we should forsake the Law and the ordinances.

22 Wee will not hearken to the Kings words to go from our religion, either on the right hand, or of the left.

23 Now when he had left speaking these words, there came one of the Iewes in the sight of all, to sacrifice on the Altar which was at Modin, according to the kings commandment.

24 Which thing when Maccathias saw, he was enflamed with zeale, and his reines trembled, neither could hee forbear to shew his anger according to iudgement: wherefore he ran and slew him upon the Altar.

25 Also the Kings Commissioner who compe-led men to sacrifice, was killed at that time, and the Altar he pulled downe.

26 Thus dealt he zealously for the Law of God, like as Phineas did vnto Zimri the sonne of Salom.

27 And Maccathias crying therowout the city with a loud voyce, saying, Who soeuer is zealous of the Law, and staintaineth the Covenant, let him follow me.

28 So he and his sonnes fled into the mountain, and left all that euer they had in the city.

29 Then many that sought after iustice and iudgement, went downe into the wilderness to dwell there.

30 Both they and their children, and their wives and their cattell, became afflictious increased fore vpon them.

31 Now when it was told the Kings seruants, and the best that was at Ierusalem in the city of David, that certaine men who had broken the kings commandment were gone downe into the secret places in the wilderness.

32 They pursued after them a great number, and having overtaken them, they camped against them, and made warre against them on the Sabbath day.

33 And they said vnto them, Let that which you have done hitherto, suffice: Come forth and doe according to the commandment of the King, and you shall liue.

34 But they said, We will not come forth, neither will wee do the Kings commandment, to profane
the Sabbath day.

35 So then they gaue them the battell with all speede.

36 Howbeit they answered them not, neither cast they a stone at them, nor stopped the places where they lay hid.

37 But said, let vsdell in our innocencie, hee and earth shall testify for vs, that you put vs to death wrongfully.

38 So they rose up against them in battell on the Sabbath: and they slew them, with their wives and children, and their cattell, to the number of a thousand people.

39 Now when Maccathias and his friends vnder-stood hereof, they mourned for their righte-fore.

40 And one of them said to another, If we all doe as our brethren have done, and fight not for our liues, and lawes against the heathen, they will now quickly root vs out of the earth.

41 At that time therefore they decreed, saying,
Who soeuer shall come to make battell with vs on the Sabbath day, wee will fight against him, neither will we die all, as our brethren that were murdered in the secret places.

42 Then came there vnto him a company of Af-ficiens, who were mighty men of Israel, euen all such as were voluntarily deuoted vnto the Law.

43 Also all they that fled for persecution, ioynd themselves vnto them, and were a stay vnto them.

44 So they ioynd their lawes, and imote fullall men in their anger, & wicked men in their wrath, but the rest fled to the heathen for succour.

45 Then Maccathias and his friends went round about, and pulled downe the altars.

46 And what children soeuer they found within the coast of Israel vncircumcised, those they circumcised finally.

47 They pursued also after the proud men, and the worse prospered in their hand.

48 So they recovered the Law out of the hand of the Gentiles, and out of the hand of Kings, neither suffered they the Law to triumph.

49 Now when the time drew neerer that Maccabias should die, he said vnto his sonnes, Now hath pride and rencke gotten strength, and the time of destruction, and the wrath of indignation:

50 Now therefore my sonnes, be ye zealous for the Law, and give your liues for the Couenant of your fathers.

51 Call to remembrance what acts our fathers did in their time, so shall ye receive great honour, and an everlasting name.

52 * Vnto our Ancestors found faithfull in preparation, and it was imputed vnto him for righteousness.

53 Joseph in the time of his distresse kept the commandment, and was made lord of Egypt.

54 * Phinees our father, in being zealous and seruent, obtained the Couenant of an everlasting Priesthood.

55 * Iesus for fulfilling the word, was made a iudge in Israel.

56 * Calebs for hearing witness before the Congregation, received the heritage of the land.

57 * Dauid for being mercifull, possessed the throne of an everlasting kingdome.

58 * Elias for being zealous and seruent for the Law, was taken vp into heauen.

59 * Ananias, Azarias, and Michael, by believing were saved out of the flame.

60 * Daniel for his innocencie was deliuered from the mouth of Lions.

61 And thus consider yethroughout all ages, that none that put their trust in him shall be ashamed.

62 Feare not then the words of a fawfull man, for his glory shall be dung and wormes.

63 To day he shall be like a vpp, and tomorrow he shall not be found, because he is returned into his dust, and his thought is come to nothing.

64 Wherefore you my sonnes be valiant and slay your filins men in the behalte of the Law, for by it shall you obtaine glory.

65 And behold, I know that your brother Simon is a man of counsell, giue care vnto him alway: he shall be a father vnto you.

66 As for Iudas Maccabees, he hath bene mighty and strong, euen from his youth vp: let him be your captain, and fight the battell of the people.

67 Take also vnto you, all those that observe the Law, and avenge ye the wrong of your people.

68 Recompence fully the heathen, and take heed to the commandmentes of the Law.

69 So he blessed them, and was gathered to his fathers.

70 And he died in the hundred forty and first yeere, and his sonnes buried him in the sepulchre of his fathers at Bethan, and all Israel made great lamentation for him.

CHAPTER III.

1 The valour and fame of Iudas Maccabees. 10 He overcometh the force of Samaria and Syria.

17 Antiochus loseth a great power against him.

24 He and his fall to fasting and prayer, 38 and are encouraged.

Then his name Iudas, called Maccabees, rose vp in his stead.

2 And all his brethren helped him, and so did all they that held with his father, and they fought with cherefull hearts the battell of Israel.

3 So he gave his people great honour, and put on a breastplate as a gyant, and girt his warlike harness about him, and he made battels, proceeing the host with his sword.

4 In his acts he was like a Lyon, and like a Lyons whelp roaring for his prey.

5 For he pursued the wicked, and sought them out, and burnt vp those that vexed his people.

6 Wherefore the wicked stunk for the sake of him, and all the workers of iniquitie were troubled, because saluation prospered in his hand.

7 He grieved also many Kings, and made Iacob glad with his acts, and his memoriall is blessed for euer.

8 Moreover, he went through the cities of Iuda, destroying the vngodly out of them, and turning away wrath from Israel.

9 So that he was renowned vnto the vtmost part of the earth, and he received vnto him such as were ready to perish.

10 Then Apollonius gathered the Gentiles together, and a great hoste, out of Samaria, to fight against Israel.

11 Which thing when Iudas perceiued, he went forth to meet him, and so hee smote him, and slew him, many also fell downe slaine, but the rest fled.

12 Wherefore Iudas took their spoiles, and Apollonius feared also, and therewith he sought all his life long.

13 Now when Seton a Prince of the army of Syria, heard say, that Iudas had gathered vnto him a multitude and company of the faithfull, to goe out with him to waite:

14 He said, I will get me a name and honour in the kingdome, for I will goe fight with Iudas, and them that are with him, who despite the Kings Commandement.

15 So he made him ready to goe vp, and therewith went with him a mighty hoste of the vngodly to helpe him, and to be auenged of the children of Israel.

16 And when he came neere to the going vp of Bethoron, Iudas went forth to meet him with a small company.

17 Who when they saw the hoste comming to meet them, said vnto Iudas: How shall we be able to bring so few, to fight against so great a multitude, and so strong, seeing we are ready to faint with fasting all this day?

18 Vnto whom Iudas answered, * It is no hard matter for many to bee shut vp in the hands of a few, and with the God of heauen it is all one to do a chrellier with a great multitude, or a small company.

19 For the victory of battell standeth not in the multitude of an hoste, but strength cometh from heauen.

20 They come against vs in much pride, and in iniquity, to destroy vs, and our wives, and children, and to spoyle vs:

21 But we fight for our liues and our Lawes.

22 Wherefore the Lord himselfe will ouerthrowe them before our face: and as for you, be ye not afraid of them.

23 Now as soon as he had left off speaking, he leapt suddenly vpon them, and so Seton and his host were ouerthrowne before him.

24 And they pursued them from the going downe of Bethoron vnto the plaine, where were slaine about eight hundred men of them: and the residue fled into the land of the Philistines.

25 Then beganne the feare of Iudas and his brethren, and an exceeding great dread to fall vpon the nations round about them:

25 Inasmuch as his fame came unto the King, and all nations talked of the battles of Iudas.

27 Now when King Antiochus heard these things, he was full of indignation, wherefore he first and gathered together all the forces of his Realm, [even] a very strong army.

28 He opened also his treasure, and gave his soldiers pay for a yeere, commanding them to be ready, whensoever he should need them.

29 Nevertheless, when he saw that the money of his treasures failed, and that the tributes in the country were small, because of the dissolution and plague which he had brought upon the land, in taking away the Lawes which had bene of old time,

30 He feared that he should not be able to beare the charges any longer; nor to have such gifts to give so liberally as he did before: for he had a-bounded about the Kings that were before him.

31 Wherefore, being greatly perplexed in his mind, he determined to goe into Persia, there to take the tributes of the countryes, and to gather much money.

32 So he left Lyfias a noble man, and one of the blood royal, to oversee the affaires of the King, from the river Euphrates, unto the borders of Egypt:

33 And to bring vp his soune Antiochus, vntill he came againe.

34 Moreover, he deliuered vnto him the halfe of his forces, and the Elephants, and gave him charge of all things that he would haue done, as also concerning them that dwell in Iuda and Ierusalem.

35 To wit, that he should lead an army against them, to destroy and root out the strength of Israel, and the remnant of Ierusalem, and to take away their memoriall from that place;

36 And that he should place strangers in all their quarters, and diuide their land by lot.

37 So the King tooke the halfe of the forces that remained, and departed from Antioch, his royal City, the hundred forty and seventh yeere, and having passed the river Euphrates, he went thow the high countryes.

38 Then Lyfias chose Probems the soune of Doronnes, and Nicanor, and Gorgias, mighty men of the Kings friends:

39 And with them he sent forty thousand footmen, and seven thousand horsemen to goe into the land of Iuda, and to destroy it as the King commanded.

40 So they went forth with all their power, and came and pitched by Emman in the plain country.

41 And the marshes of the country hearing the fame of them, took silver and gold very much with strangers, and came into the campe to buy the children of Israel for slauces, a power also of Syria, and of the land of the Philistines ioyed themselves vnto them.

42 Now when Iudas and his brethren saw that matters were multiplied, and that the forces did encampe themselves in their borders, (for they knew how the King had giuen commandement to destroy the people, and verily abolish them.)

43 They said one to another, Let vs restore the damaged estate of our people, and let vs fight for our people and the Sanctuary.

44 Then was the Congregation gathered together, that they might be ready for battell, and that they might pray, and aske mercy and compassion.

45 Now Ierusalem lay void as a wilderness, there was none of her children that went in or out: the Sanctuary also was troden downe, and aliens kept the strong hold: the heathen had their habitation in that place, and ioy was taken from Iacob, and the pipe with the harpe ceased.

46 Wherefore the Sacerdotes assembled themselves together, and came to Maspha ouer against Ierusalem: for in Maspha was the place where they prayed aforetime in Israel.

47 Then they fasted that day, and put on sackcloth, and cast ashes vpon their heads, and rent their clothes:

48 And laid open the booke of the Law, wherein in the heathen had sought to paint the likeness of their images.

49 They brought also the Priests garments, and the first fruits, and the tithes, and the Nazarites they stirred vp, who had accomplished their dayes.

50 Then cryed they with a loud voyce toward heauen, saying, What shall we doe with these, and whether shall we carry them away?

51 For the Sanctuary is troden downe and profaned, and thy Priests are in heauinesse, and brought low.

52 And loe, the heathen are assembled together against vs to destroy vs, what things they imagine against vs, thou knowest.

53 How shall we be able to stand against them, except thou (O God) be our helpe?

54 Then founded they with trumpets, and cryed with a loud voyce.

55 And after this Iudas ordained captaines ouer the people, euen captaines ouer thousand, and ouer hundred, and ouer fifties, and ouer tens.

56 But as for such as were building houses, or had betrothed wiues, or were plowing vineyards, or were fearfulfull, thole he commanded that they should returne enemy men to his owne house, according to the Law.

57 So the campe removed, and pitched vpon the South side of Emman.

58 And Iudas said, Arme your ielues, and be valiant men, and see that ye be in readiness against the morning, that ye may fight with these nations that are assembled together against vs to destroy vs and our Sanctuary.

59 For it is better for vs to die in battell, then to behold the calamities of our people, and our Sanctuary.

60 Nevertheless, as the will [of God] is in heauen, so let him doe.

CHAP. IIII.

6 Iudas defendeth the place, 14 and forces of Gorgias, 23 and spoileth their tents, 34 and overthroweth Lyfias 45 He profaneth downe the Altar which the heathen had profaned, and setteth up a new, 60 and Makabab a wall about Sion.

Then tooke Gorgias six thousand footmen, and a thousand of the best horsemen, and removed out of the campe by night:

2 To the end he might rush in vpon the campe of the Iewes, and smite them suddenly. And the men of the fortress were his guides.

3 Now when Iudas heard thereof he himselfe removed, and the valiant men with him, that he might smite the Kings army which was at Emman.

4 While as yet the forces were dispersed from the campe.

5 In the meane season came Gorgias by night into the campe of Iudas: and when he found no man there, he sought them in the mountaines: For, said he, these fellows flee from vs.

6 But when as it was day, Iudas shewed himselfe.

selfe in the plaine with three thousand men, who nevertheless had neither armour nor swords to their minds.

7 And they saw the camp of the heathen, that it was strong, and well harneſſed, and compassed round about with horsemen, and these were expert of warre.

8 Then said Judas to the men that were with him, Feare ye not their multitude, neither be ye afraid of their assault.

9 Remember how our Fathers were deliuered in the red sea, when Pharaoh pursued them with an armie.

10 Now therefore let vs cry vnto heauen, if peradventure the Lord will haue mercy vpon vs, and remember the covenant of our Fathers, and destroy this hoste before our face this day.

11 That so all the heathen may know that there is One who deliuereth and saueh Israel.

12 Then the strangers lift vp their eyes, and saw them comming vnder against them.

13 Wherefore they went out of the campe to battell, but they that were with Judas sounded their Trumpets.

14 So they ioyned battell, and the heathen being discomfited, fled into the plaine.

15 Howbeit, all the hindmost of them were slaine with the sword: for they pursued them vnto Gazer, and vnto the plaine of Idume, and Azotus, and Iamnia, so that there were slaine of them, vpon a three thousand men.

16 This done, Judas returned againe with his host from pursuing them.

17 And said to the peopl, Be not greedy of the spoyle, in as much as there is a battell before vs.

18 And Gergas and his brother are here by vs in the mountains, but stand ye now against your enemies, and overcome them, and after this you may boldly take the spoyle.

19 As Judas was yet speaking these words, there appeared a part of them looking out of the mountain.

20 Who when they perceiued that the Iewes had put their hoste to flight, and were burning the tents, (for the smoke that was seene declared what was done:)

21 When therefore they perceiued these things, they were sore afraid, and seeing also the hoste of Judas in the plaine ready to fight.

22 They fled euery one into the land of strangers.

23 Then Judas returned to spoile the tents, where they got much gold and silver, and blue silke, and purple of the Sea, and great riches.

24 After this they went home, and sung a song of thanksgiving, and praised the Lord in heauen: because it is good, because his mercy endureth for euer.

25 Thus Israel had a great deliuerance that day.

26 Now all the strangers that had escaped came and told Lysias what had happened.

27 Who when he heard thereof, was confounded and discouraged, because neither such things as hee would see done vnto Israel, nor such things as the King commanded him were come to passe.

28 The next yeere therefore following, Lysias gathered together threescore thousand choise men of foot, and foure thousand horsemen, that he might subdue them.

29 So they came into Idume, and pitched their camp at Bersara, and Judas met them with ten thousand men.

30 And when he saw that mighty army, he prayed and said, Blessed art thou, O Sauerour of Israel, who didst quail the violence of the mighty man by the hand of thy seruant David, and gauest the hoste of strangers into the hands of Saul, the sonne of Saül, and his armour-bearer.

31 Shut vp this army in the hand of thy people Israel, and let them be confounded in their power and horsemen.

32 Make them to be of no courage, and cause the boldnes of their strength to fall away, and let them quake at their destruction.

33 Call them downe with the sword of them that loue thee, and let all those that know thy Name, praise thee with thanksgiving.

34 So they ioyned battell, and there were slaine of the hoste of Lysias about foure thousand men, euen before them: were they slaine.

35 Now when Lysias saw his army put to flight, and the manlines of Judas soultiers, and how they were ready either to line or die valiantly, he went into Antiochus, and gathered together a company of strangers, and having made his army greater then it was, he purposed to come againe into Iuda.

36 Then said Iudas and his brethren, Behold, our enemies are discovered: let vs go vp to cleanse and dedicate the Sanctuary.

37 Vpon this all the hoste assembled themselves together, and went vp into mount Sion.

38 And when they saw the Sanctuary defiled being and the Altar profaned, and the gates burnt vp, and shrubs growing in the courts as in a forest, or in one of the mountaines, yea, and the Priests chambers pulled downe, 39 They rent their clothes, and made great lamentation, and cast ashes vpon their heads.

40 And fell downe flat to the ground vpon their faces, and blew an alarme with the Trumpets, and cryed towards Heauen.

41 Then Judas appointed certaine men to fight against those that were in the fortresse, vntill he had cleansed the Sanctuary.

42 So he choise Priests of blamelesse conversation, such as had pleasure in the Law.

43 Who cleansed the Sanctuary, and bare out the defiled stones into a vncleanse place.

44 And when as they consulted what to doe with the Altar of burnt offrings, which was profaned, 45 They thought it best to pull it downe, lest it should bee a reproche to them, because the heathen had defiled it: wherefore they pulled it downe.

46 And laid vp the stones in the mountaine of the Temple, in a conuenient place, vntill there should come a Prophet to shew what should be done with them.

47 Then they tooke whole stones, according to the Law, and built a new Altar, according to the former.

48 And made vp the Sanctuary, and the things that were within the Temple, and hallowed the Courts.

49 They made also new holy vessels, and into the Temple they brought the Candlestick, and the altar of burnt offrings, and of incense, and the Table.

50 And vpon the Altar they burnt incense, and the lampes that were vpon the candlestick, they lighted that they might giue light in the Temple.

51 Furthermore, they set the louers vpon the Table, and spread out the vnailes, and finished all the workes which they had begun to make.

52 Now on the nine and twentieth day of the sixth month (which is called the month Casleu) in the hundredth forty and eight yeere they set vp betimes in the morning, 53 And offered sacrifice according to the Law, upon the new Altar of burnt offerings which they had made.

54 Looked at what time, and what day the heathen had profaned it, even in that was it dedicated with songs, and citherns, and harps, and symbols.

55 Then all the people fell upon their faces, worshipping and praising the God of Heavens, who had given them good success.

56 And so they kept the dedication of the Altar eight daies, and offered burnt offerings with gladness, and sacrificed the sacrifice of libration and praise.

57 They deckt also the forefront of the Temple with crownes of gold, and with shield, and the gates and the chambers they renewed, and hangd doores upon them.

58 Thus was there very great gladnesse among the people, for that the reproach of the heathen was put away.

59 Moreover, Judas and his brethren, with the whole Congregation of Israel, ordained that the dayes of the dedication of the Altar should be kept in their season from yeere to yeere by the space of eight daies, from the five and twentieth day of the month Casleus, with mirth and gladnesse.

60 At that time also they builded up the mount Sion with high walles, and strong towres round about, lest the Gentiles should come and tread it downe as they had done before.

61 And they set there a garrison to keepe it, and fortified Bethsur to preserve it, that the people might have a defence against Idumea.

CHAPTER V.

3 Judas smiteth the children of Dan, Beas, and Ammon. 17 Simon is sent into Galilee. 27 The exploits of Judas in Galilee. 51 He destroyeth Ephraim for denying him to passe throug it. 55 Diuers that in Judas absence would fo be with their enemies, are slaine.

Now when the nations round about heard that the Altar was built, and the Sanctuary renewed as before, it displeaced them very much.

1 Wherefore they thought to disturb the generation of Jacob that was among them, and were upon they began to slay and destroy the people.

2 Then Judas sought against the children of Ephraim in Idumea at Aradathim, because they besieged Israel: and hee gave them a great overthrow, and abated their courage, and took their spoyle.

3 Also hee remembered the iniquity of the children of Beas, who had bene a snare and an offence unto the people, in that they lay in wait for them in the wayes.

4 Hee slue them vp therefore in the towres, and encompassed against them, and destroyed them utterly, and burnt the towres of that place with fire, and all that were therein.

5 Afterward he passed over to the children of Ammon, where he found a mighty power, and such people with Timotheus their Captaine.

6 So he fought many battels with them, till at length they were discomfited before him, and hee slue them.

7 And when he had taken Jazar, with the towres belonging thereto, he returned into Iudea.

8 Then the heathen that were at Galilee, assembled themselves together against the Israelites that were in their quarters, to destroy them; but they fled to the fortress of Dathema.

10 And sent letters unto Iudas and his brethren, The heathen that are round about vs are assembled together against vs to destroy vs.

11 And they are preparing to come and take the fortress wherunto we are fled, Timotheus being Captaine of their hoste.

12 Come now therefore, and deliver vs from their hands: for many of vs are slaine.

13 Yea, all our brethren that were in the places of Tobie, are put to death, their wives, and their children: also they have carried away captives, and borne away their substance, and they have destroyed there about a thousand men.

14 While their letters were yet reading, behold, there came other messengers from Galilee, with their clothes rent, who reported on this wise.

15 And said, They of Ptolemais, and of Tyras, and Sidon, and all Galilee of the Gentiles, are assembled together against vs to consume vs.

16 Now when Iudas and the people heard these words, there assembled a great Congregation together, to consider what they should doe for their brethren that were in trouble, & assaulted of them.

17 Then said Iudas unto Simon his brother, Chase thee out men, and goe, and deliver thy brethren that are in Galilee; for I and Jonathan my brother will goe into the country of Galilee.

18 So he left Joseph the son of Zacharias and Arisus Captaines of the people, with the remnant of the host in Iudas to keepe it.

19 Unto whom he gave commandment, saying, Take ye the charge of this people, in that that you make warre against the heathen, until the time that we come againe.

20 Now unto Simon were given three thousand men to goe into Galilee, and unto Iudas eight thousand men for the country of Iudea.

21 Then went Simon into Galilee, where hee fought many battels with the heathen, so that the heathen were discomfited by him.

22 And he pursued them unto the place of Ptolemais: and there were slaine of the heathen about three thousand men, whose spoyle hee took.

23 And those that were in Galilee, and in Aradathim, with their wives and their children, and all that they had took hee away [with him] and brought them into Iudea with great joy.

24 Iudas Maccabeus also, and his brother Jonathan, went over Jordan, and travelled three daies journey in the wilderness.

25 Where they met with the Nabathites, who came unto them in peaceable manner, and told them carry them, that had helped to their brethren in the land of Galilee.

26 And how that many of them were slue vp in [Bosora, and Bosor, in Aemal, Caspoo, Maied, and Carzaim, (all these Cities are strong and great.)

27 And that they were slue vp in the rest of the Cities of the country of Galilee, and that against to morrow they had appointed to bring their hoste against the Jews, and to take them, and to destroy them all in one day.

28 Herculesus Iudas and his hoste turned suddenly by the way of the wilderness unto [Bosorra: and when he had wonne the City, hee slew all the males with the edge of the sword, and took all the spoyle, and burnt the City with fire.

29 From whence hee removed by night, and went till he came to [Bethsur].

30 And betimes in the morning they looked up, and beheld, there was an innumerable people bearing bring ladders, and other engines of war to take the fortreffe: for they assailed them.

31 When Judas therefore saw that the battell was begun, and that the city of the city went vp to heaven, with trumpets and a great sound, 32 He said vnto his hoste, fight this day for your brethren.

33 So he went forth behind them in three companies, who sounded their trumpets, and cryed with prayer.

34 Then the host of Timotheus, knowing that it was Maccabucus, fledde from him: wherefore hee smote them with a great slaughter: so that there were killed of them that day about eight thousand men.

35 This done, Judas turned aside to Mospa, and after he had assailed it, he cookt it, and slue all the males therein, and received the spoiles thereof, and burnt it with fire.

36 From thence went he and tookt Casphon, Migdal, Busef, and the other cities of the country of Galaad.

37 After these things gathered Timotheus another hoste, and encamped against Raphon beyond the brooke.

38 So Judas sent some to spy the hoste, who brought him word saying, All the heathen that be round about vs are assembled vnto them, except a very great hoste.

39 He hath also hired the Arabians to helpe them, and they haue pitched their tents beyond the brooke, ready to come and fight against thee: vpon this Judas went to meet them.

40 Then Timotheus said vnto the captains of his hoste, When Judas and his hoste come neere the brooke, if he passe over first vnto vs, we shall not bee able to withstand him, for he will mightily preuaile against vs.

41 But if he be afraid, & camp beyond the river, we shall go ouer vnto him, & preuaile against him.

42 Now when Judas came neere the brook, he caused the Scribes of the people to remain by the brook, vnto whom he gaue commandement saying, Suffer no man to remain in the campe, but let all come to the battell.

43 So hee went first ouer vnto them, and all the people after him: then all the heathen being discouered before him, cast away their weapons, and fled vnto the Temple that was at Carnaim.

44 But they took the city, and burnt the Temple, with all that were therein: Thus was Carnaim subdued, neither could they stand any longer before Judas.

45 Then Judas gathered together all the Israelites that were in the country of Galaad, from the least vnto the greatest, euen their wives and their children, and their stuffe, a very great hoste, to the end they might come into the land of Iudea.

46 Now when they came vnto Epheron, this was a great city in the way as they should goe, very well fortified: they could not take it from it, either on the right hand or the left, but must needs passe through the middle of it.

47 Then they of the city shut them out, and stopped vp the gates with stones.

48 Whereupon Judas sent vnto them in peacable manner, saying, Let vs passe thorow your land to goe into our own country, and none shall doe you any hurt, we will onely passe thorow on foot: howbeit they would not open vnto him.

49 Wherefore Judas commanded a proclamation to be made thorowout the hoste, that every man should pitch his tent in the place where he was.

50 So the soldiers pitched, and assaulted the city all that day, and all that night, till at the length the city was deliuered into his hands.

51 Who then slew all the males with the edge of the sword, and rased the city, & took the spoiles thereof, and passed thorow the city over them that were slaine.

52 After this went they ouer Iordan, into the great plains before Bethsan.

53 And Judas gathered together those that came behind, and exhortet the people all the way thorow, till they came into the land of Iudea.

54 So they went vp to mount Sion with ioy and gladnesse, where they offered thurrit offerings, because not one of them were slaine vntill they had returned in peace.

55 Now what time as Judas and Ionathas were in the land of Galaad, and Simon his brother in Galilee before Ptolemis, 56 Ioseph the son of Zacharias, and Azarias captiues of the garisons, heard of the valia actes and warlike deeds which they had done.

57 Wherefore, they said, Let vs also get vs a name, and goe fight against the heathen that are round about vs.

58 So when they had given charge vnto the garison that was with them, they went towards Iamnia.

59 Then came Gorgias and his men out of the city, to fight against them.

60 And so it was, that Ioseph and Azarias were put to flight, and pursued vnto the borders of Iudea, and there were slaine that day of the people of Israel, about two thousand men.

61 Thus was there a great overthrow among the children of Israel, because they were not obedient vnto Judas and his brethren, but thought to doe some valiant act.

62 Moreover, these men came not of the seed of thine, by whose hand deliuerance was giuen vnto Israel.

63 Howbeit, the men Judas and his brethren, were greatly renowned in the sight of all Israel, and of all the heathen wherelike their name was heard of:

64 Inasmuch as the people assembled vnto them with ioyfull acclamations.

65 Afterward went Judas forth with his brethren & fought against the children of Esau, in the land toward the South, where he smote Hebron, and the strongnes thereof, and pulled downe the fortreffe of it, and burnt the townes thereof round about.

66 From thence he removed to goe into the land of the Philistines, and passed thorow Samaria.

67 At that time certaine Priests, desirous to shew their valour, were slaine in battell, for that they went one to fight vnadvisedly.

68 So Judas turned to Azotus in the land of the Philistines, and when he had pulled downe the Altars, and burnt their carold images with fire, and spoiled their cities, he returned into the land of Iudea.

C H A P. V I.

1 Antiochus dieth, & confesseth that he is plagued for the wrong done to Ierusalem. 20 Judas besiegeth those in the tower at Ierusalem. 28 They procure Antiochus the younger to come into Iudea. 31 He besiegeth Sion, & so maketh peace with Israel: he yet overthroweth the wall of Sion.

About that time King Antiochus traouailing thorow the high countries, heard by that Elkinds in the country of Persia, was a city greatly renowned for riches, silver, and gold.

2 And that there was in it a very rich Temple, wherein were coverings of gold, and breast-plates, and shields, which Alexander, sonne of Philip the Macedonian king, who reigned first among the Grecians, had left there.

3 Wherefore he came and fought to take the city, and to spoyle it, but hee was not able, because they of the city hauing had warning thereof.

4 Rose vp against him in battell: So hee fled and departed thence with great heavinesse, and returned to Babylon.

5 Moreover, there came one who brought in tidings into Persia, that the armies which went against the land of Iudas, were put to flight:

6 And that Lyfias, who went fourth first with a great power, was driven away of the Iewes, and that they were made strong by the armour, and power, and store of spoiles, which they had gotten of the armies whom they had destroyed.

7 Also that they had pulled downe the abominacion which he had set vp vpon the Altar in Ierusalem, and that they had compassed about the Sanctuary with high wals as before, and his city Bethsur.

8 Now when the king heard these words he was astonished, and fore moued: whereupon hee laid him downe vpon his bed, and fell sick for griefe, because it had not befallen him, as hee looked for.

9 And there he continued many dayes; for his griefe was euer more and more, and he made account that he should die.

10 Wherefore he called for all his friends, and said vnto them, The sleepe is gone from mine eyes, and my heart faileth for very care.

11 And I thought with my selfe: Into what tribulation am I come, and how great a flood [of misery] is it wherein now I am: for I was bouctifull, and beloued in my power.

12 But now I remember the evils that I did at Ierusalem, and that I took all the vessels of gold and silver that were therein, and sent to destroy the inhabitants of Iuda without a cause.

13 I pericure therefore, that for this cause these troubles are come vpon mee, and behold, I perish through great griefe in a strange land.

14 Then called he for Philip, one of his friends: whom hee made ruler ouer all his Realme:

15 And gaue him the crowne, and his robe, and his scepter: so the euniques should bring vp his sonne Antiochus, and nourish him vp for the kingdome.

16 So King Antiochus died therein the hundredth forty and ninth yeere.

17 Now when Lyfias knew that the King was dead, he set vp Antiochus his sonne whom hee had brought vp being young) to reigne in his stead, and his name hee called Eupator.

18 About this time, they that were in the tower, shut vp the Iudaiccs round about the Sanctuary, and fought alwayes their best, and the strengthening of the heathens.

19 Wherefore Iudas purposing to destroy them, called all the people together to besiege them.

20 So they came together, and besieged them in the hundred and fiftieth yeere, and hee made mounts for shot against them, and [other] engines.

21 Howbeit certaine of them that were brought yet forth, into whom some wickedly men of Irael bowed themselves.

22 And they went vnto the king, and said, Now long will it be ere thou execute iudgement, and avenge our brethren?

23 We haue bene willing to serue thy Father, and to doe as hee would haue vs; and to obey his commandments:

24 For which cause they of our nation besieged the tower, and are alienated from vs: moreover, as many of vs as they could light on, they slew, and spoyled our inheritance.

25 Neither haue they stretched out their hand against vs onely, but also against all their borders, 26 And behold, this day are they besieging the towre at Ierusalem to take it: the Sanctuary also, and Bethsur heretby fortified.

27 Wherefore if thou darst not prevent them quickly, they will doe greater things then thou, neither shalt thou bee able to saue them.

28 Now when the king heard this, he was angry, and gathered together all his friends and the captains of his army, and those that had charge of the horse:

29 These came also vnto him from other kingdomes, and from lles of the Sea, lands of hired Soeldiers.

30 So that the number of his army was an hundred thousand footmen, and twenty thousand horsemen, and two and thirty Elephants entred in battell.

31 These went through Idumea, and pitched against Bethsur, which they assaulted many daies, making engines of warre: but they [of Bethsur] came out, and burnt them with fire, and fought valiantly.

32 Vpon this Iudas remoued from the towre, and pitched in Bethzacharias, ouer against the Kings campe.

33 Then the King rising very early, marched fiercely with his host toward Bethzacharias, where his armies made them ready to battell, and sounded the trumpets.

34 And to the end they might provoke the Elephants to fight, they showed them the blood of grapes and mulberries.

35 Moreover, they diuided the beasts among the armies, and for every Elephant they appointed a thousand men armed with coats of mail, and with helmets of brass on their heads; and besides this, for every beast were obtained five hundred horsemen of the best.

36 These were ready at euery occasion: wherefoerer the beast was, and wherefoerer the beast went, they went also, neither departed they from him.

37 And vpon the beasts were three strong towres of wood, which covered euery one of them, and were gilt with silver: and vnto them with darts there were also vpon euery one two and thirty strong men that fought vpon them, besides the Indian that ruled him.

38 As for the remnant of the horsemen, they set them on this side, and that side, at the two parts of the hoste, [giving them signes what to doe, and being harness'd all ouer amidst the ranks.

39 Now when the Sunne shone vpon the fields of gold and brass, the mountains glistered therewith, and shined like lamps of fire.

40 So part of the kings army being spread vpon the high mountains, and part on the valleys below, they marched on safely and in order.

41 Wherefore all that heard the noise of their multitude, and the marching of the company, and the racing of the harness were moued: for the army was very great and mighty.

37 Then Iudas and his holte drew neere, and returned into battell, and there were slaine of the kings army six hundred men.

38 Eleazar also [surnamed] Sanarai, perceiuing that one of the beasts armed with royall harness, was higher then all the rest, and supposing that the King was vpon him,

39 Put himselfe to reopardy, to the end he might deliuer his people, and get him a perper, all names

40 Wherefore he ran vpon him courageously thorow the midd of the battell, slaying on the right hand and on the left, so that they were diuided from him on both sides.

41 Which done, he crept vnder the Elephant, and thrust him vnder, and slew him: whereupon the Elephant fell downe vpon him, and there he died.

42 Howbeit [the rest of the Iewes] seeing the strength of the King, and the violence of his forces, turned away from them.

43 Then the kings army went vp to Ierusalem to meet them, and the King pitched his tents against Iudas, and against mount Sion.

44 But with them that were in Bethsara, he made a pactet for they came out of the city because they had no victuals there to endure the siege, it being a yeare of rest to the land.

45 So the King tooke Bethsara, and set a garison there to keepe it.

46 And for the Sanctuary, he besieged it many dayes, and set onre artillery with engines, and instruments to cast fire and stones, and pieces to cast darts and slings.

47 Whereupon they also made engines against their engines, and held them battell a long season.

48 Yet at the last, their vessels being without victuals, for that it was the seventh yeare, and they in Iudas that were deliuered from the Gentiles, had eaten vp the residue of the store.

49 There were but a few left in the Sanctuary, because the famine did so preuaile against them, that they were faine to disperse themselves eery man to his own place.

50 At that time Lyfias heard say, that Philip whom Antiochus the King whiles he liued, had appointed to bring vp his son Antiochus, that hee might be King.

51 Was returned out of Persia and Media, and the kings host also that went with him, and that hee sought to take vnto him the ruling of the affaires.

52 Wherefore he went in all haste, and said to the king, & the captaiens of the host, and the company. Wee decay dayly, and our victuals are but small, and the place we lay siege vnto is strong, and the affaires of the kingdome lie vpon vs.

53 Now therefore let vs be friends with these men, and make peace with them, and with all their nation.

54 And covenant with them, that they shall line after their lawes, as they did before: for they are therfore displeasid, and haue done all these things, because we abolished their lawes.

55 So the King and the Princes were content: wherefore hee sent vnto them to make peace: and they accepted thereof.

56 Also the King and the Princes made an oath vnto them: whereupon they went out of the strong hold.

57 Then the King entred into mount Sion: but when hee saw the strength of the place, he brake his oath that hee had made, and gaue commaundement to pull downe the wall round about.

58 Afterward departed hee in all haste, and returned vnto Antiochia, where he found Philip to be master of the city. So he fought against him, and tooke the city by force.

CHAP VII.

1 Antiochus is slaine, and Demetrius reigneth in his stead. 2 Alcimus would be high Priest, and complainech of Iudas to the King. 3 He payeth tribute for Affidians. 4 Nicanor is slaine and the Kings forces are defeated by Iudas. 5 The day of this victory is kept holy eery yeere.

IN the hundred and one and fiftieth yeere, Demetrius the son of Seleucus, departed from Rome, and came vp with a few men vnto a city of the sea coast, and reigned there.

2 And as hee entred into the palace of his ancestors, so it was, that his forces had taken Antiochus and Lyfias, to bring them vnto him.

3 Wherefore when hee knew it, he said, Let me not see their faces.

4 So his holte slew them. Now when Demetrius was set vpon the throne of his kingdome, 5 There came vnto him all the wicked and godly men of Israel, banishing Alcimus (who was desirous to bee high Priest) for their captiue.

6 And they accused the people to the King, saying, Iudas and his brethren haue slaine all thy friends, and driven vs out of our owne land.

7 Now therefore send some man whom thou trustest, and let him goe and see what haecocks hee hath made amongst vs, and in the Kings land, and let him punish them, with all them that aid them.

8 Then the King choic Bacchides, a friend of the King, who ruled beyond the flood, and was a great man in the kingdome, and faithfull to the King.

9 And him he sent with that wicked Alcimus, whom hee made high Priest, and commanded that hee should take vengeance of the children of Israel.

10 So they departed, and came with a great power into the land of Iudas, where they sent messengers to Iudas and his brethren with peaceable words, decentially.

11 But they gaue no heed to their words for they saw that they were come with a great power.

12 Then did there assemble vnto Alcimus and Bacchides, a company of scribes to require iustice.

13 Now the Affidians were the first among the children of Israel that sought peace of them.

14 For said they, One that is a Priest of the seed of Aaron is come with this army, and he will doe vs no wrong.

15 So hee spake vnto them peaceably, and swore vnto them, saying, We will procure the harme, neither of you, nor your friends.

16 Whereupon they beleened him: howbeit hee tooke of them threescore men, and slew them in one day, according to the words which hee wrote.

17 The flesh of thy Saints [haue they cast out] and their blood haue they shed round about Ierusalem, and there was none to bury them.

18 Wherefore the feare and dread of them fell vpon all the people, who said, There is neither truth nor righteousness in them, for they haue broken the covenant and oath that they made.

19 After this remoued Bacchides from Ierusalem, and pitched his tents in Bethsara, where hee sent and coude many of the men that had forsaken him, and certaine of the people also, and when hee had blaine them, [he cast them] into the great pit.

70 Then committed hee the country to Alcimus, and left him with a power to aid him: so Bacchides went vnto the King.

71 But Alcimus contended for the high Priesthood.

72 And vnto him referred all such as troubled the people, who after they had gotten the land of Iuda into their power, did much hurt in Israel.

73 Now when Iudas saw all the mischiefes that Alcimus and his company had done among the Iudaelines, even about the heathen.

74 He went out into all the coast of Iuda round about, andooke vengeance of them that had persecuted from him, so that they durst no more goe forth into the country.

75 On the other side, when Alcimus saw that Iudas and his company had gotten the vpper hand, and knew that he was not able to abide their force, hee went againe to the King, and said all the worst of them that he could.

76 Then the King sent Nicanor, one of his honourable Princes, a man that bare deadly hate vnto Israel, with commandement to destroy the people.

77 So Nicanor came to Ierusalem with a great force: and sent vnto Iudas and his brethren deceitfully with friendly words, saying, 78 Let there be no battell betwene me and you, I will come with a few men, that I maye give you in peace.

79 He came therefore to Iudas, and they saluted one another peaceably. Howbeit the enimities were prepared to take away Iudas by violence.

80 Which thing after it was knowne to Iudas (to wit, that hee came vnto him with deceit), hee was sore afraid of him, and would for his face no more.

81 Nicanor also when hee saw that his countell was discovered, went out to fight against Iudas beside Japharsalama.

82 Where there were slain of Nicanors side a-boue five thousand men, as [the rest] fled into the city of David.

83 After this went Nicanor vnto mount Sion, and there came out of the Sanctuary a voice of the Priests, and certaine of the Elders of the people to blame him peaceably, and to shew him the burnt sacrifice that was offered for the King.

84 But he mocked them, and laughed at them, and abused them shamefully, and spoke proudly, 85 And swore in his wrath, saying, Vntill Iudas and his hoste be nowe deliuered into my hands, if euer I come againe in safety, I will burne vp this house: and with that hee went out in a great rage.

86 Then the Priests entered in, and stood before the Altar, and the Temple, weeping, and saying, 87 Thou, O Lord, didst chuse this house to be called by thy Name, and to be a house of prayer and petition for thy people.

88 Be auenged of this man and his hoste, and let them fall by the sword: Remember their blasphemies, and suffer them not to continue any longer.

89 So Nicanor went out of Ierusalem, and pitched his tents in Bethoron, where an hoste out of Syria met him.

90 But Iudas pitched in Adafa, with three thousand men, and there hee prayed, saying, 91 O Lord, when they that were sent from the King of the Assyrians blasphemed, thine Angel went our, and smote an hundred fourscore and fiftethousand of them.

92 Euen so destroy thou this hoste beforevs this day, that the rest may knowe that he hath spoken blasphemously against thy Sanctuary, and iudge thou him according to his wickednesse.

93 So the thirtieth day of the month Adar, the hoste layed battell, but Nicanors hoste was discomfited, and he himselfe was firste slaine in the battell.

94 Now when Nicanors hoste saw that hee was slaine, they cast away their weapons and fled.

95 Then they pursued after them a daies iourney from Adafa vnto Casera, founding an alarme after them with their trumpets.

96 Whereupon they came forth out of all the towncs of Iuda round about, and closed them in, so that they turning backe vpon them they pursued them: were all slaine with the sword, and not one of them was left.

97 Afterwards they took the spoiles, and the prey, and smote off Nicanors head, and his right hand which hee stretched out proudly, and brought them away, and hanged them vp towards Ierusalem.

98 For this cause the people reioyced greatly, and they kept that day a day of great gladnesse.

99 Moreover they ordained to keep yearly this day, beinge the thirtieth of Adar.

100 Thus the land of Iuda was in rest a little while.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Iudas is informed of the power and policy of the Romans, and maketh a league with them.

2 The articles of the league.

3 Now Iudas had heard of the fame of the Romans, and such as would louingly accept all that they offered vnto them, and make a league of amity with all that came vnto them.

4 And that they were men of great valour: it was told him also of their wares, and noble acts which they had done amongst the Galatians, and how they had conquered them, and brought them vnder tribute.

5 And what they had done in the courtes of Spaine, for the winninge of the Mines of the silver and gold which is there.

6 And that by their policy and patience, they had conquered Phil that place (though it were very far from them) and the kings also that came against them from the vttermost part of the earth, till they had discomfited them, and giuen them a great ouerthrow, so that the rest did giue them tribute euery yeare.

7 Besides this, how they had discomfited in battell Philip, and Perseus King of the Citians, with others that lift vp themselves against them, and had overcome them.

8 How also Antiochus the great King of Asia, that came against them in battell, havinge an hundred and twenty Elephants, with horsemen and chariots, and a very great army, was discomfited by them.

9 And how they took him slaine, and consented that he, and such as reigned after him, should pay a great tribute, and giue hostages, and that which was agreed vpon.

10 And the courtes of India and Media, and Lydia, and of the goodliest countreys: which they took of him, and gaue to king Eumenes.

11 Moreover, how the Grecians had determined to come and destroy them.

12 And that they hauing knowledge thereof, sent against them a certaine captain, and fighting with them slew many of them, and carried away captives their their wives and their children, and spoiled them, and took possession of their lands, and pulled down their strong holds, and brought them to be their servants unto this day.

15 [It was told him besides] how they destroyed and brought under their dominion all other kingdoms and Iles that at any time resisted them.

16 But with their friends, and such as relied upon them, they kept amity: and that they had conquered kingdoms both far and nigh, inasmuch as all that heard of their name, were afraid of them.

17 Also that whom they would help to a kingdom, those they raised: and whom again they would, they displace: finally, that they were greatly exalted.

18 Yet for all this, none of them wore a crown, or was clothed in purple to be magnified thereby.

19 Moreover, how they had made for themselves a Senate-house, wherein three hundred and twenty men sat in council daily, consulting always for the people, to the end they might be well ordered.

20 And that they committed their government to one man every year, who ruled over all their country, and that all were obedient to that one, and that there was neither army, nor emulation amongst them.

21 In consideration of these things, Judas chose Eupolemus the son of John, the son of Accas, and Jason the son of Eleazar, and sent them to Rome to make a league of amity and concitancy with them.

22 [And to instruct them] that they would take the yoke from them, for they saw that the kingdom of the Grecians did oppress Israel with servitude.

23 They went therefore to Rome (which was a very great journey) and came unto the Senate, where they spoke and said.

24 Judas Maccabeus with his brethren, and the people of the Jewes, have sent vs unto you to make a confederacy and peace with you, and that we might be registered your confederates and friends.

25 So that matter pleased the Romanes well.

26 And this is the copy of the Egyptian which (the Senate) wrote backe againe in tables of brass, and sent to Ierusalem, that there they might have by them a memoriall of peace and concitancy.

27 Good successe be to the Romanes, and to the people of the Jewes, by sea and by land for ever: the sword shal be and enemy be far from them.

28 If there come first any war upon the Romanes or any of their confederates, throughout all their dominion.

29 The people of the Jewes shall help them, at the time shall be appointed, with all their heart.

30 Neither shall they give any thing unto them that make war upon them, or aide them with victuals, weapons, money, or ships, as it hath seemed good unto the Romanes, but they shall keep their countenance without taking any thing thereof.

31 In the same manner also, if war come first upon the nation of the Jewes, the Romanes shall help them with all their heart, according as the time shall be appointed them.

32 Neither shall victuals be given to them that take part against them, or weapons, or money, or ships, as it hath seemed good to the Romanes: but they shall keep their countenance, and that without deceit.

33 According to these Articles did the Romanes make a covenant with the people of the Jewes.

34 Howbeit if hereafter the one party or the other, shall thinke meet to adde or diminish any thing, they may doe it at their pleasures, and what sooner they shall adde or take away, shall be justified.

35 And as touching the evils that Demetrius didde to the Jewes, wee have written unto him, saying, Wherefore hast thou made thy yoke heavy upon our friends and confederates the Jewes?

36 If therefore they complain any more against thee, we will doe them iustice, and fight with thee by sea and by land.

CHAP. IX.

1 Alcimus and Bacchides come againe with new forces into Iudaea. 2 The armie of Iudas flee from him, 17 and hee is slain. 30 Ierusalem is in his place. 40 and receiveth his brother Johns garnison. 55 Alcimus is plagued, and dyeth. 70 Bacchides maketh peace with Ierusalem.

Furthermore, when Demetrius heard that Ierusalem and his hoste were slain in battell, hee sent Bacchides and Alcimus into the land of Iudaea the second time, and with them the chief strength of his hoste.

2 Who went forth by the way that leadeth to Galgala, and pitched their tents before Masloth, which is in Arbela: and after they had wonne it, they slew much people.

3 Also the first moneth of the hundred sixty and second year, they encamped before Ierusalem.

4 From whence they removed, and went to Bethan: and with twenty thousand footmen, and two thousand horsemen.

5 Now Iudas had pitched his tents at Eleasa, and three thousand chosen men with him.

6 Who seeing the multitude of the other army to be so great, were sore afraid, whereupon in any cornered themselves out of the hoste, inasmuch as there abode of them no more but eight hundred men.

7 When Iudas therefore saw that his hoste slipped away, and that the battell pressed upon him, hee was sore troubled in minde, and much distressed, for that hee had no time to gather them together.

8 Nevertheless, unto them that remained, he said, Let vs arise and goe vp against our enemies, if peradventure we may be able to fight with them.

9 But they reborted him, saying, Wee shall never be able: let vs now rather save our selves, and hereafter wee will retorne with our brethren, and fight against them: for we are but few.

10 Then Iudas said, God forbid that I should do this thing, and see away from them. If our time be come, let vs die manfully for our brethren, and let vs not stain our honour.

11 With that the hoste of [Bacchides] removed out of their tents, and stood over against them, their hostemen being divided into two troupes, and their fingers, and others going before the hoste, and they that marched in the foreward were all mighty men.

12 As for Bacchides he was in the right wing, so the hoste drew nere on the two parts, and founded their troupes.

13 They also of Iudas side, even they founded their troupes also, so that the earth shooke at the noise of the armies, and the battell continued from morning till night.

14 Now when Iudas perceived that Bacchides and the strength of his army were on the right side, hee took with him all the hardy men.

25 Who discomfited the right wing, and pursued them vnto the mount Azotus.

26 But when they of the left wing saw that they of the right wing were discomfited, they followed vpon Iudas, and those that were with him, hard at the heeles from behind:

27 Whereupon there was a sore battell, inasmuch as many were slaine on both parts.

28 Iudas also was killed, and the remnant fled.

29 Then Ionathan and Simon tooke Iudas their brother, and buried him in the sepulchre of his father in Modin.

30 Moreover they bewailed him, and all Israel made great lamentation for him, and mourned many dayes, saying, 31 How is the valiant man fallen, that deliuered Israel?

32 As for the other things concerning Iudas and his wars, and the noble actes which he did, and his great deeds, they are not written, for they were very many.

33 ¶ Now after the death of Iudas, the wicked began to put forth their heads in all the coasts of Israel: & there rose vp all such as wrought iniquity.

34 In those dayes also there was a very great famine, by reason whereof the countrey resorted and went with them.

35 Then Bacchides chose the wicked men, and made them lords of the countrey.

36 And they made inquiry and search for Iudas friends, & brought them vnto Bacchides, who tooke vengeance of them, and vsed them despitefully.

37 So there was a great affliction in Israel, the like whereof was not since the time that a Prophet was not sent amongst them.

38 For this cause all Iudas friends came together and said vnto Ionathan, 39 Since thy brother Iudas dyed, we haue no man like him to goe forth against our enemies and Bacchides, and against them of our nation that are aduersaries to vs.

40 Now therefore wee haue chosen thee this day to be our Prince and captain in his stead, that thou mayest fight our battels.

41 Vpon this Ionathan tooke the gouernance vpon him at that time, and rose vp in stead of his brother Iudas.

42 But when Bacchides gave knowledge thereof, he sought for to slay him.

43 Then Ionathan and Simon his brother, and all that were with him, perceiving that, fled into the wilderness of Thecoe, and pitched their tents by the water of the poole Apher.

44 ¶ Which when Bacchides vnderstood, he came next to Iordan with all his hostes vpon the Sabbath day.

45 Now Ionathan had sent his brother [John] a captain of the people, to pray his friends the Nabathites, that they might leaue with them their carriage, which was much.

46 But the children of Sambre came out of Madaba, and tooke Iohn and all that he had, and went their way with it.

47 After this came word to Ionathan and Simon his brother, that the children of Sambre made a great marriage, and were bringing the bride from Madaba with a great traine, as being the daughter of one of the great Princes of Canaan.

48 Therefore they remembered Iohn their brother, and went vp and hid themselves vnder the covert of the mountaine.

49 Where they lift vp their eyes, and looked, and behold, there was much adoe, and great tumult, and the bridegroome came forth, & his friends and brethren to meet them, with drums and instruments of musike, and many weapons.

50 Then Ionathan and they that were with him, rose vp against them from the place where they lay in ambush, and made a slaughter of them in such sort, as many fell downe dead, and the remnant fled to the mountaine, and they took all their spoyle.

51 Thus was the marriage turned into mourning, and the noyse of their melody into lamentation.

52 So when they had avenged fully the blood of their brother, they turned againe to the marsh of Iordan.

53 Now when Bacchides heard herof, he came on the Sabbath day vnto the banks of Iordan with a great power.

54 Then Ionathan said to his company, Let vs goe vp now and fight for our liues, for it standeth not with vs to day, as in time past:

55 For behold, the battell is before vs, and behind vs, and the water of Iordan on this side and that side, the marsh likewise and wood, neither is there place for vs to trespasse offe.

56 Wherefore cry yee now vnto heauen, that ye may be deliuered from the hand of your enemies.

57 With that they ioyned battell, and Ionathan stretched forth his hand to smite Bacchides, but he turned backe from him.

58 Then Ionathan, and they that were with him, kept into Iordan, and swam ouer vnto the farther bank: howbeit the other passed not ouer Iordan vnto them.

59 So there was aaine of Bacchides side that day, about a thousand men.

60 Afterward returned Bacchides to Ierusalem, and repaired the strong cities in Iudea: the fort in Jericho, and Emmaus, and Bethsura, and Bethel, and Thamnatha, Pharathon, and Taphon, (the last did hee strengthen with high walles, with gates, and with barres.)

61 And in them he set a garrison, that they might worke malice vpon Israel.

62 He fortified also the city Bethsura, and Gazara, and the Tower, and put forces therein, and prouision of victuals.

63 Besides, he tooke the chiefe men Iudas in the countrey for hostages, and put them into the tower at Ierusalem to be kept.

64 Moreover in the hundred fifti and third yeece, in the second moneth, Alcimus commaunded that the wall of the inner court of the Sanctuary should be pulled downe, he pulled downe also the workes of the Prophets.

65 And as he began to pull downe, euen at that time was Alcimus plagued, and his enterprises hindered: for his mouth was stopped, and he was taken with a palsy, so that he could no more speake any thing, nor give order concerning his house.

66 So Alcimus dyed at that time with great torment.

67 Now when Bacchides saw that Alcimus was dead, he returned to the King, whereupon the land of Iudea was at rest two yeres.

68 Then all the ragodly men held a counsell, saying, Behold, Ionathan and his company are at ease, and dwell without care: now therefore wee will bring Bacchides hither, who shall take them all in one night.

69 So they went and consulted with him.

70 Then removed hee, and came with a great

He sent his brother John.

holle, and sent letters priuily to his adherents in Iudea, that they should take Jonathan, and those that were with him: howbeit they could not, because their counsell was knowne vnto them.

61 Wherefore they tooke of that mischief, about fifty persons, and slew them.

62 Afterward Jonathan and Simon, and they that were with him, got them away to Bethsai, which is in the wilderness, and they repoyred the decayes thereof, and made it strong.

63 Which thing when Bacchides knew, he gathered together all his holle, and sent word ¶ to them that were of Iudea.

64 Then went he and laid siege against Bethsai, and they fought against it a long season, and made engines of warre.

65 But Jonathan left his brother Simon in the citie, and went forth himselfe into the country, and with a certaine number went he forth.

66 And he smote ¶ Odonarkes and his brethren, and the children of Phasiron in their tent.

67 And when he began to smite them, and came vp with his forces, Simon and his company went out of the city, and burse vp the engines of war, 68 And fought against Bacchides, who was discomfited by them, and they afflicted him sore, for his counsell and trauell was in vaine.

69 Wherefore he was very wroth as the wicked men that gane him counsell to come into the country, inasmuch as he slew many of them, and purposed to returne into his owne country.

70 Whereof, when Jonathan had knowledg, he sent Ambassadors vnto him, to the end he should make peace with him, & deliuer them the prisoners.

71 Which thing he accepted, and did according to his deuiſe, and swore vnto him, that he would not doe him harme all the dayes of his life.

72 When therefore he had released vnto him the prisoners that he had taken a litle time out of the land of Iudea, he returned, and went his way into his owne land, neither came he any more into their borders.

73 Thus the sword ceased from Israel: but Jonathan dwelt at Machmas, and began to speweere the reue, people, and hee destroyed the vngodly men out of Israel.

C H A P. X.

1 Demetrius maketh large offers to haue peace with Jonathan. 25 His letters to the Iewes. 49 Jonathan maketh peace with Alexander. 50 Who killeth Demetrius, 58 and marryeth the daughter of Ptolemus. 62 Jonathan is sent for by him, and much honoured. 75 and preuaileth against the forces of Demetrius the younger, 84 and burneth the temple of Dagon.

IN the hundred and sixtieth yeere, Alexander the first of Antiochia, (named Epiphanes, went vp and tooke Ptolemus: for the people had receiued him, by means whereof he reigned there.

2 Now when king Demetrius heard thereof, he gathered together an exceeding great holle, and went forth against him to fight.

3 Moreover, Demetrius sent letters vnto Jonathan with louing words, so as he magnified him.

4 For, said he, Let vs first make peace with him, before he ioyne with Alexander against vs.

5 Else he will remember all the euils that wee haue done against him, and against his brethren and vs people.

6 Wherefore he gane him authority to gather together as holle, and to provide weapons that hee might aid him in battell, he commanded also, that the hostages that were in the tower should be deliuered him.

7 Then came Jonathan to Ierusalem, and read the letters in the audience of all the people, and of them that were in the tower.

8 Who were sore afraid when they heard that the King had giuen him authority to gather together an holle.

9 Whereupon they of the tower deliuered their hostages vnto Jonathan, and he deliuered them vnto their parents.

10 This done Jonathan settled himselfe in Ierusalem, and began to build and repaire the city.

11 And he commanded the workemen to build the walles, and the mount Sion round about with square stones, for fortification, and thus did so.

12 Then the strangers that were in the Ierusalem which Bacchides had ouer, fled away.

13 Inasmuch as euery man left his place, and went into his owne country.

14 Onely at Bethsai, certaine of these that had forsaken the law, and the commandments remaine still: for it was their place of refuge.

15 Now when King Alexander had heard what promises Demetrius had sent vnto Jonathan: he also it was told him of the battell: and noble actes which he and his brethren had done, and of the paines that they had endured;

16 Hee said, shall we find such another man? Now therefore we will make him our friend and confederate.

17 Vpon this he wrote a letter and sent it vnto him, according to these words, saying:

18 King Alexander to his brother Jonathan, Iudith greeting:

19 We haue heard of thee that thou art a man of great power, and meet to be our friend.

20 Wherefore now this day we ordaine thee to be the high Priest of thy nation, & to be called the kings friend: and therewithall he sent him a purple robe and a crowne of gold: [and require thee] to take our part, and keepe friendship with vs.

21 So in the twentieth month of the hundred and sixtieth yeere, at the feast of the Tabernacles, Jonathan put on the holy robe, and gathered together forces, and provided much armour.

22 Whereof when Demetrius heard, he was very sorry, and said,

23 What haue we done that Alexander hath presented vs, in making amity with the Iewes to strengthen himselfe?

24 I also will write vnto them words of encouragement, [and promise them] dignities and gifts, that I may haue their aide.

25 He sent vnto them therefore to this effect: King Demetrius vnto the people of the Iewes, Iudith greeting:

26 Whereas you haue kept Company with vs, and continued in our friendship, not ioyning your selves with our enemies, we haue heard hereof, and are glad:

27 Wherefore now continue ye still to be faithful vnto vs, and wee will well recompense you for the thing, you doe in our behalfe.

28 And will grant you many immunities, and giue you rewards.

29 And now I doe free you, and for your sakes I release all the Iewes from tributes, and from the customes of Sale, and from crowne taxes,

30 And from that which appertaineth vnto me to receive for the third part of the feed, and the halfe of the fruit of the trees, I release it from this day forth, so that they shall not be taken of the land of Judea, nor of the three governments which are added thereto out of the country of Samaria, and Galilee, from this day forth for evermore.

31 Let Jerusalem also be holy and free, with the borders thereof, both from customs and tributes.

32 And as for the towre which is at Jerusalem, I yield up my authority over it, and give it to the high Priest, that he may sit in it such men as he shall chuse to keep it.

33 Moreover, I freely set at liberty every one of the Iewes that were carried captives out of the land of Indea, into any part of my Kingdome, and I will that all my officers remit the tributes even of their cattell.

34 Furthermore, I will that all the Feasts and Sabbaths, and new Moones, and solemn dayes, and the three dayes before the Feast, and the three dayes after the Feast, shall be all dayes of immunitie and freedom for all the Iewes in my realme.

35 Also no man shall haue authority to meddle with them, or to molest any of them in any matter.

36 [I will further] that there be enrolled amongst the Kings forces about thirty thousand men of the Iewes unto whom pay shall be giuen as belongeth to all the Kings forces.

37 And of them some shall be placed in the kings strongholds, of whom also some shall be set over the affaires of the Kingdome, which are of trust: and I will that their Overseers and Governours be of themselves, and that they sit after their owne Lawes, such as the King hath commanded in the land of Indea.

38 And concerning the three governments that are added to Indea from the country of Samaria, let them bee ioyned with Indea, that they may be reckoned to be under one, nor bound to obey other authority then the high Priests.

39 As for Ptolemas and the land pertaining thereto, I give it as a free gift to the Sanctuary at Jerusalem, for the necessary expences of the Sanctuary.

40 Moreover I give every yeere fifteen thousand shekels of silver out of the Kings accounts from the places appertaining.

41 And all the overplus which the officers paved noxia, as in former time, from henceforth shall be giuen towards the workes of the Temple.

42 And besides this, the five thousand shekels of silver, which they tooke from the uses of the Temple, out of the accounts yeere by yeere, even those things shall be released, because they appertaine to the Priests that minister.

43 And whosoever they be that see unto the Temple at Jerusalem, or be within the liberties thereof, being indebted unto the King, or for any other matter, let them be at liberty, and all that they haue in my realme.

44 For the building also and repairing of the workes of the Sanctuary, expences shall bee giuen of the Kings accounts.

45 Yea, and for the building of the walls of Jerusalem, and the fortifying thereof, round about, expences shall be giuen out of the Kings accounts, as also for building of the walls in Indea.

46 Now when Jonathan and the people heard these words, they gaue a credit unto them, nor received them, because they remembered the great euill that he had done in Israel: for he had afflicted them very sore.

47 But with Alexander they were well pleased because he was the first that intreated of true peace with them, and they were confederate with him alwayes.

48 Then gathered King Alexander great forces, and camped ouer against Demetrius.

49 And after the two Kings had ioyned battell, Demetrius holde fled: but Alexander followed after him, and prevailed against them.

50 And he continued the battell very fore vntill the Sonne went downe, and that day was Demetrius slaine.

51 Afterward Alexander sent Ambassadors to Ptoleme King of Egypt, with a message to this effect:

52 Forasmuch as I am come againe to my realme and am sit in the throne of my Progenitors, and haue gotten the Dominion, and ouerthrowne Demetrius, and recovered our country,

53 (For after I had ioyned battell with him, both he and his hoste was discomfited by vs, so that we sit in the throne of his Kingdome.)

54 Now therefore let vs make a league of amity together, and giue me now thy daughter to wife: and I will be thy Sonne in law, and will giue thee thee and her gifts according to thy dignitie.

55 Then Ptoleme the King gaue answer saying, Happy be the day wherein thou didst returne into the land of thy Fathers and sitest in the throne of thy Kingdome.

56 And now will I doe to thee, as thou hast written: meet me therefore at Ptolemas, that we may see one another, for I will marry my daughter to thee, according to the desire.

57 So Ptoleme went out of Egypt with his daughter Cleopatra, and they came unto Ptolemas in the hundred threescore and thirtie yeere.

58 Where King Alexander meeting them gaue unto him his daughter Cleopatra, and celebrated her marriage at Ptolemas with great glory, as the manner of Kings is.

59 Now King Alexander had written vnto Jonathan, that hee should come and meet him.

60 Who thereupon went honorably to Ptolemas, where he met the two kings, and gaue them: and their friends silver and gold, and many presents, and found fauor in their sight.

61 And at that time certaine peditest fellows of Israel, men of a wicked life, assembled themselves against him, to accuse him: but the King would not heare them.

62 Yea, more then that, The King commanded to take off his garments, and clothe him in purple and they did so.

63 Also he made him sit by himselfe, and said vnto his Princes, Go with him into the midd of the city, and make Proclamation, that no man complaine against him of any matter, and that no man trouble him for any manner of cause.

64 Now when his accusers saw that hee was honored according to the proclamation, and clothed in purple, they fled all away.

65 So the King honoured him, and wroote him amongst his chiefe friends, and made him a Duke, and partaker of his dominion.

66 Afterward Jonathan returned to Ierusalem, with peace and gladnesse.

67 Furthermore, in the hundred threescore and fift yeere, came Demetrius, Sonne of Demetrius, out of Thete into the land of his Fathers.

68 When of which King Alexander heard tell, hee was right sorry, and returned into Antioch.

69 Then Demetrius made Apollonius the gouernour:

governour of Carthage his generall, who gathered together a great hoste, and camped in Iamnia, and sent to Jonathan the high Priest, saying;

70 Thou alone likest vpon thy selfe against vs, and I am laugh'd to scorn for thy sake, and reproach'd; and why dost thou vaunt thy power against vs in the mountains?

71 Now therefore if thou trust in thine owne strength, come downe to vs into the plaine field, and there let vs try the matter together; for with me is the power of the citie.

72 Alke, and Ierem, who I am, and hee tell thee like our pair, and they shall tell thee, that thy face is not able to stand before our face; for thy Fathers haue bene twice put to flight in their owne land.

73 Wherefore now thou shalt not bee able to abide the hostines, and so get a power in the plaine, where is neither stone, nor flint, nor place to see vnto.

74 So when Jonathan heard these words of Apollonius, he was moued in his mind, and choosing ten thousand men, hee went out of Ierusalem, when Simon his brother set him out to help him.

75 And he pitched his tents against Ioppe: but they of Ioppe shut him out of the city, because Apollonius had a garrison there.

76 Then Jonathan bid siege vnto it: whereupon they of the city let him in for feare, and so Jonathan was Ioppe.

77 When of when Apollonius heard, hee tooke three thousand horsemen, with a great hoste of footmen, and went to Azotus, as one that journeyed, and there withall drew him forth into the plaine, because he had a great number of horsemen, in whom he put his trust.

78 Then Jonathan followed after him to Azotus, where the armies ioyned battell.

79 Now Apollonius had left a thousand horsemen in ambush.

80 And Jonathan knew that there was an ambushment behind him, for they had compassed in his host, and cast darts at the people from morning till evening.

81 But the people stood still as Jonathan had commanded them: for the enemies horses were tired.

82 Then brought Simon forth his hoste and set them against the footmen, for the horsemen were spent, who were discouered by him, and fled.

83 The horsemen also being scattered in the field, fled to Azotus, and went into Beth-dagon their Idols temple for safety.

84 But Jonathan set fire on Azotus, and the cities round about it, and tooke their spoiles, and the temple of Dagon, with them that were fled into it, he burnt with fire.

85 Thus there were burnt and slaine with the sword, well nigh eight thousand men.

86 And from thence Jonathan remooued his host, and camped against Ascalon, where the men of the city came fourth and met him with great pompe.

87 After this returned Jonathan and his hoste vnto Ierusalem, having many spoiles.

88 Now when King Alexander heard these things he honoured Jonathan yet more.

89 And sent him a buckle of gold, as the vse is to be giuen to such as are of kings blood: he gaue him also Aecaron with the borders thereof in possession.

CHAP. XL

12 Ptolomeus taketh away his daughter from Antiochus: and entereth vpon his kingdom, 17 A letter from Ptolomeus directed vnto his three daughters to Jonathan besieging the tower at Ierusalem. 26 The Jews and he are much honoured by Demetrius, who is refused by the Jews from his own subjects in Antioch. 57 Antiochus in the younger hundredeth Jonathan. 61 His exploits in divers places.

And the King of Egypt gathered together a great hoste, like the land that lieth vpon the sea shore, and many ships, and went about through deceit to get Alexanders kingdom, and ioyned it to his owne.

2 Whereupon he made his journey into Syria in peaceable manner: so as they of the cities opened vnto him, and met him: for King Alexander had commanded them so to doe, because hee was his father in law.

3 Now as Ptolomeus entred into the cities hee set in euery one of them a garnison of souldiers to keep it.

4 And when he came vnto Azotus, they showed him the temple of Dagon, that was burnt, and Azotus, and the suburbs thereof that were destroyed, and the bodies that were cast abroad, and them that he had burnt in the burrell, for they had made heapes of them by the way where he should passe.

5 Also they told the King whatioener Jonathan had done, to the intent he might blame him: but the King held his peace.

6 Then Jonathan met the king with great pompe at Ioppe, where they talked one another, and lodged.

7 Afterward Jonathan when hee had gone with the King to the river called Elychucus returned againe to Ierusalem.

8 King Ptolomeus therefore hauing gotten the dominion of the cities by the sea, vnto Seleucia vpon the sea coast, assigned wicked counsels against Alexander.

9 Whereupon he sent Ambassadors vnto King Demetrius, saying, Come, let vs make a league betwixt vs, and I will giue thee my daughter: whom Alexander hath, and thou shalt reigne in thy fathers kingdomes.

10 For I repute thee giue my daughter vnto him, for he ought to stay me.

11 Thus did he slander him, because hee was defirous of his kingdom.

12 Wherefore he tooke his daughter from him, and gaue her to Demetrius, and forsooke Alexander, so that their hatred was openly knowne.

13 Then Ptolomeus entred into Antioch, where he set two crownes vpon his head, the crowne of Asia, and of Egypt.

14 In the meane season was King Alexander in Cilicia, because those that dwell in those parts, had revolted from him.

15 But when Alexander heard of this, he came to warre against him, whereupon King Ptolomeus brought forth his hoste, and met him with a mighty power, and put him to flight.

16 So Alexander fled into Arabia, there to be defender: but King Ptolomeus was exalted.

17 For Zabdiel the Arabian tooke off Alexanders head, and sent it vnto Ptolomeus.

18 King Ptolomeus also died the third day after, and they that were in the strong holds, were slaine one of another.

19 By this means Demetrius reigned in the hundred three score and twentieth yeere.

20 At the same time Jonathan gathered together them that were in Iudaea, to take the tower that was in Ierusalem, and hee made many engines of warre against it.

21 They

11 Then certain wickedly persons, who hated their own people, went unto the King, and told him that Ionathian besieged the tower.

12 Whereof when he heard, he was angry, and immediately remounting he came to Ptolemais, and wrote unto Ionathian, that he should not lay siege to the tower, but come and speak with him at Ptolemais in great haste.

13 Nevertheless, Ionathian when he heard this, commanded to besiege it [Hill] and he chose certain of the Elders of Israel, and the Priests, and put himself in peril:

14 And took silver and gold, and raiment, and divers pretents sides, and went to Ptolemais, unto the King, where he found favour in his sight.

15 And though certain wickedly men of the people, had made complaints against him:

16 Yet the King intreated him as his predecessors had done before, and promoted him in the sight of all his friends, 17 And confirmed him in the high Priesthood, and in all the honours that he had before, and gave him preeminence among his chief friends.

18 Then Ionathian desired the King that he would make Iudaea free from tribute, as also the three governments with the country of Samaria, and he promised him three hundred talents.

19 So the King consented, and wrote letters unto Ionathian of all these things after this manner:

20 King Demetrius unto his brother Ionathian, and unto the nation of the Jews (with greeting, 21 We send you here a copy of the letter, which we did write unto our cousin Lathmus, concerning you, that you might see it.

22 King Demetrius, unto his father Lathmus sendeth greeting:

23 We are determined to do good to the people of the Iewes who are our friends, and keep covenants with vs: because of their good will towards vs.

24 Wherefore we have ratified unto them the borders of Iudaea, with the three governments of Aphremas, and Lidia, and Ramathen, that are added unto Iudaea, from the country of Samaria: and all things appertaining unto them, for all such as do sacrifice in Ierusalem in stead of the payments which the King received of them yearly afortime, out of 3 fruits of the earth, & of trees.

25 And as for other things that belong unto vs, of the tithes and customs pertaining unto vs, as also the salt-pits and the crowne taxes which are due unto vs, wee discharge them of them all for their reliefe.

26 And nothing hereof shall be removed from this time forth for ever.

27 Now therefore see that thou make a copy of these things and let it be delineated unto Ionathian, and let upon the holy Mount in a conspicuous place.

28 After this, when King Demetrius saw that the Iudaeans quiet before him, and that no resistance was made against him, he took away all his forces every one to his owne place, except certain bands of young men, whom he had gathered from the yles of the heathen, wherefore all the forces of his fathers hated him.

29 Moreover there was one Tryphon, that had bene of Alexanders part afore, who seeing that all the host murmured against Demetrius, went to Simlone the Arabian, that brought vp Antiochus the young sonne of Alexander.

30 And lay force upon him, to deliuer him from young Antiochus that he might reign in his fathers stead: hee told him therefore all that Demetrius had done, and how his men of war were at unity with him, and there he remained a long season.

31 In the meane time Ionathian sent unto King Demetrius, that he would call those of the tower out of Ierusalem, and those also in the fortresses: for they fought against Iudaea.

32 So Demetrius sent unto Ionathian, saying, I will not easily doe this for thee and thy people, but I will greatly honour thee and thy nation, if opportunity ferre.

33 Now therefore thou shalt doe well, if thou send me men to helpe mee: for all my forces are gone from me.

34 Upon this Ionathian sent him three thousand strong men unto Antioch, and when they came to the King, the King was very glad of their coming.

35 Howbeit, they that were of the cite gathered themselves together into the midst of the city, to the number of an hundred and twenty thousand men, and would have slaine the King.

36 Wherefore the King fled into the Court, but they of the cite kept the passages of the cite, and began to fight.

37 Then the King called to the Iewes for helpe, who came unto him all at once, and dispersing themselves thorow the city, slew that day in the city to the number of an hundred thousand.

38 Also they set fire on the city, and gate many spoiles that day, and deliueed the King.

39 So when they of the city saw that the Iewes had got the cite as they would, their courage was abated, wherefore they made supplication to the King, and cryed, saying,

40 Grant vs peace, and let the Iewes cease from assaulting vs and the city.

41 With that they cast away their weapons, and made peace, and the Iewes were honoured in the sight of the King, and in the sight of all that were in his realm, and they returned to Ierusalem having great spoiles.

42 So King Demetrius sat on the throne of his kingdom, and the land was quiet before him.

43 Nevertheless, he dissatisfied in all that ener hee spoke, and estranged himselfe from Ionathian, neither rewarded he him according to the benefits which hee had received of him, but troubled him very sore.

44 After this returned Tryphon, and with him the young child Antiochus, who reigned and was crowned.

45 Then there gathered unto him all the men of warre, whom Demetrius had put away, and they fought against Demetrius, who turned his backe, and fled.

46 Moreover, Tryphon tooke the Elephantas, and wonne Antioch.

47 At that time young Antiochus wrote unto Ionathian, saying, I confirme thee in the high Priesthood, and appoint thee ruler over the four governments, and to be one of the Kings friends.

48 Upon this he sent him golden vessels for be seten in, and gave him leane to drinke in gold, and to be clothed in purple, and to weare a golden buckle.

49 His brother Simon also he made Captaine, from the place called, The ladder of Tyans unto the borders of Egypt.

50 Then Ionathian went fourthly, and passed thorow the cities beyond the water, and all the forces of Syria gathered themselves unto him for to helpe helped him: And when he came to Bethon, they of the citie met him honourably.

61 From whence he went to Gaza, but they of Gaza shut him out: wherefore he laid siege vnto it, and burned the suburbs thereof with fire, and spoiled them.

62 Afterward when they of Gaza made supplication vnto Jonathan, he made peace with them, and took the sons of the chiefe men for hostages, and sent them to Ierusalem, and passed thorow the countrey vnto Damafus.

63 Now when Jonathan heard that Demetrius Princes were come to Cades, which is in Galilee with a great power, purposing to remove him out of the countrey;

64 He went to meet them, and left Simon his brother in the countrey.

65 Then Simon encamped against Bethsara, and fought against it a long season, and thus it vs:

66 But they desired to haue peace with him, which he granted them, and then put them out from thence, and took the city, and set a garison in it.

67 As for Jonathan and his hostes, they pitched at the water of Genesur, from whence betwixe in the morning they gaue them to the plains of Nisoc.

68 And behold, the hostes of strangers met them in the plaine, who having laid men in ambush for him in the mountains, came themselves oer against him.

69 So when they that lay in ambush rose out of their places, and ioyned battell, all that were of Iordanus like fled:

70 In so much as there was not one of them left, except Matathias the sonne of Abisalon, and Judas the ioune o. Calphi the Captaine of the hoste.

71 Then Jonathan rent his clothes, and cast earth vpon his head, and prayed.

72 Afterwards turning againe to battell, hee put them to flight, and so they ranse away.

73 Now when his owne men that were fled, saw this, they turned againe vnto him, and with him purified them to Cades, euen vnto their owne tents, and there they camped.

74 So there were slaue of the heathen that day, about three thou. and men, but Jonathan returned to Ierusalem.

CHAP. XII

1 Jonathan reneweth his league with the Romans and Lacedemonians. 2 The forces of Demetrius, thinking to surprize Jonathan, flee away for feare. 3 Jonathan fortifieth the Castle in Iudca. 4 Antiochus vs by the fraud of Tryphon in Ptolemaie.

Now when Jonathan saw that the time serued him, he chose certaine men, and sent them to Rome, for to confirme, and renew the friendship that they had with them.

2 He sent letters also to the Lacedemonians, and to other places for the same purpose.

3 So they went vnto Rome, and entred into the Senate, and said, Jonathan the high Priest, and the people of the Iewes sent vs vnto you, for the end you should renew the friendship which you had with them, and league, as in former times.

4 Vpon this the Romanes gaue them letters vnto the Governour of euerie place, that they should bring them into the land of Iudca peaceably.

5 And this is the copie of the letters which Jonathan wrote to the Lacedemonians:

6 Jonathan the high Priest, and the Elders of the Iewes, and the Priests, and the other people of the Iewes, vnto the Lacedemonians their bretherne, greeting.

7 There were letters sent in times past vnto Onias the high Priest, from the Darius who reigned then among you, to signifye that you are our bretherne, as the copie there vnder written doth specifie.

8 At which time Onias intreated the Ambassador that was sent honourably, and received the letters, wherein declaration was made of the league and friendship.

9 Therefore wee also, albeit wee need none of these things: for that wee haue the holy Bookes of Scripture in our hands to comfort vs,

10 Haue nevertheless attempted to send vnto you, for the renewing of brotherhood and friendship, lest we should become strangers vnto you altogether: for there is a long time passed since you sent vnto vs.

11 Wee therefore at all times without ceasing, both in our feasts and other convenient dayes, doe remember you in the sacrifices which wee offer, and in our prayers, as reason is, and as it becometh vs to thinke vpon our bretherne.

12 And we are right glad of your honour.

13 As for our felices wee haue had great troubles and warres on euerie side, for so much as the King that are round about vs haue fought against vs.

14 Howbeit we would not be troublesome vnto you, nor to others of our confederates and friends in these warres.

15 For we haue helpe from heauen, that succoreth vs, so as we are deliuered from our enemies, and our enemies are brought vnder foot.

16 For this cause wee chose Numanus the son of Antiochus, and Antipater the son of Ision, and sent them vnto the Romanes, to renew the amity that we had with them, and the former league.

17 Wee commended them also to you, and to salute you, and to deliuer you our letters concerning the renewing of our brotherhood.

18 Wherefore now ys shall doe well to giue vs an answer thereto.

19 And this is the copie of the letters which Onias sent:

20 Areas King of the Lacedemonians, to Onias the high Priest, greeting.

21 It is found in writing, that the Lacedemonians and Iewes are bretherne, and that they are of the stocke of Abraham:

22 Now therefore, since this is come to our knowledge, you shall doe well to write vnto vs of your prosperitie.

23 Wee doe write backe againe to you, that your excell and goods are ours, and ours are yours: and doe command therefore [our Ambassadors] to make report vnto you on this wise.

24 Now when Jonathan heard that Demetrius Princes were come to fight against him with a greater hoste than before, 25 He removed from Ierusalem, and met them in the land of Amathus: for hee went thither not to fight, but to enter his countrey.

26 Hee sent letters also vnto their tents, who came againe, and told him, that they were appointed to come vpon him in the citie of Ierusalem.

27 Wherefore hee sought in the Sun what he should doe, and hee saw the Sun was in the signe of the scales, and hee was in great doubt, what he should doe: for hee was ready to fight with them: but hee thought of the league.

28 But when the ambassadors heard that Jonathan and his men were ready for battell, they feared and trembled in their hearts, and they kindled fires in their camps.

29 Howbeit, Ionathan and his company knew it not until the morning, for they saw the lights burning.

30 Then Ionathan purified after them, but soughte them not: for they were gone over the river Eleutherus.

31 Wherefore Ionathan turned to the Arabians, who were called of Zabadeans, and smote them, andooke their spoiles.

32 And removing thence, he came to Damascus, and so passed thorough all the country.

33 Simon also went forth, and passed thorough the country vnto Alcalon, and the hold there adjoining, from whence he turned aside to loppe, and waime it.

34 For he had heard that they would deliuer the hold vnto the King, whoooke Demetrius party; wherefore he set a garrison to keepe it.

35 After this came Ionathan home againe, and calling the Elders of the people together, he consulted with them about building strong holds in Iudea.

36 And making the walles of Ierusalem higher, and raising a great mount betwene the towne and the cite, for to separate it from the city, that so it might be alone, that men might neither sell nor buy in it.

37 Vpon this they came together to build vp the city, inasmuch as [part of] the wall toward the brooke on the East side was fallen downe, and they repaired that which was called Capernaitha.

38 Simon also set vp Aditha in Sephela, and made it strong with gates and barres.

39 Now Tryphon went about to get the kingdom of Asia, and to kill Antiochus the King, that he might set the crowne vpon his owne head.

40 Howbeit, he was afraid that Ionathan would not suffer him, and that he would fight against him, wherefore he sought a way how to take Ionathan, that he might kill him. So he remoued and came to Bethan.

41 Then Ionathan went out to meet him with forty thousand men, choosen for the battell, and came to Bethan.

42 Now when Tryphon saw that Ionathan came with so great force, he durst not stretch his hand against him.

43 But receiued him honourably, and commended him vnto all his friends, and gaue him gifts, and commanded his men of warre to be obedient vnto him, as to himselfe.

44 Vnto Ionathan also he said, Why hast thou gaue all this people to so great trouble, seeing there is no warre betwixt vs?

45 Therfore said they now home againe, and chose a few men to wait on thee, and come thou with me to Ptolemis: for I will gaue it thee, and the rest of the strong holds, and fortres, and all that haue any charge: as for me, I will returne, and depart: for this is the cause of my coming.

46 So Ionathan beleeuing him, did as he bade him, and sent away his host, who went into the land of Iudea.

47 And with himselfe hee retained but three thousand men, of whom he sent two thousand into Gallilee, and one thousand went with him.

48 Now as soon as Ionathan entered into Ptolemis, they of Ptolemis shut the gates, andooke him: and all them that came with him, they flew vnto the brooke.

49 Then sent Tryphon an hoste of footmen, and horsemen into Gallilee, and into the great plaine, to destroy all Ionathans company.

50 But when they knew that Ionathan, and they that were with him, were taken, and slaine, they encouraged one another, and went clost together, prepared to fight.

51 They therefore that followed vpon them, perceiving that they were ready to fight for their liues, came backe againe.

52 Whereupon they all came into the land of Iudea peaceably, and there they bewailed Ionathan, and them that were with him, and they were sore afraid, wherefore all Israel made great lamentation.

53 Thus all the heathen that were round about them, sought to destroy them. For said they, They haue no capitaine, nor any to help them. Now therefore let vs make war vpon them, and take away their memoiall from amongst men.

CHAP. XIII.

8 Simon is made capitaine to his brother Ionathans vnto the Iudea. 17 Tryphon seizes two of Ionathans souldiers by his hands, and slayeth their father.

27 The tombe of Ionathan. 35 Simon is flattered by Demetrius, 40 and winneth Gaza and the tower at Ierusalem.

Now when Simon heard that Tryphon had gathered together a great hoste to invade the land of Iudea, and destroy it,

2 And saw that the people was in great trembling and feare, he went vp to Ierusalem, and gathered the people together.

3 And gaue them exhortation, saying, Ye your selues know what great things I and my brethren, and my fathers house haue done for the Lawes, and the Sanctuary, the battels also and troubles which we haue borne,

4 By reason whereof all my brethren are slaying for Israels sake, and I am left alone.

5 Now therefore be ye farr from mee, that I should spare mine owne life in any time of trouble: for I am no better then my brethren.

6 Doubtlesse I will enuenge my nation, and the Sanctuary, and our wives, and our children: for all the heathen are gathered to destroy vs of very malice.

7 Now as soon as the people heard these words, their spirit renewed.

8 And they answered with a loud voice, saying, Thou shalt bee our leader in stead of Iudas and Ionathan thy brother.

9 Fight thou our battels, and whatsoever thou commaundest vs, that will we doe.

10 So then he gathered together all the men of warre, and made hast to finish the walles of Ierusalem, and he fortified it round about.

11 Also hee sent Ionathan the count of Abialong and with him a great power to loppe, who casting out them that were therein, remained there in it.

12 So Tryphon remoued from Ptolemis with a great power, to invade the land of Iudea, and Ionathan was with him in ward.

13 But Simon pitched his tents at Aditha, next against the plaine.

14 Now when Tryphon knew that Simon was risen vp in stead of his brother Ionathan, and meant to ioyne battell with him, he sent messengers vnto him, saying,

15 Whereas we haue Ionathan thy brother in hold, it is for money that hee is vnto the King, therefore therefore, concerning the bullocks that was committed unto him.

16 Wherefore now send an hundred talents of silver, and two of his souldiers for hostages, that when he is at liberty, he may not reuolt from vs, and wee will let him goe.

17 Heronson Simon, albeit he perceived that they spake deceitfully vnto him, yet feared hee the money and the children, lest peraduenture he should procure to himselfe great hatred of the people:

18 Who might haue said, Because I sent him not the money and the children, therefore is [Jonathan] dead.

19 So hee sent them the children and the hundred talents: howbeit [Tryphon] dissembled, neither would hee let Jonathan goe.

20 And after this, came Tryphon to innade the land, and destroyed it, going round about by the way that leadeth vnto Agors, but Simon and his bolle inuaded against him in euery place whither-soeuer he went.

21 Now they that were in the towre, sent messengers vnto Tryphon, to the end that hee should haue his coming vnto them by the wilderness, and send them victuals.

22 Wherefore Tryphon made ready all his horsemen to come that night, but there fell a very great snow, by reason whereof he came not. So he departed, and came into the country of Galaad.

23 And when he came neere to Baſama, he slew Jonathan, who was buried there.

24 Afterward Tryphon returned, and went into his owne land.

25 Then sent Simon, and tooke the bones of Jonathan his brother, and buried them in Modin the city of his fathers.

26 And all Israel made great lamentation for him, and bewailed him many dayes.

27 Simon also built a monument vpon the sepulchre of his father and his brethren, and raised it aloft to the light, with heuen stones behind: before

28 Moreover, he set vp seven Pyramides one against another, for his father, and his mother, and his loue brethren.

29 And in these he made cunning deuices, about the which he set great pillars, and vpon eie pillars he made all their armour for a perpetuall memory, and by the armour slaps carved, that they might be reme of all that saile on the Sea.

30 This is the sepulchre which he made at Modin, and it standeth yet vnto this day.

31 Now Tryphon dealt deceitfully with the young King Antiochus, and slew him.

32 And hee reigned in his stead, and crowned himselfe King of Asia, and brought a great calamity vpon the land.

33 Then Simon built vp the strong holds in Iudaea, and fenced them about with high towers, and great walls, and gates, and bars, and laid vp victuals therein.

34 Moreover, Simon chose men, and sent to King Demetrius, to the end hee should giue the land an immunity, because that Tryphon did, was to spoile.

35 Vnto whom King Demetrius answered, and wrote after this manner:

36 King Demetrius vnto Simon the high Priest, and friend of Kings, as also vnto the Elders, and nation of the Iewes, sendeth greeting.

37 The golden crowne, and the scarlet robe which ye sent vnto vs, we haue received: and we are ready to make a selfis gift with you, yea, and to write vnto our officers, to confirme the immunities which we haue granted, 38 And whatsoever covenants wee haue made with you, shall stand, and the strong holds which ye haue builded, shall be your owne.

39 As for any oversight, or fault committed vnto this day, we forgive it, and the crowne tax also which ye owe vs, if there were any other tributes paid in Ierusalem, it shall no more be paid.

40 And looke who are meet among you to bee in our court, let them bee inrolled, and let there be peace betwixt vs.

41 Thus the yoke of the heathen was taken away from Israel, in the hundred and seuentieth yeere.

42 Then the people of Israel began to write in their instruments and contracts, in the first yeere of Simon the high Priest, the Gouernour and leader of the Iewes.

43 In those dayes Simon camped against Gaza, and besieged it round about, hee made also an engine of warre, and fit it by the city, and battered a certaine towre, and tooke it.

44 And they that were in the engine, leapt into the city, whereupon there was a great uproare in the city:

45 Inasmuch as the people of the citie rent their clothes, and climbed vpon the walles, with their wives and children, and cried with a loud voyce, beseeching Simon to grant them peace.

46 And they said, Deale not with vs according to our wickednesse, but according to thy mercy.

47 So Simon was appeased towards them, and fought no more against them, but put them out of the city, and cleansed the houses wherein the idols were, and to entered into it with songs, and thanksgiving.

48 Yeake put all vncleanness out of it, and placed such men there, as would keepe the Law, and make it stronger then it was before, and build therein a dwelling place for himselfe.

49 They also of the towre in Ierusalem were kept to Ierat, that they could neither come forth, nor goe into the country, nor buy, nor sell: wherefore they were in great distresse for want of victuals, and a great number of them perished through famine.

50 Then cried they to Simon, beseeching him to be at one with them, which thing hee granted them, and when he had put them out from thence, hee cleansed the towre from pollutions:

51 And entered into it the three and twentieth day of the second month, in the hundred and seuentieth and one yeere, with thanksgiving, and branches of palme-trees, and with harpes, and cymbals, and with vioules, and hymnes, and songs: because there was destroyed a great enemy vnto Israel.

52 Hee ordained also, that that day should be kept euery yeere with gladnesse. Moreover, the hill of the Temple that was by the towre, hee made stronger then it was, and there he dwelt himselfe, with his company.

53 And when Simon saw that John his souldier was a valiant man, hee made him Captaine of all the hostes, and dwelt in Gazara.

Demetrius is taken by the King of Persia. The good deeds of Simon in his country. The Lacedaemonians and Romans renew their league with him. A memoriall of his acts is set up in Syria.

together, and went into Media, to get him helpe to fight against Tryphon.

3 But when Artabanes the King of Persia, & Media, heard that Demetrius was entered within his borders, he sent one of his Princes to take him alive.

4 Who went and smote the hoste of Demetrius, and took him, and brought him to Artabanes, by whom he was put in ward.

5 As for the land of Indea, that was quiet all the dayes of Simon: for hee sought the good of his nation in such wise, as that evermore his authority and honour pleased them well.

6 And as he was honourable (in all his ages) so in this, that he tooke loppe for an haven, and made an entrance to the yles of the sea,

7 And enlarged the boundis of his nation, and recovered the country.

8 And gathered together a great number of captives, and had the dominion of Gazara, and Bethsara, and the towres out of the which he tooke all uncleannes, neither was there any that resisted him.

9 Then did they call their ploud in peace and the earth gave her increase, and the trees of the field their fruit.

10 The ancient men saw all in the streets comming together of good things, and the young men put on glorious and warlike apparell.

11 He provided victuals for the cities, and set in them all manner of munition, so that his honourable name was renowned vnto the end of the world.

12 He made peace in the land, and Israel reioycd with great ioy:

13 For every man saw vnder his vine, and his figtree, and there was none to fray them.

14 Neither was there any left in the land to fight against them: yea the kings themselves were overthrown in those dayes.

15 Moreover, he strengthened all those of his people that were brought low: the Law he searched out, and every custome of the Law, and wicked person he tooke away.

16 He beautified the Sanctuary, and multiplied the vessels of the Temple.

17 Now when it was heard at Rome, & as far as Sparta, Jonathan was dead, they were very sorry.

18 But as soon as they heard that his brother Simon was made high Priest in his stead, and ruled the country, and the cities therein,

19 They wrote vnto him in tables of brasse, to renew the frendship and league which they had made with Iudas and Jonathan his brethren:

20 Which writings were read before the congregation at Ierusalem.

21 And this is the copy of the letters that the Macedonians sent: The rulers of the Macedonians, with the city, vnto Simon the high Priest, and the Elders, and Priests, and residue of the people of the Iewes our brethren, send greeting.

22 The Embassadors that were sent vnto our people, certified vs of your glory and honour, wherefore we were glad of their comming.

23 And did reuerse the things that they spake in the counsell of the people, in this manner: Numanus son of Antiochus, and Antipater sonne of Isafin, the Iewes Embassadors, came vnto vs, to renew the frendship they had with vs.

24 And we pleased the people to entertaine the Macedonians, and to put the copy of their Embassadors in publicke records, to the end the people of the Macedonians might haue a memoriall thereof: furthermore, we haue written a copy thereof vnto Simon the high Priest.

24 After this, Simon sent Numanus to Rome, with a great shield of gold of a thousand pound weight, to confirme the league with them.

25 Whereof when the people heard, they said, What thanks shall we giue to Simon and his soulders?

26 For he and his brethren, and the house of his Father haue established Israel, and chased away his fighte their enemies from them, and confirmed their liberty.

27 So then they wrote [it] in tables of brasse, which they set vpon pillars in mount Sion, and this is the copy of the writing. The eighteenth day of the month Ethlul, in the hundred threescore & twelfth yere, being the third yere of Simon the high Priest.

28 At Ierusalem in the great Congregation of Priests and the people, and representatives of the nation and Elders of the Country, were these things notified vnto vs:

29 For so much as oftentimes there haue bene wars in the country, wherein for the maintenance of their Sanctuary, and the Law, Simon the sonne of Mattathias of the posterity of Ierob, together with his brethren, put themselves in jeopardy, and resisting the enemies of their nation, did their nation great honour.

30 (For after that Jonathan having gathered his nation together, and bene their high Priest, was added to his people.)

31 Their enemies purposed to invade their country, that they might destroy it, and lay hands on the Sanctuary.

32 At which time Simon rose vp, and fought for his nation, and spent much of his owne substance, armed the valiant men of his nation, and gaue them wages.

33 And fortified the cities of Indea, together with Bethsara, that lieth vpon the borders of Indea, where the armour of the enemies had bene before, but he set a garrison of Iewes there.

34 Moreover he fortified loppe, that lieth vpon the Sea, and Gazara that bordereth vpon Azot, where the enemies had dwelt before: but he placed Iewes there, and furnished them with all things convenient for the reparation thereof.

35 The people therefore seeing the acts of Simon, and vnto what glory he thought to bring his nation, made him their gouernour and chief Priest, because he had done all these things, and for the iustice and faith which he kept to his nation, and for that he fought by all means to exalt his people.

36 For in his time things prospered in his hands, so that the heathen were taken out of their country, and they also that were in the city of David in Ierusalem, who had made themselves a towre, out of which they shote, and polluted all about the Sanctuary, and did much hurt in the holy place.

37 But he placed Iewes therein, and fortified it for the safety of the country and the city, and raised vp the wallies of Ierusalem.

38 King Demetrius also confirmed him in the high Priesthood, according to those things.

39 And made him one of his friends, and honoured him with great honour.

40 For he had heard say, that the Romanes had called the Iewes their friends and confederates, and brethren, and that they had entertained the Ambassadors of Simon honourably.

41 Also that the Iewes and Priests were well pleased that Simon should be their gouernour and high Priest for ever, untilt there should arise a faithfull Prophet.

For the wealth of the land.

9. Kings 9. 25.

42 Moreover, that he should be their captain, and should take charge of the Sanctuary, to set them over their works, and over the country, and over the armour, and over the fortresses, that (I say) he should take charge of the Sanctuary.

43 Besides this, that he should be obeyed of every man, and that all the writings in the country should be made in his name, and that hee should be clothed in purple, and wear gold.

44 All that it should be lawfull for none of the people or Priests, to breake any of these things, or to gainsay his words, or to gather an assembly in the country, without him, or to be clothed in purple, or wear a buckle of gold.

45 And who soeuer should do otherwise or break any of these things, he should be punished.

46 Thus it liked all the people to deale with Simon, and to doe as hath bene said.

47 Then Simon accepted hereof, & was wel pleased to be high Priest, and captain, and gouernour of the Iewes and Priests, and to defend them all.

48 So they commanded that this writing should be put in tables of brasse, and that they should be set vp within the compass of the Sanctuary in a conspicuous place.

49 Also that the copies thereof should be laid vp in the treasury, to the end that Simon and his sonnes might haue them.

4 Antiochus desireth leave to passe throug Iudea, and to receiue great honours to Simon & the Iewes.

26 The Romans write to diuers kings and nations to fauour the Iewes. 27 Antiochus quarrells with Simon, 28 and sendeth some to assay Iudea.

Moreover, Antiochus sonne of Desterius the King, sent letters from the Sea of the Sea, vnto Simon the Priest, and Prince of the Iewes, and to all the people.

1 The contents whereof were these: King Antiochus, vnto Simon the high Priest, and Prince of Ius nation, and to the people of the Iewes, greeting.

2 Forasmuch as certaine perfidious men, haue attempted the King some of our fathers, and my purposes to challenge it againe, that I may restore it to his old estate, and to that end haue gathered a multitude of foreine soldiers together, and prepared ships of war.

3 My meaning also being to see throug the country, that I may be assured of them, the house destroyed it, and made many cities in the kingdome desolate.

4 Now therefore I confirme vnto thee all the obligations which the Kings before me granted thee, and whatsoever gifts besides they granted.

5 I give thee leave also to coine money, for thy autonomy, with thine owne stamp.

6 And as concerning Ierusalem, and the Sanctuary, let them be free, and all the armours that thou hast made, and fortresses that thou hast built, and keepst in thine hands, let them remain vnto thee.

7 And if anything be, or shall be owing to the King, hee shall be forgiven thee, from this time forth for euermore.

8 Furthermore, when we haue obtained our kingdome, we will honour thee, and thy nation, and thy Temple, with great honours, so that your honour shall be knowne througout the world.

9 In the hundred threescore and fourteenth yeere, wear Antiochus into the land of his fathers, at which time all the forces came together vnto him, so that few were left with Tryphon.

11 Wherefore being pursued by King Antiochus, he fled vnto Dora, which lyeth by the sea side, for hee saw that troubles came vpon him all at once, and that his forces had forsaken him.

12 Then camped Antiochus against Dora, having with him an hundred and twenty thousand men of warre, and eight thousand horsemen.

13 And when he had compassed the city round about, and Ioynd his ships close to the towne on the sea side, he viewed the city by land and by sea, neither suffered he any to goe out or in.

14 In the meane season came Naimenus, and his company from Rome, having letters to the King and councey, wherein were written these things.

15 Lucius, Consul of the Romans, vnto King Ptolome, greeting.

16 The Iewes Embassadors our friends & confederates, came vnto vs to renew the old friendship and league, being sent from Simon the high Priest, and from the people of the Iewes.

17 And they brought a shield of gold, of a thousand pound.

18 Wee thought it good therfore to write vnto the Kings and counceys, that they should do them no hurt, nor fight against them, their cities or counceys, nor yet aide their enemics against them. so it seemed also good to vs to receive the shield of them.

19 If therefore these be any profitable fellows, that haue fled from their country vnto you, deliuer them vnto Simon the high Priest, that he may punish them according to their owne law.

20 The same thing wrote he likewise vnto Demetrius the King, and Attalus, to f Ararat, and Artaban.

21 And to all the counceys, and to f Samaria, and the Lacedemonians, and to Darius and Myndus, and Lycia, and Caria, and Samos, and Pamphylia, and Lycia, and Halicarnassus, and Rhodus, and f Phaelis, and Cos, and Siliac, and Aradus, and Gorissa, and Castus, and Cyprus, and Cyrac.

22 And the copy hereof they wrote to Simon the high Priest.

23 So Antiochus the King camped against Dora the second day, assaulting it continually, and making engines by which hee might get that vp Tryphon that he could neither goe out nor in.

24 At that time Simon sent him two thousand chosen men to aide him: silver also, and gold, and much armour.

25 Nevertheless, he would not receive them, but brake all the covenants which he had made with him: afore, and became strange vnto him.

26 Furthermore, he sent vnto him Athenobius, one of his friends, to consume with him, and say, You withhold Ioppe and Gazara, with the towne that is in Ierusalem which are cities of my realme.

27 The borders thereof ye haue waiked, and done great hurt in the land, and got the dominion of many places within my kingdome.

28 Now therefore deliuer the cities which ye haue taken, & the tributes of the places whereof ye haue gotten dominion f without the borders of Iudea.

29 Or else giue me for them five hundred talents of silver, and for the harue that you haue done, and the tributes of the cities ether fne hundred talents: if not, we will come and fight against you.

30 So Athenobius the kings friend came to Ierusalem, and when he saw the glory of Simon, and the Cupboard of gold, and silver plate, and his great attendance, he was astonished, and told him the kings message.

22 Then answered Simon, and said vnto him, We haue neither taken other mens land, nor willed that which appertained to others, but the inheritance of our fathers, which our enemies had wrongfully in possession a certaine time.

23 Wherefore we hauing opportunity, hold the inheritance of our fathers.

24 And whereas thou demandest Ioppe and Gazara; albeit they did great harme vnto the people in our country, yet will wee give in hundred talents for them. Heremato Athenobus answered him wth a word.

25 But returned in a rage to the King, and made report vnto him of these speeches, and of the glory of Simon, and of all that hee had done; whereupon the king was exceeding wroth.

26 In the meane tyme fled Tryphon by ship vnto Orchitis.

27 Then the King made Cendebeus Captaine of the sea coast, and gaue him an host of footmen and horsemen.

28 And commaunded him to remooue his hoste toward Iudea; also hee commaunded him to build vp Cedron, and to fortifie the gates, and to war against the people, as for the King [himselfe] he pursued Tryphon.

29 So Cendebeus came to Iamnis, and began to provoke the people, and to invade Iudea, and to take the people prisoners, and slay them.

30 And when he had built vp Cedron, he set fortifications, and an host of [footmen] to the end that when they might make our rodes vpon the wayes of Iudea, as the King had commaunded him.

CHAP. XVI.

31 Judas and Ioseph preuaile against the Iewes sent by Antiochus. 32 The captaine of Iericho suereth Simons, and two of his sonnes into his castles, and there treacherously murdereth them. 33 Iohn is sought for; and escapeth, and killeth those that sought for him.

Then came vp Iohn from Gazara, and told Simon his father, what Cendebeus had done.

32 Wth therefore Simon called his two eldest sons, Judas and Iohn, and said vnto them, I and my brethren, and my fathers house, haue euer iron our youth vnto this day, fought against the gentiles of Ierusalem, and things haue prospered so well in our hands; that we haue deliuered Ierusalem oftentimes.

33 But now I am old, and see [by Gods mercy] age of a hundred year; be ye in need of me and my brother, and goe an fight for our nation, and the helpe from Heuyn be with you.

34 So he chose out of the country twemy thousand men of warre, with horsemen, and went out against Cendebeus, and rested that night at Modin.

35 And when as they rose in the morning, and went into the plaine, behold a mighty great hoste both of footmen and horsemen, came against them; howbeit there was a water brooke betwixt them.

36 So he and his people pitched water against them, and when he saw that the people were afraid to go ouer the water brooke, hee went first ouer himselfe, and then the men (seeing him) passed the brooke after him.

7 [That done] he diuided his men, and set the horsemen in the middle of the ioument; for the enemies horsemen were very many.

8 Then sounded they with the holy Trumpets; whereupon Cendebeus and his hoste were put to flight, so that many of them were slaine, and the remainder gaue them to the strong hold.

9 At that time was Iudas Iohns brother wounded; but Iohn still followed after them, vntill he came to Cedron which [Cendebeus] had built.

10 So they fled euen vnto the towres in the fields of Azotus, wherefore he burnt it wth fire; so that there were flaine of them about two thousand men. Afterward he returned into the land of Iudea in peace.

11 Moreover, in the plaine of Iericho was Prothomus the sonne of Abubus made captaine, and he had abundance of silver and gold.

12 For he was the high Priestes son in law.

13 Wherefore his heart being lifted vp, hee thought to get the country to himselfe, & thereupon commaunded deceitfully against Simon and his sons to destroy them.

14 Now Simon was visiting the Cities that were in the country, and taking care for the good ordering of them, at which time he came down himselfe to Iericho with his sons, Matathias and Iudas, in the hundredth threescore and fourth yeere, in the eleuenth moneth, called Saba.

15 Where the son of Abubus (receiving them deceitfully into a little hold called Docus, which he had built, made them a great banquet; howbeit he had his men there.

16 So when Simon and his sonnes had dined largely, Prothomus and his men rose vp, and tooke their weapons, and came vpon Simon into the banquetting place, and slew him and his two sonnes, and certaine of his seruants.

17 In which doing hee committed a great treachery, and recompensed euill for good.

18 Then Prothomus wrot these things, and sent to the King, that he should send him an host to yde him, and he would deliuer him the country and cities.

19 He furthermore also to Gazara to kill Iohn; and vnto Ierusalem he sent letters to come vnto him, that he might giue them silver and gold, and rewards.

20 And others he sent to take Ierusalem, and the mountaine of the Temple.

21 Now Iudas had run before to Gazara, and told Iohn that his father and brethren were slaine, and [quoth he:] Remember both that ye shall see alive.

22 Hereof when Iudas heard, he was tose wth them; so hee laid hands on them that were come to destroy him, and slew them; for hee knew that they sought to make him away.

23 As concerning the rest of the acts of Iohn, and his wars, and worthy deeds which hee did, and the building of the wals which hee made, and his doings;

24 Behold, these are written in the Chronicles of his Priesthood, from the tyme hee was made high Priest after his father.

THE SECOND BOOK OF THE Maccabees.

C H A P. I.

1 A letter of the Iewes from Ierusalem to them of Egypt, to thanke God for the death of Antiochus 19 of the fire that was hid in the pit. 24 The prayer of Nehemias.

NHe brethren the Iewes that be at Ierusalem, & in the land of Iudea, with vnto the brethren the Iewes that are thoroughout Egypt, health and peace.

2 God be gracious vnto you, and remember his Couenant that he made with Abraham, Isaac, and Iacob, his faithfull seruants :

3 And give you all an heart to ferre him, and to do his will with a good courage, & a willing mind :

4 And open your hearts in his Law and Commandements, and send you peace :

5 And heare your prayers, and be at one with you, and neuer forsake you in tyme of trouble.

6 And now we be here praying for you.

7 What tyme as Demetrius reigned, in the hundred threescore and ninth yere, we the Iewes wrote vnto you in the extremity of trouble, that came vpon vs in those yeres, from the tyme that Iudas and his companye reuolted from the holy land and kingdomes.

8 And vnto the porch, and shed innocent blood, Then we prayed vnto the Lord, and were heard : we offered also sacrifices, and fine sflowre, and lighted the lampes, and set forth the loaves.

9 And now see that ye keepe the feast of * Tabernacles in the moneth of Cisten.

10 In the hundred fourscore and eight yere, the people that were at Ierusalem, and in Iudea, and the countie, and Iudas sent greeting and health vnto Aristobulus, King Ptolemies matter, who was of the stocke of the anoynted Priests, and to the Iewes that were in Egypt.

11 Inasmuch as God hath deliuered vs from great perils, we thanke him highly, as hauing bene in battell against a King.

12 For he cast them out that fought within the holy city.

13 For when the leader was come into Persia, and the army with him that serued inuincible, they were slaine in the Temple of Nanea, by the decreit of Naneas Priests.

14 For Antiochus as though he would marry her, came into the place, and his friends that were with him, to receiue money in name of a dowry.

15 Which when the Priests of Nanea had see forth, and he was entred with a small company into the compass of the Temple, they shut the Temple as sone as Antiochus was come in.

16 And opening a priuie doore of the rooffe, they threw stones like thunder-bolts, and stroke downe the captaine, hewed them in pieces, smote of their heads, and cast them to those that were without.

17 Blessed be our God in all things, who hath deliuered vpon the vngodly.

18 Therefore whereas we are now purposed to keepe the purification of the Temple vpon the five and twentieth day of the moneth * Callen, we thought it necessary to certifie you thereof that ye also might keepe it, as the [feast] of the Tabernacles, and of the fire, which was giuen vs, when Nehemias offered sacrifice, after that he had builded the Temple and the Altar.

19 For when our fathers were led into Persia, the Priests that were then denout, looke the fire of the Altar priuily, and hid it in an hollow place of a pit without water where they kept it sure, so that the place was vnknowne to all men.

20 Now after many yeres, when it pleased God, Nehemias being sent from the King of Persia, did send of the posteritie of those Priests that had hid it, to the fire: but when they told vs they found no fire, but thick water :

21 Then commanded he them to draw it vpon, and to bring it : and when the sacrifices were laid on, Nehemias commanded the Priests to spinkle the wood, & the things laid thereon with the water.

22 When this was done, and the tyme came that the sunne shone which afore was hid in the cloud, there was a great fire kindled, so that every man marvelled.

23 And the Priests made a prayer whilest the sacrifice was consuming [I say] both the priests and all the rest, Ionathan beginning, and the rest answering the remans as Nehemias did.

24 And the prayer was after this manner, O Lord, Lord God, Creator of all things, who art fearful, and strong, and righteous, and mercifull, and thou onely, and gracious King :

25 The onely giver of all things, the onely Inuincible, Almightie and Everlasting; thou that deliuerest Israel from all trouble, and didst chuse the Fathers and sanctifie vs :

26 Receiue the sacrifice for thy whole people Israel, and preferre thine own portion & sanctifie it.

27 Gather those together that are scattered from vs, deliuer them that serue among the heathen, looke vpon them that are despised and abhorred, and let the heathen know that thou art our God.

28 Punish them that oppresse vs, and with pride doe vs wrong.

29 Plant thy people againe in thy holy place, as Moses hath spoken.

30 And the Priests sang Psalmes of thanksgiving.

31 Now when the sacrifice was consumed, Nehemias commanded the water that was left, to be powred on the grate floures.

32 When this was done, there was kindled a flame : but it was consumed by the light that shined from the Altar.

33 So when this matter was knowne, it was told the King of Persia, that in the place, where the Priests that were led away, had hid the fire, there appeared water, and that [Nehemias had purified the sacrifices therewith.

34 Then the King inclosing the place made it holy, after he had tried the matter.

35 And the King tooke many gifts, and bestowed thereof on those whom he would gratifie.

36 And Nehemias called this thing Naphthar, which is as much to say, as a cleansing : but many men call it Nephthi.

C H A P. II.

1 What Ieremias the Prophet did, 15 How he hid the altar of the Arke and the Altar. 17 What Nehemias and Iudas wrote. 20 What Iudas wrote in his books, 25 and how those were altered by the author of this book.

It is also found in the records, that Jeremie the Prophet commanded them that were carried away, to take of the fire as it hath bene signified.

3. And how that the Prophet having given them the law, charged them not to forget the commandments of the Lord, and that they should not ere in their minds, when they see images of silver and gold, with their ornaments.

4. And with other such speeches exhorted he them that the law should not depart from their hearts.

5. It was also conceived in the same writing, that the Prophet being warned of God commanded the Tabernacle, and the Ark to goe with him, as hee went forth into the mountain, wherunto hee climbed up, and saw the heritage of God.

6. And when Jeremie came thither, he found an hollow cane, wherein he laid the Tabernacle and the Ark, and the Altar of incense, and so stopped the doore.

7. And some of those that followed him came to mark the way, but they could not finde it.

8. Which when Jeremie perceived, hee blessed them, saying, As for that place, it shall be unknowne, until the time that God gather his people againe together, and receive them unto mercy.

9. Then shall the Lord show them these things, and the glory of the Lord shall appear, and the cloud also as it was shewed under Moses, and as when Solomon desired that the place might be honourably sanctified.

10. It was also declared that he being wife offered the sacrifice of dedication, and of the finishing of the Temple.

11. And as when Moses prayed unto the Lord, the fire came downe from heauen, and consumed the sacrifices: even so prayed Solomon also, and the fire came downe from heauen, and consumed the burnt offerings.

12. And Moses said, because the finne offering was not to be eaten, it was consumed.

13. So Salomon kept those eight dayes.

14. The same things also were reported in the writings and commentaries of Neemias, and how he founding a library, gathered together the actes of the Kings and the Prophets, and of David, and the Epistles of the Kings concerning the holy gift.

15. In like manner also, Iudas gathered together, all those things that were lost by reason of the warre he had, and they remaine with vs.

16. Wherefore if ye have neede thereof, send some to fetch them vnto you.

17. Whereas wee thin are about to celebrate the purification, wee haue written vnto you, and ye shall doe well if ye keepe the same dayes.

18. Wee hope also that the God that deliuered all his people, and gaue them all an heritage, and the Kingdom, and the Priesthood, and the Sanctuary.

19. As he promised in the law, will shortly haue mercy vpon vs, and gather vs together out of every land vnto heauen, into the holy place: for he hath deliuered vs out of great troubles, and hath purified the place.

20. Now as concerning Iudas Maccabeus, and his brethren, and the purification of the great Temple, and the dedication of the Altar.

21. And the warres against Antiochus Epiphaneus, and Esator his sone.

22. And the manifold finnes that came from Iudas, who chose that, because themselves manfully to their honour for Iudaitie: so that being but a few, they ouercame the whole country, and chased barbarous multitudes.

23. And recovered againe the Temple remoued all the world ouer, and freed the city, and upheld the Lawes which were goinge downe, the Lord being gracious vnto them with all fauour.

24. All these things, (I say) being declared by Iason of Syrene in his booke, wee will asay to abridge in one volume.

25. For considering the infinite number, and the difficulty which they find that desire to looke into the narrations of the story, for the variety of the matter.

26. We haue bene carefull that they that will read might haue delight, and that they that are desirous to commit to memory, might haue ease, and that all into whose hands it comes, might find profit.

27. Therefore to vs that haue taken vpon vs this painful labor of abridging, it was not ease, but a matter of liues: and watching.

28. Euen as it is no ease vnto him that prepareth a banquet, and seeketh the benefit of others: yet for the pleasuring of many we will vnderstand gladly this great paine.

29. Leaving to the author the exact handling of every particular, and labouring to follow the rules of an abridgement.

30. For as the master builder of a new house, must care for the whole building: but he that vndertaketh to set it out, and paint it, must iudge of the things for the adorning thereof: thus so I thinke it is with vs.

31. To stand vpon every point, and goe ouer things at large, and to be curious in particulars, belongeth to the first author of the story.

32. But to vie beauty, and amuse much labouring of the worke, it is to be granted to him that will make an abridgement.

33. Here then will we begin the story: onely adding thus much to that which hath bene said, that it is a foolish thing to make a long prologue, and to be short in the story it selfe.

C H A P. III.

1. Of the honour done to the Temple by the Kings of the Gentiles, 2. Simon restoreth what was taken away, 3. He is stricken of God, and beheaded at the prayer of Onias.

Now when the holy city was inhabited with all peace, and the lawes were kept very well, because of the gentillitie of Onias the high Priest, and his hatred of wickednesse.

2. It came to passe that eue: the king thereof felde did honour the place, and magnifie the Temple with their best gifts:

3. Inasmuch that Seleucus King of Asia: of his owne reuence, bare all the cost belonging to the seruice of the sacrifices.

4. But one Simon of the Tribe of Benjamin, who was made gouernour of the Temple, fell out with the high Priest about disorder in the city.

5. And when hee could not ouercome Onias, hee gaue him to Apollonius, the son of Tharsina, who was gouernour of Caelosyria and Phenice.

6. And told him that the treasury in Ierusalem was full of infinite sommes of money, so that the multitude of their riches, which did not pertain to the account of the sacrifices, was innumerable, and that it was possible to bring all into the Kings hand.

7. Now when Apollonius came to the King, and had shewed him of the money, wherof hee was God it is that found at his people, and desired the heritage and the Sanctuary, as he promised in the Law, For we hope in God that he will be our strength.

old, the King chofe out Heliodorus his treafurer, and fent him with a commandment to bring him the forfaid money.

5 So fourthwith Heliodorus took his iourney, vnder a colour of vifiting the cities of Cælofyrina and Phenice, but indeed to fulfill the Kings purpose.

6 And when he was come to Ierufalem, and had bene courteoufly receiued of the high Prieff of the cite, he told him what intelligence was giuen of the money, and declared wherefore he came, and asked if thefe things were fo indeed.

7 Then the high Prieff told him, that there was fuch money laid vp for the reliefe of widowers and fatherleffe children,

8 And that fome of it belonged to Hircanus, fon of Tobias, a man of great dignitie, and not as that wicked Simon had mifinforme: the fume wherof in all, was laore hundred talents of filuer, and two hundred of gold;

9 And that it was altogether impoffible that fuch wrong fhould be done vnto them, that had committed it to the holineffe of the place, and to the mæltie, and inuincible fauour of the Temple, honour'd ouer all the world.

10 But Heliodorus, becaufe of the Kings commandment giuen him, faid, That in any wife it muft be brought into the Kings treafury.

11 So at the day which he appointed, he entered in to order this matter, wherefore there was no fmall agony throughout the whole cite.

12 But the Prieffs proffrating themfelues before the Altar in their Prieffs veftments, called vnto heauen vpon him that made a Law concerning things giuen to be kept, that they fhould fafely bee preferred for fuch as had committed them to keepe.

13 Then who fo had looked the high Prieff in the face, it would haue wounded his heart: for his countenance, and the changing of his colour declared the inward agony of his mind;

14 For the man was fo compaffed with feare and horrow of the body, that it was manifef to them that looked vpon him, what forrow he had now in his heart.

15 Others ran rocking out of their houfes, to the generall fupplication, becaufe the place was like to come into contempt.

16 And the women gatt with fackelock, vnder their brefts, abounded in the ftreets, and the virgins that were kept in, ran, fome to the gates, and fome to the walles, and others looked out of the windows;

17 And all holding their hands towards heauen, made fupplication.

18 Then it would haue pifted a man to fee the falling downe of the multitude of all forts, and the feare of the high Prieff being in fuch an agony.

19 They then called vpon the Almighty Lord, to keepe the things committed of truth, fate and iure, for thofe that had committed them.

20 Wherecheffe, Heliodorus exorced that which was decreed.

21 Now as he was there prefent himfelfe, with his guard about the treafury, the Lord of fpirits, and the Prince of all power, caufed a great apparition, fo that all that pretended to come in with him, was altonifhed at the power of God, and fainted, and were fore afraid.

22 For there appeared vnto them a horfe, with a terrible rider vpon him, and adorned with a very bright armour, and he ran fiercely, and ftoote at Heliodorus with his forefeet, and it ftabbed that he that fate vpon the horfe, had compleat harme of gold.

23 Moreover, two other young men appeared before him, notable in ftrength, excellent in beauty, and comely in apparell, who flood by him on either fide, and fcorched him continually, and gaue him many fore ftripes.

24 And Heliodorus fell fuddenly vnto the ground, and was compaffed with great darkeneffe, for they that were with him,ooke him vp, and put him into a litter.

25 Thus him that lately came with a great traine, and with all his guard into the fide treafury, they carried out, being vnable to help himfelfe, with his weapons, and manifefly they acknowledged the power of God.

26 For hee by the hand of God was caft downe, and lay fpeechleffe without all hope of life.

27 But they praifed the Lord that had miraculoufly honoured his owne place: for the Temple, which a little afore was, full of feare and trouble, when the Almighty Lord appeared, was filled with ioy and gladneffe.

28 Then ftroughwaye certaine of Heliodorus friends, prayed Onias, that hee would call vpon the moft High, to grant him his kile, who lay ready to giue vp the ghoft.

29 So the high Prieff impeding, left the King fhould mifconceiue, that fome treachery had bene done to Heliodorus by the Iewes, offered a facrifice for the health of the man.

30 Now as the high Prieff was making an oration, the fame young man in the fume clothing appeared, and flood behinde Heliodorus, faying, Gibe Onias the high Prieff great thanks, inasmuch as for his fake the Lord hath granted thee life.

31 And faying thus, thou haft bene fcorched froun heauen, declare vnto all men the mighty power of God: and when they had fpooken thefe wordes, they appeared no more.

32 So Heliodorus after he had offered facrifice vnto the Lord, & made great vowes vnto him that had faved his life, & fained Onias, returned with his horfe to the King.

33 Then testified he to all men, the workes of the great God, which he had feene with his eyes.

34 And when the King asked Heliodorus who might be a fte man to be feare yet once againe to let Ierufalem, he faid,

35 If thou haft any enemy, or traitour, fend him thither, and thou fhalt receive him well fcoraged, if hee efcape with his life: for in that place, no doubt, there is an especiall power of God.

36 For he that dwelleth in heauen, hath his eye de that place, and defendeth it, and hee beatech and ftroueth them that come to hurt it.

37 And the things concerning Heliodorus, and the keeping of the treafury, fell out on this fort.

CHAP. III.

1 Simon hardeneth Onias. 7 Iafon by corrupting the Kings graunteth the Office of the high Prieff. 24 Menelaus getteth the fume from Iafon by the like corruption. 34 Antiochus to diuouly murdereth Onias. 36 The King being informed thereof confefeth Antiochus to be put to death. 39 the wickedneffe of Lyfimachus, by the mifgraces of Menelaus.

This Simon now (of whom wee fpoke afore) had bene a bewroyer of the money, and of his countrey, flandered Onias, as if he had verifed Heliodorus, and bene the worker of thefe onils.

2 Thus

2 Thus was hee bold to call him a traitor, that had defered well of the city, and rendered his own station, and was so zealous of the Lawes.

3 But when their hatred went to farre, that by one of Simons faction murders were committed.

4 Onias seeing the danger of this conceition, and that Apollonius, as being the gouernour of Cæsaria and Phenice, did rage, and increase Simons malice.

5 He went to the King, not to be an accuser of his country men, but seeking the good of all, both publicke and private.

6 For hee saw that it was impossible that the Senate should continue quiet, and Simon leave his folly, vntil the King did looke thereunto.

7 But after the death of Seleucus, when Antiochus, called Epiphaneus, took the kingdom, Iason the brother of Onias laboured vnder hand to bee high Priest.

8 Promising vnto the King by intercession, three hundred and thirtie talents of silver, and of another revenue, eightie talents.

9 Besides this, he promised to assigne an hundred and fifty more, if he might haue licence to set him vp a place for exercise, and for the training vp of youth in the fashions of the heathen, and to write them of Ierusalem by the name of Antiochians.

10 Which when the King had granted, and hee had gotten into his hand the rule, forthwith brought his owne nation to the Greeke fashion.

11 And the royal priuiledges granted of Iesai favour to the fewes, by the meanes of Iohn the father of Enpolemus, who went Embassador to Rōe for amity and aid, hee took away, & putting down the governments, which were according to the Law hee brought vp new customes against the Law.

12 For hee built gladly a place of exercise vnder the towne it selfe & brought the chief young men vnder his subiection, and made them wear a hat.

13 Now such was the height of Greeke fashions, and increase of heathenish maners through the exceeding profanenes of Iason, that vngodly wretched, and no high Priest.

14 That the Priests had no courage to serue any more at the Altar, but despising the Temple, and neglecting the sacrifices, hastened to be pretakers of the unlawfull allowance in the place of exercise, after the game of Iudicis called them forth.

15 Not letting by the honors of their fathers, but liking the glory of the Grecians best of all.

16 By reason whereof sore calamity came vpon them: for they had them to be their enemies and sencers, whose custome they followed so carnellly, & vnto whom they desired to be like in all things.

17 For it is not a light thing to do wickedly against the Lawes of God, but the time following shall declare these things.

18 Now when the game that was vsed every yere, was kept at Tyrus, the King being present, 19 This vngodly Iason sent special messengers from Ierusalem, who were Antiochians, to carry three hundred & thirtie talents of silver to the sacrifice of Hercules, which euen the heathens thereof thought fit not to bestow vpon the sacrifice, because it was not comenient, but to be refused for other charges.

20 This money was in regard of the ierites, was appointed to Hercules sacrifice: but because of the beastes thereof, it was employed to the making of Gallies.

21 Now when Apollonius the son of Mantheus was sent vnto Egypt, for the coronation of King Epiphanes Philometor, Antiochus vnderstanding him not to be well affected to his affaires, provided for his owne safety: when upon he came to Ioppa, and from thence to Ierusalem.

22 Where he was honourably receiued of Iason and of the city, and was brought in with torchlight, and with great shoutings: and so afterward went with his host vnto Phenice.

23 Three yere afterward Iason sent Menelaus the foresaid Simons brother, to heare his money vnto the King, and to put him in mind of certaine necessary matters.

24 But he being brought to the presence of the King, when he had magnified him for the glorious appearance of his power, got the Priesthood to himselfe, offering more to Iason by three hundred talents of siluer.

25 So became with the Kings mandate, bringing nothing worthy the high Priesthood, but having the sily of a small tyrant, & the rage of a savage beast.

26 Then Iason who had vndermined his owne brother, being vndermined by another was compelled to flee into the country of the Ammonites.

27 So Menelaus got the principality: but as for the money that he had promised vnto the King, hee took no good order for it, about Solitatus the Ruler of the Castle required it.

28 For vnto him appertained the gathering of the customes. Wherefore they were both called before the King.

29 Now Menelaus left his brother Lyfianus in his stead in the Priesthood, and Solitatus left Crates, who was Governour of the Cyrenans.

30 While those things were in doing, they of Tharhis & Mallos made insurrection, because they were giuen to 5 Kingdomes: hee called Antiochus.

31 Then came the King in all haste to appease matters, leaving Andronicus a man in authority for his deputy.

32 Now Menelaus supposing that hee had gotten a conuenient time, stole certaine vessels of gold out of the Temple, and gave some of them to Andronicus, and some hee sold into Tyrus, and the cities round about.

33 Which when Onias knew of a surety, hee reproued him, & withdrew himselfe into a Sanctuary at Dypne, that lyeth by Antiochia.

34 Wherefore Menelaus taking Andronicus apart, prayed him to get Onias into his hands, who being perswaded therunto, and coming to Onias in desert, gave him his right hand with oathes, and though hee were suspected (by him) yet perswaded hee him to come forth of the Sanctuary: whom forthwith hee that vp without regard of iustice.

35 For the which cause not only the fewes, but many also of other nations took great indignation, and were much grieved for the vniust murder of the man.

36 And when the King was come againe from the places about Cilicia, the fewes that were in the city, and certaine of the Grecians that abhorred the fact also, complained because Onias was slaine without cause.

37 Therefore Antiochus was heartily sorry, and moued to pity, and wept because of the sober and modest behauiour of him that was dead.

38 And being kindled with anger, forthwith hee took away Andronicus his purple, and rent off his clothes, and leading him through the whole city vnto that very place where hee had committed impiety against Onias, there slew hee the caried murderer. Thus the Lord rewarded him his punishment as hee had defered.

35 Now when many bastiledges had bene committed in the city by Lysimachus, with the consent of Menelaus, and the bruit thereof was spread abroad, the multitude gathered themselves together against Lysimachus, many vessels of gold being already carried away.

36 Whereupon the common people rising, and being filled with rage, Lysimachus armed about three thousand men, and began first to offer violence on Acauson, being the leader, a man far gone in years, and no lesse in folly.

37 They then seeing the attempt of Lysimachus, some of them caught stones, some clubs, others taking handfuls of dust, that was next at hand, cast them altogether vpon Lysimachus, and those that set vpon them.

38 Thus many of them they wounded, and some they strook to the ground, and all [of them] they forced to flee: but as for the Church-rubber himselfe, him they killed besides the treasury.

39 Of these matters therefore there was an accusation layd against Menelaus.

40 Now when the King came to Tyrus, three men that were ient from the Senate, pleaded the cause before him.

41 But Menelaus being now convicted, promised Ptoleme the sonne of Domnitus, to give him much money, if he would pardon the King towards him.

42 Whereupon Ptoleme taking the King aside into a certaine gallery, as it were to take the ayre, brought him to be of another mind:

43 Inasmuch that he discharged Menelaus from the accusations, who notwithstanding was cause of all the mischief: and those peace men, who if they had tolde their cause, yea, before the Scythians, should haue bin iudged innocent, them he condemned to death.

44 Thus they that followed the matter for the city, and for the people and for the holy vessels, did loose their vnsuff punishment.

45 Wherefore when they of Tyrus moued with hatred of these wicked deed, caused them to bee honourably buried.

46 And so through the couctinues of them that were in power, Menelaus remained still in authority, increasing in wealth, and being a great traitor to the citizens.

CHAP. V.

2 Of the feuer and tokens serue in Jerusalem, 8 Of the end and wickednesse of Isafon. 11 The purpose of Antiochus against the Iewes. 15 The spoiling of the Temple. 27 Maccabees fersh into the wilderness.

1 About the same time Antiochus prepared his last and voyge into Egypt.

2 And then it happened, that through all the city, for the space almost of forty dayes there were seene horsemens running in the ayre in cloth of gold, and armed with lances like a band of soldiery.

3 And troups of horsines in aray, encountering and running one against another, with shaking of shields, and multitude of pikes, and drawing of swords, and casting of darts, and glittering of golden ornaments, and harashe of all sorts.

4 Wherefore euery man prayed that that apparition might turne to good.

5 Now when there was gone forth a false rumour, as though Antiochus had bene dead, Isafon went at the lea a thousand men, and suddenly made an assault vpon the city, and they that were vpon the walls, being put back, and the city at length taken, Menelaus fled into the castle:

6 But Isafon slew his owne citizens without mercy, (not considering, that to get the day of them of his owne nation, would be a most vnhappy day for him; not thinking thy had bene his enemies, and not his country men, whom he conquered.)

7 Howbeit for all this he obtained not the principality, but at the last received shame for the reward of his treason, & fled againe into the country of the Ammonites.

8 In the end therefore he had an vnhappy returne, being accused before Aretas King of the Arabians, fleeing from city to city, pursued of all men, hated as a forsaker of the lawes, and being had in abomination, as an open enemy of his country and country men: he was cast out into Egypt.

9 Thus he that had driven many out of their country, perished in a strange land, retiring to the Lacedemonians, and thinking there to find succour by reason of his kindred.

10 And he that had cast out many vnburied, had none to mourne for him, nor any solemne funerals at all, nor sepulchre with his father.

11 Now when this that was done came to the Kings eare, hee thought that Iudea had reuolted: whereupon removing out of Egypt in a furious minde, hee took the city by force of armes.

12 And commanded his men of warre not to spare such as they met, and to slay such as went vpon the houses.

13 Thus there was killing of young and old, making away of men, women, and children; slaying of virgines and infants.

14 And there were destroyed within the space of three whole daies, fourescore thousand, whereof forty thousand were straine in the conflict: and no fewer sold then slaine.

15 Yet was hee not content with this, but presumed to goe into the most holy Temple of all the world: Menelaus that traitour to the lawes, went to his owne country, being his guide.

16 And taking the holy vessels with polluted hands, and with prophane hands, pulling downe the things that were delineated by other Kings, to the augmentation and glory and honour of the place, hee gaue them away.

17 And so haughty was Antiochus in mind, that hee considered not that the Lord was angry for a while, for the sins of them that dwelt in the city, and therefore his eye was not vpon the place.

18 For had they not been formerly wrapped in many fumes, this man should as he had come, had fourthwith bene scourged and put back from his presumption, 25 Heliodorus was, whom Seleucus the King sent to view the treasury.

19 Neuertheless, God did not chuse the people for the places sake, but the place for the peoples sake.

20 And therefore the place it selfe that was partaker with them of the aduersities that happened to the nation, did afterward communicate in the benefits sent from the Lord: and as it was forsaken in the wrath of the Almighty, so againe, the great Lord being reconciled, it was set vp with all glory.

21 So when Antiochus had carried out of the Temple, a thousand and eight hundred talents, he departed in all haste into Antiochia, wearing in his pride to make the land nauigable, and the Sea passable by foote: such was the haughtinesse of his mind.

22 And hee left gouernours to vexe the nation at Ierusalem, Philip, for his country a Phrigian, and for matters more barbarous then hee that set him there:

23 And at Gazium, Andronicus, and besides Melanias, who worse then all the rest, bare an heavy hand over the citizens, having a malicious mind against his countrymen the Jewes.

24 He sent also that detestable ring-leader Apollonius, with an army of two and twenty thousand, commanding him to slay all those y^e were in their best age, and to sell the women & the younger sort.

25 Who coming to Ierusalem, and impending upon them, did forbear til the holy day of the Sabbath, when taking the Jewes keeping holy day, he wounded his men to ayme themselves.

26 And so he slew all them that were gone to the celebrating of the Sabbath, and running thorow the city with weapons, slew great multitudes.

27 But Iudas Maccabour, with nine others, or there about, withdrew himself into the wilderness, and lived in the mountains after the manner of beasts, with his company, who fed on herbes continually, lest they should bee partakers of the pollution.

CHAP. VI.

1 The Jewes are compelled to leave the Law of God, & The Temple in desolat. 2 Curst upon the people and the women. 3 An exhortation to leave affliction, by the example of the valiant courage of Iudas, and curstly tormented.

Not long after this, the king sent an old man of Athens, to compell the Jewes to depart from the Lawes of their fathers, and not to live after the Lawes of God :

2 Add to pollute also the Temple in Ierusalem, and to call it the Temple of Iupiter Olympius & that in Gazium, of Iupiter the defender of strangers, as they still desire that dwell in the place.

3 The coming in of this mischief was fore and grievous to the people :

4 For the Temple was filled with ryot, and revelling by the Gentiles, who dallied with harlots, had had to doe with women within the circuit of the holy places, and besides that, brought in things that were not lawfull.

5 The Altar also was filled with profane things which the Law forbiddeth.

6 Neither was it lawfull for a man to keepe Sabbath day, or ancient Feasts, or to professe himselfe as all to be a Jew.

7 And in the day of the Kings birth, every man which they were brought by bitter constraint to eat of the sacrifices, and when the feast of Bacchus was kept, the Jewes were compelled to goe in procession to Bacchus, carrying key.

8 Moreover, there went out a decree to the neighbour cities of the Jewes, by the suggestion of Ptolomee, against the Jewes, that they should observe the same sacrifices, and be partakers of their sacrifices :

9 And who should not conforme themselves to the matters of y^e Gentiles should be put to death: then might a man have seene the present misery.

10 For there were two women brought, who had circumcised their children, whom when they had openly led round about the city, the babes hanging at their breasts they cast them downe headlong from the wall.

11 And others that had run together into caves nere by, to keepe the Sabbath day secretly, being discovered to Philip, were all burnt together, because they made a confiterie in helpe themselves, for the honour of the most sacred day.

12 Now I beseech those that reade this booke, that they be not discouraged for these calamities, but that they judge those punishments not to bee for destruction, but for a chastening of our carions.

13 For it is a token of his great goodness, which wicked doers are not suffered any long time, but forthwith punished.

14 For not as with other nations, whom the Lord patiently forbearth to punish, till they be come to the fullnesse of their sin, so death be with vs.

15 Lest that being come to the bright of sin, afterwards he should take vengeance of vs.

16 And therefore bee weter withdraweth his mercy from vs, & though he punish with adversity, yet doth he never forsake his people.

17 But let this that we have spoken be for warning unto vs: and now will we come to the declaring of the matter in few words.

18 Eleazar one of the principall Scribes in a good man, and of a well favoured countenance, was constrained to open his mouth and to eat swines flesh.

19 For he chusing rather to die gloriously then to live stained with such an abomination, spie it forth, and came of his own accord to the torment.

20 As it behoved them to come that are resolute to stand out against such things, as are not lawfull for love of life to be tasted.

21 But they that had the charge of that wicked feast, for the old acquaintance they had with the man, taking him aside, besought him to bring forth of his own prausion, such as was lawfull for him to use, and make as if he did eat of the flesh, taken from the sacrifice commanded by the King :

22 That in so doing, he might be delivered from death, and for the old friendship with them, might favour.

23 But he began to confider discreetly, and as became his age, and the excellency of his ancient years, and the honour of his gray head, whosoever he was come, such his most honest education from a child, or rather the holy Law made and given by God: therefore hee answered accordingly, and willed them straightwayes to send him to the grate.

24 For it became with our age, said he in my wisdome to dissemble, whereby many yong persons might thinke, that Eleazar being fortye or more years old and ten, were now gone to a strange religion.

25 And so they through mine hypocrisie, and desire to live a litle time, and a moment longer, should bee damned by me, and I get a graine to mine old age, and make it abominable.

26 For though for the present time I should bee delivered from the punishment of men, yet should I not escape the hand of the Almighty, neither thus nor dead.

27 Wherefore now manfully changing this life, I will show my selfe such an one as mine age requireth.

28 And leave a notable example to such as be young, to die willingly, and courageously for the honourable and holy I westand when he had said these words, immediately he went to the torment.

29 They that led him, changing the good will they bare him a litle before, into hatred, because the Iudaic speches proceeded, as they thought from a desperate mind.

30 But when he was ready to die with stripes, he groaned and said, it is manifest unto the Lord, that hee the holy knowledge, that whereas I might have beene delivered from death, I [now] endure fore paines in body, by being beaten: but in soule am well content to suffer these things because I feare him.

31 And thus this man died, leaving his death for and their mother in one day, because they would not eat swines flesh at the Kings commaundment.

I came to passe also that seven brethren with their mother were taken, and compelled by the King against the law to taste swines flesh, and were tormented with scourges and whips.

1 But one of them that spake first, said thus,
What wouldest thou ake, or learne of vs? we are ready to die, rather then to transgresse the lawes of our fathers.

2 Then the king being in a rage, commaunded paire and caldrons to be made hot.

3 Which forthwith being heated, he commaunded to cut out the tongue of him that spake first, and to cut off the vntmost parts of his body, the rest of his brethren and his mother looking on.

4 Now when he was thus maimed in all his members, he commaunded him being yet alive, to be brought to the fire, and to be fryed in the pan, and as the vapour of that pan was for a good space dispersed, they exhorted one another, with the motto to doe manfully, saying thus,

5 The Lord God looketh vpon vs, and in truth had comfort in vs, as Moses in his song, which witnesseth to their faces declared, saying, And hee shall be comforted in his seruants.

6 So when the first was dead after this manner, they brought the second to make him a mocking flocke: and when they had pulled off the skin of his head with the haire, they asked him, Wilt thou eat before thou be punished throughout every member of thy body?

7 But he answered in his owne language, and said, No. Wherefore he also receiued the next torment in order as the former did.

8 And when he was at the last gaspe, he said,
Thou like a iusty raketts vs out of this pretious life, but the King of the world shall raise vs vp, who haue died for his Lawes, vnto euertlasting life.

9 After him was y raised made a mocking flock, and when he was required, he put out his tongue, and that right soone, holding forth his hands manfully,

10 And said courageously, These I had from Heauen, and for his Lawes I despise them, and from him I hope to receive them againe.

11 Inasomuch that the King, and they that were with him, marvelled at the yong mans courage, for that he nothing regarded the paines.

12 Now when this man was dead also, they tormented, and mangled the fourth in like manner.

13 So when he was ready to die, he said thus, It is good being put to death by men to looke fur-lorpe from God to be caued vp againe by him: as for thee, thou shalt haue no resurrection to life.

14 Afterwards they brought the fifth also, and mangled him.

15 Then looked he vnto the king, and said, Thou hast power ouer men, y art corruptible, thou dost wike: thou wilt, yet thinke not that our nation is forsaaken of God.

16 But abide a while, and behold his great power how he will torment thee, and thy seed.

17 After him also they brought the sixth, who being ready to die, said, He not deceiued without cause: for we suffer these things for our selues, having sinned against our God, therefore marcitous things are done (vnto vs.)

18 But thinke not thou y takest in hand to striue against God, that thou shalt escape vnpunished.

19 But the mother was maruilled aboue all, and worthy of honourable memory: for when she saw her seven sonnes layne within the space of one day, she bare it with a good courage, because of the hope that she had in the Lord.

20 Yea, she exhorted every one of them in her owne language, filled with courageous spirits, and stirring vp her womanish thoughts, with a manly stomack, ther said vnto them,

21 I cannot tell how you came into my wombe, for I neither gaue you breath, nor life: neither was it I that formed the members of every one of you.

22 But doubtlesse the Creator of the world who formed the generation of man, and found out the beginning of all things, will also of his owne mercy giue you breath, and life againe, as you now regard not your owne selues for his Lawes sake.

23 Now Antiochus thinking himselfe despised, and suspending it to be a reproachfull speech, while the youngest was yet alive, did not only exhort him by words, but also assured him with oaths, that hee would make him both a rich and a happy man, if hee would turne from the lawes of his fathers, and that also he would take him for his friend, and trust him with affaires.

24 But when the yong man would in no case hearken vnto him, the King called his mother, and exhorted her, that she would counsell the yong man to forsake his life.

25 And when he had exhorted her with many words, shee promised him that shee would counsell her sonne.

26 But she bowed her selfe toward him, laughing the cruell tyrant to scorn, spake in her coun-trei language on this manner, O my son, haue pity vpon mee that bare thee nine months in my wombe, and gaze thee sucke three yeeres, and nourished thee, and brought thee vp vnto this age, and endured the troubles of education.

27 I beseech thee, my son, looke vpon the heauen and the earth, and all that is therein, and consider, that God made them of things that were not, and so was mankinde made likewise:

28 Feare not this tormentor, but being worthy of thy brethren, take thy death, that I may receiue thee againe in mercy with thy brethren.

29 While there was yet speaking these wordes, the yong man said, Whom wait ye for? I will not obey the Kings commaundment: but I will obey the commaundment of the Law that was giuen vnto our fathers by Moses.

30 And thou that hast bene the author of all mischief against the Hebrews, shalt not escape the hands of God.

31 For we suffer! et use of our times.

32 And though the liuing Lord be angry with us a little while, for our chastening and correction, yet shall he be as one againe with his seruants.

33 But thou O godlesse man, and of all other most wicked, be not lifted vp without a cause, nor puffed vp with vncertaine hopes, lifting vp thy hand against the seruants of God:

34 For thou hast not yet escaped the iudgement of Almighty God, who seeth all things.

35 For our brethren, who now haue suffered a short paine, are dead vnder Gods Couenaunt of euertlasting life: but thou through the iudgement of God, shalt receive iust punishment for thy pride.

36 But I, as my brethren, offer vp my body and life for the lawes of our fathers, beseeching God that that he would specially be mercifull vnto our nation, and that thou by torments and plagues mayest confesse, that he alone is God :

28 And that in me, and my brethren, the wrath of the Almighty, which is iustly brought vpon all our nation, may cease.

29 Then the king being in a rage, handled him worse then all the rest, and tooke it grievously that he was mocked.

30 So this man died vndefiled, and put his whole trust in the Lord.

41 Lest of all, after the foules the more dyed.

42 Let this be enough now to haue spoken concerning the idolatrous staes, and the extreme torments.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Judas gathereth an hoste. 9 Nicanor is sent against him: who professeth to make much money of his prisoners. 16 Judas encourageth his men, and putteth Nicanor to flight: 28 and diuidenth the spoile. 30 Other enemies are also defeated: 35 and Nicanor sleeth with speere to Asmodeus.

Then Judas Maccabeus, and they that were with him, went priuily into the towne, and called their kinsfolkes together, and tooke vnto them all such as continued in the Iewes religion, and assembled about five thousand men.

2 And they called vpon the Lord, that he would looke vpon the people that was troden downe of all, and also pity the Temple, prophaned of vngodly men.

3 And that he would haue compassion vpon the city fore defaced, and ready to be made euen with the ground, and beare the blood that cryed vnto him.

4 And remember the wicked slaughter of harmelesse infants, and the blasphemies committed against his Name, and that he would shew his hatred against the wicked.

5 Now when Maccabeus had his company about him, he could not be without hope by the heauen: for the wrath of the Lord was turned into mercy.

6 Therefore he came at vnawares, and burnt vp towne and cities, and got into his hands the most commodious places, and ouercame and put to flight no small number of his enemies.

7 But specially tooke hee advantage of the night for such priuy attempts, in such that the braue of his manlye was spread euery where.

8 So when Philip saw that this man increased by little and little, and that things prospered with him, till more and more, he wrote vnto Ptolemeus the gouernour of Chelchiria and Puenice, to yeeld more ayd to the Kings Affairs.

9 Then forthwith chusing Nicanor the son of Patroclus, one of his speciall friends, he sent him with no fewer then twenty thousand of all nations vnder him, to root out the whole generation of the Iewes, and with him he ioyned also Gorgias, a captain, who in matters of warre had great experience.

10 So Nicanor undertooke to make so much money of the captiue Iewes, as should defray the tributes of ten thousand talents, which the King was to pay to the Romanes.

11 Wherefore immediately he sent to the cities vpon the sea coast, proclaiming a sale of the captiue Iewes, and promising that they should haue louty-seare and ten bodies for one talent, not expecting the vengeance that was to follow vpon him from the Almighty God.

12 Now when word was brought vnto Iudas of Nicanors coming, & he had suspected vnto those that were with him, that the army was at hand :

13 They that were careful, and distressed the iustice of God, fled, and comyed themselves away.

14 Others sold all that they had left, and with all besought the Lord to deliuer them, being sold by the wicked Nicanor before they met together :

15 And if not for their owne sakes, yet for the contents he had made with their fathers, and for his holy and glorious Name sake, by which they were called.

16 So Maccabeus called his men together, vnto the number of fixe thousand, and exhorted them not to be stricken with terror of the enemy, nor to feare the great multitude of his heathen, who came wrongfully against them, but to fight manfully.

17 And to let before their eyes the injury that they had vnto the holy place, and the cruell handling of the city, whereof they made a mockery, and also the taking away of the gouernement of their forefathers :

18 For they, God he, trust in their weapons and boldnesse, but our confidence is in the Almighty God, who at a becke can cast downe both them that come against vs, and also all the world.

19 Moreover, hee recounted vnto them what helps their forefathers had found, and how they were deliuered, when vnder Sennacherib an hundred, fourscore and six thousand perished.

20 And he told them of the battell that they had in Babylon with the Galatians, how they came but eight thousand in all to the battell, with more thousand Macedonians, and that the Macedonians being perplexed, the eight thousand destroyed an hundred and twenty thousand, because of the hope that they had from heauen, and so received a great booty.

21 Thus when he had made them bold, with these wordes, and ready to die for the lawes and the contry, he diuided his army into foure parts.

22 And ioyned with him selfe his owne brethren, leaders of each band, to wit, Simon and Ioseph, and Ionathas, giuing each one sixscore hundred men.

23 Also he appointed Eleazar to read the holy booke : and when he had giuen them this word, the helpe of God, himselfe leading the first band, he ioyned battell with Nicanor.

24 And by the helpe of the Almighty they slew aboue nine thousand of their enemies, and wounded and maimed the most part of Nicanors hoste, and so put all to flight.

25 And tooke their money that came to buy them, and pacified them far : but lacking time they returned.

26 For it was the day before the Sabbath and therefore they would no longer pursue them.

27 So when they had gathered their armour together, and spoyled their enemies, they occupied themselves about the Sabbath, yeelding exceeding praise and thanks to the Lord, who had preferred them vnto that day, which was the beginning of mercy diffusing vpon them.

28 And after the Sabbath when they had giuen part of the spoile to the lame and the widowes and orphans, the residue they diuided among themselves, and their seruants.

29 When this was done, and they had made a common supplication, they besought the mercifull Lord to be reconciled with his seruants for euer.

30 Moreover, of those that were with Timotheus, and Bacchides, who fought against them, they few above twenty thousand and very easily got high and strong holds, and divided amongst themselves many spoyles more, and made the mained orphans, widows, yea and the aged also, equal in spoyles with themselves.

37 And when they had gathered their armour together, they laid them vp all carefully in consecrated places, and the remnant of the spoyles they brought to Ierusalem.

38 They slew also Phalarces that wicked person, who was with Timotheus, and had annoyed the Iewes many woes.

39 Furthermore, at such time as they kept the feast for the victory in their countrey, they burnt Callisthenes, that had in fire vpon the holy gates, who was fled into a little house, and so he received a reward meet for his wickednesse.

40 As for that most vngenerous Nicomor who had brought a thousand merchants to buy the Iewes, 41 He was through the help of the Lord, brought down by them, of whom he made least account, & putting off his glorious apparell, and discharging his company, he came like a fugitive Ierusalem through the midland vnto Antioch, having very great dishonour, for that his holie was destroyed.

42 Thus he thatooke vpon him to make good to the Romans, this trouble by means of the captiues in Ierusalem sold abroad, that the Iewes had God to fight for them, and therefore they could not be hurt, because they followed the lawes that he gaue them.

C H A P. IX.

1 Antiochus is chased from Persopolis. 5 He is stricken with a sore disease. 14 and promiseth to become a Jew. 28 He dieth miserably.

ABOUT that time came Antiochus with dishonour out of the countrey of Persia.

2 For he had entered the city called Persopolis, & went about to rob the Temple, and to looke the city, wherupon the multitude turning to defend themselves with their weapons, put them to flight, and so it happened that Antiochus being put to flight of the inhabitation, returned with shame.

3 Now when he came to Ecbatana, he was brought him what had happened vnto Nicomor and Timotheus.

4 Then swelling with anger, hee thought to avenge vpon the Iewes the disgrace done vnto him by those that made him flee. Therefore commanded he his charre-men to driue without ceasing, and to dispatch the iourney, the iudgement of God now following him. For he had spoken proudly in this sort, that he would come to Ierusalem, and make it a common burying place of the Iewes.

5 But the Lord Almighty, the God of Israel smote him with an incurable and insensible plague: for as soone as he had spoken these words, a paine of the bowels, that was remediable came vpon him, and sore tormentes of the inner parts:

6 And that most iustly: for he had tormented other mens bowels with many and strange tormentes.

7 Howbeit hee nothing at all ceased from his bragging, but still was filled with pride, breathing out fire in his rage against the Iewes, and commanding to halt the iourney: but it came to passe that hee fell downe from his chariue, carried violently, so that hauing a sore fall, all the members of his body were much pained.

8 And thus he that a little afore thought hee might command the waves of the Sea, (so proud was he beyond the constitution of man) and weigh the high mountains in a ballance, was now cast on the ground, and carried in a horse-litter, shewing forth vnto all, the manifest power of God.

9 So that the woemes ruse vp out of the body of this wicked man, and whiles he liued in sorrow and paine, his flesh fel away and the skinnesse of his limbe was voyseme to all his army.

10 And the man that thought a little afore hee could reach to the stars of heauen, no man could endure to carry, for his intolerable stinke.

11 Here therefore being plagued, hee began to leaze off his great pride, and to come to the knowledge of himselfe by the scourge of God, his paine murthering every moment.

12 And when he himselfe could not abide his owne stinck, he said these words: It is meet to be subiect vnto God, and that a man that is mortal, should not proudly thinke of himselfe as if he were God.

13 This wicked person vowed alle vnto the Lord, (who now no more would haue mercy vpon him) saying thus:

14 That the holy City (to the which hee was going in haste to lay it euen with the ground, and to make it a common burying place) he would see at liberty.

15 And as touching the Iewes, whom hee had iudged not worthy so much as to be buried, but to be cast out with their children to bee deuoured of the foules and wild beasts, he would make them all equals to the citizens of Athens.

16 And the holy Temple, which before hee had spoiled, he would garnish with goodly gifts, and restore all the holy vessels with many more, and out of his owne reuenge, defray the charges belonging to the sacrificers:

17 Yea, and that alle he would become a Iew himselfe, and goe through all the world that was inhabited, and declare the power of God.

18 But for all this, his paines would not cease for the iust iudgement of God was come vpon him: therefore despairing of his health, he wrote vnto the Iewes the letter vnder written, containing the forme of a supplication, after this manner.

19 Antiochus King and gouernour, to the good Iewes his citizens, withch such joy, health, and prosperitie.

20 If ye and your children fare well, and your affaires bee to your contentment, I giue very great thanks to God, hauing my hope in heauen.

21 As for me, I was weak or else I would haue remembered kindly your honour and good will. Returning out of Persia, and being taken with a grievous disease, I thought it necessary to care for the common saury of all:

22 Not distrusting mine health but hauing great hope to escape this sickness:

23 But considering, that even my father, at what time hee led an army into the high countreys, appointed a successor,

24 To the end, that if any thing fell out contrary to expectation, or if any things were brought that were grievous they of the land knowing whom his State was left, might not be troubled.

25 Again, considering how that the Princes that are borderers and neighbours vnto my kingdom, wait for opportunitie, and expect what shall bee the next, I haue appointed my sonne Antiochus King, whom I often commended, and commended vnto many of you, when I went vp into the high Princes, to whom I haue written, as followeth.

26 Therefore I pray, and request you to remember he is

Of some men of affairs.

her the benefits that I have done unto you generally, and in special, and that every man will be still faithful to me, and my house.

27 For I am persuaded, that he is understanding my mind, will favourably and graciously yield to your desire.

28 Thus the murderer and blasphemer, having suffered most grievously, as he executed other men, so died he a miserable death, in a strange country in the mountains.

29 And Philip that was brought up with him, carried away his body, who also fearing the fume of Antiochus, went into Egypt to Ptolemius Philometor.

CHAP. X.

1 Indat reconereth the city, and purifeth the Temple. 2 Gorgias receiveth the Jews, so Judas winneth their boldness. 3 Timotheus and his men are discovered. 4 Gorgias is taken, and Timotheus slain.

Now Maccabeus and his company, the Lord guiding them, reconereth the Temple and the City.

2 But the altars which the heathen had built in the open street, and also the chappels they pulled down.

3 And having cleansed the Temple, they made another altar, and striking stones, they took fire out of them, and offered a sacrifice after two years, and set forth incense, and lights, and Shew-bread.

4 When that was done, they fell flat down, and besought the Lord that they might come no more into such troubles: but if they knew any more against him, that hee himselfe would chasten them with mercy, and that they might not be delinquent unto the blasphemous and barbarous nations.

5 Now upon the same day that the strangers profaned the Temple, on the very same day it was cleansed againe, even the five and twentieth day of the same month, which is Casleu.

6 And they kept eight dayes with gladnesse, as in the feast of the Tabernacles, remembering that not long afore they had held the fealt of the Tabernacle, when they wandered in the mountains and deserts like heath.

7 Therefore they bare branches and faire boughes, and palmes also, and sang Psalmes unto him that had given them good successe in cleansing his place.

8 They ordained also by a common statute and decree, that every yeere those dayes should be kept of the whole nation of the Jewes.

9 And this was the end of Antiochus, called Epiphanes.

10 Now will we declare the actes of Antiochus Epipator, who was the sonne of this wicked man, gathering briefly the calamities of the wittes.

11 So when he was come to the crowne, he set one Lycius over the affaires of his realm, and appointed him chiefe gouernour over Cosdopia and Phenice.

12 For Ptolemus that was called Macron, chusing rather to doe iustice vnto the Jewes, for the wrong that had bene done vnto them, in dauncour to continue peace with them.

13 Whereupon being accused of [the King] friends before Epipator, and called traitor at every word, because he had lent Cyprus that Philometor had committed vnto him, and departed vnto Antiochus Epiphanes; and seeing that he was in no honourable place, he was so discouraged, that hee poisoned himselfe, and dyed.

14 But when Gorgias was gouernour of the holds, he hired foundlers, and moulders were continually with the Jewes.

15 And therewithall the Idumeans having gotten into their hands the most commodious holds, kept the Jewes occupied, and receiving those that were banished from Ierusalem, they went about to nourish warre.

16 Then they that were with Maccabeus made supplication, and besought God, that he would be their helper, and so they raue with violence vpon the strong hold, of the Idumeans, 17 And assailling them strongly, they won the holds, and kept off all that fought vpon the wall, and flew all that fell into their hands, and killed no fewer then twenty thousand.

18 And because certaynes who were no lesse then nine thousand were fled together into two very strong castles, hauing all manner of things countenance to sustaine the siege;

19 Maccabeus left Simon, and Ioseph, and Zacharias also, and them that were with him, who were enow to besiege them, and departed himselfe vnto those places which more needed his helpe.

20 Now they that were with Simon, being led with countenances, were persuaded for money (through certaynes of those that were in the castle) and tooke seventy thousand drachmes, and let some of them escape.

21 But when it was told Maccabeus what was done, he called the gouernours of the people together, and accused those men, that they had sold their brethren for money, and set their enemies free to fight against them.

22 So he flew those three were found traitors, and immediately tooke the two castles.

23 And hauing good successe with his weapons in all things he took in hand, he flew in the two holds more then twenty thousand.

24 Now Timotheus, whom the Jewes had overcome before, when he had gathered a great multitude of forraigne forces, and hoilds out of Asia, not a few, came as though he would take Iary by force of armes.

25 But when he drew neere, they that were with Maccabeus, turned themselves to pray vnto God, and sprinkled earth vpon their heads, and girded their loynes with sackcloth, 26 And fell downe at the foot of the Altar, and besought him to be mercifull to them, as to be so enemy to their enemies, and an aduertary to their adversaries, as the Law doth teach.

27 So after the prayer they took their weapons, and went on further from the city: and when they drew neere to their enemies, they kept by themselves.

28 Now the Sun being newly risen, they ioynd both together, the one part hauing together with their vertue, their reUGE also vnto the Lord, for a pledge of their successe and victory: the other side making their rage leader of their battell.

29 But when the battell waxed strong, there appeared vnto the enemies from heauen, five comely men vpon horses, with bridles of gold, and two of them led the Jewes.

30 And tooke Maccabeus betwixt them, and opened him on every side with their weapons, and kept him safe, but shot arrowes and lightnings against the enemies: so that being confounded with blindness, and full of trouble, they were killed.

31 And there were slaine [of footmen] twenty thousand and five hundred, and five hundred horsemen.

32 As for Timotheus himselfe, he fled into a very strong hold, called Gaysus, where Chereas was Governour.

23 But they that were with Maccabees, laid siege against the towne for foure dayes.

24 And they that were within, trusting to the strength of the place, blasphemed exceedingly, and vttered wicked words.

25 Now the leue, vpon the fift day early, twenty young men of Maccabees company, inflamed with anger, because of the blasphemies, assailed the wall manly, and with a fierce courage killed all that they met withall.

26 Others likewise ascending after them, whiles they were busied with them that were within, burnt the towres, and kindling fires, burnt the blasphemers alive, and others broke open the gates, and haing remained in the rest of the army,ooke the city.

27 And killed Timotheus, that was hid in a certaine pit, and Chereas his brother, with Apollonius.

28 When this was done, they praised the Lord with Psalms and thanksgiving, who had done so great things for Israel, and given them the victory.

C H A P. XI

1 Lysias thinking to get Hieronimus, is put to flight. 16 The letters of Lysias to the Iewes: 23 Of the King vnto Lysias: 27 and to the Iewes: 34 Of the Romans to the Iewes.

NOT long after this, Lysias the Kings protector and cousin, who also managed the affaires,ooke fore dispenditure for the things that were done.

2 And when he had gathered about fourescore thousand, with all the horsemen, he came against the Iewes, thinking to make the city an habitation of the Gentiles.

3 And to make a gate of the Temple, as of the other chapels of the heathen, and to fetter the high Priesthood in a lawlesse yoke.

4 Not at all considering the power of God, but pushed vp with his ten thousand footmen, and his thousand horsemen, and his fourescore Elephants.

5 So he came to Isata, and drew neere to Bethsura, which was a strong towne, but distant from Ierusalem about five furlongs, and he laid fore siege vnto it.

6 Now when they that were with Maccabees heard that he beseged the holds, they, and all the people with lamentation and teares besought the Lord that hee would send a good Angel to deliuer Israel.

7 Then Maccabees himselfe first of all took weapons, exhorting the other that they would iopard themselves together with him, to helpe their brethren: so they went forth together with a willing mind.

8 And as they were at Ierusalem, there appeared before them on horsebacke, one in white clothing, shaking his armour of gold.

9 Then they praised the mercifull God altogether, andooke heart, inasmuch that they were ready woe ouerly to fight with men, but with most cruell beasts, and to pierce through waller of yron.

10 Thus they marched forward in their armour, hauing a helper from heauen: for the Lord was with them.

11 And giuing a charge vpon their enemies, like lions, they slew them wood and footmen, and fir-teen hundred horsemen, and put all the other to flight.

12 Many of them also being wounded, escaped naked, and Lysias himselfe fled away shamefully, and so escaped.

13 Who as he was a man of vnderstanding, calling with himselfe what losse hee had had, and considering that the Hebrews could not be overcome, because the Almighty God helped them, hee fear vnto them.

14 And perswaded them to agree to all reasonable conditions, and promised Iudas he would perswade the King that hee should be a friend vnto them.

15 Then Maccabees consented to all that Lysias desired; being carefull of the common good, and whatsoever Maccabees wrote vnto Lysias concerning the Iewes, the King granted it.

16 For there were letters written vnto the Iewes from Lysias to this effect: Lysias vnto the people of the Iewes sendeth greeting.

17 Iohu, and Abisalon, who were sent from you, deliuered me the petition subscribed, and made request for performance of the contents thereof.

18 Therefore what things soeuer were meet to be reported to the King, I have declared them, and hee hath granted as much as might be.

19 If then you will keepe your felices loyal to the State, hereafter also will I endeavour to be a means of your good.

20 But of the particulars I haue giuen order both to these, and the other that came from me, to commune with you.

21 Fare ye well. The hundred and eight and foureth yere, the foure and twentieth day, of the month Dyoctoriarius.

22 Now the Kings letter contained these words, King Antiochus, vnto his brother Lysias sendeth greeting.

23 Since our father is translated vnto the gods, our will is, that they that are in our realm keepe quietly, that euerie one may at rest vpon his owne affaires.

24 We vnderstand also, that the Iewes would not conuert to our father, for to be brought vnto the Customs of the Gentiles, but had rather keepe their owne manner of liuing: for the which cause they require vs, that we should suffer them to liue after their owne lawes.

25 Wherefore our mind is, that this nation shall be in rest, and we haue determined to restore them their Temple, that they may liue according to the customes of their forefathers.

26 Thou shalt doe well therefore to send vnto them, and grant them peace, that when they are certified of our mind, they may be of good comfort, and euer goe cheerefully about their owne affaires.

27 And the letter of the King vnto the nation of the Iewes, was after this manner: King Antiochus sendeth greeting vnto the Counsell, and the rest of the Iewes.

28 If ye fare well, we haue our desire, we are also in good health.

29 Menelaus declared vnto vs, that your desire was to recurre home, and to follow your owne businesse.

30 Wherefore they that will depart, shall haue safe conduct, till the thirtieth day of Xanthicus, with security.

31 And the Iewes shall vse their owne kinde of meats, and lawes as before, and none of them any manner of wayes shall bee molested for things ignorantly done.

32 I haue sent also Menelaus, that he may comfort you.

33 Fare ye well. In the hundred forty and eight yeere, and the fifteenth day of the month Xanthicus.

34 The Romans also sent vnto them a letter containing the e words: Quintus Memmius, and Titus Manlius Ambassadors of the Romans, send greeting vnto the people of the Iewes.

35 Whatsoeuer Lysias the Kings comen hath granted, therewith wee also are well pleased.

36 But touching such things as he iudged to her referred to the King: after you haue admitted thereof, send one forthwith, that wee may declare, as it is comument for you: for wee are now going to Antioch.

37 Therefore I ad some with speed, that wee may know what is your mind.

38 Farewell: this hundred and eight and fourtieth yeere, the fifteenth day of the month Xanthicus.

CHAP. XII.

1 The Kings Lincarcians were the Iewes. 2 They of Ioppe drowned two hundred Iewes. 3 Iudas is anoyed vpon them. 4 He maketh peace with the Arabians, 5 and taketh Caspis. Timotheus arriues out of Ierusalem.

WHEN the concordance were made, Lysias went vnto the King, and the Iewes were about their husbandry.

2 But of the gouernours of severall places, Timotheus, and Apollonius the sonnes of Gemus, also Hieronymus, and Demophon, and besides them, Nicor the gouernour of Cyprus, would not suffer them to be quiet, and liue in peace.

3 The men of Ioppe also did such an vngodly deed: they prayed the Iewes that dwelt among them, to goe with their wives and children into the houses which they had prepared, as though they had meant them no hurt.

4 Who accepted of it, according to the common decree of the cite, as being desirous to liue in peace, and suspecting nothing: but when they were gone forth into the deep, they drowned no lesse then two hundred of them.

5 When Iudas heard of this crueltie done vnto his countrymen, he commanded those that were with him [to make them ready.] 6

And calling vpon God, the righteous Iudge, he came against those murderers of his brethren, and burnt the heauen by night, and set the boats on fire, and those that fled thither, he slew.

7 And when the towne was shut vp, he went backward, as if he would returne to roote out all them of the city of Ioppe.

8 But when he heard that the Iamites were minded to doe in like manner vnto the Iewes that dwelt among them, 9 Hee came vpon the Iamites also by night, and set fire on the houses, and the nauie, so that the light of the fire was seen: at Ierusalem, two hundred and fourtie furlongs off.

10 Now when they were gone from thence, nine furlongs in their iourney toward Timotheus, no fewer then five thousand men on foot, and five hundred horsemen of the Arabians, set vpon him.

11 Whereupon there was a very sore battell, but Iudas slew, by the helpe of God, got the victory, so that the Nomades of Arabia, being ouercome, besought Iudas for peace, promising both to giue him castell, and to pleasure him otherwise.

12 Then Iudas thinking indeed that they would be profitable in many things, granted them peace, whereupon they shooke hands, and so they departed to their tents.

13 He went also about to make a bridge to a certaine strong city, which was builded about with walls, and inhabited by people of diuers countreys, and the name of it was Caspis.

14 But they that were within it, put such trust in the strength of the walles, and profusion of victuals, that they belished themselves much towards them that were with Iudas, railing and blaspheming, and uttering such words as were not to be spoken.

15 Wherefore Iudas with his company, calling vpon the great Lord of the world [who without any arms or engines of warre, did cast downe Iericho in the time of Iosias] gane a fierce assault against the walles, 16 And tooke the cite by the will of God, and made vnspeakable slaughter, in much that a lake two furlongs broad, were aduancing thereunto, being filled with blood, and running with blood.

17 Then departed they from thence: seven hundred and fiftie furlongs, and came to Charza, vnto the Iewes that are called Tubieni.

18 But as for Timotheus, they found him not in the place: for before hee had dispatched any thing, hee departed from thence, hauing left a very strong garrison in a certaine hold:

19 Hee went, Dositheus, and Sosipater, who were of Maccabeus captiues, went forth, and slew those that Timotheus had left in the forteffe, about ten hundred men.

20 And Maccabeus ranged his army by bands, and set them ouer the bands, and went against Timotheus, who had about him an hundred and twenty thousand men on foot, and two thousand and five hundred horsemen.

21 Now when Timotheus had knowledge of Iudas coming, hee sent the women, and children and the other baggage, vnto a forteffe called Carnion, (for the towne was hard to besiege, and vncasie to come vnto by reason of the straitnesse of all the places.)

22 But when Iudas his first band came in sight, the enemies (being smitten with feare and terror, through the appearing of him that doeth all things) fled amaine, one running this way, another that way, so as that they were often hurt of their own men, and wounded with the pointes of their owne swords.

23 Iudas also was very earnest in pursuing them, killing those wicked wretches, of whom he slew about thirty thousand men.

24 Moreover, Timotheus himselfe fell into the hands of Dositheus and Sosipater, whom hee brought with much craft to let him goe with his life, because he had many of the Iewes parents, and the brethren of some of them, who if they put him to death, should not be regarded.

25 So when hee had assured them with many words, that he would restore them without hurt, according to the agreement, they let him goe for the sauing of their brethren.

26 Then Maccabeus marched forth to Carnion, and to the Temple of Istaragitis, and there he slew five and twenty thousand persons.

27 And after hee had put to flight and destroyed them, Iudas remoued the host towards Ephron, a strong City, wherein Lysias abode, and a great multitude of divers nations; and the strong young men kept the walls, and defended them mightily: wherein also was great provision of engines and darts.

28 But when Judas and his company had called upon Almighty God, (who with his power breaketh the strength of his enemies) they won the city, and slew twenty and five thousand of them that were within.

29 From thence they departed to Scythopolis, which lieth six hundred furlongs from Jerusalem.

30 But when the Iewes that dwelt there had testified that the Scythopolitans dealt lovingly with them, and entreated them kindly in the time of their adversity:

31 They gave them thanks, desiring them to be friendly still unto them, and so they came to Jerusalem, the Feast of the weekes approaching.

32 And after the Feast called Praxeuff, they went forth against Gorgias the gouernour of Idumea, 33 Who came out with three thousand men of foot, and foure hundred horsemen.

34 And it happened that in their fighting together, a few of the Iewes were slaine.

35 At which time Dositheus, one of Racerors company, who was on horse-backe and a strong man, was kil'd upon Gorgias, and taking hold of his coat, drew him by force, and when he would haue taken that curst man a line, a horseman of Thracia comming upon him, smote off his shoulder, so that Gorgias fled vnto Maris.

36 Now when they that were with Gorgias had fought long, and were weary, Judas called vpon the Lord, that he would shew himselfe to be their helper, and leader of the battell.

37 And with that he began in his owne language, and sung Psalmes with a loud voyce, and railing vniuares vpon Gorgias men, he put them to flight.

38 So Judas entered his host, and came into the city of Odollam. And when the seventh day came, they purified themselves, (as the custome was) and kept the Sabbath in the same place.

39 And vpon the day following, Iasche vs had bene, Judas and his company came to take vp the bodies of them that were slaine, and to bury them with their kinsmen in their fathers graves.

40 Now vnder the coats of euery one that was slaine, they found things forbidden to the idoles of the Iannites, which is forbidden the Iewes by the Law. Then euery man saw that this was the cause wherefore they were slaine.

41 All men therefore praising the Lord the righteous Iudge, who had opened the things that were hid,

42 Besooke themselves vnto prayer, and besought him that the sinne committed, might wholly bee put out of remembrance, Besides that noble Judas exhorted the people to keepe themselves from sinne, for in much as they saw before their eyes the things that came to passe, for the sinne of those that were slaine.

43 And when he had made a gathering throughout the company, to the summe of two thousand drachmes of siluer, he sent it to Jerusalem to offer a sin offering, doing therein very well and honestly, in that he was mindful of the resurrection.

44 (For if he had not hoped that they that were slaine should haue risen againe, it had bene superfluous and vaine, to pray for the dead.)

45 And also in that he perceived that there was great fauour laid vp for those that diyd godly. (It was an holy and good thought) whereupon he made a reconciliation for the dead; that they might be deliuered fro sinne.

C H A P. X I I I.

1 Expator inuadeth Iudaea, 15 Iudas by night foyeth vnto him. 18 Expators purpose is defeated. 22 He maketh peace with Iudas.

IN the hundred forty and ninth yere it was told Iudas, that Antiochus Expator was comming with a great power into Iudaea.

2 And with him Lysias his protectour and ruler of his affaires, hauing either of them a Grecian power of footmen, an hundred and ten thousand, and horsemen six thousand and three hundred, and Siphonates two and twenty, and three hundred charres armed with hookes.

3 Menelaus also soynd himselfe with them, and with great dissimulation encouraged Antiochus, not for the safegard of the countrey, but because he thought to haue bene made gouernour.

4 But the King of kings moued Antiochus mind against this wicked wretch, and Lysias informed the king that this man was the cause of all mischief, so that the King commanded to bring him vnto Berez, and to put him to death, as the manner is in this place.

5 Now there was in that place a tower of fifty cubites high, full of ashes, and it had a round infirmament, which on euery side hanged downe into the Acher.

6 And whoeuer was condemned of sacrifice, or had committed any other grieuous crime, there did all men thrust him vnto death.

7 Such a death it happened that wicked man to die, not hauing so much as buriall in the earth, and that most iustly.

8 For in as much as he had committed many sinnes about the Altar, whose fire and ashes were holy, he received his death in ashes.

9 Now the King came with a barbarous and haughty mind to do farre worse to the Iewes than had bin done in his fathers time.

10 Which things when Judas perceived he commanded the multitude to call vpon the Lord night and day, that if euer at any other time, he would now also helpe them, being at the point to be put from their law from their countrey, and from the holy Temple:

11 And that he would not suffer the people that he had euen now bene but a little refreshed, to be in subiection to the blasphemous nations.

12 So when they had all done this together, and besought the mercifull Lord with weeping, and fasting, and lying flat vpon the ground three dayes long, Iudas hauing exhorted them, commanded they should be in a readinesse.

13 And Iudas being apart with the Elders, determined before the Kings hoste should enter into Iudaea and get the city, to goe forth and try the matter [in fight] by the helpe of the Lord.

14 So when hee had committed [all] to the Creator of the world, and exhorted his souldiers to fight manfully, euen vnto death, for the Lawes, the Temple, the City, the Countrey, and the Common wealth, hee raiued by Modius.

15 And having taken the watch-word to them, that were about him, victory is of God; with the most valiant and choyce young men, he went in into the Kings tent by night and slew in the campe about foure thousand men, and the chiefest of the Ephraims, with all that were vpon him.

 16 And at last they filled the campe with feare and tumult, and departed with good success.
 17 This was done in the breake of the day because the pyrocion of the Lord did helpe him.
 18 Now when the King had taken a taste of the mannesse of the Iewes, hee wrote about to take che hold by policie.
 19 And marched towards Bethsura, which was a strong hold of the Iewes, but hee was put to flight, failed, and lost of his men.
 20 For Iudas had conueied vnto them that were in such things as were necessary.
 21 But Rhodanus, who was in the Iewes hoste, disclosed the secrets to the enemies, therefore he was sought out, and when they had gotten him, they put him in prison.
 22 The King treated with them in Bethsura the second time, gave his hand, tooke theirs, departed, fought with Iudas, was overcome.
 23 Heard that Philip, who was left ouer the affaires in Antioch, was desperately bent, confounded, iurated the Iewes, submitted himselfe, and swore to all equall conditions, agreed with them, and offered sacrifice, honoured the Temple, and dealt kindly with the place.
 24 And accepted well of Maccabens, made him principall gouernour, from Ptolemus vnto the Geruzians.
 25 Came to Ptolemus, the people there were grieved for the Geruzians, for they stormed, because they would make their conuents void.
 26 Lyfias went vnto the Iudgement seat, said as much as could be in defence of the cause, persuaded, pacified, made them well affected, returned to Antioch. Thus it went touching the Kings con-suing and departing.

C R A P. XIII.

6 Alcimus accuseth Iudas, 18 Nicanor maketh peace with Iudas, 39 He seeketh to take Rhafis, 44 who to escape his hands, killeth himselfe.

AFTER three yeeres was Iudas inuaded, the Demetrius the sonne of Seleucus, hauing entered by the haven of Tripolis with a great power and Nauie.
 1 Had taken the countrey, and killed Antiochus and Lyfias his protectour.
 2 Now one Alcimus, who had been high Priest, and had defiled himselfe wilfully in the times of their mingling (with the gentiles) (seeing that by no means hee could see himselfe, nor haue any more access to the holy Altar,
 3 Came to King Demetrius, in the hundredth and one and fiftieth yeere, presenting vnto him a crowne of gold, and a palme, and also of the bouges which were (wielded) solemnly in the Temple: and so that day he held his peace.
 4 Howbeit hauing gotten opportunitie to further his foolish enterprise, and being called into counsell by Demetrius, and asked how the Iewes stood affected, and what they intended, he answered them thus:
 5 That of the Iewes that he called Abdeans (whose Captaine is Iudas Maccabens) now with war, and are seditious, and will not let the realme be in peace.
 7 Therefore I being deprived of my Ancestours honour (I meane the high Priesthood) see now come hither.
 8 First vnto, for the forsaken care, I haue of things pertaining to the king, and secondly, euen for that I intend the good of mine owne Countreymen: for all our nation is in no small misery, through the vniuersall desling of them.

 9 Wherefore, O King, seeing thou knowest all these things, be carefull for the countrey, and our nation which is pressed on euery side, according to the clemencie that thou readily shewest vnto all.
 10 For as long as Iudas liueth, it is not possible that the state should be quiet.
 11 This was no longer spoken of him, but others of the Kings friends, being maliciously set against Iudas, did more incense Demetrius.
 12 And forthwith calling Nicanor, who had bene master of the Elephants, and making him
 Governour ouer Iudea, he sent him forth.
 13 Commanding him to slay Iudas, and to scatter them that were with him, and to make Alcimus high Priest of the great Temple.
 14 Thus the heathen that had fled out of Iudea from Iudas, came to Nicanor by flocks, thinking the harmes and calamities of the Iewes to be their welfare.
 15 Now when the Iewes heard of Nicanors coming, and that the heathen (were) vp against them, they cast earth vpon their heads, and made supplication to him that had established his people for euer, and who alwayes helpeth his portours with manifestation of his presence.
 16 So at the commandement of the captaine, they remooued straightwayes from thence, and came vnto them at the towne of Dessaro.
 17 Now Simon, Iudas brother, had written battle with Nicanor, but was somewhat discomfited, through the sudden silence of his enemies.
 18 News thereof Nicanor hearing of the man-nesse of them that were with Iudas, and the courageous sacrifice that they had to fight for their country, durst not try the matter by the sword.
 19 Wherefore hee sent Psofidonius, and Theo-dotus, and Mattathias to make peace.
 20 So when they had taken long aduisement thereupon, and the captaine had made the multitude acquainted therewith, and it appeared that they were all of one mind, they consented to the conuents.
 21 And appointed a day to meet in together by themselves, and when the day came, and flocks were set forth for them,
 22 Iudas placed armed men ready in conuenient places, lest some treachery should be suddenly practised by the enemies: so they made a peaceable conference.
 23 Now Nicanor abode in Ierusalem, and did no hurt, but sent away the people that came flocking vnto him.
 24 And hee would not willingly haue Iudas out of his sight: for hee loued the man from his heart.
 25 He prayed him also to take a wife, and to beget children: so he married was quiet, and took part of this life.
 26 But Alcimus perceiuing the love that was betwixt them, and considering the conuents that were made, came to Demetrius, and told him that Nicanor was not well affected towards the Iewes:
 for that hee had ordained Iudas, a traitor to his realme, to be the Kings successour.
 27 Then the King being in a rage, and promised with the accusations of the most wicked man, wrote to Nicanor, signifying that he was much displeas'd with the conuents and commanding him that he should send Maccabens prisoner in all hast vnto Antioch.

28 When this came to Nicators hearing, hee was much confounded in himselfe, and tooke it grievously that hee should make voyd the Articles which were agreed vpon, & thus being in no fault.

29 But because there was no dealing against the King, he watched his time to accomplish this thing by policie.

30 Notwithstanding, when Maccabeus saw that Nicator began to be curiously vnder him, and that he increased him more roughly, then he was wont, perceiving that such lowre behauiour came not of good, he gathered together not a few of his men, and withdrew himselfe from Nicator.

31 But the other knowing that hee was notably persecuted by Iudas policie, came into the great and holy Temple, and commanded the Priests that were offering their vitall sacrifices, to deliuer him the man.

32 And when they swore that they could not tell where the man was: whom hee sought, 33 Hee stretched out his right hand toward the Temple, and made an oath in this manner: If you will not deliuer me Iudas as a prisoner, I will lay this Temple of God even with the ground, and I will brake downe the Altar, and erect another temple vnto Brechus.

34 After these words hee departed: Then the Priests lit vp their hands towards heauen, and brought him that was euer a defender of their nation, saying in this manner:

35 Thou, O Lord of all things, who hast need of nothing, wilt please that the temple of thine habitation should be among vs:

36 Therefore now, O holy Lord of all holiness, keep this house euer vndefiled, which lately was cleane d. and keep euer vnto righteous mouth.

37 Now was there accented vnto Nicator one Balthazar, one of the Elders of Ierusalem, lover of his country me, and a man of very good report, who for his kindnes was called a father of the Iewes.

38 For in the former times, when they mingled not themselves with the Gentiles he had bene accused of Iudaisme, and holdly and leagard his body and life, with all p[er]secution for his religion of the Iewes.

39 So Nicator with his soldiers thought that he bare vnto the Iewes, first a thousand hundred men of warre to take him.

40 For hee thought by taking him, to doe [the Iewes] much hurt.

41 Now when the multitude would haue taken the towre, and violently broken into the doore, and bade that fire should bee brought to burne it, hee being ready to be taken on euery side, fell vpon his sword:

42 Choosing rather to die manfully, then to come into the hands of the wicked, to be abused otherwise then becomed his noble birth.

43 But missing his stroke through haste, the multitude also rushing within the doores, he ran boldly vp to the wall, and cast himselfe downe manfully among the thickest of them.

44 But they quickly going backe; and a space being made, hee fell downe into the midst of the void place.

45 Neuertheless, while there was yet breath within him, being enflamed with anger, he rose vp, and though his blood gushed out like founts of water, and his wounds were grievous, yet hee ranne thorow the midst of the throng, and standing vpon a steepe rocke.

46 When as his blood was now quite gone, he plucked out his bowels, and taking them in both his hands, he cast them vpon the throng: and calling vpon the Lord of life and spirite to restore him, those againstes thus dyed.

C H A P. XV.

3 Nicator's blasphemy. 3 Iudas encourageth his men by his dreame. 28 Nicator is slain.

Byc Nicator hearing that Iudas and his company were in the strong places about Samaria, refused without any danger, to let them on the Sabbath day.

2 Neuertheless, the Iewes that were commanded to goe with him said, O destroy not so cruelly, and barbarously, but give honour to that day, which is that seeth all things, hath honoured with holinesse, above [other dayes]

3 Then this most vngracious wretch demanded if there were a mighty one in heauen that had commanded the Sabbath day to be kept.

4 And when they said, There is in heauen a living Lord, and mighty, who conuinceth the mouth day to be kept,

5 Then said the other, And I also am mighty vpon earth: and I command to take away, and to doe the Kings business: yet he obtained not to haue his wicked will done.

6 So Nicator in exceeding pride & haughtinesse, determined to set vp a publicke monument of his victory over Iudas, and them that were with him.

7 But Maccabeus had euer faste remembered that the Lord would helpe him.

8 Wherefore hee exhorted his people not to feare the cunning of the heathen against them, but to remember the helpe which in many times they had receiued from heauen, and now to expect the victory and aid which should come vnto them from the Almighty.

9 And so comforting them out of the Law and the Prophets, and withall putting them in minde of the barrels that they woune store, he made them more cheerefull.

10 And when hee had stirred vp their minds, hee gaue them their charge, shewing them there withall the falshood of the heathen, and the breach of oathes.

11 Thus hee armed euery one of them not so much with defence of shields and speares, as with comfortable and good words; and besides that hee told them a dreame worthy to be beleued, as it had bene so indeed, which did not a little reioyce them.

12 And this was his vision, that Othias who had bene high Priest, a vertuous and a good man, renowned in conversation, gentle in condition, well spoken also, and exercised from a child in all points of vertue, holding vp his hands, prayed for the whole body of the Iewes.

13 This done, in like manner there appeared a man with gray haire, and exceeding glorious, who was of a wonderfull and excellent maiestie.

14 Then Othias answered saying, This is a house of the brethren, who prayeth much for the people, and for the holy city, (to wit) Ieremias the Prophet of God.

15 Whereupon Ieremias holding forth his right hand, gaue to Iudas a sword of gold, and in giuing it, spake thus:

16 Take this holy sword, a gift from God, with the which thou shalt wound the aduersaries.

17 Thus being well comforted by the words of Iudas, which were very good, and able to stir them vp to valour, and to encourage the hearts of the young men, they determined not to pitch campe, but courageously to set upon them, and manfully to cry the matter by conflict: because the citie, and the Sanctuary, and the Temple were in danger.

18 For the care that they tooke for their wives and their children, their brethren and kindred, was in least account with them: but the greatest and principall care was for the holy Temple.

19 Also they that were in the city, tooke not the least care, being troubled for the conflict abroad.

20 And now when as all looked what should be the triall, and the enemies were already commenee, and the army was set in aray, and the beasts courageously placed, and the horsemen set in wings;

21 Maccabeus seeing the comming of the multitude, and the diners preparations of armour, and the fierceness of the beasts, stretched out his hands towards heaven, and called upon the Lord that worketh wonders, knowing that victory cometh not by armes, but even as it seemeth good to him, he giveth it to such as are worthy:

22 Therefore in his prayer he said after this manner: O Lord, thou didst send thine Angel in the time of Ezekias king of Iudaea, and didst slay in the height of Sennacherib an hundred fourscore and five thousand:

23 Wherefore now also, O Lord of heaven, send a good Angel before vs for a lease and dread unto them.

24 And through the might of thine arme, let those be stricken with terror, that come against thy holy people to blaspheme. And he ended thus.

25 Then Nicanor, and they that were with him, came forward with trumpets and songs.

26 But Iudas and his company encountered the turues with innocation and prayer.

27 So that fighting with their hands, and praying unto God with their hearts, they slew no lesse then thirty and five thousand men: for through the appearance of God, they were greatly increased.

28 Now when the battell was done, returning againe with joy, they knew that Nicanor lay dead in his harness.

29 Then they made a great shout, and a voice, praising the Almighty in their owne language.

30 And Iudas, who was ever the chief defender of the citizens, both in body and mind, and who continued his love towards his country-men all his life, commanded to strike off Nicanors head, and his hand, with his shoulder, and bring them to Ierusalem.

31 So when he was there, and had called them of his nation together, and set the Priests before the Altar, hee feat for them that were of the towne;

32 And showed them vile Nicanors head, and the hand of that blasphemer, which with proud brag he had stretched out against the holy Temple of the Almighty.

33 And when hee had cut out the tongue of that vngodly Nicanor, hee commanded that they should give it by pieces unto the foules, and hang up the reward of his madnesse before the Temple.

34 So every man praised towards the heauen, the glorious Lord, saying, Blessed be he that hath kept his owne place undefiled.

35 Hee hanged also Nicanors head upon the towre, an evident and manifest signe unto all of the helpe of the Lord.

36 And they ordained all with a common decree, in no case to let that day passe without solemnity: but to celebrate the thirteenth day of the twentieth month, which in the Syrian tongue is called Adar, the day before Mardocheus day.

37 Thus went it with Nicanor, and from that time forth, the Hebrews had the day in their power: and hee will I make an end.

38 And in I have done well, and as is fitting the story, it is that which I desired: but if slenderly, and meanely, it is that which I could attaine unto.

39 For as it is hurtfull to drinke wine, or water alone, and as wine mingled with water, is pleasant, and delighteth the taste thereof, speech finely framed, delighteth the eares of them that read the story. And here shall be an end.

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO S. MATTHEW.

CHAP. I.

The genealogie of Christ from Abraham to Joseph. 18. He was conceived by the holy Ghost, and borne of the Virgin Mary when she was espoused to Joseph. 19 The Angel satisfieth the misdeeming thoughts of Joseph, and interpreteth the Names of Christ.

He booke of the generation of Iesus Christ, the sonne of David, the son of Abraham.

1 * Abraham begate Isaac, and Isaac begate Jacob, and Jacob begate Iudas and his brethren.

2 And * Iudas begate Phares, and Phares begate Esrom, and Esrom begate Aram.

3 And Aram begate Aminadab, and Aminadab begate Naasson, and Naasson begate Salmon.

4 And Salmon begate Boaz of Raab, and Boaz begate Obed of Ruth, and Obed begate Iesse.

5 And * Iesse begate David the King, and David the king begate Solomon, of her that had bene the wife of Uriah.

6 And * Solomon begate Roboam, and Roboam begate Abia, and Abia begate Afi.

7 And Afi begate Iosaphat, and Iosaphat begate Ioram, and Ioram begate Ozias.

8 And Ozias begate Ioscham, and Ioscham begate Achaz, and Achaz begate Ezekias.

9 And * Ezekias begate Manasses, and Manasses begate Amon, and Amon begate Iosias.

10 And * Iosias begate Iechonias, and his brethren about the time they were carried away to Babylon.

11 And after they were brought to Babylon, Iechonias begate Salathiel, and Salathiel begate Zerobabel.

12 And Zerobabel begate Abiud, and Abiud begate Eliakim, and Eliakim begate Azor.

13 And Azor begate Sadoc, and Sadoc begate Achim, and Achim begate Eliud.

14 And Eliud begate Eleazar, and Eleazar begate Matthan, and Matthan begate Iacob.

15 And Iacob begate Joseph the husband of Mary, of whom was borne Iesus, who is called Christ.

16 So all the generations from Abraham to David, are fourteen generations: And from David, until the carrying away into Babylon, are fourteen generations: And from the carrying away into Babylon unto Christ, are fourteen generations.

17 ¶ Now the birth of Iesus Christ was on this wise: When as his mother Mary was espoused to Ioseph (before they came together) she was found with child of the holy Ghost.

18 Then Ioseph her husband being that man and not willing to make her a publicke example, was minded to put her away privily.

19 But while he thought on these things, behold, the Angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a dreame, saying, Ioseph, thou sonne of David, feare not to take unto thee Mary thy wife: for that which is conceived in her, is of the holy Ghost.

20 And these shall bring fourth a Sonne, and thou shalt call his name Iesus: for he shall save his people from their sinnes.

21 ¶ (Now all this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the Prophet, saying,

22 * Behold, a Virgin shall be with child, and shall bring fourth a Sonne, and he shall call his Name Emmanuel, which being interpreted, is, God with vs.)

23 Then Ioseph being raised from sleepe, did as the Angel of the Lord had hidden him, and took unto him his wife:

24 And knew her not, till she had brought fourth her first borne Sonne, and he called his Name Iesus.

CHAP. II.

1 The wisemen of the East, are directed to Christ by a Starre. 11 They worship him, and offer their presents. 14 Ioseph fleeth into Egypt with Iesus and his mother. 20 Herod sleaeth the children: 26 Himselfe dieth: 27 Christ is brought backe againe into Galilee to Nazareth.

Now when * Iesus was borne in Bethlehem of Iudea, in the dayes of Herod the King, behold, there came wise men from the East to Hierusalem, saying, Where is he that is borne King of the Iewes? for we have seene his Starre in the East, and are come to worship him.

2 When Herod the King had heard these things, he was troubled, and all Hierusalem with him.

3 And when he had gathered all the chief Priests and Scribes of the people together, he demanded of them where Christ should be borne.

4 And they said unto him, In Bethlehem of Iudaea: for thus it is written by the Prophet,

5 * And thou Bethlehem in the land of Iuda, art not the least among the Princes of Iuda: for out of thee shall come a gouernour, that shall rule my people Israel.

6 ¶ Then Herod when he had priuily called the Wisemen, enquired of them diligently what time the Starre appeared:

7 And he sent them to Bethlehem, and said, Goe and search diligently for the young child, and when ye haue found him, bring the word againe, that I may come and worship him: altho

8 When they had heard the King, they departed: & hee the Starre with them: till they were come to the place before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was.

10 When they saw the Star, they rejoyced with exceeding great joy.

11 ¶ And when they were come into the house, they saw the young child with Mary his mother, and fell downe, and worshipped him: and when they had opened their treasures, they presented unto him gifts, gold, and frankincense, and myrrhe.

12 And being warned of God in a dreame, that they should not returne to Herod, they departed into their owne countrey another way.

13 And when they were departed, behold, the Angell of the Lord appeareth to Joseph in a dreame, saying, Arise, and take the young child, and his mother, and flee into Egypt, and bee thou there untill I bring thee word: for Herod will seeke the young child to destroy him.

14 When he arose he tooke the young child, and his mother by night, and departed into Egypt.

15 And was there untill the death of Herod, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the Prophet, saying, * Out of Egypt have I called my Sonne.

16 ¶ Thus Herod, when he saw that he was mocked of the Wisemen, was exceeding wroth, and sent forth, and slew all the children that were in Bethlehem, and in all the coasts thereof, from two yeeres old, and under, according to the time which he had diligently enquired of the wisemen.

17 Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by * Ieremie the Prophet, saying, 18 In Rama was there a voice heard, lamentation, and weeping, and great mourning, Rachel weeping for her children, and would not be comforted, because they are not.

19 ¶ But when Herod was dead, behold, an Angell of the Lord appeareth in a dreame to Joseph in Egypt, 20 Saying, Arise, and take the young child and his mother, and goe into the land of Israel for they are dead which sought the young childes life.

21 And he arose, & tooke the young child, and his mother, and came into the land of Israel.

22 But when he heard that Archelus did reigne in Iudea in the roomes of his father Herod, he was afraid to goe thither: notwithstanding, being warned of God in a dreame, he turned aside into the parts of Galilee.

23 And he came and dwelt in a city called Nazareth, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Prophets, He shall be called a Nazarene.

CHAP. III.

¶ John preacher: his office, life, and baptisme. 7 Herod beheadeth the Pharisees: and baptiseth Christ in Iordan.

IN those dayes came * John the Baptist, preaching in the wilderness of Iudea.

1 And saying, Repent ye: for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.

2 For this is he that was spoken of by the Prophet Esaias, saying, * The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight.

3 And the same John had his raiment of camels haire, and a leathern girdle about his loines, and his meate was locusts and wild honey.

4 Then went out to him Hierusalem, and all Iudea, and all the region round about Jordan.

5 And were baptized of him in Jordan, confessing their finnes.

6 ¶ But when he saw many of the Pharisees and Saducees come to his Baptisme, he said unto them, * O generation of vipers, who hath warned you to beu from the wrathe come?

7 Bring forth therefore fruites [meet for repentance.

8 And thinke not to say within your selves, * We haue Abraham to our father: for I say unto you, that God is able to thicke stones to raise vp children vnto Abraham.

9 And now also the axe is laid vnto the roote of the trees: therefore euery tree which bringeth not forth good fruit, is hewen downe, and cast into the fire.

10 ¶ I indeed baptize you with water vnto repentance: but he that cometh after mee, is mightier then I, whose shooes I am not worthy to beare, hee shall baptize you with the holy Ghost, and with fire.

11 While hee is in his hand, and he will thorowly purge his floore, and gather his wheat into the garner: but will burne vp the chaffe with vnquenchable fire.

12 ¶ Then cometh Iesus from Galilee to Iordan vnto Iohn, to be baptized of him:

13 But Iohn forbade him, saying, I haue neede to be baptized of thee, and comest thou to mee?

14 And he insuering, said vnto him, Suffer it to be so now: for thus it becometh vnto vs, fulfill all righteousnesse. Then he suffered him.

15 And Iohn being was baptized, went vp straightway out of the water: and loe, the heauens were opened vnto him, and he saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove, and lighting vpon him.

16 And loe, 2 voice from heauen, saying, This is my beloved Sonne, in whom I am well pleased.

CHAP. IV.

¶ Christ fasteth, and is tempted. 11 The Angell minister vnto him. 12 Hee dotheth in Capernaum, 17 begetteth to preach, 28 calleth Peter and Andro, 31 James and Iohn: 23 and heareth all the deuisid.

¶ Then was * Iesus led vp of the Spirit into the wilderness to bee tempted of the deuil.

2 And when he had fasted forty dayes, and forty nights, he was afterward an hungred.

3 And when the tempter came to him, he said, If thou be the Sonne of God, command that these stones be made bread.

4 But he answered, and said, It is written, * Man shall not liue by bread alone, but by euery word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.

5 Then the deuil taketh him vp into the holy city, and seteth him on a pinnacle of the Temple.

6 And saith vnto him, If thou be the Sonne of God, cast thy selfe downe: for it is written, * He shall give his Angells charge concerning thee, and in their hands they shall beare thee vp, lest at any time thou dash thy foot against a stone.

7 Iesus said vnto him, It is written againe, * Thou shalt not tempte the Lord thy God.

8 Againe the deuil taketh him vp into an exceeding high mountaine, and sheweth him all the kingdomes of the world, and the glory of them:

9 And saith vnto him, All these things will I give thee, if thou wilt fall downe and worship mee.

10 Then saith Iesus vnto him, Cec thee hence, Satan: for it is written, * Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him onely shalt thou serue.

11 Then the deuil leaureth him, and behold, Angells came and ministered vnto him.

12 ¶ Now when Iesus had heard that Iohn was in Galilee,

13 And leaning Nazareth, he came and dwelt in Capernaum, which is upon the Sea coast, in the borders of Zabulon and Nephthali :

14 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Isaiah the Prophet, saying,

15 * The land of Zabulon, and the land of Nephthali by the way of the Sea beyond Jordan, Galilee of the Gentiles :

16 The people which sat in darkness saw great light : and to them which sat in the region and shadow of death, light is sprung up.

17 * From that time Jesus began to preach, & to say, Repent, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.

18 * And Jesus walking by the Sea of Galilee, saw two brethren, Simon called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the Sea, (for they were fishers.)

19 And he saith unto them : Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men.

20 And they straightway left their nets, and followed him.

21 And going on from thence, he saw other two brethren, James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, in a ship with Zebedee their father, mending their nets : and he called them.

22 And they immediately left the ship, and their father, and followed him.

23 * And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their Synagogues, and preaching the Gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of sicknesses, and all manner of diseases among the people.

24 And his fame went throughout all Syria, and they brought unto him all sicken people that were taken with divers diseases and torments, and those which were possessed with devils, and those which were lunaticke, and those that had the palfie, and hee healed them.

25 And there followed him great multitudes of people from Galilee, and from Decapolis, and from Hierusalem, and from Iudea, and from beyond Jordan.

C H A P. V.

Christ beginneth his doctrine in the mount : 3 declaring who are blessed, 13 who are the salt of the earth, 14 the light of the world, the city on an hill, 15 the candle : 17 that he came to fulfill the law : 21 What is to kill, 27 so commit adultery, 33 to swear : 38 Exhorteth us to suffer wrong, 44 to love even our enemies, 48 and so labour after perfectnesse.

And seeing the multitudes, he went up into a mountain : and when he was set, his Disciples came unto him.

2 And hee opened his mouth, and taught them, saying,

3 * Blessed are the poore in spirit : for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

4 Blessed are they that mourne : for they shall be comforted.

5 * Blessed are the meek : for they shall inherit the earth.

6 Blessed are they which doe hunger and thirst after righteousness : for they shall be filled.

7 Blessed are the mercifull : for they shall obtaine mercy.

8 * Blessed are the pure in heart : for they shall see God.

9 Blessed are the peace-makers : for they shall be called the children of God.

10 * Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness sake : for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

11 Blessed are ye, when men shall reuile you, and persecute you, and shall say all manner of evil against you : for my sake.

12 Reioyce and be exceeding glad : for great is your reward in heaven : for so persecuted they the Prophets which were before you.

13 * Ye are the salt of the earth : but if the salt hath lost his saluour, wherewith shall it be salted ? It is therefore good for nothing, but to be cast out, and to be troden vnder foor of men.

14 Ye are the light of the world. A city that is set on an hill cannot be hid.

15 Neither doe men light a candle, and put it vnder a bushell : but on a candlesticke, and it giveth light vnto all that are in the house.

16 Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorifie your Father which is in heaven.

17 * Thinke not that I am come to destroy the Law or the Prophets : I am not come to destroy, but to fulfill.

18 For verely I say vnto you, * Till heaven and earth passe, one iot, or one tittle, shall in no wise passe from the Law, till all be fulfilled.

19 * Whosoever therefore shall breake one of these least Commandements, & shall teach men so, he shall be called the least in the kingdom of heaven : but whosoever shall doe, and teach them, the same shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven.

20 For I say vnto you, That except your righteousness shall exceed the righteousness of the Scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no wise enter into the kingdom of heaven.

21 * Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time, * Thou shalt not kill : whosoever shall kill, shall be in danger of the iudgement.

22 But I say vnto you, That whosoever is angry with his brother without a cause, shall be in danger of the iudgement : and whosoever shall say to his brother, Racha, shall be in danger of the counsell : but whosoever shall say, Thou fool, shall be in danger of hell fire.

23 Therefore if thou bring thy gift to the Altar, and there remember that thy brother hath ought against thee :

24 Leave there thy gift before the Altar, and goe thy way, first be reconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift.

25 * Agree with thine adversary quickly, whiles thou art in the way with him : lest at any time the adversary deliuer thee to the Iudge, and the Iudge deliuer thee to the Officer, and thou be cast into prison.

26 Verely I say vnto thee, thou shalt by no means come out thence, till thou hast paid the uttermost farthing.

27 * Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time, * Thou shalt not commit adultery.

28 But I say vnto you, That whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her, hath committed adultery with her already in his heart.

29 * And if thy right eye offend thee, plucke it out, and cast it from thee : for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not that thy whole body should be cast into hell.

30 And if thy right hand offend thee, cut it off, and cast it from thee : for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not that thy whole body should be cast into hell.

31 It hath been said, * Whosoever shall perjure his wife, let him give her a writing of divorcement.

32 But I say vnto you, That whosoever shall put away his wife, saining for the cause of fornication, saith he to commit adultery: and whofoever shall marry her that is divorced, committeth adultery.

32 ¶ Againe, yee haue heard that it hath bene said by them of old time, * Thou shalt not forswear thy selfe, but shalt performe vnto the Lord thine oathes.

33 But I say vnto you. Swear not at all, neither by heauen, for it is Gods throne:

34 Nor by the earth, for it is his foorstool: neither by ierusalem, for it is the city of the great King:

35 Neither shalt thou sweare by thy head, because thou canst not make one haire white or blacke.

36 * But let your communication be, Yes, yea: No, nay: for whatsoeuer is more then these, cometh of euill.

37 ¶ Ye haue heard that it hath bene said, * An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth.

38 But I say vnto you, * That ye resist not euill: but whofoever shall smite thee on the right cheek, turne to him the other also.

39 And if any man will sue thee at the law, and take away thy coat, let him haue thy cloake also.

40 And whofoever shall compell thee to goe a mile, goe with him twaine.

41 Give to him that asketh thee: and * from him that would borrow of thee, turne not thou away.

42 ¶ Ye haue heard, that it hath bene said, * Thou shalt loue thy neighbour, and hate thine enemy:

43 But I say vnto you, * Loue your enemies, blesse them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and * pray for them which despitefully vie with you, and persecute you:

44 That ye may be the children of your Father which is in heauen: for he maketh his Sun to rise on the euill and on the good, and sendeth raine on the iust, and on the vniust.

45 ¶ For if ye love them which loue you, what reward haue ye? Doe not euen the Publicanes the same?

46 And if ye salme your brethren onely, what doe you more then others? Doe not euen the Publicanes so?

47 Be yee therefore perfect, euen as: our Father which is in heauen is perfect.

CHAPTER VI.

1 Christ continueth his Sermon in the mount, speaking of almes, 5 prayer, 14 forgiving our brethren, 16 fasting, 19 where our treasure is to be laid up, 24 Offending God and Man, 25 Exhorteth vs to be careful for worldly things, 33 be to the Gods Kingdome.

¶ Take heed that ye doe not your almes before men to be seene of them: otherwise yee haue no reward of your Father which is in heauen.

2 Therefore, when thou doest thine almes, let not be heard a trumpet before thee as the hypocrites doe in the Synagogues, and in the streets, that they may haue glory of men. Verely, I say vnto you, they haue their reward.

3 But when thou doest almes: let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth, 4 That thine almes may be in secret: And thy Father which seeth in secret, himselfe shall reward thee openly.

5 ¶ And when thou prayest, thou shalt not be as the hypocrites are: for they loue to pray standing in the Synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seene of men. Verely, I say vnto you, they haue their reward.

6 But thou when thou prayest, enter into thy chamber, and when thou hast shut thy doore, pray to thy Father which is in secret, and thy Father which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly.

7 But when ye pray, ye will vaine * repetitions, as the heathen doe: for they thinke that they shall bee heard, for their much speaking.

8 See not ye therefore like vnto them: For your Father knoweth what things ye haue used of before ye aske him.

9 After this manner therefore pray ye: * Our Father which art in heauen, hallowed be thy Name.

10 Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done in earth as it is in heauen.

11 Give vs this day our daily bread.

12 And forgive vs our debts, as we forgive our debtors.

13 And lead vs not into temptation, but deliuer vs from euill: for thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for euer. Amen.

14 ¶ For if ye forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you.

15 But if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

16 ¶ Moreover, when ye fast, be not as the hypocrites, of a sad countenance: for they desire to be seene of men: that they may appear vnto men to fast: Verely, I say vnto you, they haue their reward.

17 But thou when thou fastest, anoint thine head, and wash thy face:

18 That thou appere not vnto men to fast, but vnto thy Father which is in secret: and thy Father which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly.

19 ¶ Lay not up for you treasures vpon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves breake thorow, and steale.

20 But lay up for you selues treasures in heauen, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves doe not breake thorow, and steale.

21 For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

22 ¶ The light of the body is the eye: If therefore thine eye be single, thy whole body shall be full of light.

23 But if thine eye be euill, thy whole bodie shall be full of darknesse. If therefore the light that is in thee be darknesse, how great is that darknesse?

24 ¶ No man can serue two masters: for either he will hate the one and loue the other, or else he will hold up the one and despise the other. Ye cannot serue God and Manum.

25 Therefore I say vnto you, take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drinke, nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on: is not the life more then meat, and the body then raiment?

26 Behold, the foules of the aire: for they sowe not, neither doe they reape, nor gather into barnes, yet your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are ye not much better then they?

27 Which of you by taking thought, can add one cubite vnto his stature?

28 And why take ye thought for raiment? Consider the Lillies of the field, how they grow: they toyle not, neither doe they spinne, 29 And yet I say vnto you that euen Solomon in all his glory, was not arrayed like one of these.

30 Wherefore if God do clothe the grasse of the field, which to day is, and to morrow is cast into the steepe: shall he not much more clothe you, O ye of little faith?

31 Therefore take no thought, saying, What shall we we eat? or what shall we drink? or wherewithall shall we be dothed?

32 (For after all these things doe the Gentiles seek:) for your heavenly Father knoweth that ye haue need of all these things.

33 But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousnesse, and all these things shall be added vnto you.

34 Take therefore no thought for the morrow: for the morrow shall take thought for the things of it selfe: sufficient vnto the day is the euill thereof.

CHAP. VII.

1 Christ ending his Sermon in the mounte ypropheseth with iudgement, 6 forbiddeth so cast thy thinge to the right, 7 exhorteth to prayer, 13 to care in as the straight gate, 15 to beware of false prophets, 25 not to be heareers but doers of the words, 29 the house builded on a rocke, 36 and 37 on the sand.

1 Iudge not, that ye be not iudged.

2 For with what iudgement ye iudge, ye shall be iudged: and with what measure ye mete it shall be measured to you againe.

3 And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brothers eye, but considerest not the beam that is in thine owne eye?

4 Or how wilt thou say to thy brother, Let me pull out the mote out of thine eye, and behold, a beam: is it in thine owne eye?

5 Thou hypocrite, first cast out the beam out of thine owne eye: and then shalt thou see clearly to cast out the mote out of thy brothers eye.

6 ¶ Give not that which is holy vnto the dogs, neither cast ye your pearles before swine: lest they trample them vnder their feet, and turne againe and rent you.

7 ¶ Ake, and it shall be giuen you: seeke, and ye shall finde: knocke, and it shall be opened vnto you.

8 For euery one that aethers receiuaeth: and he that sekerth, findeth: and to him that knocketh, it shall be opened.

9 Or what man is there of you, whom if his friend aske bread, will he giue him a stone?

10 Or if he aske a fish, will he giue him a serpent?

11 If ye then being euill, know how to giue good gifts vnto your children, how much more shall your Father which is in heauen giue good things to them that aske him?

12 Therefore all things whatsoeuer ye would that men should doe to you, doe ye euen so to them: for this is the Law and the Prophets.

13 ¶ Enter ye in at the straight gate, for wide is the gate, and broad is the way that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which goe in thereat:

14 ¶ Because strait is the gate, and narrow is the way which leadeth vnto life, and few there be that find it.

15 ¶ Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheepes clothing, but inwardly they are rauening wolves.

16 Ye shall know them by their fruites: do men gather grapes of thornes, or figs of thistles?

17 Euen so euery good tree bringeth forth good fruit: but a corrupt tree bringeth forth euill fruit.

18 A good tree cannot bring forth euill fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit.

19 ¶ Eueny tree that bringeth not forth good fruit, is hewen downe, and cast into the fire.

20 Wherefore by their fruites ye shall know them.

21 ¶ Not euery one that saith vnto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the Kingdome of heauen:

but he that doth the will of my Father which is in heauen.

22 Many will saye vnto me in that day, Lord, Lord, haue we not prophesied in thy Name? and in thy Name haue cast out deuils? and in thy Name done many wonderful workes?

23 And then I will professe vnto them, I knowe you not: Depart from me ye that worke iniquity.

24 ¶ Therefore who soeuer heareth these sayings of mine, and doth them, I will liken him vnto a wise man, which buildeth his house vpon a rocke.

25 And the raine descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat vpon that house: and it fell not: for it was founded vpon a rocke.

26 And euery one that heareth these sayings of mine, and doth them not, shall be likened vnto a foolish man, which buildeth his house vpon the sand.

27 And the raine descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat vpon that house: and it fell, and great was the fall thereof.

28 And it came to passe, when Iesus had ended these sayings, the people were astonished at his doctrine.

29 For he taught them as one hauing authority, and not as the Scribes.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Christ cleanseth the Leper, 5 healeth the Centurion's seruant, 14 Peters mother in law, 18 and many other diseases: 23 sheweth how he is to be followed: 27 blisseth the temple, and the Jews drineth the deale out of two man's poffets, 32 and suffereth them to goe into the synag.

1 When he was come downe from the mounte, many great multitudes followed him.

2 ¶ And behold, there came a leper, and worshipped him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me cleane.

3 And Iesus put forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will be thou cleane. And immediatly his leprosie was cleansed.

4 And Iesus saith vnto him, See thou tell no man, but goe thy way, shew thy selfe to the Priest, and offer the sacrifice that Moses commanded, for a testimony vnto them.

5 ¶ And when Iesus was entered into Capernaum, there came vnto him a Centurion, beseeching him,

6 And saying, Lord, my seruant lyeth at home sicke of the palse, grievously tormented.

7 And Iesus saith vnto him, I will come and heale him.

8 The Centurion answered, and said, Lord, I am not worthy that thou shouldst come vnder my roofe: but speake the word onely, and my seruant shall be healed.

9 For I am a man vnder authority, hauing soldiers vnder me: and I say to this man, Goe, and he goeth: and to another, Come, and he cometh: and to my seruant, Doe this, and he doeth it.

10 When Iesus heard it, he marvelled, and said to them that followed, Verely, I say vnto you, I haue not found so great faith, no not in Israel.

11 And I say vnto you, that many shall come from the East, and West, and shall sit downe with Abraham, and Isaac, and Iacob, in the kingdome of heauen:

12 But the children of the kingdome shall be cast out into ouer darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

13 And Iesus said vnto the Centurion, Goe thy way, and as thou hast beleued, so be it done vnto thee.

thee. And his Ceruus was healed in the selfe sam^o hour.

14 ¶ And when Iesus was come into Peters house, he saw his wifes mocher laid, and sicke of a feuer :

15 And he touched her hand, and the feuer left her : and she arose, and ministered vnto them.

16 ¶ When the Euen was come, they brought vnto him many that were possessed with deuilis : and he cast out the spirits with his word, and healed all that were sicke, 17 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Elias the Prophet, saying, * Himselfe tooke our infirmities, and bare our sicknesse.

18 ¶ Now when Iesus saw great multitudes about him, he gaue commandement to depart vnto the other side.

19 * And a certaine Scribe came, and said vnto him, Master, I will follow thee whither soeuer thou goest.

20 And Iesus saith vnto him, The foxes haue holes, and the birds of the aire haue nests : but the Sonne of man hath not where to lay his head.

21 And another of his Disciples said vnto him, Lord, suffer me to goe, and bury my father.

22 But Iesus said vnto him, Follow me, and let the dead bury their dead.

23 ¶ And when he was entred into a ship, his Disciples followed him.

24 ¶ And behold, there arose a great tempest in the Sea, inasmuch that the ship was couered with the waves : but he was asleepe.

25 And his Disciples came to him, and awoke him, saying, Lord, save vs : we perish.

26 And he saith vnto them, Why are ye fearful, O ye of little faith ? Then he arose, and rebuked the winds, & the Sea, and there was a great calme.

27 But the men marvelled, saying, What manner of man is this, that euen the winds and the Sea obey him ?

28 ¶ And when he was come to the other side, into the country of the Gergesens, there met him two possessed with deuilis coming out of the Tombs, exceeding fierce, so that no man might passe by that way.

29 And behold, they cried out, saying, What haue we to doe with thee, Ieusthon Son of God ? Art thou come hither to torment vs before the time ?

30 And there was a good way off from them, an herd of many swine feeding.

31 So the deuilis besought him, saying, If thou cast vs out, suffer vs to go away into the herd of swine.

32 And he said vnto them, Goe. And when they were come out, they went into the herd of swine : and behold, the whole herd of swine ran violently downe a steeps place into the Sea, and perished in the waters.

33 And they that kept them, fled, and went their wayes into the city, and told every thing, and what was befallen to the possessed of the deuilis.

34 And behold, the whole city came out to meet Iesus : and when they saw him, they besought him that he would depart out of their coasts.

C H A P. IX.

A Christ curing one sicke of the palsey, 9 casteth Maddow from the feet of customs : 10 curesh with Publicans and sinners : 11 defendeth his Disciples for not fasting : 12 cureth the bloody issue : 13 raiseh from death Lawns daughter : 17 cureth sight to two blinde men : 23 healeth a dumbe man possessed of a deuil, 26 and bath compassion of the multitude.

And he entred into a ship, and passed ouer, and came into his owne city.

2 ¶ And behold, they brought to him a man sicke of the palsey, lying on a bed : and Iesus seeing their faith, said vnto the sicke of the palsey, Sonne, be of good cheere, the sinnes be forgiven thee.

3 And behold, certaine of the Scribes said within themselves, This man blasphemeth.

4 And Iesus knowing their thoughts, said, Wherefore thinke ye euill in your hearts ?

5 For whether is easier to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee, or to say, Arise, and walke ?

6 But that ye may know that the Sonne of man hath power on earth to forgive sinnes, (Then saith hee to the sicke of the palsey) Arise, take vp thy bed, and goe vnto thine house.

7 And he arose, and departed to his house.

8 But when the multitudes saw it, they marvelled, and glorified God, which had giuen such power vnto men.

9 ¶ And as Iesus passed forth from thence, he saw a man named Matthew, sitting at the receipt of custome : and he saith vnto him, Follow me. And he arose, and followed him.

10 ¶ And it came to passe, as Iesus sat at meat in the house, behold, many publicans and sinners came, and sat downe with him and his Disciples.

11 And when the Pharisees saw it, they said vnto his Disciples, Why eatech your Master with Publicans and sinners ?

12 But when Iesus heard that, he said vnto them, They that be whole need not a Physician, but they that are sicke.

13 But goe ye and learne what that meaneth, * I desire will haue mercy and not sacrifice : for I am not come to call the righteous, * but sinners to repentance.

14 ¶ Then came to him the disciples of Iohn, saying, * Why doe we and the Pharisees fast oft, but thy Disciples fast not ?

15 And Iesus said vnto them, Can the children of the Bride-chamber mourne, as long as the Bridegosome is with them ? But the dayes will come when the Bridegosome shall be taken from them, and then shall they fast.

16 No man putteth a piece of new cloth vnto an old garment : for that which is put in to fill it vp, taketh from the garment, and the rent is made worse.

17 Neither doe men put new wine into old bottles : else the bottles breake, and the wine runneth out, and the bottles perish : but they put new wine into new bottles, and both are preserved.

18 ¶ While he spake these things vnto them, behold, there came a certaine ruler & worshipped him, saying, My daughter is euen now dead : but come, and lay thy hand vpon her, and she shall liue.

19 And Iesus arose, and followed him, and so did his Disciples.

20 ¶ And behold, a woman which was diseased with an issue of blood twelue yeeres, came behinde him, and touched the hemme of his garment.

21 For she said within her selfe, If I may but touch his garment, I shall be whole.

22 But Iesus turned him about, and when he saw her, he said, Daughter, be of good comfort, thy faith hath made thee whole. And the woman was made whole from that houre.

23 And when Iesus came into the rulers house, and saw the Mumfrels, and the people making a noise.

24 He said vnto them, Giue place, for the maid is not dead, but sleepeth. And they laughed him to scorn.

27 But when the people were put forth, he went in, and took her by the hand, and the maid arose.

28 And the same hereof went abroad into all that land.

29 ¶ And when Iesus departed thence, two blind men followed him, crying, and saying, Thou Sonne of David, Have mercy on vs.

30 And when he was come into the house, the blind men came to him and Iesus saith vnto them, Belieue ye that I am able to doe this? They said vnto him, Yea, Lord.

31 Then touched he their eyes, saying, According to your faith, be it vnto you.

32 And their eyes were opened, and Iesus straightly charged them, saying, See that no man know it.

33 But they, when they were departed, spread abroad his fame in all that country.

34 ¶ As they went out, behold, they brought to him a dumbe man possessed with a deuill.

35 And when the deuill was cast out, the dumbe spake, and the multitudes maruelled, saying, It was neuer so seene in Israel.

36 But the Pharisees said, Hee casteth out the deuill, through the Prince of the deuill.

37 And Iesus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their Synagogues, and preaching the Gospel of the kingdome, and healing every sicknesse, and every disease among the people.

38 ¶ But when he saw the multitudes, he was moued with compassion on them, because they fainted, and were scattered abroad, as sheepe hauing no shepard.

39 Then saith he vnto his Disciples, The harvest truly is plenteous, but the labourers are few.

40 Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he will send forth labourers into his harvest.

CHAP. X.

1. Iesus sendeth out his twelve Apostles, making them ministers of the miracles: 5. Iesus them their charge, to goe into the cities, to comfort them against persecutions: 22. and promise a blessing to those that receive them.

1 And when he had called vnto him his twelue Disciples, he gaue them power against vncleane spirits to cast them out, and to heale all manner of sicknesse, and all manner of disease.

2 Now the names of the twelue Apostles are these: The first, Simon, who is called Peter, and Andrew his brother, James the sonne of Zebedee, and Iohn his brother:

3 Philip and Bartholomew, Thomas, and Matthew the Publicane, James the sonne of Alphons, and Lebbeus, whose surname was Thaddaeus:

4 Simon the Cananite, and Iudas Discariot, who also betrayed him.

5 The twelue Iesus sent forth, and commanded them, saying, Goe not into the way of the Gentiles, and into any city of the Samaritanes enter ye not:

6 But goe rather to the loke sheepe of the house of Israel.

7 And as ye goe, preach, saying, The kingdome of heauen is at hand:

8 Heale the sicke, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out deuils: freely ye haue received, freely giue.

9 ¶ Provide neither gold, nor silver, nor coats, in your purses:

10 Nor scrip for your iourney, neither two coats neither shoes, nor yet staves: for the workman is worthy of his meate.

11 And into whatsoever city or towne ye shall enter, enquire who in it is worthy, and there abide till ye goe thence.

12 And when ye come into an house, salute it.

13 And if the house be worthy, let your peace come vpon it: but if it be not worthy, let your peace returne to you.

14 ¶ And whosoever shall not receiue you, nor heare your words: when ye depart out of that house or city, shake off the dust of your feet.

15 Verely I say vnto you, it shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodome and Gomorra in the day of iudgement, then for that city.

16 ¶ Behold, I send you forth as sheepe in the midst of wolues: be ye therefore wise as serpents, and harmless as doves.

17 But beware of men: for they will deliuer you vp to the Counsell, and they will scourge you in their Synagogues.

18 And yet shall be brought before Governours and Kings for my sake, for a testimony against them, and the Gentiles.

19 ¶ But when they deliuer you vp, take no thought how or what ye shall speake: for it shall be giuen you in that same houre what ye shall speake.

20 For it is not ye that speake, but the Spirit of your father which speaketh in you.

21 And the brother shall deliuer vp the brother to death: and the father the child: and the children shall rise vp against their parents, and cause them to be put to death.

22 And ye shall be hated of all men for my Names sake: but hee that endureth vnto the end, shall be saved.

23 But when they persecute you in this city, flee ye into another: for verely I say vnto you, Ye shall not haue gone out the cities of Israel, till the Sonne of man be come.

24 ¶ The disciple is not above his master, nor the seruant above his lord.

25 It is enough for the disciple that he be as his master, and the seruant as his lord: if they haue called the master of a house Beelzebub, how much more shall they call them of his household?

26 Feare them not therefore: for there is nothing covered, that shall not be reuealed, and hid, that shall not be knowen.

27 What I tell you in darknesse, that speake ye in light, and what ye heare in the eare, that preach ye vpon the house tops.

28 ¶ And feare not them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the soule: but rather feare him which is able to destroy both soule and body in hell.

29 Are not two sparrowes sold for a fewthing, and one of them shall not fall on the ground without your Father?

30 But the very haire of your head are all numbered.

31 Feare ye not therefore, ye are of more value then many sparrowes.

32 ¶ Whosoever therefore shall confesse me before men, him will I confesse also before my Father which is in heauen.

33 But whosoever shall deny me before men, him will I also deny before my Father which is in heauen.

34 ¶ Think not that I am come to send peace on earth: I came not to send peace, but a sword.

35 For I am come to set a man against his father: and the daughter against her mother, and the daughter in law against her mother in law.

19 The Son of man came eating and drinking, and they say, Behold, a man gluttonous, and a wine-bibber, a friend of Publicans, and sinners: but wisdom is justified of her children.

20 ¶ Then began he to upbraid the cities, wherein most of his mighty works were done, because they repented not.

21 Woe unto thee Chorazin, woe unto thee Bethsaida: for if the mighty works which were done in thee, had bin done in Tyre & Sidon, they would have repented long agoe in sackcloth and ashes.

22 But I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon at the day of iudgement, then for you.

25 ¶ At that time Iesus answered, and said: I thanke thee, O Father, Lord of heauen and earth, because thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them vnto babes.

26 Euen so father, for so it seemed good in thy sight.

27 * All things are deliuered vnto me of my Father: and no man knoweth the Son but the Father: neither knoweth any man the Father, save the Son and he to whomsoever the Son will reueale him.

28 ¶ Come vnto me all ye that labour, and are heavy laden, and I will giue you rest.

29 Take my yoke vpon you, and learne of me, for I am meeke and lowly in heart: and ye shall find rest vnto your soules.

30 * For my yoke is easie, and my burden is light.

CHAP. XI

2 Iohn sendeth his disciples to Christ. 7 Christs testimony concerning Iohn. 18 The opinion of the people, both concerning Iohn and Christ. 20 Christs reprehension of the vniuersall and vnrepentance of Chorazin, Bethsaida, and Capernaum: 25 and praising his Fathers wisdom, in reuealing the Gospel to the simple. 28 Hee calleth to him all such as feele the burden of their sinnes.

And it came to passe, when Iesus had made an end of commanding his twelue Disciples, hee departed thence, to teach and to preach in their cities.

2 * Now when Iohn had heard in the prison the works of Christ, he sent two of his disciples,

3 And said vnto him, Art thou he that should come, or doe we looke for another?

4 Iesus answered and said vnto them, Come and show Iohn against those things which ye do heare and see:

5 * The blind receive their sight, and the lame walke, the lepers are cleansed, & the deafe heare, the dead are raised vp, and * the poore haue the Gospel preached to them.

6 And blessed is he whoeuer shall not be offended in me.

7 ¶ And as they departed, Iesus began to say vnto the multitudes concerning Iohn, What went ye out into the wilderness to see? A reed shaken with the wind?

8 But what went ye out for to see? A man clothed in soft raiment? Behold, they that weare soft clothing, are in Kings houses.

9 But what went ye out for to see? A Prophet? Yea, I say vnto you, and more then a Prophet?

10 For this is he of whom it is written, * Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.

11 Verely I say vnto you, Among them that are born of women, there hath not risen a greater then Iohn the Baptist: notwithstanding, he that is least in the Kingdome of heauen, is greater then he.

12 * And from the dayes of Iohn the Baptist vntill now, the Kingdome of heauen suffereth violence, and the violent take it by force.

13 For all the Prophets, and the Law prophesied vntill Iohn.

14 And if ye will receive it, this is * Elias which was for to come.

15 He that hath eares to heere, let him heare.

16 ¶ But whosoever shall I liken this generation? It is like vnto children sitting in the market, and calling vnto their fellowes, 17 And saying, We haue piped vnto you, and ye haue not danced: we haue mourned vnto you, and ye haue not lamented.

18 For Iohn came neither eating nor drinking, and they say, He hath a devil.

19 The Son of man came eating and drinking, and they say, Behold, a man gluttonous, and a wine-bibber, a friend of Publicans, and sinners: but wisdom is justified of her children.

CHAP. XII

1 Christ reprooueth the blindness of the Pharisees concerning the breach of the Sabbath, 3 by Scripture, 5 by reason, 9 and by a miracle. 22 He healeth the man possessed, that was blinde and dumbe. 31 Blasphemeth against the holy Ghost shall neuer be forgiven. 35 Accours shall be made of idle words. 38 He rebuketh the scribes, who seeke after a signe, 39 and forsweth who is his brother, sister, and mother.

At that time * Iesus went on the Sabbath day, although the come, and his Disciples were an hungred, and began to plucke the eares of corne, and to eate.

2 But when the Pharisees saw it, they said vnto him; Behold, thy Disciples doe that which is not lawfull to doe vpon the Sabbath day.

3 But hee said vnto them, Haue ye not read what David did when he was an hungred, and they that were with him,

4 How hee entered into the house of God, and did eate the Showbread, which was not lawfull for him to eate, neither for them which were with him, * but onely for the Priests?

5 Or haue ye not read in the * Law, how that on the Sabbath dayes the Priests in the Temple troose the Sabbath, and are blamelesse?

6 But I say vnto you, That in this place is greater then the Temple,

7 But if ye had knowen what this meaneth, ye would not have condemned the guiltlesse.

8 For the Sonne of man is Lord euen of the Sabbath day.

9 And when he was departed thence, he went into their Synagogue.

10 And behold, there was a man which had his hand withered, and they asked him, saying, Is it lawfull to heale on the Sabbath dayes? that they might accuse him.

11 And he said vnto them, What man shall there be among you, that shall haue one sheepe, and if it fall into a pit on the Sabbath day, will he not lay hold on it, and lift it out?

12 How much then is a man better than a sheepe? wherefore it is lawfull to doe well on the Sabbath dayes.

13 Then saith he to the man, Stretch forth thine hand: and he stretched it forth, and it was restored whole like as the other.

14 Then the Pharisees went out, and I held a counsell against him how they might destroy him.

15 But when Iesus knew it, he withdrew himselfe from thence: and great multitudes followed him, and he healed them all.

16 And charged them that they should not make him knowen:

17 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Elias the Prophet, saying,

18 Behold my seruant whom I haue chosen, my beloved, in whom my soule is well pleased: I will put my Spirit vpon him, and he shall shew iudgement to the Gentiles.

19 He shall not strine, nor cry, neither shall any man heare his voyce in the streets.

20 A bruised reed shall hee not breake, and smoking flaxe shall hee not quench, till hee send forth iudgement vnto victory.

21 And in his Name shall the Gentiles trust.

22 Then was brought vnto him one possessed with a deuill, blinde and dumbe: and hee healed him, insaich, that the blinde and dumbe both spake and saw.

23 And all the people were amazed, and said, Is this the Sonne of Dauid?

24 But when the Pharisees heard it, they said, This fellow doth not cast out deuils but by Beelzebub the Prince of the deuils.

25 And he as knew their thoughts, and said vnto them, Every kingdome diuided against it selfe, is brought to desolation: and every city or house diuided against it selfe, shall not stand.

26 And if Satan cast out Satan, hee is diuided against himselfe: how shall then his kingdome stand?

27 And if I by Beelzebub cast out deuils, by whom doe your children cast them out? Therefore they shall be your iudges.

28 But if I cast out deuils by the Spirit of God, then the kingdome of God is come vnto you.

29 Or else how can euery enter into a strong mans house, and spoyle his goods, except hee first binde the strong man, and then he will spoyle his house?

30 He that is not with me, is against me: and he that gathereth not with me, scattereth abroad.

31 Wherefore I say vnto you, All manner of sinne and blasphemy shall bee forgiven vnto men: but the blasphemy against the holy Ghost, shall not be forgiven vnto men.

32 And whosoener speaketh a word against the Sonne of man, he shall be forgiven him: but whosoener speaketh against the holy Ghost, he shall not be forgiuen him, neither in this world, neither in the world to come.

33 Either make the tree good, and his fruit good: or else make the tree corrupt, and his fruit corrupt: for the tree is knowen by his fruit.

34 O generation of vipers, how can ye, being euill, speake good things? For out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh.

35 A good man out of the good treasure of the heart, bringeth forth good things: and an euill man out of the euill treasure, bringeth forth euill things.

36 But I say vnto you, That every idle word that men shall speake, they shall giue account thereof in the day of iudgement.

37 For by thy words thou shalt be iustified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned.

38 Then certaine of the Scribes and of the Pharisees answered, saying, Master, we would see a signe from thee.

39 But he answered, and said to them, An euill and adulterous generation seeketh after a signe, and there shall no signe be giuen to it, but the signe of the Prophet Iona.

40 For as Iona was three dayes & three nightes in the whales belly: so shall the Sonne of man be three dayes and thre nightes in the heart of the earth.

41 The men of Ninue shall rise in iudgement with this generation, and shall condemne it, because they repented at the preaching of Iona: and behold, a greater then Iona is here.

42 The Queene of the South shall rise vp in the iudgement with this generation, and shall condemne it: for shee came from the vttermost parts of the earth, to heare the wisdome of Solomon, and behold, a greater then Solomon is here.

43 When the vncleane spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh thorow dry places, seeking rest, and findeth none.

44 Then he saith, I will returne into my house, from whence I came out: And when he is come, hee findeth it empty, swept, and garnished.

45 Then goeth he, and taketh with himselfe fouen other spirits, more wicked then himselfe, and they enter in, and dwell there: And the last state of that man is worse then the first: Euen so shall it be alwaies with this wicked generation.

46 While hee yet talked to the people, he beheld, his mother, and his brethren stood without, desiring to speake with him.

47 Then one said vnto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to speake with thee.

48 But he answered, and said vnto him that told him, Who is my mother? & who are my brethren?

49 And hee stretched forth his hand toward his Disciples, and said, Behold my mother and my brethren.

50 For whosoener shall doe the will of my Father which is in heauen, the same is my brother, and sister and mother.

C H A P. XIII

The parable of the Sower and the seed: 18 The exposition of it. 24 The parable of the sower, 25 of the mustard seed, 33 of the leauens, 44 of the hidden treasure, 45 of the pearle, 47 of the dragger cast into the Sea: 52 And how Christ is counted of his owne country men.

The same day went Iesus out of the house, and sat by the Sea side.

And great multitudes were gathered together vnto him, so that he went into a ship, and sat, and the whole multitude stood on the shore.

And he spake many things unto them in parables, saying, * Behold, a Sower went forth to sow.

And when he sowed, some seeds fell by the way side, and the fowles came, and devoured them up.

Some fell upon stony places, where they had not much earth: and forthwith they sprung up, because they had no deepnesse of earth.

And when the Sunne was up, they were scorched: and because they had no roote, they withered away.

And some fell among thornes: and the thornes sprung up, and choked them.

But other fell into good ground, and brought forth fruit, some an hundred fold, some sixty fold, some thirty fold.

Who hath eares to heare, let him heare.

And the Disciples came, and said unto him, Why speakest thou unto them in parables?

He answered and said unto them, Because it is given unto you to know the mysteries of the kingdome of heauen, but to them it is not given.

* For whosoever hath, to him shall be given, and he shall have more abundance: but whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken away, even that he hath.

Therefore speake I to them in parables: because they seeing, see not: and hearing, they heare not, neither doe they understand.

And in them is fulfilled the prophesie of Esaias, which saith, * By hearing ye shall heare, and shall not understand: and seeing, ye shall see, and shall not percieve.

For this peoples heart is waxed grosse, and their eares are dull of hearing, and their eyes they have closed, lest at any time they should see with their eyes, and heare with their eares, and should understand with their heart, and should be converted, and I should heale them.

But blessed are your eyes, for they see; and your eares, for they heare.

For verely I say unto you, * That many Prophets and righteous men have desired to see those things which ye see, and haue not seene them: and to heare those things which ye heare, and haue not heard them.

Heare ye therefore the parable of the Sower.

When any one heareth the word of the kingdome, and understandeth it not, then cometh the wicked one; and catcheth away that which was sowne in his heart: this is he which receiveth seeds by the way side.

But hee that receiveth the seed into stony places, the same is hee that heareth the word, and receiveth it with ioy receiveth it?

Yet hath he not roote in himselfe, but dasheth for a while: for when tribulation or persecution ariseth, because of the word by which he is offended.

He also that receiveth seed among the thornes, hee is that heareth the word, and the care of this world, and the deceitfulness of riches, choke the word, and he becometh unfruitfull.

But hee that receiveth seed into the good ground, is hee that heareth the word, and understandeth it, which also beareth fruit, and bringeth forth, some an hundred fold, some sixty, some thirty.

* Another parable put he forth unto them, saying, The kingdome of heauen is likened unto a man, which sowed good seed in his field:

But while men slept, his enemy came and sowed tares among the wheat, and went his way.

But when the blade was sprung up, and began to bring forth fruit, then appeared the tares also.

So the servants of the householder came, and said unto him, Sir, shall not thou sow good seed in thy field? from whence then hath this tares?

He said unto them, An enemy hath done this. The servants said unto him, Wilt thou then that we goe and gather them up?

But he said, Nay: lest while we gather up the tares, we root up also the wheat with them.

Let both grow together until the harvest: and in the time of harvest I will saye to the reapers, Gather ye together first the tares, and bind them in bundles to burne them: but gather the wheat into my barn.

* Another parable put he forth unto them, saying, * The kingdome of heauen is like unto a graine of mustard seed, which a man sowe and lowed in his field.

Which is sowed is the least of all seeds: but when it is growne, it is the greatest among herbes, and becometh a tree: so that the birds of the aire come and lodge in the branches thereof.

* Another parable spake he unto them, The kingdome of heauen is like unto leaven, which a woman tooke, and hid in three measures of meale, till the whole was leavened.

All these things spake Iesus unto the multitude in parables, and without a parable spake he not unto them:

That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Prophet, saying, * I will open mine mouth in parables, I will utter things which have beene kept secret from the foundation of the world.

Then Iesus went away into his house, and his Disciples came unto him, saying, Declare unto vs the parable of the tares of the field.

He answered, and said unto them, Hee that soweth the good seed, is the Sonne of man:

The field is the world: the good seed are the children of the kingdome: but the tares are the children of the wicked one.

The enemy that sowed them, is the devill: * The harvest is the end of the world: and the reapers are the Angels.

As therefore the tares are gathered and burnt in the fire: so shall it be in the end of this world.

The Son of man shall send forth his Angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdome all things that offend, and them which doe iniquity.

And shall cast them into a furnace of fire: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

* Then shall the righteous shine forth as the Sunne in the kingdome of their Father. Who hath eares to heare, let him heare.

* Again the kingdome of heauen is like unto treasure hid in a field, the which when a man hath found, he hideth, and for ioy thereof, goeth and selleth all that he hath, and buyeth that field.

* Again, the kingdome of heauen is like unto a merciant man, seeking goodly pearles:

Who when he had found one pearle of great price, he went & sold all that he had, and bought it.

* Again, the kingdome of heauen is like unto a net that was cast into the Sea, and gathered of every kinde.

Which when it was full, they drew to shipe, and sat downe, and gathered the good into vessels, but cast the bad away.

So shall it be at the end of the world: the Angels shall come forth, and sever the wicked from among the just.

And shall cast them into the furnace of fire an there shall bee wailing and gnashing of teeth.

51 Iesus saith unto them, Have ye understood all these things? They say unto him, Yes, Lord.

52 Then said he unto them, Therefore every Scribe which is instructed unto the kingdom of heaven, shall be like unto a man that is an householder, which bringeth forth out of his treasure, things new and old.

53 ¶ And it came to passe, that when Iesus had finished these parables, he departed thence.

54 ¶ And when he was come into his owne country, he taught them in their Synagogue, in so much that they were astonished, and said, Whence hath this man this wisdom, and these mighty workes?

55 ¶ Is not this the Carpenter, and the boyes mother, and Ioseph, and Simon, and Iudas?

56 And his sisters. Are they not all with vs? Whence then hath this man all these things?

57 And they were offended in him. But Iesus said unto them, ¶ A Prophet is not without honour, save in his owne country, and in his owne house.

58 And he did not many mighty workes there, because of their unbelief.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Herods opinion of Christ. 2 Wherefore Iohn Baptist was beheaded. 3 Iesus departeth into a desert place, 4 where hee feedeth five thousand men with five loaves and two fishes: 5 he walketh on the Sea to his Disciples: 6 and landing at Genezareth, healeth the sick by the touch of the hemme of his garment.

AT that time Herod the Tetrarch heard of the name of Iesus,

2 And said unto his seruants, This is Iohn the Baptist, he is risen from the dead, and therefore mighty workes shew forth themselves in him.

3 ¶ For Herod had laid hold on Iohn, and bound him, and put him in prison for Herodias sake, his brother Philip's wife.

4 For Iohn had said unto him, ¶ It is not lawful for thee to haue her.

5 And when hee would haue put him to death, hee feared the multitude, because they counted him as a Prophet.

6 But when Herods birth-day was kept, the daughter of Herodias danced before them, and pleased Herod.

7 Whereupon hee promised with an oath, to give her whatsoever she would aske.

8 And she being before instructed of her mother, said, Giue me here Iohn Baptist's head in a charger.

9 And the King was sorry: nevertheless, for the oath's sake, and for them which sate with him at meat, he commanded it to be given her.

10 And he sent, and beheaded Iohn in the prison.

11 And his head was brought in a charger, and given to the damozell: and shee brought it to her mother.

12 And his Disciples came, and tooke vp the body, and buried it, and went and told Iesus.

13 ¶ When Iesus heard of it, he departed thence by ship into a desert place apart, and when the people had heard thereof, they followed him on foot out of the cities.

14 And Iesus went forth, and saw a great multitude, and was moued with compassion toward them, and hee healed their sick.

15 ¶ And when it was evening, his Disciples came to him, saying, This is a desert place, and the time is now past: send the multitude away, that they may goe into the villages, and buy themselves victuals.

16 But Iesus said unto them, They need not depart: giue ye them to este.

17 And they say unto him: We haue here but five loaves, and two fishes.

18 He said, Bring them hither to me.

19 And hee commanded the multitude to sit downe on the grass, and took the five loaves, and the two fishes, and looking vp to heauen, he blessed, and brake, and gaue the loaves to his Disciples, and the Disciples to the multitude.

20 And they did all eate, and were filled, and they tooke vp of the fragments that remained, twelue baskets full.

21 And they that had eaten, were about five thousand men, beside women and children.

22 ¶ And straightway Iesus constrained his Disciples to get into a ship, and to go before him unto the other side, while he sent the multitudes away.

23 ¶ And when he had sent the multitudes away, he went vp into a mountaine apart to pray: and when the evening was come, he was there alone.

24 But the ship was now in the middle of the Sea, tossed with waves, for the wind was contrary.

25 And in the fourth watch of the night, Iesus went unto them walking on the Sea.

26 And when the Disciples saw him walking on the Sea, they were troubled, saying, It is a spirit: and they cried out for feare.

27 But straightway Iesus spake unto them, saying, Be of good cheere: it is I, be not afraid.

28 And Peter answered him, and said, Lord, if it be thou, bid me come vnto thee on the water.

29 And hee said, Come. And when Peter was come downe out of the ship, he walked on the water to goe to Iesus.

30 But when he saw the winds boisterous, he was afraid: and beginning to sinke, he cryed, saying, Lord saue me.

31 And immediately Iesus stretched forth his hand, and caught him, and said unto him, O thou of little faith, wherefore didst thou doubt?

32 And when they were come into the ship, the winds ceased.

33 Then they that were in the ship, came and worshipped him, saying, Of a truth thou art the Sonne of God.

34 ¶ And when they were gone ouer, they came into the land of Genezareth.

35 And when the men of that place had knowledge of him, they sent out into all that country round about, & brought vnto him all that were diseased.

36 And he taught him, that they might stie touch the hemme of his garment: and as many as touched, were made perfectly whole.

CHAP. XV.

3 Christ reprooueth the Scribes and Pharisees for transgressing Gods Commandements: 1 Whereof their owne is aduised, 2 he teacheth how that which goeth into the mouth, doeth not defile a man: 3 he healeth the daughter of the woman of Canaan, 4 and other greet multitudes: 5 and with few new loaves, and a few little fishes, hee leaue five thousand men, beside women and children.

THEN came to Iesus Scribes and Pharisees, which were of Ierusalem, saying,

1 Why doe thy Disciples transgresse the tradition of the Elders? for they wash not their hands when they eate bread.

2 But he answered, and said vnto them, Why doe you also transgresse the Commandment of God by your tradition?

3 For God commanded, saying, Honour thy father father and mother: and hee that curseth father or mother, let him die the death.

5 But ye say, Whosoever shall say to his father or his mother, * It is a gift, by whatsoever thou mightest be proued by me,

6 And honour not his father or his mother, he shall be free. Thus haue ye made the Commandment of God of none effect by your tradition.

7 Ye hypocrites, well did Esaias prophesie of you, saying,

8 * This people draweth nigh vnto me with their mouth, and honoureth mee with their lips: but their heart is farre from me.

9 But in vaine they doe worship mee, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men.

10 ¶ And he called the multitude, and said vnto them, Heare and vnderstand.

11 Not that which goeth into the mouth, defileth a man: but that which cometh out of the mouth, this defileth a man.

12 Then came his Disciples, and said vnto him, Knowest thou that the Pharisees were offended after they he-ard this saying?

13 But he answered, and said, * Every plant which my heavenly Father hath not planted, shall be rooted vp.

14 Let them alone: * they be blinde leaders of the blinde. And if the blinde leade the blinde, both shall fall into the ditch.

15 ¶ Then answered Peter, and said vnto him, Declare vnto vs this parable.

16 And Iesus said, Are ye also yet without vnderstanding?

17 Doe not ye yet vnderstand, that whatsoever eneth in at the mouth, goeth into the belly, and is cast out into the draught?

18 But those things which proceed out of the mouth, come forth from the heart, and they defile the man.

19 * For out of the heart proceed euill thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false witness, blasphemies.

20 These are the things which defile a man: But to eate with vvaschen hands defileth not a man.

21 ¶ Then Iesus went thence, and departed into the coasts of Tyre and Sidon.

22 And behold, a woman of Canaan came our of the same coasts, and cryed vnto him, saying, Haue mercy vpon mee, O Lord, thou Sonne of Dauid, my daughter is greatly vexed with a deuill.

23 But he answered her not a word. And his Disciples came, and besought him, saying, Send her away, for she cryeth after vs.

24 But he answered, and said, * I am not sent, but vnto the lost sheepe of the house of Israel.

25 Then came she, and worshipped him, saying, Lord, helpe me.

26 But he answered, and said, It is not meet to offer the childrens bread, and to cast it to dogs.

27 And she said, Truth Lord? yet the dogs eate of the crumbe which fall from their masters table.

28 Then Iesus answered, and said vnto her, O woman, great is thy faith: be it vnto thee even as thou wilt. And her daughter was made whole from that very houre.

29 ¶ And Iesus departed from thence, and came nigh vnto the Sea of Galilee, and went vp into a mountaine, and sat downe there.

30 ¶ And great multitudes came vnto him, bringing with them those that were lame, blinde, dumbe, withered, and many others, and cast them downe at Iesus feet, and he healed them.

31 Inasmuch that the multitude wondred, when they saw the dumbe to speake, the maimed to walke, and the blinde to see: and they glorified the God of Israel.

32 ¶ Then Iesus called his Disciples vnto him, and said, I haue compassion on the multitude, because they continue with me now three dayes, and haue nothing to eate, and I will not send them away fasting, lest they faint in the way.

33 And his Disciples say vnto him, Whence should we haue so much bread in the wilderness, as to fill so great a multitude?

34 And Iesus saith vnto them, How many loaves haue ye? And they said, Seven, and a few little fishes.

35 And hee commanded the multitude to sit downe on the ground.

36 And hee took the seven loaves and the fishes, and gaue thanks, and brake them, and gaue to his Disciples, and the Disciples to the multitude.

37 And they did all eate, and were filled: and they tooke vp of the broken meat that was left, seven baskets full.

38 And they that did eate were foure thousand men, beside women and children.

39 And hee sent away the multitude, and tooke ship, and came into the coasts of Magdala.

CHAP. XVI.

¶ The Pharisees require a signe. A Iesus waueth his Disciples of the leaues of the Pharisees and Sadducees. 13 The peoples opinion of Canyly 16 And Petrus confession of Iesus. 17 Iesus foretelleth his death. 23 reprooueth Peter for denying him from it: 23 and aduiseeth him that will follow him, to beare the crosse.

The Pharisees also with the Sadducees, came, and tempting, desire him that hee would shew them a signe from heauen.

2 He answered, and said vnto them, When it is evening, ye say, It will be faire weather, for the skie is red.

3 And in the morning, It will be foule weather to day: for the skie is red and lowering. O ye hypocrites, ye can discern the face of the skie, but can ye not discern the signes of the times?

4 A wicked and adulterous generation seeketh after a signe, and there shall no signe be giuen vnto it, but the signe of the Prophet Iona. And he left them and departed.

5 And when his Disciples were come to the other side, they had forgotten to take bread.

6 ¶ Then Iesus said vnto them, Take heed and beware of the leaues of the Pharisees, and of the Sadducees.

7 And they reasoned among themselves, saying, It is because we haue taken no bread.

8 Which when Iesus perceiued, he said vnto them, O ye of little faith, why reason ye among your selves, because ye haue brought no bread?

9 ¶ Doe ye not yet vnderstand, neither remember the five loaves of the five thousand, and how many baskets ye tooke vp?

10 ¶ Neither the seven loaves of the foure thousand, and how many baskets ye tooke vp?

11 How is it that ye doe not vnderstand, that I speake it not to you concerning bread, that ye should beware of the leaues of the Pharisees, and of the Sadducees?

12 Then vnderstood they how that hee bade them not beware of the leaues of bread: but of the doctrine of the Pharisees, and of the Sadducees.

13 ¶ When Iesus came into the coasts of Cesarea, Philip.

Philippi, hee asked his Disciples, saying, "Whom doe men say that I the Sonne of man am ?

14 And they said, Some say that thou art Iohn the Baptist, some Elias, and others Ieremias, or one of the Prophets.

15 He saith vnto them, But whom say ye that I am?

16 And Simon Peter answered, and said, "Thou art Christ the Sonne of the liuing God.

17 And Iesus answered, and said vnto him, Blessed art thou Simon Bar-Iona: for flesh and blood hath not revealed it vnto thee, but my Father which is in heauen.

18 And I say also vnto thee, that thou art Peter, and vpon this rocke I will build my Church ; and the gates of hell shall not preuaile against it.

19 " And I will giue vnto thee the keyes of the kingdome of heauen ; and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth, shall be bound in heauen; what soeuer thou shalt loose on earth, shall be loosed in heauen.

20 Then charged he his Disciples that they should tell no man that hee was le ius the Christ.

21 ¶ From that time forth he began Iesus to shew vnto his Disciples, how that hee must go vnto Hierusalem, and suffer many things of the Elders, and chiefe Priests, and Scribes, and be killed, and be raised againe the third day.

22 Then Peterooke him, and began to rebuke him, saying, Be it farre from thee, Lord : this shall not be vnto thee.

23 But he turned, and said vnto Peter ; Get thee behind me, Satan, thou art an offence vnto me : for thou fauourest not the things that be of God, but those that be of men.

24 ¶ Then said Iesus vnto his disciples, If any man will come after me, let him deny himselfe, and take vp his crosse, and follow me.

25 For whosoever will save his life, shall lose it : and whosoever will looche his life for my sake, shall finde it.

26 For what is a man profited, if he shall gaine the whole world, and lose his owne soule? Or what shall a man giue in exchange for his soule?

27 For the Sonne of man shall come in the glory of his Father, with his Angels, " And then he shall reward every man according to his workes.

28 Verely I say vnto you, " There be some standing here, which shall not taste of death, till they see the Sonne of man coming in his kingdome.

CHAP. XVII.

1 The transfiguration of Christ. 14 He healeth the lunaticke, 22 foretelleth his owne passion, 24 and prayeth vnto his Father.

And after six dayes, Iesus taketh Peter, James and Iohn his brother, and bringeth them vp into an high mountaine apart,

2 And was transfigured before them, and his face did shine as the Sonne, and his raiment was white as the light.

3 And behold, there appeared vnto them: Moses, and Elias, talking with him.

4 Then answered Peter, and said vnto Iesus, Lord, It is good for vs to be here : If thou wilt, let vs make here three Tabernacles : one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.

5 While he yet spake, behold, a bright cloud overshadowed them : and behold, a voyce out of the cloud, which said, This is my beloued Son in whom I am well pleased : heare ye him.

6 And when the Disciples heard it, they fell on their face, and were sore afraid.

7 And Iesus came and touched them, and said, Arise, and be not afraid.

8 And when they had lift vp their eyes, they saw no man, save Iesus onely.

9 And as they came down from the mountaine, Iesus charged them, saying, Tell the vision to no man, vntill the Sonne of man be risen againe from the dead.

10 And his Disciples asked him, saying, " Why then say the Scribes that Elias must first come ?

11 And Iesus answered, and said vnto them, Elias truly shall first come, and restore all things :

12 But I say vnto you, that Elias is come already, and they knew him not, but haue done vnto him whatsoever they liked, Likewise shall also the Sonne of man suffer of them.

13 Then the Disciples understood that he spake vnto them of Iohn the Baptist.

14 ¶ And when they were come to the multitude, there came vnto him a certaine man kneeling downe to him, and saying,

15 Lord haue mercy on my son, for hee is insatiable, and sore vexed : for oftentimes he falleth into the fire, and oft into the water.

16 And I brought him to thy Disciples, and they could not cure him.

17 Then Iesus answered, and said, O faithlesse and peruerse generation, how long shall I be with you ? how long shall I suffer you? bring him hither to me.

18 And Iesus rebuked the deuil, and he departed out of him : and the child was cured from that very houre.

19 Then came the disciples to Iesus apart, and said, Why could not we cast him out ?

20 And Iesus said vnto them, Because of your vn-beliefe : for verely I say vnto you, if ye shall faith as a graine of mustard seed, ye shall say vnto this mountaine, Remove hence, and thou shalt be removed, and nothing shall be impossible vnto you.

21 Howbeit, this kinde goeth not out, but by prayer and fasting.

22 ¶ And while they abode in Galilee, Iesus said vnto them, The Sonne of man shall be betrayed into the hands of men :

23 And they shall kill him, and the third day hee shall be raised againe; and they were exceeding sorry.

24 ¶ And when they were come to Capernaum, they that receiue tribute money, came to Peter, and said, Doth not your master pay tribute ?

25 He saith, Yes. And when he was come into the house, Iesus presented him, saying, What thinkest thou, Simon ? Of whom doe the Kings of the earth take custome or tribute? of their owne children, or of strangers?

26 Peter saith vnto him, Of strangers. Iesus saith vnto him, Then are the children free.

27 Notwithstanding, lest we should offend thee, go thou to the sea, and cast an hook, and take vp the fish that first cometh vnto and when thou hast opened his mouth, thou shalt finde a piece of money : that take, and giue vnto them for me and thee.

CHAP. XVIIL

1 Christ warneth his disciples to be humble and harmlesse : 7 To avoid offences, and not to despise the little ones : 15 Teacheb how we are to deale with our brethren when they offend vs : 21 And how oft soe forgive them : 23 which he leaue's forth by a parable of the King that rooke account of the seruants, 32 and punished him who showed no mercy to his fellow.

At the same time came the disciples vnto Iesus, saying, Who is the greatest in the kingdome of heauen ?

2 And Iesus called a litlle childe vnto him, and set him in the midst of them,
 3 And said, Verely I say vnto you, * Except ye be conuerted, and become as litte children, ye shall not enter into the kingdome of heauen.
 4 Whofoener therefore shall humble himselfe as this litlle child, the same is greatest in the kingdome of heauen.
 5 And whois shall receive one such litte child in my Name, receiue me.

6 * But whois shall offend one of these little ones, which belene in me, it were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his necke, and that he were drowned in the depth of the Sea.
 7 ¶ Woe vnto the world because of offences: for it must needs be that offences come; but woe to that man by whom the offence cometh.
 8 * Wherefore if thy hand or thy foot offend thee, cut them off, and cast them from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life halt or maimed, rather than having two hands, or two feet, to be cast into euellasting fire.

9 And if thine eye offend thee, plucke it out, and cast it from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life with one eye, rather than having two eyes, to be cast into hell fire.
 10 Take heed that yee despise not one of these little ones: for I say vnto you, that in heauen their Angels doe alwayes behold the face of my Father which is in heauen.

11 * For the Sonne of man is come to save that which was lost.
 12 * How thinke ye? If a man haue an hundred sheepe, and one of them be gone astray, doth he not leaue the ninety and nine, and goeth into the mountaynes, and seeketh that which is gone astray?
 13 And if so be that he find it, Verely, I say vnto you; he reioyceth more of that sheepe, then of the ninety and nine which were not astray.
 14 Euen so, it is not the will of your Father which is in heauen, y^e one of these little ones should perishe.

15 ¶ Moreover, if thy brother shall trespass against thee, goe and tell him his fault betwene thee and him alone: if he shall heare thee, thou hast gained thy brother.
 16 But if he will not heare thee, then take with thee one or two more, that in the mouth of two or three witnesses, euery word may be established.

17 And if he shall neglect to heare them, call it vnto the Church: but if hee neglecte to heare the Church, let him be vnto thee as an * heauen man, and a Pagan.
 18 Verely I say vnto you, * Whatfoener ye shall bind on earth, shall be bound in heauen; and whatfoener ye shall loose on earth, shall be loosed in heauen.
 19 Again, I say vnto you, that if two of you shall agree on earth as touching any thing that they shall aske, it shall be done for them of my Father which is in heauen.

20 For where two or three are gathered together in my Name, there am I in the midst of them.
 21 ¶ Then came Peter to him, and said, Lord, how oft shall my brother sin against me, and I forgive him? * till seven times?
 22 Iesus saith vnto him, I say not vnto thee, vntill seuen times: but vntill seventy times seuen.
 23 ¶ Therefore is the kingdome of heauen likened vnto a certaine King, which would take account of his seruants.

24 And when hee had begon to reckon, one was brought vnto him, which ought him ten thousand talents.

25 But forasmuch as he had not to pay, his lord commanded him to be sold, and his wife and children, and all that he had, and payment to be made.
 26 The seruant therefore fell downe, and worshipped him, saying, Lord, haue patience with me, and I will pay thee all.
 27 Then the Lord of that seruant was moued with compassion, and loosed him, and forgave him the debt.

28 But the same seruant went out, and found one of his fellow-seruants which ought him an hundred pence: and he said hands on him, and tooke him by the throat, saying, Pay me that thou owest.
 29 And his fellow-seruant fell down at his feet, and besought him, saying, Haue patience with me, and I will pay thee all.
 30 And he would not that went and cast him into prison, till he should pay the debt.
 31 So when his fellow-servants saw what was done, they were very sorry, and came and told vnto their lord all that was done.

32 Then his lord, after that he had called him, said vnto him, O thou wicked seruant, I forgave thee all that debt, because thou didst beseech me:
 33 Shouldest thou also haue had compassion on thy fellow-seruant, euen as I had pitie on thee?
 34 And his lord was wroth, and delivered him to the tormentors, till he should pay all that was due vnto him.

35 So likewise shall my heauenly Father doe also vnto you, if ye from your hearts forgive not euery one his brother their trespasses.

CHAP. XIX.

¶ Christ healeth the sicke; 2. answereth the Pharisees concerning diuorcement: 3. forweth when marriage is necessary: 4. Remoueth liell children: 5. Instructeth the young man how to attaine eternall life: and how to be perfect: 6. rebuketh his disciples how hard was for a rich man to enter into the kingdome of God: 7. and preuaileth vnto a scribe that forsake any thing to followe him.

¶ And it came to passe, that when Iesus had finished these sayings, he departed from Galilee, and came into the countie of Iudea beyond Iordan.
 2 And great multitudes followed him, and he heaked them there.

3 ¶ The Pharisees also came vnto him, tempting him, and saying vnto him, Is it lawfull for a man to put away his wife for euery cause?
 4 And he answered, and said vnto them, Haue ye not read, * that he which made them at the beginning, made them male and female?

5 And said, * For this cause shall a man leaue father and mother, and shall cleaue to his wife: and they twaine shall be one flesh.
 6 Wherefore they are so more twaine, but one flesh. What therefore God hath ioyned together, let not man put asunder.

7 They say vnto him; * Why did Moses then command to give a writing of diuorcement, and to put her away?
 8 He saith vnto them, Moses, because of the hardness of your hearts, suffered you to put away your wives: but from the beginning it was not so.
 9 * And I say vnto you, Whofoener shall put away his wife, except it be for fornication, and shall marry another, committeth adultery: and whois marryeth her which is put away, doth commit adultery.

10 ¶ His Disciples say vnto him, If the case of the man be so with his wife, it is not good to marry.

11 But he said unto them: All men cannot receive this saying, for they so whom it is given.
 12 For there are some Eunuches, which were so borne from their mothers wombe: and there are some Eunuches, which were made Eunuches of men: and there be Eunuches, which have made themselves Eunuches for the kingdom of heauen sake. He that is able to receive it, let him receive it.
 13 Then were there brought unto him little children, that he should put his hands on them and pray: and the Disciples rebuked them.
 14 But Iesus said, Suffer little children, and forbid them not to come vnto me: for of such is the kingdom of heauen.
 15 And he laid his hands on them, and departed thence.

16 ¶ And behold, one came and said vnto him, Good matter, what good thing shall I doe, that I may haue eternall life?

17 And hee said vnto him, Why callest thou me good: there is none good but one, that is, God: but if thou wilt enter into life, keepe the Commandments.

18 He said vnto him, Which? Iesus said, Thou shalt do no murder: Thou shalt not commit adultery: Thou shalt not steale, Thou shalt not beare false witness:

19 Honour thy father and thy mother: and, Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe.

20 The young man saith vnto him, All these things haue I kept from my youth vnto what lacket yet?

21 Iesus said vnto him, If thou wilt be perfect, goe and sell that thou hast, and giue to the poore, and thou shalt haue treasure in heauen, and come and follow me.

22 But when the young man heard that saying, hee went away sorrowfull: for he had great possessions.

23 ¶ Then said Iesus vnto his Disciples, Verely I say vnto you, that a rich man shall hardly enter into the kingdom of heauen.

24 And againe he say vnto you, It is easier for a camel to goe thorow the eye of a needle, then for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.

25 When his Disciples heard it, they were exceedingly amazed, saying, Who can be saved?

26 But Iesus beheld them, and said vnto them, With men this is impossible, but with God all things are possible.

27 ¶ Then answered Peter, and said vnto him, Behold, we haue forsaken all, and followed thee, what shall we haue therefore?

28 And Iesus said vnto them, Verely I say vnto you, that ye which haue followed me in the regeneration, when the Son of man shall sit in the throne of glory, ye also shall sit vpon twelue thrones, judging the twelue tribes of Israel.

29 And euery one that hath forsaken house, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my Names sake, shall receive an hundred fold, and shall inherite euertlasting life.

30 ¶ But many that are first, shall be last, and the last shall be first.

1 Christ by the similitude of the labourers in the vineyard sheweth that God is desirous vnto us
 2. Man: 17. Forretheth his passion: 20. By answer vnto the mother of Zebedees children, sheweth his disposition to be lowly: 30. And giueth two blind men their sight.

For the kingdom of heauen is like vnto a man that is an householder, which went out early in the morning to hire labourers into his vineyard.

2 And when he had agreed with the labourers for a penny a day, he sent them into his vineyard.

3 And hee went out about the third houre, and saw others standing idle in the market place,

4. And said vnto them, Goe ye also into the vineyard: and whatsoever is right, I will giue you. And they went their way.

5. Againe, hee went out about the fifth and sixth houre, and did likewise.

6. And about the eleuenth houre hee went out, and found others standing idle, and said vnto them, Why stand ye here all the day idle?

7. They say vnto him, Because no man hath hired vs. He saith vnto them, Go ye also into the vineyard: and whatsoever is right, I will giue you.

8. So when Euen was come, the lord of the vineyard said vnto his steward, Call the labourers, and giue them their hire, beginning from the last vnto the first.

9. And when they came that were hired about the eleuenth houre, they received euery man a penny.

10. But when the first came, they supposed that they should haue received more, and they likewise received euery man a penny.

11. And when they had received it, they murmured against the good man of the house.

12. Saying, These last have wrought but one houre, and thou hast made them euall vnto vs, which haue borne the burden and heat of the day.

13. But he answered one of them, and said, friend, I doe thee no wrong: dost thou agree with me for a penny?

14. Take that thine is, and goe thy way, I will giue vnto this last euen as vnto thee.

15. Is it not lawfull for me to doe what I will with mine owne? is it mine eye gaill, because I am good?

16. So the last shall be first, and the first last: for many be called, but few chosen.

17. ¶ And Iesus going vp to Hierusalem,ooke the twelue Disciples apart in the way, and said vnto them,

18. Behold, we goe vp to Hierusalem, and the Some of man shall be betrayed vnto the chiefe Priests and vnto the Scribes, and they shall condemne him to death,

19. And shall deliuer him to the Gentiles to mocke, and to scourge, and to crucifie him: and the third day he shall rise againe.

20. ¶ Then came to him the mother of Zebedees children, with her sonnes, worshipping him, and desiring a certaine thing of him.

21. And he said vnto her, What wilt thou? She saith vnto him, Grant, that these my two sonnes may sit the one on thy right hand, and the other on the left in thy kingdom.

22. But Iesus answered, and said, Yee knowe not what ye aske, Are ye able to drinke of the cup that I shall drinke of, and to be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with? They say vnto him, We are able.

23. And he said vnto them, Ye shall drinke indeed of my cup, and be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with: but to sit on my right hand, and on my left, is not mine to giue, but it shall be giuen to them for whom it is prepared of my Father.

24. And when the ten heard it, they were moued with indignation against the two brethren.

25. But Iesus called them vnto him, and said, ¶ Ye know that the Princes of the Gentiles exercise dominion dominion over them, and they that are great, exercise authority upon them.

26 For it ſhal not be ſo among you: but whoſoever will be great among you, let him be your miniſter:

27 And whoſoever will be chief among you, let him be your ſervant.

28 Even as the ſonne of man came not to be miniſtered unto, but to miniſter, and to give his life a ranſome for many.

29 And as they departed from Jericho, a great multitude followed him.

30 ¶ And behold, two blinde men ſitting by the way ſide, when they heard that Jeſus paſſed by, cryed out, ſaying, Have mercy on vs, O Lord, thou ſonne of David.

31 And the multitude rebuked them, becauſe they ſhould holde their peace: but they cryed the more, ſaying, Have mercy on vs, O Lord, thou ſonne of David.

32 And Jeſus ſtood ſtill, and called them, and ſaid, What wilt ye that I ſhall doe unto you?

33 They ſay unto him, Lord, that our eyes may be opened.

34 So Jeſus had compaſſion on them, and touched their eyes: and immediately their eyes received ſight, and they followed him.

Chriſt rideth into Hieruſalem upon an aſſe, & ſmash the tables and ſetters out of the Temple, & ſweepeth the fig-tree, & curſeth to ſilence the Prophets and Elders, & rebuketh them by the multitude of the two ſonnes, & the husbandmen, who ſow ſuch an ſeed, ſay thus & then.

A No when they drew nigh unto Hieruſalem, and were come to Bethpage unto the mount of Olives, then ſent Jeſus two diſciples, ſaying unto them, Goe into the village over againſt you, and ſtraightway ye ſhall finde an aſſe tied, and a colt with her: looſe them, and bring them unto me.

¶ And if any man ſay ought unto you, ye ſhall ſay, The Lord hath need of them, and ſtraightway he will ſend them.

¶ All this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was ſpoken by the Prophet, ſaying, Tell ye the daughter of Sion, Behold, thy King cometh unto thee, meek, and ſitting upon an aſſe, and a colt, the ſoule of an aſſe.

¶ And the Diſciples went, and did as Jeſus commanded them.

¶ And brought the aſſe, and the colt, and put on them their clothes, and they ſet him thereon.

¶ And a very great multitude ſpread their garments in the way, others cut downe branches from the trees, and ſtrawed them in the way.

¶ And the multitude that went before, and that followed, cryed, ſaying, Hoſanna to the ſonne of David: I bleſſed is hee that cometh in the Name of the Lord, Hoſanna in the Highest.

¶ And when hee was come into Hieruſalem, all the city was mooued, ſaying, Who is this?

¶ And the multitude ſaid, This is Jeſus the Prophet of Nazareth of Galilee.

¶ And Jeſus went into the Temple of God, and caſt out all them that ſold and bought in the Temple, and overthrowed the tables of the money-changers, and the ſeats of them that ſold doves,

¶ And ſaid unto them, It is written, My houſe ſhall be called the houſe of prayer, but ye haue made it a den of thieves.

¶ And the blinde and the lame came to him in the Temple, and he healed them.

15 And when the chief Priests and Scribes ſaw the wonderful things that hee did, and the children crying in the Temple, and ſaying, Hoſanna to the ſonne of David, they were fore diſpleaſed, 16 And ſaid unto him, Heareſt thou what theſe ſay? And Jeſus ſaith unto them, Yea, haue ye neuer read, Out of the mouth of babes and ſucklings thou haſt perfected praife?

17 ¶ And he left them, and went out of the city, into Bethany, and he lodged there.

18 Now in the morning, as he returned into the city, hee hungered.

19 ¶ And when he ſaw a fig-tree in the way, hee came to it, and found nothing thereon, but leaues onely, and ſaid unto it, Let no fruit grow on thee henceforward for ever. And preſently the fig-tree withered away.

20 And when the Diſciples ſaw it, they marvelled, ſaying, How ſoone is the fig-tree withered away?

21 Jeſus answered, and ſaid unto them, Verely I ſay unto you, If ye haue faith, and doubt not, ye ſhall not onely doe this which is ſaid to be done by the fig-tree, but alſo, if ye ſhall ſay unto this mountain, Be thou removed, and be thou caſt into the Sea, it ſhall be done.

22 And all things whatſoever ye ſhall ſee in prayer, beleeuing, ye ſhall receive.

23 ¶ And when hee was come into the Temple, the chief Priests, and the Elders of the people came unto him, as hee was teaching, and ſaid, By what authority doeſt thou theſe things? and who gave thee this authority?

24 And hee answered, and ſaid unto them, I alſo will aſke you one thing, which if ye tell mee, I in likewiſe will tell you by what authority I doe theſe things.

25 The baptiſme of Iohn, whence was it? from heaven, or of men? And they reaſoned with themſelves, ſaying, It wee ſhall ſay, From heaven, he will ſay unto vs, Why did ye not then beleeue him?

26 But if we ſhall ſay, Of men, we feare the people, for all hold Iohn as a Prophet.

27 And they answered Jeſus, and ſaid, Wee cannot tell. And hee ſaid unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I doe theſe things.

28 ¶ But what thinke you? A certaine man had two ſonnes; and he came to the firſt, and ſaid, Sonne, goe worke to day in my vineyard.

29 Hee answered, and ſaid, I will not: but afterward hee repented, and went.

30 ¶ And hee came to the ſecond, and ſaid likewiſe, and hee answered and ſaid, I goe, ſir, and went not.

31 Whether of them twaine did the will of his father? They ſay unto him, the firſt. Jeſus ſaith unto them, Verely I ſay unto you, that the Publicans and the harlots goe into the kingdome of God before you.

32 For Iohn came unto you in the way of righteouſneſſe, and ye beleeued him not: but the Publicans and the harlots beleeued him: and ye when ye ſee him, ye reſpect him not, and ye will not beleeue him.

33 ¶ Heare another parable: There was a certaine ſonnholder, which planted a vineyard, and hedged it round about, and digged a ſumpſe in it, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a farre country.

34 And when the time of the fruit drew neere, hee ſent his ſervants to the husbandmen, that they might receive the fruits of it.

35 And the husbandmen took his servants, and beat one, and killed another, and stoned another.

36 Again, he sent other servants more than the first; and they did vnto them likewise.

37 Not last of all he sent vnto them his sonne, saying, They will reuerence my son.

38 But when the husbandmen saw the son, they said among themselves, * This is the heire, come, let vs kill him, and let vs seize on his inheritance.

39 And they caught him, and cast him out of the vineyard, and slew him.

40 When the Lord therefore of the vineyard cometh, what will he doe vnto those husbandmen?

41 They say vnto him he will miserably destroy those wicked men, and will let out his vineyard vnto other husbandmen, which shall render him the fruits in their seasons.

42 Iesus saith vnto them, * Did yee neuer read in the Scriptures, The stone which the builders refused, the same is become the head of the corner. This is the Lords doing, and it is marvellous in our eyes.

43 Therefore say I vnto you, The kingdom of God shall be taken from you, and giuen to a nation bringing forth the fruits thereof.

44 And whosoever shall fall on this stone shall be broken on whom: ouer it shall fall, it will grinde him to powder.

45 And when the chiefe Priests and Pharisees had heard his parables, they perceived that hee spake of them.

46 For when they sought to lay hands on him, they feare the multitude, because they toake him for a Prophet.

CHAP. XXII.

1 The parable of the marriage of the Kings son. 2 The vocation of the Gentiles. 3 The punishment of him that wanted the wedding garment. 4 Tribute ought to be paid to Cesar. 5 Christ confute the Sadduces for the resurrection. 6 In answer to the Lawyer which is the first & great commandment: 42 and putteth the Pharisees vpon the Messias.

And Iesus answered, and spake vnto them againe by parables, and said,

1 The kingdom of heauen is like vnto a certaine king which made a marriage for his sonne,

2 And sent forth his seruants to call them that were bidden to the wedding, and they would not come.

3 Againe he sent forth other seruants, saying, Tell them which are bidden, Behold, I haue prepared my dinner; my oxen & my fatlings are killed, and all things are ready: come vnto the marriage.

4 But they made light of it, & went their wayes, one to his farme, another to his merchandise;

5 And the remanue took his seruants, and increased them spitefully, and slew them.

6 But when the King heard thereof, hee was wroth, and he sent forth his armies, and destroyed those murderers, and burnt vp their city.

7 Then saith hee to his seruants: The wedding is ready, but they which were bidden were not worthy.

8 Goe ye therefore into the high wayes, and as many as ye shall find, bid to the marriage.

9 So those seruants went out into the high wayes, and gathered together all as many as they found, both bad and good, and the wedding was furnished with guests.

10 And when the King came in to see the guests, he saw there a man, which had not on a wedding garment, 11 And he saith vnto him; Friend, how comest thou in hither, not having a wedding garment? And he was speechlesse.

12 Then said the King to the seruants; Bind him hand and foot, and take him away, and cast him into outer darke: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

13 * For many are called, but few are chosen.

14 ¶ Then went the Pharisees, and tooke countenance, how they might intangle him in his talk;

15 And they sent out vnto him their disciples, with the Herodians, saying, Master, we know that thou art true, and teachest the way of God in truth, neither carest thou for any mans; for thou regardest not the person of men.

16 Tell vs therefore, What thinkest thou? Is it lawfull to giue tribute vnto Cesar, or not?

17 But Iesus perceived their wickedness; and said, Why tempe yee, ye hypocrites?

18 Shew me the tribute money. And they brought vnto him a penny.

19 And he saith vnto them, Whose is this image and superscription?

20 They say vnto him Cesar, Then saith he, vnto them, Render therefore vnto Cesar the things which are Cessars, and vnto God, the things that are Gods.

21 When they had heard these wordes, they marvelled, and left him, and went their way.

22 ¶ The same day came to him the Sadduces, which say that there is no resurrection, and asked him, 23 Saying, Master, Moses saith, If a man die hauing no children, his brother shall marry his wife, and raise vp seed vnto his brother.

24 Now these were with vs seven brethren, and the first when he had married a wife, deceased, and leauing no issue, left his wife vnto his brother.

25 Likewise the second also, and the third, vnto the seventh.

26 And last of all, the woman died also.

27 Therefore is the resurrection, whose wife shall she be of the seven? for they all had her.

28 Iesus answered, and said vnto them, Ye doe erre, not knowing the Scriptures, nor the power of God.

29 For in the resurrection they neither marry, nor are giuen in marriage, but are as the Angels of God in heauen.

30 But as touching the resurrection of the dead, haue ye not read that which was spoken vnto you by God, saying, 31 * I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Iacob? God is not the God of the dead, but of the liuing.

32 And when the multitude heard this, they were astonished at his doctrine.

33 ¶ But when the Pharisees had heard that he had put the Sadduces to silence, they were gathered together.

34 Then one of them which was a Lawyer, asked him a question, tempting him, and saying, 35 Master, which is the great commandment in the Law?

36 Iesus said vnto him, * Thou shalt loue the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soule, and with all thy might.

37 This is the first and great Commandment.

38 And the second is like vnto it, * Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe.

39 On these two Commandments hang all the Law and the Prophets.

43 He saith vnto them, How then doth David in spirit call him Lord, saying, 44 The Lord said vnto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool?

45 If David then call him Lord, how is hee his soune?

46 And no man was able to answer him a word, neither durst any man (from that day forth) aske him any more questions.

CHAP. XXIII.

¶ Christ admonisheth the people to follow the good doctrine, not the evil examples of the Scribes and Pharisees. 5 His Disciples must beware of their ambition: 15 Hee denounceth eight more against their hypocricie and blindness. 24 and propheseth of the destruction of Hierusalem.

¶ Hee spake Iesus to the multitude, and to his Disciples,

1 Saying, The Scribes and the Pharisees sit in Moses seat:

2 All therefore whatsoever they bid you observe, that observe and doe: but doe not ye after their works, for they say, and doe not.

3 ¶ For they bind heavy burdens, and grievous to be borne, and lay them on mens shoulders, but they themselves will not moue them with one of their fingers.

4 But all their works they doe, for to be some of men: they make broad their phylacteries, and enlarge the borders of their garments,

5 And haue the uppermost roomes at feasts, and the chiefe seats in the synagogues,

6 And greetings in the markets, and to be called of men, Rabbi, Rabbi.

7 ¶ But hee that is greatest among you, shall be your seruant.

8 ¶ And whosoever shall exalt himselfe, shall be abased: and he that shall humble himselfe, shall be exalted.

9 ¶ But hee that is greatest among you, shall be your seruant.

20 Whoso therefore shall swear by the Altar, sweareth by it, and by all things thereon.

21 And whoso shall swear by the Temple, sweareth by it, and by him that dwelleth therein.

22 And hee that shall swear by heaven, sweareth by the throne of God, and by him that sitteth thereon.

23 Woe vnto you Scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites: for ye pay tithes of mint, and annise, and cummin, and haue omitted the weightier matters of the Law, iudgement, Mercy, and Faith: that ought ye to haue done, and not to leaue the other vndone.

24 Yee blind guides, which straine at a gnat, and swallow a camel.

25 Woe vnto you Scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites: for ye make cleane the outside of the cup, and of the platter, but within they are full of extortion and excrese.

26 Thou blind Pharisee, cleanse first that which is within the cup and platter, that the outside of them may be cleane also.

27 Woe vnto you Scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites: for ye are like vnto whitened Sepulchres, which indeede appeare beautifull outwardly, but are within full of dead mens bones, and all vnicuersitie.

28 Because ye also outwardly appeare righteous vnto men, but within ye are full of hypocricie and iniquitie.

29 Woe vnto you Scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites: because ye build the tombes of the Prophets, and garnish the sepulchres of the righteous, 30 And say, If we had bene in the dayes of our fathers, we would not haue bene partakers with them in the blood of the Prophets.

31 Wherefore ye be witnesses vnto your selues, that ye are the children of them which killed the Prophets.

32 Fill ye vp then the measure of your fathers: for ye serpents, ye generation of vipers, how can ye escape the damnation of hell?

33 ¶ Wherefore behold, I send vnto you Prophets, and Wise men, and Scribes, and some of them ye shall kill and crucifie, and some of them shall ye scourge in your Synagogues, and persecute them from city to city:

34 ¶ And ye shall kill and crucifie, and some of them shall ye scourge in your Synagogues, and persecute them from city to city:

35 ¶ And ye shall kill and crucifie, and some of them shall ye scourge in your Synagogues, and persecute them from city to city:

36 ¶ And ye shall kill and crucifie, and some of them shall ye scourge in your Synagogues, and persecute them from city to city:

37 ¶ And ye shall kill and crucifie, and some of them shall ye scourge in your Synagogues, and persecute them from city to city:

38 ¶ And ye shall kill and crucifie, and some of them shall ye scourge in your Synagogues, and persecute them from city to city:

39 ¶ And ye shall kill and crucifie, and some of them shall ye scourge in your Synagogues, and persecute them from city to city:

40 ¶ And ye shall kill and crucifie, and some of them shall ye scourge in your Synagogues, and persecute them from city to city:

41 ¶ And ye shall kill and crucifie, and some of them shall ye scourge in your Synagogues, and persecute them from city to city:

42 ¶ And ye shall kill and crucifie, and some of them shall ye scourge in your Synagogues, and persecute them from city to city:

43 ¶ And ye shall kill and crucifie, and some of them shall ye scourge in your Synagogues, and persecute them from city to city:

44 ¶ And ye shall kill and crucifie, and some of them shall ye scourge in your Synagogues, and persecute them from city to city:

45 ¶ And ye shall kill and crucifie, and some of them shall ye scourge in your Synagogues, and persecute them from city to city:

46 ¶ And ye shall kill and crucifie, and some of them shall ye scourge in your Synagogues, and persecute them from city to city:

47 ¶ And ye shall kill and crucifie, and some of them shall ye scourge in your Synagogues, and persecute them from city to city:

48 ¶ And ye shall kill and crucifie, and some of them shall ye scourge in your Synagogues, and persecute them from city to city:

49 ¶ And ye shall kill and crucifie, and some of them shall ye scourge in your Synagogues, and persecute them from city to city:

50 ¶ And ye shall kill and crucifie, and some of them shall ye scourge in your Synagogues, and persecute them from city to city:

51 ¶ And ye shall kill and crucifie, and some of them shall ye scourge in your Synagogues, and persecute them from city to city:

52 ¶ And ye shall kill and crucifie, and some of them shall ye scourge in your Synagogues, and persecute them from city to city:

53 ¶ And ye shall kill and crucifie, and some of them shall ye scourge in your Synagogues, and persecute them from city to city:

54 ¶ And ye shall kill and crucifie, and some of them shall ye scourge in your Synagogues, and persecute them from city to city:

55 ¶ And ye shall kill and crucifie, and some of them shall ye scourge in your Synagogues, and persecute them from city to city:

3 And Iesus said vnto them, See ye not all these things? Verely I say vnto you, There shall not be left here one stone vpon another, that shall not be throwne downe.

4 And as he sat vpon the mount of Oliues, the Disciples came vnto him privately, saying, Tell vs, when shall these things be? and what shall be the signe of thy coming, and of the end of the world?

4 And Iesus answered, and said vnto them, Take heed that no man deceiue you.

5 For many shall come in my Name, saying, I am Christ: and shall deceiue many.

6 And ye shall heere of warres, and rumours of warres: See that ye be not troubled: for all these things must come to passe, but the end is not yet.

7 For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdome against kingdome, and there shall be famines, and pestilences, and earthquake in diuers places:

8 All these are the beginning of sorowes.

9 Then shall they deliuer you vp to be afflicted, and shall kill you: and ye shall be hated of all nations for my Names sake.

10 And then shall many be offended, and shall betray one another, and shall hate one another.

11 And many false Prophets shall rise, and shall deceiue many.

12 And because iniquity shall abound, the loue of many shall waxe cold.

13 But he that shall endure vnto the end, the same shall be saued.

14 And this Gospell of the kingdome shall be preached in all the world, for a witness vnto all nations, and then shall the end come.

15 When ye therefore shall see the abomination of desolation spoken of by Daniel the Prophet, stand in the holy place, (whom it readeth let him vnderstand.)

16 Then let them which be in Iudea, see into the mountaines.

17 Ieching which is on the house top, not come downe to take any thing out of his house:

18 Neither let him which is in the field, returne backe to take his clothes.

19 And woe vnto them that are with child, and to them that giue sucke in those dayes.

20 But pray ye that your flight be not in the winter, neither on the Sabbath day.

21 For then shall be great tribulation, such as was not since the beginning of the world to this time, nor euer shall be.

22 And except those dayes should be shortened, there should no flesh be saued: but for the Elects sake, those dayes shall be shortened.

23 Then if any man shall say vnto you, Lo, here is Christ, or there: helene it not.

24 For there shall arise false Christs, and false prophets, and shall showe great signes and wonders: inasmuch that (if it were possible) they shall deceiue the very Elects.

25 Behold, I haue told you before.

26 Wherefore, if they shall say vnto you, Behold, hee is in the desart, go not forth: Behold, he is in the secret chambers, beleue it not.

27 For as the lightning cometh out of the East, and shineth euen vnto the West: so shall also the coming of the Sonne of man be.

28 For wheresoever the carcase is, there will the Eagles be gathered together.

29 Immediately after the tribulation of those dayes, shall the Sun be darkened, & the Moone shall not giue her light, and the Stars shall fall from heauen, and the powers of the heauens shall be shaken.

30 And then shall appeare the signe of the Sonne of man in heauen: and then shall all the tribes of the earth mourne, and they shall see the Sonne of man coming in the clouds of heauen, with power and great glory.

31 And he shall send his Angels with a great sound of a trumpet, and they shall gather together his Elect from the foure winds, from one end of heauen to the other.

32 Now learne a parable of the fig-tree: when his branch is yet tender, and putteth forth leaues, ye know that Summer is nigh:

33 So likewise ye, when ye shall see all these things, know that it is nere, euen at the doores.

34 Verely I say vnto you, This generation shall not passe, till all these things be fulfilled.

35 Heauen and earth shall passe away, but my words shall not passe away.

36 But of that day and houre knoweth no man, no, nor the Angels of heauen, but my Father onely.

37 But as the dayes of Noe were, so shall also the coming of the Sonne of man be.

38 For as in the dayes that were before the Flood, they were eating and drinking, marrying, and giuing in marriage, vntill the day that Noe entered into the Arke, 39 And knew not vntill the flood came, and tooke them all away: so shall also the coming of the Sonne of man be.

40 Then shall two be in the field, the one shall be taken, and the other left.

41 Two women shall be grinding at the mill: the one shall be taken, and the other left.

42 Watch therefore, for ye know not what houre your Lord cometh.

43 But know this, that if the good man of the house had knowen in what watch the thief would come, he would haue watched, and would not haue suffered his house to be broken vp.

44 Therefore be ye also ready: in such an houre as you thinke not, the Sonne of man cometh.

45 Who then is a faithful and wise seruant, whom his lord hath made ruler ouer his household, to giue them meat in due season?

46 Blessed is that seruant, whom his lord when he cometh, shall finde so doing.

47 Verely I say vnto you, that he shall make him ruler ouer all his goods.

48 But and if that euill seruant shall say in his heart, My lord delayeth his coming,

49 And shall begin to smite his fellow-seruants, and to eat and drinke with the drunken:

50 The lord of that seruant shall come in a day when he looketh not for him, and in an houre that he is not ware of:

51 And shall cut him asunder, and appoint him his portion with the hypocrites: there shall hee weeping and gnaishing of teeth.

CHAPTER. XXV.

1 The parable of the ten virgines: and of the talents: also the description of the last iudgement.

1 Ten shall the kingdome of heauen be likened vnto ten virgines, which tooke their lampes and went forth to meete the bridegroome.

2 And five of them were wise, and five were foolish.

3 They that were foolish tooke their lampes, and tooke no oyle with them:

4 But the wise tooke oyle in their vessels with their lampes.

5 While the Bridegroome tarried, they all slept and slepe.

6 And at midnight there was a cry made, Behold, the Bridegroom cometh, go ye out to meet him.

7 Then all those virgins arose, and trjounced their lampes.

8 And the foolish said vnto the wife, Giue vs of your oyle, for our lampes are gone out.

9 But the wife answered, saying, What seest thou there be not enough for vs and you, but goe ye rather to them that sell, and buy for your selues.

10 And while they went to buy, the Bridegroom came; and they that were ready, went in with him to the marriage; and the doore was shut.

11 Afterward came also the other virgines, saying, Lord, Lord, open to vs.

12 But he answered, and said, Verely I say vnto you, I knowe you not.

13 Watch therefore, for ye know neither the day, nor the houre wherein the Sonne of man cometh.

14 For the kingdom of heauen is as a man travelling into a far country, who called his owne seruants, and deliuered vnto them his goods.

15 And vnto one he gaue five talents, to another two, and to another one, to every man according to his feuerall ability, and straightway tooke his journey.

16 Then he that had receiued the five talents, went and traded with the same, and made them other five talents.

17 And likewise he that had receiued two, he also gained other two.

18 But he that had receiued one, went and digged in the earth, and hid his lords money.

19 After a long time, the lord of those seruants cometh, and reckoneth with them.

20 And so he that had receiued five talents, came and brought other five talents, saying; Lord, thou deliuerest vnto me five talents: Behold, I haue gained besides them five talents more.

21 His lord said vnto him, Well done, thou good and faithfull seruant, thou hast bene faithfull ouer a few things, I will make thee ruler ouer many things, enter thou into the ioy of thy Lord.

22 He also that had receiued two talents, came and said, Lord, thou deliuerest vnto me two talents: behold, I haue gained two other talents besides them.

23 His lord said vnto him, Well done, good and faithfull seruant, thou hast bene faithfull ouer a few things, I will make thee ruler ouer many things; enter thou into the ioy of thy Lord.

24 Then he which had receiued the one talent, came and said, Lord, I know thee that thou art an hard man; reaping where thou hast not sowne, and gathering where thou hast not strawed:

25 And I was afraid, and went and hid thy talent in the earth: loe, there thou hast that is thine.

26 His lord answered, and said vnto him, Thou wicked and slothfull seruant, thou knowest that I reape where I sowed not, and gather where I haue not strawed:

27 Thou oughtest therefore to haue put my money to the exchangers, and then at my coming I should haue receiued mine owne with vsury.

28 Take therefore the talent from him, and giue it vnto him which hath ten talents.

29 For vnto every one that hath shall he giue, and he shall haue abundance: but from him that hath not shall be taken away, euen that which he hath.

30 And cast ye the vnprouisible seruant into ouer the wheel, there shall he weeping and gnashing of teeth.

31 ¶ When the Sonne of man shall come in his glory, and all the holy Angels with him, then shall he sit vpon the throne of his glory:

32 And before him shall be gathered all nations, and he shall separate them one from another, as a shepherd diuideth the sheepe from the goats.

33 And he shall set the sheepe on his right hand, but the goats on the left.

34 Then shall the King say vnto them on his right hand, Come ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world.

35 For I was an hungred, and ye gaue me meat: I was thirsty, and ye gaue me drinke: I was a stranger, and ye tooke me in:

36 Naked, and ye clothed mee: I was sicke, and ye visited mee: I was in prison, and ye came vnto mee.

37 Then shall the righteous answer him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee an hungred, and fed thee? or thirsty, and gaue thee drinke?

38 When saw we thee a stranger, and tooke thee in? or naked, and clothed thee?

39 Or when saw we thee sicke, or in prison, and came vnto thee?

40 And the King shall answer, and say vnto them, Verely I say vnto you, In as much as ye haue done it vnto one of the least of these my brethren, ye haue done it vnto mee.

41 Then shall he say also vnto them on the left hand, Depart from mee, ye cursed, into euill lasting fire, prepared for the deuil and his angels.

42 For I was an hungred, and ye gaue me no drinke: I was thirsty, and ye gaue me no drinke:

43 I was a stranger, and ye tooke me not in: naked, and ye clothed me not: sicke and in prison, and ye visited me not.

44 Then shall they also answer him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee an hungred, or athirst, or a stranger, or naked, or sicke, or in prison, and did not minister vnto thee?

45 Then shall he answer them, saying, Verely I say vnto you, In as much as ye did it not to one of the least of these, ye did it not to mee.

46 And these shall goe away into euill lasting punishment: but the righteous into life eternall.

CHAPTER XXXVI.

1 The rulers conspire against Christ. 2 The woman answereth his bead. 3 Indas selleth him. 4 Christ catcheth the Passouer, 5 Judas betrayereth him with a kisse. 6 7 and being betrayed with a kisse, 8 is carried to Caiaphas, 9 and a mid of Peter.

1 Now it came to passe when Iesus had finished all these sayings, he said vnto his Disciples,

2 ¶ Ye know that after two dayes is the Feast of the Passouer, and the Sonne of man is betrayed to be crucified.

3 ¶ Then assembled together the chiefe Priests and the Scribes, and the Elders of the people vnto the palace of the high Priest, who was called Caiaphas,

4 And consulted that they might take Iesus by subtilty, and kill him.

5 But they said, Not on the Feast day, lest there be an uproare among the people.

6 ¶ Now when Iesus was in Bethany, in the house of Sanna the leper.

7 There came vnto him a woman hauing an alabastrer box of very precious ointment, and powred it on his head, as he sat at meat.

8 But when his Disciples saw it, they had indignation, saying, To what purpose is this waste?

9 For this ointment might haue bene sold for much, and giuen to the poore.

10 When Iesus vnderstood it, he said vnto them, Why trouble ye the woman? for she hath wrought a good worke vpon me.

11 For ye haue the poore alwayes with you, but me ye haue not alwayes.

12 For in that shee hath poured this ointment on my body, shee did it for my buriall.

13 Verely I say vnto you, Wherefoerer this Gospel shall be preached in the whole world, there shall also this, that this woman hath done, be told for a memoriall of her.

14 ¶ Then one of the tuches, called Iudas Iscariot, went vnto the chiefe Priests, 15 And said vnto them, What will ye giue me, and I will deliuer him vnto you? and they counted with him for thirty pecies of silver.

16 And from that time hee sought opportunity to betray him.

17 ¶ Now the first day of the feast of vnleuened bread, the Disciples came to Iesus, saying vnto him, Where wilt thou that we prepare for thee to eate the Passouer?

18 And he said, Goe into the city to such a man, and say vnto him, The Master saith, My time is at hand, I will keepe the Passouer at thy house with my Disciples.

19 And the Disciples did as Iesus had appointed them, and they made ready the Passouer.

20 ¶ Now when the Euen was come, hee satte downe with the coulen.

21 And as they did eate, hee said, Verely I say vnto you, that one of you shall betray me.

22 And they were exceeding sorr. wifull, and began eury one of them to say vnto him, Lord, is it I?

23 And he answered, and said, He that dippereth his hand with mee in the dish, the same shall betray me.

24 ¶ There were some of man goeth as it is written of him: a reuocable that in a by whom the Some of man is better yet: it had beene good for that man if he had not bene borne.

25 Then Iudas which betrayed him, answered, and said, Master, is it I? He saith vnto him, Thou hast said.

26 ¶ And as they were eating, Iesus tooke bread, and blessed it, and brake it, and gaue it to the Disciples, and said, Take, eate, this is my body.

27 And he tooke the cup, and gaue thanks, and gaue it to them, saying, Drink ye all of it.

28 For this is my blood of the new Testament, which is shed for many for the remission of sin.

29 But I say vnto you, I will not drinke henceforth of this fruite of the Vine, vntill that day when I drinke it new with you in my Fathers Kingdome.

30 And when they had sung an Ar. Hymne, they went out into the mount of Oliues.

31 Then said Iesus vnto them, All ye shall be offended because of me this night: for it is written, I will smite the Shepherds, and the sheepe of the flocke shall be scattered abroad.

32 But after I am risen againe, I will goe before you into Galilee.

33 Peter answered, and said vnto him, Though all men shall be offended because of thee, yet will I neuer be offended.

34 Iesus said vnto him, Verely I say vnto thee, that this night before the cocke crow, thou shalt deny me thrice.

35 Peter said vnto him, Though I should die with thee, yet will I not deny thee. Likewise also said all the Disciples.

36 ¶ Then commeth Iesus with them vnto a place called Gethsemane, and saith vnto the Disciples, Sit ye here, while I goe and pray yonder.

37 And hee tooke with him Peter, and the two sonnes of Zebedee, and began to be sorrowfull, and very heauy.

38 Then saith he vnto them, My soule is exceeding sorrowfull, euen vnto death: carry ye heere, and watch with me.

39 And he went a little further, and fell on his face, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if it be possible, let this cup passe from me: neuertheless, not as I will, but as thou wilt.

40 And hee commeth vnto the Disciples, and findeth them asleep, and saith vnto Peter, What could ye not watch with me one houre?

41 Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation: the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak.

42 He went away againe the second time, & prayed, saying, O my Father, if this cup may not passe away from me, except I drinke it, it will be done.

43 And he came and found them asleep againe: for their eyes were heauy.

44 And he left them, and went away againe, and prayed the third time, saying the same words.

45 Then cometh he to his Disciples, and saith vnto them, Sleepe on now, and take your rest, behold, the houre is at hand, and the Sonne of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners.

46 Rise, let vs be going: behold, hee is at hand that doth betray me.

47 ¶ And while he yet spake, Iudas one of the twelve came, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chiefe Priests and Elders of the people.

48 Now hee that betrayed him, gaue them a signe, saying, Whomefoerer I shall kisse, that same is he, hold him fast.

49 And fourthwith he came to Iesus, and said, Haile Master, and kissed him.

50 And Iesus said vnto him, Friend, wherefore art thou come? Then came they, and laid hands on Iesus, and tooke him.

51 And behold, one of them which were with Iesus, stretched out his hand, and drew his sword, and strooke a seruant of the high Priests, and smote off his eare.

52 Then said Iesus vnto him, Put vp againe thy sword into his place: for all they that take the sword, shall perish with the sword.

53 Thinkest thou that I cannot now pray to my Father, and he shall presently giue me more then twelue legions of Angels?

54 But how then shall the Scriptures be fulfilled, that thus it must be?

55 In that same houre said Iesus to the multitude, Are ye come out against a thiefe, with swords and staves for to take mee? I sate daily with you, teaching in the Temple, and ye laid no hold on me.

56 But all this was done, that the Scriptures of the Prophets might be fulfilled. Then all the Disciples forsooke him, and fled.

57 ¶ And they which had laid hold on Iesus, led him away to Caia, the high Priest, where the Scribes and the Elders were assembled.

58 But Peter followed him afarre off, vnto the high Priests palace, and went in, and sate with the seruaunts to keepe the gate.

19 Now the chiefe Priests, and Elders, and all the Council, sought false witnesses against Iesus, to put him to death.

20 But found none: yea, though many false witnesses came, yet found they none. At the last came two false witnesses.

21 And said, This Iesus said, * I am able to destroy the Temple of God, and to build it in three dayes.

22 And the high Priest arose, and said vnto him, Answerest thou nothing? What is it which these witnesses against thee?

23 But he held his peace. And the high Priest answered, and said vnto him, I advise thee by the living God, that thou tell vs whether thou be the Christ the Sonne of God.

24 Iesus saith vnto him, Thou hast said: Nevertheless, I say vnto you, * Hereafter shall ye see the Sonne of man sitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heauen.

25 Then the high Priest rent his clothes, saying, He hath spoken blasphemy: what further need haue we of witnesses? Behold, now ye haue heard his blasphemy.

26 What thinke ye? They answered, and said, He is guilty of death.

27 Then did they spit in his face, and buffeted him, and others smote him with the palmes of their hands, 28 Saying, Prophesie vnto vs, thou Christ, who is he that smote thee?

29 ¶ Now Peter sat without in the palace: and a damoysell came vnto him, saying, Thou also wast with Iesus of Galilee.

30 But he denied before them all, saying, I know not what thou saist.

31 And when he was gone out into the porch, another maid saw him, and said vnto them that were there, This fellow was also with Iesus of Nazareth.

32 And againe he denied with an oath, I do not know the man.

33 And after a while came vnto him they that stood by, and said to Peter, Surely thou also art one of them, for thy speech bewrayeth thee.

34 Then began hee to curse, and to sweare, saying, I know not the man. And immediately the cocke crow.

35 And Peter remembered the words of Iesus, which said vnto him, Before the cocke crow, thou shalt deny me thrice. And he went out, and wept bitterly.

C H A P. XXVII.

1 Christ is deliuered bound to Pilate. ¶ Iudas hangeth himselfe. 19 Pilate admitteth his wife. 24 washeth his hands: 26 and booseth Barabbas. 29 Christ is crowned with thornes, 33 crucified, 40 crucified, 50 death, and is buried: 56 his sepulchre is sealed and watched.

When the morning was come, all the chiefe Priests and Elders of the people tooke counsell against Iesus to put him to death.

2 And when they had bound him, they led him away, and deliuered him to Pontius Pilate the gouernour.

3 ¶ Then Iudas which had betrayed him, when he saw this he was condemned, repented himselfe, and brought againe the thirty pieces of silver to the chiefe Priests and Elders,

4 Saying, I haue sinned, in that I haue betrayed innocents blood. And they said, What is that to vs? See thou to that.

5 And he cast downe the pieces of silver in the Temple, and departed, and went and hanged himselfe.

6 And the chiefe Priests tooke the silver pieces, and said, It is not lawful for to put them into the treasury, because it is the price of blood.

7 And they tooke counsell, and bought with them the potters field, to bury strangers in.

8 Wherefore that field was called, * The field of blood, vnto this day.

9 ¶ (This was fulfilled that which was spoken by Ieremy the Prophet, saying, * And they tooke the thirty pieces of silver, the price of him that was valued, whom they of the children of Israel did value:)

10 And gave them for the potters field, as the Lord appointed me.)

11 And Iesus stood before the gouernour, and the gouernour asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Iewes? And Iesus said vnto him, Thou sayest.

12 And when he was accused of the chiefe Priests and Elders, he answered nothing.

13 Then saith Pilate vnto him, Heardest thou not how many things they witness against thee?

14 And hee answered him to neuer a word: insomuch that the gouernour marvelled greatly.

15 ¶ Now at that Feast the gouernour was wont to release vnto the people a prisoner, whom they would.

16 And they had then a notable prisoner, called Barabbas.

17 Therefore when they were gathered together, Pilate said vnto them, Whom will ye that I release vnto you? Barabbas, or Iesus which is called Christ?

18 For he knew that for eny they had delincked him.

19 ¶ When he was set downe on the iudgement seat, his wife sent vnto him, saying, Haue thou nothing to doe with that iust man: for I haue suffered many things this day in a dreame, because of him.

20 ¶ But the chiefe Priests and Elders perswaded the multitude, that they should release Barabbas, and destroy Iesus.

21 The gouernour answered, and said vnto them, Whether of the twaine will ye that I release vnto you? they said, Barabbas.

22 Pilate said vnto them, What shall I doe then with Iesus, which is called Christ? They all said vnto him, Let him be crucified.

23 And the gouernour said, Why, what euill hath he done? But they cried out the more, saying, Let him be crucified.

24 ¶ When Pilate saw that hee could preuaile nothing, but that rather a tumult was made, hee tooke water, and washed his hands before the multitude, saying, I am innocent of the blood of this iust person: see ye to it.

25 Then answered all the people, and said, His blood be on vs, and on our children.

26 ¶ Then released he Barabbas vnto them, and when he had scourged Iesus, hee deliuered him to be crucified.

27 ¶ Then the souldiers of the gouernour tooke Iesus into the common hall, and gathered vnto him the whole band of souldiers.

28 And they stripped him, and put on him a scarlet robe.

29 ¶ And when they had platted a crowne of thornes, they put it vpon his head, and a reed in his right hand: and they bowed the knee before him, and mocked him, saying, Haile King of the Jewes.

 30 And they spit vpon him, and took the reed, and smote him on the head.
 31 And after that they had mocked him, they took the robe off from him, and put his owne raiment on him, and led him away to crucifie him.
 32 And as they came out, they found a man of Cyrene, Simoa by name: him they compelled to beare his crosse.
 33 And when they were come vnto a place called Golgotha, that is to say, a place of a skull, 34 They gaue him vinegar to drinke mingled with gall: and when hee had tasted thereof, hee would not drinke.
 35 And they crucified him, and parted his garments, casting lots: that it might bee fulfilled which was spoken by the Prophet: They parted thy garments among them, and vpon my vesture did they cast lots.
 36 And sitting downe, they watched him there:
 37 And set vp ouer his head his accusation written, THIS IS IESVS THE KING OF THE JEWES.
 38 Then were there two thieves crucified with him: one on the right hand, and another on the left.
 39 And they that passed by, teuled him, wagging their heads,
 40 And saying, Thou that destroyest the Temple, & buildest it in thre dayes, saue thy selfe: If thou be the Sonne of God, come downe from the crosse.
 41 Likewise also the chiefe Priests mocking him, with the Scribes, and Elders, said, 42 He saith others, him selfe he cannot save: If he be the King of Israel, let him now come downe from the crosse, and we will beleue him.
 43 He trusted in God, let him deliuer him now if hee will haue him: for hee said, I am the Sonne of God.
 44 The thieves also which were crucified with him, cast the same in his teeth.
 45 Now from the sixth houre there was dark-nesse ouer all the land vnto the ninth houre.
 46 And about the ninth houre Iesus cryed with a loud voyce, saying, Et. Et. Son of Abrahams, that is to say, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?
 47 Some of them that stood there, when they heard that, said, This man calleth for Elias.
 48 And straightway one of them ran, and tooke a sponge, and filled it with vineger, and put it on a reed, and gaue him to drinke.
 49 The rest said, Let be, let vs see whether Elias will come to saue him.
 50 And Iesus when hee had cryed againe with a loud voyce, yielded vp the ghost.
 51 And behold, the vail of the Temple was rent in twaine, from the top to the bottome, and the earth did quake, and the rocks rent:
 52 And the graues were opened, and many bodies of Saints which slept, arose, 53 And came out of the graues after his resurrection, and went into the holy city, and appeared vnto many.
 54 Now when the Centurion, and they that were with him, watching Iesus, saw the earthquake, and those things that were done, they feared greatly, saying, Truly this was the Sonne of God.
 55 And many women were there (beholding aparte of) which followed Iesus from Galilee, ministring vnto him.
 56 Among which was Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James, and Iohes, and the mother of Zebedees children,

57 When the Euen was come, there came a rich man of Arimathea, named Ioseph, who also himselfe was Iesus Disciple:
 58 Hee went to Pilate, and begged the body of Iesus: then Pilate commanded the body to be de-liuered.
 59 And when Ioseph had taken the body, hee wrapp'd it in a cleane linnen cloth, 60 And laid it in his owne new tombe, which he had hewen out in the rocke; and he rolled a great stone to the doore of the sepulchre, and departed.
 61 And there was Mary Magdalene, and the other Mary, sitting ouer against the Sepulchre.
 62 Now the next day, that followed the day of the Preparation, the chiefe Priests and Pharisees came together vnto Pilate,
 63 Saying, Sir, we remember that that deceiuer said, while hee was yet aliue, After thre dayes I will rise againe.
 64 Command therefore that the Sepulchre bee made sure vntill the third day, lest his Disciples come by night, and steale him away, and say vnto the people, Hee is risen from the dead: so the last error shall be worse then the first.
 65 Pilate said vnto them, Ye haue a watch, goe your way, make it as sure as you can.
 66 So they went, and made the Sepulchre sure sealing the stone, and setting a watch.

CHAP. XXVIII.

*Christis resurrection is declared by an Angel to the women. 9 He himselfe appeareth vnto them.
 11 The high Priests and the Souldiers moue to say that hee was stolen out of his Sepulchre. 16 Christ appeareth to his Disciples, 19 and sendeth them on baptize and teach all nations.*
 IN the third day of the Sabbath, as it began to dawne, towards the first day of the weeke, came Mary Magdalene, and the other Mary to see the Sepulchre.
 2 And behold, there was a great earthquake, for the Angel of the Lord descended from heauen, and came and rolled backe the stone from the doore, and sat vpon it.
 3 His countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow.
 4 And for feare of him, the keepers did shake, and became as dead men.
 5 And the Angel answered, and said vnto the women, Feare not ye: for I know that ye seeke Iesus, which was crucified.
 6 He is not heere; for hee is risen as hee said:
 Come, see the place where the Lord lay.
 7 And goe quickly, and tell his Disciples that he is risen from the dead. And behold, he goeth before you into Galilee, there shall ye see him: loe, I haue told you.
 8 And they departed quickly from the Sepulchre; with feare and great ioy; and did run to bring his Disciples word.
 9 And as they went to tell his Disciples, behold, Iesus met them, saying, All haile. And they came, and held him by the feet, and worshipped him.
 10 Then said Iesus vnto them, Be not afraid, goe tell my brethren, that they goe into Galilee, and there shall they see me.
 11 Now when they were going behold, some of the watch came into the city, and shewed vnto the chiefe Priests all the things that were done.
 12 And when they were assembled with the Ebders, and had taken counsell, they gaue large money
 vnto the Souldiers,

13 Saying, Say ye, His Disciples came by night, and stole him away while we slept.

14 And if this come to the gouernours eares, we will perswade him, and secure you.

15 So they tooke the money, and did as they were taught. And this saying is commonly reported among the Iewes vntill this day.

16 ¶ Then the eleven Disciples went away into Galilee, into a mountaine where Iesus had appointed them.

17 And when they saw him, they worshipped him: but some doubted.

18 And Iesus came, and spake vnto them, saying, All power is giuen vnto me, in heauen & in earth.

19 ¶ Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the Name of the Father, and of the Sonne, and of the holy Ghost:

20 Teaching them to obserue all things whatsoever I haue commanded you: and lo, I am with you alway, euen vnto the end of the world. Amen.

¶ THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO S. MARKE.

CHAP. I.

The office of Iohn the Baptist. 9 Iesus is baptizeth, 10 tempted: 14 He preacheth, 16 calleth Peter, Andrew, James, and Iohn, 23 beareth out that had a dumb, 29 Peters mother in law, 32 many other persons, 41 and cleanseth the leper.

The beginning of the Gospel of Iesus Christ, the Sonne of God,

As it is written in the Prophets, Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.

4 The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight.

5 Iohn did baptize in the wilderness, and preach the baptizement of repentance, for the remission of finnes.

6 And there went out vnto him, all the land of Iudea, and they of Hierusalem, & were all baptizeth of him in the riuers of Iordan, confessing their finnes.

7 And Iohn was clothed with camels haire, and with a girdle of a skin about his loynes: and he did eate locusts and wild honey.

8 And preached, saying, There cometh one mightier then I after me, the latchet of whose shoes I am not worthy to stoop downe and vnschoe.

9 I indeed haue baptizeth you with water: but he shall baptizeth you with the holy Ghost.

10 And it came to passe in those dayes, that Iesus came from Nazareth of Galilee, and was baptizeth of Iohn in Iordan.

11 And straightway coming vp out of the water, he saw the heauens opened, and the Spirit like a Dove descending vpon him.

12 And there came a voice from heauen, saying, This art my beloued Sonne in whom I am well pleased.

13 And immediately the Spirit drineth him into the wilderness.

14 And hee was there in the wilderness forty dayes tempted of Satans, and was with the wilde beastes, and the Angell ministered vnto him.

15 Now after that Iohn was put in prison, Iesus came into Galilee, preaching the Gospel of the Kingdome of God;

16 And saying, The time is fulfilled, and the Kingdome of God is at hand: repent ye and beleeue the Gospel.

17 Now as hee walked by the Sea of Galilee, hee saw Simeon, and Andrew his brother casting a net into the Sea (for they were fishers.)

18 And Iesus said vnto them, Come ye after me: and I will make you to become fishers of men.

19 And when he had gone a little further thence, hee saw James the sonne of Zebedee, and Iohn his brother, who also were in the ship mending their nets.

20 And straightway hee called them: and they left their father Zebedee in the ship with the hired seruants, and went after him.

21 And they went into Capernaum, and straightway on the Sabbath day hee entered into the Synagoge, and taught.

22 And they were astonisheth at his doctrine: for he taught them as one that had authority, and not as the Scribes.

23 And there was in their Synagoge a man with an vnclene spirit, and he cryed out, 24 Saying, Let vs alone, what haue we to doe with thee, Iesus of Nazareth? Art thou come to destroy vs? I know thee who thou art, The holy One of God.

25 And Iesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him.

26 And when the vnclene spirit had torne him, and cryed with a loud voyce, he came out of him.

27 And they were all amazed, inasmuch that they questioned among themselves, saying, What thing is this? What new doctrine is this? For with authority commandeth hee euen the vnclene spirits, and they doe obey him.

28 And immediately his fame spread abroad throughout all the region round about Galilee.

29 And forthwith when they were come out of the Synagoge, they entered into the house of Simon and Andrew, with James and Iohn.

30 But Simons wifes mother lay sick of a feuer, and soon they tell him of her.

31 And he came and tooke her by the hand, and lift her vp, and immediately shee was lecher, and he ministered vnto them.

32 And, as Euen when the Sonne did set, they brought vnto him all that were diseased, and them that were possessed with deuites.

33 And all the city was gathered together at the doore.

34 And hee healed many that were sicke of diuers diseases, and cast out many deuites, and suffered not the deuites to speake, because they knew him.

35 And in the morning, rising vp a great while before day, he went out, and departed into a solitary place, and there prayed.

36 And Simon, and they that were with him, followed after him:

37 And when they had found him, they said vnto him, All men seeke for thee.

38 And hee said vnto them, Let vs goe into the next towne, that I may preach there also: for therefore came I forth.

39 And he preached in their Synagogues throughout all Galilee, and cast out devils.
 40 And there came a leper to him, beseeching him, and kneeling down to him, and saying unto him, If thou wilt, thou canst make me cleane.
 41 And Iesus moved with compassion, put forth his hand, and touched him, and said unto him, I will, be thou cleane.
 42 And as soon as he had spoken, immediately the leprose departed from him, and he was cleansed.
 43 And he strictly charged him, and forthwith sent him away,
 44 And said unto him, See thou say nothing to any man: but goe thy way, shew thy selfe to the Priest, & offer for the cleansing those things which Moses commanded for a testimony unto them.
 45 But he went out, and began to publish it much, and to blaze abroad the matter: so inasmuch that Iesus could no more openly enter into the citie, but was without in desert places: and they came to him from every quarter.

C H A P. II.

1 Christ healeth one sicke of the palse, 23 calleth Matthew from the receipt of custome, 25 eateth with Publicans and sinners, 28 exorciseth his disciples for not fasting, 29 and for plucking the eares of corne on the Sabbath day.
 2 And againe he entred into Capernaum after some dayes, and it was noised that he was in the house.
 3 And straightway many were gathered together, insomuch that there was no room to receive them, no not so much as about the doores: and he preached the word unto them.
 4 And they come unto him, bringing one sicke of the palse, which was borne of four.
 5 And when they could not come nigh unto him for presse, they uncovered the rooffe where he was: and when they had broken it up, they let downe the bed whereon the sicke of the palse lay.
 6 When Iesus saw their faith, he said unto the sicke of the palse, Sonne, thy sinnes be forgiven thee.
 7 But there were certaine of the Scribes sitting there, and reasoning in their hearts,
 8 Why doth this man thus speake blasphemies? who can forgive sinnes, but God onely?
 9 And immediately when Iesus perceived in his spirit, that they so reasoned within themselves, he said unto them, Why reason ye these things in your hearts?
 10 Whether is it easier to say to the sicke of the palse, thy sinnes be forgiven thee: or to say, Arise and take up thy bed and walke?
 11 But that ye may know that the Sonne of man hath power on earth to forgive sinnes, (He saith to the sicke of the palse.)
 12 I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy bed, and goe thy way unto thine house.
 13 And immediately he arose, tooke up his bed, and went forth before them all: insomuch that they were all amazed, and glorified God, saying, We never saw it on this fashion.
 14 And he went forth againe by the Sea side, and all the multitude resorted unto him, and hee taught them.
 15 And as he passed by, hee saw Levi the sounce of Alphens sitting at the receipt of custome, and said unto him, Follow me. And he arose, and followed him.

also together with Iesus and his Disciples: for there were many, and they followed him.
 16 And when the Scribes and Pharisees saw him eat with Publicans, and sinners, they said unto his Disciples, How is it that he eateth and drinketh with Publicans and sinners?
 17 When Iesus heard it, hee saith unto them, They that are whole, have no need of the Physician, but they that are sicke: I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.
 18 And the disciples of Iohn, and of the Pharisees vsed to fast: and they come, and say unto him, Why doe the disciples of Iohn, and of the Pharisees fast, but thy Disciples fast not?
 19 And Iesus said unto them, Can the children of the bride-chamber fast, while the Bridegrome is with them? As long as they have the Bridegrome with them, they cannot fast.
 20 But the dayes will come, when the Bridegrome shall be taken away from them, and then shall they fast in those dayes.
 21 No man also seweth a piece of new cloth on an old garment: else the new piece that filled it, will tear away from the old, and the tear is made worse.
 22 And no man putteth new wine into old bottles, else the new wine doth burst the bottles, and the wine is spilled, and the bottles will be marred: but new wine must be put into new bottles.
 23 And it came to passe, that he went through the corne fields on the Sabbath day, & his disciples began as they went, to plucke the eares of corne.
 24 And the Pharisees said unto him, Beweld, why doe they on the Sabbath day that which is not lawfull?
 25 And he said unto them, Have ye never read what David did, when hee had need, and was hungry, hee eat that which was within him?
 26 How hee went into the house of God, in the daies of Abiathar the high Priest, and did eat of the Showbread, which is not Lawfull to eat, but for the Priests, & gave also to them which were with him?
 27 And he said unto them, The Sabbath was made for man, and not man for the Sabbath:
 28 Therefore the Sonne of man is Lord also of the Sabbath.

C H A P. III.

1 Christ healeth the withered hand, 10 and maketh other infirmities: 11 rebuketh the unclean spirit: 13 chaseth his twelve Apostles: 22 censureth the blasphemy of casting out devils by Beelzebub, 31 and sheweth who are his brother, sister, and mother.
 2 And hee entred againe into the Synagogue, and there was a man there which had a withered hand:
 3 And they watched him, whether hee would heale him on the Sabbath day, that they might accuse him.
 4 And he said unto them, Is it lawfull to doe good on the Sabbath dayes, or to doe euill? to save life, or to kill? but they held their peace.
 5 And when he had looked round about on them with anger, being grieved for the hardenness of their hearts, hee saith unto the man, Stretch forth thine hand: And he stretched it out, and his hand was restored whole as the other.
 6 And the Pharisees went forth, and straightway tooke counsell with the Herodians against him, how they might destroy him.

7 But Jesus withdrew himselfe with his Disciples to the Sea: and a great multitude from Galilee followed him, and from Iudea, 8 And from Hierusalem, and from Idumea, and from beyond Iordan, and they about Tyre and Sidon, a great multitude when they had heard what great things he did, came vnto him.

9 And he spake to his Disciples, that a small ship should wait on him, because of the multitude, lest they should throng him.

10 For he had healed many, insomuch that they pressed vpon him for to touch him, as many as had plagues.

11 And vncleane spirits, when they saw him, fell downe before him, and cried, saying, Thou art the Sonne of God.

12 And hee straitly charged them, that they should not make him knowne.

13 And he goeth vnto a mountain, and callet vnto him whom he would: and they came vnto him.

14 And he ordained twelue, that they should be with him: and that hee might send them forth to preach:

15 And to haue power to heale sicknesses, and to cast out devils.

16 And Simon he surnamed Peter.

17 Brother of James (and he surnamed them Boanerges, which is the sonnes of thunder.)

18 And Andrew, and Philip, and Bartholomew, and Matthew, and Thomas, and James the sonne of Alphaeus, and Thaddeus, and Simon the Canaanite, 19 And Iudas Iscariot, which also betrayed him: and they went into an house.

20 And the multitude cometh together againe, so that they could not so much as eat bread.

21 And when his friends heard of it, they went out to lay hold on him, for they said, He is beside himselfe.

22 ¶ And the Scribes which came downe from Hierusalem, said, He hath Beelzebub, and by the prince of the devils casteth he out devils.

23 And he called them vnto him, and said vnto them in parables, How can Satan cast out Satan?

24 And if a kingdom be diuided against it selfe, that kingdome cannot stand.

25 And if a house be diuided against it selfe, that house cannot stand.

26 And if Satan rise vp against himselfe, and be diuided, he cannot stand, but hath an end.

27 No man can enter into a strong mans house, and spoile his goods, except he will first bind the strong man, and then he will spoile his house.

28 ¶ Verily I say vnto you, All finnes shall bee forgiven vnto the sonnes of men, and blasphemies wherewithsoever they shall blaspheme:

29 But he that shall blaspheme against the holy Ghost, hath neuer forgiveness, but is in danger of eternall damnation.

30 Because they said, He hath an vncleane spirit.

31 ¶ There came then his brethren, and his mother, and standing without, sent vnto him, calling him.

32 And the multitude sat about him, and they said vnto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren without seeke for thee.

33 And he answered them, saying, Who is my mother, or my brethren?

34 And hee looked round about on them which sat about him, and said, Behold, my mother, and my brethren, 35 For whosoever shall doe the will of God, the same is my brother, and my sister, and my mother.

CHAPTER IIII.

¶ The parable of the sower, 14 and the meaning thereof, 21. ¶ We must communicate the light of our knowledge to others, 26. The parable of the seed growing secretly, 30 and of the mustard seed, 35. Christ shall be the temple on the Sea.

AND hee began againe to teach by the Sea: and there was gathered vnto him a great multitude, so that hee entered into a ship, and sat in the Sea: and the whole multitude was by the Sea on the land,

2 And he taught them many things by parables, and said vnto them in his doctrine,

3 Hearken, Behold, there went out a sower to sowe:

4 And it came to passe as he sowed, some fell by the way side, and the fowles of the ayre came and deuoured it vp.

5 And some fell on stony ground, where it had not much earth, and immediately it sprang vp, because it had no depth of earth.

6 But when the Sonne was vp it was scorched, and because it had no roote, it withered away.

7 And some fell among thornes, and the thornes grew vp and choked it, and it yielded no fruit.

8 And other fell on good ground, and did yield fruit that sprang vp and increased, and brought forth some thirtie, and some sixty, and some an hundred.

9 And he said vnto them, He that hath eares to heare, let him heare.

10 And when he was alone, they that were about him, with the twelue, asked of him the parable.

11 And he said vnto them, Vnto you it is given to know the mystery of the kingdome of God: but vnto them that are without, all these things are done in parables:

12 That seeing they may see, and not perceive, and hearing they may heare, and not vnderstand, lest at any time they should be converted, and their finnes should be forgiven them.

13 And he said vnto them, Know ye not this parable? And how can you know all parables?

14 ¶ The Sower soweth the word.

15 And these are they by the way side, where the word is sowne, but when they haue heard, Satan cometh immediately, and taketh away the word that was sowne in their hearts.

16 And these are they likewise which are sowne on stony ground, who when they haue heard the word, immediately receiue it with gladnesse:

17 And haue no roote in themselves, and so endure but for a time: afterward when affliction or persecution ariseth for the wordes sake, immediately they are offended.

18 And these are they which are sowne among thornes: such as heare the word, 19 And the cares of this world, and the deceitfulness of riches, and the lusts of other things entering in, choke it, and it becometh vnfruitfull.

20 And these are they which are sowne on good ground, such as heare the word, and receiue it, and bring forth fruit, some thirtie fold, some sixty, and some an hundred.

21 ¶ And he said vnto them, Is a candle brought to be put vnder a bushell, or vnder a bed? and not to be set on a candlestick?

22 ¶ For there is nothing hid which shall not be manifested: neither was any thing kept secret, but that it should come abroad.

23 If:

23 If any man have eares to heare, let him heare.

24 And he said vnto them, Take heed what you heare: * With what measure ye mete, it shall bee measured to you: And vnto you that here, shall more be giuen.

25 * For he that hath, to him shall be giuen, and he that hath not, from him shall be taken, even that which he hath.

26 ¶ And he said, So is the Kingdome of God, as if a man should cast seed into the ground, 27 And should sleepe, and rize night and day, and the seed should spring and grow vp, hee knoweth not how.

28 For the earth bringeth forth fruit of her selfe, first the blade, then the eare, after that the full corn in the eare.

29 But when the fruit is brought forth, immediately he putteth in the sickle, because the harvest is come.

30 ¶ And he said, * Whereunto shall we liken the Kingdome of God? Or with what comparision shall we compare it?

31 It is like a graine of musterd seed: which when it is sown in the earth, is lesse then all the seeds that be in the earth.

32 But when it is sown, it groweth vp, and becometh greater then all herbes, and shooteth out great branches, so that the fowles of the ayre may lodge vnder the shadow of it.

33 * And with many such parables spake he the Word vnto them, as they were able to heare it.

34 But without a parable spake hee not vnto them, and when they were alone, he expounded all things to his Disciples.

35 ¶ And the same day when the euen was come he saith vnto them, Let vs passe ouer vnto the other side.

36 And when they had sent away the multitude, they tooke ship, such as he was in the ship, and there were also with him, that little ship.

37 And there arose a great storm of wind, and the waves beat into the ship, so that it was now full.

38 And he was in the hinder part of the ship, sleepe on a pillow: and they awaked him, and say vnto him, Master, carest thou not that we perish?

39 And he arose, and rebuked the wind, and said vnto the Sea, Peace, be still; and the wind ceased, and there was a great calme.

40 And he said vnto them, Why are ye so fearefull? How is it that you haue no faith?

41 And they feared exceedingly, and said one to another, What manner of man is this, that enuoy the wind and the Sea, obey him?

1 Christ deliuering the possessed of the legion of devils, 12 They enter vnto the swine. 23 He heareth the woman of the bloody issue, 35 and raiseth from death Iawas his daughter.

And they came ouer vnto the other side of the Sea, into the countrey of the Gadarenes.

2 And when he was come out of the ship, immediately there met him out of the tombes, a man with an vnclene spirit,

3 Who had his dwelling among the tombes, and no man could bind him, no nor with chaines:

4 Because that hee had bene often bound with fetters and chaines, and the chaines had bene plucked asunder by him, and the fetters broken in pieces: neither could any man tame him.

5 And alwayes night and day hee was in the mountaines, and in the tombes, crying, and cutting himselfe with stones.

6 But when he saw Iesusaasare off, he came and worshipped him,

7 And cryed with a loud voyce, and said, What haue I to doe with thee, Iesus, thou Sonne of the most high God? I aduise thee by God, that thou comest me out.

8 (For he said vnto him, Come out of the man thou vnclene spirit.)

9 And he asked him, What is thy name? And he answered, saying, My name is legion, for we are many.

10 And he brought him much that he would not send them away out of the countrey.

11 Now there was there nigh vnto the mountaine, a greacherd of swine feeding.

12 And all the devils besought him saying, Send vs into the swine, that we may enter into them.

13 And forsooth Iesus gave them leave. And the vnclene spirits went out, and entered into the swine; and the herd ran violently downe a steep place into the sea, (they were about two thousand) and were choaked in the Sea.

14 And they that fed the swine, fled, and told it in the city, and in the countrey. And they went out to see what it was that was done.

15 And they come to Iesus, and see him that was possessed with the deuill, and had the legion sitting, and clothed, and in his right mind: and they were afraid.

16 And they that saw it, told them how it befell to him that was possessed with the deuill, and also concerning the swine.

17 And they began to pray him to depart out of their costes.

18 And when he was come into the ship, he that had bene possessed with the deuill, prayed him that he might be with him.

19 Howbeit, Iesus suffered him not, but saith vnto him, Goe home to thy friends, and tel them how great things the Lord hath done for thee, and how his hand compassion on thee.

20 And he departed, and began to publish in Decapolis, how great things Iesus had done for him: and all men did maruell.

21 And when Iesus was passed ouer againe by ship vnto the other side, much people gathered vnto him, and he was nigh vnto the Sea.

22 ¶ And behold, there cometh one of the Rulers of the Synagogue, Jairus by name, and when he saw him, he fell at his feet, 23 And besought him greatly, saying, My little daughter lieth at the point of death, if pray thee come and lay thy hands on her that she may be healed, and she shall liue.

24 And Iesus went with him, and much people followed him, and thronged him.

25 And a certaine woman, which had an issue of blood twelue yeeres,

26 And had suffered many things of many Physicians, and had spent all that she had, and was nothing bettered, but rather grew worse, 27 When she had heard of Iesus, came in the press behind, and touched his garment.

28 For she said, If I may touch but his clothes, I shall be whole.

29 And straight way the fountain of her blood was dryed vp: and she felt in her body that blood was healed of that plague.

30 And Iesus immediately knowing in himselfe that vertue had gone out of him, turned him about in the press, and said, Who touched my clothes?

31 And his Disciples said vnto him, Thou seest the multitude charging thee, and sayest thou, Who touched me?

32 And hee looked round about to see her that had done this thing.

33 But the woman fearing and trembling, knowing what was done in her, came, and fell downe before him, and told him all the truth.

34 And he said vnto her, Daughter, thy faith hath made thee whole, goe in peace, and be whole of thy plague.

35 While he yet spake, there came from the Ruler of the Synagogue a house, certaine which said, Thy daughter is dead, why troublest thou the Master any further?

36 Assoone as Iesus heard the word that was spoken, he faith vnto the Ruler of the Synagogue, be not afraid, onely belecue.

37 And he suffered no man to follow him, save Peter, and James, and Iohn the brother of James.

38 And he cometh to the house of the Ruler of the Synagogue, and seeth the tumult, and them that wept, and weiled greatly.

39 And when he was come in, hee saith vnto them, Why make ye this adoe, and weepe? the damosell is not dead, but sleepech.

40 And they laughed him to scorne; but when he had put them all out, hee taketh the father & the mother of the damosell, and them that were with him, and eneteth in where the damosell was lying.

41 And he tooke the damosell by the hand, and said vnto her, Talitha cumi, which is, being interpreted, Damosell (I say vnto thee) Arise.

42 And straightway the damosell arose, and walked, for she was of the age of twelue yeeres; and they were astonish'd with a great astonishment.

43 And he charged them straightly, that no man should know it: and commanded that something should be giuen her to eate.

CHAP. VI.

1 Christ is censured of his countrymen. 7 Hee queth the unclean power ouer unclean spirits. 14 Divers opinions of Christ. 18 Iohn Baptist is beheaded, 29 and buried. 30 The Apostles reason from preaching. 34 The miracle of Iesus Iames and Iohn. 41 Christ walketh on the Sea: 52 and bealeth all that touch him.

1 ANd he went out from thence, & came into his owne country, and his disciples follow him.

2 And when the Sabbath day was come, hee began to teach in the Synagogue: and many hearing him, were astonish'd, saying, From whence hath this man these things? and what wisdom is this which is giuen vnto him, that such mighty workes are wrought by his hands?

3 Is not this the carpenter, the sonne of Mary, the brother of Iames and Iosias, and of Iuda, and Simon? and are not his sisters here with vs? And they were offended at him.

4 But Iesus said vnto them, A Prophet is not without honor, but in his owne country, and among his owne kin, and in his owne house.

5 And he could there do no mighty workes, save that he laid his hands vpon a few sicke folke, and healed them.

6 And hee marvelled because of their vnbelief.

7 And he went round about the villages, teaching.

8 ¶ And hee called vnto him the twelue, and began to send them forth by two and two, and gave them power ouer vnclean spirits.

9 And commanded them, that they should take nothing for their iourney, save a staffe onely, no shoo, no bread, no lanquoy in their purses;

9 But be shod with sandals: and not put on two coats.

10 And he said vnto them, in what place soeuer ye enter into an house, there abide till ye depart from that place.

11 ¶ And whosoever shall not receive you, nor heare you, when ye depart thence, shake off the dust vnder your feet, for a testimony against them: Verely I say vnto you, It shall be more tolerable for Sodome and Gomorrah in the day of Iudgement, then for that city.

12 And they went out, and preached, that men should repent.

13 And they cast out many devils, and anointed with oyle many that were sicke, and healed them.

14 ¶ And King Herod heard of him, (for his name was spread abroad:) and he said, that Iohn the Baptist was risen from the dead, and therefore mighty workes do shew forth themselves in him.

15 Others said, That it is Elias. And others said, That it is a Prophet, or as one of the Prophets.

16 ¶ But when Herod heard thereof, he said, It is Iohn whom I beheaded, he is risen from the dead.

17 For Herod himselfe had sent forth, and laid hold vpon Iohn, and bound him in prison for Herodias sake, his brother Philips wife, for he had married her.

18 For Iohn had said vnto Herod, ¶ It is not lawfull for thee to haue thy brothers wife.

19 Therefore Herodias had a quarrell against him, and would haue killed him, but she could not.

20 For Herod feared Iohn, knowing that he was a just man, and an holy, and he obeyed him: and when he heard him, he did many things, and heard him gladly.

21 And when a convenient day was come, that Herod on his birth-day made a supper to his lords, high officers, and chief officers of Galilee:

22 And when the daughter of the said Herodias came in, and danced, and pleased Herod, and them that sat with him, the King said vnto the damosell, After what whatsoever thou wilt, and I will give it thee.

23 And hee sware vnto her, Whatsoeuer thou shalt aske of me, I will give it thee, vnto the half of my kingdom.

24 And shee went forth, and said vnto her mother, What shall I aske? And shee said, The head of Iohn the Baptist.

25 And shee came in straightway with haste vnto the King, and asked, saying, I wil that thou giue me by & by in a charger, the head of Iohn the Baptist.

26 And the King was exceeding sorry, for for his oathes sake, and for their sakes which sat with him, he would not refuse her.

27 And immediately the King sent an executioner, and commanded his head to be brought, and he went, and beheaded him in the prison.

28 And brought his head in a charger, and gaue it to the damosell, and the damosell gaue it to her mother.

29 And when his disciples heard of it, they came and tooke vp his corpse, and laid it in a tombe.

30 ¶ And the Apostles gathered themselves together vnto Iesus, and told him all things, both what they had done, and what they had taught.

31 And he said vnto them, Come ye your selves apart into a desert place, and rest a while. For there were many coming and going, and they had no leisure so much as to eate.

32 ¶ And they departed into a desert place by ship privately.

32 And the people saw them departing, and many knew him, and ranne a loote thither out of all cities, and outwent them, and came together vnto him.

33 And Iesus when he came out, saw much people, & was moued with compassion toward them, because they were as sheepe without a shepheard: and he began to teach them many things.

34 And when the day was now farre spent, his Disciples came vnto him, and said, This is a desart place, and now the time is farre passed.

35 And when the day was now farre spent, his Disciples came vnto him, and said, This is a desart place, and now the time is farre passed.

36 Send them away, that they may goe into the country round about, and into the villages, and buy themselves bread: for they haue nothing to eat.

37 Hee answered and said vnto them, Giue ye them to eat. And they say vnto him, Shall we goe and buy two hundred penny worth of bread, and give them to eat?

38 He saith vnto them, How many loaves haue ye? goe and see. And when they knew, they say, Five, and two fishes.

39 And hee commanded them to make all sit downe by companies vpon the greene grass.

40 And they sat downe in ranks by hundreds, and by fifties.

41 And when he had taken the five loaves and the two fishes, he looked vp to heauen, and blessed, and brake the loaves, and gaue them to his Disciples, to set before them: and the two fishes diuided he among them all.

42 And they did all eat, and were filled.

43 And they took vp twelue baskets full of the fragments and of the fishes.

44 And they that did eat of the loaves, were about five thousand men.

45 And straightway he constrained his Disciples to get into the ship, and to goe to the other side before he wold goe into Bethsaida, while hee went away the people.

46 And when he had said thus away, he departed into a mountain to pray.

47 And when euen was come, the ship was in the middle of the Sea, and hee alone on the land.

48 And hee saw them toying in rowing (for the wind was contrary vnto them:) and about the fourth watch of the night, hee cometh vnto them, walking vpon the Sea, and would haue passed by them.

49 But when they saw him walking vpon the sea, they supposed it had bene a Spirit, and cryed out.

50 (For they all saw him, and were troubled) and immediatly hee talked with them, and saith vnto them, Be of good cheere, it is I, be not afraid.

51 And he went vp vnto them into the ship, and the wind ceased: and they were sore amazed in themselves beyond measure, and wondered.

52 For they considered not the miracle of the loaves, for their heart was hardened.

53 And when they had passed out, they came into the land of Genesareth, and drew to the shore.

54 And when they were come out of the ship, straight way they knew him, 55 And ranne thorow that whole region round about, and began to carry about in beds thuse that were sicke, where they heard hee was.

56 And whithersoener hee entred, into villages, or cities, or country, they laid vsicker in the streets, and besought him that they might touch if it were but the border of his garment: and as many as touched him were made whole.

16 If any man haue eares to heare, let him heare.

17 And when hee was entred into the house from the people, his Disciples asked him concerning that Parable.

18 And hee saith vnto them, Ate ye so without vnderstanding also? Doe ye not perceiue that whatsoeuer thing from without entred into the man, it cannot defile him.

19 Because it entred not into his heart, but into the belly, and goeth out into the draught, purging all meates?

20 And hee said, That which cometh out of the man, that defileth the man.

25 For a certaine woman, whose young daughter had an unclean spirit, heard of him, and came and fell at his feet.

26 (The woman was a Jewe, a Syrophenician by nation:) and she besought him that he would cast forth the devill out of her daughter.

27 But Jesus said unto her, Let the children first be filled: for it is not meet to take the childrens bread, and to cast it unto the dogs.

28 And she answered and said unto him, Yes Lord, yet the dogs under the table eat of the childrens crumbles.

29 And he said unto her, For this saying, goe thy way, the devill is gone out of thy daughter.

30 And when she was come to her house, she found the devill gone out, and her daughter laid upon the bed.

31 ¶ And goinge, departing from the coasts of Tyre and Sidon, hee came unto the Sea of Galilee, thorow the midst of the coast of Decapolis.

32 And they bring unto him one that was deaf, and had an impediment in his speech: and they beseech him to put his hand upon him.

33 And heooke him aside from the multitude, and put his fingers into his eares, and he spit, and touched his tongue, 34 And looking up to heaven, he sighed, and said unto him, Ephphatha, that is, Be opened.

35 And straightway his eares were opened, and the string of his tongue was loosed, and he spake plaine.

36 And he charged them that they should tell no man: but the more he charged them, so much the more a great deale they published it, 37 And were beyond measure astonished, saying, He hath done all things well: he maketh both the deafe to heare, and the dumbe to speake.

CHAP VIII

¶ Christ feedeth the people miraculously: 1. ¶ He giveth a signe to the Pharisees: 14. ¶ He admonisheth his Disciples to beware of the leaven of the Pharisees, and of the leaven of Herod: 15. ¶ He cureth a blind man by sight: 23. ¶ He acknowledgeth that hee is the Christ, who should suffer and die againe, 34. and exhorteth to patience in persecution, for the profession of the Gospel.

IN those dayes the multitude being very great, and hearing nothing to eat, Jesus called his Disciples unto him, and said unto them,

1 I have compassion on the multitude, because they have now bene with me three dayes, and have nothing to eat:

2 And if I send them away fasting to their owne houses, they will faint by the way: for they are of them that came from farre.

3 And his Disciples answered him, From whence can a man satiate these men with bread here in the wilderness?

4 And he asked them, How many loaves have ye? and they said, Seven.

5 And he commanded the people to sit downe on the ground: and hee tooke the seven loaves, and gave thanks, and brake, and gave to his Disciples, for to set before them, and they did set before the people.

6 And they had a few small fishes, and he blessed and commanded to set them also before them,

7 So they did eat, and were filled: and they tooke up of the broken bread that was left, seven baskets.

8 And they that had eaten, were about foure thousand, and he sent them away.

9 ¶ And straightway he entered into a ship with his Disciples, and came into the parts of Dalmanutha.

10 ¶ And the Pharisees came forth, and beganne to question with him, seeking of him a signe from heaven, tempting him.

11 And he sighed deeply in his spirit, and saith, Why doth this generation seek after a signe? Verely I say unto you, There shall no signe be given unto this generation.

12 And he left them, and entering into the ship againe, departed to the other side.

13 ¶ Now the Disciples had forgotten to take bread, neither had they in the ship with them more than one loaf.

14 And he charged them, saying, Take heed, beware of the leaven of the Pharisees, and of the leaven of Herod.

15 And they reasoned among themselves, saying, It is because we have no bread.

16 And when Jesus knew it, hee said unto them, Why reason ye, because ye have no bread? Perceive ye not yet, neither understand? Have ye your heart yet hardened?

17 Having eyes, see ye not? and having eares, heare ye not? and doe ye not remember?

18 When I brake the five loaves among five thousand, how many baskets full of fragments took ye up? They say unto him, Twelve.

19 And when the seven among four thousand, how many baskets full of fragments took ye up? And they said, Seven.

20 And he said unto them, How is it that ye doe not understand?

21 ¶ And hee cometh to Bethsaida, and they bring a blind man unto him, and besought him to touch him:

22 And he tooke the blinde man by the hand, and led him out of the towne, and when he had spit on his eyes, and put his hands upon him, he asked him if he saw ought.

23 And hee looked up, and said, I see men as trees, walking.

24 After that he put his hands againe upon his eyes, and made him looke up, and he was restored, and saw every man clearly.

25 And he sent him away to his house, saying, Neither goe into the towne, nor tell it to any in the towne.

26 ¶ And Jesus went out and his Disciples into the towne of Caesarea Philippi: and by the way he asked his Disciples, saying unto them, Whom doe men say that I am?

27 And they answered, John the Baptist: but some say, Elias: and others, one of the Prophets.

28 And he saith unto them, But whom say ye, that I am? And Peter answered, and said unto him, Thou art the Christ.

29 And he charged them, that they should tell no man of him.

30 And he began to teach them, that the Sonne of man must suffer many things, and be rejected of the Elders, and of the chief Priests, and Scribes, and be killed, and after three dayes rise againe.

31 And he spake that saying openly. And Peter tooke him, and began to rebuke him.

32 But when he had turned about, and looked on his his Disciples, he rebuked Peter, saying, Get thee behind me, Satan: for thou knowest not the things that be of God, but the things that be of men.

34 ¶ And when he had called the people vnto him, with his Disciples also, he said vnto them, * Whosoener will come after mee, let him deny himselfe, and take vp his crosse, and follow me.

35 For whosoener will save his life, shall lose it: but whosoener shall lose his life for my sake and the Gospels, the same shall save it.

36 For what shall it profit a man, if hee shall gaine the whole world, and lose his owne soule?

37 Or what shall a man give in exchange for his soule?

38 * Whosoener therefore shall be ashamed of me and of my words, in this adulterous and sinful generation, of him also shall the Sonne of man be ashamed, when he cometh in the glory of his Father, with the holy Angels.

C H A P. I X.

1. Jesus is transfigured. 11. He instructeth his Disciples concerning the coming of Elias: 14. Casteth forth a dumbe and deafe spirit: 20. Foretelleth his death and resurrection: 32. Exhorteth his Disciples to humilitie: 38. bidding them not to prohibite such as be not against them, nor to goe of force to any of the faithfull.

1. AND he said vnto them, * Verely I say vnto you, that there be some of them that stand here, which shall not taste of death, till they haue seene the Kingdome of God come with power.

2. ¶ And after sixe dayes, Iesus taketh with him Peter, and Iames, and Iohn, and leadeth them vp into an high mountaine apart by themselves: and he was transfigured before them.

3. And his raiment became shining, exceeding white as snow: so as no fuller on earth can white them.

4. And there appeared vnto them Elias, with Moses: and they were talking with Iesus.

5. And Peter answered and said vnto Iesus, Master, it is good for vs to be heere, and let vs make three Tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.

6. For he wist not what to say, for they were sore afraid.

7. And there was a cloud that overshadowed them: and a voice came out of the cloud, saying, This is my beloued Sonne: heare him.

8. And suddenly when they had looked round about, they saw no man any more, save Iesus onely with themselves.

9. And as they came downe from the mountaine, he charged them that they should tell no man what things they had seene, till the Sonne of man were risen from the dead.

10. And they kept that saying with themselves, questioning one with another, what the rising from the dead should meane.

11. ¶ And they asked him, saying, Why say the Scribes, that Elias must first come?

12. And he answered and told them, Elias verely cometh first, and restoreth all things, and how it is written of the Sonne of man, that he must suffer many things, and be sicke at sonne.

13. But I say vnto you, that Elias is indeede come, and they haue done vnto him, whatsoever they liuel, as it is written of him.

14. ¶ And when he came to his Disciples, hee saw a great multitude about them, and the Scribes questioning with them.

15. And straightway all the people, when they beheld him, were greatly amazed, and running to him, saluted him.

16. And hee asked the Scribes, What question ye I with them?

17. And one of the multitude answered, and said, Master, I haue brought vnto thee my soune, which hath a dumbe spirit:

18. And wheneuer he taketh him, he teareth him, and he someth, and gaspeth with his teeth, and pincheth away, and I speake to thy Disciples, that they should cast him out, and they could not.

19. He answereth him, and saith, O faithlesse generation, how long shall I be re with you? how long shall I suffer you? bring him vnto me.

20. And they brought him vnto him: and when he saw him, straightway the spirit tare him, and he fell on the ground, and wallowed, foaming.

21. And he asked his father, How long is it agoe since this came vnto him? And he said, Of a childe.

22. And oftentimes hath cast him into the fire, and into the waters to destroy him: but if thou couldest doe any thing, haue compassion on vs, and helpe vs.

23. Iesus said vnto him, If thou couldest beleue, all things are possible to him: that he saith.

24. And straightway the father of the child cryed out, and said with teares, Lord, I beleue, helpe thou mine vnbellefe.

25. When Iesus saw that the people came running together, he rebuked the foule spirit, (saying vnto him, Thou dumbe and deafe spirit, I charge thee come out of him, and ener no more into him.)

26. And he spake to yell, and rent him sore, and came out of him, and he was as one dead, insomuch that many said, He is dead.

27. But Iesus took him by the hand, and lifted him vp, and he arose.

28. And when hee was come into the house, his Disciples asked him privately, Why could not we cast him out?

29. And he said vnto them, This kind can come forth by nothing, but by prayer and fasting.

30. ¶ And they departed thence, and passed through Galilee, and hee would not that any man should know it.

31. For he taught his Disciples, and said vnto them, The Sonne of man is deliuered into the hands of men, and they shall kill him, and after that he is killed, he shall rise the third day.

32. But they vnderstood not that saying, and were afraid to aske him.

33. ¶ And he came to Capernaum, and being in the house, he asked them, What was it that ye disputed among your selves by the way?

34. But they held their peace: For by the way they had disputed among themselves, who should be the greater.

35. And hee sate downe and called the twelve, and said vnto them, If any man desire to be first, the same shall be last of all, and seruant of all.

36. And hee took a child, and set him in the midst of them: and when he had taken him in his armes, he said vnto them,

37. Whosoener shall receive one of such children in my Name, receiue me: and whosoener shall receiue me, receiue not me, but him that sitteth

38. ¶ And Iohn answered him, saying, Master, we saw one casting out devils in thy Name, and he followeth not vs, and we forbade him, because he followeth not vs.

39. But Iesus said, Forbid him not, for there is no man which shall do a miracle in my Name, that can lightly speake euill of me.

4 For he that is not against vs, is on our parte.
 5 For whosoever shall giue you a cup of water to drinke in my Name, because ye belong to Christ: verely I say vnto you, he shall not lose his reward.

6 And whosoever shall offend one of these little ones, that beloueth in mee, it is better for him that a millstone were hanged about his necke, and he were cast into the Sea.

7 And if thy hand offend thee, cut it off: It is better for thee to enter into life maimed, then hauing two hands to goe into hell, into the fire that neuer shall be quenched:

8 Where their worme dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.

9 And if thy foot offend thee, cut it off: It is better for thee to enter halt into life, then hauing two feet to be cast into hell, into the fire that neuer shall be quenched.

CHAP. X.

1 Christ dispuerth with the Pharisees, touching diuorcement: 13 Blesseth the children that are brought vnto him: 17 Resolueth a rich man how he may inherit life euermoring: 23 Telleth his Disciples of the danger of riches: 28 Promiseth rewards to them that forsake any thing for the Gospel: 32 Foretelleth his death and resurrection: 35 Biddeth the two ambitious suters, to shunke rather of suffering with him: 36 And reuereth to Barabbus his siter.

1 And he rote from thence, and cometh into the coaste of Iudea, by the farther side of Iordan: and the people resort vnto him againe, and as he was wont, he taught them againe.

2 And the Pharisees came in him, and asked him, Is it lawfull for a man to put away his wife tempting him,

3 And he answered, and said vnto them, What did Moses commaund you?

4 And they said, Moses suffered to write a bill of diuorcement, and to put her away.

5 And Iesus answered, and said vnto them, For the hardness of your heart, he wrote you this precept.

6 But from the beginning of the creation, God made them male and female.

7 For this cause shall a man leaue his father and mother, and cleare to his wife,

8 And they twaine shall be one flesh: so then they are no more twaine, but one flesh.

9 What therefore God hath ioyned together, let no man put asunder.

10 And in the house his Disciples asked him againe of the same matter.

11 And he saith vnto them, Whosoever shall put away his wife, and marry another, committeth adultery against her.

12 And if a woman shall put away her husband, and be married to another, she committeth adultery.

13 And they brought yong children to him, that he should touch them, and his Disciples rebuked those that brought them.

14 But when Iesus saw it, he was much displeas'd, and said vnto them, Suffer the little children to come vnto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the Kingdome of God.

15 Verely I say vnto you, Whosoever shall receiue the Kingdome of God as a little child, hee shall not enter therein.

16 And he tooke them vp in his armes, put his hands vpon them, and blessed them.

17 And when hee was gone forth into the way, there came one running, and knecled to him, and asked him, Good master, what shall I doe that I may inherit eternall life?

18 And Iesus said vnto him, Why callest thou me good? There is no man good but one, that is, God.

19 Thou knowest the Commandements, Doe not commit adultery, Doe not kill, Doe not steale, Doe not beare false witness, Defraud not, Honour thy father and mother.

20 And he answered, and said vnto him, Master, all these haue I obserued from my youth.

21 Then Iesus beholding him, loned him, and said vnto him, One thing thou lackest. Goe thy way, sell whatsoeuer thou hast, and giue to the poore, and thou shalt haue treasure in heauen, and come, take vp the crosse, and follow me.

22 And he was sad at that saying, and went away grieved: for he had great possessions.

23 And Iesus looked round about, and saith vnto his Disciples, How hardly shall they that haue riches enter into the Kingdome of God?

24 And the Disciples were astonish'd at his words. But Iesus answered againe, and said vnto them, Children, how hard is it for them that trust in riches to enter into the Kingdome of God?

25 It is easier for a camel to goe thorow the eye of a needle, then for a rich man to enter into the Kingdome of God.

26 And they were astonish'd out of measure, saying among themselves, Who then can be saved?

27 And Iesus looking vpon them, saith, With men it is impossible, but not with God: for with God all things are possible.

28 Then Peter began to say vnto him, Loe, we haue left all, and haue followed thee.

29 And Iesus answered and said, Verely, I say vnto you, There is no man that hath left house, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my sake and the Gospels,

30 But he shall receiue an hundred fold now in this time, houses, and brethren, and sisters, and mothers, and children, and lands, with persecutions, and in the world to come eternall life:

31 But many that are first, shall be last: and the last, first.

32 And they were in the way going vp to Hierusalem, and Iesus went before them, and they were amazed, and as they followed, they were afraid: and he tolke againe the twelue, and began to tell them what things should happen vnto him, 33 Saying, Behold, we goe vp to Hierusalem, and the Sonne of man shall be deliuered vnto the chief Priests, and vnto the Scribes: and they shall condemn him to death, and shall deliuer him to the Gentiles.

34 And they shall mocke him, and shall scourge him, and shall spit vpon him, and shall kill him, and the third day he shall rise againe.

35 ¶ And James and John the Scribes of Zebedee come unto him, saying, Master, we would that thou shouldst doe for vs whatsoeuer we shall desire.

36 And he said vnto them, What would ye that I should doe for you?

37 They said vnto him, Grant vnto vs that wee may sit one on thy right hand, and the other on thy left hand in thy glory.

38 But Iesus said vnto them, Ye know not what ye aske: Can ye drinke of the Cup that I drinke of? and be baptized with the Baptisme that I am baptized with?

39 And they said vnto him, We can. And Iesus said vnto them, Ye shall indeede drinke of the Cup that I drinke of: and with the Baptisme that I am baptized with, shall ye be baptized:

40 But to sit on my right hand, and on my left hand, is not mine to giue, but it shall be giuen to them for whom it is prepared.

41 And when the ten heard it, they began to be much displeas'd with James and Iohn.

42 But Jesus called them to him, and said vnto them, * Ye know that they which are accounted to rule ouer the Gentiles, exercise lordship ouer them: and their greater ones exercise authority vpon them.

43 But so shall it not be among you: but whoeuer will be great among you, shall be your Minister:

44 And whoeuer of you will bee the chiefest, shall be seruant of all.

45 For euen the Sonne of man came not to be ministered vnto, but to minister, and to giue his life a ranfome for many.

46 ¶ And they came to Iericho: and as he went out of Iericho with his Disciples, and a great number of people, blind Bartimeus, the son of Timaus, sat by the high waye side begging.

47 And when he heard that it was Iesus of Nazareth, he began to cry out and say, Iesus thou sonne of Dauid, haue mercy on me.

48 And many charged him, that he should hold his peace: but he cryed the more a great deale, Thou Some of Dauid haue mercy on me.

49 And Iesus stood still, and commanded him to be called: and they call the blind man, saying vnto him, Be of good comfort, rise, he calleth thee.

50 And he casting away his garment, rose, and came to Iesus.

51 And Iesus answered, and said vnto him: What wilt thou that I should doe vnto thee? The blind man said vnto him, Lord, that I might receiue my sight.

52 And Iesus said vnto him, Goe thy way, thy faith hath made thee whole: And immediately he receiued his sight, and followed Iesus in the way.

C H A P. X I.

1 Christ rideth with triumph into Hierusalem: 23 curseth the fruitlesse trade vnto: 25 purgeth the Temple: 26 exhorteth his Disciples to steadfastnesse of faith, and to forsake their enemies: 27 and defendeth the lambs blisse of his sheepe by the witness of Iohn, who was a man sent of God.

AN I when they came nigh to Hierusalem, vnto Bethphage, and Bethany, at the mount of Oliues, he sendeth forth two of his Disciples,

2 And said vnto them, Goe your way into the village ouer against you, and assoon as ye be entered into it, ye shall find a colt tied, whereon neuer man hath sate, loose him, and bring him.

3 And if any man say vnto you, Why doe ye this? Saye, That the Lord hath need of him: and straightway, he will send him hither.

4 And they went their way, and found the colt tyed by the doore without, in a place where two wayes met: and they loose him.

5 And certaine of them that stood there, said vnto them, What doe ye loosing the colt?

6 And they said vnto them, euen as Iesus had commaunded: and they let them goe.

7 And they brought the colt to Iesus, and cast their garments on him, and he sate vpon him.

8 And many spread their garments in the way: and others cut downe branches of the trees, and strawed them in the way.

9 And they that went before, and they that followed, cryed, saying, Hosanna, Blessed is hee that cometh in the Name of the Lord.

10 Blessed be the Kingdome of our father Dauid, that cometh in the Name of the Lord, Hosanna in the Highest.

11 And Iesus entred into Hierusalem, and into the Temple, and when he had looked round about vpon all things, and now the euernide was come, he went out into Bethany with the twelue.

12 ¶ And on the morrow when they were come from Bethany, he was hungry.

13 ¶ And seeing a figtree afar off, hauing leaues, he came, if haply he might finde any thing thereon, and when hee came to it, hee found nothing but leaues: for the time of figs was not yet.

14 And Iesus answered and said vnto it, No man eate fruit of thee hereafter for euer. And his Disciples heard it.

15 ¶ And they come to Hierusalem, and Iesus went into the Temple, and began to cast out them that sold and bought in the Temple, and overthrow the tables of the money-changers, and the seats of them that sold doves:

16 And would not suffer that any man should carry any vessel thorow the Temple.

17 And he taught, saying vnto them, Is it not written, My house shall be called of all nations, The house of prayer? but ye haue made it a den of thieues.

18 And the Scribes and chiefe Priests heard it, and sought how they might destroy him: for they feared him, because all the people was astonished at his doctrine.

19 And when Euen was come, hee went out of the city.

20 ¶ And in the morning as they passed by, they saw the figtree dried vp from the roote.

21 And Peter calling to remembrance, said vnto him, Master, behold the figtree which thou curst, is withered away.

22 And Iesus answering, said vnto them, I haue faith in God.

23 For verely I say vnto you, That whoeuer shall say vnto this mountaine, Be thou remooued, and be thou cast into the Sea, and shall not doubt in his heart, but shall beleuee that those things which he saith, shall come to passe: he shall haue whatsoever he saith.

24 Therefore I say vnto you, What things soeuer ye desire when ye pray, beleuee that ye receiue them, and ye shall haue them.

25 And when ye stand praying, forgive, if ye haue ought against any: that your Father also which is in heauen may forgive you your trespasses.

26 But if you doe not forgive, neither will your Father which is in heauen forgive your trespasses.

Or, saye.

28 And say vnto him, By what authority dost thou these things? and who gane thee this authority to doe these things?

29 And Iesus answered, and said vnto them, I will also aske of you one question, and answer mee, and I will tell you by what authority I doe these things.

30 The Baptisme of Iohn, was it from heauen, or of men? Answer me.

31 And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heauen, he will say, Why then did ye not beleue him?

32 But if we shall say, Of men, they feared the people: for all men counted Iohn, that hee was a Prophet indeed.

33 And they answered and said vnto Iesus, We cannot tell. And Iesus answering, saith vnto them, neither do I tell you by what authority I doe these things.

CHAP. XII.

1 In a parable of the vineyard, let vs to vnto thankfull husbandmen. Christ foretelleth the reprobation of the Iewes, and the calling of the Gentiles: 2 He auoideth the snare of the Pharisees and Herodians about paying tribute to Cesar. 3 Commendeth the vertue of the Sadducees, who denied the resurrection: 4 He rebuketh the Scribe who questioned of the first Commandment: 5 He rebuketh the opinion that the Scribes held of Christ, 6 Ridiculing the people to heresies of their ambitious and hypocritical: 7 And commendeth the poore widow for her two mites, alone all.

¶ And hee began to speake vnto them by parablas, A certaine man planted a vineyard, and set an hedge about it, and digged a place for the wine-ke, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a farre country.

2 And at the season, he sent to the husbandmen a seruant, that he might receiue from the husbandmen of the fruit of the vineyard.

3 And they caught him, and beat him, and sent him away empty.

4 And againe he sent vnto them another seruant; and at him they cast stones, and wounded him in the head, and sent him away shamefully handled.

5 And againe he sent another, & him they killed: and many others, beaung some, and killing some.

6 Having yet therefore one sonne, his wellbeloued, he sent him also last vnto them, saying, They will reuerence my sonne.

7 But those husbandmen said amongst themselves, This is the heire, come, let vs kill him, and the inheritance shall be ours.

8 And they tooke him, and killed him, and cast him out of the vineyard.

9 What shall therefore the Lord of the vineyard doe? He will come and destroy the husbandmen, and will giue the vineyard vnto others.

10 ¶ And I haue ye no read this Scripture? The stone which the builders reioiced, is become the head of the corner:

11 ¶ And this was the Lords doing, and it is maruelous in our eyes.

12 And they sought to lay hold on him, but feared the people: for they knew that he had spoken the parable againt them: and they left him, and went their way.

13 ¶ And they sent vnto him certaine of the Pharisees, and of the Herodians: to catch him in his words.

14 And when they were come, they say vnto him, Master, We know that thou art true, and teachest no man: for thou regardest not the person of men, but teachest the way of God in truth. Is it lawful to giue tribute to Cesar, or no?

15 Shall wee giue, or shall wee not giue? But he knowing their hypocrisy, said vnto them, Why tempt ye me? bring me a penny that I may see it.

16 And they brought it: and he saith vnto them, Whose is this image and superscription? And they said vnto him, Cæsars.

17 And Iesus answering, said vnto them, Render to Cesar, the things that are Cæsars: and to God, the things that are Gods. And they marvelled at him.

18 ¶ Then come vnto him the Sadducees, which say there is no resurrection, and they asked him, saying,

19 Master, Moses wrote vnto vs, If a mans brother die, and leaue his wife behind him, and leaue no children, that his brother should take his wife, and raise vp seed vnto his brother.

20 Now there were seuen brethren: and the first tooke a wife, and dyed, & left no seed.

21 And the second tooke her, and died, & neither left he any seed, and the third like wise.

22 And the seuen had her, and left no seed: last of all the woman died also.

23 In the resurrection therefore, when they shall rise, whose wife shall she be of them? for the seuen had her to wife.

24 And Iesus answering, said vnto them, Doe ye not therefore erre, because ye know not the Scriptures, neither the power of God?

25 For when they shall rise from the dead, they neither marry, nor are given in marriage: but are as the Angels which are in heauen.

26 And as touching the dead, that they rise, haue ye not read in the booke of Moses, how in the bullocke God spake vnto him, saying, I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Iacob?

27 He is not the God of the dead, but the God of the liuing: ye therefore doe greatly erre.

28 ¶ And one of the Scribes came, and hauing heard them reasoning together, and perceiuing that he had answered them well, asked him, Which is the first Commandment of all.

29 And Iesus answered him, The first of all the Commandments is, Hear, O Israel, the Lord our God is one Lord:

30 And thou shalt loue the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soule, and with all thy minde, and with all thy strength: This is the first Commandment.

31 And the second is like, namely this, Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe: there is none other Commandment greater than these.

32 And the Scribes said vnto him, Well Master, thou hast said the truth: for there is one God, and there is none other but he.

33 And to loue him with all the heart, and with all the vnderstanding, and with all the soule, and with all the strength, and to loue his neighbour as himselfe, is more then all whole burnt offerings and sacrifices.

34 And when Iesus saw that hee had answered discreetly, he said vnto him, Thou art not farre from the Kingdome of God. And no man after that durst aske him any question.

35 ¶ And Iesus answered, and said, While he taught taught in the Temple, How say the Scribes that Christ is the Sonne of David?

35 For David himselfe said by the holy Ghost, The Lord said to my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool.

37 David therefore himselfe calleth him Lord, and whence is he then his Sonne? And the common people heard him gladly.

38 ¶ And he said unto them in his doctrine, Beware of the Scribes which love to goe in long clothing: and love salutations in the market places,

39 And the chiefest seats in the Synagogues, and the uppermost rooms at feasts:

40 Which despise widowes lonkes, and for a pretence make long prayers: these shall receive greater damnation.

41 ¶ And Iesus came oner against the treasury, and beheld how the people cast money into the treasury: and many that were rich, cast in much.

42 And there came a certaine poore widow, and she threw in two quites, which make a farthing.

43 And hee called unto him his Disciples, and said unto them, Verely I say unto you, that this poore widow hath cast more in, then all they which have cast into the treasury.

44 For all they did cast in of their abundance: but she of her want did cast in all that shee had, even all her living.

CHAP. XLIII

Christ foretels the destruction of the Temple: of the persecutions for the Gospel: & that the Gospel must be preached to all nations: & that great calamities shall happen to the Jewes: & that the manner of his coming to judgement: & that hee will be knowne to none, every man to watch and pray, that hee be not found surprised, when hee cometh to each one particularly by death.

And as he went out of the Temple, one of his Disciples said unto him, Master, see what manner of stonnes, and what buildings are here.

And Iesus answering, said unto him, Seekest thou these great buildings? these shall not be left one stone upon another, that shall not be throwne downe.

And as hee sate upon the mount of Olives, oner against the Temple, Peter, and James, and Iohn, and Andrew, asked him privately;

¶ Tell vs, When shall these things be? And what shall be the signe when all these things shall be fulfilled?

And Iesus answering them, began to say, Take heed lest any man deceave you.

For many shall come in my Name, saying, I am Christ: and shall deceave many.

And when ye shall heare of wars, and rumours of wars, be ye not troubled: for such things must needs be, but the end shall not be yet.

For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdome against kingdome: and there shall be earthquakes in divers places, and there shall be famines & troubles: these are the beginnings of sorrowes.

¶ But take heed to your selves: for they shall deliver you up to counsels, and in the Synagogues they shall be beaten, and ye shall be brought before Rulers and Kings for my sake, for a testimony against them.

And the Gospel must first be published among all nations.

¶ But when they shall lead you, and deliver you up, take not thought how to defende: what ye shall say, shall be given you in that houre, that shall speake ye: for it is not ye that speake, but the holy Ghost.

11 Now the brother shall betray the brother to death, and the father the sonne, and children shall rise up against their parents, and shall cause them to be put to death.

12 And ye shall be hated of all men for my Names sake: but he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved.

13 ¶ But when ye shall see the abomination of desolation, (spoken of by Daniel the Prophet, standing where it ought not (let him that readeth, understand) then let them that be in Iudaea, flee to the mountains: &

14 And let him that is on the house top, not goe downe into the house, neither come therein, to take any thing out of his house.

15 And let him that is in the field, not turne backe againe for to take up his garment.

16 But woe to them that are with child, and to them that give suck in those dayes.

17 And pray ye that your flight bee not in the winter.

18 For in those dayes shall be affliction, such as was not from the beginning of the creation which God created unto this time, neither shall be.

19 And except that the Lord had shortened these dayes, no flesh should be saved: but for the Elects sake whom hee hath chosen, hee hath shortened the dayes.

20 ¶ And then, if any man shall say to you, Peace, or love, let it be in there: because him

21 But for like Christs, and false Prophets shall arise, and shall these signes and wonders, to seduce, if it were possible, even the Elect.

22 But take ye heed: behold, I have foretold you all things.

23 ¶ But in those dayes after that tribulation, the Sun shall be darkened, and the Moone shall not give her light.

24 And the Stars of heaven shall fall, and the powers that are in heaven shall be shaken.

25 And then shall they see the Son of man coming in the clouds with great power and glory.

26 And then shall hee send his Angels, and shall gather together his Elect from the foure winds, from the uttermost part of the earth, to the uttermost part of heaven.

27 Now learne a parable of the fig-tree, When her branch is yet tender, and putteth forth leaues, ye know that Summer is neere:

28 So ye in like manner, when ye shall see these things come to passe, know that it is nigh, even at the doores.

29 Verely I say unto you: That this generation shall not passe, till all these things be done.

30 Heaven and earth shall passe away, but my words shall not passe away.

31 ¶ But of that day and that houre knoweth no man: no not the Angels which are in heaven, neither the Sonne, but the Father.

32 ¶ Take ye heed, watch and pray: for ye know not when the time is.

33 For the Sonne of man is as a man taking a far journey, who leaveth his house, and gave authority to his servants, and to every man his worke, and commanded the porter to watch:

34 Watch ye therefore: for ye know not when the master of the house cometh, at Even, or at midnight, or at the cock-crowing, or in the morning.

35 Lest coming suddenly, he find you sleeping.

36 And what I say unto you, I say unto all, Watch.

C H A P. XIII.

1 A conspiracy against Christ. 2 Precious ointment is poured on his head by a woman. 3 Iudas fetcheth him after for many. 4 Christ himselfe foretelleth how he shall be betrayed of one of his Disciples: 22 after the Passover prepared and eaten, Iudas fetcheth his Supper: 25 declareth aforhand the fight of all his Disciples, and Peters deniall. 43 Iudas betrayeth him with a kisse. 45 He is apprehended in the garden, 45 falsly accused, and impiously condemned of the Iewes counsell: 45 shamefully abused by them, 45 and Iudas denied of Peter.

¶ March. 26. 2. A Fter two dayes was the feast of the Passover, and of unleavened bread: and the chiefe Priests, and the Scribes sought how they might take him by craft, and put him to death.

¶ March. 26. 4. 3 ¶ And being in Bethany, in the house of Simon the leper, as hee sat at meat, there came a woman having an alabastr boxe of ointment of Spikenard, very precious, and she brake the boxe, and powred it on his head.

¶ Or, pure Nard, or Liquid Nard. 4 And there were some that had indignation within themselves, and said, Why was this waste of the ointment made?

5 For it might have bene sold for more then three hundred p peace, and haue bene given to the poore: and they murmured against her.

¶ See March. 18. 18. 6 And Iesus said, Let her alone, why trouble you her? She hath wrought a good worke on me.

7 For yee haue the poore with you alwayes, and whensoever you will, ye may doe them good: but me ye haue not alwayes.

8 Shee hath done what she could, shee is come aforhand to anoint my body to the burying.

9 Verily I say vnto you, Where soeuer this Gospel shall be preached thoroughout the whole world, this also that she hath done, shall be spoken of for a memoriall of her.

¶ March. 26. 14. 10 ¶ And Iudas Iscariot, one of the twelve, went vnto the chiefe Priests, to betray him vnto them.

11 And when they heard it, they were glad, and promised to give him money. And he sought how he might conveniently betray him.

¶ March. 26. 17. ¶ 7. Act. 1. 12 ¶ And the first day of unleavened bread, when they killed the Passover, his Disciples said vnto him, Where wilt thou that wee goe and prepare, that thou maiest eat the Passover?

13 And he sendeth fourth two of his Disciples, and saith vnto them, Goe ye into the city, and there shall meet you a man bearing a picher of water: follow him.

14 And where soeuer he shall goe in, say vnto the goodman of the house, The Master saith, Where is the guest chamber, where I shall eat the Passover with my Disciples?

15 And he will shew you a large vpper room furnished and prepared: there make ready for vs.

16 And the Disciples went forth, and came into the city, and found as he had said vnto them: and they made ready the Passover.

17 And in the evening hee commeth with the twelve.

¶ March. 26. 20. 18 ¶ And as they sat, and did eat, Iesus said, Verily, I say vnto you, one of you which eateth with me, shall betray me.

19 And they began to be sorrowfull, and to say vnto him one by one, Is it I? and another said, Is it I?

20 And he answered, and said vnto them; It is one of the twelve that dippech with me in the dish.

21 The Sonne of man indeed goeth as it is written of him: but woe to that man by whom the Sonne of man is betrayed: Good were it for that man, if he had neuer bene borne.

22 ¶ And as they did cate, Iesus tooke bread, and blessed, and brake it, and gaue to them, and said, Take, eat: This is my body.

23 And he tooke the Cup, and when hee had giuen thanks, hee gaue it to them: and they all dranke of it.

24 And he said vnto them, This is my blood of the new Testament, which is shed for many.

25 Verily I say vnto you, I will drinke no more of the fruite of the Vine, vntill that day that I drinke it new in the kingdome of God.

26 ¶ And when they had sung an hymne, they went out into the mount of Olives.

27 ¶ And Iudas saith vnto them, All ye shall be offended because of me this night: for it is written, I will smite the shepherde, and the sheepe shall be scattered.

28 But after that I am risen, I will goe before you into Galilee.

29 ¶ But Peter said vnto him, Although all shall be offended, yet will not I.

30 And Iesus saith vnto him, Verily I say vnto thee, that this day, euen in this night, before the cocke crow twice, thou shalt deny me thrice.

31 But he spake the more vehemently, if I should die with thee, I will not deny thee in any wise. Likewise also said they all.

32 ¶ And they came to a place which was named Gethsemane, and he saith to his Disciples, Sit ye here, while I shall pray.

33 And he taketh with him Peter, and James, and Iohn, and began to be sore amazed, and to be very heauy, 34 And saith vnto them, My soule is exceeding sorrowfull vnto death: tarry ye here and watch.

35 And he went forward a little, and fell on the ground, and prayed, that if it were possible the houre might passe from him.

36 And he said, Abba, Father, all things are possible vnto thee, take away this Cup from me: Nevertheless, not that I will, but what thou wilt.

37 And hee commeth and findeth them sleeping, and saith vnto Peter, Simon, sleepest thou? Couldst thou not watch one houre?

38 Watch ye and pray, lest ye enter into temptation: The spirit truly is ready: but the flesh is weak.

39 And againe hee went away and prayed, and spake the same words.

40 And when he returned, he found them asleepe againe, (for their eyes were heauy) wether with they wote or no.

41 And hee commeth the third time, and saith vnto them, Sleepe on now and take your rest: it is enough, the houre is come, behold, the Sonne of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners.

42 Rise vp, let vs goe: loe, he that betrayeth me is at hand.

43 ¶ And immediately, while he yet spake, commeth Iudas, one of the twelve, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chiefe Priests, and the Scribes, and the Elders.

44 And he that betrayed him had giuen them a token, saying, Whom soeuer I shall kisse, that same is he: take him, and lead him away safely.

45 And as soone as hee was come, hee goeth straight way to him, and saith, Master, and kisset him.

C H A P. X V.

46 ¶ And they laid their hands on him, andooke him.

47 And one of them that stood by drew a sword, and inuade a seruant of the high Priest, and cut off his eare.

48 And Iesus answered, and said vnto them, Are ye come out as against a thiefe with swords and with staves to take me?

49 I was daily with you in the Temple, teaching, and ye tooke me not; but the Scriptures must be fulfilled.

50 And they all forsooke him, and fled.

51 And they followed him a certaine young man, hauing a linnen cloth cast about his naked body, and the young men laid hold on him.

52 And hee left the linnen cloth, and fled from them naked.

th. 53 ¶ And they led Iesus away to the high Priest, and with him were assembled all the chiefe Priests, and the Elders, and the Scribes.

54 And Peter followed him afarre off, euen into the palace of the high Priest: and hee sat with the seruaunts, and warmed himselfe at the fire.

th. 55 ¶ And the chiefe Priests, and all the Councill, sought for witnesse against Iesus, to put him to death, and found none:

56 For many bore false witnesse against him, but their witnesse agreed not together.

57 And there arose certaine, and bare false witnesse against him, saying,

58 We heard him say, I will destroy this Temple that is made with hands, and within three dayes I will build another made without hands.

59 But neither so did their witnesse agree together.

60 And the high Priest stood vp in the mids, and asked Iesus, saying, Answerest thou nothing? What is it which these witnesse against thee?

61 But he held his peace, and answered nothing. Againe the high Priest asked him, and said vnto him, Art thou the Christ, the Son of the blessed?

62 And Iesus said, I am; and ye shall see the Sonne of man sitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heauen.

63 Then the high Priest rent his clothes, and said, What need we any further witnesse?

64 Ye haue heard the blasphemy: what thinke ye? And they all condemned him to be guilty of death.

65 And some began to spit on him, and to cover his face, and to buffet him, and to say vnto him, Prophesie: and the seruants did strike him with the palmes of their hands.

66 ¶ And as Peter was beneath in the palace, there cometh one of 5 maids of the high Priest:

67 And when the saw Peter warming himselfe, she looked vpon him, and said, And thou also wast with Iesus of Nazareth.

68 But he denied, saying, I know not, neither vnderstand I what thou sayest. And hee went out into the porch, and the cocke crew.

69 And a maide saw him againe, and began to say to them that stood by, This is one of them.

70 And hee denied it againe. And a little after, they that stood by, said againe to Peter, Surely thou art one of them: for thou art a Galilean, and thy speech agreeth thereto.

71 But he began to curse, and to sweare, saying, I know not: this man of whom ye speake.

72 ¶ And the second time the cocke crew; and Peter asked to mind the word that Iesus said vnto him, Before the cocke crow twice, thou shalt deny me thrise. And when he thought thereon, he wept.

1 Iesus brought bound and accused before Pilate.
2 Upon the clamour of the common people, the murderer Barabbas is loosed, and Iesus deliuered up to be crucified. 3 He is crowned with thornes, 4 set on, and mocked, 5 finished in bearing his crosse, 6 hangeth betwene two theetes, 7 suffereth the triumphing reproaches of the Iewes: 8 low confessed by the Centurion, to be the Sonne of God, 9; and is honourably buried by Ioseph.

ANd straightway in the morning, the chiefe Priests held a consultation with the Elders, and Scribes, and the whole Councill, and bound Iesus, and carried him away, and deliuered him to Pilate.

1 And Pilate asked him, Art thou the King of the Iewes? And he answering, said vnto him, Thou sayest it.

2 And the chiefe Priests accused him of many things: but he answered nothing.

3 ¶ And Pilate asked him againe, saying, Answerest thou nothing? Behold how many things they witnesse against thee.

4 But Iesus yet answered nothing, so that Pilate marvelled.

5 Now at that least hee released vnto them one prisoner, whomsoever they desired.

6 And there was one named Barabbas, which lay bound with them that had made insurrection with him, who had committed murder in the insurrection.

7 And the multitude crying aloud, began to desire him to doe as he had euer done vnto them.

8 But Pilate answered them, saying, Will ye that I release vnto you the King of the Iewes?

9 (For he knew that the chiefe Priests had deliuered him for eny.)

10 But the chiefe Priests moued the people, that he should rather release Barabbas vnto them.

11 And Pilate answered, and said againe vnto them, What will ye then that I shall doe vnto him, whom ye call the King of the Iewes?

12 And they cried out againe, Crucifie him.

13 Then Pilate said vnto them, Why, what euill hath he done? And they cried out the more exceedingly, Crucifie him.

14 ¶ And so Pilate, willing to content the people, released Barabbas vnto them, and deliuered Iesus when he had scourged him, to be crucified.

15 And the souldiers led him away into the hall called Pretorium, and they call together the whole band.

16 And they clothed him with purple, and placed a crowne of thornes, and put it about his head.

17 And began to sainte him, Haile King of the Iewes.

18 And they smote him on the head with a reed, and did spit vpon him, and bowing their knees, worshipped him.

19 And when they had mocked him, they tooke off the purple from him, and put his owne clothes on him, and led him out to crucifie him.

20 ¶ And they compell one Simon a Cyrenian, who passed by, coming out of the countrey, the father of Alexander and Rufus, to beare his crosse.

21 And they bring him vnto the place Golgotha, which is, being interpreted, the place of a skull.

22 And they gave him to drinke, wine mingled with myrrhe: but hee received it not.

23 And when they had crucified him, they parted his garments, casting lots vpon them, what euer man should take.

24 And

C H A P. XVI.

- 27 And it was the third hoore, and they crucified him.
- 28 And the superscription of his accusation was written over, THE KING OF THE JEWS.
- 29 And with him they crucifie two theevs, the one on his right hand, and the other on his left.
- 30 And the Scripture was fulfilled, which saith, And he was numbered with the transgressours.
- 31 And they that passed by, railled on him, wagging their heads, and saying, Alh, Thou that destroyest the Temple, and buildest it in three dayes,
- 32 Save thy selfe, and come downe from the Croffe.
- 33 Likewise also the chiefe Priests, mocking, said among themselves with the Scribes, He saved others, himselfe he cannot save.
- 34 Let Christ the King of Israel descend now from the Croffe, that we may see and beleve: And they that were crucified with him, reviled him.
- 35 And when the sixth hoore was come, there was darknesse over the whole land, untill the ninth hoore.
- 36 And at the ninth hoore Iesus cried with a loud voyce, saying, Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani? which is, being interpreted, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?
- 37 And some of them that stood by, when they heard it, said, Behold, he calleth Elias.
- 38 And one ran, and filled a sponge full of vinegar, and put it on a reed, and gave him to drinke, saying, Let alone, let vs see whether Elias will come to take him downe.
- 39 And Iesus cried with a loud voyce, and gave up the ghost.
- 40 And the vail of the Temple was rent in twaine, from the top to the bottom.
- 41 And when the Centurion which stood over against him, saw that he so cried out, and gave up the ghost, he said, Truely this man was the Sonne of God.
- 42 There were also women looking on afar off, among whom was Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James the lesse, & of iude, and Salome:
- 43 Who also when he was in Galilee, followed him, and ministered unto him; and in many other women which came vp with him unto Hierusalem.
- 44 And now when the Euen was come, (because it was the Preparation, that is, the day before the Sabbath.)
- 45 Ioseph of Arimathea, an honorable Counsellor, which also waited for the kingdom of God, came, and went in boldly unto Pilate, and craved the body of Iesus.
- 46 And Pilate marvelled if he were already dead, and calling unto him the Centurion, he asked him whether he had bene any while dead.
- 47 And when hee knew it of the Centurion, he gave the body to Ioseph.
- 48 And hee bought him linnen, and tooke him downe, and wrapped him in the linnen, and laid him in a Sepulchre which was hewen out of a rocke, and rolled a stone vnto the doore of the Sepulchre.
- 49 And Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James which where he was laid,
- 2 An Angel declared the resurrection of Christ to three women, 3 Christ himselfe appeared to Mary Magdalene: 12 he was going into the country, 14 then to the Apostles, 15 whom he sendeth forth to preach the Gospel: 19 and afterward into heauen.
- And when the Sabbath was past, Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James, and Salome, had bought sweet spices, that they might come and anoint him.
- 2 And very early in the morning, the first day of the weeke, they came vnto the Sepulchre at the rising of the Sonne:
- 3 And they said among themselves, Who shall roll vs away the stone from the doore of the Sepulchre?
- 4 (And when they looked, they saw that the stone was rolled away) for it was very great.
- 5 And entering into the Sepulchre, they saw a young man sitting on the right side, clothed in a long white garment: and they were affrighted.
- 6 And he saith vnto them, Be not affrighted, ye seeke Iesus of Nazareth which was crucified: he is risen, he is not here: behold the place where they laid him.
- 7 But goe your way, tell his Disciples, and Peter, that he goeth before you into Galilee, there shall ye see him, as he said vnto you.
- 8 And they went out quickly, and fled from the Sepulchre, for they were confounded, and were amazed, neither said they any thing to any man, for they were afraid.
- 9 Now when Iesus was risen, early the first day of the weeke, he appeared first to Mary Magdalene, one of whom he had cast devils out.
- 10 At the week end, and to them that had bene with him, as they mourned and wept.
- 11 And they, when they had heard that hee was alive, and had bene seene of her, beleevied not.
- 12 After that, hee appeared in another forme vnto two of them as they walked, and went into the country:
- 13 And they went and told it vnto the residue, neither beleevied in y them.
- 14 Afterward he appeared vnto the eleven, as they sat at meat, and rebuked them with their unbeliefe and hardnesse of heart, because they beleevied not them which had seene him after hee was risen.
- 15 And he said vnto them, Goe ye into all the world, and preach the Gospel to every creature.
- 16 He that beleeveth and is baptized, shall be saved, but he that beleeveth not, shall be damned.
- 17 And these signes shall follow them that beleeveth: In my Name shall they cast out devils, they shall speake with new tongues,
- 18 They shall take vp serpents, & if they drinke any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them, they shall lay hands on the sicke, and they shall recover.
- 19 So soon after the word had spoken vnto them, he was received vp into heauen, and sat on the right hand of God.
- 20 And they went forth, and preached every where, the Lord working with them, and confirming the word with signes following. Amen.

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO S. LVKE.

C H A P. I.

The preface of Luke to his whole Gospel. The conception of Iohn the Baptist; and of Christ. The prophecy of Elizabeth and of Mary concerning Christ. The nativity and circumcision of Iohn. The prophecy of Zachary both of Christ, 76 and of Iohn.

HOrasmuch as many have taken in hand to write fourth in order a declaration of those things which are most surely beleaved among vs,

As first as they deliuered them vnto vs which from the beginning were eye-witnesses, and ministers of the word :

It seemed good to me also, hauing had perfect vnderstanding of things from vs very first, to write vnto thee in order, most excellent Theophilus,

That thou mightest know the certainty of those things wherein thou hast bene instructed.

There was in the dayes of Herod the King of Iudrea, a certaine Priest, named Zacharias, of the course of Abia, and his wife was of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elizabeth.

And they were both righteous before God, walking in all the Commandments and ordinances of the Lord, blameless.

And they had no child, because that Elizabeth was barren, and they both were now well stricken in yeeres.

And it came to passe, that while he executed the Priestes office before God in the order of his course,

According to the custome of the Priestes office, his lot was to burne incense when he went into the Temple of the Lord.

And the whole multitude of the people were praying without at the time of incense.

And there appeared vnto him an Angel of the Lord, standing on the right side of the Altar of incense.

And when Zacharias saw him, he was troubled, and feare fell vpon him.

But the Angel said vnto him, Feare not Zacharias: for thy prayer is heard, and thy wife Elizabeth shall beare thee a sonne, and thou shalt call his name Iohn.

And thou shalt haue ioy and gladnesse, and many shall reioyce at his birth :

For he shall be great in the sight of the Lord, and shall drinke neither wine nor strong drinke, and he shall be filled with the holy Ghost, euen from his mothers wombe.

And many of the children of Israel shall he turne to the Lord their God.

And he shall go before him in the spirit and power of Elias, to turne the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient to the wisdom of the iust, to make ready a people prepared for the Lord.

And Zacharias said vnto the Angel, Whereby shall I know this? for I am an old man, and my wife well stricken in yeeres.

And the Angel answering, said vnto him, I am Gabriel that stand in the presence of God, and am sent to speake vnto thee, and to shew thee these glad tidings.

And behold, thou shalt be dumb, and not able to speake, vntill the day that these things shall be performed, because thou beleeuest not my words, which shall be fulfilled in their season.

And the people waited for Zacharias, and marvelled that he tarried so long in the Temple.

And when he came out, he could not speake vnto them: and they perceiued that he had seene a vision in the Temple: for he beckoned vnto them, and remained speechlesse.

And it came to passe, that as soon as the dayes of his ministracion were accomplished, hee departed to his owne house.

And after those dayes his wife Elizabeth conceived, and had her seelie five moneths, saying,

Thus hath the Lord dealt with mee in the dayes wherein hee looked on mee, to take away my reproach among men.

And in the sixth moneth, the Angel Gabriel was sent from God, vnto a city of Galilee, named Nazareth,

To a virgin espoused to a man whose name was Ioseph, of the house of David, and the virgins name was Mary.

And the Angel came in vnto her, and said, Haile, thou that art highly fauoured, the Lord is with thee: Blessed art thou among women.

And when she saw him, she was troubled at his saying, and cast in her mind what manner of salutation this should be.

And the Angel said vnto her, Feare not Mary, for thou hast found fauour with God.

And behold, thou shalt conceiue in thy wombe, and bring forth a sonne, and shalt call his Name Iesus.

He shall be great, and shall be called the Son of the Highest, and the Lord God shall giue vnto him the throne of his father David.

And he shall reigne ouer the house of Iacob for euer, and of his kingdome there shall be no end.

Then said Mary vnto the Angel, how shall this be, seeing I know not a man?

And the Angel answered, and said vnto her, The holy Ghost shall come vpon thee, and the power of the Highest shall ouershadow thee. Therefore also that Holy thing which shall be borne of thee, shall be called the Sonne of God.

And behold, thy cousin Elizabeth, she hath also conceived a sonne in her old age, and this is the sixth moneth with her, who was called barren.

For with God nothing shall be impossible.

And Mary said, Behold the handmaid of the Lord: be it vnto me according to thy word: and the Angel departed from her.

And Mary arose in those dayes, and went into the hill country with haste, into a city of Iudaea.

And entered into the house of Zacharias, and saluted Elizabeth.

And it came to passe, when Elizabeth heard the salutation of Mary, the babe leaped in her wombe, & Elizabeth was filled with a holy Ghost.

And she spake out with a loud voyce, and said, Blessed art thou among women, and blessed is the fruit of thy wombe.

And whence is this to me, that the mother of my Lord should come to me?

For loe, as soon as the voyce of thy salutation sounded

By thy grace certainly ac-

founded in my eyes; the babe leaped in my womb for ioy.

45 And blessed is the that becometh, for there shall be a performance of those things which were told her from the Lord.

46 And Mary said; My soule doth magnifie the Lord,

47 And my spirit hath reioyced in God my Saviour.

48 For he hath regarded the low estate of his handmaide: for behold, from henceforth all generations shall call me blessed.

49 For he that is mighty hath done to me great things, and holy is his Name.

50 And his mercy is on them that feare him, from generation to generation.

51 He hath shewed strength with his arme, he hath scattered the proud in the imagination of their hearts.

52 He hath put downe the mighty from their seats, and exalted them of low degree.

53 He hath filled the hungry with good things, and the rich he hath sent empty away.

54 He hath holpen his seruant Israel, * in remembrance of his mercy, 55 As he spake to our fathers, to Abraham, and to his seed for euer.

56 And Mary abode with her about three months, and returned to her owne house.

57 Now Elizabeths full time came, shee shoulde be deliuered, and shee brought forth a son.

58 And her neighbours and her consins heard how the Lord had shewed great mercy vpon her, and they reioyced with her.

59 And it came to passe that on the eighth day they came to circumcise the child, and they called him Zacharias, after the name of his father.

60 And his mother answered, and said, Not so, but he shall be called John.

61 And they said vnto her, There is none of thy kindred that is called by this name.

62 And they made signes to his father, how he would haue him called.

63 And he asked for a writing table, and wrote, saying, His name is John: and they marvelled all.

64 And his mouth was opened immediately, and his tongue loosed, and he spake and praised God.

65 And feare came on all that dwelt round about them: and all these sayings were noised abroad throughout all the hill country of Iudea.

66 And all they that had heard them, laid them vp in their hearts, saying, What manner of child shall this be? And the hand of the Lord was with him.

67 And his father Zacharias was filled with the holy spirit, and prophesied, saying,

68 Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, for hee hath visited and redeemed his people,

69 And hath raised vp an horn of saluacion for vs in the house of his seruant Dauid,

70 As he spake by the mouth of his holy Prophets, which haue bene since the world began:

71 That we should be saved from our enemies, and from the hand of all that hate vs,

72 To performe the merry promise to our fathers, and to remember his holy couenant,

73 The oath which he swore to our father Abraham,

74 That he would graue vnto vs, that we being deliuered out of the hands of our enemies, might serue him without feare,

75 In holinesse and righteousnesse before him, all the dayes of our life.

76 And thou child shalt be called the Prophet of the Highest: for thou shalt goe before the face of the Lord to prepare his wayes.

77 To giue knowledg of saluation vnto his people, by the remission of their sinnes.

78 Through the tender mercy of our God, whereby the day springeth from on high hath visited vs.

79 To giue light to them that sit in darkness, and in the shadow of death, to guide our feet into the way of peace.

80 And the child grew, and waxed strong in spirit, and was in the deserts, till the day of his shewing vnto Israel.

C H A P T L

1 As a child teacheth all the Roman Empire. & The nativity of Christ. 8 One Angel reuoluth it to the shepherds, 12 Many sing praises to God for it. 21 Christ is circumcised. 22 Mary purified. 28 Simeon and Anna prophesie of Christ, 42 Hee wandereth in wildernes, 46 Hee teacheth in the Temple with the doctors, 51 and is obedient to his parents.

And it came to passe in those dayes, that there went out a decree from Cæsar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed.

1 (And this taxing was first made when Cytrenius was gouernour of Syria)

2 And all went to be taxed, euery one into his owne city.

3 And Joseph also went up from Galilee out of the city of Nazareth, into Iudea, vnto the city of David, which is called Bethlehẽm, (because hee was of the house and lineage of David,)

4 To be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child.

5 And so it was, that while they were there, the dayes were accomplished, that she should be deliuered.

6 And she brought forth her first borne Sonne, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger, because there was no roome for them in the Inne.

7 And there were in the same country, shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch ouer their flocks by night.

8 And loe, the Angel of the Lord came vpon them, and the glory of the Lord shined about them, and they were sore afraid.

9 And the Angel said vnto them, Feare not: for behold, I bring you good tidings of great ioy, which shall be to all people.

10 For vnto you is borne this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.

11 And this shall be a signe vnto you, yee shall finde the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.

12 And suddenly there was with the Angel a multitude of the heavenly host praying God, & saying, 13 Glory to God in the Highest, and on earth peace, good will towards men.

14 And it came to passe, as the Angels were gone away from them into heauen, the shepherds said one to another, Let vs now goe euen vnto Bethlehẽm, & see this thing which is come to passe, which the Lord hath made knowne vnto vs.

15 And they came with hast, and found Mary and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger.

16 And when they had seen it, they made knowne abroad the saying which was told them concerning this child.

17 And all they that heard it, wondered at the things which were told them by the shepherds.

19 But Mary kept all these things, and pondered them in her heart.

20 And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, as it was told unto them.

21 And when eight dayes were accomplished for the circumcising of the child, his Name was called Iehou, which was so named of the Angel before he was conceived in the wombe.

22 And when the dayes of her purification according to the Law of Moyses were accomplished, they brought him to Hierusalem, to present him to the Lord,

23 (As it is written in the Law of the Lord, Every male that openeth the wombe, shall be called holy to the Lord)

24 And to offer a sacrifice, according to * that which is said in the Law of the Lord, a pair of turtle doves, or two young pigeons.

25 And behold there was a man in Hierusalem, whose name was Simcon, and the same man was just and devout, waiting for the consolation of Israel: and the holy Ghost was upon him.

26 And it was revealed unto him by the holy Ghost, that he should not see death, before he had seene the Lords Christ.

27 And hee came by the Spirit into the Temple: and when the parents brought in the child Iesus, to do for him after the custome of the Law,

28 Then took he him up in his armes, and blessed God, and said,

29 Lord, now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace, according to thy word,

30 For mine eyes have seen thy Salvation,

31 Which thou hast prepared before the face of all people.

32 A light to lighten the Gentiles, and the glory of thy people Israel.

33 And Ioseph and his mother marvailed at those things which were spoken of him.

34 And Simcon said unto Mary his mother, Behold, this child is set for the fall and rising againe of many in Israel: and for a signe which shall bee spoken against,

35 (Yea, a sword shall pierce thowr thy owne soule also) that the thoughts of many hearts may be revealed.

36 And there was one Anna a Prophetesse, the daughter of Phanuel of the tribe of Aser, she was of a great age, and had lived with an husband seven yeres from her virginity.

37 And she was a widow of about fourscore and foure yeeres, which departed not from the Temple, but served God with fasting and prayers, night and day.

38 And shee coming in that instant, gave thanks likewise unto the Lord, and spake of him to all them that looked for redemption in Hierusalem.

39 And when they had performed all things, according to the Law of the Lord, they returned into Galilee, to their owne city Nazareth.

40 And the child grew, and waxed strong in Spirit, filled with wisdom, and the grace of God was upon him.

41 Now his parents went to Hierusalem yearly at the feast of the Passouer.

42 And when he was twelve yeeres old, they went up to Hierusalem after the custome of the feast.

43 And when they had fulfilled the dayes, as they returned, the child Iesus carried behind in Hierusalem, and Ioseph and his mother knew not of it.

44 But they supposing him to have bene in the company, went 3 dayes journey, and they sought him among their kinsfolke and acquaintance.

45 And when they found him not, they turned backe againe to Hierusalem seeking him.

46 And it came to passe that after three dayes, they found him in the Temple sitting in the midst of the Doctors, both hearing them, and asking them questions.

47 And all that heard him, were astonished at his understanding and answers.

48 And when they saw him, they were amazed: and his mother said unto him, Son, why hast thou thus dealt with vs? Behold, thy father and I have sought thee sorrowing.

49 And hee said unto them, How is it that ye sought me? Wist ye not that I must be about my Fathers businesse?

50 And they understood not the saying which he spake unto them.

51 And he went downe with them, and came to Nazareth, and was subiect unto them: But his mother kept all these sayings in her heart.

52 And Iesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favour with God and man.

CHAP. III.

1 The preaching and baptism of Iohn: 15 His testimony of Christ. 20 Herod imprisoneeth Iohn.

21 Christ baptizeth receiveth testimony from heron. 23 The age and genealogie of Christ from Joseph & Mary.

NOW in the sixteenth yeere of the reigne of Tiberius Cæsar, Pontius Pilate being gouernour of Iudæa, and Herod being Terrarch of Galilee, and his brother Philip Terrarch of Iturea, and of the region of Trachonitis, and Lyfianias the Terrarch of Abilene, Annas and Caiaphas being the high Priests; the word of God came vnto Iohn the sonne of Zacharias in the wilderness.

2 And he came into all the countrey about Jordan, preaching the baptism of repentance, for the remission of finnes.

3 As it is written in the booke of the wordes of Esaias the Prophet, saying, * The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepar: ye the way of the Lord, make his pathes straight.

4 Every valley shall be filled, and every mountain and hill shall bee brought low, and the crooked shall be made straight, and the rough wayes shall be made smooth.

5 And all flesh shall see the Salvation of God.

6 Then said hee to the multitude that came foorth to be baptized of him, O generation of vipers, why hast thou warned you to flee from the wrath to come?

7 Being forth: therefore fruite worthy of repentance, and begin not to say within yourselves, We haue Abraham to our father: for I say vnto you, that God is able of these stones to raise vp children vnto Abraham.

8 And now also the axe is laid vnto the roote of the trees: Every tree therefore which bringeth not foorth good fruite, is hewen downe and cast into the fire.

9 And the people asked him, saying, What shall we doe then?

10 He answered and said vnto them, * Herod hath twn coatts, let him impart to him that hath none, and hee that hath meat, let him doe like-wise.

11 Then came also Publicans to be baptized, and said vnto him, Master, what shall we doe?

13 And hec laid vnto them, Eaſt no more then that which is appointed you.

14 And the ſouldiers likewiſe demanded of him, ſaying, And what ſhall we doe? And he ſaid vnto them, Doe violence to no man, neither accuſe any falſely, and bee content with your wages.

15 And as the people were in expectation, and all men ſuſſid in their hearts of Iohn, whether he were the Chriſt, or not;

16 Iohn answered, ſaying vnto them all, If indeed baptize you with water; but one mightier then I cometh, the latter of whoſe ſhoes I am not worthy to waſhe, and he ſhall baptize you with the holy Ghoſt, and with fire.

17 Whoſe fanne is in his hand; and he will thoroughly purge his floore, and will gather the wheat into his garner, but the chaffe hec will burne with fire vnquenchable.

18 And many other things in his exhortation preached he vnto the people.

19* But Herod the Tetrach being reproofed by him for Herodias his brother Philips wife, and for all the euils which Herod had done;

20 Added yet this aboute all, that he ſhot vp Iohn in priſon.

21 Now when all the people were baptized, and it came to paſſe, that Ieſus alſo being baptized, and praying, the heauen was opened :

22 And the holy Ghoſt defended in a bodily ſhape like a dove vpon him, and a voyce came from heauen, which ſaid, Thou art my beloved Sonne, in thee I am well pleaſed.

23 And Ieſus himſelfe began to be aboute thirty yeeres of age, being (as was ſuppoſed) the ſonne of Ioseph, which was the ſonne of Heli,

CHAP. 1111.

1 The temptation and falling of Chriſt 13 Hee was commeth the deuil, 14 he goeth to preach. 18 The people of Nazareth rebuſe his gracious wordes 32 hee curſeth one poſſeſſed of a deuil. 38 Peters mother in law, 40 and others other ſick perſons. 42 The deuil acknowledge Chriſt, and are reproofed for it: 43 Hee preacheth through the cities.

And Ieſus being full of the holy Ghoſt, returned from Iordan, and was led by the Spirit into the wildeerneſſe,

2 Being forty dayes tempted of the deuil, and in thoſe dayes hec did eat nothing: and when they were ended, hec afterward hungered.

3 And the deuil ſaid vnto him, If thou bee the Sonne of God, commaund this ſtone that it bee made bread.

4 And Ieſus answered him ſaying, It is writtē, that man ſhall not liue by bread alone, but by every word of God.

5 And the deuil taking him vp into an high mountaine, ſhewed vnto him all the kingdomes of the world in a moment of time.

6 And the deuil ſaid vnto him, All this power will I giue thee, and the glory of them: for that is deliuered vnto me, and to whomſoever I will, I giue it.

7 If thou therefore wilt worship me, all ſhall be thine.

8 And Ieſus answered, and ſaid vnto him, Get thee behind me, Satan: for it is writtē, Thou ſhalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only ſhalt thou ſerue.

9 And he brought him to Hieruſalem, and ſet him on a pinnacle of the Temple, and ſaid vnto him, If thou bee the Son of God, caſt thy ſelfe downe from hence.

10 For it is writtē, Hee ſhall giue his Angels charge over thee, to keepe thee.

11 And in their hands they ſhall beare thee vp, left at any time thou daſt thy foot againſt a ſtone.

12 And Ieſus answering, ſaid vnto him, It is ſaid, Thou ſhalt not tempt the Lord thy God.

13 And when the deuil had ended all the temptation, he departed from him for a ſeaſon.

14 And Ieſus returned in the power of the Spirit into Galilee, and there went our a ſame of him thorough all the region round about.

15 And

15 And he taught in their Synagogues being glorified of all.

16 ¶ And he came to Nazareth where he had borne brought up, and as his custom was, he went into the Synagogue on the Sabbath day, and stood up for to read.

17 And there was delivered unto him the booke of the Prophet Esaias, and when he had opened the booke, he found the place where it was written,

18 *The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he hath anointed me to preach the Gospel to the poore, he hath sent me to heale the broken hearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blinde, to set at liberty them that are bruised, 19 To preach the acceptable yeere of the Lord.

20 And he closed the booke, and he gave it againe to the Minister, and faste downe, and the eyes of all them that were in the Synagogue, were fastned on him.

21 And he began to say unto them: This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your eares.

22 And all bare him witness, and wondered at the gracious words which proceeded out of his mouth. And they said, Is not this Josephs sonne?

23 And he said unto them: Yee will surely say unto me this proverbe, Physician, heale thy selfe: What we have heard done in Capernaum, doe also here in thy country.

24 And he said, Verely I say unto you, *No Prophet is accepted in his owne country.

25 But I tell you of a truth, *Many widows were in Israel in the days of Esaias, when the heaven was shut up three yeeres and sixe moneths: when great famine was throughout all the land:

26 But unto none of them was Elias sent, save unto Sarepta a city of Sidon, unto a woman that was a widow.

27 ¶ And many lepers were in Israel in the time of Esaias the Prophet: and none of them was cleansed, saving Naaman the Syrean.

28 And all they in the Synagogue, when they heard these things, were filled with wrath, 29 And rose up, and thrust him out of the city, and led him unto the brow of the hill, whereon their city was built: that they might cast him downe headlong.

30 But hee passing through the midd of them, went this way:

31 And came downe to Capernaum, a city of Galilee, and taught them on the Sabbath dayes.

32 And they were astonished at his doctrine: *for his word was with power.

33 ¶ And in the Synagogue there was a man which had a spirit of an uncleane devill, and cried out with a loud voyce.

34 Saying, I know thee, what have we to doe with thee, Iesus of Nazareth? art thou come to destroy vs? I know thee who thou art, the holy One of God.

35 And Iesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him. And when the devill had throwne him in the middell, he came out of him, and hurt him not.

36 And they were all amazed, and spake among themselves, saying, What a word is this! for with authority and power he commandeth the uncleane spirits, and they come out.

37 And the fame of him went out into every place of the country round about.

38 ¶ And he arose out of the Synagogue, and came into Simons house, and Silvanus was with ther was taken with a great feare, and they besought him for her.

39 And he stood over her, and rebuked the fever, and it left her. And immediately the aches of her minished upon them.

40 ¶ Now when the Sunne was setting, all they that had any feake with divers diseases, brought them unto him: and he laid his hands on every one of them, and healed them.

41 ¶ And devils also came out of many, crying out, and saying, These art Christ the Sonnes of David. And hee rebuking them, suffered them not to speake: for they knew that he was Christ.

42 And when it was day, he departed, and went into a desert place: and the people sought him, and came unto him, and stayed him that he should not depart from them.

43 And he said unto them: I must preach the Kingdome of God to other cities also: for therefore am I sent.

44 And he preached in 8 Synagogues of Galilee.

C H A P. V.

1 Christ teacheth the people out of Peters ship.

2 In a miraculous taking of fishes, sheweth how he will make him and his partners fishers of men.

3 cleanseth the Leper: 4 prayeth in the wilderness: 5 healeth one sicke of the palse: 6 ceceth Mattheu the Publicane: 7 ceareth many fevers, as being the Physician of soules: 8 foretelleth the fallings and afflictions of the Apostles after his ascension: 9 and blissheth some heathen and makeeth Disciples to old husbands, and perise garments.

9 In a miraculous taking of fishes, sheweth how he will make him and his partners fishers of men: 10 cleanseth the Leper: 11 prayeth in the wilderness: 12 healeth one sicke of the palse: 13 ceceth Mattheu the Publicane: 14 ceareth many fevers, as being the Physician of soules: 15 foretelleth the fallings and afflictions of the Apostles after his ascension: 16 and blissheth some heathen and makeeth Disciples to old husbands, and perise garments.

And it came to passe, that as the people pressed upon him to heare the word of God, he stood by the lake of Genesareth,

2 And saw two ships standing by the lake: the fishermen were gone out of them, and were mending their nets.

3 And hee entered into one of the ships, which was Simons, and prayed him that he would leave out a little from the land: and hee sat downe, and taught the people out of the ship.

4 Now when he had left speaking, he said unto Simon, Launch out into the deepe, and let downe your nets for a draught.

5 And Simon answering, said unto him, Master, wee have toiled all the night, and have taken nothing: nevertheless, at thy word I will let downe the net.

6 And when they had this done, they inclosed a great multitude of fishes, and their net brake.

7 And they beckened unto their partners which were in the other ship, that they should come and helpe them. And they came, and filled both the ships, so that they began to faike.

8 When Simon Peter saw it, he fell downe on Iesus knees, saying, Depart from me, for I am a sinfull man, O Lord.

9 For hee was astonished, and all that were with him, at the draught of the fishes which they had taken.

10 And so was also James and John, the sons of Zebedee, which were partners with Simon. And Iesus said unto Simon, Feare not, from henceforth thou shalt catch men.

11 And when they had brought their ships to land, they forsooke all, and followed him.

12 ¶ And it came to passe, when hee was in a certaine city, behold, a man full of leprosie: who seeing Iesus, fell on his face, and besought him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt thou canst make me cleane.

13 And hee put forth his hand and touched him, saying, I will: he thow cleane. And immediately the leprosie departed from him.

14 And he charged him to tell no man: but goe and shew thy selfe to the Priest, and offer for thy cleansing, according as Moses commanded, for a Testimony vnto them.

15 But so much the more went there a fame abroad of him, and great multitudes came together to heare, & to be healed by him of their infirmities.

16 ¶ And he withdrew himselfe into the wilderness, and prayed.

17 And it came to passe on a certaine day, as he was teaching, that there were Pharisees & Doctors of the law sitting by, which were come out of euery towne of Galilee, and Iudea, and Hierusalem: and the power of the Lord was present to heale them.

18 ¶ And behold, men brought in a bed a man which was taken with a palsey: and they sought meanes to bring him in, and so lay him before him.

19 And when they could not iude by what way they might bring him in, because of the multitude, they went vpon the house top, and let him downe thorow the tiling with his couch, into the midst before Iesus.

20 And when he saw their faith, hee said vnto him, Man, thy sinnes are forgiven thee.

21 And the Scribes and the Pharisees began to reuelon, saying, Who is this which speaketh blasphemies? Who can forgive sinnes, but God alone?

22 But when Iesus perceived their thoughts, he answering, said vnto them, What reason see in your hearts?

23 Whether is easier to say, Thy sinnes be forgiven thee: or to say, Rise vp and walke?

24 But that yee may know that the Son of man hath power vpon earth to forgive sinnes (he said vnto the sicke of the palsey,) I say vnto thee, Arise, and take vp thy couch, and goe into thine house.

25 And immediately hee arose vp before them, and tooke vp that whereon he lay, and departed to his owne house, glorifying God.

26 And they were all amazed, and they glorified God, and were filled with feare, saying, We haue seene strange things to day.

27 ¶ And after these things he went soorth, and saw a Publicane named Leui, sitting at the receipt of custome, and hee said vnto him; Follow me.

28 And he left all, rose vp, and followed him.

29 And Leui made him a great feast in his owne house: and there was a great company of Publicanes, and of others that ate downe with them.

30 But their Scribes and Pharisees murmured against his disciples, saying, Why doe yee eate and drinke with Publicanes and sinners?

31 And Iesus answering, said vnto them, They that are whole need not a Physician: but they that are sicke.

32 I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.

33 ¶ And they said vnto him, Why doe the Disciples of Iohn fast often, and make prayers, and likewise the disciples of the Pharisees: but thine eate and drinke?

34 And he said vnto them, Can yee make the children of the bride-chamber fast while the bridegroome is with them?

35 But the dayes will come, when the bridegroome shall be taken away from them, and then shall they fast in those dayes.

36 ¶ And hee spake also a parable vnto them; No man putteth a piece of a new garment vpon an old: if otherwise, then both the new maketh a rent, and the piece that was taken out of the new, agreeth not with the old.

37 And no man putteth new wine into old bottles: else the new wine will burst the bottles, and be spilled, and the bottles shall perishe.

38 But new wine must be put into new bottles, and both are preserved.

39 No man also hauing drunke old wine, straightway desireth new: for he saith, The old is better.

CHAP. VI.

1 Christ reprehendeth the Pharisees blindevnt, about the obseruation of the Sabbath, by Scripture; & reason and miracle: 12 chastiseth twelue Apostles: 17 healeth the diuited: 20 preacheth to his disciples before the people of blessing, and curses: 27 how we must looe our enemies: 46 and vpon the obedience of good workes: 12 the hearing of the Word: 46 like a house built vpon the face of the earth without any foundation.

And it came to passe on the second Sabbath after the first, that he went thorow the corne fields: and his Disciples plucked the ears of corne and did eate, rubbing them in their hands.

2 And certaine of the Pharisees said vnto them, Why doe ye that which is not lawfull to doe on the Sabbath dayes?

3 And Iesus answering them, said, Haue yee not read so much as this, what David did, when himselfe was hungred, and they which were with him?

4 How he went into the house of God, and did take and eat the Shew bread, and gave also to them that were with him, which it is not lawfull to eate, but for the Priests alone?

5 And he said vnto them, That the Son of man is Lord also of the Sabbath.

6 ¶ And it came to passe also on another Sabbath, that hee entered into the Synagoge and taught: and there was a man whose right hand was withered.

7 And the Scribes and Pharisees watched him: whether he would heale on the Sabbath day: that they might finde an accusation against him.

8 But he knew their thoughts, and said to the man which had the withered hand, Rise vp, and stand forth in the midst, And hee arose, and stood forth.

9 Then said Iesus vnto them, I will aske you one thing, Is it lawfull on the Sabbath day to doe good, or to doe euill? to save life, or to destroy it?

10 And looking round about vpon them all, he said vnto the man, Stretch forth thy hand. And hee did so: and his hand was restored whole as the other.

11 And they were filled with madnesse, and commanded out with an iudicium: what they might doe to Iesus.

12 And it came to passe in those dayes, that he went out into a mountaine to pray, and continued all night in prayer to God.

13 ¶ And when it was day, he called vnto him his Disciples: and of them hee chose twelue, whom also hee named Apostles:

14 Simon, (whom hee also named Peter) and Andrew his brother: James and Iohn, Philip and Bartholomew, 15 Matthew and Thomas, James the sonne of Alphaeus, and Simon called Zelotes, 16 And Iudas the brother of James, and Iudas Iscariot, which also was the traytor.

17 ¶ And hee came downe with them, and stood in the plains, and the company of his Disciples, and a great multitude of people out of all Iudaea and Hierusalem, and from the Sea coast of Tyre and Sidon, which came to heare him, and to be healed of their diseases, 18 And they that were vexed with unclean spirits; and they were healed.

19 And the whole multitude sought to touch him: for there went vertue out of him, and healed them all.

20 ¶ And hee lifted vp his eyes on his Disciples, and said, * Blessed be ye poore: for yours is the kingdom of God.

21 Blessed are ye that hunger now: for ye shall bee filled. Blessed are ye that weepe now, for yee shall laugh.

22 Blessed are yee when men shall hate you, and when they shall separate you from their company, and shall reprobate you, and cast out your name as euill, for the Sonne of man sake.

23 Reioyce in that day, and leape for ioy: for behold, your reward is great in heauen; for in the like manner did their fathers vsurp the Prophets.

24 * But woe vnto you that are rich: for ye haue receiued your consolation.

25 * Woe vnto you that are full: for yee shall hunger. Woe vnto you that laugh now: for ye shall mourne and weepe.

26 Woe vnto you when all men shall speake well of you: for so did their fathers to the false prophets.

27 ¶ * But I say vnto you which heare, Loue your enemies, Doe good to them which hate you, 28 Blesse them that curse you, and pray for them which detestfully vs you.

29 * And vnto him that smiteth thee on the one cheeke, offer also the other: * and him that taketh away thy cloake, forbid not to take thy coate also.

30 Giue to euery man that asketh of thee, and of him that taketh away thy goods, aske them not againe.

31 * And as ye would that men should doe to you, doe ye also to them likewise.

32 * For if ye loue them which loue you, what thanks haue ye? for sinners also loue those that loue them.

33 And if ye doe good to them which doe good to you, what thanks haue ye? for sinners also doe even the same.

34 * And if ye lend to them, of whom ye hope to receiue, what thanks haue ye? for sinners also lend to sinners, to receiue as much againe.

35 But loue ye your enemies, and do good, and lend, hoping for nothing againe: and your reward shall be great, and ye shall be the children of the Highest: for he is kinde vnto the vthankfull, and to the euill.

36 Be ye therefore mercifull, as your Father also is mercifull.

37 * Iudge not, and yee shall not bee iudged: condemne not, and ye shall not bee condemned: forgive, and ye shall be forgiven.

38 Giue, and it shall be giuen vnto you, good measure, pressed down, and shaken together, and running ouer, shall men giue into your bosome: for with the same measure that ye mete withall, it shall bee measured to you againe.

39 And hee spake a parable vnto them; * Can the blind lead the blind? shall they not both fall into the ditch?

40 * The Disciple is not above his Master: but every one that is perfect, shall be as his Master.

41 * And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brothers eye, but perceainst not the beam that is in thine owne eye?

42 Either how canst thou say to thy brother, Brother, let me pull out the mote that is in thine eye, when thou thy selfe beholdest not the beam that is in thine owne eye? Thou Hypocrite, Cast out first the beam out of thine owne eye, and then shalt thou see clearly to pull out the mote that is in thy brothers eye.

43 * For a good tree bringeth not forth corrupte fruit: neither doth a corrupte tree bring forth good fruit.

44 For euery tree is knowne by his owne fruit: for of thorns men doe not gather figs, nor of a bramble bush gather they grapes.

45 A good man out of the good treasure of his heart, bringeth forth that which is good: and an euill man out of the euill treasure of his heart, bringeth forth that which is euill: For of the abundance of the heart, his mouth speaketh.

46 ¶ * And why call ye me Lord, Lord, and doe not the things which I say?

47 Whosoever commeth to me, and heareth my sayings, and doeth them, I will shew you to whom he is like:

48 He is like a man which built an house, and digged deep, and laid the foundation on a rocke, and when the flood arose, the stream beat vehemently vpon that house, and could not shake it: for it was founded vpon a rocke.

49 But hee that buildeth and doeth not, is like a man that without a foundation built an house vpon the carth: against which the streame did beat vehemently, and immediately it fell, and the ruine of that house was great.

CHAP. VII.

1 Christ findeth a greater faith in the Centurion a Gentle, then in any of the Iewes to heare his seruants being absent: 21 raised from death the widowes son at Naim: 29 answered Iohns messengers, with the declaration of his miracles: 34 testified to the people what ought he held of Iohn: 36 answered as against the Iewes who wish neither the manners of Iohn nor of Iesus could be won: 38 and showed by occasion of Mary Magdalene how he is a friend to sinners, not to maner and the law but to forgive the their sinners their faith & repentance.

Now when hee had ended all his sayings, in the audience of the people, * hee entered into Capernaum.

2 And a certaine Centurions seruant, who was deere vnto him, was sicke and ready to die.

3 And when hee heard of Iesus, hee sent vnto him the Elders of the Iewes, beseeching him that hee would come, and heale his seruant.

4 And when they came to Iesus, they besought him instantly, saying, That hee was worthy for whom he should doe this;

5 For hee loued our nation, and hee hath built vs a Synagogue.

6 Then Iesus went with them. And when he was now not farre from the house, the Centurion sent friends to him, saying vnto him, Lord, trouble not thy selfe: for I am not worthy that thou shouldst enter vnder my rooffe.

7 Wherefore neither thought I myselfe worthy to come vnto thee: but say in a word, and my seruant shall be healed.

8 For I also am a man set vnder authority, having vnder me souldiers: and I say vnto one, Goe, and hee goeth: and to another, Come, and hee cometh: and to my seruant, Doe this, and hee doeth it.

20 When Iesus heard these things, he marvelled at him, and turned him about, and said vnto the people that followed him, I say vnto you, I haue not found so great faith, as not in Israel.

21 And they that were sent, returning to the house, found the seruant whole that had been sicke.

22 ¶ And it came to passe the day after, that hee went into a city called Naim: and many of his Disciples went with him, and much people.

23 Now when he came nigh to the gate of the city, behold, there was a dead man carried out, the onely sone of his mother, and shee was a widow: and much people of the city was with her.

24 And when the Lord saw her, he had compassion on her, and said vnto her, Weepe not.

25 And hee came and touched the cofin, (and they that bare him stood still, And he said, Young man I say vnto thee, Arise.

26 And he that was dead, sat vp, and began to speake: and he deliuered him to his mother.

27 And there came a stare on all, and they glorified God, saying, That a great Prophet is risen vp among vs, and that God hath visited his people.

28 And this rumour of him went forth throughout all Iudaea, and thorowout all the region round about.

29 ¶ And the disciples of Iohn shewed him of all these things.

30 ¶ And Iohn calling vnto him two of his Disciples, sent them to Iesus, saying, Art thou hee that should come, or looke we for another?

31 When the men were come vnto him, they said, Iohn Baptist hath sent vs vnto thee, saying, Art thou hee that should come, or looke we for another?

32 And in that same hour hee cured many of their infirmities, and plagues, and of euill spirits, and vnto many that were blind, he gaue sight.

33 Then Iesus answering, said vnto them, Go your way, and tell Iohn what things ye haue seene and heard: how that the blind see, the lame walke, the lepers are cleansed, the deafe heere, the dead are raised, to the poore the Gospel is preached.

34 And blessed is he whosoever shall not see offended in me.

35 ¶ And when the messengers of Iohn were departed, he began to speake vnto the people, concerning Iohn. What went ye out into the wilderness for to see? A Reed shaken with the wind?

36 But what went ye out for to see? A man clothed in fine raiment? Behold, they which are so gloriously apparelled and linc delicately, are in Kingdome.

37 But what went ye out for to see? A Prophet? Yes, I say vnto you, and much more then a Prophet.

38 This is he of whom it is written, Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee:

39 For I say vnto you, Among those that are borne of women, there is not a greater Prophet then Iohn the Baptist: but hee that is least in the Kingdome of God, is greater then he.

40 And all the people that heard him, and the Pharisees, iustified God, being baptized with the baptisme of Iohn.

41 But the Pharisees and Lawyers resisted the counsel of God, against them: not being nor baptized of Iohn.

42 ¶ And the Lord said, Wherunto then shall I liken the men of this generation? and to what are they like?

43 They are like vnto children sitting in the market place, and calling one to another, and saying, We haue piped vnto you, and ye haue not danced: we haue mourned to you, and ye haue not wept.

44 For Iohn the Baptist came neither eating bread, nor drinking wine, and ye say, He hath a deuill.

45 The Son of man is come, eating and drinking, and ye say, Behold a gluttonous man, and a wine bibber, a friend of Publicans and sinners.

46 But wisdom is iustified of all her children.

47 ¶ And one of the Pharisees defied him, that he would eat with him. And he went into the Pharisees house, and sat down to meat.

48 And behold, a woman in the city, which was a sinner, when she knew that Iesus sat at meat in the Pharisees house, brought an alabastrer box of ointment, 49 And stood at his feet, behinde him, weeping, and began to walsh his feet with teares, and did wipe them with the haires of her head, and kissed his feet, and anointed them with the ointment.

50 Now when the Pharisee which had bidden him saw it, hee spake within himselfe, saying, This man, if hee were a Prophet, would haue knowne who, and what manner of woman this is that toucheth him: for she is a sinner.

51 And Iesus answering, said vnto him, Simon, I haue somewhat to say vnto thee: And he saith, Master, say on.

52 There was a certaine creditor, which had two debtors: the one oweight five hundred pence, and the other fifty.

53 And when they had nothing to pay, he frankly forgave them both. Tell me therefore, whose of them will loue him most?

54 Simon answered and said, I suppose that he to whom hee forgave most: and he said vnto him, Thou hast rightly iudged.

55 And hee turned to the woman, and said vnto Simon, Seest thou this woman? I entered into thine house, thou gauest me water for my feet: but shee hath walshed my feet with teares, and wiped them with the haires of her head.

56 Thou gauest me no kisse: but this woman, since the time I came in, hath not ceased to kisse my feet.

57 Mine head with oyle thou didst not anoint: but this woman hath anointed my feet with ointment.

58 Wherefore I say vnto thee, Her sins which are many, are forgivene, for shee loued much: but to whom little is forgivene, the same loueth little.

59 And he said vnto her, Thy finnes are forgivene.

60 And they that sat at meat with him, began to say within themselves, Who is this that forgiveth finnes also?

61 And hee said to the woman, Thy faith hath saved thee, goe in peace.

CHAP. VIII.

3 Women minister vnto Christ of their substance. 4 Christ after he had preached from place to place, attended with his Apostles, prophecies the yeare of the sower, 16 And of the candle.

21 declareth who are his mother and brethren?

22 rebuketh the woman: 26 casteth the legion of deuils out of the man: 30 the heard of sower: 37 is restiled of the Gadarens: 43 healeth the woman of her bloody issue, 49 and raiseth from death Iairus daughter.

50 And it came to passe afterward, that he went thorowout the euery city and village, preaching, and shewing the glad tidings of the Kingdome of God: and the twelve were with him,

2 And certain women which had been healed of evil spirits and infirmities, Mary called Magdalene, out of whom went seven devils,

3 And Joanna, the wife of Chuza, Herods steward, and Susanna, and many others which ministered unto him of their substance.

4 ¶ And when much people were gathered together, and were come to him out of every city, he spake by a parable :

5 A sower went out to sow his seed : and as hee sowed, some fell by the way side, and it was trodden downe, and the fowles of the aire devoured it.

6 And some fell upon a rock, and as soone as it was sprung up, it withered away, because it lacked moisture.

7 And some fell among thornes, and the thornes sprang up with it, and choked it.

8 And other fell on good ground, and sprang up, and bare fruit a hundred fold. And when he had said these things, they cryed, He that hath eares to heare, let him heare.

9 And his Disciples asked him, saying, What meane this parable ?

10 And he said, Unto you it is given to know the mysteries of the Kingdome of God : but to others in parables, that seeing, they might not see, and hearing, they might not understand.

11 ¶ Now the parable is this: The seed is the Word of God.

12 Those by the way side, are they that heare : then cometh the devill, and taketh away the Word out of their hearts, lest they should believe and be saved.

13 They on the rock, are they which when they heare, receive the Word with joy : and these have no root, which for a while believe, and in time of temptation fall away.

14 And that which fell among thornes, are they, which when they heare, receive the Word, and are choked with cares and pleasures of this life, and bring no fruit to perfection.

15 But that on the good ground, are they which in a honest & good heart, receive the word, keeping it, and bring forth fruit with patience.

16 ¶ No man when he hath lighted a candle, covereth it with a vessell, or putteth it under a bed : but setteth on a candlestick, that they which come in, may see the light.

17 ¶ For nothing is secret, that shall not be made manifest : neither any thing hid, that shall not be known, and come abroad.

18 Take heed therefore how ye heare : for whosoever heareth, to him shall be given, and whosoever hateth, from him shall be taken, even that which hee seemeth to have.

19 ¶ Then came to him his mother and his brethren, and could not come in for the press.

20 And it was told him by certain which said, Thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to see thee.

21 And he answered, and said unto them, My mother and my brethren are these, which heare the Word of God, and doe it.

22 ¶ Now it came to passe on a certaine day, that he went into a ship with his Disciples, and he had vnto them, Let vs go ouer vnto the other side of the lake : and they lauched forth.

23 But as they sailed, hee fell asleepe : and there came downe a storme of wind on the lake, and they were filled with worry, and were in jeopardy.

24 And they came to him, and awoke him, saying, Master, wee perishe. Then he rose, and rebuked the wind, and the raging of the water : and they ceased, and there was a calme.

25 And he said vnto them, Where is your faith ? And they being afraid, wondered, saying one to another, What manner of man is this ? for he commaundeth even the winds and water, and they obey him.

26 ¶ And they arrived at the countrey of the Gadarenes, which is ouer against Galilee.

27 And when he went forth to land, there met him out of the city, a certaine man which had devils long time, and wore no clothes, neither abode in any house, but in the tombes.

28 When he saw Iesus, hee cryed out, and fell downe before him, and with a loud voice saide, What haue I to doe with thee, Iesus, thou Son of God most high ? I beseech thee, torment me not.

29 (For he had commaunded the unclean spirit to come out of the man : for often times it had caught him, and he was kept bound with chains, and in fetters, and he brake the bands, and was driven of the devill into the wilderness.)

30 And Iesus asked him, saying, What is thy name ? and he said, Legion : because many devils were entred into him.

31 And they besought him that hee would not commaund them to goe out into the deepe.

32 And there was there an herd of many swine feeding on the mountaine : and they besought him that he would suffer them to enter into them : and he suffered them.

33 Then went the devils out of the man, and entred into the swine : and the herd ran violently downe a steepe place into the flake, and were choked.

34 When they that fed them, saw what was done, they fled, and went and told it in the city, and in the countrey.

35 Then they went out to see what was done, and came to Iesus, and found the man out of whom the devils were departed, sitting at the feet of Iesus, clothed, and in his right minde : and they were afraid.

36 They also which saw it, told them by what meanes hee that was possessed of the devils was healed.

37 ¶ Then the whole multitude of the countrey of the Gadarenes round about, besought him to depart from them, for they were taken with great feare : and he went up into the ship, and returned backe againe.

38 Now the man out of whom the devils were departed, besought him that he might be with him, but Iesus sent him away, saying, 39 Returne to thine owne house, and shew how great things God hath done vnto thee. And he went his way, and published thorowout the whole city, how great things Iesus had done vnto him.

40 And it came to passe, that when Iesus was returned, the people gladly received him : for they were all waiting for him.

41 ¶ And behold, there came a man named Jairus, and he was a ruler of the Synagogue, and hee fell downe at Iesus feet, and besought him that hee would come into his house :

42 For he had one only daughter about twelue yeeres of age, and she lay dying. (But as he went the people thronged him.)

43 ¶ And a woman having an issue of blood twelue yeeres, which had spent all her liuing vpon Physicians, neither could be healed of any,

44 Came behinde him, and touched the border of his garment : and immediately her issue of blood stanchod.

45 And Iesus said, Who touched me ? When all denied, Peter and they that were with him, said, Master, the multitude throng thee, and press thee, and sayest thou, Who touched me?

46 And Jesus said, Some body hath touched me: for I perceive that virtue is gone out of me.

47 And when the woman saw that she was not hid, she came trembling, and falling down before him, she declared unto him before all the people, for what cause she had touched him, and how she was healed immediately.

48 And he said unto her, Daughter, be of good comfort, thy faith hath made thee whole, go in peace.

49 ¶ While he yet spake, there cometh one from the Ruler of the Synagogue, saying to him, Thy daughter is dead, trouble not the Master.

50 But when Jesus heard it, he answered him, saying, Fear not, believe only, and she shall be made whole.

51 And when he came into the house, he suffered the man to go in, Luc Peter, and James, and John, and the father, and the mother of the maiden.

52 And all wept and bewailed her: but he said, Weep not, she is not dead, but sleepeth.

53 And they laughed him to scorn, knowing that she was dead.

54 And he put them all out, and took her by the hand, and called, saying, Maid, arise.

55 And her spirit came again, and she arose straightway: and he commanded to give her meat.

56 And her parents were astonished; but he charged them that they should tell no man what was done.

CHAP. IX.

1 I think I should like the Apostles to work miracles, and to preach. Herod desired to see Christ. 29 Christ healed five thousand: 38 Inquireth what opinion the world had of him, foretelleth his passion.

39 Proposeth to all, the patience of his passion.

40 The transfiguration. 47 He healeth the lunaticke: 48 Again foretelleth his Disciples of his passion: 49 commendeth humilitie: 51 Biddeth them to forewaite towards all, without desire of revenge. 57 Divers would follow him, but upon punishment.

58 He called his twelve Disciples together, and gave them power and authority over all devils, and to cure diseases.

2 And he sent them to preach the kingdom of God, and to heale the sick.

3 And he said unto them, Take nothing for your journey, neither staves, nor scrip, neither bread, neither money, neither have two coats a piece.

4 And whatsoever house ye enter into, there abide, and thence depart.

5 And whosoever will not receive you, when ye goe out of that city, shake off the very dust from your feet, for a testimony against them.

6 And they departed, and went thorow the towne preaching the Gospel, and healing every where.

7 ¶ Now Herod the Tetrarch heard of all that was done by him: and he was perplexed, because that it was said of some, that Iohn was risen from the dead:

8 And of some, that Elias had appeared: and of others, that one of the old Prophets was risen againe.

9 And Herod said, Iohn I have beheaded: but who is this of whom I heare such things? And he desired to see him.

10 ¶ And the Apostles when they were returned, told him all that they had done. And he took them, and went aside privately into a desert place belonging to the city, called Bethsaida.

11 And the people when they knew it, followed him, and hee received them, and spake unto them of the kingdom of God, and healed them that had need of healing.

12 ¶ And when the day began to wear away, then came the twelve, and said unto him, Send the multitude away, that they may goe into the towne, and comeney round about, and lodge, and get victuals: for we are here in a desert place.

13 But he said unto them, Give ye them to eat, and they said, We have no more but five loaves, and two fishes, except wee should goe and buy meat for all this people.

14 For they were about five thousand men. And he said to his Disciples, Make them sit downe by fifties in a company.

15 And they did so, and made them all sit downe.

16 Then hee tooke the five loaves and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, hee blessed them, and brake, and gave to the Disciples to set before the multitude.

17 And they did eat, and were all filled. And there was taken up of fragments that remained to them, twelve baskets.

18 ¶ And it came to passe, as he was alone praying, his Disciples were with him, and hee called to him, saying, Whom say the people that I am?

19 They answering, said, Iohn the Baptist. But some say, Elias: and others say, That one of the old Prophets is risen againe.

20 He said unto them, But whom say ye that I am? Peter answering, said, The Christ of God.

21 And hee straightly charged him, and commanded them to tell no man that thing.

22 Saying, The Sonne of man must suffer many things, and be rejected of the Elders, and chiefe Priests, and Scribes, and be slain, and be raised the third day.

23 ¶ And hee said to them all, If any man will come after me, let him denie himselfe, and take up his crosse daily, and follow me.

24 For whosoever will save his life, shall lose it; but whosoever will lose his life for my sake, shall save it.

25 ¶ For what is a man advantaged, if hee gaine the whole world, and lose himselfe, or bee cast away?

26 ¶ For whosoever shall be ashamed of me, and of my words, of him shall the Sonne of man be ashamed, when he shall come in his owne glory, and in his Fathers, and of the holy Angels.

27 ¶ But I tell you of a truth, there be some standing here, which shall not taste of death, till they see the Kingdom of God.

28 ¶ And it came to passe, about an eight dayes after these sayings, he tooke Peter, and Iohn, and Iames, and went up into a mountaine to pray:

29 And as he prayed, the fashion of his countenance was altered, and his raiment was white and glistering.

30 And behold, there talked with him two men, which were Moyses and Elias.

31 Who appeared in glory, and spake of his decease which he should accomplish at Hierusalem.

32 But Peter and they that were with him, were heavy with sleepe: and when they were awake, they saw his glory, and the two men that stood with him.

33 And it came to passe, as they departed from Ierusalem, Peter said unto Iesus, Master, it is good for us to be here, and let us make thee Tabernacles, and for thee, and one for Moyses, and one for Elias: not knowing what he said.

¶ Matth. 24.

¶ Matth. 24.

34 While hee thus spake, there came a cloud and overshadowed them, and they feared, as they entered into the cloud.

35 And there came a voyce out of the cloud, saying, This is my beloved Sonne, hearc him.

36 And when the voyce was past, Iesus was found alone, and they kept it close, and told no man in these dayes any of those things which they had seene.

37 ¶ And it came to passe, that on the next day, when they were come down from the hill, much people met him.

38 And behold, a man of the company tried out, saying, Master, I beseech thee looke vpon my sonne, for he is mine onely child.

39 And loe, a spirit taketh him, and he suddenly crieth out, and it teareth him till he someth a-gaine, and howling him, hardly d-parteth from him.

40 And I besought thy Disciples to cast him out, and they could not.

41 And Iesus answering, said, O faithlesse and peruerse generation, how long shall I be with you, and suffer you being they loue father.

42 And as he was yet a communing, the deuil threw him downe, and trow him: and Iesus rebuked the vnleuesyphite, and healed the child, and deliuered him againe to his father.

43 ¶ And they were all amazed at the mighty power of God: but while they wondered every one at all things which Iesus did, he said vnto his Disciples, 44 ¶ Let these sayings sinke downe into your eares: for the Sonne of man shall be deliuered into the hands of men.

45 But they vnderstood not this saying, and it was hid from them that they perceived it not: and they feared to aske him of that saying.

46 ¶ ¶ Then came there a reasoning among them, which of them should be greatest.

47 And Iesus perceiving the thought of their heart,ooke a child and set him by him, 48 And said vnto them, Whosoever shall receiue this child in my Name, receiveth me, and whosoever shall receiue me, receiveth him that sent me: For he that is least among you all, the same shall be great.

49 ¶ And Iohn answered, and said, Master, we saw one calling out devils in thy Name and we forbade him, because he followeth not with vs.

50 And Iesus said vnto him, Forbid him not: For he that is not against vs is for vs.

51 ¶ And it came to passe, when the time was come that he should be receiued vp, he steadfastly set his face to goe to Hierusalem, 52 And sent messengers before his face, and they went and entered into a village of the Samaritanes to make ready for him.

53 And they did not receiue him, because his face was as though he would goe to Hierusalem.

54 And when his Disciples, James and Iohn saw this, they said, Lord, wilt thou that we commaund fire to come down from heauen, and consume them, euen as Elias did?

55 But he turned and rebuked them, and said, Ye knowe not what manner spirit yee are of.

56 For the Sonne of man is not come to destroy mens liues, but to saue them. And they went to another village.

57 ¶ And it came to passe, that as they went in the way, a certaine ruse said vnto him, Lord, I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest.

58 And Iesus said vnto him, Foxes haue holes, and birds of the ayre haue nests, but the Sonne of man hath not where to lay his head.

59 ¶ And he said vnto another, Follow me: But he said, Lord, suffer me first to go and bury my father.

60 Iesus said vnto him, Let the dead bury their dead: but goe thou and preach the Kingdome of God.

61 And another also said, Lord, I will follow thee: but let me first goe bid them farewell, which are at home at my house.

62 And Iesus said vnto him, No man having put his hand to the plow, and looking backe, is fit for the Kingdome of God.

CHAP. X.

1 Christ sendeth out at once seventy Disciples to worke miracles, and to preach: 2 An admonition to be humble: and wherein to reioyce: 3 Thanketh his father for his grace: 4 Magnifyeth the happy estate of his Church: 5 Teachers the Lawyer how to attaine eternal life, and to take eery one for his neighbour that needeth his mercy: 6 Reprehendeth Martha, and commendeth Mary her sister.

AFTER these things the Lord appointed other seventy also, and sent them two and two before his face, into eery city and place, whether he himselfe would come.

2 Therefore said he vnto them, The harvest truly is great, but the labourers are few: pray yee therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he would send forth labourers into his harvest.

3 Goe your wayes: Behold, I send you forth as lambs among wolves.

4 Carry neither purse, nor scrip, nor shoes, and salute no man by the way.

5 And into whatsoever house yee enter, first say, Peace be to this house.

6 And if the Son of peace be there, your peace shall rest vpon it: if not, it shall come to you againe.

7 And in the same house remaine, eating and drinking such things as they giue: for the labourer is worthy of his hire. Goe not from house to house.

8 And into whatsoever city yee enter, and they receiue you, rate such things as are set before you.

9 And heale the sick that are therein, and say vnto them, The kingdome of God is come nigh vnto you.

10 But into whatsoever city yee enter, and they receiue you not, goe your wayes out into the streets of the same, and say, 11 Euen the very dust of your city which cleauneth on vs, we doe wipe off against you: notwithstanding, be ye sure of this, that the kingdome of God is come nigh vnto you.

12 But I say vnto you, that it shall be more tolerable in that day for Sodon, then for that city.

13 ¶ Woe vnto thee, Chorazin, woe vnto thee Bethsaida: for if the mighty workes had bene done in Tyre and Sidon, which haue bene done in you, they had a greatwhile agoe repented, sitting in sackcloth and ashes.

14 But it shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon at the Iudgement, then for you.

15 And thou Capernaum, which art exalted to heauen, shalt be thrust downe to hell.

16 He that heareth you, heareth me: and he that despiseth you, despiseth me: and he that despiseth me, despiseth him that sent mee.

17 ¶ And the seventy returned again with joy, saying, Lord, even the devils are subiect vnto vs through thy Name.

18 And he said vnto them, I beheld Satay as lightning fall from heauen.

19 Behold, I giue vnto you power to tread on serpents and scorpions, and ouer all the power of the enemy: and nothing shall hurt you.

20 Notwithstanding in this meane tyme, that the spirites are subiect vnto you: but rather reioyce, because your names are written in heauen.

21 ¶ In that house Iesus reioyced in Spirit, and said, I thanke thee O Father, Lord of heauen and earth, that thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast reuealed them vnto babes: euen so Father, for so it seemed good in thy sight.

22 ¶ All things are deliuered to me of my Father, and no man knoweth who the Son is, but the Father, and who the Father is, but the Sonne, and he to whom the Sonne will reueale him.

23 ¶ And he turned him vnto his Disciples, and said privately, * Blessed are the eyes which see the things that ye see.

24 For I tell you, that many Prophets and Kings haue desired to see those things which ye see, and haue not seene them; and to heare those things which ye heare, and haue not heard them.

25 ¶ And behold, a certaine Lawyer stood vp, and tempted him, saying, * Master, what shall I doe to inherite eternall life? He said vnto him, 26 What is written in the Law? how readest thou?

27 And hee answering, said, Thou shalt loue the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soule, and with all thy strength, and with all thy minde, and thy neighbour as thy selfe.

28 And hee said vnto him, Thou hast answered right: this doe, and thou shalt liue.

29 But hee willing to iustifie himselfe, said vnto Iesus, And who is my neighbour?

30 And Iesus answering, said, A certaine man went downe from Ierusalem to Iericho, and fell among thornes, which stripped him of his raiment, and wounded him, and departed, leauing him halfe dead.

31 And by chance there came downe a certaine Priest that way, and when he saw him, he passed by on the other side.

32 And likewise a Levite, when he was at the place, came and looked on him, and passed by on the other side.

33 But a certaine Samaritan, as hee iournied, came where he was: and when he saw him, he had compassion on him, 34 And went to him, and bound vp his wounds, powring in oyle and wine, & set him on his owne beest, and brought him to an Inne, and took care of him.

35 And on the morrow when he departed, hee took out two pence, and gaue them to the host, and said vnto him, Take care of him, and whatsoever thou spendest more, when I come againe: I will repay thee.

36 Which now of these three thinkest thou, was neighbour vnto him that fell among the thornes?

37 And hee said, He that shewed mercy on him. Then said Iesus vnto him, Go, and doe thou likewise.

38 ¶ Now it came to passe as they went, that hee entered into a certaine village: and a certaine woman, named Martha, receiued him into her house.

39 And she had a sister called Mary, which also sat at Iesus feet, and heard his word:

40 But Martha was troubled about much ser-uing, and came to him, and said, Lord, dost thou not care that my sister hath left me to serue alone? Bid her therefore that she helpe me.

41 And Iesus answered, and said vnto her, Martha, Martha, thou art careful, and troubled about many things;

42 But one thing is needfull, and Mary hath chosen that good part, which shall not be taken away from her.

CHAP. XI.

1 Christ teacheth vs pray, and that incessantly: 11 offering that God so will giue vs good things: 14 Hee casteth out a dunie deuill, wherewith the blasphemous Pharisees: 28 And Ierush who are blessed, 29 preacht to the people, 37 and reprehendeth the outward shew of businesse in the Pharisees, Scribes, and Lawyers.

AND it came to passe, that as hee was praying in A certain place, when hee ceased, one of his Disciples said vnto him, Lord, teach vs to pray, as Iohn also taught his Disciples.

2 And hee said vnto them, when ye pray, say, * Our father which art in heauen, Hallowed bee thy Name, Thy kingdom come, Thy will bee done, &c. as in heauen, so in earth.

3 Giue vs ¶ day by day our daily bread.

4 And forgive vs our sinnes; for we also forgive ^{of our} every one that is indebted to vs. And leaue vs ^{of our} not into temptation, but deliuer vs from euill.

5 And hee said vnto them, Which of you shall haue a friend, and shall goe vnto him at midnight, and say vnto him, Friend, lend me three loaves:

6 For a friend of mine is in his iourney is come to mee, and I haue nothing to set before him.

7 And hee from within shall answer and say, Trouble me not, for doore is now shut, and my children are are with me: I cannot rise & giue thee.

8 I say vnto you, though he will not rise and giue him, because he is his friend: yet because of his importunity, he will rise and giue him as many as he needeth.

9 * And I say vnto you, Aske, and it shall be giue: Ma you: seeke, and ye shall find: knocke, and it shall be opened vnto you.

10 For every one that asketh, receiveth: and he that seeketh, findeth: and to him that knocketh, it shall be opened.

11 * If a son shall aske bread of any of you that is a father, will hee giue him a stone? For if hee aske a fish, will hee giue him a serpent?

12 Or if hee shall aske an egge, will hee offer him a scorpion?

13 If ye then being euill, know how to giue good gifts vnto your children: how much more shall your heavenly Father giue the holy Spirit to them that aske him?

14 ¶ And hee was casting out a deuill, and it was dunie: And it came to passe, when the deuill was gone out, the dunie spake, and the people wondered.

15 But some of them said, He casteth out devils through Beelzebub the chiefe of the devils.

16 And o.ber tempting him, sought of him a signe from heauen.

17 But hee knowing their thoughts, said vnto them, Every kingdome divided against it selfe, is brought to desolation, and a house divided against a house, shall fall.

18 If Satan also bee diuided against himselfe, how shall his kingdome stand? Because ye say that I cast out devils through Beelzebub.

19 And if I by Beelzebub cast out devils, by whom doe your soules cast them out : therefore shall they be your iudges.

20 But if I with the finger of God cast out devils, no doubt the kingdom of God is come vpon you.

21 When a thong man armed keepeth his palace, his goods are in peace :

22 But when a stronger then hee shall come vpon him, and overcome him, he taketh from him all his armour wherein he trusted, & diuiceth his spoiles.

23 He that is not with me, is against me : and he that gathereth me with me, scattereth.

24 * When the violence of spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh thorow dry places, looking rest : and finding none, hee saith, I will returne vnto mine house, whence I came out.

25 And when hee cometh, he findeth it swept and garnished.

26 Then goeth he, and taketh to him seven other spirits more wicked then himselfe, and they enter in, and dwell there : and the last state of that man is worse then the first.

27 ¶ And it came to passe, as hee spake these things, a certaine woman of the company lift vp her voice and said vnto him, Blessed is she woman that bare thee, and the pay which thou hast sucked.

28 But he said, Yee, rather blessed are they that heare the word of God and keepe it.

29 ¶ And when the people were gathered thicke together, he began to say, This is an evil generation, they seek a signe, and there shall no signe be giuen it, but the signe of Iosias the Prophet :

30 For as Iosias was a signe vnto the Niniuites, so shall also the Son of man beeto this generation.

31 The Queen of the South shall rise vp in the iudgement with the men of this generation, and condemne them : for shee came from the starrest parts of the earth, to heare the wisdom of Solomon : and be hold, a greater then Solomon is here.

32 The men of Ninus shall rise vp in the iudgement with this generation, and shall condemne it : for they repented at the preaching of Iosias, and be hold, a greater then Iosias is here.

33 ¶ No man when hee hath lighted a candle, putteth it in a secret place, neither vnder a bushell, but on a candlestick, that they which come in may see the light.

34 * The light of the body is the eye, therefore when thine eye is single, thy whole body also is full of light : but when thine eyes are euill, thy body also is full of darkness.

35 Take heede therefore, that the light which is in thee, be not darkened.

36 If thy whole body therefore be full of light, having no part darke, the whole shall bee full of light, as when the bright shining of a candle doth giue thee light.

37 ¶ And as hee spake, a certaine Pharisee besought him to dine with him : and hee went in, and sat downe to meate.

38 And when the Pharisee saw it, he marvelled, that he had not first washed before dinner.

39 * And the Lord said vnto him, Now doe yee Pharisees make cleane the outside of the cup, and the platter : but your inward part is full of rancoring and wickednesse.

40 Ye fooles, did not hee that made that which is without, make that which is within also ?

41 But rather giue almes of such things ? as you haue, and be hold, all things are cleane vnto you.

42 But woe vnto you Pharisees : for yee tithe Mint and Rue, and all manner of herbes, and passe your iudgement, and the loue of God : these ought ye to haue done, & not to leaue the other vndoone.

43 * Woe vnto you Pharisees, for yee loue the vppermost seats in the Synagogues, and greetings in the markets.

44 Woe vnto you Scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites : for ye are as granes which appeare not, and the men that walke ouer them, are not aware of them.

45 ¶ Then answered one of the Lawyers, and said vnto him, Master, thus saying, thou reproachest vs also.

46 * And hee said, Woe vnto you also, ye Lawyers : for ye lade men with burdens grievous to be borne, and ye your selues touch not the burdens with one of your fingers.

47 * Woe vnto you for yee build the sepulchres of the Prophets, and your fathers kille them.

48 Truly yee heare witness, that ye allow the deeds of your Fathers : for they indeed killed them, and ye build their sepulchres.

49 Therefore also did the wisdom of God, I will send them prophets and Apostles, and some of them they shall slay and persecute.

50 That the blood of all the Prophets, which was shed from the foundation of the world, may be required of this generation.

51 * From the blood of Abel, vnto the blood of Zacharias, which perished betwene the Altar and the Temple : Verily I say vnto you, it shall be required of this generation.

52 * Woe vnto you Lawyers : for ye haue taken away the key of knowledge : ye entered not in your selues, and them that were entering in, ye hindered.

53 And as hee said these things vnto them, the Scribes and the Pharisees began to wrage him vehemently, & to prouoke him to speake of many things.

54 Laying waite for him, & seeking to catch something out of his mouth, that they might accuse him.

CHAP. XII.

1 Christ preacheth to his Disciples to avoid hypocrite, and fearefulness in publishing his doctrine.

2 Warneth the people to beware of cautions, using the parable of the rich man, who set up greater betwixt him and God, than hee could do earthly things, but seek the Kingdom of God. 3 Genaimes almes, 4 beronity at a knocke to open to our Lord when hee cometh, 5 Christs minister are to see to their charge, 6 and looke for perfection, 7 The people must take this time of grace, 8 because it is a fearefull thing to die without reconciliation.

[N * the meane time, when there were gathered together an innumerable multitude of people, insomuch that they trode one vpon another, he began to say vnto his Disciples first of all, Beware ye of the leues of the Pharisees, which is hypocrite.

1 * For there is nothing couered, that shall not be revealed ; neither hid, that shall not be knowne.

2 Therefore, whatsoever yee haue spoken in darkness, shall bee heard in the light : and that which yee haue spoken in the care in closets, shall bee proclaimed vpon the house tops.

3 * And I say vnto you my friends, be not afraid of them that kill the body, and after that, haue no more, that they can doe.

4 But I will forewarne you whom ye shall feare : Feare him, which after he hath killed, hath power to cast into hell ; yea, I say vnto you, Feare him.

5 Are not lew sparrows sold for euertwo farthings, and not one of them is forgotten before God ?

6 But euen the very haire of your head are all numbered : Feare not therefore, yee are of more value then many sparrows.

8 * Also I say vnto you, Whoſoever ſhall confeſſe mee before men, him ſhall the Son of man alſo confeſſe before the Angels of God.

9 But he that denieth mee before men, ſhall be denied before the Angels of God.

10 And whoſoever ſhall ſpeake a word againſt the Son of man, it ſhall be forgiven him: but vnto him that blaſphemeth againſt the holy Ghoſt, it ſhall not be forgiven.

11 * And when they bring you vnto the Synagogues, and vnto Magiſtrates, and powers, take ye no thought, how or what thing yee ſhall answer, or what ye ſhall ſay:

12 For the holy Ghoſt ſhall teach you in the ſame hour, what ye ought to ſay.

13 ¶ And one of the company ſaid vnto him, Maſter ſpeake to my brother, that he diſide the inheritance with mee.

14 And he ſaid vnto him, Man, who made me a Judge, or a diſider ovr you?

15 And he ſaid vnto them, Take heed and beware of contentneſſe: for a mans life conſiſteth not in the abundance of the things which he poſſeſſeth.

16 And he ſpake a parable vnto them, ſaying, The ground of a certaine rich man brought forth plentifully, 17 And hee thought within himſelfe, ſaying, What ſhall I doe, becauſe I have no roune where to ſtore my fruits?

18 And he ſaid, This will I doe, I will pull down my barnes, and build greater, and there will I ſtore all my fruits, and my goods.

19 And I will ſay to my ſoule, Thou haſt much goods laid vp for many yeeres, take thine ease, eat, drinke, and be merry.

20 But God ſaid vnto him, Thou fool, this night thy ſoule ſhall be required of thee: then whoſe ſhall thoſe things be which thou haſt provided?

21 So is he that layeth vp treaſure for himſelfe, and is not rich towards God.

22 ¶ And he ſaid vnto his Diſciples, Therefore I ſay vnto you, * Take no thought for your life, what ye ſhall eat, neither for the body, what yee ſhall put on.

23 The life is more then meate, and the body is more then raiment.

24 Conſider the Ravens, for they ſeek ſow, nor reape, which neither haue ſtorehouſe, nor barn, and God feedeth them: how much more are yee better then the ſoules?

25 And which of you with taking thought, can add to his ſtature one cubite?

26 If ye then be not able to doe that thing which is leaſt, why take ye thought for the reſt?

27 Conſider the Lillies, how they grow, they toile not, they ſpin not: and yet I ſay vnto you, that Solomon in all his glory, was not arrayed like one of theſe.

28 If then God ſo cloth the graſſe, which is to day in the field, and to morrow is caſt into the oven: how much more will he clothe you, O ye of little faith?

29 And ſeek not ye what ye ſhall eat, or what ye ſhall drinke, neither be ye of doubtful minde.

30 For all theſe things doe the nations of the world ſeek after: and your father knoweth that ye haue need of theſe things.

31 ¶ But rather ſeek ye the kingdom of God, and all theſe things ſhall be added vnto you.

32 Feare not little ſocke, for it is your Fathers good pleaſure to give you the kingdom.

33 Sell that ye haue, and giue almes, * provide your ſelves bags which waie not old, a treaſure in the heaue, that faileth not, where no theft approacheth, neither moth corrupteth.

34 For where your treaſure is, there will your heart be alſo.

35 * Let your loines be girded about, and your lights burning.

36 And yee your ſelves like vnto men that wait for their Lord, when hee will returne from the wedding, that when hee cometh and knocketh, they may open vnto him immediately.

37 Bleſſed are thoſe ſeruaunts, whom the Lord when he cometh ſhall finde watching: Verily I ſay vnto you, That hee ſhall giue him ſelfe, and make them to ſit downe to meat, and will come forth and ſerue them.

38 And if hee ſhall come in the ſecond watch, or come in the third watch, and find them ſo, bleſſed are thoſe ſeruaunts.

39 * And this know, that if the good man of the houſe had knowne what houre the theefe would come, hee would haue watched, and not haue ſuffered his houſe to be broken throu.

40 Be ye therefore ready alio: for the Sonne of man cometh at an houre, when ye thinke not.

41 ¶ Then Peter ſaid vnto him, Lord, ſpeak thou this parable vnto vs, or vnto all?

42 And the Lord ſaid, Who then is near faithfull and wife Steward, whom his Lord ſhall make ruler over his houſhold, to giue them that portion of meate in due ſeaſon?

43 Bleſſed is that ſeruant, whom his Lord when he cometh ſhall finde ſo doing.

44 Of a truth I ſay vnto you, that he will make him ruler over all that he hath.

45 But, and if that ſeruant ſay in his heart, My Lord delayeth his coming, and ſhall begin to beat the men-ſeruaunts, and maidens, and to eat and drinke, and to be drunken:

46 The Lord of that ſeruant will come in a day when hee looketh out for him, and at an houre when hee is not ware, and will cut him in ſunder, and will appoint him his portion with the vnhelievers.

47 And that ſeruant which knew his Lords will, and prepared not himſelfe, neither did according to his will, ſhall be beaten with many ſtripes.

48 But he that knew not, and did conſent things worthy of ſtripes, ſhall be beaten with few ſtripes. For vnto whomſoever much is given, of him ſhall be much required: and to whom men haue committed much, of him they will aſke the more.

49 ¶ I am come to ſend fire on the earth, and what will I, if it be already kindled?

50 But I haue a baptiſme to be baptized with, and how am I ſtraigned till it be accompliſhed?

51 * Suppoſe yee that I am come to giue peace on earth? I tell you, Nay, but rather diſcord.

52 For from henceforth there ſhall be five in one houſe diuided, three againſt two, and two againſt three.

53 The father ſhall be diuided againſt the ſonne, and the ſonne againſt the father: the mother againſt the daughter, and the daughter againſt the mother: the mother in law againſt her daughter in law, and the daughter in law againſt her mother in law.

54 ¶ And hee ſaid alſo to the people, * When ye ſay, There cometh a ſhowre, and ſo it is.

55 And when yee ſay, The South winde blow, yee ſay, There will be heat, and it cometh to paſſe.

56 Ye hypocrites, ye can diſſemble the face of the side, and of the earth: but how is it, that ye doe not discerne this time?

17 Yea, and why euen of your selues iudge ye not what is right?

18 ¶ When thou goest with thine adversary to the Magistrate, as thou art in the way, giue diligences else thou mayest bee deliuered from him, lest hee hale thee to the Iudge, and the Iudge deliuer thee to the officer, and the officer cast thee into prison.

19 I tell thee, Thou shalt not depart thence, till thou hast paid the very last mite.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Christ preacheth repentance vpon the punishment of the Galileans and others. 2 The fruitlesse figtree may not stand. 11 He healeth the crooked woman: 18 sheweth the powerfull working of the Word in the hearts of his disciples, by the parable of the graine of mustard seed, and of leaues: 24 exhorteth to enter in at the strait gate, 31 and reprooeth the Hieru and Hierusalem.

There were present at that season, some that told him of the Galileans: whose blood Pilate had mingled with their sacrifices.

2 And Iesus answering said vnto them, Suppose ye that these Galileans were sinners above all the Galileans, because they suffered such things?

3 I tell you, Nay: but except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perishe.

4 Or thoe eigheteene vpon whom the tower in Siloa fell, and they were smitten, thinke ye that they were sinners above all men that dwell in Hierusalem?

5 I tell you, Nay: but except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perishe.

6 ¶ Hee spake also this parable, A certaine man had a figtree planted in his vineyard, and hee came out to seeke fruit therein, and found none.

7 Then said he vnto the dresser of his vineyard, Behold, these thre yeres I come seeking fruit on this figtree, and finde none: cut it downe, why cumbereth it the ground?

8 And he answering, said vnto him, Lord, let it alone this yere also, till I shall dig about it, & dung it.

9 And if it beare fruit, well: and if not, then after that thou shalt cut it downe.

10 And hee was teaching as one of the Synagogues on the Sabbath.

11 ¶ And behold, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmity eigheteen yeres, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift vp her selfe.

12 And when Iesus saw her, he called her to him, and said vnto her, Woman, thou art loosed from thy infirmity.

13 And he laid his hands on her, and immediatly she was made straight, and glorified God.

14 And the ruler of the Synagoge answered with indignation, because that Iesus had healed on the Sabbath day, and said vnto the people,
There are sixe dayes in which man ought to worke; in them therefore come and bee healed, and not on the Sabbath day.

15 The Lord then answered him, and said, Thou hypocrite, doth not each one of you on the Sabbath loose his oxe or his asse from the stall, and leade him away to watering?

16 And ought not this woman, being a daughter of Abraham, whom Satan hath bound, loe these eigheteen yeres, be loosed from this bond on the Sabbath day?

17 And when he had said these things, all his adversaries were ashamed: and all the people reioy-ced for all the glorious things that were done by him.

18 ¶ Then said he, What is the Kingdome of God like? and wherunto shall I resemble it?

19 It is like a grain of mustard seed, which a man tooke and cast into his garden, and it grow and waxed a great tree: and the fowles of the aire lodged in the branches of it.

20 And againe he said, Wherunto shall I liken the Kingdome of God?

21 It is like leaues which a woman tooke and hid in three measures of meale, till the whole was leavened.

22 And he went throug the cities and villages, teaching, andourneying towards Hierusalem.

23 Then said one vnto him, Lord, are there few that be saved? And he said vnto them,

24 ¶ Striue to enter in at the strait gate: for many, I say vnto you, will seeke to enter in, and shall not be able.

25 When once the master of the house is risen vp, and hath shut to the doore, and ye begin to stand without, and to knocke at the doore, saying, Lord, Lord, open vnto vs, and hee shall answer and say vnto you, I know you not whence you are:

26 Then shall ye begin to say, we haue eaten and drunke in thy presence, and thou hast taught in our streets.

27 ¶ But hee shall say, I tell you, I know you not whence you are: depart from mee all ye weeklers of iniquity.

28 There shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth, when ye shall see Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, and all the Prophets in the Kingdome of God, and you your selues thrust out.

29 And they shall come from the East, and from the West, and from the North, and from the South, and shall sit downe in the Kingdome of God.

30 ¶ And behold, there are last, which shall bee first, and there are first, which shall bee last.

31 ¶ The same day there came certaines of the Pharisees, saying vnto him, Get thee out, and depart hence, for Herod will kill thee.

32 And he said vnto them, Go ye, and tell that Fox, behold, I cast out devils, and I doe cures to day and to morrow, & the third day I shall be perfected.

33 Neuertheless, I must walke to day, and tomorrow, and the day following: for it cometh he that a Prophet perishe out of Hierusalem.

34 O Hierusalem, Hierusalem, which killest the Prophets, and stoneest them that are sent vnto thee;
how often would I haue gathered thy children together, as a Henne doeth gather her brood vnder her wings, and ye would not?

35 Behold, your house is left vnto you desolate:
and verely I say vnto you, ye shall not see me vntill the time come when ye shall say, Blessed is he that commeth in the Name of the Lord.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Christ healeth the droopie on the Sabbath. 7 teacheth humilty: 12 To feed the poore: 15 under the parable of the great Supper, sheweth how worldly minded men who contemne the Word of God, shall be shut out of heauen. 23 Those who will be his Disciples, to beare their crosse, must make their accounts beforehand, lest with shame they reuote from him afterwards. 34 and become altogether unprofitable, like salt that hath lost his sauuor.

And it came to passe, as he went into the house of one of the chiefe Pharisees to eate bread on the Sabbath day, that they watched him.

2 And behold, there was a certaine man before him, which had the droopie.

7 And Jesus answering, spake unto the Lawyers and Pharisees, saying, Is it lawfull to heale on the Sabbath day?

8 And they held their peace. And hee took him, and healed him, and let him goe.

9 And answered them, saying, Which of you shall have an oxe or an ass fallen into a pit, and will not straightway pull him out on the Sabbath day?

10 And they could not answer him againe to these things.

11 And he put fourth a parable to those which were bidden, when he marked how they chose out the chiefe roomes saying unto them,

12 When thou art bidden of any man to a wedding, sit not down in the highest roome, lest a more honourable man than thou be bidden of him:

13 And he that bade thee and him, come and say to thee, Give this man place: and thou beginn with shame to take the lowest roome.

14 But when thou art bidden, goe and sit downe in the lowest roome, that when he that bade thee cometh, hee may say unto thee, Friend, goe vp higher: then shalt thou have worship in the presence of them that sit at meat with thee.

15 For whosoever exalteth himselfe shall be abased: and he that humbleth himselfe shall be exalted.

16 ¶ Then said he also to him that bade him, When thou makest a dinner, or a supper, call not thy friends, nor thy brethren, neither thy kinsmen, nor thy rich neighbours, lest they also bid thee againe: and a recompence be made thee.

17 But when thou makest a feast, call the poore, the maimed, the lame, the blinde.

18 And thou shalt be blessed, for they cannot recompense thee: for thou shalt be recompensed at the resurrection of the last.

19 ¶ And when one of them that sate at meat with him, heard these things, hee said unto him, Blessed is he that shall eat bread in the kingdome of God.

20 ¶ Then said, he unto him, A certaine man made a great supper, and bade many:

21 And sent his servant at supper time, to say to them that were bidden, Come, for all things are now ready.

22 And they all with one consent began to make excuse: The first said unto him, I have bought a piece of ground, and I must needs goe and see it: I pray thee haue me excused.

23 And another said, I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I goe to plow them: I pray thee haue me excused.

24 And another said, I have married a wife, and therefore I cannot come.

25 So that servant came, & shewed his lord these things. Then the master of the house being angry, said to his servant, Goe out quickly into the streets and lanes of the city, & bring in hither the poore, and the maimed, and the halt, and the blinde.

26 And the servant said, Lord, it is done as thou hast commanded, and yet there is roome.

27 And the Lord said unto the servant, Goe out into the high wayes and hedges, and compeell them to come in, that my house may be filled:

28 For I say unto you, that none of those men which were bidden, shall taste of my supper.

29 ¶ And there were great multitudes with him: and he tarried, and said unto them, 30 ¶ If any man come to me, and have not his father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and sisters, yet, and his owne life also, hee cannot be my Disciple.

31 And whosoever doeth not hate his wife, and come after me, cannot be my Disciple.

32 For which of you intending to build a tower, steech not down first, and compute the cost, whether he haue sufficient to finish it?

33 Lest haply after he hath laid the foundation, and is not able to finish it, all that behold it, begin to mocke him, 34 Saying, This man began to build, and was not able to finish.

35 Or what King going to make war against another King, sitteth not down first, and consulteth whether he be able with ten thousand, to meet an that cometh against him with twenty thousand?

36 Or else, while the other is yet a great way off, he sendeth an ambassage, and desireth conditions of peace.

37 So likewise, whosoever he be of you, that forsaketh not all that he hath, he cannot be my Disciple.

38 ¶ Salt is good, but if the salt have lost his savour, wherewith shall it be seasoned?

39 It is neither fit for the land, nor yet for the dunghill: but men cast it out. Hee that hath eares to heare, let him heare.

CHAP. XV.

1 The parable of the lost sheepe. 2 Of the piece of silver. 3 Of the prodigall sonne.

Then drew neere vnto him all the Publicanes and sinners for to heare him.

2 And the Pharisees & Scribes murmured, saying, This man receiveth sinners, and eateth with them.

3 And he spake this parable vnto them, saying,

4 ¶ What man of you having an hundred sheepe, if he lose one of them, doeth not leave the ninety and nine in the wilderness, and goe after that which is lost, until he finde it?

5 And when he hath found it, hee rejoiceth it on his shoulders, reioycing.

6 And when he cometh home, he calleth together his friends, and neighbours, saying vnto them, Reioyce with me, for I have found my sheepe which was lost.

7 I say vnto you, That likewise shall be in heauen: over one sinner that repenteth, more then over ninety and nine iust persons which need no repentance.

8 ¶ Either what woman having ten pieces of silver, if she lose one piece, doeth not light a candle, and sweep the house, and seeke diligently, until shee finde it?

9 And when shee hath found it, shee calleth her friends & her neighbours together, saying, Reioyce with me, for I have found a piece which I had lost.

10 Likewise I say vnto you, there is ioy in the presence of the Angels of God, over one sinner that repenteth.

11 ¶ And he said, A certaine man had two sons:

12 And the younger of them said to his father, Father, give me the portion of goods that falleth to me. And hee divided vnto them his living.

13 And not many dayes after, the younger sonne gathered all together, and tooke his journey into a farre country, and there wasted his substance with riotous living.

14 And when he had spent all, there arose a mighty famine in that land, and hee began to be in want.

15 And he went, and ioynd himselfe to a citizen of that country, and he sent him into his fields to feed swine.

16 And he would faine haue filled his belly with the huskes that the swine did eate: and no man gaue vnto him.

17 And when he came to himselfe, he said, How may I hire seruants of my fathers house bread enough, and to spare, and I perillis with anger?

18 I will arise, and goe to my Father, and will say vnto him, Father, I haue sinned against heauen, and before thee.

19 And am no more worthy to be called thy sonne: make me as one of thy hired seruants.

20 And he arose, and came to his father. But when he was yet a great way off, his father saw him, and had compassion, and ran, and fell on his necke, and kissed him.

21 And the sonne said vnto him, Father, I haue sinned against heauen, and in thy sight, and am no more worthy to be called thy sonne.

22 But the father said to his seruants, Bring forth the best robe, and put it on him, and put a ring on his hand, and shooes on his feet.

23 And brought him the fatted calfe, and kill it, and let vs eate and be merry.

24 For this my sonne was dead, and is aliue againe, he was lost, and is found. And they began to be merry.

25 Now his elder sonne was in the field, and as he came and drew nigh to the house, he heard musique, and dancing.

26 And he called one of the seruants, and asked what these things meant.

27 And hee said vnto him, Thy brother is come, and thy father hath killed the fatted calfe, because he hath received him safe and sound.

28 And hee was angry, and would not goe in: therefore came his father out, and intreated him.

29 And hee answered, and said to his father, Loe, these many yeeres doe I serue thee, neither transgressed I at any time thy commandment, and yet thou neuer ghest me a kid, that I might make merry with my friends?

30 But answer as this thy son was come, which hath deuoured thy living with harlots, thou hast killed for him the fatted calfe.

31 And he said vnto him, Sonne, thou art ever with mee, and all that I haue is thine.

32 It was meet that we should make merry, and be glad: for this thy brother was dead, and is aliue againe: and was lost, and is found.

CHAP. XVI.

1 The parable of the vniust Steward. 2 Christ reproveh the hypocrite of the covetous Pharisee.

3 The rich glutton and Lazarus the begger.

And he said also vnto his Disciples, There was a certaine rich man which had a steward, and the same was accused vnto him that he had wasted his goods.

2 And he called him, and said vnto him, How is it that I heare this of thee? Give an account of thy Stewardship: for thou mayest be no longer Steward.

3 Then the Steward said within himselfe, What shall I doe: for my lord taketh away from me the Stewardship? I cannot dig, nor beg I am ashamed.

4 I am resolved what to doe, that when I am put out of the Stewardship, they may receive mee into their houses.

5 So hee called every one of his lords debtors vnto him, and said vnto the first, How much owest thou vnto my lord?

6 And he said, An hundred measures of oyle. And he said vnto him, Take thy bill, and sit downe quickly, and write fifty.

7 Then said he to another, And how much owest thou? And he said, An hundred measures of wheat. And he said vnto him, Take thy bill, and write fourscore.

8 And the lord commended the vniust Steward, because he had done wisely: for the children of this world are in their generation wiser then the children of light.

9 And I say vnto you, Make to your selues friends of the Mammon of vnrightheousnesse, that when yee faile, they may receive you into everlasting habitations.

10 Hee that is faithfull in that which is least, is faithfull also in much: and he that is vniust in the least, is vniust also in much.

11 If therefore yee haue not become faithfull in the vnrightheous Mammon, who will committe to you that which is true riches?

12 And if yee haue not become faithfull in that which is another mans, who shall giue you that which is your owne?

13 No seruant can serue two masters, for either he will hate the one, and love the other, or else hee will hold to the one, and despise the other: ye cannot serue God and Mammon.

14 And the Pharisees also who were covetous, heard all these things, and they derided him.

15 And hee said vnto them, Ye are they which iustifie your selues before men, but God knoweth your hearts: for that which is highly esteemed amongst men, is a'omination in the sight of God.

16 The Law and the Prophets were vntill Iohannes: since that time the kingdom of God is preached, and every man presseth into it.

17 And it is easier for heauen and earth to passe, then one tittle of the Law to faile.

18 Whosoever putteth away his wife, and marrieth another, committeth adultery: and whosoever marrieth her that is put away from her husband, committeth adultery.

19 There was a certaine rich man, which was clothed in purple and fine linnen, and fared sumptuously euery day.

20 And there was a certaine begger, named Lazarus, which was laid at his gate full of sores, 21 And desiring to bee fed with the crums which fell from the rich mans table: moreover the dogs came and licked his sores.

22 And it came to passe that the begger died, and was carried by the Angels into Abrahams bosome: the rich man also died, and was buried.

23 And in hell he lift vp his eyes, being in torment, and seeth Abraham afarre off, and Lazarus in his bosome:

24 And he cryed, and said, Father Abraham haue mercy on mee, and send Lazarus that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and coole my tongue: for I am tormented in this flame.

25 But Abraham said, Sonne, Remember that thou in thy life time receiwest thy good things, and likewise Lazarus euill things, but now hee is comforted, and thou art tormented.

26 And besides all this, betwene vs and you there is a great gulfe fixed, so that they which would passe from hence to you, cannot, neither can they passe to vs, that would come from thence.

27 Then he said, I pray thee therefore father, that thou wouldest send him to my fathers house:

28 For I haue five brethren, he may testifie vnto them, lest they also come into this place of torment.

29 Abraham saith vnto him: They haue Moses and the Prophets, let them heare them.

30 And he said, Nay, father Abraham: but if one were ses and the Prophets, neither will they be per-

CHAP. XVII.

1 Christ teacheth to avoid occasions of offence. 2
One to forswear another. 6 The power of faith. 7
How we are bound to God, and not to man. 11 He healeth ten Lepers. 22 Of the kingdome of God, and the coming of the Sonne of man.

1 Then said he vnto the disciples, It is impossible but that offences will come, but woe is it him through whom they come.

2 It were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his necke, and hee cast into the Sea, then that he should offend one of these little ones.

3 Take heed to your selves: If thy brother trespasse against thee, rebuke him, and if hee repent, forgive him.

4 And if hee trespass against thee seuen times in a day, and seuen times in a day turne againe to thee, saying, I repent, thou shalt forgive him.

5 And the Apostles said vnto the Lord, Increase our faith.

6 And the Lord said, If ye had faith as a graine of mustard seed, ye might say vnto this Sycamore tree, Be thou plucked vp by the root, and be thou planted in the Sea, and it should obey you.

7 But which of you hauing a seruant plowing, or feeding cattell, will say vnto him by and by, when he is come from the field, Go and sit downe to meat?

8 And will not rather say vnto him, Make ready wherewith I may sup, and gird thy selfe, and serue me, till I haue eaten and drunken, and afterward thou shalt eat and drink.

9 Doubt hee thanketh that seruant, because hee did the things that were commanded him? I trow not.

10 So likewise ye, when ye shall haue done all these things which are commanded you, say,
We are vnprofitable seruants; we haue done that which was our duty to doe.

11 And it came to passe, as he went to Hieru-salem, that hee passed thorow the midd of Samaria and Galilee.

12 And as hee entred into a certaine village, there met him ten men that were Lepers, which stood abreast off.

13 And they lifted vp their voices, and said, Jesus, Master, haue mercy on vs.

14 And when hee saw them, hee said vnto them, Go shew your selues vnto the Priests. And it came to passe, as they went, they were cleaned.

15 And one of them when hee saw that hee was healed, turned backe, and with a loud voice glorified God.

16 And fell down on his face at his feet, giuing him thanks; and hee was a Samaritan.

17 And Iesus answering, said, Were there not ten cleaned? but where are the nine?

18 There are not found that returned to giue glory to God, save this stranger.

19 And hee said vnto him, Arise, goe thy way, thy faith hath made thee whole.

20 And when hee was demanded of the Piaries, when the kingdome of God should come, hee answered them, and said, The kingdome of God cometh not with observation.

21 Neither shall they say, See here, or see there:
for behold, the kingdome of God is within you.

22 And hee said vnto the Disciples, The dayes will come, when ye shall desire to see one of the dayes of the Sonne of man, and ye shall not see it.

23 And they the say to you, See here, or see there:
goe not after them, nor follow them.

24 For as the lightning that lighteth out of the one part vnder heauen, shined vnto the other part vnder heauen: so shall also the Sonne of man be in his day.

25 But first must hee suffer many things, and be reieced of this generation.

26 And as it was in the dayes of Noe: so shall it be also in the dayes of the Sonne of man.

27 They did eate, they dranke, they married wives, they were giuen in marriage, vntill the day that Noe entred into the Arke, and the flood came and destroyed them all.

28 Likewise also as it was in the dayes of Lot, they did eate, they dranke, they bought, they sold,
they planted, they builded:

29 But the same day that Lot went out of Sodom, it rained fire and brimstone from heauen,
and destroyed them all:

30 Even thus shall it be in the day when the Son of man is reueiled.

31 In that day he which shall be vpon the moue top, and his stuffe in the house, let him not come downe to take it away: and hee that is in the field, let him likewise not returne backe.

32 Remember Lot's wife.

33 Whosoever shall take to him selfe his life, shall lose it, and whosoever shall lose his life, shall preserve it.

34 Itell you in that night there shall be two men in one bed, the one shall be taken, the other shall be left.

35 Two women shall be grinding together, the one shall be taken, and the other left.

36 Two men shall be in the field; the one shall be taken, and the other left.

37 And they answered and said vnto him,
Where, Lord? and hee said vnto them, Where-soeuer the body is, thither will the Eagles be gathered together.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 Of the vnprofitable widow. 2 Of the Pharisee, and the Publicane. 3 Children brought to Christ.

23 A ruler that would follow Christ, but is hindered by his riches. 28 The reward of them that leave all for his sake. 31 Hee foretelleth his death, 35 and restoreth a blind man to his sight.

And hee spake a parable vnto them, to this end, that men ought always to pray, and not to faint.

1 Saying, There was in a city a Iudge, which feared not God, neither regarded man.

2 And there was a widow in that city, and she came vnto him, saying, Avenge me of mine aduersary.

3 And hee would not for a while. But afterward hee said within himselfe, Though I feare not God, nor regard man,

4 Yet because this widow troubled me, I will avenge her, lest by her continual coming she weary me.

5 And the Lord said, Heare what the vnjust
Iudge saith.

6 And shall not God avenge his owne Eleck-tion, which cry day and night vnto him, though he beare long with them?

7 I tell you that hee will avenge them speedily.

Nevertheless, when the Sonne of man sitteth, shall he find faith on the earth?

9 And he spake this parable vnto certaine which walked in thereluctancy that they were righteous, and despised othe:

10 Two men went vp into the Temple, to praye the one a Pharisee and the other a Publican.

11 The Pharisee said I fast twice in the weeke, I giue tithes of all that I possesse.

12 I fast twice in the weeke, I giue tithes of all that I possesse.

13 And the Publicane standing a farre off, would not lift vp so much as his eyes vnto heauen: but smote vpon his breast, saying, God be mercifull to me a sinner.

14 I tell you this man went downe to his house inflated rather then the other: For every one that exalteth himselfe, shall be abased: and he that humbleth himselfe, shall be exalted.

15 And they brought vnto him also iaius: that he would touch thom: but when his Disciples saw it, they rebuked them.

16 But Iesus called them vnto him, and said, Suffer little children to come vnto me, and forbid them not: For of such is the Kingdome of God.

17 Verely I say vnto you, Whosoever shall not receiue the Kingdome of God as a little child, shall in no wise enter therein.

18 And a certaine Ruler asked him, saying, Good master, what shall I doe to inherite eternall life?

19 And Iesus said vnto him, Why callest thou me good? none is good but one, that is God.

20 Thou knowest the commandements, Doe not commit adultery, Doe not kill, Doe not Reale, Doe not beare false witness, Honour thy father and thy mother.

21 And he said, all these haue I kept from my yooch vp.

22 Now when Iesus heard these things, he said vnto him, Yet lackest thou one thing: Sell all that thou hast, and distribute vnto the poore, and thow shalt haue treasure in heauen, & come follow me.

23 And when he heard this, he was very sorrowfull, for he was very rich.

24 And when Iesus saw that he was very sorrowfull, he said, How hardly shall they that haue riches, enter into the Kingdome of God?

25 For it is easier for a camell to goe throu a needles eye, then for a rich man to enter into the Kingdome of God.

26 And they that heard it, said, Who then can be saved?

27 And he said, the things which are impossible with men, are possible with God.

28 Then Pharisee said, Lo, we haue left all and followed thee.

29 And he said vnto them, Verely, I say vnto you, There is no man that hath left house, or parents, or brethren, or wife, or children, for the Kingdome of Gods sake, 30 Who shall not receiue manifold more in this present time, and in the world to come life everlasting.

31 ¶ Then he tooke vnto him the twelue, and said vnto them, Behold, we goe vp to Hierusalem, and all things that are written by the Prophets concerning the Sonne of man, shall be accomplished.

32 For he shall be deliuered vnto the Gentiles, and shall be mocked, and spitefully iustressed, and spured on.

33 And they shall scourge him, and put him to death, and the third day he shall rise againe.

34 And they vnderstood none of these things, and this saying was hid from them, neither knew they the things which were spoken.

35 ¶ And it came to passe, that as he was come neere vnto Iericho, a certaine blind man sat by the way side begging.

36 And hearing the multitude passe by, he asked what he meant.

37 And they told him that Iesus of Nazareth passed by.

38 And he cryed, saying, Iesus thou Sonne of Dauid, haue mercy on me.

39 And they which went before, rebuked him, that he should hold his peace: but he cried so much the more, Thou Sonne of Dauid, haue mercy on mee.

40 And Iesus stood, and commaunded him to be brought vnto him: and when he was come neere, he asked him, 41 Saying, What wilt thou that I shall doe vnto thee? And he said, Lord, that I may receiue my sight.

42 And Iesus said vnto him, Receiue thy sight: thy faith hath saued thee.

43 And immediately hee receiued his sight, and followed Iesus, glorifying God: and all the people when they saw it, gave praise vnto God.

CHAP. XIX.

1 Of Zacharias a Publican. 21 Was ten pieces of money. 28 Iesus rieth into Hierusalem with triumph: 41 Weepeth ouer it: 45 Drincketh the buyers and sellers out of the Temple: 47 Teaching diligently. The rulers would haue destroyed him, but for feare of the people.

And Iesus entered and passed through Iericho. 2 And behold, there was a man, named Zacharias, which was the chief among the Publicanes, and he was rich.

3 And he sought to see Iesus, who he was, but could not for the press, because he was little of stature.

4 And hee ranne before, and climbed vp vnto a Sycamore tree to see him, for hee was to passe that way.

5 And when Iesus came to the place, he looked vp and saw him, and said vnto him, Zacharias, make haste, and come downe, for thou shalt abide at thy house.

6 And he made haste, and came downe, and receiued him ioyfully.

7 And when they saw it, they all murmured, saying, That he was gone be a guest with a man that is a sinner.

8 And Zacharias stood, and said vnto the Lord, Behold, Lord, the halfe of my goods I giue to the poore, and if I haue taken any thing from any man by false accusation, I restore him foure fold.

9 And Iesus said vnto him, This day is salvation come vnto this house, for so much as he also is the foune of Abraham.

10 ¶ For the foune of man is come to seek and to saue that which was lost.

11 And as they heard these things, he added, and spake a parable, because he was neere of Hierusalem, and because they thought that the Kingdome of God should immediately appeare.

12 ¶ Hee had therefore, a certaine noble man went into a farre country, to receiue for himselfe a Kingdome, and to returne.

13 And he called his ten servants, and delivered them ten pounds, and said unto them. Occupy till I come.

14 But his citizens hated him, and sent a message after him, saying, We will not have thee to reign over us.

15 And it came to passe, that when he was returned, having received the kingdom, then he commanded these servants to be called unto him, to whom he had given the money, that he might know how much every man had gained by trading.

16 Then came the first, saying, Lord, thy pound hath gained ten pounds.

17 And he said unto him, Well, thou good servant: because thou hast bene faithful in a very little, have thou authority over ten cities.

18 And the second came, saying, Lord, thy pound hath gained five pounds.

19 And he said likewise to him, Be thou also over five cities.

20 And another came, saying, Lord, Behold, here is thy pound, which I have kept laid up in a napkin:

21 For I feared thee, because thou art an austere man: thou takest up that thou laydest not downe, and reapest that thou didst not sow.

22 And hee saith unto him, Out of thine owne mouth wilt I judge thee, thou wicked servant: thou knowest that I was an austere man, taking up that I laid not downe, and reaping that I did not sow.

23 Wherefore then ganest thou my money into the banke, that at my coming I might have required mine owne with usury?

24 And he said unto them that stood by, Take from him the pound, and give it to him that hath ten pounds.

25 And they said unto him, Lord, hee hath ten pounds.

26 For I say unto you, That unto every one which hath, shall be given, and from him that hath not, even that he hath shall be taken away from him.

27 But those mine enemies which would not that I should reigne over them, bring hither, and slay them before me.

28 ¶ And when he had thus spoken, he went before ascending up to Hierusalem.

29 ¶ And it came to passe, when he was come nigh to Bethphage and Bethany, at the mount called the mount of Olives, he sent two of his disciples, 30 Saying, Go ye into the village over against you, in the which at your entering ye shall finde a colt tied, whereon yet never man sat: looke him, and bring him hither.

31 And if any man aske you, why do ye looke him? Thus shall ye say unto him, Because the Lord hath need of him.

32 And they that were sent went their way, and found even as he had said unto them.

33 And as they were loosing the colt, the owner thereof said unto them, Why looke ye thus colt?

34 And they said, The Lord hath need of him.

35 And they brought him to Iesus: and they cast their garments upon the colt, and they set Iesus thereon.

36 And as he went, they spread their clothes in the way.

37 And when he was come nigh, even now at the mount of the mount of Olives, the whole multitude of the Disciples began to rejoyce and praise God with a loud voice, for all the mighty workes that they had seene.

38 Saying, Blessed be that king that cometh in the Name of the Lord, peace in heaven, and glory in the Highheaven.

39 And some of the Pharisees from among the multitude said unto him, Master, rebuke thy Disciples.

40 And he answered, and said unto them, I tell you, that if these should hold their peace, the stones would immediately crie out.

41 ¶ And when he was come over, he beheld the city and wept over it.

42 Saying, If thou hadst knowne even thou at least in this thy day, the things which belong unto thy peace! but now they are hid from thine eyes.

43 For the dayes shall come upon thee, that thine enemies shall cast a trench about thee, and compass thee round, and keepe thee in on every side.

44 And shall lay thee even with the ground, and thy children within thee: and they shall not leave in thee one stone upon another, because thou knowest not the time of thy visitation.

45 ¶ And he went into the Temple, and began to cast out them that sold therein, and them that bought.

46 Saying unto them, It is written, My house is the house of prayer: but ye have made it a den of thieves.

47 And he taught daily in the Temple, but the chief Priests, and the Scribes, and the chief of the people sought to destroy him.

48 And could not find what they might doe: for all the people were very attentive to heare him.

CHAP. XX.

1 Christ announcech his authority by a question of Johns baptisme. 2 The parable of the vineyard. 3 Of giving tribute to Cesar. 4 Hee condemnech the Sadduces that denied the resurrection. 5 How Christ is the Sonne of David. 6 Hee warneth his Disciples to beware of the scribes.

And it came to passe, that on one of those dayes, as he taught the people in the Temple, and preach the Gospel, the chief Priests, and the Scribes came upon him, with the Elders.

1 And spake unto him, saying, Tell vs by what authority doest thou these things? or who is he that gave thee this authority?

2 And hee answered, and said unto them, I will also aske you one thing, and answer me.

3 The baptisme of Iohn, was it from heaven, or of men?

4 And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven, he will say, Why then beleeved ye him not?

5 But, and if we say, Of men, all the people will stone us: for they be persuaded that Iohn was a Prophet.

6 And they answered, that they could not tell whence it was.

7 And Iesus said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I doe these things.

8 Then began he to speake to the people this parable: A certaine man planted a vineyard, and let it forth to husbandmen, and went into a strange country for a long time.

9 And at the season he sent a servant to the Husbandmen, that they should give him of the fruit of the vineyard: but the husbandmen beat him, and sent him away empty.

10 And againe he sent another servant, and they beat him also, and increased him shamefully, and sent him away empty.

11 And againe he sent another servant, and they beat him also, and increased him shamefully, and sent him away empty.

¶ Mine there transferred a pounde twelve ounces & an halfe, which according to five sesteres the ounce is thre pounds two shillings six pence.

¶ Math. 13. 12.

¶ Math. 11. 8.

11 And againe he saith the third, and they wounded him all, and cast him out.

12 Then said the Lord of the vineyard, What shall I doe? I will send my beloved sonne: it may be they will reuerence him when they see him.

13 But when the husbandmen saw him, they reasoned among themselves, saying, This is the heire, come let vs kill him, that the inheritance may be ours.

14 So they cast him out of the vineyard, and killed him. What therefore shall the lord of the vineyard doe vnto them?

15 He shall come and destroy these husbandmen, and shall giue the vineyard to others. And when they heard it, they said, God forbid.

16 And he belied them, and said, What is this then that is written, The stone which the builders reiected, the same is become the head of the corner?

17 Who soeuer shall fall vpon that stone, shall be broken: but on whomsoeuer it shall fall, it will grinde him to powder.

18 ¶ And the chief Priests and the Scribes, the same houre sought to lay hands on him, and they feared the people: for they perceived that he had spoken this parable against them.

19 And they watched him, and sent forth spies, which should faile thimelicus iust men, that they might take hold of his words, that so they might deliuer him vnto the power and authority of the gouernour.

20 And they beset him, saying, Master we know that thou sayest and teachest rightly, neither acceptest thou the person of any, but teachest the way of God truly.

21 Is it lawful for vs to giue tribute vnto Cesar, or no?

22 But he perceived their craftinesse, and said vnto them, Why tempt ye me?

23 Shew me a penny: whose image and superscription hath it? They answered and said, Cæsars.

24 And he said vnto them, Render the riore vnto Cesar, the things which be Cæsars, and vnto God the things which be Gods.

25 And they could not take hold of his words before the people, and they marvelled at his answer, and held their peace.

26 ¶ Then came to him certaine of the Sadducees (which deny that there is any resurrection) and they asked him, 27 Saying, Master, Moses wrote vnto vs, If any mans brother die hauing a wife, and he die without children, that his brother should take his wife, and raise vp iered vnto his brother.

28 There were therefore seuen brethren, and the first tooke a wife, and died without children.

29 And the second tooke her to wife, and he died childlesse.

30 And the third tooke her, and in like maner the seuen also. And they left no children and died.

31 Last of all the woman died also.

32 Therefore in the resurrection, whose wife of them is she? for seuen had her to wife.

33 And Iesus answering said vnto them, The children of this world marry, and are giuen in marriage:

34 But they which shall be accounted worthy to obtaine that world, and the resurrection from the dead, neither marry, nor are giuen in marriage.

35 Neither can they die any more: for they are equall vnto the Angels, and are the children of God, being the children of the resurrection.

27 Now that the dead are raised, as euen Moses shewed at the bush, when he called the Lord, the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Iacob.

28 For he is not a God of the dead, but of the liuing: for all liue vnto him.

29 ¶ Then certaine of the Scribes answering, said, Master, thou hast well said.

30 And after that, they durst not aske him any question at all.

31 And he said vnto them, How say they that Christ is Dauids sonne?

32 And Dauid himselfe saith in the booke of Psalms, The Lord said to my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand.

33 Till I make thine enemies thy footstool.

34 Dauid therefore calleth him Lord, How is he then his sonne?

35 ¶ Then in the audience of all the people, he said vnto his Disciples,

36 Beware of the Scribes, which desire to walke in long robes, and lone greetings in the markets, and the highest seats in the Synagogues, and the chiefes roomes at feasts:

37 Which deuoure widowers houses, and for a shew make long prayers: the same shall receive greater damnation.

CHAP. XXII.

1 Christ commendeth the poore widow. 2 Hee foretelleth the destruction of the Temple, and of the city Hierusalem: 3 The signes also which shall be before the last day. 34 Hee reburied them to be watchful.

1 And he looked vp, and saw the rich men casting their gifts into the treasury.

2 And he saw also a certaine poore widow, casting in thither two) mites.

3 And he said, Of a truth I say vnto you, that this poore widow hath cast in more then they all.

4 For all these haue of their abundance cast in vnto the offerings of God, but shee of her penny hath cast in all the liuing that she had.

5 ¶ And so soone spake of the Temple, how it was adorned with goodly stones and gifts, hee said,

6 As for these things which ye behold, the dayes will come, in the which there shall not be left one stone vpon another, that shall not be throwne downe.

7 And they asked him, saying, Master, but when shall these things be? and what signe will there be, when these things shall come to passe?

8 And he said, Take heed that ye be not deceaued: for many shall come in my Name, saying, I am Christ, and the time draweth nere: goe ye not therefore after them.

9 But when ye shall heare of wars and commotions, be not terrified: for these things must first come to passe, but the end is not by and by.

10 ¶ Then said he vnto them, Nation shall rise against Nation, and Kingdome against Kingdome:

11 And great earthquakes shall be in diuers places, and famines, and pestilences: and sorefull fights, and great signes shall these be from heauen.

12 But before all these, they shall lay their hands on you, and persecute you, deliuiuing you vp to the Synagogues, and into prisons, being brought before Kings and Rulers for my Names sake.

13 And it shall turne to you for a testimony.

14 ¶ Soeile it therefore in your hearts, not to meddles before what ye shall answer.

14 For I will give birth to man, and wisdom which all your admiraries shall not be able to guess, nor resist.

15 And ye shall be betrayed both by parents and brethren, and kindred, and friends, and some of you shall they cause to be put to death.

16 And ye shall be hated of all men for my Names sake.

17 But there shall not a haire of your head perish.

18 In your patience possesse ye your soules.

19 And when ye shall see Hierusalem compassed with armies, then know that the desolation thereof is nigh.

20 Then let them that are in Iudea, flee to the mountaines, and let them which are in the midst of it, depart out, and let not them that are in the country, enter thereinto.

21 For these be the dayes of vengeance, that all things which are written, may be fulfilled.

22 But woe vnto them that are with child, and to them that give sucke in those dayes, for there shall be great distresse in the land, and wrath vpon this people.

23 And they shall fall by the edge of the sword, and shall be led away captiue into all nations, and Hierusalem shall be troden downe of the Gentiles vntill the times of the Gentiles be fulfilled.

24 ¶ And there shall be signes in the Sun, and in the Moone, and in the Starres, and vpon the earth distresse of nations, with perplexity, the Sea, and the waves roaring, 25 Men hearts failing them for feare, and for looking after those things which are coming on the earth: for the powers of heauen shall be shaken.

26 And then shall they see the Son of man coming in a cloud, with power and great glory.

27 And when these things begin to come to passe, then looke vp and lift vp your heads, for your redemption draweth nigh.

28 And he spake to them a parable, Behold, the figge, and all the trees, 29 When they now shoot forth, ye see and know of your owne selues, that Summer is now nigh at hand.

30 So likewise ye, when ye see these things come to passe, know ye that the Kingdome of God is nigh at hand.

31 Verely I say vnto you, This generation shall not passe away, till all be fulfilled.

32 Heauen and earth shall passe away, but my words shall not passe away.

33 ¶ And take heede to your selues, lest at any time your hearts be overcharged with surfiting and drunkennes, and cares of this life, and so that day come vpon you vnawares.

34 For as a thure shall it come on all them that dwell on the face of the whole earth.

35 Watch ye therefore, and pray alwayes, that ye may be accounted worthy to escape all these things that shall come to passe, and to stand before the Son of man.

36 And in the day time he was teaching in the Temple, and at night he went out, and abode in the Mount that is called the mount of Oliues.

37 And all the people came early in the morning to him in the Temple, for to heare him.

CHAPTER XXII.

1 The Iewes conspire against Christ. 3 Satans tempteth Iudas to betray him. 7 The Apostles prepare the Pasche. 19 Christ institutes his last supper, 21 Christ is betrayed of the traytor, 24 betrayeth the rest of his Apostles from another, 27 offereth Peter his faith should last for ever, 29 and yet he should denie him thrice. 31 He prayeth to the ffather, and sweareth blood. 42 is betrayed with a kysse. 50 He heareth Malchus crye, 54 he is thrice drawed of Peter, 62 fastidiously abused, 66 and confesseth himselfe to be the Son of God.

¶ On the feast of vnleuened bread there night which is called the Pasche.

1 And the chief Priests and Scribes sought how they might kill him; for they feared the people.

2 ¶ Then caued Satas into Iudas, the named Iscariote, being of the number of the twelue.

3 And he went his way, and communed with the chief Priests and captaines, how he might betray him vnto them.

4 And they were glad, and consented to giue him money.

5 And he promised, and sought opportunity to betray him vnto them in the absence of the multitude.

6 ¶ Then came the day of vnleuened bread, when the Pasche must be killed.

7 And he sent Peter and Iohn, saying, Goe and prepare vs the Pasche, that we may eat.

8 And they said vnto him; Where wilt thou that we prepare?

9 And he said vnto them, Behold, when ye are entered into the city, there shall a man meet you bearing a pitcher of water, follow him into the house where he entereth in.

10 And ye shall say to the good man of the house, The Master biddeth us that we may eat the Pasche with my Disciples.

11 And he shall shew you a large upper room furnished: there make ready.

12 And they went and found as he had said vnto them, and they made ready the Pasche.

13 ¶ And when the houre was come, he sat downe, and the twelue Apostles with him.

14 And he said vnto them, With desire I haue desired to eat this Pasche with you before I suffer.

15 For I say vnto you, I will not any more eat thereof, vntill it be fulfilled in the Kingdome of God.

16 And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and said, Take this, and diuide it among your selues:

17 For I say vnto you, I will not drinke of the fruit of the vine, vntill the Kingdome of God shall come.

18 ¶ And he took bread, and gave thanks, and brake it, and gave vnto them, saying, This is my body which is giuen for you, this doe in remembrance of me.

19 Likewise also the cup after Supper, saying, This cup is the New Testament in my blood, which is shed for you.

20 ¶ But behold, the hand of him that betrayeth me, is with me on the table.

21 And truly the Sonne of man goeth as it was determined, but woe vnto that man by whom he is betrayed.

22 And they began to enquire among themselues, which of them it was that should doe this thing.

23 ¶ And there was also a strife among them, which of them should be accounted the greatest.

24 ¶ And he said vnto them, The Kings of the Gentiles exercise lordship ouer them, and they that exercise authority vpon them, are called Benefactors:

23:29

26 But ye shall not be so: but he that is greater among you, let him be as the younger, and hee that is chiefe, as he that doth serue.

27 For whether is greater, hee that sitteth at meat, or he that serueth? is not he that sitteth at meat? but I am among you as he that serueth.

28 Ye are they which haue continued with me in my temptation.

29 And I appoynt vnto you a kingdome, as my Father hath appoynted vnto me, 30 That ye may eat and drinke at my table in my kingdome, * and sit on thrones iudging the twelue tribes of Israel.

31 ¶ And the Lord said, Simou, Simou, behold, * Saen hath desired to haue you, that he may sit you as wheat:

32 But I haue prayed for thee, that thy faith faile not: and when thou art converted, strengthen thy brethren.

33 And he said vnto him, Lord, I am ready, to goe with thee, both into prison, and to death.

34 ¶ And he said, I reit thee Peter, the cockes shall not crow this day, before that thou shalt thrise deny that thou knowest me.

35 ¶ And he said vnto them, When I sent you without purse, and scrip, and shoes, lacked ye any thing? and they said, nothing.

36 Then said hee vnto them, but now hee that hath a purse, let him take it, and likewise his scrip, and he that hath no sword, let him sell his garment and buy one.

37 For I say vnto you, hee that hath this that is written must yet be accomplished in me: * And hee was reckoned among the transgressours: For the things concerning me haue an end.

38 And they said, Lord, behold, here are two swords. And he said vnto them, It is enough.

39 ¶ And he came out, and went as hee was wont, to the mount of Olives, and his Disciples also followed him.

40 ¶ And when hee was at the place, he said vnto them, Pray, that ye enter not into temptation.

41 And hee was withdrawne from them about a stones cast, and kneeled downe and prayed, 42 Saying, Father, if thou bewilling, remooue this cup from me: neuertheless, not my will, but thine be done.

43 And there appeared an Angel vnto him from heauen, strengthening him.

44 And being in an agony, hee prayed more earnestly, and his sweat was as it were great drops of blood falling downe to the ground.

45 And when hee rose vp from prayer, and was come to his Disciples, hee found them sleeping for sorrow, 46 And said vnto him, Why sleepe ye? Rise and pray, lest ye enter into temptation.

47 ¶ And while hee yet spake, * behold, a multitude, and hee that was called Iudas, one of the twelve, went before them, and drew nere vnto Iesus, to kisse him.

48 But Iesus said vnto him, Iudas betrayest thou the Sonne of man with a kisse?

49 When they which were about him, saw what would follow, they said vnto him, Lord, shall wee smite with the sword?

50 ¶ And one of them smote the servant of the high Priest, and cut off his right eare.

51 And Iesus answered and said, Suffice ye thus farre, and hee touched his eare, and healed him.

52 Then Iesus said vnto the chiefe Priests and Captaines of the Temple, and the Elders which were come to him, Beh, ye couste our assemblie a thiefe, with swaer and stanes?

53 When I was dayly with you in the Temple, ye stretched forth no hands against me: but this is your hour, and the power of darkness.

54 ¶ Thenooke they him, and led him, and ^{Math.} brought him into the high Priests house, and Peter ^{26. 67.} followed a faire off.

55 ¶ And when they had kindled a fire in the ^{26. 68.} middle of the hall, and were set downe together, Peter satte downe among them.

56 But a certaine maid beheld him as hee sat by the fire, and earnestly looked vpon him, and said, This man was alio with him.

57 And hee denyed him, saying, Woman, I knowe him not.

58 And after a little while, another saw him, and said, Thou art also of them. And Peter said, Man, I am not.

59 And about the space of one houre after, another confidently affirmed, saying, Of a truth this fellowe also was with him: for he is a Galilean.

60 And Peter said, Man, I knowe not what thou sayest. And immediately while hee yet spake, the cocke crow.

61 And the Lord turned & looked vpon Peter: and Peter remembered the word of the Lord, how he had said vnto him, Before the cocke crow, thou shalt deny me thrise.

62 And Peter went out and wept bitterly.

63 ¶ And the men that held Iesus, mocked him, and smote him.

64 And when they had blinded him, they strooke him on the face, and asked him, saying, Prophesie, who is it that smote thee?

65 And many other things blaiphemously spake they against him.

66 ¶ And as soone as it was day, the Elders of ^{Math.} the people, and the chiefe Priests, and the Scribes, ^{21. 14.} came together, and led him into their Counsell, iudging.

67 Art thou the Christ? Tc: vs. And hee dyed vnto them, if I tell you, you will not beleoue.

68 And if I also aske you, you will not answer me, nor tell me goe.

69 Hereafter shall the Sonne of man sit on the right hand of the power of God.

70 Then sayd they all, Art thou then the Son of God? And he said vnto them, * Ye say that I am. ^{Math.}

71 And they said, What need wee any further witness? For wee our selues haue heard of his owne mouth.

CHAP. XXII.

1 Iesus is accused before Pilate, and sent to Herod. 8 Herod mocketh him. 12 Herod and Pilate are made friends. 18 Barabbas is desired of the people, and is loosed by Pilate, and Iesus is ginen to be crucified. 27 Hee is with the women that lament him, the destruction of Hierusalem: 34 prayeth for his enemies. 39 Two small doers are crucified with him, 46 His death, 50 His buriale.

And the whole multitude of them arose, and led him vnto Pilate.

2 And they began to accuse him, saying, wee found this fellowe perverting the nation, and stirring bidding to giue tribute to Celsar, saying, that he himselfe is Christ a King.

3 ¶ And Pilate asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Iewes? and hee answered him, and said ^{Math.} T:ou sayest it.

4 Then said Pilate to the chiefe Priests, and to the people, I finde no fault in this man.

Cccj

5 And they were the more fierce, saying, He stirreth up the people, teaching throughout all Iudaea, beginning from Galilee to this place.

6 When Pilate heard of Galilee, he asked whether the man were a Galilean.

7 And as soon as he knew that he belonged unto Herods jurisdiction, he sent him to Herod, who himselfe also was at Hierusalem at that time.

8 ¶ And when Herod saw Iesus, hee was exceedingly glad, for he was desirous to see him of a long season, because he had heard many things of him, and he hoped to haue seen some miracle done by him.

9 Then he questioned with him in many words, but he answered him nothing.

10 And the chiefe Priests, and Scribes stood, and vehemently accused him.

11 And Herod with his men of warre set him at nought, and mocked him, and arrayed him in a gorgeous robe, and sent him againe to Pilate.

12 ¶ And the same day Pilate and Herod were made friends together: for before, they were at enmity beetweene themselves.

13 ¶ And Pilate when he had called together the chiefe Priests, and the Rulers, and the people, 14 Said vnto them, Yee haue brought this man vnto me, as one that perverteth the people, and behold, I haue examined him before you, and haue found no fault in this man, touching those things whereof ye accuse him.

15 No, nor yet Herod: for I sent you to him, and loe, nothing worthy of death, is done vnto him.

16 I will therefore chastise him, and release him.

17 For of necessity hee must release one vnto them at the feast.

18 And they cryed out all at once, saying, Away with this man, and release vnto vs Barabbas.

19 Who for a certaine sedition made in the city, and for murder was cast into prison.

20 Pilate therefore willing to release Iesus, spake againe to them:

21 And they cryed, saying, Crucifie him, crucifie him.

22 And he said vnto them the third time, Why will ye still hath he done? I haue found no cause of death in him: I will therefore chastise him, and let him goe.

23 And they were insatiate with loud voyces, requiring that he might be crucified: and the voyces of them said of the chiefe Priests, prevailed.

24 And Pilate gave sentence, that it should be as they required.

25 And he released vnto them him that for sedition and murder was cast into prison, whom they had desired, but he deliuered Iesus by their will.

26 ¶ And as they led him away, they laid hold vpon one Simon a Cyrenian, coming out of the country, and on him they laid the Crosse, that he might beare it after Iesus.

27 ¶ And there followed him a great company of people, and of women which also bewailed, and lamented him.

28 But Iesus turning vnto them, said, Daughters of Hierusalem, weepe not for mee, but weepe for your selves, and for your children.

29 For behold, the dayes are coming, in the which they shall say, Blessed are the barren, and the wombes that neuer bare, and the pappes which neuer gaue sucke.

30 Then shall they begin to say to the mount Sion, and to the hill, Come vnto vs.

31 For if they doe these things in a green tree, what shall be done in the dry?

32 And there were also two other malefactors led with him to be put to death.

33 And when they were come to the place which is called Caluary, there they crucified him, and the malefactors, one on the right hand, and the other on the left.

34 ¶ Then said Iesus, Father, forgive them, for they know not what they doe: And they parted his raiment, and cast lots.

35 And the people stood beholding, and the rulers also with them, derided him, saying, He saved others, let him save himselfe, if he be Christ the chosen of God.

36 And the soldiers also mocked him, coming to him, and offering him vinegar, 37 And saying, If thou be the King of the Iewes, save thy selfe.

38 And a superscription also was written ouer him, in letters of Greeke, and Latine, and Hebrew, THIS IS THE KING OF THE IEWES.

39 ¶ And one of the malefactors, which were hanged, raild on him, saying, If thou be Christ, save thy selfe and vs.

40 But the other answering rebuked him, saying, Dost not thou feare God, seeing thou art in the same condemnation?

41 And we indeed iustly, for we receive the due reward of our deeds, but this man hath done nothing amisse.

42 And he said vnto Iesus, Lord remember me when thou comest into thy kingdom.

43 And Iesus said vnto him, Verely I say vnto thee, To day shalt thou be with me in Paradise.

44 And it was about the sixth houre, and there was a darkness ouer all the earth, vntill the ninth houre.

45 And the Sonne was darkened, and the vail of the Temple was rent in the midst.

46 ¶ And when Iesus had cryed with a loude voyce, he said, Father into thy hands I commend my Spirit. And hauing said thus, he gaue vp the ghost.

47 Now when the Centurie saw what was done, hee glorified God, saying, Certainly this was a righteous man.

48 And all the people that came together to that sight, beholding the things which were done, mooued their hearts and returned.

49 And all his acquaintance, and the women that followed him from Galilee, stood afar off, beholding these things.

50 ¶ And behold, there was a man named Iosaph, a Counsellor, and he was a good man and a iust.

51 (The same had not consented to the counsell and decde of them) he was of Ariatheta, a city of the Iewes (who also himselfe waited for the kingdom of God.)

52 This man went vnto Pilate, and begged the body of Iesus.

53 And heooke it downe, and wrapped it in linnen, and laid it in a sepulcher that was hewen in floure, wherein neuer man before was laid.

54 And that day was the Preparation, and the Sabbath drew on.

55 And the women also which came with him from Galilee, followed after, and beheld the sepulcher, and how his body was laid.

56 And they returned and prepared spices, and ointment.

gements, and rested the Sabbath day, according to the Commandement.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 Christ's resurrection is declared by two Angels to the women that came to the Sepulchre: 2 These reports is to others. 3 Christ himself appeared to the two Disciples that went to Emmaus. 4 Afterwards he appeared to the Apostles, and reproved their unbelief: 47 Giveth them a charge: 49 Promiseth the Holy Ghost: 51 And so ascended into heaven.

NOW upon the first day of the weeke, very early in the morning, they came unto the Sepulchre, bringing the spices which they had prepared, and certaine others with them.

2 And they found the stone rolled away from the Sepulchre.

3 And they entered in, and found not the body of the Lord Iesus.

4 And it came to passe, as they were much perplexed there about, behold two men stood by them in shining garments.

5 And as they were afraid, and bowed downe their faces to the earth, they said vnto them, Why seeke ye | the living among the dead?

6 He is not here, but is risen: * Remember how he spake vnto you when he was yet in Galilee,

7 Saying, the Sonne of man must bee deliuered into the hands of sinfull men, and be crucified, and the third day rise againe.

8 And they remembered his words,

9 And returned from the Sepulchre, and told all these things vnto the eleven, and to all the rest.

10 It was Mary Magdalene, and Iouanna, and Mary the Mother of Iaius, and other women that were with them, which told these things vnto the Apostles.

11 And their words seemed to them as idle tales, and they beleued them not.

12 * Then arose Peter, & ran vnto the Sepulchre, and stooping downe, he beheld the linnen clothes laid by themselves, and departed wondering in himselfe at that which was come to passe.

13 * And behold, two of them went that same day to a village called Emmaus, which was from Hierusalem about threescore furlongs.

14 And they talked together, of all these things which had happened.

15 And it came to passe, that while they communed together, and reasoned, Iesus himselfe drew neere, and went with them.

16 But their eyes were holden, that they should not know him.

17 And hee said vnto them; What manner of communications are these that ye haue one to another, as ye walke, and are sad?

18 And the one of them, whose name was Cleophas, answering, said vnto him, Art thou onely a stranger in Hierusalem, and hast not knowen the things which are come to passe there in these dayes?

19 And he said vnto them, What things? And they said vnto him, Concerning Iesus of Nazareth, which was a Prophet mighty in deed and word, before God and all the people, 20 And how the chiefe Priests, and our Rulers deliuered him to be condemned wth death, and haue crucified him.

21 But we trusted that it had beene hee, which should haue redeemed Israel: and beside all this, to day is the third day since these things were done.

22 Yet, and certaine women also of our company made vs misshifed, which were early at the Sepulchre:

23 And when they found not his body, they came, saying, that they had also seene a vision of Angels, which said, that he was alive.

24 And certaine of them which were with vs, went to the sepulchre, and found it open, so as the women had said, but him they saw not.

25 Then he said vnto them, O fooles, and slow of heart to beleene all that the Prophets haue spoken:

26 Ought not Christ to haue suffered these things, and to enter into his glory?

27 And beginning at Moses, and all the Prophets, he expounded vnto them in all the Scriptures, the things concerning himselfe.

28 And they drew nigh vnto the village, whither they went, and he made as though he would haue gone further.

29 But they constrained him, saying, Abide with vs, for it is towards evening, and the day is farre spent: and he went in to tarry with them.

30 And it came to passe, as he sat at meate with them, he took bread, and blessed it, and brake, and gave to them.

31 And their eyes were opened, and they knew him, and he | vanished out of their sight.

32 And they said one to another, Did not our heart burne within vs, while he talked with vs by the way, and while hee opened to vs the Scriptures?

33 And they rose vp the same houre, and returned to Hierusalem, and found the eleven gathered together, and them that were with them, 34 Saying, The Lord is risen indeed, and hath appeared to Simon.

35 And they told what things were done in the way, and how he was knowen of them in breaking of bread.

36 * And as they thus spake, Iesus himselfe stood in the midst of them, and said vnto them, Peace be vnto you.

37 But they were terrified and affrighted, and supposed that they had seene a spirit.

38 And he said vnto them, Why are ye troubled? and why doe thoughts arise in your hearts?

39 Behold my hands and my feet, that it is I myselfe: handle me and see, for a spirit hath not flesh and bones as ye see me haue.

40 And when he had thus spoken, hee shewed them his hands and his feet.

41 And while they yet beleened not for ioy, and wondered; hee said vnto them, Haue ye here any meat?

42 And they gaue him a peece of a broyled fish, and of an honey combe.

43 And he tooke it, and did eate before them.

44 And he said vnto them, These are the words which I spake vnto you, while I was yet with you, that all things must be fulfilled which were written in the Law of Moses, and in the Prophets, and in the Psalmes concerning me.

45 Then opened he their vnderstanding, that they might vnderstand the Scriptures,

46 And said vnto them, Thus it is written, and thus it behoued Christ to suffer, and to rise from the dead the third day:

47 And that repentance and remission of sinnes should be preached in his Name among all nations, beginning at Hierusalem.

48 And so are witness of these things.

489 * And behold, I send the promise of my Father upon you: but tarry ye in the city of Hierusalem, until ye be endued with power from on High.
50 * And he led them out as farre as to Bethany, and he lift up his hands, and blessed them.
51 * And it came to passe, while he blessed them, hee was parted from them, and carried up into heaven.

52 And they worshipped him, and returned to Hierusalem, with great joy:
53 And were continually in the Temple, praising and blessing God. Amen.

1 The Divinity, Humanity, and office of Iesus Christ. 25 The Testimony of Iohn. 59 The calling of Andrew, Peter, &c.

IN the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God.

2 * The same was in the beginning with God.

3 * All things were made by him, and without him was not any thing made, that was made.

4 In him was life, and the life was the light of men.

5 And the light shineth in darknesse, and the darknesse comprehended it not.

6 * There was a man sent from God, whose name was Iohn.

7 The same came for a witness, to bear witness of the Light, that all men through him might believe.

8 He was not that light, but was sent to bear witness of that Light.

9 There was the true light, which lighteth every man that cometh into the world.

10 Hee was in the world, and the * world was made by him, and the world knew him not.

11 He came unto his own, and his own received him not.

12 But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sonnes of God, even to them that believe on his name.

13 Which were borne, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the wil of man, but of God.

14 And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among vs (and we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father) full of grace and truth.

15 * Iohn bare witness of him, and cried, saying, This was he of whom I spake, He y cometh after me, is preferred before me, for he was before me.

16 And of his * fullness have all we received, and grace for grace.

17 For the Law was given by Moses, but grace and truth came by Iesus Christ.

18 * No man hath scene God at any time: the only begotten Sonne which is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared him.

19 * And this is the record of Iohn, when the Iewes sent Priests and Levites from Hierusalem, to aske him, Who art thou?

20 And he confessed and denied not: but confessed, I am not the Christ.

21 And they asked him, What then? Art thou Elias? And he saith, I am not. Art thou that Prophet? And he answered, No.

22 Then said they unto him, Who art thou, that wee may give an answer to them that sent vs? What sayest thou of thy selfe?

23 * He said, I am the voyce of one crying in the wilderness: Make straight the way of the Lord, as said the Prophet Esaias.

24 And they which were sent, were of the Pharisees.

25 And they asked him, and said unto him, Why baptizest thou then, if thou be not that Christ, nor Elias, neither that prophet?

26 Iohn answered them, saying, I baptize with water, but there standeth one among you, whom ye know not:

27 * He is, who cometh after me, is preferred before me, whose shoe I latche I am not worthy to vntouch.

28 These things were done in Bethabara beyond Iordain, where Iohn was baptizing.

29 * The next day Iohn seeth Iesus coming to him, and saith, Behold, the Lambe of God, which taketh away the sinne of the world.

30 This is he of whom I said, After me cometh a man which is preferred before me: for hee was before me.

31 And I knew him not: but that he should be made manifest to Israel, therefore am I come baptizing with water.

32 * And Iohn bare record, saying, I saw the Spirit descending from heaven like a dove, and it abode upon him.

33 And I knew him not: but he that sent mee to baptize with water, hee saith unto me, Upon whom thou shalt see the Spirit descending, and remaining on him, the same is he which baptizeth with the holy Ghost.

34 And I saw, and bare record that this is the Sonne of God.

35 * Againe the next day after, Iohn stood, and two of his disciples, 36 And looking upon Iesus as hee walked, hee saith, Behold the Lambe of God.

37 And the two Disciples heard him speake, and they followed Iesus.

38 Then Iesus turned, and saw them following, and saith unto them, What seek ye? They said unto him, Rabbi, (which is to say, being interpreted, Master) where dwellest thou?

39 He saith unto them, Come and see. They came and saw where he dwelt, and abode with him that day: for it was about the tenth houre.

40 One of the two which heard Iohn speake, and followed him, was Andrew, Simon Peters brother.

41 He first findeth his owne brother Simon, and saith unto him, We have found the Messias, which my father saith is Christ.

42 And he brought him to Iesus, and when Iesus an beheld him, he said, Thou art Simon the son of Ionan, thou shalt be called Cephas, which is by interpretation, a stone.

43 * The day following, Iesus would goe forth into Galilee, and findeth Philip, and saith unto him, Follow me.

44 Now Philip was of Bethsaida, the Citie of Andrew and Peter.

45 Philip findeth Nathanael, and saith unto him, Wee have found him of whom * Moses in the Law, and the * Prophets, did write, Iesus of Nazareth, the Sonne of Iosaph.

46 An Nathanael said unto him, Can there any good thing come out of Nazareth? Philip saith unto him, Come and see.
 47 Then said Nathanael coming to him, and saith of him, Behold an Israelite indeed, in whom is no guile.
 48 Nathanael saith unto him, Whence knowest thou me? Iesus answered, and said unto him, Before that Philip called thee, when thou wast under the fig-tree, I saw thee.
 49 Nathanael answered, and saith unto him, Rabbi, thou art the Sonne of God, thou art the King of Israel.
 50 Iesus answered, and said unto him, Because I said unto thee, I saw thee under the fig-tree, beleevest thou? thou shalt see greater things then these.
 51 And he saith unto him, Verely, verely, I say unto you, hereafter ye shall see heauren open, and the Angels of God ascending and descending vpon the Sonne of man.

CHAPTER II.

1 Christ turneth water into wine: 2 Departeth into Capernaum, and 3 Hierusalem, 4 where hee purgeth the Temple of buyers and sellers. 5 Hee foretelleth his death and resurrection. 6 Many beleeued because of his miracles; but he would not trust himselfe with them.

At the time therefore, there was a marriage, in Cana of Galilee, and the mother of Iesus was there.
 2 And both Iesus, was called, and his Disciples to the marriage.

3 And when they wanted wine, the mother of Iesus saith vnto him, They haue no wine.

4 I Iesus vnto her, Woman, what haue I to doe with thee? mine houre is not yet come.

5 His mother saith vnto the seruants, What soeuer he saith vnto you, doe it.

6 And there were set there sixe water-pots of stee, after the maner of the purifying of the Iewes, containing two or three Arkins apiece.

7 Iesus saith vnto them, Fill the water-pots with water. And they filled them vp to the brim.

8 And he saith vnto them, Draw out now, & beare vnto the gouernour of the feast. And they bare it.

9 When the Ruler of the feast had tasted the water that was made wine, & knew not whence it was (but the seruants which drew the water, knew) the gouernour of the feast called the bridgrymme,

10 And saith vnto him, Every man at the beginning doeth set forth good wine, and when men haue well drunke, then that which is worse: but thou hast kept the good wine vntill now.

11 This beginning of miracles did Iesus in Cana of Galilee, and manifested forth his glory, and his disciples beleeued on him.

12 ¶ After this he went doune to Capernaum, hee, and his mother, and his brethren, and his Disciples, and they continued there not many dayes.

13 ¶ And the Iewes Passouer was at hand, and Iesus went vp to Hierusalem.

14 And found in the Temple those that sold oxen, and sheepe, and doves, and the changers of money, sitting.

15 And when hee had made a scourge of small cordes, hee droue them all out of the Temple, and the sheepe, and the oxen, and poured out the changers money, and quert he threw the tables.

16 And said vnto them that sold doves, Take these things hence, make not my Fathers house an house of merchandise.

17 And his disciples remembered that it is written,

18 The temple of thine house hath I haue builded for me.

18 ¶ Then answered the Iewes, and said vnto him, what signe shewest thou vnto vs, seeing that thou dost these things?

19 Iesus answered, and said vnto them, ¶ Destroy this Temple, and in three dayes I will raise it vp.

20 Then said the Iewes, Fourty and sixe yeeres was this Temple in building, and wilt thou raise it vp in three dayes?

21 But he spake of the temple of his body.

22 When therefore hee was risen from the dead, his disciples remembered that he had said this vnto them: and they beleeued the Scripture, and the word which Iesus had said.

23 ¶ Now when hee was in Hierosalem at the Passouer in the feast of day, many beleeued in his Name, when they saw the miracles which hee did.

24 But Iesus did not commit himselfe vnto them, because he knew all men.

25 And needed not that any should testify of man: for he knew what was in man.

CHAPTER III.

1 Christ receiveth Nicodemus the messiege of new generation. 2 of faith in his death. 3 The great loue of God towards the world. 4 Condemnation for unbelife. 5 The baptisme, witness, and doctrine of Iohn concerning Christ.

There was a man of the Pharisees, named Nicodemus, a Ruler of the Iewes:

2 The same came to Iesus by night, and said vnto him, Rabbi, we know that thou art a teacher come from God: for no man can doe these miracles that thou doest, except God be with him.

3 Iesus answered, and said vnto him, Verely, verely, I say vnto thee: Except a man bee borne againe, he cannot see the Kingdome of God.

4 Nicodemus saith vnto him, How can a man bee borne when hee is old? can hee enter the second time into his mothers wombe, and be borne?

5 Iesus answered, Verely, verely I say vnto thee, Except a man bee borne of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the Kingdome of God.

6 That which is borne of the flesh, is flesh; and that which is borne of the spirit, is spirit.

7 Maruell not that I said vnto thee, Ye must be borne againe.

8 The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, and whither it goeth: So is every one that is borne of the Spirit.

9 Nicodemus answered, and said vnto him, How can these things be?

10 Iesus answered, and said vnto him, Art thou a master of Israel, and knowest not these things?

11 Verely, verely I say vnto thee, We speake that we doe knowe, and testifie that we haue seene, and yet receive not our witness.

12 If I haue told you earthly things, and ye beleeue not: how shall ye beleeue if I tell you of heavenly things?

13 And no man hath ascended vp to heauen, but he that came doune from heauen, even the Sonne of man which is in heauen.

14 ¶ And as Moses lifted vp the serpent in the wilderness: Even so must the Sonne of man be lifted vp:

15 That whosoever beleeueth in him, should not perish, but haue eternall life.

16 ¶ For God so loued the world, that hee gaue his onely begotten Sonne: that whosoever beleeueth in him, should not perish, but haue eternall life.

17 ¶ For God sent not his Sonne into the world to be condemned.

18 ¶ For whosoever belieueth in him, shall not be condemned.

19 ¶ For whosoever doeth not sin, shall not see death.

20 ¶ For whosoever belieueth in the Sonne of God, shall not see death, but shall haue eternall life.

condemne the world that that the world through him might be saved.

18 ¶ He that believeth on him, is not condemned: but he that believeth not, is condemned already: because he hath not believed in the Name of the onely begotten Sonne of God.

19 And this is the condemnation, * that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were euill.

20 For every one that doeth euill, hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should be reprooed.

21 But he that doth truth, cometh to the light: that his deeds may be made manifest, that they are wrought in God.

22 ¶ After these things came Iesus and his Disciples into the land of Iudea, and there he carried with them, * and baptized.

23 ¶ And Iohn also was baptizing in Amon, neere to Salim, because there was much water there: and they came, and were baptized.

24 For Iohn was not yet cast into prison.

25 ¶ Then there arose a question betwene some of Iohns disciples and the Iewes, about purifying.

26 And they came vnto Iohn, and said vnto him, Rabbi, he that was with thee beyond Iordane, * to whom thou barest witness, behold, the same baptizeth, and all men come to him.

27 Iohn answered, and said, * A man can receiue nothing except it be giuen him from heauen.

28 Yee your selues heare mee witness, that I said, * I am not the Christ, but that I am sent before him.

29 He that hath the bride, is the bridegroome: but the friend of the bridegroome, which standeth and heareth him, reioyceth greatly, because of the bridegroomes voyce: This my ioy therefore is fulfilled.

30 He which increaseth, I must decrease.

31 He that cometh from aboue, is aboue all: he that is of the earth, is earthly, and speaketh of the earth: he that cometh from heauen, is aboue all:

32 And what he hath seene and heard, that hee testifieth, and no man receiveth his testimony:

33 Hee that hath receiued his testimony, * hath seene his seale, that God is true.

34 For he whom God hath sent, speaketh the words of God: for God giueth not the Spirit by measure vnto him.

35 * The Father loveth the Sonne, and hath giuen all things into his hand.

36 ¶ He that believeth on the Sonne, hath euerlasting life, and he that believeth not the Sonne, shall not see life: but the wrath of God abideth on him.

C H A P. IIII

1 Christ talketh with a woman of Samaria, and receiveth himselfe vnto her. 2 His Disciples murmure. 3 Hee declareth to them his qualitie Gods glory. 4 Many Samaritanes beleue on him. 5 He departs into Galilee, and beareth the Rulers say that lay sicke at Capernaum.

When therefore the Lord knew how the Pharisees had heard that Iesus made and baptized more disciples then Iohn,

2 (Though Iesus himselfe baptized not, but his disciples:)

3 He left Iudea, and departed againe into Galilee.

4 And he must needs goe thorow Samaria.

5 Then cometh he to a city of Samaria, which is called Sychar, neere to the parcel of ground * that Iacob gaue to his sonne Ioseph.

6 Now Iacobs Well was there. Iesus therefore being wearied with his journey, sat thus on the well, and it was about the sixth houre.

7 There cometh a woman of Samaria to draw water: Iesus saith vnto her, Giue me to drinke.

8 For his disciples were gone away vnto the city to buy meat.

9 Then saith the woman of Samaria vnto him, How is it that thou being a Iewe, askest drinke of me, which am a woman of Samaria? For the Iewes haue no dealings with the Samaritanes.

10 Iesus answered, & said vnto her, If thou knowest the gift of God, & who it is that saith vnto thee, Giue me to drinke, thou wouldest haue asked of him, and he would haue giuen thee liuing water.

11 The woman saith vnto him, Sir, thou hast nothing to draw with, and the well is deepe, from whence then hast thou that liuing water?

12 Att thou greater then our father Iacob which gaue vs the Well, and dranke thereof himselfe, and his children, and his cattell?

13 Iesus answered, and said vnto her, Whosoever drinketh of this water shall thirst againe:

14 But whosoever drinketh of the water, that I shall giue him, shall neuer thirst: but the water that I shall giue him, shall bee in him a well of water springing vp into everlasting life.

15 The woman saith vnto him, Sir, giue me this water, & I thirst not, neither come I to draw.

16 Iesus saith vnto her, Goe call thy husband, and come hither.

17 The woman answered, and said, I haue no husband: Iesus saith vnto her, Thou hast well said, I haue no husband:

18 For thou hast had five husbands, and he whom thou now hast, is not thy husband: in that saidst thou truely.

19 The woman saith vnto him, Sir, I perceiue that thou art a Prophet.

20 Our fathers worshipped in this mountaine: and ye say, that * in Hierusalem is the place where men ought to worship.

21 Iesus saith vnto her, Woman, beleue me, the houre cometh when ye shall neither in this mountaine, nor yet at Hierusalem, worship the Father.

22 Ye worship ye know not what: we worship: for salvation is of the Iewes.

23 But the houre cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth: for the Father seeketh such to worship him.

24 * God is a Spirit, and they that worship him, must worship him in spirit and in truth.

25 The woman saith vnto him, I know that Messias cometh which is called Christ: when he is come, he will tell vs all things.

26 Iesus saith vnto her, If I speak vnto thee, thou be-

27 ¶ And vpon this came his Disciples, and marvelled that hee talked with the woman: yet no man said, What seekest thou? or why talkest thou with her?

28 The woman then left her water-pot, and went her way into the city, and saith to the men, 29 Come, see a man, which told me all things that euer I did: is not this the Christ?

30 Then they went out of the city, and came vnto him.

31 ¶ In the meane while his Disciples prayed him, saying, Master, eate.

32 But he said vnto them, I haue meat to eate that ye knowe not of.

33 Therefore said the Disciples one to another, What can hee haue brought him ought to eate?

23 Iesus saith vnto them, My meate is to doe the will of him that sent me, and to finish his worke.

24 Say not yet, There are yet foure moneths, and then cometh harvest? Behold, I say vnto you, I life vp your eyes, and looke on the fields: * for they are white already to harvest.

25 And he that reapeth, receimeth wages, and gathereth fruite vnto life eternall: that both hee that soweth, and he that reapeth, may reioyce together.

26 And herein is that saying true: One soweth, and another reapeth.

27 I fear you to reape that whereon ye bestowed no labour: other men laboured, and ye are cutted into their labours.

28 ¶ And many of the Samaritanes of that citie beleued on him, for the saying of the woman, which testified: He told me all that euer I did.

29 So when the Samaritanes were come vnto him, they besought him that hee would tarry with them, and he abode there two dayes.

30 And many more beleued, because of his owne word:

31 And said vnto the woman, Now we beleue, not because of thy saying, for wee haue heard him our selues, and know that this is indeede the Christ the Saviour of the world.

32 ¶ Now after two dayes he departed thence, and went into Galilee:

33 For Iesus himselfe testified, that a Prophet hath no honour in his owne country.

34 Then when he was come into Galilee, the Galileans receiued him, having seene all the things that hee did at Hierusalem at the Feast: for they also were vnto the Feast.

35 So Iesus came againe into Cana of Galilee, where he made the water wine. And there was a certaine noble man whose sonne was sicke at Capernaum.

36 When he heard that Iesus was come out of Iudea into Galilee, hee went vnto him, and besought him that hee would come downe, and heale his sonne, for he was at the point of death.

37 Then said Iesus vnto him, Except yee see signes and wonders, ye will not beleue.

38 The noble man saith vnto him, Sir, come downe ere my child die.

39 Iesus saith vnto him, Go thy way, thy sonne liueth. And the man beleued the word that Iesus had spoken vnto him, and he went his way.

40 And as he was now going downe, his seruants met him, and cold him, saying, Thy sonne liueth.

41 Then enquired he of them the houre when he began to amend: and they said vnto him, Yesterday at the seuenth houre the feuer left him.

42 So the father knew that it was at the same houre, in the which Iesus said vnto him, Thy sonne liueth, and himselfe beleued, and his whole house.

43 This is againe the second miracle that Iesus did, when he was come out of Iudea into Galilee.

CHAP. V.

1 Iesus on the Sabbath day curth him that was distord right and therty yeres. 2 The Iewes therefore caught, and persecute him for it. 3 He answereth for himselfe, and reprehendeth them, shewing by the testimony of his Father, 21 of Iohn, 36 of his works, 39 and of the Scriptures, who he is.

4 For * this, there was a Feast of the Iewes, and Iesus went vp to Hierusalem.

5 Now there is at Hierusalem by the shepheardes market, a poole, which is called in the Hebrew tongue Bethesda, having foue panches.

6 In these lay a great multitude of impotent folke, of blind, halt, withered, waiting for the moouing of the water.

7 For an Angell went downe at a certaine season into the poole, and troubled the water: whosoever then first after the troubling of the water stepped in, was made whole of whatsoever disease he had.

8 And a certaine man was there, which had an infirmity thirti and eight yeres.

9 When Iesus saw him lie, and knew that hee had bene now a long time in that case, hee saith vnto him, Wilt thou be made whole?

10 The impotent man answered him, Sir, I haue no man when the water is troubled, to put me into the poole: but while I am conuarsing, another steppeth downe before me.

11 Iesus saith vnto him, Rise, take vp thy bed, and walke.

12 And immediately the man was made whole, andooke vp his bed and walked: and on the same daye wasthe Sabbath.

13 ¶ The Iewes therefore said vnto him that was cured, It is the Sabbath day, * It is not lawfull for thee to carry thy bed.

14 He answered them, He that made me whole, the same said vnto me, Take vp thy bed & walke.

15 Then asked they him, What man is that which said vnto thee, Take vp thy bed and walke?

16 And he that was healed, wist not who it was, for Iesus had conueyed himselfe away, a multitude being in that place.

17 Afterward Iesus findeth him in the Temple, and said vnto him, Behold, thou art made whole, sinne no more, leaue a worse thing come vnto thee.

18 The man departed, and told the Iewes, that it was Iesus which had made him whole.

19 And therefore did the Iewes persecute Iesus, and sought to slay him, because hee had done these things on the Sabbath day.

20 ¶ But Iesus answered them, My Father worketh hitherto, and I worke.

21 Therefore the Iewes sought the more to kill him, not onely because he had broken the Sabbath, but also that God was his Father, making himselfe equall with God.

22 Then answered Iesus, and said vnto them, Verily, verily, I say vnto you, The Sonne can doe nothing of himselfe, but what hee seeth the Father doe: For what thing soeuer hee doth, these also doeth the Sonne likewise.

23 For the Father loueth the Sonne, and sheweth him all things that himselfe doeth: and hee will shew him greater workes then these, that yet may maruell.

24 For as the Father raiseth vp the dead, and quickeneth them: euen so the Sonne quickeneth whom hee will.

25 For as the Father iudgeth no man: but hath committed all iudgment to the Sonne:

26 That all men should honour the Sonne, euen as they honour the Father. He that honoureth not the Sonne, honoureth not the Father which hath sent him.

27 Verily, verily, I say vnto you, He that heareth my word, and beleueth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation: but is passed from death vnto life.

28 Verily, verily, I say vnto you, The houre is coming, and now is, when the dead shall heare the voyce of the Sonne of God, and they that heare, shall liue.

29 For as the Father hath life in himselfe, so hath he giuen to the Sonne to haue life in himselfe:

46 For had ye beleued Moses, yee would haue beleued me: for he wrote of me.

47 But if ye beleue not his writings, how shall ye beleue my words?

CHAP. VI,

I Christ feedeth five thousand men, with five loaves and two fishes. 15 Therupon the people would haue made him King: 16 But wither comeing himselfe, he walked on the Sea to his Disciples: 25 vpon which the people flocking after him, and all the fishy boaters of his word: 32 declarerh himselfe to be the bread of life to belouers. 66 Many Disciples departs from him. 68 Peter confesseth him. 90 Iudas a Deuill.

After these things Iesus went ouer the Sea of Galilee, which is the Sea of Tiberias:

2 And a great multitude followed him, because they saw his miracles which hee did on them: that were disciples.

3 And Iesus went vp into mountaine, and there he sate with his Disciples.

4 And a Pharisee, a Jewe of the Iewes, was nigh, & hee called him sit vp his eyes, and saw a great company come vnto him, he saith vnto Philip

Whence shall we buy bread, that these may eate?

6 (And this he said to proue him: for he himselfe knew what he would doe.)

7 Philip answered him, Two hundred pennyworth of bread is not sufficient for them, that eery one of them may take a little.

8 One of his Disciples, Andrew, Simons Petters brother saith vnto him.

9 There is a lad here which hath five barley loaves, and two small fishes: but what are they among so many?

10 And Iesus said, Make the men sit downe. Now there was much grasse in the place. So the men sate downe, in number about five thousand.

11 And Iesus tooke the loaves, and when he had giuen thanks, he distributed to the Disciples, and the Disciples to them that were set downe, and likewise of the fishes as much as they would.

12 When they were filled, he tooke vnto his Disciples, Gather vp the fragments that remaine, that nothing be lost.

13 Therefore they gathered them together, and filled twelue baskets with the remnants of the five barley loaves, which remained ouer and a more, vnto them that had eaten.

14 Then those men, when they had seene the miracle that Iesus did, said, This is of a truth that Prophet that should come into the world.

15 ¶ When Iesus therefore perceived that they would come and take him by force, to make him a King, he departed againe into a mountaine himselfe alone.

16 ¶ And when Euen was now come, his Disciples went downe vnto the Sea, 17 And entered into a ship, and went ouer the Sea, towards Capernaum: and it was now dark, and Iesus was not come to them.

18 And the Sea arose, by reason of a great wind that blew.

19 So when they had rowed about five and twenty, or threty furlongs, they see Iesus walking on the Sea, and drawing nigh vnto the ship, and they were afraid.

20 But he saith vnto them, It is I, be not afraid.

21 Then they willingly receiued him into the ship, and immediatly the ship was at the land whither they went.

22 ¶ The day following, when the people which stood on the other side of the Sea, saw that there was none other boat there, saue that one wherinto his Disciples were entered, and that Iesus went not with his Disciples into the boat, but that his Disciples were gone awy alone:

23 Howbeit, there came other boats from Tiberias, nigh vnto the place where they did eat bread, after that the Lord had giuen thanks:

24 When the people therefore saw that Iesus was not there, neither his Disciples, they also tooke shipping, and came to Capernaum, seeking for Iesus.

25 And when they had found him on the other side of the Sea, they said vnto him, Rabbi, when comest thou hither?

26 Iesus answered them, and said, Verely, verely, I say vnto you, yet seeke me, not because ye saw the miracles, but because ye did eate of the loaves, and were filled.

27 ¶ Labour not for the meat which perisheth, but for that meat which endureth vnto everlasting life, which the Soune of man shall giue vnto you: for hisse hath God the Father sealed.

28 Then said they vnto him, What shall we doe that we might worke the worke of God?

29 Iesus answered and said vnto them, * This is the worke of God, that ye beleene on him whom he hath sent.

30 They said therefore vnto him; What signe shewest thou then, that we may see and beleene thee? What doest thou worke?

31 * Our fathers did eate Manna in the desert, as it is written, * He gaue them bread from heauen to eate.

32 Then Iesus said vnto them, Verely verely, I say vnto you, Moyses gaue you not that bread from heauen; but my Father giueth you the true bread from heauen:

33 For the bread of God is he which cometh down from heauen, and giueth life vnto the world.

34 Then said they vnto him, Lord, euermore giue vs this bread.

35 And Iesus said vnto them, I am the bread of life: he that cometh to me, shall neuer hunger; and he that beleueth on me shall neuer thirst.

36 But I said vnto you, that ye also haue seene me, and beleene not.

37 All that the Father giueth me, shall come to me: and him that cometh to me, I will in no wise cast out.

38 For I came downe from heauen, not to doe mine owne will, but the will of him that sent me.

39 And this is the Fathers will which hath sent me, that of all which he hath giuen me, I should loose nothing, but should raise it vp againe at the last day.

40 And this is the will of him that sent me, that euerie one which seeth the Sonne, and beleueth on him, may haue everlasting life: and I will raise him vp at the last day.

41 The Iewes then murmured at him, because he said, I am the bread which came downe from heauen.

42 And they said, * Is not this Iesus the sonne of Ioseph, whose father and mother we know? How is it then that he saith, I came downe from heauen?

43 Iesus therefore answered and said vnto them, Murmure not among your selves.

44 No man can come to me, except the Father which hath sent me, draw him: and I will raise him vp at the last day.

45 * It is written in the Prophets, and they shall be all taught of God. Every man therefore that hath heard, and hath learned of the Father, cometh vnto me.

46 Not that any man hath seene the Father, save he which is of God, he hath seene the Father.

47 Verely verely, I say vnto you, He that beleueth on me, hath everlasting life.

48 I am that bread of life.

49 Your fathers did eate Manna in the wilderness, and are dead.

50 This is the bread which cometh downe from heauen, that a man may eat thereof, and not die.

51 I am the lining bread which came downe from heauen, if any man eat of this bread, he shall liue for euer: and the bread that I will giue, is my flesh which I will giue for the life of the world.

52 The Iewes therefore strove among themselves, saying, How can this man giue vs his flesh to eat?

53 Then Iesus said vnto them, Verely verely, I say vnto you, Except ye eate the flesh of the Sonne of man, and drinke his blood, ye haue no life in you.

54 Whose eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, hath eternal life, and I will raise him vp at the last day.

55 For my flesh is meat indeed, and my blood is drinke indeed.

56 He that eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, dwelleth in me, and I in him.

57 As the lining Father hath sent me, and I liue by the Father: so he that eateth me, euen he shall liue by me.

58 This is the bread which came downe from heauen: not as your fathers did eate Manna, and are dead: he that eateth of this bread, shall liue for euer.

59 These things said he in the Synagogue, as he taught in Capernaum.

60 Many therefore of his Disciples, when they had heard this, said, This is an hard saying, who can heare it?

61 When Iesus knew in himselfe that his Disciples murmured at it, he said vnto them, Doth this offend you?

62 * What and if ye shall see the Sonne of man ascend vp where he was before?

63 It is the Spirit that quicketh, the flesh profiteth nothing: the words that I speake vnto you, they are Spirit, and they are life.

64 But there are some of you that beleene not. For Iesus knew from the beginning, who they were that beleued not, and who should betray him.

65 And he said, Therefore said I vnto you, that no man can come vnto me, except it were giuen vnto him of my Father.

66 From that time many of his Disciples went backe, and walked no more with him.

67 Then said Iesus vnto the twelve, Will ye also go away?

68 Then Simon Peter answered him, Lord, to whom shall we go? Thou hast the words of eternal life.

69 * And we beleue and are sure that thou art the Christ, the Sonne of the lining God.

70 Iesus answered them, Hast not I chosen you twelve, and one of you is a deail?

71 He spake of Iudas Iscariot the son of Isumae for he it was that should betray him, being one of the twelve.

CHAP. VII.

Iesus representeth the anabaption and building of the Ansonen, 24 goeth up from Galilee to the feast of Tabernacles, 24 teacheth in the Temple, he Diuines opinion: of him among the people, 45 the Pharisees are angry that their officersooke him not, and chide with Nicodemus for taking on him.

After these things, Iesus walked in Galilee: for he would not walke in Ierusalem: because the Iewes sought to kill him.

1 Now the Iewes feast of Tabernacles was at hand.

2 His brethren therefore said vnto him, Depart, hence, and goe into Iuda, that thy disciples also may see the worke that thou doest.

3 For there is no man that doth any thing in secret, & he himselfe seeketh up to be knowne openly: If thou do these things, shew thy selfe to the world.

4 For neither did his brethren beleue in him.

5 Then Iesus said vnto them, My time is not yet come: but your time is alway ready.

6 The world cannot hate you, but me it hateth, because I testify of it, that the worke that ye do are euill.

7 Goe ye vp vnto this feast: I goe not vp yet for this feast; * For my time is not yet full come.

8 When

9 When he had said these words vnto them, he abode still in Galilee.

10 ¶ But when his brethren were gone vp, then went he also vp to the feast; not openly, but as it were in secret.

11 Then the Iewes sought him at the feast, and said, Where is he?

12 And there was much murmuring among the people concerning him: For some said, He is a good man; others said, Nay, but he deceiveth the people.

13 Howbeit, no man spake openly of him for feare of the Iewes.

14 ¶ Now about the midst of the Feast, Iesus went vp into the Temple, and taught.

15 And the Iewes marvelled, saying, How knoweth this man [the] letters, having neuer learned?

16 Iesus answered them, My doctrine is not mine, but his that sent me.

17 If any man will doe his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speake of my selfe.

18 He that speaketh of himselfe, seeketh his owne glory; but he that seeketh his glory that sent him, the same is true, and no variegousnesse is in him.

19 ¶ Did not Moses giue you the Law, and yet none of you keepeth the Law? ¶ Why goe ye about to kill me?

20 The people answered and said, Thou hast a deuil, who goeth about to kill thee?

21 Iesus answered and said vnto them, I haue done one worke, and ye all marvel.

22 ¶ Moses therefore gaue vnto you Circumcision, (not because it is of Moses, but of the fathers) and ye on the Sabbath day circumsise a man.

23 If a man on the Sabbath day receive circumcision, I that the Law of Moses should not be broken; are ye angry at me, because I haue made a man euerie which whole on the Sabbath day?

24 ¶ Iudge not according to the appearance; but iudge righteous iudgement.

25 Then said some of them of Hierusalem, is not this he whom they seeke to kill?

26 But hee speaketh boldly, and they say nothing vnto him: Doe the Rulers know indeed, that this is the very Christ?

27 Howbeit we know this man whence he is: but when Christ cometh, no man knoweth whence he is.

28 Then cryed Iesus in the Temple as he taught, saying, Ye both know me, and ye know whence I am, and I am not come of myselfe; but he that sent me is true, whom ye know not.

29 But I know him, for I am from him, and he hath sent me.

30 Then they sought to take him; but no man laid hands on him, because his houre was not yet come.

31 And many of the people believed on him, and said, When Christ cometh, will he doe more miracles than these, which this man hath done?

32 ¶ The Pharisees heard that the people murmured such things concerning him: And the Pharisees and the chiefe Priests sent officers to take him.

33 Then said Iesus vnto them, Yet a little while am I with you, and then I goe vnto him that sent me.

34 ¶ Ye shall seeke me, and shall not finde me; and where I am, thither ye cannot come.

35 Then said the Iewes among themselves, Whither will he goe, that we shall not finde him? Will he goe vnto the dispersed among the Gentiles, and teach the Grecians?

36 What manner of saying is this that he said,

Ye shall seeke me, and shall not finde me, and where I am, thither ye cannot come?

37 ¶ In the last day, that great day of the Feast, Iesus stood and cryed, saying, If any man thirst, let him come vnto me, and drinke.

38 ¶ He that belieueth on me, as the Scripture saith, his bath shall out of his belly shall flow rivers of liuing water.

39 ¶ (But this spake he of the Spirit, which they knew that he knew on him should receive. For the Holy Ghost was not yet given, because that Iesus was not yet glorified.)

40 ¶ Many of the people therefore when they heard this saying, said, Of a truth this is the Prophet.

41 Others said, This is the Christ. But some said, Shall Christ come out of Galilee?

42 ¶ Hath not the Scripture said, that Christ should come of the seed of David, and out of the towne of Bethlehem, where David was?

43 So there was a diuision among the people, because of him.

44 And some of them would haue taken him, but no man laid hands on him.

45 ¶ Then came the officers to the chiefe Priests and Pharisees, and they said vnto them, Why haue ye not brought him?

46 The officers answered, Neuer man spake like this man.

47 Then answered them the Pharisees, Art ye also deceiued?

48 Haue any of the Rulers, or of the Pharisees believed on him?

49 But this people who knoweth not the Law, are curioud.

50 Nicodemus saith vnto them, (* He that came to Iesus by night, being one of them.) ¶ Doe not our Law iudge any man before it heare him, and know what he doth?

51 They answered, and said vnto him, Art thou also of Galilee? Search and looke: for out of Galilee ariseth no Prophet.

52 And euerie man went vnto his owne house.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Christ describeth the woman taken in adultery.

2 He preacheth himselfe the light of the world, and witnesseth his doctrine: 33 answereth the Iewes that blasphemed Abraham, 39 and cometh himselfe from their enemy.

Iesus went vnto the mount of Oliues: ¶ And early in the morning he came againe into the Temple, and all the people came vnto him, and he sat downe and taught them.

¶ And the Scribes and Pharisees brought vnto him a woman taken in adultery, and when they had set her in the midst, 4 They say vnto him, Master, This woman was taken in adultery, in the very act.

5 ¶ Now Moses in the Law commanded vs, that such should be stoned: but what sayest thou?

6 This they said, tempting him, that they might haue to accuse him. But Iesus stouped downe, and with his finger wrote on the ground, as though he heard them not.

7 So when they continued asking him, he lift vp himselfe, and said vnto them, ¶ He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her.

8 And againe he stouped downe, and wrote on the ground.

9 And they which heard it, being convicted by their owne conscience, went out one by one, beginning at the eldest, euen vnto the last: and Iesus was left alone, and the woman standing in the midst.

16. When Iesus had lift vp himselfe, and saw none but the woman; he said vnto her, Woman where are those chine accusers? Hath no man condemned thee?
 17. Shee said, No man, Lord. And Iesus said vnto her, neither doe I condemne thee: goe, and sinne no more.
 18. ¶ Then spake Iesus againe vnto them, saying, I am the light of the world: hee that followeth me, shall not walke in darkenesse, but shall haue the light of life.
 19. ¶ The Pharisees therefore said vnto him, Thou bearest record of thy selfe, thy record is not true.
 20. Iesus answered, and said vnto them, ¶ Though I be the record of my selfe, yet my record is true: for I know whence I came, and whither I goe, but ye cannot tell whence I come, and whether I goe.
 21. Ye iudge after the flesh, I iudge no man.
 22. And yet if I iudge, my iudgement is true: for I am not alone, but I and the Father that sent me.
 23. ¶ It is thus written in your lawe, that the testimony of two men is true.
 24. I am one that beare witness of my selfe, and the father that sent me, beareth witness of me.
 25. ¶ Then said they vnto him, Where is thy father? Iesus answered, Ye neither know me, nor my father: if ye had knowen mee, ye should haue knowen my father also.
 26. These words spake Iesus in the treasury, as he taught in the Temple, and no man laid hands on him, for his houre was not yet come.
 27. ¶ Then said Iesus againe vnto them, I goe my way, and ye shall see me, and shall die in your finnes: whether I goe ye cannot come.
 28. ¶ Then said the Iewes, Will he kill himselfe? because he saith, Whither I goe ye cannot come.
 29. And he said vnto them, Ye are from beneath, I am from aboue: ye are of this world, I am not of this world.
 30. ¶ I said therefore vnto you, that ye shall die in your finnes. For if ye beleue not that I am he, ye shall die in your finnes.
 31. ¶ Then said they vnto him, Who art thou? And Iesus saith vnto them, Euen the same that I said vnto you from the beginning.
 32. ¶ I haue many things to say, and to iudge of you: but he that sent mee is true: and I speake to the world those things which I haue heard of him.
 33. ¶ They vnderstood not, that he spake to them of the Father.
 34. ¶ Then said Iesus vnto them, When ye haue lift vp the Sonne of man, then shall ye know that I am he, and that I doe nothing of my selfe, but as my Father hath taught me, I speake these things.
 35. ¶ And he that sent me, is with me: the Father hath not left mee alone: for I doe alwayes those things that please him.
 36. ¶ As he spake those words, many beleued on him.
 37. ¶ Then said Iesus to those Iewes which beleued on him, If ye continue in my Word, then are ye my Disciples indeede.
 38. ¶ And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free.
 39. ¶ They answered him, We be Abrahames seed, and were neuer in bondage to any man: how sayest thou, Ye shall be made free?
 40. ¶ Iesus answered them, Verely, verely I say vnto you, ¶ Whosoever committeth sinne, is the seruaunt of sinne.
 41. ¶ And the seruant abideth not in the house for ever, but the Sonne abideth euer.

36. If the Sonne therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free indeede.
 37. I know that ye are Abrahames seed, but yet seekers kill me, because my Word hath no place in you.
 38. I speake that which I haue seene with my Father: and ye doe that which ye haue seene with your father.
 39. They answered and said vnto him, Abraham is our father. Iesus saith vnto them, If ye were Abrahames children, ye would doe the wordes of Abraham.
 40. But now ye seeke to kill me, a man that hath told you the truth, which I haue heard of Gods this did not Abraham.
 41. Ye doe the deedes of your father. Then said they to him, We be not borne of fornication, we haue one Father, euen God.
 42. Iesus said vnto them, If God were your Father, ye would loue me: for I proceeded forth, and came from God, neither came I of my selfe, but he sent me.
 43. Why doe ye not vnderstand my speech? euen because ye cannot heare my word.
 44. ¶ Yet are of your father the deuill, and the lusts of your father ye will doe: he was a murderer from the beginning, and abode not in the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his owne: for hee is a liar, and the father of it.
 45. And because I tell you the truth, ye beleeue me not.
 46. Which of you cannerth me of sinne? And if I say the truth, why doe ye not beleue me?
 47. ¶ He that is of God, heareth Gods wordes: therefore heare them not, because ye are not of God.
 48. ¶ Then answered the Iewes, and said vnto him, Say wee not well that thou art a Samaritan, and hast a deuil?
 49. Iesus answered, I haue not a deuill, but I honour my Father, and ye doe dishonour me.
 50. And I seeke not mine owne glory, there is one that seeketh and iudgeth.
 51. Verely, verely I say vnto you, If a man keepeth my saying, he shall neuer see death.
 52. ¶ Then said the Iewes vnto him, Now we know that thou hast a deuil. Abraham is dead, and the Prophets: and thou sayest, If a man keepeth my saying, hee shall neuer tast of death.
 53. Art thou greater then our father Abraham, which is dead; and the Prophets are dead without making thee thy selfe?
 54. Iesus answered, If I honour my selfe, my honour is nothing: It is my father that honoureth me, of whom ye say that he is your God:
 55. Yet ye haue not knowen him, but I know him; and if I should say, I know him not, I shall bee a liar like vnto you, but I know him, and I saye his saying.
 56. Your father Abraham reioyced to see my day: and he saw it, and was glad.
 57. ¶ Then said the Iewes vnto him, Thine father yet fifty yeres old, and hast thou seene Abraham?
 58. Iesus said vnto them, Verely, verely I say vnto you, before Abraham was, I am.
 59. ¶ Then took they vp stones to cast at him: but Iesus hid himselfe, and went out of the Temple, going thorow the midst of them, and so passed by.
 C H A P. I X.
 ¶ The man that was borne blind, restored to sight: & he, is brought to the Pharisees as a signe of his found as it, and excommunicate him: 35 But he is recorded of Iesus, and coufesseth him. 36 Who they are whom Christ enlighteneth.

And as Iesus passed by, hee saw a man which was blind from his birth.

2 And his Disciples asked him, saying, Master, who did sinne, this man or his parents, that he was borne blinde?

3 Iesus answered, Neither hath this man sinned, nor his parents, but that the works of God should be made manifest in him.

4 I must worke the workes of him that sent me while it is day: the night cometh when no man can worke.

5 As long as I am in the world, I am the light of the world.

6 When hee had thus spoken, he spate on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, and he anointed the eyes of the blind man with the clay.

7 And said vnto him, Goe wash in the pool of Silsam: (which is by interpretation, Sent.) He went his way therefore and washed, and came seeing.

8 ¶ The neighbours therefore, and they which before had seene him, that he was blind, said, Is not this he that sat, and begged?

9 Some said, This is hee: others said, He is like him, but he said, I am he.

10 Therefore said they vnto him, How were thine eyes opened?

11 He answered and said, A man that is called Iesus, made clay and anointed mine eyes, and said vnto me, Goe to the pool of Silsam, and wash, and I went and washed, and I received sight.

12 Then said they vnto him, Where is he? Hee said, I know not.

13 ¶ They brought on the Pharisees him that aforetime was blind.

14 And it was the Sabbath day when Iesus made the clay, and opened his eyes.

15 Then againe the Pharisees also asked him how hee had received his sight. Hee said vnto them, Hee put clay vpon mine eyes, and I washed, and doe see.

16 Therefore said some of the Pharisees, This man is not of God, because he keepeth not the Sabbath day. Others said, How can a man that is a sinner, doe such miracles? and there was a division among them.

17 They say vnto the blinde man againe, What sayest thou of him, that he hath opened thine eyes? He said, He is a Prophet.

18 But the Iewes did not beleue concerning him, that he had been blinde, and received his sight, vntill they called the parents of him that had received his sight.

19 And they asked them, saying, Is this your son, who ye say was borne blind? And they doth hee know he?

20 His parents answered them, and said, We know that this is our son, and that he was borne blinde: 21 But by what means he now seeth, we know not, nor who hath opened his eyes, we know not: he is of age, and he himself shall speake for himselfe.

22 His parents spake thus, because they feared the Iewes: for the Iewes had agreed already, that if any man did confesse that he was Christ, he should be put out of the Synagogue.

23 Therefore said his parents, He is of age, and he knoweth.

24 Then againe called they the man that was blind, and said vnto him, Give God the praise, we knowe now that this man is a sinner.

25 He answered and said, Whether he be a sinner, or no, I know not: one thing I know, that whereas I was blind, now I seee.

26 Then said they to him againe, What did hee do to thee? How opened he thine eyes?

27 He answered them, I haue told you already, and ye did not heare: wherefore would ye heare it againe? Will ye also be his Disciples?

28 Then they replied him, and said, Thou art his Disciple, but we are Moses' disciples.

29 We know that God spake vnto Moses for this fellow, we know not from whence he is.

30 The man answered, and said vnto them, Why, herein is a marvellous thing, that yee know not from whence he is, and yet hee hath opened mine eyes.

31 Now we know that God heareth not sinners: but if any man be a worthe part of God, and doth his will, him he heareth.

32 Since the world began was it not heard, that any man opened the eyes of one that was borne blinde.

33 If this man were not of God, he could do nothing.

34 They answered, and said vnto him, Thou wast altogether borne in sinnes, and dost thou teach vs? And they cast him out.

35 Iesus heard that they had cast him out: and when he had found him, he said vnto him, Doest thou beleue on the Son of God?

36 He answered, and said, Who is he, Lord, that I might beleue on him?

37 And he said vnto him, Thou hast both seene him, and it is he that talketh with thee.

38 And he said, Lord, I beleue: and hee worshipped him.

39 And Iesus said, For iudgement I am come int' this world: that they which see not, might see, and that they which see, might be made blinde.

40 And some of the Pharisees which were with him, heard these words, and said vnto him, Are wee blinde also?

41 Iesus said vnto them, If yee were blinde, yee should haue no sinne: but now ye say, We see, therefore your sinne remaineth.

CHAP. X.

1 Christ is the doore, and the good shepherde.

2 The opinion of Iohn. 24 Hee promiseth by his wordes that he is Christ the Sonne of God, 29 Hee seepeth the Iewes, 40 and was againe beyond Iordane, whither hee was beleueed on him.

Verily, verily I say vnto you, Hee that entereth not by the doore in, o the sheepefold, but climbeth vp some other way, the same is a theefe and a robber.

2 But hee that entereth in by the doore, is the shepherde of the sheepe.

3 To him the poore openeth, and the sheepe heare his voyce, and he calleth his owne sheepe by name and leadeth them out.

4 And when he putteth forth his owne sheepe, he goeth before them, and the sheepe follow him: for they know his voyce.

5 And a stranger will they not follow, but will flee from him: for they know not the voyce of strangers.

6 This parable spake Iesus vnto them: but they vnderstood not what things he sayeth which hee spake vnto them.

7 Then said Iesus vnto them againe, Verily, verily I say vnto you, I am the doore of the sheepe.

8 All that euer came before me, are theefe and robber.

subpoers : but the sheepe did not heare them.

9 I am the doore, by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved, and shall goe in and out, and find pasture.

10 The thiefe cometh not, but for to steale, and to kill, and to destroy : I am come, that they should have life, and that they might haue it more abundantly.

11 I am the good Shepheard : the good Shepheard giueth his life for the sheepe.

12 But hee that is an hireling, and not the shepheard, whose owne the sheepe are not, seeth the wolfe coming, and leaueh the sheepe and fleeth : and the wolfe catcheth them, and scattereth the sheepe.

13 The hireling fleeth, because he is an hireling, and careth not for the sheepe.

14 I am the good Shepheard, and know my sheepe, and am knowne of mine.

15 As the Father knoweth me, euen so know I the Father : and I lay downe my life for the sheepe.

16 And other sheep I haue which are not of this fold : them also I must bring, and they shall heare 17 my voyce : * and there shall be one fold, and one shepheard.

17 Therefore doth my Father loue me, * because I lay downe my life, that I may take it againe.

18 No man taketh it from me, but I lay it downe of my selfe : I haue power to lay it downe, and I haue power to take it againe, * This commandment haue I receiued of my Father.

19 ¶ There was a division therefore againe among the Iewes for these sayings.

20 And many of them said, he hath a deuil, and is mad, why heare ye him ?

21 Others said, These are not the words of him that hath a deuil. Can a deuil open the eyes of the blinde ?

22 ¶ And it was at Hierusalem the * Feast of the Dedication, and it was winter.

23 And Iesus walked in the Temple in Solomons porch.

24 Then came the Iewes round about him, and said vnto him, How long dost thou make vs to doubt ? If thou be the Christ, tell vs plainly.

25 Iesus answered them, I told you, and ye beleened not : the worker that I doe in my Fathers Name, they beare witness of him.

26 But ye beleene not, because ye see not of my sheepe, as I said vnto you.

27 My sheepe heare my voyce, and I know them, and they follow me.

28 And I giue vnto them eternall life, and they shall neuer perishe, neither shall any man plucke them out of my hand.

29 My Father which gaue them me, is greater than all : and no man is able to plucke them out of my Fathers hand.

30 I and my Father are one.

31 Then the Iewes tooke vp stones againe to stone him.

32 Iesus answered them, Many good workes haue I shewed you from my Father : for which of these workes doe ye stone me ?

33 The Iewes answered him, saying, For a good worke we stone thee not, but for blasphemy, and because that thou being a man makest thy selfe God.

34 Iesus answered them, * Is it not written in your law : I said, Ye are gods ?

35 If he called them gods vnto whom the word of God came, and the Scripture cannot be broken :

36 Say ye of him whom the Father hath sanctified, and sent into the world, Thou blasphemest, because I said, I am the Sonne of God ?

37 If I doe not the works of my Father, beleene me not.

38 But if I doe, though ye beleene not me, beleene the workes : that ye may know and beleene, that the Father is in me, and I in him.

39 Therefore they sought againe to take him : but he escaped out of their hand.

40 And went away againe beyond Iordan, into the place where Iohn at first baptized : and there he abode.

41 And many referred vnto him, and said, Iohn did no miracle : but all things that Iohn spake of this man were true.

42 And many beleened on him there.

C H A P. X I

1 Christ raiseth Lazarus foure dayes buried. 25 Many Iewes beleene. 27 The high Priests and Pharisees gather a councell against Christ. 30 Simon propheseth. 34 Iesus hid himselfe. 35 At the Passouer they enquire after him, and lay wait for him.

Now a certaine man was sicke, named Lazarius of Bethany, the counee of Mary, and her sister Martha.

2 ¶ It was that Mary which anointed the Lord with ointment, and wiped his feet with her haire, whose brother Lazarus was sicke.

3 Therefore his sister sent vnto him, saying, Lord, behold, he whom thou louest, is sicke.

4 When Iesus heard that, he said, I his sickness is not vnto death, but for the glory of God, that the Sonne of God might be glorified thereby.

5 Now Iesus loued Martha, and her sister, and Lazarus.

6 When hee had heard therefore that hee was sicke, hee abode two dayes still in the same place where he was.

7 Then after that saith he to his Disciples, Let vs goe into Iudea againe.

8 His Disciples say vnto him, Master, the Iewes of Iudea sought to stone thee, and goest thou thither againe ?

9 Iesus answered, Are there not twelue houres in the day ? If any man walke in the day, he stumbleth not, because he seeth the light of this world.

10 But if a man walke in the night, he stumbleth, because there is no light in him.

11 These things said he, and after that, he sicke vnto them, Our friend Lazarus sleepeth, but I goe, that I may awake him out of sleepe.

12 Then said his Disciples, Lord, if he sleepe, he shall doe well.

13 Howbeit, Iesus spake of his death : but they thought that hee had spoken of taking of rest in sleepe.

14 Then said Iesus vnto them plainly, Lazarus is dead :

15 And I am glad for your sakes, that I was not there (to the intent ye may beleene) Neuerthelesse, let vs goe vnto him.

16 Then said Thomas, which is called Didymus, vnto his fellow Disciples, Let vs also goe, that we may die with him.

17 Then when Iesus came, he found that he had lien in the grave foure dayes already.

18 (Now Bethany was nigh vnto Hierusalem, about fifteene furlonges off.)

19 And many of the Iewes came to Martha and Mary, to comfort them concerning their brother.

20 Then Martha, as soone as she heard that Iesus

* Martha 25-7.

[That is] about 15 miles was coming, went and met him : but Mary sat still in the house.

21 Then said Martha unto Iesus, Lord, if thou hadst bene here, my brother had not died.

22 But I know, that even now whatsoever thou wilt aske of God, God will give it thee.

23 Iesus saith unto her, Thy brother shall rise againe.

24 Martha saith unto him, * I know that he shall rise againe in the resurrection at the last day.

25 Iesus said unto her, I am the resurrection, and the life: hee that believeth in mee, though hee were dead, yet shall hee live.

26 And whosoever liveth and believeth in mee, shall never die. Believest thou this?

27 She saith unto him, Yea, Lord, I belevee that thou art the Christ the Sonne of God, which shouldst come into the world.

28 And wherice hadst thou said, she went her way, and called Mary her sister secretly, saying, The Messias is come, and calleth for thee.

29 As soone as she heard that, she rose quickly, and came unto Iesus.

30 Now Iesus was not yett come into the towne, but was in that place where Martha met him.

31 The Iewes then which were with her in the house, and comforted her, when they saw Mary, that she rose up hastily and went out, followed her, saying, She goeth to the grave, to weepe there.

32 Then when Mary was come where Iesus was, and saw him, she fell downe at his feet, saying unto him, Lord, if thou hadst bene here, my brother had not died.

33 When Iesus therefore saw her weeping, and the Iewes also weeping which came with her, hee groined in the spirit, and was troubled.

34 And said, Where hast thou laid him? They say unto him, Lord, come and see.

35 Iesus wept.

36 Then said the Iewes, Behold how hee loveth him.

37 And some of them said, Could not this man, which opened the eyes of the blind, haue caused that even this man should not haue died?

38 Iesus therefore againe groining in himselfe, cometh to the grave. It was a cave, and a stone lay vpon it.

39 Iesus said, Take ye away the stone. Martha the sister of Iesus that was dead, saith unto him, Lord, by this time he is stiffe: for hee hath bene dead foure dayes.

40 Iesus saith unto her, Said I not unto thee, that if thou wouldest beleue, thou shouldst see the glory of God?

41 Then they took away the stone from the place where the dead was laid. And Iesus lift up his eyes, and said, Father, I thank thee, that thou hast heard mee.

42 And I knew that thou heardest me alwayes: but because of the people which stand by, I said it, that they may beleue that thou hast sent me.

43 And when he thus had spoken, he cried with a loud voice, Lazarus, come forth.

44 And he that was dead, came forth, bound hand and foot with graueclothes: and his face was bound about with a napkin. Iesus saith unto them, Loose him, and let him goe.

45 Then many of the Iewes, which came to Mary and had seene the things which Iesus did, beleened on him.

46 But some of them went their wayes to the Pharisees, and said these what things Iesus had done.

47 ¶ Then gathered the chiefe Priests and Pharisees a Councell, and said, What doe we? for this man doeth many miracles.

48 If we let him thus alone, all men will beleene on him, and the Romanes shall come and take away both our place and nation.

49 And one of them, named Caiphaz, being the high Priest that same yeere, said unto them, Ye know nothing at all.

50 Nor consider that it is expedient for vs, that one man should die for the people, and that the whole nation perish not.

51 And this spake hee not of himselfe: but being high Priest that yeere, hee prophesied that Iesus should die for that nation:

52 And not for that nation only, but that also he should gather together in one the children of God, that were scattered abroad.

53 Then from that day forth they took councill together for to put him to death.

54 Iesus therefore walked no more openly among the Iewes, but went thence vnto a countrey neere to the wilderness, into a city called Ephraim, and there continued with his Disciples.

55 ¶ And the Iewes Pasche was nigh at hand, and many went out of the countrey vp to Hierusalem before the Pasche, to purifie themselves.

56 Then sought they for Iesus, and spake among themselves as they stood in the Temple, What thinke ye that he will not come to the Feast?

57 Now both the chiefe Priests and the Pharisees had giuen a commandement, that if any man knew where he were, he should shew it, that they might take him.

C H A P. XII

1 Iesus exaseth Mary anointing his feet. 2 The people flocke to see Lazarus. 3 The high Priests consail to kill him. 4 Curst is he that shall stone Iherusalem. 5 Iesus saith vnto the Iewes, I am the light of the world. 6 The Iewes are generally blinded. 7 The many chiefe Iewes beleene, but doe not confesse him: 8 Therefore Iesus calleth curst they that confesse him not.

¶ Then Iesus six daies before the Pasche, came to Bethanys where Lazarus was, which had bene dead, who hee had raised from the dead.

2 There they made him a Supper, and Martha serued: but Lazarus was one of them that sat at the table with Iesus.

3 ¶ Then took Mary a pound of ointment, of Spikenard, very costly, and anointed the feet of Iesus, and wiped his feet with her haire: and the house was filled with the odour of the ointment.

4 ¶ Then saith one of his disciples, Judas Iscariot, Simons Ioune, which should betray him:

5 Why was not this ointment sold for three hundred pence, and giuen to the poore?

6 ¶ This he saith, not that he cared for the poore; but because he was a thiefe, and had the bag, and he bare what was put therein.

7 ¶ Then said Iesus, Let her alone, against the day of my burying hath she kept this.

8 For the poore alwayes ye haue with you: but me ye haue not alwayes.

9 Much people of the Iewes therefore knew that he was there: and they came not for Iesus sake onely, but that they might see Lazarus also, whom hee had raised from the dead.

10 ¶ But the chiefe Priests consailed, that they might put Lazarus also to death:

11 Because thereby reason of him, many of the Iewes went away, and beleened on Iesus.

12 ¶ On the next day much people that were come to the Feast, when they heard that Iesus was coming to Hierusalem, 13 Tooke branches of palme trees, and went forth to meet him, and cryed, Hosanna, blessed is the King of Israel, that cometh in the Name of the Lord.
 14 And Iesus, when he had found a yong ass, sate thereon, as it is written, 15 ¶ Feare not daughter of Sion, behold, thy King cometh, sitting on an asses colt.
 16 These things understood not his Disciples at the first: but when Iesus was glorified, then remembered they that these things were written of him, and that they had done these things unto him.
 17 The people therefore that was with him when he called Lazarus out of his grave, and raised him from the dead, bare record, 18 For this cause the people also met him, for that they heard that he had done this miracle.
 19 The Pharisees therefore said among themselves, Perceive ye how ye prevail nothing? Behold, the world is gone after him.
 20 ¶ And there were certaine Greeks among them that came up to worship at the Feast;
 21 The same came therefore to Philip, which was of Bethsaida of Galilee, and desired him saying Sir, we would see Iesus.
 22 Philip cometh and telleth Andrew: and againe, Andrew and Philip told Iesus.
 23 ¶ And Iesus answered them, saying The hour is come that the Sonne of man should be glorified.
 24 Verely, verely I say unto you, Except a corne of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone: but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit.
 25 ¶ He that loveth his life, shall lose it: and he that hateth his life in this world, shall keepe it unto life everlast.
 26 If any man serve me, he must follow me, and where I am, there shall also my servant be: If any man serve me, him will my Father honour.
 27 Now is my soule troubled, and what shall I say? Father, save me from this hour, but for this cause came I unto this world.
 28 Father glorifie thy Name. Then came there a voyce from heaven, saying, I have both glorified it, and will glorifie it againe.
 29 The people therefore that stood by, and heard it, said, That it thundered: others said, An Angel spake to him.
 30 Iesus answered, and said, This voyce came not because of me, but for your sakes.
 31 Now is the iudgement of this world: now shall the Prince of this world be cast out.
 32 And I; if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto me.
 33 (This he said, signifying what death he should die.)
 34 The people answered him, ¶ We have heard say of the Law, that Christ abideth for ever: and how sayest thou, The Sonne of man must be lifted up? Who is this Sonne of man?
 35 Then Iesus said unto them, Yet a little while is the light with you: walke while ye have the light, lest darkenesse come upon you: for he that walketh in darkenesse, knoweth not whither hee goeth.
 36 While ye have light, believe in the light, that ye may be the children of light. These things spake Iesus, and departed, and hid himselfe from them.
 37 ¶ But though he had done so many miracles before them: yet they believed not on him:

 38 That the saying of Esaias the Prophet might be fulfilled, which he spake, ¶ Lord who hath believed our report? and to whom hath the arme of the Lord been revealed?
 39 Therefore they could not beleve, because that Esaias said againe, 40 ¶ He hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their heart, that they should not see with their eyes, nor understand with their heart, and be converted, and I should heale them.
 41 These things said Esaias, when he saw his glory, and spake of him.
 42 ¶ Nevertheless, among the chiefe rulers also, many beleved on him: but because of the Pharisees, they did not confesse him, lest they should be put out of the Synagogue.
 43 ¶ For they loved the praise of men, more then the praise of God.
 44 ¶ Iesus cryed, and said, Hee that beleeveth on me, beleeveth not on me, but on him that sent mee.
 45 And he that seeth mee, seeth him that sent mee.
 46 ¶ I am come a light into the world, that whosoever beleeveth on me, should not abide in darkenesse.
 47 ¶ And if any man heare my words, and beleeveth not, I iudge him now: for I came not to iudge the world, but to save the world.
 48 He that hateth me, and receiveth not my words, hath one that iudgeth him: the word that I have spoken, the same shall iudge him in the last day.
 49 For I have not spoken of myselfe, but the Father which sent me, he gave me a Commandement, what I should say, and what I should speake.
 50 And I know that his Commandement is life everlast: to whomsoever I speake therefore, such as the Father said unto me, so I speake.
 C H A P. XIII.
 ¶ Iesus walketh the Disciples first: reburreth them to humilitie and charity. 18. Hee foretelleth and discovereth to Iohn to be taken, that Judas should betray Iesus: 23. Commandeth them to love one another: 35. And forewarneth Peter of his deniall.
 Now before the Feast of the Passover, when Iesus knew that his hour was come, that he should depart out of this world, unto the Father, having loved his owne which were in the world, he loved them unto the end.
 2 And supper being ended (the devill having now put into the heart of Iudas Iscariot, Simons sonne to betray him.)
 3 Iesus knowing that the Father had given all things unto his hands, and that he was come from God, and went to God,
 4 Hee richly from supper, and laid aside his garments, and tooke a towell, and girded himselfe.
 5 After that hee powred water into a bason, and began to wash the Disciples feet, and to wipe them with the towell wherewith hee was girded.
 6 Then cometh he to Simon Peter: and Peter saith unto him, Lord, dost thou wash my feet?
 7 Iesus answered, and said unto him, What I doe, thou knowest not now: but thou shalt know here after.
 8 Peter saith unto him, Thou shalt never wash my feet. Iesus answered him, If I wash thee not, thou hast no part with me.
 9 Simon Peter saith unto him, Lord, not my feet onely, but also my hands, and my head.
 10 Iesus saith to him, He that is washed, needeth not to be shooed.

not, saue to wash his feet, but is cleane entry white and ye are cleane, but not all.

11 For he knew who should betray him, therefore said he ye are not all cleane.

12 So after he had washed their feet, and had taken his garments, and was let downe againe, he said vnto them, Know ye what I haue done to you?

13 Ye call me Master, and Lord, and ye say well: for so I am.

14 If I then your Lord and Master, haue washed your feet, ye also ought to wash one anothers feet.

15 For I haue giuen you an example, that ye should doe, as I haue done to you.

16 * Verely verely, I say vnto you, The seruant is not greater then his Lord, neither he that is sent, greater then he that sent him.

17 If ye know these things, happy are ye if ye do them.

18 ¶ I speake not of you all, I know whom I haue chosen: but that the Scripture may be fulfilled, * He that eateth bread with me, hath lift vp his heele against me.

19 I now I tell you before it come, that when it is come to passe, ye may beleue that I am he.

20 * Verely verely I say vnto you, He that receiveth whom I send, receiveth me: and he that receiveth me, receiveth him that sent me.

21 * When Iesus had thus said, he was troubled in spirit, and testified, and said, Verely verely I say vnto you, that one of you shall betray me.

22 Then the Disciples looked one on another, doubting of whom he spake.

23 Now there was leaning on Iesus before, one of his Disciples whom Iesus loved.

24 Simon Peter therefore beckoned to him, that he should alke who it should be of whom he spake.

25 He then lying on Iesus brest, said vnto him, Lord, who is it?

26 Iesus answered, He it is to whom I shall give a kiss when I haue dipped it. And when hee had dipped the sop, he gaue it to Iudas Iscariot, the son of Simon.

27 And after the sop, Satan entered into him: Then said Iesus vnto him, That thou doest, doe quickly.

28 Now so Iudas alke the table knew for what he meant he spake this vnto him.

29 For some of them thought, because Iudas had the bag, that Iesus had said vnto him, Buy those things that we haue need of against the Feast: or that he should giue something to the poore.

30 He then having receiued the sop, went immediately out: and it was night.

31 ¶ Therefore when he was gone, Iesus said Now is the Sonne of man glorified: and God is glorified in him.

32 If God be glorified in him, God shall also glorifie him in himselfe, and shall straightway glorifie him.

33 Little children, yet a little while I am with you. Ye shall seeke me, and as I said vnto the Iewes, Whither I goe, ye cannot come: so now I say to you.

34 * A new commandement I giue vnto you, That ye loue one another, as I haue loued you, that ye also loue one another.

35 By this shall all men know that ye are my Disciples, if ye haue loue one to another.

36 ¶ Simon Peter said vnto him, Lord, whither goest thou? Iesus answered him, Whither I goe thou canst not follow me now, but thou shalt follow me afterwards.

37 Peter said vnto him, Lord, why cannot I follow thee now? I will lay downe my life for thy sake.

38 Iesus answered him, Wilt thou lay downe thy life for my sake? Verely, verely I say vnto thee, The rocke shall not crow, till thou hast denied me thrice.

CHAP. XIII:

1 Christ comforteth his Disciples with the hope of heauen: 6 professeth himselfe the Way, the Truth, and the life, and one with the Father: 13 Assurath their prayers in his Name to be effectuall: 15 Requesteth loue and obedience: 16 Promiseth the holy Ghost the Comforter, 27 and leaureth his peace with them.

Let not your heart be troubled: ye beleue in God, beleue also in me.

2 In my Father, house are my mansions: if it were not so, I would haue told you: I goe to prepare a place for you.

3 And if I goe and prepare a place for you, I will come againe, and receive you vnto my selfe, that where I am, there ye may be also.

4 And whither I goe, ye know, and the way ye know.

5 Thomas saith vnto him, Lord, wee know not whether thou goest: and how can wee know the way?

6 Iesus saith vnto him, I am the Way; the Truth, and the life: no man cometh vnto the Father, but by me.

7 If ye had knowen me, ye should haue knowen my Father also, and from henceforth ye know him, and haue seene him.

8 Philip saith vnto him, Lord, shew vs the Father, and it sufficeth vs.

9 Iesus saith vnto him, Haue I beene so long time with you, and yet hast thou not knowen mee, Philip? he that hath seene me, hath seene the Father, and how saiest thou then, Shew vs the Father?

10 Beleuest thou not that I am in the Father, and the Father in me? The wordes that I speake vnto you, I speake not of my selfe: but the Father that dwelleth in me, he doeth the workes.

11 Beleue not that I am in the Father, and the Father in me: or else beleue me, for the very workes sake.

12 Verely, verely I say vnto you, He that beleeueth on me; the workes that I doe, shall hee doe also, and greater workes: then these shall hee doe, because I goe vnto my Father.

13 * And whosoener ye shall aske in my Name, I will doe that will I doe, that the Father may be glorified in the Sonne.

14 If ye shall aske any thing in my Name, I will doe it.

15 ¶ If ye loue me, keepe my Commandements. 16 And I will pray the Father, and he shall giue you another Comforter, that hee may abide with you for euer.

17 Now the Spirit of truth, whom the world cannot receiue, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him: but ye know him, for hee dwelleth with you, and shall be in you.

18 I will not leaue you comfortlesse, I will come to you.

19 Yet a little while, and the world seeth me no more: but ye see me, because I liue, ye shall liue also. 20 At that day ye shall know that I am in my Father, and you in me, and I in you.

22 Judas saith unto him, not Discipoll, Lord, how is it that thou wilt manifest thy selfe unto vs, and not unto the world ?

23 Iesus answered and said unto him, If a man love me, he will keepe my words : and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him.

24 He that loveth me not, keepeth not my sayings, and the word which you heare, is not mine, but the Fathers which sent me.

25 These things have I spoken unto you, being yet present with you.

26 But the Comforter, which is the holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my Name, he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you.

27 Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you, not as the world giveth, give I unto you : he that loveth me, he will be troubled, neither let it be afraid.

28 Ye have heard how I said unto you, I go away and come againe unto you, If ye loved mee, ye would rejoyce, because I said, I goe unto the Father : for my Father is greater then I.

29 And now I have told you before it come to passe, that when it is come to passe ye might believe.

30 Hereafter I will not talke much with you : for the prince of this world cometh, and hath nothing in me :

31 But that the world may know that I love the Father : and as the Father gave me Commandement, even so I doe : Arise, let vs go hence.

CHAP. XV.

The consolation and mutual love betweene Christ and his members, under the parable of the Vine. 16 A Comfort in the hatred and persecution of the world. 26 The office of the holy Ghost, and of the Apostles.

I Am the true Vine, and my Father is the husbandman.

1 Every branch in me that beareth not fruit, he taketh away: and every branch that beareth fruit he purgeth it, that it may bring forth more fruit.

2 Now ye are cleave through the word, which I have spoken unto you.

3 Abide in me, and I in you : as the branch cannot beare fruit of it selfe, except it abide in the Vine, no more can ye, except ye abide in me.

4 I am the Vine, ye are the branches : He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit : for without me ye can doe nothing.

5 If a man abide not in me, he is cast forth as a branch, and is withered, and men gather them, and cast them into the fire, and they are burned.

6 If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ye shall aske what you will, and it shall be done unto you.

7 Herein is my Father glorified, that ye beare much fruit, so shall ye be my Disciples.

8 As the Father hath loved me, so have I loved you : continue ye in my love.

9 If ye keepe my Commandements, ye shall abide in my love, even as I have kept my Fathers Commandements, and abide in his love.

10 These things have I spoken unto you, that my joy might remaine in you, and that your joy might be full.

11 This is my Commandement, that ye love one another, as I have loved you.

12 Greater love hath no man then this, that a man lay downe his life for his friends.

14 Ye are my friends, if ye doe whatsoever I command you.

15 Whosoever I call you not servants, for the servant knoweth not what his lord doth, but I have called you friends : for all things that I have heard of my Father, I have made knowne unto you.

16 Ye have not chosen me, but I have chosen you, and ordained you, that you should goe and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit should remaine : that whatsoever ye shall aske of the Father in my Name, he may give it you.

17 These things I command you, that ye love one another.

18 If the world hate you, ye know that it hated me, before it hated you.

19 If ye were of the world, the world would love his owne: but because ye are not of the world, but I have chosen you out of the world, therefore the world hateth you.

20 Remember the word that I said unto you, The servant is not greater then his lord : if they have persecuted me, they will also persecute you : if they have kept my saying, they will keepe yours also.

21 But all these things will they doe unto you for my Names sake, because they know not him that sent me.

22 If I had not come and spoken unto them, they had not had sinne : but now they have no cloake for their sinne.

23 He that hateth me, hateth my Father also.

24 If I had not done among them the workes which none other man did, they had not had sinne : but now have they both sinne and hated both me and my Father.

25 But this cometh to passe, that the word might be fulfilled that is writen in their Law, They hated me without a cause.

26 But when the Comforter is come, whom I will send unto you from the Father, even the Spirit of truth, which proceedeth from the Father, he shall testify of me.

27 And ye also shall beare witnesse, because ye have heard with me from the beginning.

CHAP. XVI.

Christ comforteth his Disciples against tribulation, by the promise of the holy Ghost, and by his resurrection and ascension : 23 exhorteth their prayers made in his Name to be acceptable to his Father. 33 Peace in Christ, and in the world affliction.

These things have I spoken unto you, that ye should not be offended.

1 They shall put you out of the Synagogues : yea, the time cometh, that whosoever killat you, will thinke that he doth Gods service.

2 And these things will they doe unto you, because they have not knowne the Father, nor me.

3 But these things have I told you, that when the time shall come, ye may remember, that I told you of them. And these things I said not unto you at the beginning, because I was with you.

4 But now I goe my way to him that sent me, and none of you asketh me, Whither goest thou ?

5 But because I have said these things unto you, sorrow hath filled your heart.

6 Nevertheless, I tell you the truth, it is expedient for you that I goe away : for if I goe not away, the Comforter will not come unto you : but if I depart, I will send him unto you.

7 And when he is come, he will reprove the world of sin, and of righteousness, & of judgement.

8 Of sinne, because they believe not on me.

10 Of righteousness, because I goe to my Father, and ye see me no more.

11 Of iudgement, because the Prince of this world is iudged.

12 I know yet many things to say vnto you, but ye cannot heare them now :

13 Howbeit, when he the spirit of truth is come, he will guide you into all truth : for he shall not speake of himselfe : but what soeuer he shall heare, that shall he speake, and hee will shew you things to come.

14 He shall glorifie me : for he shall receiue of mine, and shall shew it vnto you.

15 All things that the Father hath, are mine : therefore said I that he shall take of mine, and shall shew it vnto you.

16 A little while and ye shall not see me : and againe a little while, and ye shall see me : because I goe to the Father.

17 Then said some of his Disciples, among themselves, What is this that he saith vnto vs, A little while, and ye shall not see me : and againe, a little while, and ye shall see me : and because I goe to the Father ?

18 They said therefore, What is this that he saith, A little while ? we cannot tell what he saith.

19 Now Iesus knew that they were desirous to vnderstand him, and said vnto them, Doe ye enquire among your selves of this I said, A little while, and ye shall not see me : and againe, A little while, and ye shall see me ?

20 Verily, verily I say vnto you, that ye shall weepe and lament, but the world shall reioyce : and ye shall be sorrowfull, but your sorrow shall be turned into ioy.

21 A woman when she is in travail, hath sorrow, because her houre is come : but as soon as she is delivered of the child, she remembereth no more of anguish, for ioy that a man is borne into the world.

22 And ye now therefore haue sorrow : but I will see you againe, and your heart shall reioyce, and your ioy no man taketh from you.

23 And in that day ye shall aske me nothing : Verily, verily I say vnto you, whatsoever ye shall aske the Father in my Name, he will giue it you.

24 Hitherto haue ye asked nothing in my Name, aske, and ye shall receiue, that your ioy may be full.

25 These things haue I spoken vnto you in parables : the time cometh when I shall no more speake vnto you in parables, but I shall shew you plainly of the Father.

26 At that day ye shall aske in my Name : and I say not vnto you, that I will pray the Father for you :

27 For the Father himselfe loveth you, because ye haue loved me, and haue beleued that I came out from God.

28 I came forth from the Father, and am come into the world : againe, I leaue the world, and goe to the Father.

29 His Disciples said vnto him, Lo, now speakest thou plainly, and speakest not in parables.

30 Now are we, are that thou knowest all things, and needest not that any man should aske thee : By this we beleue that thou camest forth from God.

31 Iesus answered them, Doe ye now beleue ?

32 Behold the houre cometh, yea is now come, that ye shall be scattered, every man to his owne, and shall leaue mee alone : and yet I am not alone, because the Father is with me.

33 These things I haue spoken vnto you, that in me ye might haue peace, in the world ye shall haue tribulation : but be of good cheere, I haue overcome the world.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Christ prayeth to his Father to glorifie him, & to preserve his Apostles in unity, 17 and truth, 20 to glorifie them, and all other beleuers with him in heauen.

These words spake Iesus, and lift vp his eyes to heaven, and said, Father, the houre is come, glorifie thy Son, that thy Son also may glorifie thee.

2 As thou hast giuen him power ouer all flesh, that hee should giue eternall life to as many as thou hast giuen him.

3 And this is life eternall, that they might know thee the onely true God, and Iesus Christ whom thou hast sent.

4 I haue glorified thee on the earth : I haue finished the worke which thou gavest me to doe.

5 And now, O Father, glorifie thou me, with thine owne selfe, with the glory which I had with thee before the world was.

6 I haue manifested thy Name vnto the men which thou gavest me out of the world : thine they were, and thou gavest them mee : and they haue kept thy word.

7 Now they haue knowen that all things whatsoever thou hast giuen me, are of thee.

8 For I haue giuen vnto them, the words which thou gavest me, and they haue receiued them, and haue knowen surely that I came out from thee, and they haue beleued that thou dost send me.

9 I pray for them, I pray not for the world : but for them which thou hast giuen mee, for they are thine.

10 And all mine are thine, and thine are mine : and I am glorified in them.

11 And now I am no more in the world, but these are in the world, and I come to thee. Holy Father, keepe them through thine owne Name, those whom thou hast giuen mee, that they may be one, as we are.

12 While I was with them in the world, I kept them in thy Name, that thou gavest me, I haue kept, and none of them is lost, but the son of perdition : that the Scripture might be fulfilled.

13 And now come I to thee, and these things I speake in the world, that they might haue my ioy fulfilled in themselves.

14 I haue giuen them thy word, and the world hath hated them, because they are not of the world, euen as I am not of the world.

15 I pray not that thou shouldst take them out of the world, but that thou shouldst keepe them from the euill :

16 They are not of the world, euen as I am not of the world.

17 Sanctifie them through thy truth : thy word is truth.

18 As thou hast sent me into the world : euen so haue I also sent them into the world.

19 And for their sakes, I sanctifie my selfe, that they also might be sanctified through the truth.

20 Neither pray I for these alone, but for them also which shall beleue on me through their word :

21 That they all may be one, as thou Father art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in vs : that the world may beleue that thou hast sent me.

22 And the glory which thou gavest me, I haue giuen them ; that they may be one, euen as we are one :

23 I in them, and thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one, and that the world may know that that thou hast sent me, and hast loved them as thou hast loved mee.

24 *Father I will that they also whom thou hast given me, be with me where I am, that they may behold my glory which thou hast given me: for thou lovedst me before the foundation of the world.

25 O righteous Father, the world hath not known thee, but I have known thee, and thine have known thee: that thou hast sent mee.

26 And I have declared unto them thy Name, and will declare it: that the love wherewith thou hast loved me, may be in them, and I in them.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 Iudas betrays Iesus. 6 The officers fall to the ground. 12 Peter smiteth off Malchus eare. 12 Iesus is taken and led vnto Annas and Caiaphas. 13 Peters denial. 19 Iesus examined before Caiaphas. 28 His arraignment before Pilate. 36 His kingdom.

40 The Iewes take Barabbas to be let loose.

When Iesus had spoken thise words, he went forth with his disciples ouer the brooke Cedron, where was a garden, into the which he entered and his Disciples.

2 And Iudas also which betrayed him, knew the place: for Iesus oft times resorted thither with his Disciples.

3 And Iudas then hauing receiued a band of men, and officers from the chiefe Priests and Pharisees, cometh thither with lanternes and torches, and weapons.

4 Iesus therefore knowing all things that should come vpon him, went forth, and said vnto them, Whom seek ye?

5 They answered him, Iesus of Nazareth. Iesus saith vnto them, I am he, and Iudas also which betrayed him, stood with them.

6 As soone then as hee had said vnto them, I am he, they went backward, and fell to the ground.

7 Then asked he them againe, Whom seek ye? And they said, Iesus of Nazareth.

8 Iesus answered, I haue told you that I am hee. If therefore ye seek me, let these go their way.

9 That the saying might be fulfilled which hee spake, *Of them which thou gauest me, haue I lost none.

10 Then Simon Peter hauing a sword, drew it, and smote the high Priests seruant, and cut off his right eare: the seruants name was Malchus.

11 Then said Iesus vnto Peter, Put vp thy sword into the sheath: the cup which my Father hath giuen me, shall I not drinke it?

12 Then the band, and the captain, and officers of the Iewes tooke Iesus and bound him.

13 And led him away to Annas first, (for he was father in law to Caiaphas) which was the high Priest that same yeere.

14 Now Caiaphas was he which gaue counsell to the Iewes, that it was expedient that one man should die for the people.

15 ¶ And Simon Peter followed Iesus, and so did another Disciple: that Disciple was knowne vnto the high Priest, and went in with Iesus into the palace of the high Priest.

16 But Peter stood at the doore without. Then went out that other Disciple, which was knowne vnto the high Priest, and spake vnto her that kept the doore, and brought in Peter.

17 Then saith the damoysell that kept the doore, vnto Peter, Art not thou also one of this mans Disciples? He saith, I am not.

had made a fire of coales, (for it was cold) and they warmed themselves: and Peter stood with them, and warmed himselfe.

19 ¶ The high Priest then asked Iesus of his Disciples and of his doctrine.

20 Iesus answered him: I spake openly to the world, I neuer taught in the Synagoge, and in the Temple, whither, the Iewes alwayes resort, and in secret haue I said nothing.

21 Why asked thou me? After them which heard me, what I haue said vnto them: behold, they know what I said.

22 And when he had thus spoken, one of the officers which stood by, strooke Iesus with ʒ palme of his hand, saying, Answerest thou the high priest (so)?

23 Iesus answered him, If I haue spoken euill, beare witness of the euill: but if well, why smitest thou me?

24 ¶ Now Annas had sent him bound vnto Caiaphas the high Priest.

25 And Simon Peter stood and warmed himselfe. ¶ They said then sore vnto him, Art not thou also one of his disciples? He denied it, & said, I am not.

26 One of the seruaunts of the high Priests, (being his kinsman whose care Peter cut off) saith, Did not I see thee in the garden with him?

27 Peter then decayed againe, and immediately hee went out with the cocke crew.

28 ¶ Then led they Iesus from Caiaphas vnto the hall of iudgement: and it was early, and they themselves went not into the Iudgement hall, lest they should be defiled: but that they might eat the pasche.

29 Pilate then went out vnto them, and said, What accusation bring you against this man?

30 They answered and said vnto him, if he were not a malefactor, wee would not haue deliuered him vnto thee.

31 Then said Pilate vnto them, Take ye him, and iudge him according to your law. The Iewes therefore said vnto him, It is not lawfull for vs to put any man to death.

32 ¶ That the saying of Iesus might be fulfilled, which he spake signifying what death he should die.

33 ¶ Then Pilate curted into the Iudgement hall againe, and called Iesus, and said vnto him, Art thou the King of the Iewes?

34 Iesus answered him, Sayest thou this thing of thy selfe? or did others tell it thee of mee?

35 Pilate answered, am I a Iew? These own nation, and the chiefe Priests haue deliuered thee vnto mee: What hast thou done?

36 Iesus answered, My kingdome is not of this world: if my kingdome were of this world, then would my seruaunts fight, that I should not be deliuered to the Iewes: but now is my kingdome not from hence.

37 Pilate therefore said vnto him, Art thou a King then? Iesus answered, Thou sayest that I am a King. To this end was I borne, and for this came I into the world, that I should beare witness vnto the truth: every one that is of the truth, heareth my voyce.

38 Pilate saith vnto him, What is truth? And when he had said this, he went ouergaine vnto the Iewes, and saith vnto them, I finde in him no fault at all.

39 ¶ But yee haue a custome that I should release vnto you one at the Pasche: will yee therefore that I release vnto you the King of the Iewes?

40 ¶ Then cryed they all againe, saying, Not this man, but Barabbas. Now Barabbas was a robber.

C H A P. XIX.

3 Christ is scourged, crowned with thornes, and crowned. 4 Pilate desireth to release him, but he is delivered to be crucified. 5 They call for his garments. 6 Hee commendeth his mother to Iohn. 7 His side is pierced. 8 He is buried by Ioseph and Nicodemus.

1 Pilate therefore tooke Iesus, and scourged him.

2 And the soldiers platted a crowne of thornes and put it on his head, and they put on him a purple robe,

3 And said, Haile King of the Iewes : and they smote him with their hands.

4 Pilate therefore went forth againe, and saith vnto them, Behold, I bring him forth to you, that ye may know that I finde no fault in him.

5 Then came Iesus forth, wearing the crowne of thornes, and the purple robe : and Pilate saith vnto them, Behold the man.

6 When the chiefe Priests therefore and officers saw him, they cryed out, saying, Crucifie him, crucifie him. Pilate saith vnto them, Take ye him, and crucifie him : for I finde no fault in him.

7 The Iewes answered him, We haue a law, and by our law he ought to die, because he made himselfe the sonne of God.

8 ¶ When Pilate therefore heard that saying, he was the more afraid.

9 And went againe into the iudgement hall, and saith vnto Iesus, Whence art thou ? But Iesus gave him no answer.

10 Then saith Pilate vnto him, Speakest thou not vnto me ? Knowest thou not that I haue power to crucifie thee, and haue power to release thee ?

11 Iesus answered, Thou couldest haue no power at all against me, except it were giuen thee from above : therefore he that deliuered me vnto thee hath the greater sinne.

12 And from thenceforth Pilate sought to release him : but the Iewes cryed out, saying, If thou let this man go, thou art not Cæsars friend, who soeuer speaketh himselfe a King, speaketh against Cæsar.

13 ¶ When Pilate therefore heard that saying, he brought Iesus forth, and fate downe in the iudgement seat, in a place that is called the Pavement, but in the Hebrew, Gabbatha.

14 And it was the preparation of the Passouer, and about the sixth houre : and hee saith vnto the Iewes, Behold your King.

15 But they cryed out, Away with him, away with him, crucifie him. Pilate saith vnto them, Shall I crucifie your King ? The chiefe Priests answered, We haue no King but Cæsar.

16 ¶ Then deliuered he him therefore vnto them to be crucified : and they tooke Iesus and led him away.

17 And he bearing his crosse, went south into a place, called the place of a skull, which is called in the Hebrew, Golgotha :

18 Where they crucified him, and two other with him, on either side one, and Iesus in the midst.

19 ¶ And Pilate wrote a title, and put it on the crosse. And the writing was, IESVS OF NAZARETH THE KING OF THE IEWES.

20 This title then read many of the Iewes : for the place where Iesus was crucified, was high to the city, and it was written in Hebrew, and Greeke, and Latine.

21 Then said the chiefe Priests of the Iewes to Pilate, Write not, The King of the Iewes : but that he said, I am King of the Iewes.

22 Pilate answered, What I haue written, I haue written.

23 ¶ Then the soldiers, when they had crucified Iesus, tooke his garments (and made foure parts, to euerie soldier a part) and also his coat : Now the coat was without seam, of one piece from the top thoroughout.

24 They said therefore among themselves, Let not vs reare it, but cast lots for it, whose it shall be :

25 ¶ That the Scripture might be fulfilled, which saith, They parted my raiment among them, and for my vesture they did cast lots. These things therefore did the soldiers.

26 ¶ Now there stood by the crosse of Iesus, his mother, and his mothers sister, Mary the wife of Clophas, and Mary Magdalene.

27 When Iesus therefore saw his mother, and the disciple standing by, whom hee loued, he saith vnto his mother, Woman, behold thy sonne, 28 ¶ Then saith he to the Disciple, Behold thy mother. And from that houre, that Disciple took her vnto his owne home.

29 ¶ After this, Iesus knowing that all things were now accomplished, that the Scripture might be fulfilled, saith, I thirst.

30 Now there was set a vessel full of vineger : and they filled a sponge with vineger, and put it vpon hyssope, and put it to his mouth.

31 When Iesus therefore had received the vineger, he said, It is finished, and hee bowed his head, and gave vp the Ghost.

32 The Iewes therefore, because it was the preparation, that the bodies should not remaine vpon the crosse on the Sabbath day (for that Sabbath day was an high day) besought Pilate, that their legs might be broken, and that they might be taken away.

33 Then came the Soldiers, and brake the legs of the first, and of the other, which was crucified with him.

34 But when they came to Iesus, and saw that he was dead already, they brake not his legs.

35 ¶ But one of the Soldiers with a spear pierced his side, and forthwith came therout blood and water.

36 ¶ And he that saw it, bare record, and his record is true, and hee knoweth that he saith true, that ye might beleeeue.

37 ¶ For these things were done, that the Scripture should be fulfilled, A bone of him shall not be broken.

38 ¶ And againe another Scripture saith, They shall looke on him whom they pierced.

39 ¶ And after this, Ioseph of Arimathea (being a Disciple of Iesus, but secretly for feare of the Iewes) brought Pilate that he might take away the body of Iesus : and Pilate gave him leave : hee came therefore and tooke the body of Iesus.

40 ¶ And there came also Nicodemus, which at the first came to Iesus by night, and brought a mixture of myrre & aloes, about an hundred pound weight.

41 ¶ Then took they the body of Iesus, and wound it in linnen clothes, with the spices, as the manner of the Iewes is to bury.

42 ¶ Now in the place where hee was crucified, there was a garden, and in the garden a new Sepulcher, wherein was neuer man yet laid.

43 ¶ There laid they Iesus therefore, because of the Iewes preparation day, for the Sepulcher was not at hand.

C H A P. XX.

1 Mary cometh to the Sepulchre. 2 So doth Peter and John ignorant of the resurrection. 11 Iesus appeareth to Mary Magdalene, 15 and to his Disciples. 23 The incredulity and confession of Thomas. 30 The Scripture is sufficient to saluation.

The first day of the weeke, cometh Mary Magdalene early, when it was yet darke, vnto the Sepulchre, and keth the stone taken away from the Sepulchre.

2 Then she runneth, and cometh to Simon Peter, and to the other Disciple whom Iesus loued, and saith vnto them, They haue taken away the Lord out of the Sepulchre, and we know not where they haue laid him.

3 Peter therefore went forth, and to another Disciple, and came to the Sepulchre.

4 So they ran both together, and the other Disciple did out-run Peter, and came first to the Sepulchre.

5 And he stooping downe, and looking in, saw the linnen clothes lying, yet went he not in.

6 Then cometh Simon Peter following him, and went into the Sepulchre, and fetcheth the linnen clothes lie.

7 And the napkin that was about his head, not lying with the linnen clothes, but wrapped together in a place by it selfe.

8 Then went in also that other Disciple, which came first to the Sepulchre, and hee saw and beleeued.

9 For as yet they knew not the Scripture, that he must rise againe from the dead.

10 Then the Disciples went away againe vnto their owne home.

11 ¶ But Mary stood without at the Sepulchre, weeping: and as she wept, she flooped downe, and looked into the Sepulchre,

12 And seeth two Angels in white, sitting, the one at the head, and the other at the feet, where the body of Iesus had layen:

13 And they say to her, Woman, why weepest thou? She saith vnto them, because they haue taken away my Lord, and I know not where they haue laid him.

14 And when she had thus said, shee turned her selfe backe, and saw Iesus standing, and knew not that it was Iesus.

15 Iesus saith vnto her, Woman, why weepest thou? whom seekest thou? Shee supposing him to be the gardiner, saith vnto him, Sir, if thou haue borne him hence, tell me where thou hast laid him, and I will take him away.

16 Iesus saith vnto her, Mary, Shee turned her selfe, and saith vnto him, Rabbouni, which is to say, Master.

17 Iesus saith vnto her, Touch me not: for I am not yet ascended to my Father: but goe to my brethren, and say vnto them, I ascend vnto my Father, and your Father, and to my God, and your God.

18 Mary Magdalene came and told the Disciples that she had seene the Lord, and that he had spoken these things vnto her.

19 ¶ Then the same day, at evening, being the first day of the weeke, when the doores were shut, where the Disciples were assembled for feare of the Iewes, came Iesus, and stood in the midst, and saith vnto them, Peace be vnto you.

20 And when he had so said, he shewed vnto them his hands, and his side. Then were the Disciples glad when they saw the Lord.

21 Then said Iesus to them againe, Peace be vnto you:

As my Father hath sent mee, even so send I you.

22 And when he had said this, hee breathed on them, and saith vnto them, Receive ye the holy Ghost.

23 ¶ Whosoever sinnes yee remit, they are remitted vnto them, and whosoever sinnes yee retaine, they are retained.

24 ¶ But Thomas one of the twelue, called Didymus, was not with them when Iesus came.

25 The other Disciples therefore said vnto him, We haue seene the Lord. But he said vnto them, Except I shall see in his hands the print of the nailles, and put my finger into the print of the nailles, and thrust my hand into his side, I will not beleeue.

26 ¶ And after eight dayes, againe his Disciples were within, and Thomas with them: Then came Iesus, the doores being shut, and stood in the midst, and said, Peace be vnto you.

27 Then saith hee to Thomas, Reach hither thy finger, and behold my hands, and reach hither thy hand, and thrust it into my side, and be not faithlesse, but beleeuing.

28 And Thomas answered, and said vnto him, My Lord, and my God.

29 Iesus saith vnto him, Thomas, because thou hast seene mee, thou hast beleeued: blessed are they that haue not seene, and yet haue beleeued.

30 ¶ And many other signes truly did Iesus in the presence of his Disciples, which are not written in this booke.

31 But these are written, that yee might beleeue that Iesus is the Christ the Sonne of God, and that beleeuing ye might haue life through his Name.

C H A P. XXI.

1 Christ appearing againe to his Disciples, more knowne of them by the great draught of fishes. 12 Hee dineth with them: 15 earnestly commandeth Peter to feed his lambs and sheepe: 18 foretelleth him of his death: 22 Reuolueh his curiosity touching Iohn. 25 The conclusion.

After these things, Iesus shewed himselfe againe to the Disciples at the Sea of Tiberias: and so this while shewed he himselfe.

2 There were together Simon Peter, and Thomas called Didymus, and Nathanael of Cana in Galilee, and the sonnes of Zebedee, and two other of his Disciples.

3 Simon Peter saith vnto them, I goe a fishing. They say vnto him, We also goe with thee. They went forth, and entered into a ship immediately, and that night they caught nothing.

4 But when the morning was now come, Iesus stood on the shore: but the Disciples knew not that it was Iesus.

5 Then Iesus saith vnto them, ¶ Children, haue ye any mee? They answered him, No.

6 And hee said vnto them, Cast the net on the right side of the ship, and ye shall find. They cast therefore, and now they were not able to draw it, for the multitude of fishes.

7 Therefore that Disciple whom Iesus loued, saith vnto Peter, It is the Lord. Now when Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, hee giue his fishers coat vnto him, (for hee was naked) and did cast himselfe into the Sea.

8 And the other Disciples came in a little ship (for they were not farre from land, but as it were two hundred cubites) dragging the net with fishes.

9 As soone then as they were come to land, they saw a fire of coales there, and fish laid thereon, and bread.

*Matth. 28.18.

*Chap. 22.37.

I. Or. 5.12.

10 Iesus saith vnto them, Bring of the fish which ye haue now caught.

11 Simon Peter went vp, and drew the net to land full of great fishes, an hundred and fifty and three: and for all these were for many yet was not the net broken.

12 Iesus saith vnto them, Come and dine. And none of the Disciples durst aske him, Who art thou? knowing that it was the Lord.

13 Iesus then cometh and taketh bread, and giveth them, and fish likewise.

14 This is now the third time that Iesus shewed himselfe to his Disciples, after that hee was risen from the dead.

15 ¶ So when they had dined, Iesus saith to Simon Peter, Simon, son of Ionas, lovest thou me more than these? He saith vnto him, Yea Lord, thou knowest that I loue thee. He saith vnto him, Feed my lambs.

16 He saith to him againe the second time, Simon, sonne of Ionas, lovest thou me? He saith vnto him, Yea, Lord, thou knowest that I loue thee. He saith vnto him, Feed my sheepe.

17 He said vnto him the third time, Simon, sonne of Ionas, lovest thou me? Peter was grieved, because he said vnto him the third time, lovest thou me? And he said vnto him, Lord thou knowest all things, thou knowest that I loue thee. Iesus saith vnto him, Feed my sheepe.

18 Verely, verely I say vnto thee, When thou wast young, thou girdest thy selfe, and walkedst whither thou wouldest; but when thou shalt be old, thou shalt stretch forth thy hands, and another shall gird thee, and carry thee whither thou wouldest not.

19 This spake he, signifying by what death he should glorifie God. And when he had spoken this, he saith vnto him, Follow me.

20 Then Peter turning about, seeth the Disciple whom Iesus loored, following, which also leaned on his brest at supper, and said, Lord, which is hee that betrayeth thee?

21 Peter seeing him, saith to Iesus, Lord, and what shall this man doe?

22 Iesus saith vnto him, If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee? Follow thou me.

23 Then went this saying abroad among the brethren, that that Disciple should not die: yet Iesus did not vnto him, He shall not die: but, If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee?

24 This is the Disciple which testifieth of these things, and wrote these things, and we know that his testimony is true.

25 ¶ And there are also many other things which Iesus did, the which if they should be written: every one, I suppose that euen the world it selfe could not containe the bookes that should bee written. Amen.

THE ACTES OF THE APOSTLES.

CHAP. I.

¶ Christ preparing his Apostles to the beholding of his ascension, gathereth them together into the mount Olivet, commandeth them to expect in Hierusalem the descending downe of the holy Ghost: promyseth after few dayes to stande by them where of they should be witness vnto him, euen to the remotest parts of the earth. 9 After his ascension, they are waied by two Angells to depart, and to see their minds vpon his second comming. 12 They accordingly returne, and shew themselves to certaine Arabian Apostles in the Citie of Iudaea.

The former Treatise haue I made, O Theophilus, of all that Iesus began both to doe and teach, ¶ Vntill the day in which hee was taken vp, after that hee through the holy Ghost had giuen commandements vnto the Apostles, whom he had chosen.

¶ To whom also he shewed himselfe a liue after his passion, by many inuallid proofes, being scene of them foure dayes, and speaking of the things pertaining to the kingdom of God:

¶ And being assembled together with them, commanded them that they should not depart from Hierusalem, but wait for the promise of the Father, which, saith he, ye haue heard of me.

¶ For Iohn truly baptized with water, but ye shall bee baptized with the holy Ghost, not many dayes hence.

¶ When they therefore were come together, they asked him, saying, Lord, wilt thou at this time restore againe the kingdom to Israel?

¶ And hee said vnto them, It is not for you to know the times or the seasons, which the Father hath put in his owne power.

¶ But ye shall receive power after that the holy Ghost is come vpon you, and ye shall be witnesses vnto me, both in Hierusalem, and in Iudaea, and in Samaria, and vnto the vttermost part of the earth.

¶ And when he had spoken these things, while they beheld, he was taken vp, and a cloud receiued him out of their sight.

¶ And while they looked stedfastly toward heauen, as hee went vp, beheld, two men stood by them in white apparell,

¶ Which also said, Ye men of Galilee, why stand ye gazing vp into heauen? This Iesus which is taken vp from you into heauen, shall so come, in like manner as ye haue scene him goe into heauen.

¶ Then returned they vnto Hierusalem, from the mount called Olivet, which is from Hierusalem a Sabbath dayes journey.

¶ And when they were come in, they went vp into an vpper roome, where stood both Peter, and Iohn, and Iohn, and Andrew, Philip, and Thomas, Bartolomew, and Matthew, James the sonne of Alphens, and Simon Zeleot, and Iudas the brother of James.

¶ These all continued with one accord, in prayer and supplication with the women, and Mary the mother of Iesus, and with his brethren.

¶ And in thos dayes Peter stood vp in the mids of the Disciples, and said (The number of names together were about an hundred & twenty.)

¶ Men and brethren, this Scripture must needs haue beene fulfilled, which the holy Ghost by the mouth of Dauid spake before concerning Iudas, which was guide to them thatooke Iesus.

¶ For he was numbered with vs, and had obtained part of this ministry.

¶ Now this man purchased a field with the reward of iniquity, and falling headlong, he burst asunder in the mids, and all his bowels gushed out.

¶ And it was knowne vnto all the dwellers in Hieru-

Hierusalem, inasmuch as that field is called in their proper tongue, Acceldama, that is to say, The field of blood.

20 For it is written in the booke of Pfalmes, Let his habitation be desolate, and let no man dwell therein: And his Bishopricke let another take.

21 Wherefore of these men which have accompanied with vs, all the time that the Lord Jesus went in and out among vs, 22 Beginning from the baptisme of Iohn, vnto that same day that he was taken vp from vs, must one be ordained to be a witness with vs, of his resurrection.

23 And they appointed two, Ioseph called Barsabas, who was surnamed Iustus, and Matthias.

24 And they prayed and said, Thou Lord which knowest the hearts of all men, shew whether of these two thou hast chosen, 25 That he may take part of this ministrie and Apostleship, from which Iudas by transgression fell, that he might goe to his owne place.

26 And they gave forth their lots, and the lot fell vpon Matthias, and he was numbered with the eleven Apostles.

CHAP. IJ.

1 The Apostles filled with the holy Ghost, and speaking diuers languages, were admired by some, and disdained by others: as whom Peter dispraying, and shewing that the Apostles spake by the power of the holy Ghost, that Iesus was risen from the dead, ascended into heauen, had poured downe the same holy Ghost, and was the Messias, a man knowne to them to be approved of God by his miracles, wonders and signs, and was crucified without his determinate counsell and foreknowledge: 27 He baptizeth a great number that were converted. 28 Who afterwards deuoutly and charitably conuerse together: the Apostles working many miracles, and God daily increasing his Church.

And when the day of Pentecost was fully come, they were all with one accord in one place.

2 And suddenly there came a sound from heauen, as of a rushing in gly wind, and it filled all the house where they were sitting.

3 And there appeared vnto them cloven tongues, like as of fire, and it satte vpon each of them.

4 And they were all filled with the holy Ghost, and began to speake with othe tongues, as the Spirit gaue them utterance.

5 And there were dwelling at Hierusalem, Iewes, deuout men, out of euery nation vnder heauen.

6 Now when this was noised abroad, the multitude came together, and were confounded, because that euery man heard them speake in his owne language.

7 And they were all amazed and marvelled, saying one to another, Behold, are not all these which speake, Galileas?

8 And how heare we euery man in our owne tongue, wherein we were borne?

9 Parthians, and Medes, and Elamites, and the dwellers in Mesopotamia, and in Iudey, and Cappadocia, in Pontus and Asia,

10 Phrygia and Pamphylia, in Egypt, and in the parts of Libya, about Cyrene, and strangers of Rome, Iewes and Proselytes, 11 Cretes and Arabians, we do heare them speake in our tongues the wonderfull workes of God.

12 And they were all amazed, and were in doubt, saying one to another, What meaneth this?

13 Others mocking, said, These men are full of new wine.

14 For Peter standing vp with the eleven, lift vp his voice, and said vnto them, Ye men of Iudea, and all ye that dwell at Hierusalem, be this knowne vnto you, and hearken to my words.

15 For these are not drunken, as ye suppose, seeing it is but the third houre of the day.

16 But this is that which was spoken by the Prophet Ioe,

17 And it shall come to passe in the last dayes (saith God) I will poure out of my Spirit vpon all flesh: and your sonnes and your daughters shall prophesie, and your young men shall see visions, and your old men shall dreame dreames:

18 And on my seruants, and on my handmaidens, I will poure out in those dayes of my Spirit, and they shall prophesie:

19 And I will shew wonders in heauen above, and signes in the earth beneath: blood, and fire, and vapour of smoke.

20 The Sun shall be turned into darkness, and the Moone into blood, before that great and notable day of the Lord come.

21 And it shall come to passe, that whosoener shall call on the Name of the Lord, shall be saved.

22 Ye men of Israel heare these words, Iesus of Nazareth, a man appoynted of God among you, by miracles, wonders, & signes, which God did by him in the midst of you, as ye your selues also know:

23 Him, being deliuered by the determinate counsell & foreknowledge of God, ye haue taken, and by wicked hands haue crucified and slain:

24 Whom God hath raised vp, hauing loosed the paines of death: because it was not possible that he should be holden of it.

25 For David speaketh concerning him, I foresaw the Lord alwayes before my face, for he is on my right hand, that I should not be moued.

26 Therefore did my heart reioyce, & my tongue was glad: Moyses also, my right hand rest in hope, 27 Because thou wilt not leaue my soule in hell, neither wilt thou suffer thine holy One to see corruption.

28 Thou hast made knowne to me the wayes of life, thou shalt make me full of ioy with thy countenance.

29 Men and brethren, let me freely speake vnto you of the Patriarch David, that he is both dead & buried: & his sepulchre is with vs vnto this day:

30 Therefore being a Prophet, & knowing that God had sworn with an oath to him, that of the fruit of his loynes, according to the flesh, hee would raise vp Christ to sit on his throne:

31 He seeing this before, spake of the resurrection of Christ, that his soule was not left in hell, neither his flesh did see corruption.

32 This Iesus hath God raised vp, whereof wee all are witnesses.

33 Therefore being by the right hand of God exalted, and hauing receiued of the Father the promise of the holy Ghost, hee hath shed forth this which ye now see and heare.

34 For David is not ascended into the heauens, but he saith himselfe, The Lord said vnto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, 35 Vntill I make thy foes thy footstool.

36 Therefore let all the house of Israel know assuredly, that God hath made the same Iesus, whom ye haue crucified, both Lord and Christ.

37 Now when they heard this, they were pricked in their heart, and said vnto Peter, and to the rest of the Apostles, Men, and brethren, what shall wee doe?

38 Then Peter said vnto them, Repent, and bee baptized every one of you in the Name of Iesus Christ, for the remission of finnes, and ye shall receiue the gift of the holy Ghost.

39 For the promise is vnto you, and to your children, and to all that are afarre off, euen as many as the Lord our God shall call.

40 And with many other words did he testifye, and exhort, saying, Save your selues from this vncleane generation.

41 ¶ Then they that gladly receiued his word were baptized: and the same day there were added vnto them about three thousand soules.

42 And they continued stedfastly in the Apostles doctrine and fellowship, and in breaking of bread, and in prayers.

43 And there came vpon euery soule: and many wonders and signes were done by the Apostles.

44 And all that believed were together, and had all things common,

45 And sold their possessions and goods, and parted them to all men, as euery man had need.

46 And they continuing daily with one accord in the Temple, and breaking bread from house to house, did eat their meat with gladnesse, and singlenesse of heart, 47 Praying God, and hauing fauour with all the people. And the Lord added to the Church daily such as should be saved.

C H A P. III.

Peter preaching to the people that came to see a lame man restored to his feet, 12 professed the cure not to haue bene wrought by his or Iohans own power or bulness, but by God and his son Iesus, and through faith in his Name: 13 misall reprehending them for crucifying Iesus: 17 Which because they did in through ignorance, and that they were fulfilled Gods dearmere counsel and the Scriptures: 19 Hee exhorteth them by repentance and faith, to seeke remission of their finnes, and saluation in the same Iesus.

Now Peter and Iohn went vp together into the Temple, at the house of prayer, being the ninth houre.

2 And a certaine man, lame from his mothers wombe was carried, whom they laid daily at the gate of the Temple, which is called, Beautifull, to aske almes of them that entred into the Temple.

3 Who seeing Peter and Iohn about to goe into the Temple, asked an alme.

4 And Peter takering his eyes vpon him, with Iohn, said, looke on vs.

5 And he gaue heed vnto them, expecting to receiue something of them.

6 Then Peter said, Siluer and gold haue I none: but such as I haue, giue I thee: In the Name of Iesus Christ of Nazareth, rise vp and walke.

7 And he tooke him by the right hand, and lift him vp: and immediately his feet and ancle bones received strength.

8 And he leaping vp, stood and walked, and entred with them into the Temple, walking, and leaping, and praising God.

9 And all the people saw him walking, and praising God.

10 And they knew that it was he which sat for almes at the beautifull gate of the Temple: and they were filled with wonder and amazement at that which had happened vnto him.

11 And as the lame man so was healed, held Peter and Iohn, all the people ran together vnto them in the porch which is called Solomons, greatly wondering.

12 ¶ And when Peter saw it, he answered vnto the people, Ye men of Israell, why maruill ye at this: for why looke ye so earnestly on vs, as though by our owne power or holinesse, we had made this man to walke?

13 The God of Abraham, and of Isaac, and of Iacob, the God of our fathers, hath glorified his Soune Iesus, whom ye deliuered vp, and despised him in the presence of Pilate, when he was determined to let him goe.

14 ¶ But ye denied the Holy One, and the Iust, and desired a murderer to be granted vnto you;

15 And killed the Prince of life, whom God hath raised from the dead, whereof we are witnesses.

16 And his Name, through faith in his Name, hath made this man strong, whom ye see & know: yea, the faith which is by him, hath giuen him this perfect foundaefle in the presence of you all.

17 And now brethren, I wote that through ignorance ye did it, as did also your Rulers.

18 But those things which God before had shewed by the mouth of all his Prophets, that Christ should suffer, he hath fulfilled.

19 ¶ Repent ye therefore and bee converted, that your sin may be blotted out, when the times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord.

20 And he shall send Iesus Christ, which before was preached vnto you, 21 Whom the heauen must receiue, vntill the times of restitution of all things, which God hath spoken by the mouth of all his holy Prophets, since the world began.

22 ¶ For Moses truly said vnto the fathers, A Prophet shall the Lord your God raise vp vnto you of your brethren like vnto me; him shall ye heare in all things whatsoeuer he shall say vnto you.

23 And it shall come to passe, that euery soule which will not heare that Prophet, shall be destroyed from among the people.

24 Yea, and all the Prophets from Samuel, and those that follow after, as many as haue spoken, haue likewise foretold of these dayes.

25 Ye are the children of the Prophets, and of the Couenant, which God made with our fathers, saying vnto Abraham, And in thy seed shall all the kindreds of the earth be blessed.

26 Vnto you first, God hauing raised vp his Son Iesus, sent him to blesse you, in turning away euery one of you, from his iniquities.

C H A P. IIIII.

1 The Rulers of the Iewes offended with Peters Sermon, a (though thousands of the people were converted that heard the Word) reuision him and Iohn. 5 After, vpon examination, Peter boldly anouncing the lame man to be healed by the Name of Iesus, and that by the same Iesus only we must bee eternally saved: 12 They contemned him and Iohn to preach, so much in that Name, adding also in lauding. 23 vnto vpon the Church both in prayer. 24 And God by moving the place where they were assembled, testified that hee heard their prayer: confirming the Church with the gift of the holy Ghost, and with mutual loue and charity.

And as they spake vnto the people, the Priests, and the Captaine of the Temple, and the Souldiers came vpon them,

2 Being grieved that they taught the people, and preached through Iesus, the resurrection from the dead.

3 And they laid hands on them, and put them in hold vnto the next day: for it was now euening.

4 How.

4 Nowbeit, many of them which heard the word, believed, and the number of the men was about five thousand.

5 ¶ And it came to passe on the morrow, that their Rulers, and Elders, and Scribes,

6 And Annas the high Priest, and Caiaphas, and Iohn, and Alexander, and as many as were of the kindred of the high Priest, were gathered together at Hierusalem.

7 And when they had set them in the midst, they asked, By what power, or by what name haue ye done this?

8 Then Peter filled with the holy Ghost, said vnto them, Ye rulers of the people, & Elders of Israel.

9 If we this day be examined of the good deed done to the impotent man, by what means he is made whole,

10 See it knowne vnto you all, and to all the people of Israel, that by the Name of Iesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, whom God raised from the dead, euen by him doeth this man stand here before you, whole.

11 * This is the stone which was set at nought of you builders, which is become the head of the corner.

12 Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other Name vnder heauen giuen among men, whereby we must be saved.

13 ¶ Now when they saw the boldnesse of Peter and Iohn, and perceived that they were vnlerned, and ignorant men, they marvelled, and they tooke knowledge of them, that they had been with Iesus.

14 And beholding the man which was healed, standing with them, they could say nothing against it.

15 But when they had commanded them to goe aside out of the Councill, they conferred among themselves, 16 Saying, What shall we do to these men? for that indeed a notable miracle hath bene done by them; is manifest to all them that dwell in Hierusalem, and we cannot deny it.

17 But that it proceed no further among the people; let vs strictly threaten them, that they speake henceforth to no man in this Name.

18 And they called them, and commanded them not to speake at all, nor teach in the Name of Iesus.

19 But Peter and Iohn answered, and said vnto them, Whether it be right in the sight of God, to hearken vnto you more then vnto God, iudge ye.

20 For we cannot but speake the things which we haue seene and heard.

21 So when they had further threatened them, they let them go: finding nothing how they might punish them, because of the people: for all men glorified God for that which was done.

22 For the man was about forty yeeres old, on whom this miracle of healing was shewed.

23 ¶ And being let go, they went to their owne company, and reported all that the chiefe Priests, and Elders had said vnto them.

24 And when they heard this, they lift vp their voyce to God with one accord, and said, Lord, thou art God, which hast made heauen and earth, and the Sea, and all that in them is:

25 * Who by the mouth of thy seruant David hast said, Why did the heathen rage, and the people imagine vaine things?

26 The Kings of the earth stood vp, and the Rulers were gathered together against the Lord, and against his Christ.

27 For of a truth against thy holy child Iesus; whom thou hast anointed, both Herod and Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles, and the people of Israel, were gathered together, 28 For to do whatsoever thy hand and thy counsell determined before to be done.

29 And now, Lord, behold their threatenings, and grant vnto thy seruants, that with all boldnesse they may speake thy word, 30 By stretching forth thine hand to heale: and that signes and wonders may be done by the Name of thy holy child Iesus.

31 ¶ And when they had prayed, the place was shaken where they were assembled together, and they were all filled with the holy Ghost, and they spake the word of God with boldnesse.

32 And the multitude of them that believed, were of one heart, and of one soule: Neither said any of them, that ought of the things which hee possessed, was his owne, but they had all things common.

33 And with great power gaue the Apostles witness of the resurrection of the Lord Iesus, and great grace was vpon them all.

34 Neither was there any among them that lacked: for as many as were possessours of lands, or houses, sold them, and brought the prices of the things that were sold,

35 And laid them downe at the Apostles feet: and distribution was made vnto euery man, according as hee had need.

36 And Ioseph, who by the Apostles was surnamed Barnabas, (which is, being interpreted, The sonne of consolation) a Leuite, and of the country of Cyprus, 37 Having land, sold it, and brought the money, and laid it at the Apostles feet.

C H A P. V.

After that Ananias and Sapphira his wife, for their hypocrisie, at Peters rebuke had fallen downe dead, 12 and that the rest of the Apostles had wrought many miracles, 14 to the increase of the faith: 17 The Apostles are againe imprisoned, 18 but deliuered by an Angel, bidding them to preach openly to all: 21 When after their teaching accordingly in the Temple, 25 and before the Councell: 27 they are in danger to be killed, through the aduice of Gamaliel a great Counsellour among the Iewes, they be kept alive, 30 and are but leaen: for which they glorifie God; and cease no day from preaching.

BVE a certaine man named Ananias, with Sapphira his wife, sold a possession,

2 And kept backe part of the price, his wife also being privie to it, and brought a certaine part, and laid it at the Apostles feet.

3 But Peter said, Ananias, why hath Satan filled thine heart? to lie to the holy Ghost, and to keepe backe part of the price of the land?

4 Whiles it remained, was it not thine owne? and after it was sold, was it not in thine owne power? why hast thou concerned this thing in thine heart? Thou hast not lied vnto men, but vnto God.

5 And Ananias hearing these words, fell downe, and gave vp the ghost: and great feare came vpon all them that heard these things.

6 And the young men arose, wound him vp, and carried him out, and buried him.

7 And it was about the space of three houres after, when his wife, not knowing what was done, came in.

8 And Peter answered vnto her, Tell me whether ye sold the land for so much. And she said, Yea, for so much.

9 Then Peter said vnto her, How is it that ye haue agreed together to tempt the Spirit of the Lord? Behold, the feet of them which haue buried thy husband, are at the doore, and shall carry thee out.

10 Then fell she downe straightway at his feet, and yielded vp the ghost: and the young men came in, and found her dead, and carrying her fourth, buried her by her husband.

11 And great feare came vpon all the Church, and vpon as many as heard these things.

12 ¶ And by the hands of the Apostles were many signes and wonders wrought among the people. (And they were all with one accord in Solomons porch.

13 And of the rest durst no man ioyne himselfe to them: but the people magnified them.

14 And beleeuers were the more added to the Lord, multitudes both of men and women.)

15 Inasmuch that they brought fourth the sick into the streets, and laid them on beds and couches, that at the least the shadow of Peter passing by, might overshadow some of them.

16 There came also a multitude out of the cities round about, vnto Hierusalem, bringing sickel folks, and them which were vexed with vncleane spirits: and they were healed every one.

17 ¶ Then the high Priest rose vp, and all they that were with him, (which is the sect of the Sadducees) and were filled with indignation, 18 And laid their hands on the Apostles, and put them in the common prison.

19 But the Angel of the Lord by night opened the prison doores, & brought them forth, and said, 20 Goe, stand and speake in the Temple to the people, all the words of this life.

21 And when they heard that, they entered into the Temple early in the morning, and taught: but the high Priest came, and they that were with him, and called the Councill together, and all the Senate of the children of Israel, and sent to the prison to haue them brought.

22 But when the officers came and found them not in the prison, they returned, and cold, 23 Saying, The prison truly found we shut with all safety, and the keepers standing without before the doores: but when we had opened, wee found no man within.

24 Now when the high Priest, and the captaines of the Temple, and the chiefe Priests heard these things, they doubted of them whereunto this would grow.

25 Then came one, and told them, saying, Behold, the men whom ye put in prison, are standing in the Temple, and teaching the people.

26 Then went the captaines with the officers, and brought them without violence: (For they feared the people, lest they should haue beene stoned.)

27 And when they had brought them, they set them before the Councill, and the high Priest asked them, 28 Saying, Did not we straitly command you, that ye should not teach in this Name? and behold ye haue filled Hierusalem with your doctrine, and intend to bring this man, with your force.

29 ¶ Then Peter, & the other Apostles answered, and said, We ought to obey God rather than men.

30 The God of our Fathers raised vp Iesus, whom ye slew, and hanged on a tree.

31 Him hath God exalted with his right hand; to be a Prince, and a Saviour, for to giue repentance to Israel, and forgiveness of sinnes.

32 And we are his witness of these things, and so is also the holy Ghost, whom God hath giuen to them that obey him.

33 ¶ When they heard that, they were cut to the heart, and tooke counsell to slay them.

34 Then stood there vp one in the Councill, a Paritise, named Gamaliel, a doctour of Law, had in reputation among all the people, and commended to put the Apostles fourth a little space, 35 And said vnto them, Ye men of Israel, take heed to your selves, what ye intend to doe as touching these men.

36 For before these dayes rose vp Theudas, building himselfe to be some body, to whom a number of men, about foure hundred ioyned themselves, who were slaine, and all, as many as obeyed him, were scattered, and brought to nought.

37 After this man rose vp Iudas of Galilee, in the dayes of the taxing, and drew away much people after him: he also perished, and all, euen as many as obeyed him, were dispersed.

38 And now I say vnto you, Refraine from these men, and let them alone: for if this counsell, or this worke be of men, it will come to nought:

39 But if it be of God, ye cannot overthrow it, lest haply ye be founde to fight against God.

40 And to him they agreed: and when they had called the Apostles, and beaten them, they commaunded that they should not speake in the Name of Iesus, and let them goe.

41 ¶ And they departed from the presence of the Councill, reioycing that they were counted worthy to suffer shame for his Name.

42 And daily in the Temple, and in euery house, they ceased not to teach and preach Iesus Christ.

C H A P. VI.

1 The Apostles depose: 2. how the same were regarded for their bodily sustenance, as also to wish them selves to diffuse the word of Gods seed of the fruit: 3. appoint the office of Deaconship to seuen chosen men, 4. of whom, Steuen a man full of faith, and of the holy Ghost, one: 5. Who is taken of those, whom he confounded in disputing, 6. and after fully accused of blasphemy against the Law and the Temple.

¶ Not in those dayes when the number of the Disciples was multiplied, there arose a murmuring of the Grecians against the Hebrewes, because their widowes were neglected in the daily ministracion.

2 Then the twelue called the multitude of the Disciples vnto them, and said, It is not reason that we should leaue the word of God, and serue tables.

3 Wherefore brethren, looke ye out among vs, seuen men of honest report, full of the holy Ghost, & wise, whom wee may appoint ouer this businesse.

4 But we will give out selues continually to prayer, and to the ministry of the word.

5 ¶ And the saying pleased the whole multitude: and they chose Steuen, a man full of faith, and of the holy Ghost, and Philip, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Parmenas, and Nicolas a Proselyte of Antioch.

6 When they set before the Apostles, and when they had prayed, they laid their hands on them.

7 And the word of God increased, and the number of the Disciples multiplied in Hierusalem greatly, and a great company of the Priests were obedient to the faith.

Chap.
6. 8.

8 And Steven, full of faith and power, did great wonders and miracles among the people.

9 ¶ Then there arose certaine of the Synagoge, which is called the Synagoge of the Libertines, and Cyrenians, and Alexandrians, and of them of Cilicia, and of Asia, disputing with Steven.

10 And they were not able to resist the wisdom and the spirit by which he spake.

11 ¶ Then they suborned men, which said, Wee have heard him speake blasphemous words against Moses, and against Gods.

12 And they stirred up the people, and the Elders, and the Scribes, and came upon him, and caught him, and brought him to the Councill;

13 And set up false witnesses, which said, This man ceaseth not to speake blasphemous words against this holy place, and the Law.

14 For we have heard him say, that this Iesus of Nazareth shall destroy this place, and shall change the customes which Moses delivered vs.

15 And all that were in the Councill, looking stedfastly on him, saw his face, as it had beene the face of an Angel.

CHAP. VII.

1 Steven permitted to answer to the accusation of blasphemy, 2 sheweth that Abraham worshipped God rightly, and how God chose the Fathers 20 before Moses was borne, and before the Tabernacle and Temple were built: 27 that Moses himselfe witnessed of Christ: 29 and that all outward ceremonies were ordained according to the beauty of his person, 30 last see for a time: 31 reprehending their rebellion and murdering of Christ the last One, whom the Prophets foretold should come into the world, 34 Wherupon they stone him to death, who commendeth his soule to Iesus, and humbly prayeth for them.

¶ Then said the high Priest, Are these things so? 1 And he said, Men, brethren, and fathers, hearken: The God of glory appeared unto our father Abraham, when he was in Mesopotamia, before he dwelt in Charan,

2 And said unto him, Get thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and come into the land which I shall thee see.

3 Then came he out of the land of the Chaldeans, and dwelt in Charan: and from thence, when his father was dead, he removed him into this land wherein ye now dwell.

4 And he gave him none inheritance in it, no noc so much as to sit his foot on, yet he promised that he would give it to him for a possession, and to his seed after him, when as yet he had no child.

5 And God spake on this wise, that his seed should sojourne in a strange land, and that they should bring them into bondage, and increase them until they were hundred yeeres.

6 And the nation to whom they shall be in bondage, will I judge, said God: and after that shall they come forth, and serve me in this place.

7 ¶ And he gave him the Covenant of circumcision: and so Abraham begate Isaac, and circumcised him the eighth day: and Isaac begate Jacob, and Jacob begate the twelve Patriarches.

8 ¶ And the Patriarches mourned with enuy, sold Ioseph into Egypt: but God was with him, 9 And delivered him out of all his afflictions, and gave him favour and wisdom in the sight of Pharaoh King of Egypt: and he made him governor over Egypt, and all his house.

10 Now three score a death over all the land of Egypt and Canaan, and great affliction, and our fathers found no sustenance.

11 ¶ But when Iacob heard that there was come in Egypt, he sent out our fathers first.

12 ¶ And at the second time Ioseph was made knowne to his brethren, and Iosephs kindred was made knowne unto Pharaoh.

13 Then sent Ioseph, and called his father Iacob to him, and all his kindred, therefore and set them in Gize.

14 ¶ So Iacob went downe into Egypt, and died, he and our fathers, 15 And were carried over into Sichem, and laid in the Sepulchre that Abraham bought for a sum of money of the sonnes of Emor, the father of Sichem.

16 ¶ But when the time of the promise draw nigh which God had sware to Abraham, the people grew and multiplied in Egypt, 17 Till another King arose, which knew not Ioseph.

18 The same dealt subtilly with our kindred, and evil increased our fathers, so that they cast out their yong children, to the end they might not live

19 in which time Moses was borne, and was exceeding faire, and nourished up in his fathers house three monthes:

20 And when he was cast out, Pharaohs daughter took him up, and nourished him for her own sonne.

21 And Moses was learned in all the wisdom of the Egyptians, and was mighty in wordes and in deedes.

22 And when he was full forty yeeres old, it came into his heart to visite his brethren the children of Israel.

23 ¶ And seeing one of them suffer wrong, he defended him, and avenged him that was oppressed, and smote the Egyptian:

24 For he supposed his brethren would have understood, how that God by his hand would deliver them; but they understood not.

25 ¶ And the next day he shewed him selfe unto them: they strove, and would have killed him at one againe, saying, Sixty ye are brethren, Why doe ye wrong one to another?

26 But he that did his neighbour wrong, thrust him asyde, saying, Who made thee a ruler and a iudge over vs?

27 ¶ What thou kill me, as thou didst the Egyptian yesterday?

28 Then said Moses at this saying, and was a stranger in the land of Madan, where he begate two sonnes, 29 ¶ And when forty yeeres were expired, there appeared to him in the wilderness of mount Sina, an Angel of the Lord in a flame of fire in a bush.

30 ¶ When Moses saw it, he wondered at the sight and as he drew neere to behold it, the voice of the Lord came unto him, 31 ¶ Saying, I am the God of thy fathers, the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. Then Moses trembled, and durst not behold.

32 ¶ Then said the Lord to him, Put off thy shoes from thy feet, for the place where thou standest is holy ground.

33 ¶ I have seene, I have seene the affliction of my people which is in Egypt, and I have heard their groaning, and am come downe to deliver them: and now come, I will send thee into Egypt.

¶ This

35 This Moses whom they refused, saying, Who made thee a ruler and a judge? the same did God send to be a ruler and a deliverer, by the hands of the Angel which appeared to him in the bush.

36 Hee brought them out, after that hee had shewed wonders and signes in the Land of Egypt, and in the red Sea, and in the wilderness forty yeres.

37 ¶ This is that Moses which said vnto the children of Israel, A Prophet shall the Lord your God raise vp vnto you of your brethren, like vnto mee: him shall yee heare.

38 ¶ This is hee that was in the Church in the wilderness with the Angel, which spake to him in the mount Sina, and with our fathers: who receiued the luyely graces, to giue vnto vs.

39 To whom our fathers would not obey, but thrust him from them, and in their hearts turned backe againe into Egypt.

40 ¶ Saying vnto Aaron, Make vs gods to goe before vs: for as for this Moses, which brought vs out of the land of Egypt, we wote not what is become of him.

41 And they made a calfe in those dayes, and offered sacrifice vnto the idole, and reioyced in the workes of their owne hands.

42 Then God turned, and gaue them vp to worship the holle of beemen, * as ye it is written in the booke of the Prophets, O ye house of Israel, haue ye offered to me bullocke brailes and sacrifices, by the space of forty yeres in the wilderness?

43 Yea, ye tooke vp the Tabernacle of Moloch, and the star of your God Remphan, figures which ye made, to worship them: and I will carry you away beyond Babylon.

44 Our fathers had the Tabernacle of Witnesse in the wilderness, as hee had appointed, speaking vnto Moses, that he should make it according to the fashion that he had setne.

45 Which also our fathers that came after, brought in with them into the possession of the Gentiles, whom God drave out before the face of our fathers, vnto the dayes of David.

46 ¶ The same honore before God, and desired to habite the Tabernacle for the God of Jacob.

47 ¶ But Solomon built him an house.

48 ¶ Howbeit the most High dwelleth not in Temples made with hands, as saith the Prophee.

49 Heauen is my throne, and earth is my footstool: What house will ye build me, saith the Lord? or what is the place of my rest?

50. Flats not my hand made all these things?

51 ¶ Yet shulde-necked and vncircumcised in heart and eares, ye doe alwayes resist the holy Ghost; as your fathers did, so doe ye.

52 Which of the Prophets haue not your fathers persecuted? and they haue slaine them which shewed before of the coming of the last one, of whom ye haue become now the betrayers and murderers:

53 Who haue receiued the Law by the disposition of Angels, and haue not kept it.

54 ¶ When they heard these things, they were wnt to the heart, and they gnashed on him with their teeth.

55 But he being full of the holy Ghost, looked vp steadfastly into heauen, and saw the glory of God, and Iesus standing on the right hand of God, 56 And said, Behold, I see the heauen opened, & the Son of man standing on the right hand of God.

57 ¶ Then they cryed out with a loud voyce, and stoned their own, and stoned vpon him with one 58 And cast him out of the city, and stoned him: and the witnesses laid downe their clothes at a young mans feet, whose name was Saul.

59 And they stoned Steuens, calling vpon God, and saying, Lord Iesus receiue my spirit.

60 And he kneeled down, and cryed with a loud voyce, Lord lay not this sinne to their charge, And when he had said this, he fell asleepe.

C H A P. VIII.

By oration of the persecution in Hierusalem, the Church beinge planted in Samaria &c. By Philip the Deacon, who preached, did miracles, and baptizd many, among the rest Simon the Sorcerer, a great seducer of the people: 14 Peter and Iohn come to confirme and enlarge the Church: where by prayer and imposition of hands, givinge the holy Ghost, 18 when Simon would haue bought the like power of them, 20 Peter sharply reproofing his hypocritic and conuorsion, and restoring him to repentance: 21 together with Iohn preaching the Word of the Lord, returne to Hierusalem: 25 but the Angel sendeth Philip to teach and baptize the Ethiopian Eunuch.

¶ And Saul was consenting vnto his death. And at that time there was great persecution against the Church which was at Hierusalem, and they were all scattered abroad throughout the regions of India and Samaria, except the Apostles:

2 And devout men carried Steuens to be buried, and made great lamentation over him.

3 As for Saul, he made havoc of the Church, entering into euery house, and haling men and women, committed them to prison.

4 Therefore they that were scattered abroad, went euery where preaching the word.

5 Then Philip went downe to the city of Samaria, and preached Christ vnto them.

6 And the people with one accord gaue heede vnto those things which Philip spake, hearing and seeing the miracles which he did.

7 For vncleane spirits crying with loud voyce, came out of many, that were possessed with them: and many taken with palfies, and that were lame, were healed.

8 And there was great ioy in that city.

9 But there was a certaine man called Simon, which before time in the same city vied sorcery, and bewitched the people of Samaria, givinge out that himselfe was Iouis great one.

10 To whom they all gaue heed from the least to the greatest, saying, This man is the great power of God.

11 And to him they had regard, because that of long time he had bewitched them with sorceries.

12 But when they beliened Philip, preachinge the things concerninge the Kingdome of God, and the Name of Iesus Christ, they were baptized, both men and women.

13 Then Simon himselfe beliened also: and when he was baptized, he continued with Philip, and wondered, beholding the miracles and signes which were done.

14 Now when the Apostles which were at Hierusalem, heard that Samaria had receiued the word of God, they sent vnto them Peter and Iohn.

15 Who when they were come downe prayed for them that they might receiue the holy Ghost.

16 ¶ For as yet he was fallen vpon none of them: they were baptized in the Name of the Lord Iesus.

17 Then laid they their hands on them, and they receiued the holy Ghost.

C H A P. I I.

18 And when Simon saw that through laying on of the Apostles hands, the holy Ghost was given be offered them money, 19 Saying, Give mee also this power, that on whomsoever I lay hands, he may receive the holy Ghost.

20 But Peter said vnto him, Thy money perish with thee, because thou hast thought that the gift of God may be purchased with money.

21 Thou hast neither part nor lot in this matter, for thy heart is not right in the sight of God.

22 Repent therefore of this thy wickedness, and pray God, if perhaps the thought of thine heart may be forgiven thee.

23 For I perceive that thou art in the gall of bitterness, and in the bond of iniquity.

24 Then answered Simon and said, Pray yee to the Lord for me, that none of these things which ye haue spoken, come vpon me.

25 And they, when they had testified and preached of the Word of the Lord, returned to Hierusalem, and preached the Gospel in many villages of the Samaritans.

26 And the Angel of the Lord spake vnto Philip, saying, Arise and goe toward the South, vnto the way that goeth downe from Hierusalem vnto Gaza, which is desert:

27 And he arose and went: and behold a man of Ethiopia, an Eunuch of great authority vnder Candace, Queene of the Ethiopians, who had the charge of all her treasure, and had come to Hierusalem for to worship.

28 Was returning: and sitting in his charer, read Esaus the Prophet.

29 Then the Spirit said vnto Philip, Goe nere, and ioyne thy selfe to this charer.

30 And Philip ran thither to him, and heard him reade the Prophet Esaus, and said, Vnderstandest thou what thou readest?

31 And he said, how can I, except some man should guide me? and he desired Philip, that he would come vp and sit with him.

32 The place of the Scripture which he read, was this, He was led as a sheepe to the slaughter, and like a lambe dumbe before the shearer, so opened he not his mouth:

33 In his humiliation, his iudgement was taken away: and who shall declare his generation? For his life is taken from the earth.

34 And the Eunuch answered Philip, and said, I pray thee, of whom speaketh the prophet this? of himselfe, or of some other man?

35 Then Philip opened his mouth, and began at the same Scripture, and preached vnto him Iesus.

36 And as they went on their way, they came vnto a certayne water, and the Eunuch said, See, here is water, what doth hinder mee to bee baptized?

37 And Philip said, If thou believest with all thine heart, thou mayest. And hee answered and said, I beleuee that Iesus Christ is the Sonne of God.

38 And hee commanded the charer to stand still: and they went downe both into the water, both Philip and the Eunuch, and hee baptized him.

39 And when they were come vp out of the water, the Spirit of the Lord caught away Philip, that the Eunuch saw him no more, and hee went on his way reioycing.

40 But Philip was found at Azotus: and passing thorow, hee preached in all the cities till he came to Caesarea.

1 Saul going towards Damascus, was breicken downe to the earth, he is called to the Apostles, 18 and is baptized by Ananias: 20 Her preachinge Christ holdeth. 23 The lawes lay wait to kill him: 25 So doe the Grecians, but he escapeth both: 31 The Church hauing rest, Peter bealeth away of the palsey, 36 and refresheth Tabitha to life.

AND Saul yete breathing out threatenings, and slaughter against the Disciples of the Lord, went vnto the high Priests,

2 And desired of him letters to Damascus, to the Synagogues, that if he found any of this way, whether they were men or women, hee might bring them bound vnto Hierusalem.

3 And as he journeyed he came nere Damascus, and suddenlye chere shined round about him a light from heauen.

4 And he fell to the earth, and heard a voyce, saying vnto him, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou mee?

5 And he said, Who art thou Lord? and the Lord said, I am Iesus whom thou persecutest: It is hard for thee to kicke against the prickes.

6 And trembling and astonied, said, Lord, what wilt thou haue mee to doe? And the Lord said vnto him, Arise, and goe into the city, and it shall be told thee what thou must doe.

7 And the men which iourneyed with him stood speechlesse, hearing a voyce, but seeing no man.

8 And Saul arose from the earth, and when his eyes were opened, he saw no man: but they led him by the hand, and brought him into Damascus.

9 And hee was three dayes without sight, and neither did eate nor drinke.

10 ¶ And there was a certayne disciple at Damascus, named Ananias, and to him God the Lord in a vision, Ananias. And hee said, Behold, I am here Lord.

11 And the Lord said vnto him, Arise, and goe into the street which is called Straight, and enquire in the house of Iudas, for one called Saul of Tarsus: for behold hee prayeth.

12 And hath scene in a vision a man named Ananias, conuincing in and putting his hand on him, that he might receive his sight.

13 Then Ananias answered, Lord, I haue heard by many of this man, how much euill he hath done to thy Saints at Hierusalem.

14 And hee hath had authority from the chiefe Priests to bind all that call on thy Name.

15 But the Lord said vnto him, Goe thy way: for hee is a chosen vessel vnto mee, to beare my Name before the Gentiles, and Kings, and the children of Israel.

16 For I will shew him how great things hee must suffer for my Names sake.

17 And Ananias went his way, and entred into the house, and putting his hand on him, said, Brother Saul, the Lord (euen Iesus that appeared vnto thee in the way as thou camest) hath sent mee, that thou mightest receive thy sight, and be filled with the holy Ghost.

18 And immediately there fell from his eyes, as it had beene scales, and hee received sight forthwith, and arose, and was baptized.

19 And when hee had received meat, hee was strengthened. Then was Saul certaine dayes with the Disciples, which were at Damascus.

20 And straightway hee preached Christ in the Synagogues, That he is the Sonne of God.

21 But all that heard him were amazed, and said, Is not this he that destroyed them which called on this Name in Hierusalem, and came hither for that intent, that he might bring them bound unto the chiefe Priests ?

22 But Saul increased the more in strength, and confounded the Iewes which dwelt at Damascus, proving, that this is very Christ.

23 And after that many daies were fulfilled, the Iewes took counsell to kill him.

24 But their laying await was knowne of Saul: and they watched the gates day and night to kill him.

25 Then the disciples tooke him by night, and let him downe by the wall in a basket.

26 And when Saul was come to Hierusalem, he assayed to ioyne himselfe to the disciples, but they were all afraid of him, and beleued not that he was a Disciple.

27 But Barnabas tooke him, and brought him to the Apostles, and declared vnto them how hee had seene the Lord in the way, and that hee had spoken to him, and how he had preached boldly at Damascus in the Name of Iesus.

28 And he was with them comming in, and going out at Hierusalem.

29 And he spake boldly in the Name of the Lord Iesus, and disputed against the Grecians: but they went about to slay him.

30 Which when the brethren knew, they brought him downe to Cesarea, and sent him south to Tarsus.

31 Then had the Churches rest throughout all Iudea, and Galilee, and Samaria, and were edified, and walking in the feare of the Lord, and in the comfort of the holy Ghost, were multiplied.

32 And it came to passe, as Peter passed thoroughout all quarters, he came downe also to the Saints, which dwell at Lyda.

33 And there he found a certaine man, named Aeneas, which had kept his bed eight yeeres, and was sicke of the palse.

34 And Peter said vnto him Aeneas, Iesus Christ maketh thee whole, arise and make thy bed. And he arose immediately.

35 And all that dwell at Lydda, and Saron, saw him, and turned to the Lord.

36 Now there was at Ioppa a certaine disciple, named Tabitha, which by interpretation is called Dorcas: This woman was full of good works, and almes deeds which she did.

37 And it came to passe in those daies, that shee was sicke, and died: whom when they had washed, they laid her in an upper chamber.

38 And forasmuch as Lydda was nigh to Ioppa, and the Disciples had heard that Peter was there, they sent vnto him two men, desiring him that he woulde not delay to come to them.

39 Then Peter arose and went with them: when he was come, they brought him into the upper chamber: And all the widowes stood by him weeping, and shewing the coats and garments which Dorcas made, while shee was with them.

40 But Peter put them all forth, and kneeled downe, and prayed, and turning him to the body, said, Tabitha, arise. And she opened her eyes, and when she saw Peter, she saie vp.

41 And he gaue her his hand, and lift her vp: and when hee had called the Saints and widowes, presented her alive.

42 And it was knowne thoroughout all Ioppa, and many beleued in the Lord.

43 And it came to passe, that he tarried many daies in Ioppa, with one Simon a Tanner.

C H A P. X.

1 Cornelius a devout man, being commended by an Angel, sendeth for Peter, 11 who by a vision, 15. 20 is taught not to despise the Gentiles. 26 As he preacheth Christ to Cornelius, and his company 44 the holy Ghost faileth on them, 48 and they are baptised.

There was a certaine man in Cesarea, called Cornelius, a Centurion of the band, called the Italian band,

A devout man, and one that feared God with all his house, which gaue much almes to the people, and prayed to God alway.

He saw in a vision evidently, about the ninth hour of the day, an Angel of God comming in to him, and saying vnto him, Cornelius.

And when hee looked on him, hee was afraid, and said, What is it, Lord? And hee said vnto him, Thy prayers and thine almes are come vp for a memoriall before God.

And now send men to Ioppa, and call for one Simon, whose surname is Peter.

He lodgeth with one Simon a Tanner, whose house is by the sea side: he shall tell thee what thou oughtest to doe.

And when the Angel which spake vnto Cornelius, was departed, hee called two of his household seruants, and a devout souldier of them that waited on him continually.

And when hee had declared all these things vnto them, hee sent them to Ioppa.

And on the morrow, as they went on their iourney, and drew nigh vnto the city, Peter went vp vpon the house to pray, about the sixth hour.

And hee became very hungry, and would haue eaten: but while they made ready, hee fell into a trance,

And saw heauen opened, and a certaine vessel descending vnto him, as it had been a great sheet knit at the foure corners, and let downe to the earth:

Wherein were all manner of foure-footed beasts of the earth, and wilde beasts, and creeping things, and foules of the aire.

And there came a voice vnto him, Rise, Peter: kill and eat.

But Peter said, Not so, Lord: for I haue neuer eaten any thing that is common, or uncleane.

And the voice spake vnto him againe the second time, What God hath cleansed, that call not thou common.

This was done thrice: and the vessel was retracted vp againe into heauen.

Now while Peter doubted in himselfe, what this vision which he had seene, should signifie: behold the men which were sent from Cornelius, had made enquiry for Simons house, and stood before the gate,

And called, and asked whether Simon, which was surnamed Peter, were lodged there.

While Peter thought on the vision, the Spirit said vnto him, Behold, three men seeke thee.

Arise therefore, and get thee downe, and goe with them, doubting nothing: for I haue sent them.

Then Peter went downe to the men, which were sent to him from Cornelius, and said, Behold, I am he whom ye seeke: what is the cause wherefore ye are come?

And they said, Cornelius the Centurion, a iust man, and one that feareth God, and of good report among among all the nation of the Iewes; was warned from God by an holy Angel to send for thee into his house, and to heare words of thee.

27 Then called hee them in, and lodged them; And on the morrow Peter went away with them, and certaine brethren from Ioyppa accompanied him.

28 Add this morrow after they entred into Cesarea: and Cornelius waited for them, and had called together his kinemen and neere friends.

29 And as Peter was coming in, Cornelius met him, & fell downe at his feet, and worshipped him.

30 But Peterooke him vp, saying, Stand vp; I my selfe also am a man.

31 And as he talked with him, he went in, and found many that were come together.

32 And hee said vnto them, Ye know how that it is an vnlawfull thing for a man that is a Iew, to keepe company, or come vnto one of another nation: but God hath shewed me, that I should not call any man common or vncleane.

33 Therefore came I vnto you without gainesaying, as soone as I was feat for. I like therefore for what intent ye haue sent for me.

34 And Cornelius said, Foure dayes agoe I was sitting vntill this houre, and at the ninth houre I prayed in my house, and behould, a man stood before me in bright clothing, 35 And said, Cornelius, thy prayer is heard, and thine almes are had in remembrance in the sight of God.

36 Stand therefore to Ioyppa, and call hithe Simon, whose surname is Peter; he is lodged in the house of one Simon a Tanner, by the Sea side, who when he cometh, shall speake vnto thee.

37 Immediately therefore I sent for thee, and I thou hast well done that thou art come. Now therefore are we all here present before God, to heare all things that are commanded thee of God.

38 ¶ Then Peter opened his mouth, and said, Of a truth I perceiue that God is no respecter of persons:

39 But in every nation, he that feareth him, and worketh righteousnesse, is accepted with him.

40 The word which God sent vnto the children of Israel, preacheing peace by Iesus Christ (hee is Lord of all.)

41 That word (I say) you know which was published throughout all Iudaea and began from Galilee, after the baptism which Iohn preached.

42 How God anointed Iesus of Nazareth with the holy Ghost, and with power, who went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the deuil: for God was with him.

43 And we are witnesses of all things which he did, both in the land of the Iewes, and in Hierusalem, whom they slew and hanged on a tree, 44 Him God raised vp the third day, and shewed him openly.

45 Not to all the people, but vnto witnesses chosen before of God, euen to vs who did eate and drinke with him after he rose from the dead.

46 And hee commanded vs to preach vnto the people, & to testify that it is he which was ordained of God to be the iudge of quicke and dead.

47 * To him giue all the Prophets witness that through his Name whosoever beleueth in him, shall receive remission of sinnes.

48 ¶ While Peter yet spake these words, the holy Ghost fell on all them which heard the word.

49 And they of the Circumcision which beleued, were astonished, as many as came with Peter, because that on the Gentiles also was poured out the gift of the holy Ghost:

50 For they heard them speake with tongues, and magnifie God. Then answered Peter, 51 Can any man forbid water, that these should not bee baptized, which haue received the holy Ghost as well as we?

52 And hee commanded them to be baptized in the Name of the Lord. Then prayed they him to tarry certaine dayes.

C H A P. XI.

1 Peter being accused for going in to the Gentiles, 5 and hee his defence, 28 which is accepted. 15 The Gospel being spread into Phenice, and Cyprus, and Antioch, Barnabas is sent to confirme them. 25 The Disciples there are first called Christians. 27 They send reuise to their brethren in Iudaea in time of famine.

AND the Apostles and brethren that were in Iudaea, heard that the Gentiles had also receiued the word of God.

2 And when Peter was come vp to Hierusalem they that were of the circumcision contended with him,

3 Saying, Thou wentest into men vncircumcised, and didst eate with them.

4 But Peter rehearsed the matter from the beginning, and expounded it by order vnto them, saying;

5 I was in the city of Ioyppa praying, and in a trance I saw a vision, a certaine vessel descend, as it had beene a great sheet, let downe from heauen by foure corners, and it came euen to me.

6 Vpon the which when I had fastened mine eyes, I considered, and saw foure-footed beasts of the earth, and wild beasts, and creeping things, and foules of the ayre.

7 And I heard a voyce, saying vnto me, Arise Peter, slay and eate.

8 But I said, not so Lord: for nothing common or vncleane, hath at any time entred into my mouth.

9 But the voyce answered me againe from heauen, What God hath cleaued that call not thou common.

10 And this was done three times: and all were drawne vp againe into heauen.

11 And behould immediately there were three men already come vnto the house where I was, sent from Cesarea vnto me.

12 And the Spirit bade me goe with them, nothing doubting: Moreover, thre brethren accompanied me, and we entred into the mans house:

13 And he shewed vs how he had seene an Angel in his house, which stood and said vnto him, Send men to Ioyppa, and call for Simon, whose surname is Peter:

14 Who shall tell thee words whereby thou, and all thy house shall be saved,

15 And as I began to speake, the holy Ghost fell on them, * as on vs at the beginning.

16 Then remembered I the word of the Lord, how that he said, Iohn indeed baptized with water, but ye shall be baptized with the holy Ghost.

17 Forasmuch then as God gave them the like gift as he did vnto vs, who beleued on the Lord Iesus Christ: what was I, that I could withstand God?

18 When they heard these things, they held their peace, and glorified God, saying, Then hath God also to the Gentiles granted repentance vnto life.

Chap. 19 ¶ Now they which were scattered abroad upon the persecution that arose about Seera, remained as far as Phoenicia, and Cyprus, and Antioch, preaching the word to many, but unto the Jewes only.

20 And some of them were men of Cyprus, and Cyrene, which when they were come to Antioch, spake vnto the Grecians, preaching the Lord Iesus.

21 And the hand of the Lord was with them: and a great number believed, and turned vnto the Lord.

22 ¶ Then rising of these things came vnto the eeres of the Church, which was in Hierusalem: and they sent forth Barnabas, that hec should goe as farre as Antioch.

23 Who when hee came, and had seene the grace of God, was glad, and exhorted them all, that with purpose of heart they would cleaue vnto the Lord.

24 For he was a good man, and full of the holy Ghost, and of faith: and much people was added vnto the Lord.

25 Then departed Barnabas to Tarsus, for to seeke Saul.

26 And when he had found him, he brought him vnto Antioch. And it came to passe, that a whole yeere they assembled themselues with the Church, and taught much people; and the Disciples were called Christians first in Antioch.

27 ¶ And in these dayes came Prophets from Hierusalem vnto Antioch.

28 And there stood vp one of them, named Agabus, and signified by the Spirit that there should be great dearth throughout all the world: which came to passe in the dayes of Claudius Cesar.

29 Then the Disciples, every man according to his abilitye, determined to send reliefe vnto the brethren which dwell in Iudea.

30 Which also they did, and sent it to the Elders, by the hands of Barnabas and Saul.

CHAP. XII.

1 King Herod persecuteth the Christians, killeth James, and imprisneth Peter, whom an Angel deliuereth vpon the prayers of the Church. 20 he haeth pride, taking to himselfe the honour due to God, he is stricken by an Angel, and death miserably. 24 After his death the Word of God prospereth.

NOW about that time, Herod the King stretched forth his hands, to take certaine of the Church:

2 And hee killed James the brother of Iohn with the sword.

3 And because he saw it pleased the Jewes, hec proceeded further to take Peter also, (Then were the dayes of unleaueued bread.)

4 And when hee had apprehended him, he put him in prison, and deliuered him to four equerions of Ioudaers to keepe him, intending after Easter to bring him forth to the people.

5 Peter therefore was kept in prison, but prayer was made without ceasing of the Church vnto God for him,

6 And when Herod would haue brought him forth, the Iain: night Peter was sleeping between two souldiers, bound with two chaines, and the keepers betwix the doore kept the prison.

7 And behold, the Angel of the Lord came vpon him, and a light shined in the prison: and hec imoted Peter on the side, and raised him vp, saying, Arise vp quickly. And his chaines fell off from his hands.

8 And the Angel said vnto him, Gird thy selfe, and bid on thy sandals: and so hec did. And hec saith vnto him; cast thy garment about thee, and follow mee.

9 And he went out, and followed him, and wist not that it was true which was done by the Angel: but thought he saw a vision.

10 When they were past the first and the second ward, they came vnto the yron gate, that leadeth vnto the citie, which opened to them of his owne accord: and they went out and passed on the ouer side street, and forthwith the Angel departed from him.

11 And when Peter was come to himselfe, hec said, Now I know of a surety, that the Lord hath sent his Angel, and hath deliuered mee out of the hand of Herod, and from all the expectation of the people of the Jewes.

12 And when hec had considered the thing, hec came to the house of Mary the Mother of Iohn, whose surname was Marke, where many were gathered together, praying.

13 And as Peter knocked at the doore of the gate a damosell came to hearken, named Rhoda.

14 And when she knew Peters voyce, she opened not the gate for gladnes, but ran in, and told how Peter stood before the gate.

15 And they said vnto her, Thou art mad. But she constantly affirmed that it was even so. Then said they, It is his Angel.

16 But Peter continued knocking: and when they had opened the doore, and saw him, they were astonished.

17 But he beckning vnto them with the hand to hold their peace, declared vnto them, how the Lord had brought him out of the prison. And he said, Goe shew these things vnto James, and to the brethren. And hec departed and went into another place.

18 Now as soone as it was day, there was no small stir among the souldiers, what was become of Peter.

19 And when Herod had sought for him, and found him not, he examined the keepers, and commanded that they should be put to death. And hec went down from Iudea to Cesarea, & there abode.

20 ¶ And Herod was highly displeasid with them of Tyre and Sidon: but they came with one accord to him: and having made Blastus of the Kings Chamberlaine their friend, desired peace, because their country was mortified by the Kings country.

21 And vpon a set day Herod arrayed in royal apparel, sat vpon his throne, and made an oration vnto them.

22 And the people gave a shout, saying, It is the voyce of a God, and not of a man.

23 And immediately the Angel of the Lord smote him, because hec gave not God the glory, and hec was eaten of wormes, and gave vp the Ghost.

24 ¶ But the word of God grew and multiplied.

25 And Barnabas and Saul returned from Hierusalem, when they had fulfilled their ministry, & tooke with them Iohn, whose surname was Marke.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Paul and Barnabas are chosen to goe to the Gentiles. 7 and Sergius Paulus, and Elymas the sorcerer. 19 Paul preacht at Antioch, wher Iesus is Christ. 42 The Gentiles beleue: 45 But the Jewes grew iay and blasphemed: 48 Wherupon they turne to the Gentiles. 48 As many as were ordained to life, belomed.

20 And when they were at Salamis, they preached the word of God in the Synagogues of the Iewes, and they had also Iohn to be their Minister.

21 And when they had gone thorow the Ile vnto Paphos, they found a certaine forcerer, a false prophet, a Iewe, whose name was Barabas:

22 Which was with the deputy of the countrey, Sergius Paulus, a prudent man, who called for Barnabas and Saul, and desired to heare the word of God.

23 But Elymas the forcerer (for so is his name, by interpretation) withstood them, seeking to turne away the Deputy from the faith.

24 Then Saul (who also is called Paul) filled with the holy Ghost, set his eyes on him, 25 And said, O full of all subtilty and all mischief, thou child of the deuil, thou enemy of all righteousness, wilt thou not cease to pervert the right wayes of the Lord?

26 And now behold, the hand of the Lord is vpon thee, and thou shalt be blind, not seeing the Sun for a season. And immediately there fell on him a mist and a darkness, and hec went about, seeking some to lead him by the hand.

27 Then the Deputy, when hee saw what was done, believed, being astonished at the doctrine of the Lord.

28 Now when Paul and his company looked from Paphos, they came to Perga in Pamphylia, and Iohn departing from thence, returned to Hierusalem.

29 ¶ But when they departed from Perga, they came to Antioch in Pisidia, and went into the Synagogue on the Sabbath day, and sat downe.

30 And after the reading of the Law and the Prophets, the Rulers of the Synagogue sent vnto them, saying, Yee men and brethren, if yee haue any word of exhortation for the people, say ou.

31 Then Paul stood vp, and boasting with his hand, said, Men of Israel, and yee that feare God, giue audience.

32 The God of this people of Israel chose our fathers, and exalted the people * when they dwelt as strangers in the land of Egypt, * and with an high arme brought them out of it.

33 * And about the time of forty yeres * suffered he their manners in the wilderness.

34 And when hec had destroyed seven nations in the land of Canaan, * hec diuided their land to them by lot.

35 And after that * hec gave vnto them Iudges, about the space of foure hundred and fifty yeres, vntill Samuel the Prophet.

36 And after ward they desired a king, * and God gaue vnto them Saul the sonne of Chisay a man of the tribe of Benjamin, by the space of forty yeres.

37 And when he had remoued him, * he raised vp vnto them David to be their King, to whom also hec gaue testimony, and said, I * haue found David the sonne of Iesse, a man after mine owne heart, which shall fulfill all my will.

23 * Of this man's seed hath God, according to his promise, raised vnto Israel a Saviour, Iesus:

24 * When Iohn had first preached before his coming the baptisme of repentance to all the people of Israel.

25 And as Iohn fulfilled his course, hec said, * Whom thinke ye that I am? I am not hee. But behold, there cometh one after me, whose shoues of his feet I am not worthy to kisse.

26 Men and brethren, children of the stocke of Abraham, and whose father among you feareth God, to you is the word of this saluation com:

27 For they that dwell at Hierusalem, and their rulers, because they knew him not, nor yet the voyces of the Prophets, which read every Sabbath day, they haue fulfilled them in condemning him.

28 * And though they found no cause of death in him, yet desired they Pilate, that hec should be slain.

29 And when they had fulfilled all that was written of him, they tooke him downe from the tree, and laid him in a Sepulchre.

30 * But God raised him from the dead:

31 And hec was seene many dayes of them which came vp with him from Galilee to Hierusalem, who are his witnesses vnto the people.

32 And we declare vnto you good tidings, how that the promise which was made vnto the fathers, 33 God is fulfilled vnto us their children, in that hee hath raised vp Iesus againe, as it is also written in the second Psalm: Thou art my Sonne, this day haue I begotten thee.

34 And as concerning that hec raised him vp from the dead, * now no more to returne to corruption, he said on this wise, * I will giue you the sure & mercies of David.

35 Wherefore hec saith also in another Psalm, * Thou shalt not suffer thine holy One to see corruption.

36 For David * after hec had serued his owne generation by the will of God, * fell on sleepe, and was laid vnto his fathers, and saw corruption: but he whom God raised againe saw no corruption.

37 ¶ Be it knowne vnto you therefore, men and brethren, that through this man is preached vnto you the forgiveness of sinnes.

38 And by him all that beleeue, are justified from all unrighteousnes, from which ye could not be justified by the Law of Moyses.

39 Beware therefore, lest that come vpon you, which is spoken of in the Prophets, 40 Behold, ye despise, and wender, and perish: for I worke a worke in your dayes, a work which you shall in no wise beleue, though a man declare it vnto you.

41 And when the Iewes were gone out of the Synagogue, the Gentiles being that their words might be preached to them the next Sabbath.

42 Now when the Congregation was broken up, many of the Iewes & Religious Prelaters followed Paul and Barnabas, who speaking to them, persuaded them to continue in the grace of God.

43 ¶ And the next Sabbath day came almost the whole city together, to heare the word of God.

44 But when the Iewes saw the multitude, they were filled with enuie, and spake against the things which were spoken by Paul, contradicting and blaspheming.

45 Then Paul and Barnabas waxed bold, and said, It was necessary that the word of God should first haue beene spoken to you, but seeing ye perit from you, and iudge your felicitie worthy of ex-cusing life, loe, we came to the Gentiles.

47 For in hath the Lord commanded vs, saying,
I have set thee to be a light to the Gentiles, that thou shouldst bee for saluation vnto the ends of the earth.

48 And when the Gentiles heard this, they were glad, and glorified the Word of the Lord: and as many as were ordained to eternall life, beleeued.

49 And the Word of the Lord was published thorowout all the region.

50 But the Iewes stirred vp the deuous and honourable women, and the chiefe men of the cite, and raised persecution against Paul and Barnabas,
and expelled them out of their coasts.

51 But they shoote off the dust of their feet against them, and came vnto Iconium.

52 And the disciples were filled with ioy, and with the holy Ghost.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Paul and Barnabas are persecuted from Iconium. 7 At Lystra Paul healeth a creple, whereupon they are reputed as gods. 19 Paul is stoned.
21 They passe vnto diuers Churches, confirming the Disciples in faith and patience. 25 Returning to Antioch, they report what God had done with them.

And it came to passe in Iconium, that they went both together into the Synagogue of the Iewes, and so spake, that a great multitude both of the Iewes, and also of the Greeces, beleued.

2 But the unbelieuing Iewes stirred vp the Gentiles, and made their minds euill affected against the brethren.

3 Long time therefore abode they, speaking boldly in the Lord, which gaue testimony vnto the word of his grace, and granted signes and wonders to be done by their hands.

4 But the multitude of the city was diuided:
and part held with the Iewes, and part with the Apostles.

5 And when there was an assault made both of the Gentiles, and also of the Iewes, with their Rulers, to vie them despitefully, and to stone them,

6 They were ware of it, and fled vnto Lystra, and Derbe, cities of Lyconia, and vnto the region, that lieth round about.

7 And there they preached the Gospel.

8 ¶ And there sat a certaine man at Lystra, impotent in his feet: being a creple from his mothers wombe, who neuer had walked.

9 The same heard Paul speake: who sted astly beholding him, and perceiving that hee had faith to be healed,

10 Said with a loud voyce, Stand vp right on thy feet: and he leaped and walked.

11 And when the people saw what Paul had done, they hit vp their voyces, saying in the speech of Lyconia, The gods are come downe to vs in the likeness of men.

12 And they called Barnabas, Iupiter, and Paul,
Mercurius, because he was the chiefe speaker.

13 Then the Priest of Iupiter, which was before their city, brought oxen, and garlands vnto the gates, and would haue done sacrifice with the people.

14 Which when the Apostles, Barnabas and Paul heard of, they rent their clothes, and ran in among the people, crying out,

15 And saying, Sirs, why doe ye these things? We also are men of like passions with you, and preach vnto you, that ye should turne from these vanities, vnto the lining God, which made heauen and earth, and the sea, and all things that are therein.

16 ¶ Who incites pass, suffered all nations to walke in their owne wayes.

17 Neuertheless, hee left not himselfe without witnesse, in that hee did good, and gaue vs rains from heauen, and fruitful seasons, filling our hearts with food and gladnesse.

18 And with these sayings scarce restrained:
they the people, that they had not done sacrifice vnto them.

19 ¶ And there came thither certaine Iewes from Antioch and Iconium, who perswaded the people, and having stoned Paul, drew him out of the city, supposing he had bene dead.

20 Howbeit, as the Disciples stood round about him, he rose vp, and came into the city, and the next day he departed with Barnabas to Derbe.

21 And when they had preached the Gospel to that city, and had taught many, they returned againe to Lystra, and to Iconium, and Antioch:

22 Confirming the soules of the Disciples, and exhorting them to continue in the faith, and that they wee must through much tribulation enter into the kingdome of God.

23 And when they had ordained them Elders in euery Church, and had prayed, with fasting, they commended them to the Lord, on whom they be-leued.

24 And after they had passed thorowout Paphla, they came to Pampylia.

25 And when they had preached the Word in Berge, they went downe into Atalia,

26 And thence sailed to Antioch, from whence they had bene recommended to the grace of God, for the worke which they fulfilled.

27 And when they were come, and had gathered the Church together, they rehearsed all that God had done with them, and how hee had opened that doore of faith vnto the Gentiles.

28 And there they abode long time with the Disciples.

CHAP. XV.

Great dissension ariseth touching Circumcision.

6 The Apostles confer about it, and send their determination by letters to the Churches. 26 Paul and Barnabas, thinking to visit the brethren together, fall at strife, and depart asunder.

And certaine men which came downe from In-dea, taught the brethren, and said, Except ye bee circumcised after the manner of Moses, ye cannot be saved.

2 When therefore Paul and Barnabas had no small dissention and disputation with them, they determined that Paul and Barnabas, and certaine other of them, should goe vp to Hierusalem vnto the Apostles and Elders about this question.

3 And being brought on their way by the Church, they passed thorow Phoenice and Samaria, declaring the conversion of the Gentiles: and they caused great ioy vnto all the brethren.

4 And when they were come to Hierusalem, they were receiued of the Church, and of the Apostles and Elders: and they declared all things which God had done with them.

5 But there rose vp certaine of the sect of the Pharisees, which beleued, saying, That it was neede-full to circumcise them, and to command them to keepe the Law of Moses.

6 ¶ And the Apostles and Elders came together for to consider of this matter.

7 And when there had been much disputing, Peter rose up, and said vnto them: Men and brethren ye know how that a good while agoe, God made choice among vs, that the Gentiles by my mouth should heare the word of the Gospel, and beleene.

8 And God which knoweth the hearts, bare them witness, giving them the holy Ghost, even as hee did vnto vs, 9 And put no difference betwene vs and them, purifying their hearts by faith.

10 Now therefore why tempt ye God, to put a yoke vpon the necke of the disciples, which neither our fathers nor we were able to beare?

11 But we beleene, that through the grace of the Lord Iesus Christ, we shall be saved, euen as they.

12 ¶ Then all the multitude kept silence, and gave audience to Barnabas and Paul, declaring what miracles and wonders God had wrought among the Gentiles by them.

13 ¶ And after they had held their peace, James answered, saying, Men, brethren, hearken vnto me.

14 ¶ Simeon hath declared, how God at the first did visite the Gentiles, to take out of them a people for his Name.

15 And to this agree the words of the Prophets, as it is written,

16 ¶ After this I will returne, and will build againe the Tabernacle of Dauid, which is fallen downe: and I will build againe the ruines thereof, and I will see it vp:

17 That the residue of men might seeke after the Lord, and all the Gentiles, vpon whom my Name is called, saith the Lord, who doeth all these things.

18 ¶ Knowe vnto God are all his workes, from the beginning of the world.

19 Wherefore my sentence is, that we trouble not them, which from among the Gentiles are turned to God.

20 But that we write vnto them, that they abstaine from pollutions of idoles, and from fornication, and from things strangled, and from blood.

21 For Meses of old time hath in euery city them that teach him, being read in the Synagogues euery Sabbath day.

22 ¶ Then pleased it the Apostles and Elders, with the whole Church, to send chosen men of their own company to Antioch with Paul and Barnabas: namely, Iudas named Barnabas, and Silas, chiefe men among the brethren.

23 And wrote letters by them after this manner, The Apostles, and Elders, and brethren send greeting vnto the brethren which are of the Gentiles, in Antioch, and Syria, and Cilicia.

24 Forasmuch as wee haue heard, that certaine which went out from vs, haue troubled you with words, troubling your soules, saying, Ye must be circumcised, and keepe the Law, to whom we gaue no such commaundment:

25 It seemed good vnto vs, being assembled with one accord, to send chosen men vnto you, with our beloved Barnabas and Paul, 26 Men that haue hazarded their liues for the Name of our Lord Iesus Christ.

27 We haue sent therefore Iudas and Silas, who shall also tell you the same things by mouth.

28 For it seemed good to the holy Ghost, and to vs, to lay vpon you no greater burthen then these necessary things:

29 That ye abstaine from meats offered to Idols, and from blood, and from things strangled, and from fornication, from which if ye keepe your selues, ye shall doe well. Fare ye well.

30 So when they were dismissed, they came to Antioch: and when they had gathered the multitude together, they delivered the Epistle.

31 Which when they had read, they reioiced for the consolation.

32 And Iudas and Silas being Prophets: also themselves, exhorted the brethren with many words, and confirmed them:

33 And after they had taried there a space, they were let goe in peace from the brethren vnto the Apostles.

34 Notwithstanding, it pleased Silas to abide there still.

35 Paul also and Barnabas continued in Antioch, teaching and preaching the Word of the Lord, with many others also.

36 ¶ And some daies after, Paul said vnto Barnabas, Let vs goe againe and visite our brethren, in euery city where wee haue preached the Word of the Lord, and see how they doe.

37 And Barnabas determined to take with them Iohn, whose surname was Marke.

38 But Paul thought not good to take him with them, who departed from them from Pamphylia, and went not with Iesus to the worke.

39 And the contention was so sharpe betwene them, that they departed asunder one from the other: and so Barnabas tooke Marke, and sailed vnto Cyprus.

40 And Paul chose Silas, and departed, being recommended by the brethren vnto the grace of God.

41 And he went throug Syria and Cilicia, confirming the Churches.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Paul having circumcised Timothy, 7 and being called by the Spirit from one country to another, 14 euen vnto Lyca, 16 casteth out a spirit of diuination, 19 For which cause hee and Silas are whipped and imprisoned, 26 The prison doores are opened, 31 Theaylor is conuerted, 37 and they are deliuered.

¶ When came hee to Derbe, and Lystra: and behold, a certaine Disciple was there, named Timothy, the soune of a certaine woman, which was a Ieweesse, and beleared: but his father was a Greeke:

2 Which was well reported of by the brethren that were at Lystra and Iconium.

3 Him would Paul haue to goe forth with him, and tooke and circumcised him, because of the Iewes which were in those quarters: for they knew all that his father was a Greeke.

4 And as they went throug the cities, they deliuered them the decrees for to keepe, that were ordained of the Apostles and Elders which were at Hierusalem.

5 And so were the Churches established in the faith, and increased in number daily.

6 Now when they had gone througout Phrygia, and the region of Galatia, and were forbidden of the holy Ghost, to preach the Word in Asia.

7 After they were come to Mysia, they ayled to goe into Bithynia: but the Spirit suffered them not.

8 And they passing by Mysia, came downe to Troas.

9 And a vision appeared to Paul in the night: There stood a man of Macedonia, and prayed him, saying, Come ouer into Macedonia, and helpe vs.

10 And after he had seene the vision, immediately wee made aduance to goe into Macedonia, assuredly gathering that the Lord had called vs for to preach the Gospel vnto them.

Origen's translation

2 Tim. 1. 3. 4.

Chap. 15. 28.

11 Therefore looking from Troas we came with a straight course to Samothracia, and the next day to Neapolis:

12 And from thence to Philippi, which is the chief cite of that part of Macedonia, and a Colony: and wee were in that cite abiding certaine dayes.

13 And on the Sabbath we went out of the city, by a river side, where prayer was wont to be made, and we sat downe, and spake vnto the women which resorted thither.

14 ¶ And a certaine woman, named Lydia, a seller of purple, of the city of Thyatira, which worshipped God, heard vs: whose heart the Lord opened, that she attended vnto the things which were spoken of Paul.

15 And when shee was baptized, and her household, shee brought vs, saying, If ye haue iudged mee to be faithfull to the Lord, come into my house, and abide there. And shee constrained vs.

16 ¶ And it came to passe, as we went to prayer, a certaine damozell possessed with a spirit of divination, met vs: which brought her masters much gaine by soor saying.

17 ¶ The same followed Paul and vs, and cried, saying, These men are the seruants of the most high God, which shew vnto vs the way of saluation.

18 And this did she many dayes: but Paul being grieved, turned, and said to the spirit, I command thee in the Name of Iesus Christ, to come out of her. And he came out the same houre.

19 ¶ And when her Masters saw that the hope of their gaines was gone, they caught Paul and Silas, and drew them into the market-place, vnto the Rulers, 20 And brought them to the Magistrates, saying, These men, being iewes, doe exceedingly trouble our cite.

21 And teach customes, which are not lawfull for vs to receiue, neither to obserue, being Romanes.

22 And the multitude rose vp together against them, and the Magistrates beat off their clothes, and commanded to scour them.

23 And when they had laid many stripes vpon them, they cast them into prison, charging the Iaylor to keepe them failely.

24 Who hauing receiued such a charge, thrust them into the inner prison, and made their feet fast in the flockes.

25 ¶ And at midnight Paul and Silas prayed, and sang praises vnto God: and the prisoners heard them.

26 And suddenly there was a great earthquake, so that the foundations of the prison were shaken: and immediately all the doores were opened, and every ones bands were loosed.

27 And the keeper of the prison, a valking out of his sleepe, and seeing the prison doores open, he drew out his sword, and would haue killed himselfe, supposing that the prisoners had bene fled.

28 But Paul cryed with a loud voice, saying, Doe thy selfe no harme, for we are all here.

29 Then hee called for a light, and sprang in, and came trembling, and fell downe before Paul and Silas, 30 And brought them out, and said, Sirs, what must I doe to be saved?

31 And they said, Belieue on the Lord Iesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved, and raise home.

32 And they spake vnto him the word of the Lord, and to all that were in his house.

33 And hee took them the same houre of the nights, and washed their stripes, and was baptized, hee and all his, straightway.

34 And when hee had brought them into his house, he set meat before them, and reioyced, believing in God, with all his house.

35 And when it was day, the Magistrates sent the Sergeant, saying, Let those men goe.

36 And the keeper of the prison told this saying to Paul; The Magistrates haue sent to let you goe: Now therefore depart, and goe in peace.

37 But Paul said vnto them, They haue beaten vs openly, vs condemned, being Romanes, and haue cast vs into prison, and now doe they thrust vs out priuily? Nay verely, but let them come themselves, and fetch vs out.

38 And the Sergeants told these words the Magistrates: and they feared when they heard that they were Romanes.

39 And they came and he sought them, & brought them out, & desired them to depart out of the city.

40 And they went out of the prison, and carried into the house of Lydia, and when they had seen the brethren, they comforted them, and departed.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Paul preacheth at Thessalonica, where some beleue, and others persecute him. 10 He is sent to Beroa, and preacheth there. 13 Being persecuted at Thessalonica, he cometh to Athens, and disperseth, and preacheth the living God to those that knowe, 23 whereby many are converted vnto Christ.

Now when they had passed through Amphipolis, and Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica, where was a Synagoge of the Iewes.

2 And Paul, as his manner was, went in vnto them, and three Sabbath dayes reasoned with them out of the Scriptures.

3 Opening and alleging, that Christ must needs haue suffered, and risen againe from the dead: and that this Iesus whom I preach vnto you, is Christ.

4 And some of them beleued, & comforted with Paul and Silas: and of the devout Greekes a great multitude, and of the chief women one a Iew.

5 ¶ But the Iewes which beleued not, troubled with envy, took vnto them certaine lewd fellows of the baser sort, and gathered a company, and set all the city on agitate, and assailed the house of Iason, and sought to bring them out to the people.

6 And when they found them not, they drew Iason, and certaine brethren, vnto the Rulers of the city, saying, These Iewes haue turned the world upside downe, at come oute here.

7 Whom Iason hath receiued, and these all doe contrary to the decrees of Cæsar, saying, That there is another King, one Iesus.

8 And they troubled the people, and the Rulers of the city, when they heard these things.

9 And when they had taken security of Iason, and of the other, they let them goe.

10 ¶ And the brethren immediately sent away Paul and Silas by night vnto Berea: who continuing thither went into the Synagoge of the Iewes.

11 These were more noble then those in Thessalonica, in that they received the Word with all readiness of mind, and searched the Scriptures daily, whether these things were so.

12 Therefore many of them beleeued: also of honourable women, which were Greekes, and of men not a few.

13 But when the Jewes of Thessalonica had knowen Judge that the Word of God was preached of Paul at Berca, they come thither also, and stirred up the people.

14 And then immediately the brethren sent away Paul to goe as it were to the sea; but Silas and Timotheus abode there still.

15 And they also conducted Paul, brought him unto Athens, and receiving commandement unto Silas and Timotheus, or to come up him with all speed, they departed.

16 Now while Paul waited for them at Athens, his spirit was stirred in him, when he saw the city wholly given to idolatry.

17 Therefore disputed he in the Synagoge with the Jewes, and with the devout persons, and in the market daily with them that met with him.

18 Then certaine Philosophers of the Epicureans, and of the Stoicks encountered him; and some said, What will this babler say? Other some, He seemeth to ea settle forth of strange gods: because he preached unto them Iesus, & the resurrection.

19 And they tooke him, and brought him unto Arcopagus, saying, May we know what this new doctrine, whereof thou speakest, is?

20 For thou bringest certaine strange things to our eares: wee would know therefore what these things mean.

21 (For all the Athenians and strangers, which were there, spent their time in nothing else, but either to tell, or to heare how new thing.)

22 Then Paul stood in the midst of Mars-hill, and said, Ye men of Athens, I perceive that in all things ye are too superstitious.

23 For as I passed by, and beheld your devotions, I found an altar with this inscription, TO THE UNKNOWN GOD, Whom therefore ye ignorantly worship, him declare I unto you.

24 God that made the world, and all things therein, being the Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in Temples made with hands:

25 Neither is worshipped with mens hands, as though he needed any thing, seeing he giveth to all life and breath, and all things.

26 And hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell in all the face of the earth, and hath determined the times before appointed, and the bounds of their habitation:

27 That they should seek the Lord, if haply they might feel after him, and find him, though he be not far from every one of us.

28 For in him we live, and move, and have our being, as certaine also of your own Poets have said, For we are also his offspring.

29 Forasmuch then as we are the offspring of God, we ought not to think that the Godhead is like unto gold, or silver, or stone, graven by art, and mans device.

30 And the times of this ignorance God winked at, but now commandeth all men every where to repent:

31 Because he hath appointed a day in the which he will judge the world in righteousness, by that man whom he hath ordained, whereof he hath given assurance unto all men, that hee hath raised him from the dead.

32 ¶ And when they heard of the resurrection of the dead, some mocked: and others said, We will heare thee againe of this matter.

33 So Paul departed from among them.

34 Howbeit, certaine men clave unto him, and believed: among the which was Dionysius the Arcopagus, and a woman named Damaris, and others with them.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 Paul labourerth with his hands, and preacheth at Corinth in the Geneties. 2 The Lord encourage him in a vision. 3 He is accused before Gallio the Deputy, but acquitted. 4 Afterwards passing from city to city, hee strengnetheth the Disciples.

5 Apollus being more perfectly instructed by Aquila and Priscilla, 28 preacheth Corint with great efficacy.

AFTER these things, Paul departed from Athens and came to Corinth,

2 And found a certaine Jew, named Aquila, borne in Pontus, lately come from Italy, with his wife Priscilla, (because that Claudius had commanded all Jewes to depart from Rome) and came vnto them.

3 And because he was of the same craft, he abode with them, and wrought (for by their occupation they were tent-makers.)

4 And he reasoned in the Synagoge every Sabbath, and persuaded the Jewes and the Greekes.

5 And when Silas and Timotheus were come from Macedonia, Paul was pressed in spirit, and testified to the Jewes, that Iesus was Christ.

6 And when they opposed themselves, and blasphemed, he shook his raiment, and said vnto them, Your blood be vpon your own heads, and I cleave from henceforth: I will goe vnto the Gentiles.

7 ¶ And he departed thence, and entered into a certaine mans house, named Titus, one that worshipped God, whose house Ioynd hard to the Synagoge.

8 ¶ And Crispus, the chiefe Ruler of the Synagoge, beleened on the Lord, with all his house, and many of the Countre hearing, beleued, and were baptized.

9 Then spake the Lord to Paul in the night by a vision, hee not afraid, but speake, and hold not thy peace:

10 For I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee, to hurt thee: for I haue many people in this city.

11 And he continued there a yeere, and six monthes, teaching the Word of God among them.

12 ¶ And when Gallio was the Deputie of Achaia, the Jewes made accusation vnto one necord against Paul, and brought him to the Iudgement seat, 13 Saying, This fellow persuadeth men to worship God contrary to the Law.

14 And when Paul was now about to open his mouth, Gallio said vnto the Jewes, If it were a matter of wrong, or wicked lewdnes, O ye Jewes, I should would that I should heare with you.

15 But it is a question of words, and names, and of your Law, looke ye to it: for I will be no iudge of such matters.

16 And he drave them from the Iudgement seat.

17 Then all the Greekes tooke Sosthenes, the chiefe Ruler of the Synagoge, and beat him before the Iudgement seat: and Gallio cared for none of those things.

18 ¶ And Paul abode in this part there yet a good while, and then toke his leave of the brethren, and sailed thence into Syria, and with him Priscilla, and Aquila, having shorn his head in Cenchrea: for hee had a vow.

19 And he came to Ephesus, and left them there: but hee himselfe entered into the Synagoge, and reasoned with the Jewes.

20 When they desired him to tarry longer time with them, he consented not :

21 But bade them farewell : saying, I must by all means keep this Feast that cometh, in Hierusalem ; but I will returne againe vnto you, if God will : and he sailed from Ephesus.

22 And when he had landed at Ceasarea, and gone vp, and saluted the Church, he went downe to Antioch.

23 And after he had spent some time there, he departed, & went ouer all the country of Galatia, and Pargia in order, strengthening all the disciples.

24 ¶ And a certaine Jew, named Apollos, borne at Alexandria, an eloquent man, and mighty in the Scriptures, came to Ephesus.

25 This man was instructed in the way of the Lord, and being feruent in the Spirit, he spake and taught diligently the things of the Lord, knowing only the Baptisme of Iohn.

26 And hee began to speake boldly in the Synagogue : whom when Aquila and Priscilla had heard, they took him vnto them, and expounded vnto him the way of God more perfectly.

27 And when hee was disposed to passe into Achaia, the brethren wrote, shewing the disciples to receive him : who when hee was come, helped them much which had believed through grace.

28 For he mightily convinced the Iewes, and that publicly, shewing by the Scriptures that Iesus was Christ.

CHAP. XIX.

6 The holy Ghost is givenly Pauls head: 9 The Iewes blasphemie his doctrine, which is confuted by miracles. 12 The Iewes exorcists are beaten by the deuil. 19 Certaine iacobes are burnt. 24 Demetrius for loss of gaine waresh an uprore against Paul, which is appeased by the Conuocles.

¶ And it came to passe, that while Apollos was at Corinth, Paul having passed through the upper coast, came to Ephesus, and finding certaine Disciples,

2 He said vnto them, H me ye: receive I the holy Ghost since ye beleueed? And they said vnto him, Wee haue not so much as heard whether there be any holy Ghost.

3 And he said vnto them, Vnto what then were ye baptized? And they said, Vnto Iohns Baptisme.

4 ¶ Then said Paul, Iohn verely baptized with the baptisme of repentance, saying vnto the people, that they should beleue on him which should come after him, that is, on Christ Iesus.

5 When they heard this, they were baptized in the Name of the Lord Iesus.

6 And when Paul had laid his hands vpon them, the holy Ghost came on them, and they spake with tongues, and prophesied.

7 And all the men were about twelue.

8 And hee went into the Synagogat, and spake boldly for the space of three moneths, disputing and perswading the things concerning the kingdom of God.

9 But when diuers were hardened and beleueed not, but spake euil of that way before Smakritude, he departed from them, & separated the disciples, disputing daily in the Schoole of one Tyrannus.

10 And this continued by the space of two yeres, so that all they which dwelt in Asia, heard the Word of the Lord Iesus, both Iewes and Greekes.

11 And God wrought speciall miracles by the hands of Paul.

12 So that from his body were brought vnto the sick, haudherouises, or apoues, and the decaises departed from them, and the euill spirits went out of them.

13 ¶ Then certaine of the vagabond Iewes, exorcists: tooke vpon them to call ouer them which had euill spirits, the Name of the Lord Iesus, saying, Wee aduise you by Iesus, whom Paul preacheth.

14 And there were seuen sonnes, of one Scema, a Iew, and chiefe of the Priests, which did so.

15 And the euill spirit answered, and said, Iesus I know, and Paul I know, but who are ye?

16 And the man in whom the euill spirit was, leape on them, and overcame them, and prevailed against them, so that they fled out of that house naked and wounded.

17 And this was knowne to all the Iewes and Greekes also dwelling at Ephesus, and feare fell on them all, and the Name of the Lord Iesus was magnified.

18 And many that beleueed, came, and confessed, and shewed their deeds.

19 Many also of them which vied curiouse Artes, brought their bookes together, and burned them before all men: and they counted the price of them, and found it fifty thousand pieces of silver.

20 So mightily grew the Word of God, and prevailed.

21 ¶ After these things were ended, Paul purposed in the spirit, when he had passed thorough Macedonia and Achaia, to goe to Hierusalem, saying, After I haue bene there, I must also see Rome.

22 So hee sent into Macedonia two of them that ministered vnto him, Timotheus and Erastus, but hee himselfe stayed in Asia for a season.

23 And the same time there arose no small stir about that way.

24 For a certaine man, named Demetrius, a siluer-smith, which made shrines for Diana, brought no small game vnto the craft-men :

25 Whom he called together, with the workmen of like occupation, and said, Sirs, ye know that by this craft wee haue our wealth.

26 Moreover, ye see and heare, that not alone at Ephesus, but almost thorowout all Asia, this Paul hath perswaded & turned away much people, saying, That they be no gods vnto us made with hands.

27 So that not onely this our craft is in danger to bee set at nought ; but also that the temple of the great goddesse Diana should bee despised, and her magnificence should bee destroyed, whom all Asia and the world worshippeth.

28 And when they heard these sayings, they were full of weath, and cried out, saying, Great is Diana of the Ephesians.

29 And the whole city was filled with confusion, and hauing caught Gaius and Aristarchus, men of Macedonia, Pauls companions in travel, they rushed with one accord into the Theatre, 30 And when Paul would haue entered in vnto the people, the Disciples suffered him not.

31 And certaine of the chiefe of Asia, which were his friends, gat vnto him, desiring him that hee would not adventure himselfe into the Theatre.

32 Some therefore cried one thing, & some another for the assembly was confused, and the more part knew not wherefore they were come together.

33 And they drew Alexander out of the multitude, he Iewes putting him forward. And Alexander beckoned with the hand, and would haue made his defence vnto the people.

34 But when they knew that hee was a Iew, all with one voyce about the space of two houres, cried out, Great is Diana of the Ephesians.

35 And

35 And when the towns-Clerke had appeald the people, he said, Yee men of Ephesus, what man is there that knoweth not how that the city of the Ephesians is a worshipper of the great goddess Diana, & of the image which fell down from Iupiter?

36 Seeing then that these things cannot bee spoken against, ye ought to bee quiet, and to doe nothing rashly.

37 For ye have brought hither these men, which are neither roobers of Churches, nor yet blasphemers of your goddess.

38 Wherefore if Demetrius and the craftsmen which are with him, have a matter against any man, let the law be open, and there are deputies, let them implead one another.

39 But if ye enquire any thing concerning other matters, it shall bee determined in a lawfull assembly.

40 For we are in danger to be called in question for this dayes uproare, there being no cause where-by we may give an account of this concourse.

41 And when he had thus spoken, hee dismissed the assembly.

C H A P. XX.

1 Paul going to Macedonia: 2 He celebrateth the Lords Supper, and preacheth. 3 Eutychus having fallen asleepe dead, to be raised to life. 4 At Mileus hee calleth the Elders together, telleth them what shall befall to himselfe: 5 committeth Gods Ruler to them. 6 warneth them of false teachers, 7 commendeth them to Gods, 8 prayeth with them, and goeth his way.

And after the uproare was ceased, Paul called unto him the disciples, and embraced them, and departed for to goe into Macedonia.

2 And when hee had gone over those parts, and had given them much exhortation, hee came into Greece.

3 And there abode three monthes: and when the Iewes laid wait for him, as wee was about to saile into Syria, hee purposed to returne through Macedonia.

4 And there accompanied him into Asia, Sopater of Berea: and of the Thessalonians, Titus, and Secundus: and Gaus of Derbe, and Timotheus: and of Asia, Tychicus, and Trophimus.

5 These going before, departed for vs at Troas.

6 And we sailed away from Philippi, after the dayes of unleavened bread, and came unto them to Troas in five dayes, where we abode seven dayes.

7 And upon the first day of the weeke, when the disciples came together to breake bread, Paul preached unto them, ready to depart on the morrow, and continued his speech until midnight.

8 And there were many lights in the upper chamber, where they were gathered together.

9 And there sat in a window a certaine young man, named Eutychus, being fallen into a deepe sleepe, and as Paul was long preaching, hee sunk downe with sleepe, and fell downe from the third loft, and was taken up dead.

10 And Paul went downe, and fell on him, and embracing him said, Trouble not your selues, for his life is in him.

11 When he therefore was come vp againe, and had broken bread, and eaten, and talked a long while, even till breake of day, hee departed.

12 And they brought the young man alive, and were not a little comforted.

13 ¶ And wee went before to ship, and sailed unto Assos, there intending to take in Paul: for so had he appointed, standing himselfe to goe afoot.

14 And when he met with vs at Assos, we took him in, and came to Mitylene.

15 And we sailed thence, and came the next day over a point Chios, and the next day we arrived at Samos, and carried at Trogyllian: and the next day we came to Mileus.

16 For Paul had determined to saile by Ephesus, because he would not spend the time in Asia: for he hastned, if it were possible for him to be at Ierusalem: the day of Pentecost.

17 ¶ And from Mileus he sent to Ephesus, and called the Elders of the Church.

18 And when they were come to him, he said unto them, Yee know from the first day that I came into Asia, after what manner I have beene with you at all seasons,

19 Serving the Lord with all humility of mind, and with many teares and temptations, which befell me by the lying in wait of the Iewes:

20 And how I kept backe nothing that was profitable unto you, but have showed you, and have taught you publicly, and from house to house, 21 Testifying both to the Iewes, and also to the Greeks, repentance toward God, and faith toward our Lord Iesus Christ.

22 And now behold, I am bound in the spirit unto Ierusalem, not knowing the things that shall befall me there:

23 Sane that the holy Ghost witnesseth in every city, saying, That bonds and afflictions shall abide mee.

24 But none of these things moue me; neither count I my life deare unto my selfe, so that I might finish my course with ioy, and the ministry which I have receiued of the Lord Iesus, to testify the Gospel of the grace of God.

25 And now behold, I know that yee all, among whom I have gone preaching the kingdome of God, shall see my face no more.

26 Wherefore I take you to record this day, that I am pure from the blood of all men.

27 For I have not shunned to declare unto you all the counsell of God.

28 ¶ Take heed therefore unto your selues, and to all the soule, over the which the holy Ghost hath made you overseers, to feed the Church of God, which he hath purchased with his owne blood.

29 For I know this, that after my departing, shall grievous wolues enter in among you, not sparing the flocke.

30 Also of your owne selues shall men arise, speaking peruerse things, to draw away disciples after them, 31 Therefore watch, and remember that by the space of three yeres I ceased not to warne every one night and day with teares.

32 And now, brethren, I commend you to God, and to the Word of his grace, which is able to build you vp, and to give you an inheritance among all them which are sanctified.

33 I have coveted no mans siluer, or gold, or apparell.

34 Yea, you your selues know that these hands have ministered unto my necessities, and to them that were with mee.

35 I have showed you all things, how that I laboured bearing ye ought to support the weakes, and to remember the words of the Lord Iesus, how he said, It is more blessed to give than to receive.

36 ¶ And when he had thus spoken, hee kneeled downe, and prayed with them all.

37 And they all wept sore, and fell on Pauls necke, and kissed him,

C H A P. XXX.

Paul will not by any means be diffused from going to Hierusalem. 9 Philips daughters Propheetesses, 17 Paul commeth to Hierusalem: 27 where hee is apprehended, and in great danger, is let by the chiefe captaine rescued, and permitted to speake to the people.

And it came to passe, that after we were gotten from them, and had lauched, we came with a straight course vnto Chos, and the day following vnto Rhodes, and from thence vnto Pora.

2 And finding a ship sailing ouer vnto Phenicia, we went aboard, and let forth.

3 Now when we had discomfited Cyprus, we left it on the lefthand, & sailed into Syria, and landed at Tyre: for there shipp was to vnlade her burden.

4 And finding disciples, wee tarried there seuen dayes: who said to Paul through the Spirit, that he should not goe vp to Hierusalem.

5 And when we had accomplished thre daies, we departed, and went our way, and they all brought vs on our way, with wines and children, till wee were out of the city: and wee kneeled downe on the shore, and prayed.

6 And when we had taken our leaue one of another, we took ship, and they returned home againe.

7 And when wee had finished our course from Tyre, we came to Ptolemais, and saluted the brethren, and abode with them one day.

8 And the next day we that were of Pauls company, departed, and came vnto Cesarea, and we entered into the house of Philip the euangelist, (whiche was one of the seven) and abode with him.

9 And the same man had foure daughters, virgins, which did prophesie.

10 And as wee tarried there many dayes, there came downe from Iuda, a certaine Prophet named Agabus.

11 And when he was come vnto vs, he took Pauls girdle, and bound his owne hands and feet, & said, Thus saith the holy Ghost, So shall I stowe at Hierusalem himde the man that oweth this girdle, and shall deliuer him into the hands of the Gentiles.

12 And when wee heard these things, both wee and they of that place, brought him not to goe vp to Hierusalem.

13 Then Paul answered, What meane ye to weep, and to breake mine heart? for I am ready to be bound onely, but also to die at Hierusalem for the Name of the Lord Iesus.

14 And when he would not be perswaded, wee ceased, saying, the will of the Lord be done.

15 And after those dayes, weeooke vp our earriages, and went vp to Hierusalem.

16 There went with vs also certaine of the Disciples of Cesarea, and brought with them one Mison of Cyprus, an old Disciple, with whom wee should lodge.

17 And when we were come to Hierusalem, the brethren receiued vs gladly.

18 And the day following, Paul went in with vs vnto Iames, and all the Elders were present.

19 And when hee had saluted them, he declared particularly what things God had wrought among the Gentiles by his Ministry.

20 And when they heard it, they glorified the Lord, and said vnto him, Thou seest brother, how many thousands of Iewes there are which beleoue, and they are zealous of the Law.

21 And they are informed of thee, that thou teachest all the Iewes which are among the Gentiles, to forsake Moses, saying, That they ought not to circumsise their children, neither to walke after the customes.

22 What is it therefore? the multitude must needs come together: for they will hear that thou art come.

23 Doe therefore this that we say to thee: We haue seuerall men which haue a vow on them, 24 Them take, and purifie thy selfe with them, and be at charges with them, that they may wash their heads: and all may know that these things, whereof they were informed concerning thee, are nothing, but that thou thy selfe also walkest orderly, and keepst the Law.

25 As touching the Gentiles which beleoue, we haue written and concluded, that they obserue no such thing, save onely that they keepe themselves from things offered to idoles, and from blood, and from strangled, and from fornication.

26 Then Paul tooke the men, and the next day purifying himselfe with them, entered into the Temple, to signifye the accomplishment of the dayes of purification, vntill that an offering should be offered for euery one of them.

27 And when the seuen dayes were almost ended, the Iewes which were of Asia, when they saw him in the Temple, stirred vp all the people, and laid hands on him.

28 Crying out, Men of Israel helpe: this is the man that teacheth all men euery where against the people, and the Law, and this place: and farther, brought Greeks also into the Temple, and polluted this holy place.

29 (For they had seene before with him in the city, Trophimus an Ephesian, whom they supposed that Paul had brought into the Temple.)

30 And all the city was moued, & the people ran together: and theyooke Paul, and drew him out of the Temple: & forthwith the doores were shut.

31 And as they went about to kill him, tidings came vnto the chiefe captaine of the band, that all Hierusalem was in an uproare, 32 Who immediately tooke souldiers, and Centurions, and ran downe vnto them: and when they saw the chiefe Captaine, and the souldiers, they left beating of Paul.

33 Then the chiefe Captaine came neere, and tooke him, and commanded him to be bound with two chaines, and demanded who he was, and what hee had done.

34 And some cryed one thing, some another, among the multitude: and when he could not know the certainty for the tumult, he commanded him to be carried into the castle.

35 And when he came vpon the stairs, so it was, that he was borne of the souldiers, for the violence of the people.

36 For the multitude of the people followed after, crying, Away with him.

37 And as Paul was to be led into the castle, he said vnto the chiefe Captaine, May I speake vnto thee? Who said, Canst thou speake Grecke?

38 Art not thou that Egyptian, which before these dayes madest an uproare, and leddest our brethren to the wilderness, where thou hast men that were murderers?

39 But Paul said, I am a man which am a Iew of Tarsus, a city in Cilicia, a citizen of no meane city: and I beseech thee, suffer me to speake vnto people.

40 And when hee had giuen him licence, Paul stood stood on the staires : and beckoned with the hand vnto the people : and when there was made a great silence, hee spake vnto them in the Hebrew tongue, saying :

C H A P. XXII.

1 Paul declares at large how he was converted to the faith, 17 and called to his Apostleship. 22 As the very mentioning of the Gentiles, the people exclaim on him. 24 He should have been scourged : 25 but claiming the privilege of a Roman, he escapes.

MEN, brethren and fathers, heare ye my defence which I make now vnto you.

2 (And when they heard that hee spake in the Hebrew tongue to them, they kept the more silence, and he saith.)

3 I am verely a man which am a Jew, borne in Tarsus, a city in Cilicia, yet brought vp in this citie, at the feet of Gamaliel, and taught according to the perfect manner of the Law of the fathers, and was zealous towards God, as ye all are this day.

4 And I persecuted this way vnto the death, binding and delivering into prisons both men and women,

5 As also the high Priest doth heare me witness, and all the estate of the Elders : from whom also I received letters vnto the brethren, and went to Damascus, to bring them which were therebound vnto Hierusalem, for to be punished.

6 And it came to passe, that as I made my journey, and was come nigh vnto Damascus about noone, suddenly there shone from heauen a great light round about me.

7 And I fell vnto the ground, & heard a voice saying vnto me, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me ?

8 And I answered, Who art thou, Lord ? And he said vnto me, I am Iesus of Nazareth whom thou persecutest.

9 And they that were with me, saw indeede the light, and were afraid : but they heard not the voyce of him that spake to me.

10 And I said, What shall I doe, Lord ? And the Lord sayd vnto me, Arise, and goe into Damascus, and there it shall be told thee of all things which are appointed for thee to doe.

11 And when I could not see for the glory of that light, being led by the hand of them that were with me, I came into Damascus.

12 And one Ananias, a devout man according to the Law, hauing a good report of all the Iewes which dwelt there, 13 Came vnto me, and stood, and said vnto me, Brother Saul, receive thy sight. And the same houre I looked vp vpon him.

14 And hee said, The God of our fathers hath chosen thee, that thou shouldst know his will, and see that iust One, and shouldst heare the voyce of his mouth.

15 For thou shalt be his witness vnto all men, of what thou hast seene and heard.

16 And now, Why tarriest thou ? Arise, and be baptized, and wash away thy sinnes, calling on the Name of the Lord.

17 And it came to passe, that when I was come againe to Hierusalem, euen while I prayed in the Temple, I was in a trance, 18 And saw him, saying vnto me Make haste, and get thee quickly out of Hierusalem : for they will not receive thy testimony concerning me.

19 And I said, Lord, they know that I imprisoned, and beat in every Synagogue them that believed on thee, 20 And when the blood of thy Martyr Stephen was shed, I also was standing by, and consenting vnto his death, and kept the raiment of them that slew him.

21 And he said vnto me, Depart : for I will send thee farre hence vnto the Gentiles, 22 And they gaue him audience vnto this word, and then lift vp their voices, and said, Away with such a fellow from the earth : for it is not fit that he should live.

23 And as they cried out, and cast off their clothes, and threw dust into the ayre, 24 The chiefe Captaine commanded him to be brought into the castle, and bade that he should be examined by scourging : that hee might know whetefore they cried to against him.

25 And as they bound him with thongs, Paul said vnto the Centurion that stood by, Is it lawful for you to scourge a man that is a Roman, and vncou'demned ?

26 When the Centurion heard that, he went and told the chiefe Captaine, saying, Take heed what thou doest, for this man is a Roman.

27 Then the chiefe Captaine came and said vnto him, Tell me, Art thou a Roman ? He said, Yea.

28 And the chiefe Captaine answered, With a great summe obtained I this freedom. And Paul said, But I was free borne.

29 Then straightway they departed from him, which should haue examined him, and the chiefe Captaine also was afraid, after that he saw that hee was a Roman, and because hee had bound him.

30 On the morrow, because he would haue knowne the certainty wherefore he was accused of the Iewes, he loos'd him from his bands, and commanded the chiefe Priests, and all their Councell to appeare, and brought Paul downe, and set him before them.

C H A P. XXIII.

1 As Paul pleaded his cause, 2 Ananias commanded them to smite him, 7 Diffension among his accusers. 11 God encourages him. 14 The Iewes laying waxe for Paul, 20 it declared vnto the chiefe captaine: 27 he sends him to Felix the gouernour.

AND Paul earnestly beholding the Councill, said, Men and brethren, I haue lived in all good conscience before God vntill this day.

2 And the high Priest Ananias commanded them that stood by him, to smite him on the mouth.

3 Then saith Paul vnto him, God shall smite thee, thou whitest wall : for sittest thou to iudge men after the Law, and commandest me to be beaten contrary to the Law ?

4 And they that stood by, said, Reuilest thou Gods high Priest ?

5 Then said Paul, I will not, brethren, that hee was the high Priest: For it is written, Thou shalt not speake euill of the Ruler of thy people.

6 But when Paul perceived that the one part were Sadduces, and the other Pharisees, hee cryed out in the Councill, Men and brethren, I am a Pharisee, the son of a Pharisee : of the hope and reuerence of the dead, I am called in question.

7 And when he had so said, there arose a diffension betweene the Pharisees and the Sadduces: and the multitude was diuided.

8 For the Sadduces say that there is no resurrection, neither Angel nor Spirit: but the Pharisees confesse both.

9 And there arose a great cry : and the Scribes that were of the Pharisees part, arose, and stood, saying, Wee find no euill in this man : but if a Spirit, or an Angel hath spoken to him, let vs not fight against God.

10 And when there arose a great dissention, the chiefe Captaine fearing lest Paul should haue been pulled in pieces of them, commanded the souldiers to goe downe, and to take him by force from among them, and to bring him into the castle.

11 And the night following the Lord stood by him, and said, Be of good cheere, Paul: for as thou hast testified of mee in Iherusalem, so must thou bear witness also at Rome.

12 And when it was day, certaine of the Iewes banded together, and bound themselves I vnder a case, saying, That they would neither eate nor drinke till they had killed Paul.

13 And they were more then forty which had made this conspiracy.

14 And they came to the chiefe Priests and Elders, and said, We haue bound our selues vnder a great curse, that wee will eat nothing vntill wee haue slaine Paul.

15 Now therefore ye with the Councell, excuse to the chiefe Captaine, that hee bring him downe vnto you to morrow, as though ye would enquire something more perfectly concerning him: and we or eate he come weere, are ready to kill him.

16 And when Pauls sisters, some heard of their laying in wait, he went and entered into the castle, and told Paul.

17 Then Paul called one of the Centurions vnto him, and said, Bring this young man vnto the chiefe Captaine, for he hath a certaine thing to tell him.

18 So hee tooke him, and brought him to the chiefe Captaine, and said, Paul the prisoner called me vnto him, & prayed me to bring this young man vnto thee, who saith something to say vnto thee.

19 Then the chiefe Captaine tooke him by the hand, and went with him aside privately, and asked him, What is that thou hast to tell me?

20 And he said, The Iewes haue agreed to desire thee, that thou wouldest bring downe Paul to morrow into the Councell, as though they would enquire somewhat of him more perfectly.

21 But doe not thus yeeld vnto them, for there fire in wait for him of them, more then forty men, which haue bound themselves vnto an oath, that they will neither eat nor drinke, till they haue killed him: and now are they ready looking for a promise from thee.

22 So the chiefe Captaine then let the young man depart, and charged him, See thou tell no man that thou hast theuall these things to mee.

23 And he called vnto him two Centurions, saying, Make ready two hundred souldiers to goe to Cesarea, and horsemen three or ten, and spearmen, two hundred, at the third houre of the night.

24 And provide them beasts, that they may set Paul on, and bring him safe vnto Felix the Governour.

25 And he wrote a letter after this manner:

26 Claudius Lysias, vnto the most excellent Governour Felix, sendeth greeting.

27 This man was taken of the Iewes, and should haue bene killed of them: Then came I with an army, and rescued him, hauing veridibood that he was a Roman.

28 And when I would haue knowne the cause wherefore they accused him, I brought him forth into their Councell.

29 Whom I promised to bee accused of questions of their Law, but so haue nothing laid to his charge worthy of death, or of bonds.

30 And when it was told me, how that the Iewes had wait for the man, I sent straightway to thee, & gave commandment to his accusers also, to stay before thee, what they had against him. Farewell.

31 Then the souldiers, as it was commaunded them, tooke Paul, and brought him by night to Antiptris.

32 On the morrow they left the horsemen to goe with him, and returned to the castle.

33 Who when they came to Cesarea, and delivered the Epistle to the governour, presented Paul also before him.

34 And when the governour had read the letter, he asked of what Province he was. And when hee vnderstood that he was of Cilicia:

35 I will heare thee, said he, when thine accusers are also come. And he commaunded him to be kept in Herods indgement hall.

C II A P. XXXIII.

1 Paul being accused by Tertullus the Orator, to answer for his life and doctrine. 2 He preaches Christ to the governour and his wife. 3 The governour hapeth for a bribe, but in vaine: 4 As last going out of his office, he findeth Paul in prison.

And after five dayes, Ananias the high Priest ascended with the Elders, and with a certain Orator named Tertullus, who informed the governour against Paul.

2 And when he was called forth, Tertullus began to accuse him, saying, Seeing that by thee wee enioy great quietnesse, and that very worthy deeds are done vnto this nation by thy providence:

3 Wee accept it alwaies, and in all places most noble Felix, with all thankfulness.

4 Notwithstanding, that I be not farther tedious vnto thee, I pray thee that thou wouldest heare vs of thy clemencie a few words.

5 For we haue found this man a pestiferous fellow; and a mouer of sedition among all the Iewes throughout the world, and a ring-leader of the sect of the Nazarens.

6 Who hath gone about to profane the Temple: whom wee tooke, and would haue iudged according to our Law.

7 But the chiefe Captaine Lysias came vpon vs, and with great violence tooke him away out of our hands:

8 Commanding his accusers to come vnto thee, thely examining of whom, thy selfe mayest take knowledge of all these things whereof we accuse him.

9 And the Iewes also assented, saying, that these things were so.

10 Then Paul after that the Governour had bene bound vnto him to speake, answered, Forasmuch as I know that thou hast bene of many yeris a Iudge vnto this nation, I doe the more cheerfully answer for my selfe:

11 Because that thou mayest vnderstand, that there are yet but twelue dayes since I went vp to Iherusalem for to worship:

12 And they neither found me in the Temple disputing with any man, neither raising up the people, neither in the Synagogues, nor in the city:

13 Neither can they proue the things whereof they now accuse mee.

14 But this I coultid vnto thee, that after the way which they call hereticke, so worship I the God of my Fathers, beleeuing all things which are written in the Law and the Prophets, 15 And haue hope towards God, which they themselves also allow, that there shall be a resurrection of the dead, both of the iust and vnjust.

16 And

19, vi an oath of execration.

16 And herein doe I exercise my selfe benealwaies a conscience void of offence toward God and toward men.

17 Now after many yeeres I came to bring almes to my nation and offerings:

18 Whereupon certaine Iewes from Asia found me purified in the Temple, whether with multitude, nor with tumult:

19 Who ought to have bene here before thee, and obiect, if they had ought against me.

20 Or else let this same here say, if they have found any euill doing in me, while I stood before the Councill,

21 Except it be for this one voyce, that I cryed standing among them, Touching the resurrection of the dead, I am called in question by you this day

22 And when Felix heard these things, hauing more perfect knowledge of that way, he deferred them and said, When I visis the chiefe Capitaine shall come downe, I will know the veritie of your matter.

23 And hee recommended a Contention to keepe Paul, and to let him haue liberty, and that hee should forbid none of his acquaintance to minister, or come vnto him.

24 And after certaine dayes, when Felix came with his wife Drusilla, which was a Iew, he sent for Paul, and heard him concerning the faith in Christ.

25 And as he reasoned of righteousness, temperance, and iudgement to come, Felix trembled, and answered, Go thy way for this time, when I haue a convenient season I will call for thee.

26 He hoped also that money should haue been giuen him of Paul, that he might loose him: wherefore he sent for him the oftner, and consumed with him.

27 But after two yeeres, Porcius Festus came into Felix roome: and Paul writing to shew the Iewes a pleasure, left Paul bound.

CHAP. XXV.

1 The Iewes accuse Paul before Festus, & he answereth for himselfe, and appealeth vnto Cesar:

2 Afterward Festus openeth his matter to King Agrippa, 23 and he is brought forth: 25 Festus cleareth him to haue done nothing worthy of death

NOW when Festus was come into the prouince, after three dayes hee ascended from Caesarea to Hierusalem.

2 Then the high Priest, & the chiefe of the Iewes informed him against Paul, and besought him,

3 And desired fauour against him, that he would send for him to Hierusalem, laying wait in the way to kill him.

4 But Festus answered, that Paul should be kept at Caesarea, and that hee himselfe would depart shortly thither.

5 Let them therefore, said he, which among you are able, goe downe with mee, and accuse this man, if there be any wickednesse in him.

6 And when he had tarried among them more then ten dayes, hee went downe vnto Caesarea, and the next day sitting in the iudgement seat, commanded Paul to be brought.

7 And when hee was come, the Iewes which came downe from Hierusalem, stood round about, and laid many and grievous complaints against Paul, which they could not proue.

8 While hee answered for himselfe, Neither against the law of the Iewes, neither against the Temple, nor yet against Cesar, haue I offended any thing at all.

9 But Festus willing to do the Iewes a pleasure, answered Paul, and said, Wilt thou goe vp to Hierusalem, and there bee iudged of thine things before mee?

10 Then said Paul, I stand at Cæsars iudgement seat, where I ought to bee iudged: to the Iewes haue I done no wrong, as thou very well knowest.

11 For if I be an offender, or haue committed any thing worthy of death, I refuse not to die: but if there be none of these things whereof these accuse me, no man may deliuer me vnto them. I supplicke vnto Cesar.

12 Then Festus when he had conferred with the Councill, answered, Hast thou appeared vnto Cesar? vnto Cesar shalt thou goe.

13 And after certaine dayes, King Agrippa and Bernice came vnto Caesarea, to salute Festus.

14 And when they had bene there many dayes, Festus declared Pauls cause vnto the King, saying, There is a certain man left in bonds by Felix:

15 About whom when I was at Hierusalem, the chiefe Priests and the Elders of the Iewes informed mee, desiring to haue iudgement against him.

16 To whom I answered, It is not the manner of the Romane to detaine any man to die, before that hee which is accused, haue the accusers face to face, and haue licence to answer for himselfe concerning the crime laid against him.

17 Therefore when they were come hither, without any delay, out-to morrow I late on the iudgement seat, and commanded the man to be brought forth.

18 Against whom when the accusers stood vpy they brought some accusation of such things as I supposed:

19 But had certaine questions against him of their own superstition, and of one Iesus which was dead, whom Paul affirmed to be alie.

20 And because I doubted of such manner of questions, I asked him, whether hee would goe to Hierusalem, and there bee iudged of these matters.

21 But when Paul had appealed to be referred vnto the hearing of Augustus, I commanded him to be kept, till I might send him to Cesar.

22 Thus Agrippa said vnto Festus, I would also heare the man my selfe. To morrow, said he, thou shalt heare him.

23 And on the morrow when Agrippa was come and Bernice with y^e court, and was entred into the place of hearing, with the chiefe Capitaines, and principall men of the city: at Festus commandement Paul was brought forth.

24 And Festus said, King Agrippa, and all men which are here present with vs, yee see this man, about whom all the multitude of the Iewes haue denied with mee, both at Hierusalem, and also here, crying that he ought not to liue any longer.

25 But when I found that hee had committed nothing worthy of death, and that hee himselfe hath appealed to Augustus, I haue determined to send him.

26 Of whom I haue no certaine thing to write vnto my Lord: wherefore I haue brought him forth before you: and especially before thee, O King Agrippa, that after examination had, I might haue somewhat to write.

27 For it cometh to mee inconuenient, to send a prisoner, and not withall to signifye the crimes laid against him.

CHAP. XXVI.

1 Paul in the presence of Agrippa, declareth his life from his childhood, 12 and how miraculously

Or, I was doubtfull how to enquire hereof. Or, I was doubtfull how to enquire hereof.

he was converted, and called to his Apostleship: 24 Felus charged him to be mad, whereas hee enforneth modestly. 28 Agrippa is almost persuaded to be a Christian. 31 The whole company promisse him innocencie.

Then Agrippa said vnto Paul, Thou art permitted to speake for thy selfe. Then Paul stretcht forth the hand, and answered for himselfe,

1 I thinke my selfe happy King Agrippa, because I shall answere for my selfe this day before thee, touching all the things whereof I am accused of the Iewes:

2 Especially, because I know thee to be expert in all cultures and questions which are among the Iewes: wherefore I beseech thee to heare me patiently.

3 My manner of life from my youth, which was at the first among mine owne nation at Hieru-salem, know all the Iewes.

4 Which knew me from the beginning (if they would testifie) that after the most straitest sect of our religion, I liued a Pharisee.

5 And now I stand, and am iudged for the hope of the promise made of God vnto our fathers:

6 Vnto which promise our twelue tribes incessantly seruise God day and night, hope to come:
for which hopes sake, King Agrippa, I am accused of the Iewes.

7 Why should it be thought a thing incredible with you, that God should raise the dead?

8 I verely thinke with my selfe, that I ought to doe many things contrary to the Name of Iesus of Nazareth:

9 Which thing I also did in Hierusalem, and many of the Saints did I shut vp in prison, having received authority from the chiefe Priests, and when they were put to death, I gaue my voyce against them.

10 And I punished them oft in every Synagogue, and compelled them to blaspheme, and being exceedingly mad against them, I persecuted them euen vnto strange cities.

11 Whereupon, 21 I went to Damascus with authority and commission from the chiefe Priests:

12 At midday, O King I saw in the way a light flaming round about mee, and euen which iourneyed with mee.

13 And when we were all fallen to the earth, I heard a voyce speaking vnto me, and saying in the Hebrew tongue, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? It is hard for thee to kicke against the prick;

14 And I said, Who art thou, Lord? and hee said, I am Iesus whom thou persecutest.

15 But rise, and stand vpon thy feet, for I haue appeared vnto thee for this purpose, to make thee a minister and a witness both of the things which thou hast seene, and of those things, in the which I will appeare vnto thee.

16 Delivering thee from the people, and from the Gentiles vnto whom now I lead thee,

17 To open their eyes, and to turne them from darknesse to light, and from the power of Satan vnto God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins, and inheritance among them which are sanctified by faith that is in me.

18 Whereupon, O King Agrippa, I was the disobedient vnto the heavenly vision:

19 But the voyd first vnto them of Damascus, and at Hierusalem, and throughout all the coaste of Iudaea, and then to the Gentiles: that they should repent, and turne to God, and doe workes meete for repentance.

20 For these causes the Iewes caught me in the Temple, and went about to kill me.

21 Having therefore obtained helpe of God, I continue vnto this day, witnessing both to small & great, saying none other things then those which the Prophets and Moyses did say should come:

22 That Christ should suffer, and that he should bee the first that should rise from the dead, and should shew light vnto the people, and to the Gentiles.

23 And as he thus spake for himselfe, Felus said with a loud voyce, Paul, thou art beside thy selfe, much learning hath made thee mad.

24 But he said, I am not mad, most noble Felus:
but speake smooth the words of truth and so crucifie.

25 For the King knoweth of these things, before whom also I speake freely: for I am persuaded, that none of these things are hid from him, for this thing was not done in a corner.

26 King Agrippa, beleueest thou the Prophets? know that I also beleue.

27 Then Agrippa said vnto Paul, Almost thou perswadest me to be a Christian.

28 And Paul said, I would to God, that not only thou, but also all that heare mee this day, were both almost and altogether such as I am, except these bonds.

29 And when he had thus spoken, the King rose vp, and the gouernour, and Bernice, and they that sate with the m.

30 And when they were gone aside, they talked betwene themselves, saying, This man doth nothing worthy of death or of bonds.

31 They said Agrippa vnto Felus, This man might haue bene set at liberty, if he had not appeared vnto Cesar.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 Paul shipping toward Rome, so foretold of the danger of the voyage, 11 but it was beloued.

14 They are iudged to and for with respect: 21 and suffer shipwracke 23, 24, 27. Yet all come safe to land.

And when it was determined that we should saile into Italy, they suffered Paul, and certaine other prisoners, vnto one named Iulius, a Centurion of Augustus band.

2 And entering into a ship of Adramyttium, we lanched, meaning to saile by the coast of Asia, our Apistarchus a Meceonian of the Gallatians being with vs.

3 And the next day we touched at Sidon: and Iulius courteously recreated Paul, and gaue him liberty to goe vnto his friends to refresh himselfe.

4 And when we had lanched from thence, wee sailed vnder Cyprus, because the winds were contrary.

5 And when wee had sailed ouer the Sea of Cilicia and Pamphylia, wee came to Myra, a city of Lycia.

6 And there the Centurion found a ship of Alexandria sayling into Italy, and he put vs therein.

7 And when we had sayled slowly many dayes, and scarce were come ouer against Gaidrus, the wind not following vs, we sailed vnder Crete, ouer against Salmone.

8 And hardly passing it, came vnto a place which is called the Fair-haues, nigh whereunto was the city of Lata.

9 Now when much time was spent, and when sayling

Shipping was now dangerous, because the East was now already past. Paul admonished them, 10 And said unto them, Sirs, I perceive that this voyage will be with hurt and much damage, not onely of the lading and ship, but also of our lives.

11 Nevertheless, the Centurion desired the master and the owner of the ship, more then those things which were spoken by Paul.

12 And because the haven was not commodious to winter in, the more part advised to depart thence also, if by any means they might arrive to Phenice, and there to winter: which is an haven of Crete, and lieth toward the South-west, and North-west.

13 And when the South wind blew softly, supposing that they had obtained their purpose, loosing thence they failed close by Crete.

14 But not long after, there arose against it a tempestuous wind, called Euroclydon.

15 And when the ship was caught, and could not beare vp into the wind, we let her drive.

16 And running vnder a certaine land, which is called Claudia, we had much worke to come by the boat:

17 Which when they had taken vp, they vied helpe, vnder-girding the ship; and tearing left helpe should fall into the quick-sands, strake saile, and so were driuen.

18 And being exceedingly tossed with a tempest, the next day they lightened the ship:

19 And the third day we cast out with our own hands the tackling of the ship.

20 And when neither Sunne nor Starres in many dayes appeared, and no small tempest lay on vs; all hope that we should be saved was then taken away.

21 But after long affliction, Paul stood fourth in the middle of them, and said, Sirs ye should haue hearkened vnto mee, and not haue loosed from Crete, and to haue gained this harme and losse.

22 And now I exhort you to be of good cheer, for there shall be no losse of any mans life among you, but of the ship.

23 For there stood by me this night the Angel of God, whose I am, and whom I serue, 24 Saying, Feare not, Paul, thou shalt be brought before Cesar, and loe, God hath giuen thee all them that saile with thee.

25 Wherefore Sirs be of good cheer: for I beleue God that it shall be euen as it was told me.

26 Howbeit, wee must be cast vpon a certaine Island.

27 But when the fourteenth night was come, as we were driuen vp, and downe in Adria about midnight, the Shipmen deemed that they drew nere to some country:

28 And fastened, and found it to beary fishbones, and when they had gone a little further, they touched againe, and found it to be a shoore.

29 Then fearing lest we should haue fallen vpon rocks, they cast boare anchors out of the Reme, and wished for the day.

30 And as the Ship-men were about to flee out of the ship, when they had let downe the boare into the Sea, vnder colour as though they would haue cast anchors out of the fore-ship, 31 Paul said to the Centurion, and to the soldiers, Except these abide in the ship, ye cannot be saved.

32 Then the soldiers cut off the ropes of the boat, and let her fall off.

33 And while the day was coming on, Paul besought them all to take meat, saying, This day is the fourteenth day that ye haue tarried and consumed fasting, hauing taken nothing.

34 Wherefore, I pray you, to take some meat, for this is for your health: for there shall not an haire fall from the head of any of you.

35 And when he had thus spoken, he tooke bread, and gaue thanks to God in presence of them all, and when he had broken it, he began to eate.

36 Then were they all of good cheer, and they also tooke some meat.

37 And we were in all in the ship, two hundred threescore and sixtyn soules.

38 And when they had eaten enough, they lightened the ship, and cast out the wheat into the Sea.

39 And when it was day, they knew not the land: but they discovered a certaine creeke, with a shire, into the which they were minded, if it were possible, to thrust in the ship.

40 And when they had taken vp the anchors, they committed themselves vnto the Sea, and loosed the rudder band, and hoisted vp the maine saile to the wind, and made toward shore.

41 And falling into a place where two Seas meet, they ran the ship a ground, and the forepart broke fast, and remained vmmouable, but the hinder part was broken with the violence of the waues.

42 And the soldiers counsell was to kill the prisoners, lest any of them should swim out, and escape.

43 But the Centurion, willing to save Paul, kept them from their purpose, and commanded that they which would swim should cast themselves first into the Sea, and get to land.

44 And the rest, some on boards, and some in broken peece, of the ship: and so it came to passe, they escaped all safe to land.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 Paul after his shipwrecke, is kindly entertained of the Barbarians. 2 The viper on his hand hurteth him not. 3 He healeth many diseases in the Island. 4 They depart towards Rome. 5 He declareth to the Iewes the cause of his coming.

6 After his preaching, some were perswaded, and some beleeued not. 7 Yet he preacheth euer two yeeres.

And when they were escaped, when they knew that the Island was called Melita.

2 And the barbarians people shewed vs no little kinde of it: for they kindled a fire, and received vs eury one, because of the present raine, and because of the cold.

3 And when Paul had gathered a bundle of sticks, and laid them on the fire, there came a viper out of the heat, and fastened on his hand.

4 And when the Barbarians saw the swarming beast hang on his hand, they said among themselves, No doubt this man is a murderer, whom though he hath escaped the Sea, yet vengeance followeth not to him.

5 And he strooke off the beast into the fire, and felt no harme.

6 Howbeit, they looked when he should haue swollen, or fallen downe dead, for so long while they had looked a great while, and saw nothing come to him, they changed their opinion, and said, That he was a god.

7 In the same quarters were possessions of the little man of the Island, whose name was Publius, who received vs, and lodged vs three dayes continuously.

8 And it came to passe that the father of Publius lay sicke of a fever, and of a bloody flux, to whom Paul entred in, and prayed, and laid his hands on him, and healed him.

9 So when this was done, others also which had diseases in the Island, came and were healed:

10 Who also honoured vs with many honours, when when we departed, they laden vs with such things as were necessary.

11 And after three months we departed in a ship of Alexandria which had wintered in the Isle, whose sign was Castor and Pollux.

12 And landing at Syracuse, we tarried there three dayes.

13 And from thence we set a compass and came to Rhegium, and after one day the South wind blew, and we came the next day to Puteoli:

14 Where we found brethren, and were desired to tarry with them seven dayes: and so we went toward Rome.

15 And from thence when the brethren heard of us, they came to meet vs as farre as Appij-Forum, and the three Tavernes whom when Paul saw, he thanked God, and toke courage.

16 And when we came to Rome, the Centurion delivered the prisoners to the Captaine of the guard: but Paul was suffered to dwell by himselfe, with a soldier that kept him.

17 And it came to passe, that after three dayes, Paul called the chiefe of the Jewes together. And when they were come together, he said vnto them, Men and brethren, though I haue committed nothing against the people, or customes of our Fathers, yet was I delivered prisoner from Hierusalem, into the hands of the Romanes.

18 Who when they had examined mee, would haue let me go, because there was no cause of death in mee.

19 But when the Jewes spake against it, I was constrained to appeale vnto Cesar, not that I had ought to accuse my nation of.

20 For this cause therefore haue I called for you, to see you, and to speake with you: because that for the hope of Israel I am bound with this chain.

21 And they said vnto him, We neither received letters out of Iudea concerning thee, neither say of the brethren that came, shewd or spake any harme of thee.

22 But wee desire to heare of thee what thou thinkest: for as concerning this sect, we know that euery where it is spoken against.

23 And when they had appointed him a day, there came many to him into his lodging, to whom he expounded and testified the kingdom of God, persuading them concerning Iesus, both out of the Law of Moses, and out of the Prophets, from morning till evening.

24 And some beleued the things which were spoken, and some beleued not.

25 And when they agreed not among themselves, they departed, after that Paul had spoken one word, Well spake the holy Ghost by Eliaas the Prophet vnto our fathers, 26 Saying, * Goe vnto this people, and say, Hearing ye shall heare, and shall not vnderstand; and seeing ye shall see, and not perceiue.

27 For the heart of this people is waxed grosse, and their eares are dull of hearing, and their eyes haue they closed, lest they should see with their eyes, and heare with their eares, and vnderstand with their hearts, and should be conuerted, and I should heale them.

28 He it knoweth therefore vnto you, that the saluation of God is iust vnto the Gentiles, and that they will beare it.

29 And when he had said these words, the Jewes departed, and had great reasoning among themselves.

30 And Paul dwelt two whole yeres in his own hired house, and receiued all that came in vnto him, 31 Preaching the kingdom of God, and teaching the things which concerne the Lord Iesus Christ, with all confidence, no man forbidding him.

The end of the Actes of the Apostles.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE Apostle to the Romanes.

CHAP. I.

1 Paul commendeth his calling to the Romanes, and his desire to come to them. 16 Hee is his Gospel, and the righteousness which is therein. 18 God is angry with all manner of sinners. 21 What was the fruit of the Gentiles.

A V L a seruant of Iesus Christ, called to be an Apostle, * imparted vnto the Gospel of God,

2 Which hee had promised afore by his Prophets, in the holy Scriptures,

3 Concerning Iesus Christ our Lord, which was made of the seed of David according to the flesh,

4 And declared to be the Son of God, with power, and without deceit, by the resurrection from the dead.

5 By whom we haue receiued grace and Apostleship, for obedience to the faith among all nations for his name.

6 Among whom are ye also the called of Iesus Christ.

7 To all that be in Rome, beloved of God, called to be Saints: Grace to you, and peace from God our Father, and the Lord Iesus Christ.

8 First, I thank my God through Iesus Christ, for you all, that your faith is spoken of throughout the whole world.

9 For God is my witness, whom I serue with my Spirit in the Gospel of his Sonne, that without ceasing I make mention of you alwayes in my prayers,

10 Making request, (if by any means now at length, I might haue a prosperous journey by the will of God) to come vnto you.

11 For I long to see you, that I may impart unto you some spiritual gift, to the end you may be established.

12 That is, that I may be comforted together with you, by the mutuall faith both of you and mee.

13 Now I would not have you ignorant brethren that oftentimes I purposed to come unto you (but was let hitherto) that I might have some fruit among you also, even as among other Gentiles.

14 I am debtors both to the Greeks, and to the Barbarians; both to the wise, and to the unwise.

15 So as much as in me is, I am ready to preach the Gospel to you that are at Rome also.

16 For I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God unto salvation, to every one that beleeueth, to the Jew first, and also to the Greeke.

17 For therein is the righteousness of God revealed from faith to faith, as it is written; * The just shall live by faith.

18 For the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness, and unrighteousnesse of men, who hold the truth in unrighteousnesse.

19 Because that which may be knowne of God, is manifest in them, for God hath shewed it unto them.

20 For the invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seene, being understood by the things that are made, even his eternall power and Godhead, so that they are without excuse:

21 Because that when they knew God, they glorified him not as God, neither were thankful, but became vaine in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was darkened:

22 Professing themselves to be wise, they became fooles:

23 And changed the glory of the incorruptible God, into an image made like to corruptible man, and to birds, and to beasts, and creeping things:

24 Wherefore God also gave them up to uncleannesse, through the desires of their own hearts, to dishonour their own bodies by in-betweening themselves:

25 Who changed the truth of God into a lie, and worshipped and served the creature more then the Creator, who is blessed for ever, Amen.

26 For this cause God gave them up unto vile concupiscence: even their women did change the naturall use, that which is against nature:

27 And likewise also the mensting the naturall use of the woman, burned in their lust one towards another, men with men, working that which is vile, and receiving in themselves that recompence of their error which was meet.

28 And when as they did not like to retain God in their knowledge, God gave them over to a reprobate mind, to do those things which are not convenient:

29 Being filled with all unrighteousnesse, fornication, wickednesse, covetousnesse, maliciousnesse, full of envy, murder, debate, deceit, malignity, without goodnesse:

30 Backbiters, haters of God, despitefull, proud, boasters, inventors of evil things, disobedient to parents:

31 Without understanding, conscience breakers, without naturall affection, implacable, unmercifull:

32 Who knowing the iudgement of God (that, they which commit such things, are worthy of death) not only do the same, but I have pleasure in them that do them.

CHAP. IJ.

1 They that sinne, though they condemne it in others, cannot excuse themselves, & and much less escape the iudgement of God, & whether they be Jewes or Gentiles. 2 The Gentiles cannot escape, 3 nor yet the Jewes, 4 whom their circumcision shall not profit, if they have not the Law.

5 Therefore thou art inexcusable, O man, who soever thou art that iudgeth: for wherein thou iudgeth another, thou condemnest thy selfe, for thou that iudgeth, doest the same things.

6 But we are sure that the iudgement of God is according to truth, against them which commit such things.

7 And thinkest thou this, O man that iudgeth them which doe such things, and doest the same, that thou shalt escape the iudgement of God?

8 Or despisest thou the riches of his goodness, and forbearance, and long-suffering, not knowing that the goodness of God leadeth thee to repentance?

9 But after thy hardness, and impenitent heart, treasurest up unto thy selfe wrath, against the day of wrath, and revelation of the righteous iudgement of God:

10 Who will render to every man according to his deeds:

11 To them, who by patient continuance in well-doing, shall be for glory and honour, and immortality, eternal life:

12 But unto them that are contentious, and doe not obey the truth, but obey unrighteousnesse, indignation, and wrath, 13 Tribulation, and anguish, upon every soule of man that doeth evil, of the Jew first, and also of the Gentile.

14 But glory, honour, and peace to every man that worketh good, to the Jew first, and also to the Gentile.

15 For there is no respect of persons with God: 16 For as many as have sinned without Law, shall also perish without Law: and as many as have sinned in the Law, shall be iudged by the Law.

17 For not the hearers of the Law are iust before God, but the doers of the Law shall be iustified, 18 For when the Gentiles which have not the Law, do by nature the things contained in the Law, these having not the Law, are a Law unto themselves.

19 Which shew the worke of the Law written in their hearts: their conscience also bearing witness, and their thoughts the meane while accusing, or else excusing one another:

20 In the day when God shall iudge the secrets of men by Iesus Christ, according to my Gospel.

21 Behold thou art called a Jew, and restest in the Law, and makest thy boast of God:

22 And knowest his will, and approvest the things that are more excellent, being instructed out of the Law.

23 And art confident that thou thy selfe art a guide of the blinde, a light of them which are in darkness:

24 An instructor of the foolish, a teacher of babes, which hast the forme of knowledge, and of the truth in the Law:

25 Thou therefore which teachest another, teachest thou not thy selfe? thou that preachest a man should not swear, dost thou swear?

Or, how few will them.

21 Thou that speest a man should not commit adultery, dost thou commit adultery? thou that abhorrest idols, dost thou commit sacrifice?

22 Thou that makest thy boast of the Law, thou breaking the Law, dishonourest thou God?

23 For the Name of God is blasphemed among the Gentiles through you, as it is written:

24 For Circumcision verily profiteth, if thou keepest the Law; but if thou be a breaker of the Law, thy Circumcision is made uncircumcision.

25 Therefore if the uncircumcision keepe the righteousness of the Law, shall not his uncircumcision be counted for Circumcision?

26 And shall not uncircumcision which is by nature, if it fulfill the Law, judge thee, who by the letter and circumcision dost transgress the Law?

27 For he is not a Jew which is outwardly, neither is that Circumcision which is outward in the flesh:

28 But he is a Jew which is one inwardly, and Circumcision is that of the heart, in the spirit, and not in the letter, whose praise is not of men, but of God.

CHAPTER III.

1 The Jewes prerogatives: 3 which they have not lost: 9 Howbeit the Law condemneth them also of some: 20 Therefore no flesh is justified by the Law, 28 but all without difference, by faith only:

31 And yet the Law is not abolished.

What advantage then hath the Jew? or what profit is there of Circumcision?

1 Much every way: chiefly, because that unto them were committed the Oracles of God.

2 For what if some did not believe? shall their unbelief make the faith of God without effect?

3 God forbid: yea, let God be true, but every man a liar, as it is written, That thou mightest be justified in thy sayings, and mightest overcome when thou art judged.

4 But if our unrighteousness commend the righteousness of God, what shall we say? Is God unrighteous, who taketh vengeance? (I speak as a man.)

5 God forbid: for then how shall God judge the world?

6 For if the truth of God hath more abounded through my lie unto his glory, why yet am I also judged as a sinner?

7 And not rather as we be slanderously reported and as some ascribe that we say, Let us doe evil, that good may come: whose damnation is just.

8 What then? are we better than they? No, in no wise: for we have before us proved both Jewes and Gentiles, that they are all under sinne,

9 As it is written, There is none righteous, no one true:

10 There is none that understandeth, there is none that seeketh after God.

11 They are all gone out of the way, they are together become unprofitable, there is none that doth good, no not one.

12 Their throat is an open sepulchre, with their tongues they have yfed death, the poyson of Aspes is under their lips:

13 Whose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness:

14 Their feet are swift to shed blood:

15 Destruction and misery are in their wayes:

16 And the way of peace have they not knowne:

17 There is no feare of God before their eyes.

18 Now we know that what things soever the Law saith, it saith to them who are under the Law:

19 that every mouth may be stopped, and all the world may become guilty before God.

20 Therefore by the deeds of the Law, there shall no flesh be justified in his sight: for by the Law is the knowledge of sinne.

21 But now the righteousness of God without the Law is manifested, being witnessed by the Law and the Prophets.

22 Even the righteousness of God, which is by faith of Iesus Christ unto all, and upon all them that beleve: for there is no difference:

23 For all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God,

24 Being justified freely by his grace, through the redemption that is in Iesus Christ:

25 Whom God hath set forth to be a propitiation, through faith in his blood, to declare his righteousness, for the remission of sinne that are past, through the forbearance of God.

26 To declare, I say, at this time his righteousness: that he might be iust, and the justifier of him which beleeveth in Iesus.

27 Where is boasting then? it is excluded. By what Law? of works? Nay: but by the Law of faith.

28 Therefore we conclude, that a man is justified by faith, without the deeds of the Law.

29 Is he the God of the Jewes only? Is he not also of the Gentiles? Yes, of the Gentiles also:

30 Seeing it is one God which shall iustifie the circumcision by faith, and uncircumcision through faith.

31 Doe we then make void the Law through faith? God forbid: Yea, we establish the Law.

CHAPTER IIIII.

1 Abraham's faith was imputed to him for righteousness, 10 before he was circumcised, 13 By faith only he and his seed received the promise, 16 Abraham is the father of all that beleve, 24 Our faith also shall be imputed to us for righteousness.

What shall we say then, that Abraham our father, as pertaining to the flesh, hath found?

1 For if Abraham were justified by works, hee both thereof to glory, but not before God.

2 For what saith the Scripture? Abraham beleeveth God, and it was counted unto him for righteousness.

3 Now to him that worketh, is the reward reckoned of grace, but of debt.

4 But to him that worketh not, but beleeveth on him that iustifieth the ungodly; his faith is counted for righteousness.

5 Even as David also describeth the blessedness of the man, unto whom God imputeth righteousness without works:

6 Saying, Blessed are they whose iniquities are forgiven, and whose sinnes are covered.

7 Blessed is the man to whom the Lord will not impute sinne.

8 Commeth this blessedness then upon the Circumcision only, or upon the uncircumcision also? for we say, that faith was reckoned to Abraham for righteousness.

9 How was it then reckoned? when he was in Circumcision, or in uncircumcision? not in Circumcision, but in uncircumcision.

10 And he received the signe of Circumcision, a seale of the righteousness of the faith, which he had yet being uncircumcised: that he might be the father of all them that beleve, though they be not circumcised: that righteousness might be imputed unto them also:

11 And the father of Circumcision, to them who are not of the circumcision only, but also walk in the steps of that faith of our father Abraham, which he had being yet uncircumcised.

12 For the promise that he should be the heir of the world, was not to Abraham, or to his seed through the Law, but through the righteousness of faith.

13 For if they which are of the Law be heirs, faith is made void, and the promise made of none effect:

14 Because the Law worketh wrath: for where no law is, there is no transgression.

15 Therefore it is of faith, that it might be by grace; to the end the promise might be sure to all the seed, not to that only, which is of the Law, but to that also which is of the faith of Abraham, who is the father of us all,

17 (As it is written, * I have made thee a father of many nations) || before him whom he believed, the him nam God, who quickeneth the dead, and calleth those things which be not, as though they were.

18 Who against hope, believed in hope, that he might become the father of many nations: according to that which was spoken, * So shall thy seed be

19 And being not weak in faith, he considered not his owne body now dead, when he was about an hundred yeeres old, neither yet the deadnesse of Saras wombe,

20 Hee staggered not at the promise of God through unbelief: but was strong in faith, giving glory to God:

21 And being fully perswaded, that what he had promised, he was able also to performe.

22 And therefore it was imputed to him for righteousness.

23 Now it was not written for his sake alone, that it was imputed to him.

24 But for vs also to whom it shall be imputed: if we believe on him that raised vp Iesus our Lord from the dead, 25 Who was delivered for our offences, and was raised againe for our iustificatiō.

CHAP. V.

1 Being iustified by faith, we have peace with God, 2 and joy in our hope, 3 that sit we were reconciled by his blood, when we were enemies, 4 so we shall much more be saved being reconciled. 12 As sinne and death came by Adam, 17 so much more righteousness and life by Iesus Christ. 20 Where sinne abounded, grace did superabound.

Therefore being iustified by faith, we have peace with God, through our Lord Iesus Christ.

2 By whom also we have access by faith, into this grace wherein we stand; and reioyce in hope of the glory of God,

3 And not onely so, but wee glory in tribulation also, knowing that tribulation worketh patience:

4 And patience experience: and experience hope:

5 And hope maketh not ashamed, because the love of God is shed abroad into our hearts, by the holy Ghost which is given unto vs.

6 For when we were yet without strength, I in ac- lay to time Christ died for us the wicked.

7 For scarcely for a righteous man will one die: yet peradventure for a good man some would even dare to die.

8 But God commendeth his love towards vs, in that while we were yet sinners, Christ died for vs.

9 Much more then, being now iustified by his blood, we shall be saved from wrath through him.

10 For if when we were enemies, we were reconciled to God by the death of his Sonne: much more being reconciled, we shall be saved by his life.

11 And not onely so, but wee also joy in God, through our Lord Iesus Christ, by whom wee have now received the atonement.

12 What more, as by one man, sinne entered into the world, and death by sinne: and so death passed upon all men, || for that all have sinned.

13 For vnaill the Law, sinne was in the world: but sinne is not imputed when there is no Law.

14 Nevertheless, death reigned from Adam to Moses, even over them that had not sinned after the similitude of Adams transgression, who is the figure of him that was to come:

15 But not as the offence, so also is the free gift: for if through the offence of one, many be dead: much more the grace of God, and the gift of grace which is by one man Iesus Christ, hath abounded unto many.

16 And not as it was by one that sinned, so is the gift: for the iudgement was by one to condemnation: but the free gift is of many offences unto iustificatiō.

17 For if by one mans offence, death reigned by one, much more they which receive abundance of grace, and of the gift of righteousness, shall reigne in life by one, Iesus Christ.

18 Therefore as || by the offence of one, judgement came upon all men to condemnation even so by the righteousness of one, the free gift came upon all men unto iustificatiō of life.

19 For as by one mans disobedience, many were made sinners: so by the obedience of one, shall many be made righteous.

20 Moreover, the Law entered, that the offence might abound: but where sinne abounded, grace did much more abound.

21 That as sinne hath reigned unto death, even so might grace reigne through righteousness unto eternal life, by Iesus Christ our Lord.

CHAP. VI.

1 We may not live in sinne, 2 for we are dead unto it, 3 as appeareth by our baptisme. 12 Let not sinne reigne any more, 18 because we have yielded our selves to the service of righteousness, 19 and for that death is the wages of sinne.

What shall we say then? shall we continue in sinne? that grace may abound?

2 God forbid: how shall we that are dead to sinne, live any longer therein?

3 Know ye not that so many of vs as were baptized into Iesus Christ, were baptized into his death?

4 Therefore wee are buried with him by baptisime into death, that like as Christ was raised vp from the dead by the glory of the Father: even so we also should walke in newnesse of life.

5 For if we have bene planted together in the likeness of his death: we shall be also in the likeness of his resurrection:

6 Knowing this, that our old man is crucified with him, that the body of sinne might be destroyed: that henceforth we should not serve sinne.

7 For he that is dead, is freed from sinne.

8 Now if we be dead with Christ, we believe that we shall also live with him:

9 Knowing that Christ being raised from the dead, dieth no more, death hath no more dominion over him:

10 For in that he died, he died unto sinne once: but in that he lieth, he lieth unto God.

11 Likewise reckon ye also your felicity to be dead indeed vnto sin: but alive vnto God, through Iesus Christ our Lord.

12 Let not sin reigne therefore in your mortall body, that ye should obey it in the lusts thereof.

f Greek, armer: or weapons

13 Neither yield ye your members as instruments of vnrightheadnesse vnto sinne: but yield your felices vnto God, as those that are alive from the dead, and your members as instruments of rightheadnesse vnto God.

14 For sinne shall not haue dominion ouer you, for ye are not vnder the Law, but vnder Grace.

15 What then? shall we sin, because we are not vnder the Law, but vnder Grace? God forbid.

16 Know ye not, that to whom ye yield your felices seruants to obey, his seruants ye are to whom ye obey: whether of sinne vnto death, or of obedience vnto rightheadnesse?

17 But God he thanked, that ye were the seruants of sinne: but ye haue obeyed from the heart that forme of doctrine, which was deliuered you.

f Greek, mberisio ye were shilme: yea

18 Being then made free from sinne, ye became the seruants of rightheadnesse.

19 I speake after the manner of men, because of the infirmity of your flesh: for as ye haue yielded your members seruants to vncleanness and to iniquity, vnto iniquity: euen so now yield your members seruants to rightheadnesse, vnto holinesse.

f Greek, ye were free

20 For when ye were the seruants of sin, ye were free from rightheadnesse.

21 What fruit had ye then in those things whereof ye are now ashamed? for the end of those things is death.

22 But now being made free from sinne, and become seruants to God, ye haue your fruit vnto holinesse, and the end everlasting life.

23 For the wages of sin is death: but the gift of God is eternall life, through Iesus Christ our Lord.

CHAP. VII

1 No law hath power ouer a man longer then he lieth, 2 But we are dead to the Law. 7 Yet it not the Law sin, 12 but hal, wyl, &c. as I acknowledge, who am grued because I cannot keepe it.

Know ye not brethren? for I speake to them that know the Law how that the Law hath dominion ouer a man as long as he lieth?

2 For the woman which hath an husband, is bound by the Law to her husband as long as he lieth: but if the husband be dead, she is loosed from the Law of her husband.

3 So then, if while her husband lieth, she be married to another man, shee shall be called an adulteresse: but if her husband be dead, she is free from that law, so that she is not an adulteresse, though she be married to another man.

4 Wherefore my brethren, ye also are become dead to the Law by the body of Christ, that ye should be married to another, euen to him who is raised from the dead, that we should bring forth fruit vnto God:

f Greek, by passion

5 For which we were in the flesh, the motions of sinne, which were by the Law, and worke in our members to bring forth fruit vnto death.

f Greek, dead to the Law

6 But now we are deliuered from the Law, that being dead wherein we were held, that we should serue in newnesse of spirit, and not in the oldnesse of the letter.

7 What shall we say then? Is the Law sinne? God forbid. Nay, I had not knowen sinne, but by the Law: for I had not knowen, but by the Law, had said, Thou shalt not covet.

f Greek, had said

8 But sinne taking occasion by the Commandement, wrought in me all manner of concupiscence, for without the Law sinne was dead.

9 For I was alive without the Law once: but when the Commandement came, sinne reigned, and I dyed.

10 And the Commandement which was ordained to life, I found to be vnto death.

11 For sinne taking occasion by the Commandement, deceived me, and by it slew me.

12 Wherefore the Law is holy, and the commandement holy, and iust, and good.

13 Was therefore that which is good, made death vnto me? God forbid. But sinne, that it might appear sinne, working death in me by that which is good: that sinne by the commandement might become exceeding vniust.

14 For we know that the Law is spirituall: but I am carnall, sold vnder sinne.

15 For that which I do, I do not, but what I hate, that doe I.

f Greek, knowen

16 If then I doe that which I would not, I consent vnto the Law, that it is good.

17 Now then it is no more I that doe it: but sin that dwelleth in me.

18 For I know that in me, (that is, in my flesh) dwelleth no good thing: For to euil is preient with me: but how to performe that which is good, I finde not.

19 For the good that I would, I doe not: but the euill which I would not, that I doe.

20 Now if I doe that, I would not, it is no more I that doe it, but sin that dwelleth in me.

21 I find then a Law, that when I would do good, euill is preient with me.

22 For I delight in the Law of God, althoough inwardly man, 23 But I see another Law in my members, warring against the Law of my minde, and bringing mee into captivity to the law of sinne which is in my members.

24 O wretched man that I am, who shall deliuer me from the body of this death?

f Or, how of d

25 I thank God through Iesus Christ our Lord. So then, with the minde I my selfe serue the Law of God: but with the flesh, the law of sinne.

CHAP. VIII

1 They that are in Christ, are free according to the Spirit: are free from condemnation, 5, 13 Who haue compassed the first, 6, 14 and what good of the Spirit, 17 and what of being Gods child, 19 whose gloriouse deliuerance all things long for, 20 was before hand decreed from God, 26 What can suffer to free by law?

These things therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Iesus, who walke not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

f Or, free for

2 For the Law of the Spirit of life in Christ Iesus, hath made us free from the law of sinne and death.

3 For what the Law could not doe, in that it was weak through the flesh, God sending his own Sonne in the likeness of sinfull flesh, and for sinne condemned him in the flesh:

f Or, with of s flesh

4 That the rightheadnesse of the Law might be fulfilled in us, who walke not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

f G, mak of s

5 For they that are after the flesh, do mind the things of the flesh: but they that are after the Spirit, the things of the Spirit.

f Or, with of s

6 For to be carnally minded, is death: but to be spirituallly minded, is life and peace:

7 Because if the carnall minde is enemy against God,

God: for it is not subject to the Law of God, neither indeed can be.

8 So then, they that are in the flesh, cannot please God.

9 But ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, if so be that the Spirit of God dwell in you. Now if any man have not the Spirit of Christ, he is none of his.

10 And if Christ be in you, the body is dead because of sin: but the Spirit is life because of righteousness.

11 But if the Spirit of him that raised up Jesus from the dead, dwell in you: hee that raised up Christ from the dead, shall also quicken your mortal bodies by his Spirit that dwelleth in you.

12 Therefore brethren, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live after the flesh.

13 For if ye live after the flesh, ye shall die: but if ye through the Spirit, doe mortifie the deeds of the body, ye shall live.

14 For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the seed of God.

15 For ye have not received the Spirit of bondage againe to feare, but ye have received the Spirit of adoption, whereby we cry Abba, Father.

16 The Spirit it self beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God.

17 And if children, then heires, heires of God, and joint heires with Christ: if so be that we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified together.

18 For I reckon, that the sufferings of this present time, are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed in vs.

19 For the earnest expectation of the creature, waiteth for the manifestation of the sons of God.

20 For the creature was made subject to vanity, not willingly, but by reason of him who hath subjected the same in hope:

21 Because the creature it selfe also shall be delivered from the bondage of corruption, into the glorious liberty of the children of God.

22 For we know that the whole creation groaneth and travaileth in paine together until now.

23 And not onely they, but our selves also which have the first fruits of the spirit, even we our selves groane within our selves, waiting for the adoption, to witte, the redemption of our body.

24 For we are saved by hope: but hope that is seen, is not hope: for what a man seeth, why doth he yet hope for?

25 But if we hope for that we see not, then doe we with patience wait for it.

26 Likewise the spirit also helpeth our infirmities: for we know not what we should pray for as we ought: but the Spirit it selfe maketh intercession for vs with groanings, which cannot be uttered.

27 And hee that searcheth the hearts, knoweth what is the mind of the Spirit, because hee maketh intercession for the Saints, according to the will of God.

28 And wee know that all things worke together for good to them that love God, to them who see the called according to his purpose.

29 For whom he did foreknow, he also did predestinate to be conformed to the image of his Son, that he might be the first borne among many brethren.

30 Moreover, whom he did predestinate, them hee also called: and whom hee called, them hee also justified: and whom hee justified, them hee also glorified.

31 What shall we then say to these things? If God be for vs, who can be against vs?

20 He that spared not his owne Sonne: but delivered him up for vs all: how shall hee not with him also freely give vs all things?

21 Who shall lay any thing to the charge of Gods elect? It is God that justifieth:

22 Who is hee that condemneth? It is Christ that dyed, yea, rather that is risen againe, who is at the right hand of God, who also maketh intercession for vs.

23 Who shall separate vs from the love of Christ? shall tribulation, or distresse, or persecution, or famine, or nakednesse, or perill, or sword?

24 (As it is written, "For they shall be killed all the day long, we are accounted as sheepe for the slaughter.")

25 Nay, in all these things wee are more than conquerours, through him that loved vs.

26 For I am perished, that neither death, nor life, nor Angels, nor principallities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come,

27 Nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate vs from the love of God, which is in Christ Iesus our Lord.

CHAP. IX.

18 Out hath mercy upon whom he will. 21 The potter may doe with his clay what he list. 25 The calling of the Gentiles, and reaching of the Jewes wives footehold. 32 The cause why so few Jewes embraced the righteousness of faith.

1 Say the truth in Christ, I lie not, my confidence is also bearing me witness in the body Christ.

2 That I have great heaviness, and continuall sorrow in my heart.

3 For I could wish that my selfe were accursed from Christ, for my brethrens my kinsemens, according to the flesh:

5 Whose are the fathers, and of whom as concerning the flesh, Christ came, who is over all; God blessed for ever. Amen.

6 Not as though the word of God hath taken none effect. For they are not all Israel which are of Israel:

7 Neither because they are the seed of Abraham, are they all children: but as Isaac shall thy seed be called:

8 That is, they which are the children of the flesh: their are not the children of God: but the children of the promise are counted for the seed.

9 For this is the word of promise, * At this time will I come, and Sara shall have a sonne.

10 And not onely Sara, but when Rebecca also had conceived by one, even by our father Isaac,

11 (For the children being not yet borne, neither having done any good or evil, that the purpose of God according to election might stand, not of works, but of him that calleth.)

12 It was said unto her, The * elder shall serve the younger.

13 As it is written, * Jacob have I loved, but Esau have I hated.

14 What shall we say then? Is there unrighteousness with God? God forbid.

15 For he saith to Moses, I will have mercy on whom I will have mercy, and I will have compassion on whom I will have compassion.

16 If God be for vs, who can be against vs?

17 Who shall lay any thing to the charge of Gods elect? It is God that justifieth:

17 For the Scripture saith vnto Pharaoh, *Euen for this same purpose have I raised thee vp, that I might shew my power vnto thee, and that my Name might be declared throughout all the earth.

18 Therefore hath hee mercy on whom hee will hee will mercy, and whom hee will, hee hardeneth.

19 Thou wilt say then vnto me; Why doth hee yet find fault? For who hath resisted his will?

20 Nay, but O man, who art thou that repliest against God? Shall the thing formed say to him that formed it, *Why hast thou made me thus?

21 Hath not the potters power ouer the clay, of the same lump, to make one vessel vnto honour, and another vnto dishonour?

22 What if God willing to shew his wrath, and to make his power knowne, indured with much long suffering, the vessels of wrath fitted to destruction:

23 And that hee might make knowne the riches of his glory on the vessels of mercy, which hee had afore prepared vnto glory?

24 Euen vs whom hee hath called, not of the Iewes onely, but also of the Gentiles.

25 As hee saith also in Osee, * I will call them my people, which were not my people; and her beloved, which was not beloved.

26 * And it shall come to passe, that in the place where it was said vnto them, Ye are not my people, there shall they be called, the children of the liuing God.

27 Elias also cryeth concerning Israel, * Though the number of the children of Israel be as the sand of the sea, a remnant shall be saved.

28 For hee will finish the worke, and cut it short in righteousnesse; because a thort worke will the Lord make vpon the earth.

29 And as Elias said before, * Except the Lord of Sabbath had left vs a seed, we had bene as Sodome, and bene made like vnto Gomorrah.

30 What shall we say then? That the Gentiles which followed not after righteousnesse, haue attained to righteousnesse, euen the righteousnesse which is of faith:

31 But Israel which followed after the Law of righteousnesse, hath not attained to the Law of righteousnesse.

32 Wherefore? because they sought it not by faith, but as it were by the worke of the Law; for they stumbled at the stumbling stone, 33 As it is written, * Behold, I lay in Sion a stumbling stone, and rocke of offence; and whosoever beleeueth on him, shall not be ashamed.

C. K. A. S. X.

5 The Scripture sheweth the difference betwixt the righteousnesse of the Law, and that of faith, 13 and that all, both Iewes and Gentiles, shall not be confounded, 18 and that the Gentiles shall receive the word of the Gospel. 19 Israel was not ignorant of these things.

Between my legge, and prayer to God. 10 For Israel is, that they might be saved.

11 For I beare them record, that they haue a zeale of God, but not according to knowledge.

12 For they being ignorant of Gods righteousnesse, and going about to establish their own righteousnesse, haue not submitted themselves vnto the righteousness of God.

13 For Christ is the end of the Law for righteousnesse to every one that beleueth.

3 For Moses deserueth the righteousnesse which is of the Law, that * the man which doth those things shall liue by them.

4 But the righteousnesse which is of faith, speakes thus on this wise: * Say not in thine heart, * Who shall ascend into heauen? that is to beare Christ downe from aboue.

5 Or who shall descend into the deepe? That is to bring vp Christ againe from the dead.

6 But what saith it? * The word is nigh thee, * It is within thy mouth, and in thine heart, that is the word of faith which we preach,

7 That if thou shalt confesse with thy mouth the Lord Iesus, and shalt beleuee in thine heart, that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved.

8 For with the heart man beleueth vnto righteousnesse, and with the mouth confession is made vnto salvation:

9 For the Scripture saith, * Whosoever beleueth on him: shall not be ashamed.

10 For there is no difference betwixt the Iew, and the Greeke; for the same Lord ouer all, is rich vnto all that call vpon him.

11 * For whosoever shall call vpon the Name of the Lord shall be saved.

12 How then shall they call on him in whom they haue not beleued? and how shall they beleuee in him of whom they haue not heard? and how shall they heare without a Preacher?

13 And how shall they preach, except they be sent? As it is written, * How beautiful are the feet of them that preach the Gospel of peace, and bring glad tidings of good things!

14 But they haue not all obeyed the Gospel. For as Elias saith, * Lord who hath beleued our report?

15 So then faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God.

16 But I say, haue they not heard? Yes verely, for their sound went into all the earth, and came vnto the ends of the world:

17 But I say, Did not Israel know? First, Moses saith, * I will pronounce you to be idle of by them that are no people, and by a foolish nation I will anger you.

18 But Elias is very bold, and saith, * I was found of them that sought mee not; I was made manifest vnto them that asked not after me.

19 But to Israel hee saith, * All day long I haue stretched forth my hands vnto a disobedient and gainsaying people.

C H A P. X I.

1 God hath not cast off all Israel, 7 Some were elect, though the rest were hardened. 16 There is hope of their conuersion. 18 The Gentiles may not insult upon them: 26 For there is a remnant of their salvation. 33 Gods iudgements are unsearchable.

1 Say then, Hath God cast away his people? God forbid. For I also am an Israelite of the seed of Abraham, of the tribe of Benjamin.

2 God hath not cast away his people which hee foreknew. Wot ye not what the Scripture saith of Elias? how hee made supplication vnto God against Israel, saying,

3 * Lord, they haue killed the Prophets, and digged downe thine Altars, and I am left alone, and they seek my life.

4 But what saith the answer of God vnto him? * I haue reserved to my selfe seven thousand men, who haue not bowed the knee to the image of Baal.

5 Even so then at this present time also there is a remission according to the election of grace.

6 And if by grace, then is it no more of works: otherwise, grace is no more grace. But if it be of works, then is it no more grace, otherwise works is no more work.

7 What then? Israel hath not obtained that which he seeketh for, but the election hath obtained it, and the rest were blinded.

8 According as it is written, ⁹ God hath given them the spirit of blindness, eyes that they should not see, and cares, that they should not heare unto this day.

9 And David saith, ¹⁰ Let their table be made a snare, and a trappe, and a stumbling block, and a recompence unto them.

10 ¹¹ Let their eyes be darkened, that they may not see, and bow downe their backe alway.

11 I say then, Have they stumbled that they should fall? God forbid. But rather through their fall, salvation is come unto the Gentiles, for to provoke them to jealousy.

12 Now if the fall of them be the riches of the world, and the diminishing of them the riches of the Gentiles: how much more their fullness?

13 For I speake to you Gentiles, in as much as I am the Apostle of the Gentiles, I magnifie mine office:

14 If by any means I may provoke to emulation them which are my flesh, and might save some of them.

15 For if the casting away of them, be the reconciling of the world; what shall the reconciling of them be, but life from the dead?

16 For if the first fruit be holy, the lump is also holy: and if the roote be holy, so are the branches.

17 And if some of the branches be broken off, and thou being a wild olive tree, wert grafted in among them, and with them partakest of the roote and stick of the Olive tree:

18 Boast not against the brancher: but if thou boast, thou bearest not the roote, but the roote thee.

19 Thou wilt say then, The branches were broken off, that I might be grafted in.

20 Well: because of unbelief they were broken off, and thou standest by faith. Be not high minded, but feare.

21 For if God spared not the natural branches, feare how lest he also spare not thee.

22 Behold therefore the goodness and severity of God: to them which fell, severity; but toward thee, goodness, if thou continue in his goodness, otherwise thou also shalt be cut off.

23 And they also, if they abide not still in unbelief, shall be grafted in: for God is able to graffe them in againe.

24 For if thou wert cut one of the Olive tree, which is wild by nature, and wert grafted contrary to nature into a good Olive tree: how much more shall they which be the natural branches, be graffed into their owne Olive tree?

25 For I would no: brethren, that ye should be ignorant of this mystery (lest ye should be wise in your owne conceits) that blindness in part is happened to Israel, until the fullness of the Gentiles be come in.

26 And so all Israel shall be saved, as it is written, ²⁷ There shall come out of Sion the deliverer, and shall turne away ungodlines from Jacob.

28 For this is my Covenant unto them, when I shall take away their iniquity.

29 As concerning the Gospel, they are enemies for your sakes: but as touching the Election, they are beloved for the fathers sakes.

30 For the gifts and calling of God are without repentance.

31 For as yet in times past have not I believed in God, yet have now obtained mercy through their unbelief.

32 Even so have these also now not I believed, that through your mercie, they also may obtain mercy.

33 For God hath concluded them all in unbelief, that he might have mercy upon all.

34 O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out!

35 For who hath known the mind of the Lord, or who hath bene his counsellor?

36 Or, who hath first given to him, and it shall be recompensed unto him againe?

37 For of him, and through him, and to him are all things: to whom be glory for ever. Amen.

CHAP. XII.

1 Gods mercies must wooe us to praise God.
2 No man must think too well of himselfe, & hat attend every one on that calling wherein he is placed.
3 Love and many other duties are required of vs.
4 Revenge is specially forbidden.

1 Resteek you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service.

2 And be not conformed to this world; but ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, that acceptable, and perfect will of God.

3 For I say, through the grace given unto me, to every man that is among you, not to think of himselfe more highly then he ought to thinke, but to thinke soberly according as God hath dealt to every man the measure of faith.

4 For as we have many members in one body, and all members have not the same office;

5 So we being many, are one body in Christ, and every one members one of another.

6 Having then gifts, differing according to the grace that is given to us, whether prophetic, or vs prophetic according to the proportion of faith;

7 Or ministry, let vs use on our ministering: or he that teacheth, on teaching;

8 Or he that exhorteth, on exhortation: he that giveth, let him doe it with simplicity: he that ruleth, with diligence: he that sheweth mercie, with chearfulness.

9 Let love be without dissimulation: abhorre that which is evil, cleave to that which is good.

10 Be kindly affectioned one to another, with brotherly love, in honour preferring one another.

11 Not slothfull in business: fervent in spirit, serving the Lord.

12 Reioicing in hope, patient in tribulation, continuing instant in prayer.

13 Distributing to the necessity of Saints, given to hospitality.

14 Bless them which persecute you, bleesse, and curse not.

15 Reioice with them that doe reioice; and weep with them that weep.

16 Be of the same mind one towards another, judge little things.

17 Be not wise in your owne conceits.

18 Rejoice in the Lord alway: againe I say, Rejoice.

19 Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly, and ye shall be able to bring forth the fruit of the Spirit with all lowliness, meekness, long patience, forbearance, with the love of peace, which shall bring forth the fruit of the Spirit.

17 Recompense to no man euill for euill. Provide things honest in the sight of all men.

18 If it be possible, as much as lieth in you, live peaceably with all men.

19 Dearly beloved, avenge not your selves, but rather give place unto wrath: for it is written, vengeance is mine, I will repay, saith the Lord.

20 Therefore if thine enemy hunger, feed him: if he thirst, give him drinke: For in so doing thou shalt heape coales of fire on his head.

21 Be not overcome of euill, but overcome euill with good.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Subjection and many other duties, wee owe to the Magistrates. 8 Loue is the fulfilling of the Law. 11 Gluttony and drunkennes, and the works of darkenesse, are out of season in the time of the Gospel.

Let every soule bee subiect vnto the higher powers: for there is no power but of God. The powers that be, are ordained of God.

2 Who soeuer therefore resisteth the power, resisteth the ordinance of Gods: and they that resist shall receive to themselves damnation.

3 For rulers are not a terror to good workers, but to the euill. Wilt thou then not be afraid of the power? doe that which is good, and thou shalt haue praise of the same.

4 For he is the minister of God to thee for good: but if thou doe that which is euill, he afraid: for he beareth not the sword in vaine: for hee is the minister of God, a revenger to execute wrath vpon him that doth euill.

5 Wherefore ye must needs be subiect, not only for wrath, but also for conscience sake:

6 For, for this cause pay you tribute also: for they are Gods ministers, attending continually vpon this very thing.

7 Render therefore to all their dues, tribute to whom tribute is due, custome to whom custome, feare to whom feare, honour to whom honour.

8 O we no man any thing, but to loone one another: for he that loveth another, hath fulfilled the Law.

9 For this, thou shalt not commit adulterie, Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not steale, Thou shalt not beare false witness, Thou shalt not covise, and if there be any other Commandement, it is briefly comprehended in this saying, namely, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thy selfe.

10 Love worketh no ill to his neighbour, therefore love is the fulfilling of the Law.

11 And that, knowing the time, that now it is high time to awake out of sleepe: for now is our salvation nearer: then when we beleued.

12 The night is far spent, the day is at hand: let vs therefore cast off the workes of darkenesse, and let vs put on the armour of light.

13 Let vs walke honestly as in the day, not in rioting and drunkennesse, not in chauing and wantonnesse, nor in strife and enuie.

14 But put ye on the Lord Iesus Christ, and make not provision for flesh, to fulfill the lusts thereof.

CHAP. XIII.

Men may not condemne nor condemne one the other for things indifferent: 12 But take heed that they give no offence thm: 15 For that the Apostle requested vnto us by many reasons.

11 Him that is weak in the faith, receive you, but not to doubtful disputations.

12 For one beleueth that he may eat all things: another who is weak, heebee.

13 For now him that eateth of all, hee eateth not: and let not him which eateth not, iudge him that eateth: for God hath created him.

4 Who are thou that iudgeth anothers conscience? to his owne master hee lieth: andeth or falleth: yea, hee shall be holden vp: for God is able to make him stand.

5 One mans effectueth one day aboue another: another shall, with euery day alike. Let euery man be fully persuaded in his owne mind.

6 He that regardeth a day, regardeth it vnto the Lord, and he that regardeth not a day, to the Lord he doth not regard it. He that eateth, eateth to the Lord, for hee giueth God thanks: and he that eateth not, to the Lord he eateth not, & giueth God thanks.

7 For none of vs liueth to himselfe, and no man dieth to himselfe.

8 For whether we liue, we liue vnto the Lord: and whether we die, we die vnto the Lord: whether we liue therefore: or die, we are the Lords.

9 For to this end Christ both died, and rose, and renewed, that hee might be Lord both of the dead and liuing.

10 But why iudgeth thou iudge thy brother? or why doest thou iudge thy brother? we shall all stand before the iudgement seat of Christ.

11 For it is written, As I liue, saith the Lord, every knee shall bow to me, and euery tongue shall coofesse to God.

12 So then euery one of vs shall giue account of himselfe to God.

13 Let vs not therefore iudge one another any more: but iudge this rather, that no man put a stumbling blocke, or an occasion to fall, in his brothers way.

14 I know onl am persuaded by the Lord Iesus, that there is nothing vnto leaue of it selfe: but to haue that offendeth any thing to be vnto leaue, vnto him it is vnto leaue.

15 But if thy brother be grieved with thy meat: now walkest thou not charitably: Destroy not him with thy meat, for vnto winne Christ died.

16 Let not meent your good be euill spoken of.

17 For the kingdome of God is not meat and drinke: but righteousness and peace, and joy in the holy Ghost.

18 For he that in these things serueth Christ, is acceptable to God, and approved of men.

19 Let vs therefore follow after the things which make for peace, and things wherewith one may edifie another.

20 For meat, destroy not the worke of God: all things indeed are pure: but it is euill for that man who eateth with offence.

21 It is good neither to eat, nor to drinke wine, nor any thing wherewith thy brother stumbleth, or is offended, or is made weak.

22 Hast thou faith? haue it to thy selfe, before God. Happy is hee that condemneth not himselfe in that thing which he alloweth.

23 And he that doubteth, is damned if hee eat, because he eateth not of faith: For whatsoever is not of faith, is sinne.

CHAP. XV.

1 The strong must loue with the weak. 2 Ye may not please our selves. 3 For Christ did not save us, but to please one the other. 4 Christ did not save us by law, but by his owne blood. 5 Paul teacheth his writings, and promitteth to see them, 6 and requesteth their prayer.

Whereas they are strong, ought to beare the infirmities of the weak, and not to please our selves.

4 For wha: ouer things were written aforetime, were written for our learning, that we through patience and comfort of the Scriptures might haue hope.

5 * Now the God of patience and consolation grant you to be like minded one towards another according to Christ Iesus:

6 That ye may with one mind, and one mouth, praise God, euen the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ.

7 Wherefore receiue ye one another, as Christ also receiued vs, to the glory of God.

8 Now I say, that Iesus Christ was a minister of the circumcision for the truth of God, to confirme the promises made vnto the fathers:

9 And that the Gentiles might glorifie God for his mercy, as it is written, * For this cause I will confesse to thee among the Gentiles, and sing vnto thy Name.

10 And againe he saith, * Reioyce ye Gentiles, with his people.

11 And againe, * Praise the Lord, all ye Gentiles, and laud him all ye people.

12 And againe, Elias saith, * There shall be a root of Iesse, and he that shall rise to reigne ouer the Gentiles, in him shall the Gentiles trust.

13 Now the God of hope, fill you with all ioy and peace in beleeuing, that ye may abound in hope, through the power of the holy Ghost.

14 And I my selfe also am persuaded of you, my brethren, that ye also are full of goodnesse, filled with all knowledge, able also to admonish one another.

15 Neuertheless, brethren, I haue written the more boldly vnto you, in some sort, as putting you in mind, because of the grace that is given to mee of God.

16 That I should be the minister of Iesus Christ to the Gentiles, ministering the Gospel of God that the offering vp on the Gentiles might be acceptable, being sanctified by the holy Ghost.

17 I haue therefore wherof I may glory, shew Iesus Christ, in those things which pertaine, to God.

18 For I will not dare to speake of any of those things which Christ hath not wrought by mee, to make the Gentiles obedient by word and deed, 19 Through mighty signes and wonders, by the power of the Spirit of God, so that from Hierusalem, and round about vnto Illyricum, I haue fully preached the Gospell of Christ.

20 Yea, so haue I strived to preach the Gospell, not where Christ was named, least I should build vpon another mans foundation:

21 But as it is written, * to whom hee was not spoken of, they shall see, and they that haue not heard shall vnderstand.

22 For which cause also I haue become much hindered from coming to you.

23 But now having no more place in these parts, and having a great desire these many yeeres to come vnto you.

24 Whosoever I take my journey into Spaine, I will come to you: for I must to see you in my journey, and to be brought on my way thitherward by you, if first I see somewhat filled with your company.

25 But now I goe vnto Hierusalem, to minister vnto the Saints.

26 For it hath pleased them of Macedonia, and Achaia, to make a certaine contribution for the poore Saints which are at Hierusalem.

27 It hath pleased them verily, and their debtors they are. For if the Gentiles haue bene made partakers of their spiritual things, their duty is also to minister vnto them in carnal things.

28 When therefore I haue performed this, and haue sealed to them this fruit, I will come by you into Spayne.

29 And I am sure that when I come vnto you, I shall come in the fulnesse of the blessing of the Gospell of Christ.

30 Now I beseech you, brethren, for the Lord Iesus Christs sake, and for the loue of the Spirit, that ye strive together with me in your prayers to God for me, 31 That I may be deliuered from them that doe not beleue. In Iudea, and that my seruice which I haue for Hierusalem, may be accepted of the Saints:

32 That I may come vnto you with ioy, by the will of God, and may with you be refreshed.

33 Now the God of peace be with you all. Amen.

CHAP. XVI.

2 Past with the brethren to greet many, to and aduise them to take heed of those which cause dissension and offence. 21 And after sending salutations, writeth with prayer, and thanks to God.

1 Commend vnto you Phoebe our sister, which is seruant of the Church, which is at Cenchrea:

2 That ye receiue her in the Lord, as becometh Saints, and that ye assist her in whatsoever business she hath neede of you: for shee hath bene a succourer of many, and of my selfe also.

3 Greet Priscilla and Aquila, my helpers in Christ Iesus.

4 (Who haue for my life laid downe their owne neckes: vnto whom not onely I giue thanks, but also all the Churches of the Gentiles.)

5 Likewise greet the Church that is in their house: Salute my welbeloued Epentus, who is the first fruits of Achaia vnto Christ.

6 Greet Mary, who bestowed much labour on vs.

7 Salute Andronicus, and Iunia my kinsmen, and my fellow prisoners, who are of note among the Apostles, who also were in Christ before mee.

8 Greet Amplias my beloued in the Lord.

9 Salute Verbanus our helper in Christ, and Stephanus my beloued.

10 Salute Apelles approved in Christ. Salute them which are of Aristobulus household.

11 Salute Herodion my kinsman. Greet them that be of the household of Narcissus, which are in the Lord.

12 Salute Tryphema and Tryphosa, who labour in the Lord. Salute the beloued Peris, which laboured much in the Lord.

13 Salute Rufus chosen in the Lord, and his mother and mine.

14 Salute Asyncritus, Philegon, Hermas, Patrobas, Hermes, and the brethren which are with them.

15 Salute Philologus, and Julia, Nereus, and his sister, and Otisiana, and all the Saints which are with them.

16 Salute one another with an holy kisse. The Churches of Christ salute you.

17 Now I beseech you brethren, salute them which which cause divisions and offences, contrary to the doctrine which ye have learned, and avoid them.

18 For they that are such, serve not our Lord Jesus Christ, but their own belly, and by good words and faire speeches, decease the hearts of the simple.

19 For your obedience is come abroad unto all men. I am glad therefore on your behalfe: but yet I would have you wise unto that which is good, and simple concerning evil.

20 And the God of peace shall bruise Satan under your feet shortly: The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you. Amen.

21 Timotheus my work-fellow, and Lucius, and Jason, and Sosipater my kinsmen salute you.

22 I Tertius who wrote this Epistle, salute you in the Lord.

23 Gaius mine host, and of the whole Church, saluteth you. Erastus the chamberlaine of the city saluteth you, and Quartus a brother.

24 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all: Amen.

25 Now to him that is of power to stablish you according to my Gospel, and the preaching of Jesus Christ, according to the revelation of the mystery which was kept secret since the world began:

26 But now is made manifest, and by the Scriptures of the Prophets, according to the commandment of the everlasting God, made knowne to all nations for the obedience of faith, 27 To God, onely wif, be glory through Jesus Christ, for ever. Amen.

¶ Written to the Romans from Corinthus, and sent by Phoebe, servant of the Church at Cenchrea.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL the Apostle, to the Corinthians.

CHAP. I.

After his salutation and thanksgiving, 10 he exhorteth them to unity, and 12 reprooveth their divisions. 18 God discovereth the wisdom of the wise, 21 by the foolishness of preaching, and 26 calleth us the wise, mighty, and able, but 27, 28 the foolish, weak, and men of no account.

¶ Called to see an Apostle of Jesus Christ, through the will of God, and softness our brother:

1 Unto the Church of God which is at Corinth, to them that are sanctified in Christ Jesus, called to be Saints, with all that in every place call upon the Name of Jesus Christ our Lord, both theirs and ours.

2 Grace be unto you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 I thank my God alwayes on your behalfe, for the grace of God which is given you by Jesus Christ,

4 That in every thing ye are enriched by him, in all utterance, and in all knowledge:

5 Even as the Testimony of Christ was confirmed in you:

6 So that ye come behind in no gift, waiting for the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ.

7 Who shall also confirm you unto the end, that ye may be blamelesse in the day of our Lord Jesus Christ.

8 God is faithful by whom ye were called unto the fellowship of his Sonne Jesus Christ our Lord.

9 Now I beseech you brethren, by the Name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speake the same thing, and that there be no schism among you: but that ye be perfectly joined together in the same mind, and in the same judgement.

10 For it hath bene declared unto me of you, my brethren, by them which are of the house of Chloe, that there are contentions among you.

11 Now this I say, that every one of you saith, I am of Paul, and I of Apollo, and I of Cephas, and I of Christ.

12 Is Christ divided? was Paul crucified for you? or were ye baptized in the name of Paul?

13 I thank God that I baptized none of you, but Crispus and Gaius:

14 Lest any man should say, that I had baptized

26 And I baptized also the household of Stephanus: besides, I know not whether I baptized any other.

17 For Christ sent me not to baptize, but to preach the Gospel: not with wisdom of words, lest the Crosse of Christ should be made of none effect.

18 For the preaching of the Crosse is to them that perish, foolishness: but unto us which are saved, it is the power of God.

19 For it is written, I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and will bring to nothing the understanding of the prudent.

20 Where is the wise? where is the Scribe? where is the disputer of this world? Hath not God made foolish the wisdom of this world?

21 For after that, in the wisdom of God, the world by wisdom knew not God, it pleased God by the foolishness of preaching, to save them that believe.

22 For the Jewes require a signe, and the Greeks seeke after wisdom.

23 But we preach Christ crucified, unto the Jewes a stumbling block, and unto the Greeks foolishness.

24 But unto them which are called, both Jewes and Greekes, Christ, the power of God, and the wisdom of God.

25 Because the foolishness of God is wiser then men: and the weakness of God is stronger then men:

26 For ye see your calling, brethren, how that not many wise men are of the flesh, nor many mighty, nor many noble are called.

27 But God hath chosen the foolish things of the world to confound the wise: and God hath chosen the weak things of the world, to confound the things which are mighty:

28 And base things of the world, and things which are despised, hath God chosen: yea, and things which are not, to bring to nought things that are.

29 That no flesh should glory in his presence.

30 But of him are ye in Christ Jesus, who of God is made unto us wisdom, and righteousness, and sanctification, and redemption:

31 That according as it is written, He that glorieth, let him glorie in the Lord.

CHAP.

CHAP. II.

He declareth that his teaching, though it bring no excellency of speech, or of a famous wisdom: yet consisteth in the power of God: and so far excelleth the wisdom of this world, and of humane sense, as that is the naturall man cannot understand it.

And I beseech you, when I come to you, come not with excellency of speech, or of wisdom, declaring unto you the testimony of God.

For I determined not to know any thing among you, save Jesus Christ, and him crucified.

And I was with you in weakness, and in feare, and in much trembling.

And my speech, and my preaching, was not with enticing words of mans wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit, and of power:

That your faith should not stand in the wisdom of men, but in the power of God.

Howbeit we speake wisdom among them that are perfect: yet not the wisdom of this world, nor of the Princes of this world, that come to nought:

But we speake the wisdom of God in a mystery, even the hidden wisdom which God ordained before the world, unto our glory.

Which none of the Princes of this world knew: for had they knowne it, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory.

But as it is written, Eye hath not seene, nor eare heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him.

But God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God.

For what man knoweth the things of a man save the spirit of a man which is in him? Even so the things of God knoweth no man, but the Spirit of God.

Now we have received, not the Spirit of the world, but the Spirit which is of God, that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God.

Which things also we speake, not in the words which mans wisdom teacheth, but which the holy Ghost teacheth, comparing spiritual things with spiritual.

But the naturall man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God, for they are foolishness unto him: neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned.

But he that is spiritual, judgeth all things, yet he himselfe is not judged of any man.

For who hath knowen the mind of the Lord, that he may instruct him? But we have the mind of Christ.

CHAP. III.

Milke is fit for children. Strong and divison arguments of a fleshly mind. He that planteth, and he that watereth is nothing. The Ministers are Gods fellow workmen. Christ the onely foundation. Men the temples of God, which must be kept holy. The wisdom of this world is foolishness with God.

And I, brethren, could not speake unto you, as unto spiritual, but as unto carnall; even as unto babes in Christ.

I have fed you with milke, and not with meat: for hitherto ye were not able to bear it, neither yet now are ye able.

For ye are yet carnall: for whereas there is among you envying and strife, and divisions, ye are not carnall, and walk as men?

For while one saith, I am of Paul, and another, I am of Apollos, are ye not carnall?

Who then is Paul? and who is Apollos? but ministers by whom ye believed, even as the Lord gave to every man.

I have planted, Apollos watered: but God gave the increase.

So then, whether is he that planteth anything, whether he that watereth: but God that giveth the increase.

Now he that planteth, and he that watereth, are one: and every man shall receive his owne reward, according to his owne labour.

For we are labourers together with God: ye are Gods husbandry, ye are Gods building.

According to the grace of God which is given unto me, as a wife master-builder I have laid the foundation, and another buildeth thereon. But let every man take heed how he buildeth thereupon.

For other foundation can no man lay, than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ.

Now if any man build upon this foundation, gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, stubble:

Every mans worke shall be made manifest: for the day shall declare it, because it shall be revealed by fire, and the fire shall try every mans worke of what sort it is.

If any mans worke abide which he hath built thereupon, he shall receive a reward.

If any mans worke shall be burnt, he shall suffer losse: but he himselfe shall be saved, yet so, as by fire.

Know ye not that ye are the Temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you?

If any man defile the Temple of God, him shall God destroy: for the Temple of God is holy, which Temple ye are.

Let no man deceive himselfe: if any man among you seemeth to be wise in this world, let him become a fool, that he may be wise.

For the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God: for it is written, He taketh the wise in their own craftinesse.

And againe, The Lord knoweth the thoughts of the wise, that they are vaine.

Therefore let no man glory in men, for all things are yours.

Whether Paul, or Apollos, or Cephas, or the world, or life, or death, or things present, or things to come, all are yours.

And ye are Christs, and Christs are Gods.

CHAP. IIIII.

In what account the Minister, ought to be had. We have nothing which we have not received. The Apostles fellowes to the world, Angels, and men. The flesh and off-putting of the world: yet our fishers in Christ, as whom we ought to follow.

Let a man love account of us, as of the Ministers of Christ, and Stewards of the mysteries of God.

Moreover, it is required in Stewards, that a man be found faithful.

But with me it is a very small thing that I should be judged of you, or of mans judgement: yea, I judge not mine owne sake.

For I know nothing by my selfe, yet am I not hereby justified: but let that judgeth me, is the Lord.

Therefore judge nothing before the time, until vntill the Lord come, who both will bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and will make manifest the counsels of the hearts: and then shall every man haue praise of God.

8 And these things brethren, I haue in a figure transferred to my selfe, and to Apollo, for your sakes: that ye might learne in vs not to thinke of men, about that which is written, that none of you be puffed vp in one against another.

7 For who maketh thee to differ from another? And what hast thou that thou didst not receiue? Now if thou didst receiue it, why dost thou glory as if thou hadst not receiued it?

8 Now ye are full, now ye are rich, ye haue reigned as Kings without vs, and I would to God ye did reigne: that we also might reigne with you.

9 For I thinke that God hath let fourth vs the Apostles last, as if we were appointed to death. For we are made a spectacle vnto the world, and to Angels, and to men.

10 We are fooles for Christs sake, but ye are wise in Christ: We are weake, but ye are strong: ye are honourable, but we are despised.

11 Euen vnto this present houre we both hunger and thirst, and are naked, and are beaten, and haue no certaine dwelling place,

12 And labour, working with our owne hands: being reuiled, we bleesse; being persecuted, we suffer it:

13 Being defamed, we inuett: we are made as the filth of the world, and are the off-scouring of all things vnto this day.

14 I write not these things to shame you, but as my beloved sonnes I warne you.

15 For though you haue ten thousand instructors in Christ, yet haue ye not many fathers: for in Christ I haue begotten you through the Gospel.

16 Wherefore I beseech you, be ye followers of mee.

17 For this cause haue I sent vnto you, Timotheus, who is my beloved sonne and faithfull in the Lord, who shall bring you into remembrance of my wayes which be in Christ, as I teach euery where in euery Church.

18 Now some are puffed vp, as though I would not come to you.

19 But I will come to you shortly, if the Lord will, and will know, not the speech of them which are puffed vp, but the power.

20 For the kingdome of God is not in word, but in power.

21 What will ye? Shall I come vnto you with a rod, or in love, and in the Spirit of meeknesse?

CHAP. V.

1 The incestuous person & his wife rather of shame vnto them, then of singeing. 2 The old leuener is to be purged out. 3 Heinous offenders are to be punished and avoided.

It is reported commonly, that there is fornication in among you, and such fornication, as is not to much or named amongst the Gentiles, that one should haue his fathers wife.

2 And ye are puffed vp, and haue not rather mourned, that he that hath done this deed, might be taken away from among you.

3 For I lately as absent in body, but present in spirit, haue I iudged already, as though I were present, concerning him that hath so done this deed.

4 In the Name of our Lord Iesus Christ, when ye are gathered together, and my spirit, with the power of our Lord Iesus Christ,

5 To deliuer such a one vnto Satan for the destruction of the flesh, that the spirit may be saved in the day of our Lord Iesus.

6 Your glorying is not good: know ye not that a little leuener leaueneth the whole lump?

7 Purge out therefore the old leuener, that ye may be a new lump, as ye are unleuened. For our Christ our Passouer is sacrificed for vs.

8 Therefore let vs keepe the Feast, not with old leuener, neither with the leuener of malice and wickednesse: but with the unleuened bread of sincerity and truth.

9 I wrote vnto you in an Epistle, not to company with fornicators.

10 Yet not altogether with the fornicators of this world, or with the couetous, or extortioners, or with idolaters, for then must ye needs goe out of the world.

11 But now I haue written vnto you, not to keepe company, if any man that is called a brother, be a fornicator, or couetous, or an idolater, or a railer, or a drunkard, or an extortioner: with such a one, no, nor to eate.

12 For what haue I to doe to iudge them also that are without? doo not ye iudge them that are within?

13 But them that are without, God iudgeth. Therefore get away from among your selves that wicked person.

CHAP. VI.

1 The Corinthians must not wear their bestowes, in going to Law with them: 2 especially under inbonds. 3 The venginguous shall not inherit the kingdome of God. 4 Our bodies are the members of Christ, 5 and Temples of the holy Ghost. 6, 7, 8 They must not therefore be defiled.

Are any of you hauing a matter against another, goe to Law before the vnist, and not before the Saints?

2 Doe ye not know that the Saints shall iudge the world? and if the world shall be iudged by you, are ye vnworthy to iudge the smallest matters?

3 Know ye not that we shall iudge Angels?

How much more, things that pertaine to this life?

4 If then ye haue in iudgements of things pertaining to this life, for them to iudge who are least esteemed in the Church.

5 I speake to your shame. Is it so, that there is not a wise man amongst you? no not one that shall be able to iudge betwene his brethren?

6 But brother goe to Law with brother, and that before the vnleueners?

7 Now therfore there is verry a fault among you, because ye goe to Law one with another: why doe ye not rather take wrong? why doe ye not rather suffer your selues to be defrauded?

8 Nay, you doe wrong, and defraude, and that your brethren.

9 Know ye not that the venginguous shall not inherit the kingdome of God? Be not deceived: neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, nor abusers of them, eluce with mankind,

10 Nor theenes, nor covetous, nor drunkards, nor renilers, nor extortioners shall inherit the kingdome of God.

11 And such were some of you: but ye are washed, but ye are sanctified, but ye are justified in the Name of the Lord Iesus, and by the Spirit of our God.

12 All things are lawfull vnto me, but all things things are not expedient: all things are lawful for me, but I will not be brought vnder the power of any.

12 Meats for the belly and the belly for meats: but God shall destroy both it and them. Now the body is not for fornication, but for the Lord, and the Lord for the body.

14 And God hath both raised vp the Lord, and will also raise vs vp by his owne power.

15 Know ye not that your bodies are the members of Christ? Shall I then take the members of Christ, and make them the members of an harlot? God forbid.

16 What, know ye not that he which is ioyned to another, is one body? for two (saith he) shall be one flesh.

17 But he that is ioyned vnto the Lord, is one Spirit.

18 Flee fornication: it is a sin that a man doth in without the body: but he that committeth fornication, sinneth against his owne body.

19 What, know ye not that your body is the Temple of the holy Ghost which is in you, which ye haue of God, and ye are not your owne?

20 For ye are bought with a price: therefore glorifie God in your body, and in your spirit, which are Gods.

CHAP. VII.

2 He wreath of marriage, & shewing it to be a remedy against fornication: 1. And that the bond thereof ought not lightly to be dissolved. 18. 2. Every man must be content with his vocation. 25. Virginitie, wherof to be inward. 25. And for what r' sp' it is we may either marry or abstaine from marrying.

Now concerning the things whereof ye wrote vnto mee; it is good for a man not to touch a woman.

2 Necessitie, so auoid fornication, let every man haue his owne wife, and let every woman haue her owne husband.

3 Let the husband render vnto the wife due beneuolence: and likewise also the wife vnto the husband.

4 The wife hath not power of her owne body, but the husband: and likewise also the husband hath not power of his owne body, but the wife.

5 Desist, you not one the other, except it be with consent for a time, that ye may giue your selves to fasting and prayer, and come together againe, that Satan tempt you not for your incontinencie.

6 But I speake this by permission, and not of commandement.

7 For I would that all men were euen as I my selfe: but every man hath his proper gift of God, one after this manner, and another after that.

8 I say therefore to the unmarried and widowers, it is good for them if they abide euen as I.

9 But if they cannot containe, let them marry: for it is better to marry then to burne.

10 And vnto the married I command, yet not I, but the Lord, let not the wife depart from her husband:

11 But and if she depart, let her remaine unmarried, or be reconciled to her husband: and let not the husband pur away his wife.

12 But as the rest I speak, I, not the Lord, if any brother hath a wife that belieueth not, and the be pleased to dwell with him; let him not pur her away.

13 And the woman which hath an husband that beloueth not, and if he be pleased to dwell with her let her not leaue him.

14 For the vnbelleuening husband is sanctified by the wife, and the vnbelleuening wife is sanctified by the husband; else were your children vnclean, but now are they holy.

15 But if the vnbelleuening depart, let him depart: A brother or a sister is not vnder bondage in such cases: but God hath called vs to peace.

16 For what knowest thou, O wife, whether thou shalt saue thy husband, or how knowest thou, O man, whether thou shalt saue thy wife?

17 But as God hath distributed to every man, as the Lord hath called euery one, so let him walke, and so ordaine I in all Churches.

18 Is any man called being circumcised? let him not become vncircumcised: Is any called in vncircumcision? let him not be circumcised.

19 Circumcision is nothing, and vncircumcision is nothing, but the keeping of the Commandements of God.

20 Let every man abide in the same calling wherein he was called.

21 Art thou called being a seruant? care not for it: but if thou mayst be made free, vie it rather.

22 For he that is called in the Lord, being a seruant, is the Lords; & freeman: likewise also he that is called being free, is Christs seruant.

23 Ye are bought with a price, but not ye the seruants of men.

24 Brethren, let every man wherein he is called, therein abide with God.

25 Now concerning virginitie, I haue no commandement of the Lord, yet I giue my iudgement as one that hath obtained mercy of the Lord to be faithful.

26 I suppose therefore that this is good for the present & distresse, I say, that it is good for a man, to be.

27 Art thou bound vnto a wife? seek not to be loosed. Art thou loosed from a wife? seek not to be wife.

28 But and if thou marry, thou hast not sinned; and if a virgin marry, she hath not sinned: neuertheless, each shall haue trouble in the flesh: but I spare you.

29 But this I say, brethren, the time is short. It remaineth that both they that haue wives, bee as though they had none.

30 And they that weep, as though they wept not: and they that reioyce, as though they reioyced not: and they that buy, as though they possessed not:

31 And they that vie this world, as not abusing it: for the fashion of this world passeth away.

32 But I would haue you without carefulnesse. Hee that is unmarried careth for the things that belong to the Lord, how he may please the Lord:

33 But hee that is married, careth for the things that are of the world, how hee may please his wife.

34 There is difference also betwene a wife and a virgin: the unmarried woman careth for the things of the Lord, that shee may be holy both in body and in spirit: but she that is married, careth for the things of the world, how shee may please her husband.

35 And this I speake for your owne profit: that I may call a iustice vpon you, but for that which is comely, and that you may attend vpon the Lord without distraction.

36 But if any man thinke that he belonnieth likewise vncarefully toward his virgin, if shee please the of her age, and need so require, let him doe what he will, he cannot not let them marry.

27 Nevertheless, he that standeth steadfast in his heart, having no necessity, but hath power over his owne will, and hath so decreed in his heart, that he will keepe his virgin, doeth well.

28 So that, hee that giveth her in marriage, doth well: but he that giveth her not in marriage doth better.

29 The wife is bound by the law as long as her husband liveth: but if her husband be dead, she is at liberty to be married to whom shee will, onely in the Lord.

30 But shee is happier if shee so abide, after my iudgement: and I thinke also, that I have the Spirit of God.

CHAP. VIII.

1 To abstaine from meates offered to idoles. 2 Wee must not abuse our Christian liberty, to the offence of our brethren; 22 but must bridle our knowledge with charity.

Now as touching things offered unto idoles, we know that we all have knowledges. Knowledge puffeth vy, but charity edifieth.

2 And if any man thinke that hee knoweth any thing, hee knoweth nothing yet as he ought to know.

3 But if any man lose God, the same is knowne of him.

4 As concerning therefore the eating of those things that are offered in sacrifice unto idoles, wee know that an idole is nothing in the world, and that there is none other God but one.

5 For though there bee that are called gods, whether in heaven or in earth, (as there bee gods many, and lords many;)

6 But to vs there is but one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and we live in him, and one Lord Iesus Christ, by whom are all things, and we live by him.

7 Howbeit, there is not in every man that knoweth: for some with conscience of the idole vnto this houre, eate it as a thing offered vnto an idole, and their conscience being weak, is defiled.

8 But meate commendeth vs not to God: for neither if we eate, we are the better, neither if we eate not, we are the worse.

9 But take heed, lest by any means this liberty of yours, become a stumbling blocke to them that are weak.

10 For if any man see thee which hast knowledges, seated in the idols temple: shall not the conscience of him which is weak, be justified to eate those things which are offered to idoles?

11 And through thy knowledge shall the weak brother perish, for whom Christ died?

12 But when ye sinne (so against the brethren, and wound their weak conscience, ye sinne against Christ.)

13 Wherefore if meat make my brother to offend, I will eate no flesh while the world standeth, lest I make my brother to offend.

CHAP. IX.

1 Hee serveth his liberty. 7 And that the Ministers ought to live by the Gospel: 15 That the Ministers ought not to be accounted of themselves, as either chargeable unto them, or offensive unto them, as ministers: 24 Our life is like unto yours.

1 I am not an Apostle? am I not free? have I not seen the Lord? are not you in the Lord?

2 If I be not an Apostle vnto others, yet doubtlesse I am to you: for the teares of many Apostleship are yet in the Lord.

3 Mine answer to them that doe examine me, is this:

4 Have we not power to eate and to drinke?

5 Have we not power to leade about a sister, a wife, as well as other Apostles, and as the brethren of the Lord, and Cephas?

6 Or I onely, and Barnabas, have not we power to forbear working?

7 Who goeth a warfare any time at his owne charges? who planteth a vineyard, and eateth not of the fruit thereof? or who ironeth a stocke, and eateth not of the milke of the stocke?

8 Say I these things as a man? or saith not the Law the same also?

9 For it is written in the Law of Moyses, Thou shalt not muzzle the mouth of the ox that treadeth out the corne: doth God take care for oxen?

10 Or saith he altogether for our sakes? see our sakes no doubt this is written: that hee that ploweth, should plow in hope: and that hee that thresheth in hope, should be partaker of his hope.

11 If we have sowne vnto you: spiritual things, is it a great thing if we shall reape your carnall things?

12 If others be partakers of this power over you, are not wee rather? Nevertheless, we have not used this power: but suffer all things, lest wee should hinder the Gospel of Christ.

13 Doe ye not know that they which minister about holy things, live of the things of the Temple? and they which wait at the Altar, are partakers with the Altar?

14 Even so hath the Lord ordained, that they which preach the Gospel, should live of the Gospel.

15 But I have used none of these things. Neither have I written these things, that it should bee done vnto me: for it were better for mee to die, then that any man should make my glorying void.

16 For though I preach the Gospel, I have nothing to glory of: for necessity is laid upon mee: yea wee is vnto me, if I preach not the Gospel.

17 For if I doe this thing willingly, I have a reward: but if against my will, a dispensation of the Gospel is committed vnto me.

18 What is my reward then? Verely, that when I preach the Gospel, I may make the Gospel of Christ without charge, that I abuse not my power in the Gospel.

19 For though I be free from all men, yet have I made my selfe servaunt vnto all, that I might gaine the more.

20 And vnto the Iewes I became as a Iew, that I might gaine the Iewes: to them that are vnder the Law, as vnder the Law, that I might gaine them: that are vnder the Law.

21 To them that are without Law, as without Law (being not without Law to God, but vnder the Law to Christ) that I might gaine them: that are without Law.

22 To the weak became I as weak, that I might gaine the weak: I am made all things vnto all men, that I might by all means save some.

23 And this I doe for the Gospels sake, that I might be partaker thereof with you.

24 Know ye not that they which run in a race, run all, yet one receiveth the prize: so run that ye may obtaine.

25 And every man that striveth for the mastery, is temperate in all things. Now they do it to obtaine the weak brother... we are the worse... power of Gospel... satisfied obtaine a corruptible crowne, but we are incorruptible.

26 I therefore fo runne, not as uncertainly: fo fight I, not as one that beatech the aire.

27 But I keepe vnder my body, and bring it into subiection: lest that by any means when I haue preached to others, I my selfe should bee a cast away.

CHAP. X.

1 The Sacraments of the Iewes, & are types of ours: & their punishments, & examples for vs.
24 We must seee from idollatry. 25 Wee must not make the Lords Table the table of deuils: 26 And in things indifferent we must haue regard of our brethren.

Moreouer brethren, I would not that yett should be ignorant, how that all our Fathers were vnder the cloud, and all passed thorow the Sea;

2 And were all baptized vnto Moses in the cloud, and in the Sea;

3 And did all eat the same spirituall meate:

4 And did all drinke the same spirituall drinke: (for they dranke of that Spirituall Roche that I followed them: and that Roche was Christ.)

5 But with many of them God was not well pleased: for they were overthrowne in the wilderness.

6 Now these things were for our examples, to the intent we should not lust after euill things, as they also lust.

7 Neither be ye idolaters, as were some of them, as it is written, * The people sate downe to eat and drinke, and rose vp to play.

8 Neither let vs commit fornication, as some of them when committed, and * fell in one day three and twenty thousand.

9 Neither let vs tempt Christ, as some of them also tempted, * and were destroyed of serpents.

10 Neither murmur ye, as some of them also murmured, and were * destroyed of the destroyer.

11 Now all these things happened vnto them for ensamples: and they are written for our admonition, vpon whom the ends of the world are come.

12 Wherefore let him that thinketh he standeth, take heed lest he fall.

13 There hath no temptation taken you, but such as is common to man: but God is faithfull, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that you are able: but will with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may be able to beare it.

14 Wherefore my dearly beloved, see from Idolatry.

15 I speake as to wise men, iudge ye what I say.

16 The cup of blessing which we blesse, it is not the Communion of the blood of Christ: The bread which we breake, is it not the Communion of the body of Christ?

17 For we being many, are one bread, and one body: for we are all partakers of that one bread.

18 Behold Israell after the flesh: are not they which eat of the sacrifices, partakers of the Altar?

19 What say I then? that the idole is any thing? or that which is offered in sacrifice to idoles is any thing?

20 But I say, that the things which the Gentiles sacrifice, they sacrifice to deuils, and not to God: and I would not that ye should haue fellowship with deuils.

21 Yet cannot we drinke the cup of the Lords: and the cup of deuils: ye cannot be partakers of the Lords Table, and of the table of deuils.

22 Doe we provoke the Lord to ienouise? we are stronger then he?

23 All things are lawfull for me, but all things are not expedient: all things are lawfull for mee, but all things edifie not.

24 Let no man seeke his owne: but euery man anothers wealth.

25 Whatsoeuer is sold in the shambles, that eat, asking no questions for conscience sake.

26 For the earth is the Lords, and the fulnesse thereof.

27 If any of them that besent you, bid you to a feast, and yett be disposed to go, whatsoever is set before you, eat, asking no question for conscience sake.

28 But if any man say vnto you, This is offered in sacrifice vnto idole, eat not for his sake that shewed it, and for conscience sake. * The earth is the Lords: and the fulnesse thereof.

29 Conscience, I say not thine owne, but of the others: for why is my liberty iudged of another mans conscience?

30 For if I by grace be a partaker: why am I straitened for that for which I giue thanks?

31 Whether therefore ye eat or drinke, or whatsoever ye doe, doe all to the glory of God.

32 Giue none offence, neither to the Iewes, nor to the Gentiles, nor to the Church of God:

33 Euen as I please all men in all things, not seeking mine owne profit, but the profit of many, that they may be saved.

CHAP. XI.

1 He reproveth them because in holy assemblies & their men prayed with their heads covered, and & women with their heads vncovered, and because generally their meetings were not for the better, but for the worse, as it namely in presenting with their crowns at the Lords Supper. 25 Lastly, he calleth them to the first institution thereof.

Be ye followers of mee, euen, as I also am of Christ.

2 Now I praise you brethren, that you remember me in all things, and keepe the ordinances as I delivered them to you.

3 But I would haue you know, that the head of euery man is Christ: and the head of the woman is the man: and the head of Christ is God.

4 Euery man praying, or prophesying, having his head covered, dishonoureth his head.

5 But euery woman that prayeth, or prophesieth with her head vncovered, dishonoureth her head: for that is euen all one as if shee were shauen.

6 For if the woman be not covered, let her also be shorne: but if it be a shame for a woman to be shorne or shauen, let her be covered.

7 For a man indeed ought not to cover his head, forasmuch as he is the image and glory of God: but the woman is the glory of the man.

8 For the man is not of the woman: but the woman of the man.

9 Neither was the man created for the woman: but the woman for the man.

10 For this cause ought the woman to haue power as the Lord hath power over the Church, because of the Angels.

11 Neuertheless, neither is the man without the power of woman, neither the woman without the man, as the Lord.

18 For as the woman is of the man, even so is the church also by the woman: but all things of God.

19 Judge in your selves, Is it comely that a woman pray vnto God vncovered?

20 Doth not euen nature it selfe teach you, that if a man haue long haire, it is a shame vnto him?

21 But if a woman haue long haire, it is a glory to her: for her haire is giuen her for a covering.

22 But if any man seeme to be contentious, we haue no such custome, neither the Churches of God.

23 Now in this that I declare vnto you, I praise you not, that you come together not for the better but for the worse.

24 For first of all, when yee come together in the Church I heare that there be divisions among you, and I partly beleue it.

25 For there must be also heresies among you, that they which are approved, may be made manifest among you.

26 When yee come together therefore into one place, this is not to eat the Lords Supper.

27 For in eating euery one taketh before other his owne supper: and one is hungry, and another is drunken.

28 What haue ye not houses to eat and to drink in? or despise ye the Church of God, and shame them that haue not? What shall I say vnto you?
 I shall I praise you in this I praise you not.

29 For I haue receiued of the Lord, that which also I deliuered vnto you, that the Lord Iesus, the same night in which he was betrayed, took bread:

30 And when he had giuen thanks, he brake it, and said, Take, eat, this is my body which is broken for you: this doe ye in remembrance of me.

31 After the same manner also, he souke the cup when he had supped, saying, This cup is the new Testament in my blood: this doe ye, as oft as yee drinke it, in remembrance of me.

32 For as often as ye eat this bread, and drinke this cup, ye doe shew the Lords death till hee come.

33 Wherefore, whosoever shall eat this bread, and drinke this cup of the Lord vnworthily, shall be guilty of the body and blood of the Lord.

34 But let a man examine himselfe, and to let him eat of that bread, and drinke of that cup.

35 For he that eateth and drinketh vnworthily, eateth and drinketh his damnation to himselfe, not discerning the Lords body.

36 For this cause many are weake and sickly a mong you, and many sleepe.

37 For if we would iudge our selves, we should not be iudged.

38 But when we are iudged, we are chastened of the Lord, that wee should not bee condemned with the world.

39 Wherefore, my brethren, when ye come together to eat, carry one for another.

40 And if any man hunger for him eye at home, that ye come not together vnto condemnation.
 And the rest will I set in order when I come.

CHAP. XII

1 Spiritual gifts, 4 are diuers, yet all to profit the church, 8 and to that end we diuersly bestowed:
 12 that by the like proportion, as the members of a naturall body, read all to the common decency, 22 serue, and 25 for our of the same body: 27 so we should doe one for another: 30 make up the mystical body of Christ.

Now concerning spirituall gifts, brethren, I would not haue you ignorant.

2 Ye know that ye were Gentiles, carried away vnto these dumbe idoles, euen as ye were led.

3 Wherefore I giue you to vnderstand that no man (speaking by the Spirit of God, calleth Iesus accursed: and that no man can say, that Iesus is the Lord, but by the holy Ghost.

4 Now there are diuersities of gifts, but the same Spirit.

5 And there are differences of administrations, but the same Lord.

6 And there are diuersities of operations, but it is the same God which worketh all in all.

7 But the manifestation of the Spirit, is giuen to euery man to profit withall.

8 For to one is giuen by the Spirit, the word of wisdom, to another the word of knowledge
 by the same Spirit:

9 To another faith by the same Spirit: to another the gifts of healing by the same Spirit:

10 To another the working of miracles, to another prophecies, to another discerning of spirits, to another diuers kinds of tongues, to another the interpretation of tongues.

11 But all these worketh that one and the selfe same Spirit, diuiding to euery man severally, as hee will.

12 For as the body is one, and hath many members, and all the members of that one body, being many, are one body: so also is Christ.

13 For by one Spirit are wee all baptized into one body, whether wee bee Iewes or Gentiles, whether wee bee bond or free: and haue bene all made to drinke into one Spirit.

14 For the body is not one member, but many.

15 If the foot shall say, Because I am not the hand, I am not of the body: Is it therefore not of the body?

16 And if the eare shall say, Because I am not the eye, I am not of the body: Is it therefore not of the body?

17 If the whole body were an eye, where were the hearing? if the whole were hearing, where were the smelling?

18 But now hath God set the members euery one of them in the body, as he hath pleased him.

19 And if they were all one member, where were
 the body?

20 But now are they many members, yet but one body.

21 And the eye cannot see vnto the hand, I haue no need of thee: nor againe the head to the feet,
 I haue no need of you.

22 Nay, much more those members of the body, which seeme to be more feeble, are necessary.

23 And those members of the body, which wee thinke to be lesse honourable, vpon these wee bestow more abundant honour, and our vncomely parts haue more abundant conuincence.

24 For our comely parts haue no need: but God hath tempered the body together, hauing giuen more abundant honour to that part which lacked:

25 That there should be no schisme in the body: but that the members should haue the same care one for another.

26 And whether one member suffer, all the members suffer with it: or one member be honoured, all the members reioyce with it.

27 Now ye are the body of Christ, and members in particular.

28 And God hath set some in the Church, first Apostles, secondarily Prophets, thirdly Teachers, after that miracles, then gifts of healings, helps in kind governments, & diversities of tongues.

29 Are all Apostles? are all Prophets? are all teachers? are all workers of miracles?

30 Have all the gifts of healing? doe all speake with tongues? doe all interpret?

31 But covet earnestly the best gifts: And yet shew I unto you a more excellent way.

CHAP. XIII.

1 All gifts, 2, 3, how excellent soever, are nothing worth without charity: 4 The praises thereof, and 12 prelation before hope and faith.

Though I speake with the tongue of men and of Angels, and have not charity, I am become as sounding brasse, or a tinkling cymball.

2 And though I have the gift of prophecie, and understand all mysteries, and all knowledge: and though I have all faith, so that I could remove mountains, and have no charity, I am nothing.

3 And though I bestow all my goods to feed the poore, and though I give my body to be burned, and have not charity, it profiteth me nothing.

is not 4 Charity suffereth long, and is kind: charity envieth not: charity vaunteth not it selfe, is not puffed vp;

5 Doeth not behave it selfe uncomely, seeketh not her owne, is not easily provoked, thinketh no euill, mech 6 Reioyceth not in iniquity, but reioyceth in the truth:

7 Beareth all things, beleeueth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

8 Charity neuer faileth: but whether there be prophecies, they shall cease: whether there be tongues, they shall cease: whether there be knowledge, it shall vanish away.

9 For we know in part, and we prophesie in part.

10 But when that which is perfect is come, then that which is in part shall be done away.

of 11 When I was a child, I spake as a child, I understood as a child, I thought as a child: but when I became a man, I put away childish things.

in a 12 For now we see through a glasse, darkly, but then face to face: now I know in part, but then shall I know even as also I am knowne.

13 And now abideth faith, hope, charity, these three, but the greatest of these is charity.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Prophecy is commended, 2, 3, 4, and preferred before speaking with tongues. 5 By a comparison drawn from musickall instruments: 12 both must be referred to edification, 22 as to their time and propriety end. 16 The true use of each is taught; 27 and the abuse lawed. 34 Women are forbidden to speake in the Church.

Follow after charity, and desire spirituall gifts, but rather that ye may prophesie.

2 For he that speaketh in an unknowne tongue, speaketh not unto men, but unto God: for no man understandeth him: howbeit, in the spirit he speaketh mysteries.

3 But he that prophesieth speaketh unto men to edification, and exhortation, and comfort.

4 He that speaketh in an unknowne tongue, edifieth himselfe, but he that prophesieth, edifieth the Church.

5 I would that ye all spake with tongues, but rather that ye should prophesie, then to sing with tongues, except he interpret, that the Church may receive edifying.

6 Now brethren, if I come unto you, speak with tongues, what shall I profit you, except I shall speak to you, either by revelation, or by ledge, or by prophesying, or by doctrine?

7 And even things without life, giving sound whether pipe or harpe, except they give a distinction in the sounds, how shall it be knowne what piped, or harped?

8 For if the trumpet give an uncertaine sound, who shall prepare himselfe to the battell.

9 So likewise ye, except ye utter by the tongue, words fit as to be understood, how shall it be knowne what is spoken? for ye shall speak into the ayre.

10 There are it may be, so many kinds of voyces in the world, and none of these are without signification.

11 Therefore if I know not the meaning of the voyce, I shall be unto him that speaketh a Barbarian, and he that speaketh shall be a Barbarian unto me.

12 Even so ye, inasmuch as ye are zealous of spirituall gifts, seeke that ye may excell to the edifying of the Church.

13 Wherefore let him that speaketh in an unknowne tongue, pray that he may interpret.

14 For if I pray in an unknowne tongue, my spirit prayeth, but my understanding is without skill.

15 What is it then? I will pray with the spirit, and will pray with understanding also: I will sing with the spirit, and I will sing with understanding also.

16 Else when thou shalt bleesse with the spirit, how shall he that occupieth the room of the unlearned, say, Amen at the giving of thanks, seeing he understandeth not what thou sayest?

17 For thou verely giest thanks well: but the other is not edified.

18 I thank my God, if I speak with tongues more than you all.

19 Yet in the Church, I had rather speak five words with my understanding, than by my voice I might teach others also, than ten thousand words in an unknowne tongue.

20 Brethren, be not children in understanding: howbeit, in malice be ye children, but in understanding be ye men.

21 In the Law it is written, With men of other tongues, and other lips, will I speak unto this people: and yet for all that will they not heare me, saith the Lord.

22 Wherefore tongues are for a signe, not to them that beleeve, but to them that beleeve not: but prophesying serveth not for them that beleeve not, but for them which beleeve.

23 If therefore the whole Church be come together into some place, and all speak with tongues, and there come in those that are unlearned, or unbelievers, will they not say that ye are mad?

24 But if all prophesie, and there come in one that beleeueth not, or one unlearned: he is convinced of all, he is judged of all.

25 And thus are the secrets of his heart made manifest, and so falling downe on his face, he will worship God, and report that God is in you of a truth.

26 How is it then, brethren? when ye come together, every one of you hath a Psalm, hath a doctrine,

Gr. of spirit.

Gr. pers. fit. pr. of a v. p. age. 112. 28. 11.

doctrine, hath a tongue, hath a revelation, hath an interpretation: Let all things be done with edifying.

27 If any man speak in an unknown tongue, let it be by two, or at the most by three, and that by course, and let one interpret.

28 But if there be no interpreter, let him keep silence in the Church, and let him speak to himself, and to God.

29 Let the Prophets speak two or three, and let the other judge.

30 If any thing be revealed to another that sitteth by, let the first hold his peace.

31 For ye may all prophesie one by one, that all may learne, and all may be comforted.

32 And the spirits of the Prophets are subject to the Prophets.

33 For God is not the author of confusion, but of peace, as in all Churches of the Saints.

34 Let your women keep silence in the Churches for it is not permitted unto them to speak; but they are commanded to be under obedience: as also saith the Law.

35 And if they will learne any thing, let them aske their husbands at home: for it is a shame for women to speak in the Church.

36 What? came the word of God out from you? or came it unto you only?

37 If any man thinke himself to be a Prophet or (spiritual), let him acknowledge that the things that I write unto you, are the Commandements of the Lord.

38 But if any man be ignorant, let him be ignorant.

39 Wherefore brethren, consent to prophesie, and forbid not to speak with tongues.

40 Let all things be done decently and in order,

CHAP. XV.

2 By Christs resurrection, 12 He prooveth the necessity of our resurrection, against all such as deny the resurrection of the body. 21 The fruit, 25 and manner thereof, 31 and of the changing of them that shall be found alive at the last day.

MOROVER, brethren, I declare unto you the Gospel which I preached unto you, which also you have received, and wherein ye stand,

2 By which also ye are saved, if ye keepe in memory what I preached unto you, unless ye have believed in vaine.

3 For I delivered unto you first of all, that which I also received, how that Christ died for our finnes according to the Scriptures.

4 And that he was buried, and that he rose againe the third day according to the Scriptures.

5 And that he was seene of Cephas, then of the twelvet.

6 After that he was seene of above five hundred brethren at once: of whom the greater part remaine unto this present, but some are fallen asleep.

7 After that he was seene of James, then of all the Apostles.

8 And last of all he was seene of me also, as of one borne out of due time.

9 For I am the least of the Apostles, that am not meet to be called an Apostle, because I persecuted the Church of God.

10 But by the grace of God, I am what I am: and his grace which was bestowed upon me, was not in vaine: But I laboured more abundantly than they all yet not I, but the grace of God which was with me:

11 Therefore whether it were I, or they, so we preach, and so ye believed.

12 Now if Christ be preached, that he rose from the dead, how say some among you, that there is no resurrection of the dead?

13 But if there be no resurrection of the dead, then is Christ not risen, 14 And if Christ be not risen, then is our preaching vaine, and your faith is also vaine.

15 Yet, and we are found false witnesses of God, because we have testified of God, that he raised up Christ: whom he raised not up, if so be that the dead rise not.

16 For if the dead rise not, then is not Christ raised,

17 And if Christ be not raised, your faith is vaine, ye are yet in your finnes.

18 Then they shal which are fallen asleep in Christ, are perished.

19 If in this life onely we have hope in Christ, we are of all men most miserable.

20 But now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the first fruits of them that deper.

21 For since by mans cause death, by mans cause also the resurrection of the dead.

22 For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive.

23 But every man in his owne order: Christ the first fruites, afterward they that are Christs, at his coming.

24 Then cometh the end, when he shall have delivered up the Kingdome to God, even the Father, when he shall have put downe all rule, and all authority and power.

25 For he must reigne till he hath put all enemies under his feet.

26 The last enemy that shall be destroyed, is death.

27 For he hath put all things under his feet; BUT when he saith, All things are put under him, it is manifest that he is excepted which did put all things under him.

28 And when all things shall be subdued unto him, then shall the Son also himselfe be subject unto him, that put all things under him, that God may be all in all.

29 Else what shall they doe which are baptized for the dead, if the dead rise not at all, why are they then baptized for the dead?

30 And why stand ye in jeopardy every hour?

31 I protest by your rejoycing, which I have in Christ Jesus our Lord, I die daily.

32 If I after the manner of men I have fought with beasts at Ephesus, what advantage is me, if the dead rise not? Let vs eat and drinke, for tomorrow we die.

33 Be not deceived: euill communications corrupt good manners.

34 Awake to righteousness, and sune not: for some have not the knowledge of God, I saye this to your shame.

35 But some man will say, How are the dead raised up? and with what body do they come?

36 Thou fool, that which thou sowest is not quickned, except it die.

37 And that which thou sowest, thou sowest not that body that shall bee, but bare graine, it may chance of wheat, or of some other graine.

38 But God giueth it a body as it hath standd him, and to euery seed his owne body,

39

36 All flesh is not the same flesh, but there is one kinde of flesh of man, another kinde of beasts, another of fishes, and another of birds.

37 There are also celestiall bodies, and bodies terrestrial: But the glory of the celestiall is one, and the glory of the terrestrial is another.

38 There is one glory of the Sun, another of the Moone, and another glory of the Starres: for one sorte differeth from another sorte in glory.

39 So also is the resurrection of the dead, it is sowne in corruption, it is raised in incorruption.

40 It is sowne in dishonour, it is raised in glory:
 it is sowne in weakness, it is raised in power:

41 It is sowne a naturall body, it is raised a spirituall body. There is a naturall body, and there is a spiritual body.

42 And so it is written, The first man Adam was made a lining soule, The last Adam was made a quickning Spirit.

43 Howbeit, that was not first which is spirituall: but that which is naturall, and afterward that which is spiritual.

44 The first man is of the earth, earthy: The second man is the Lord from heauen.

45 As is the earthly, such are they that are earthy, and as is the heavenly, such are they also that are heavenly.

46 And as we haue borne the image of the earthy we shall also bear the image of the heavenly.

47 Now this I say, brethren, that their soules cannot inherit the kingdom of God: neither doth corruption inherit incorruption.

48 Behold, I shew you a mystery, we shall not all sleepe, but we shall all be changed,

49 In a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet: for the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed. (.)

50 For this corruptible must put on incorrupti-on, and this mortall must put on immortality.

51 So when this mortall shall haue put on incorruption, and this mortall shall haue put on immortality, then shall be brought to passe the saying that is written, Death is swallowed up in victory.

52 O death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory?

53 The sting of death is sinne, and the strength of sinne is the Law.

54 But thanks bee to God which giueth vs the victory through our Lord Iesus Christ.

55 Therefore my beloved brethren, bet ye sted-fast, vnderstande alwayes standing in the worke of the Lord, forasmuch as you know that your laboure is not in vaine in the Lord.

CHAR. XVI.

1 Memorandum that to reuise the want of the brethren at Ierusalem. 10 Commendeth Timothee, 12 And after friendly admonitions, 16 sheweth up his right with quere subiects.

Now concerning the collection for the Saines,
 I haue giuen order to the Churches of Ga-lacia, each to doe ye.

2 Upon the first day of the worke let every one of you lay by him in store, as God hath prospered him, that there be no gatherings when I come.

3 And when I come, whomsoever you shall appoint by your letters, them will I send to bring your liberality vnto Hierusalem.

4 And if it bee meet that I goe also, they shall goe with me.

5 Now I will come vnto you, when I shall passe throug Macedonia: for I doe passe throug Macedonia.

6 And it may be, that I will abide, yea, and winter with you, that ye may bring me on my iourney whethersoeuer I goe.

7 For I will not see you now by the way, but I trust to carry a while with you, if the Lord permit.

8 But I will carry it to Ephesus vntill Pentecost.

9 For a great doore and effectually is opened vnto me, and there are many aduersaries.

10 Now if Timotheus come, see that he may bee with you withoute feare: for hee worketh the worke of the Lord, as I also doe.

11 Let no man therefore despise him: but conduct him forth in peace, that hee may come vnto me: for I looke for him with the brethren.

12 As touching my brother Apollos, I greatly desired him to come vnto you with Iovestus, but his will was not at all to come at this time: but he will come when he shall haue convenient time.

13 With ye, stand fast in the faith, quit you like men: be strong.

14 Let all your things be done with charity.

15 I beseech you brethren, ye know the house of Stephanus, that it is the first fruite of Achaia, and that they haue added themselves to the ministrie of the Saines.

16 That ye submit your selves vnto such, and to every one that helpeth with vs, and laboureth.

17 I am glad for the coming of Stephanus, and Fortunus, and Achaicus: for that which was lacking on your part, they haue supplied.

18 For so I haue reuised my spirit and sent therefore acknowledge ye them that are such.

19 The Churches of Asia salute you Aquila and Priscilla salute you much in the Lord, with the Church that is in their house.

20 All the brethren greet you: greet ye one another with a holy kisse.

21 The salutation of mine Paul with mine owne hand.

22 If any man loue not the Lord Iesus Christ, let him be Anathema Maranatha.

23 The grace of our Lord Iesus Christ bee with you.

24 My loue bee with you all in Christ Iesus, Amen.

¶ The first Epistle to the Corinthians was written from Philippi by Stephanus, and Fortunus, and Achaicus, and Timotheus.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL THE Apostle to the Corinthians.

C H A P. I.

The Apostle encourageth them against troubles, by the consistency and deliverances which God had given him, as in all his afflictions, & so particularly in his late danger in Asia. 12 And calling both his own conscience and theirs to witness, of his sincere manner of preaching the immovable truth of the Gospel, 15 He exhorteth his not coming to them, as proceeding not of lightness, but of his love towards them.

Paul an Apostle of Iesus Christ, by the will of God, and Timothy our brother, unto the Church of God which is at Corinth, with all the Saints which are in all Achaia.

Grace be to you and peace, from God our Father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ.

Blessed be God, even the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ, the Father of mercies, and the God of all comfort,

Who comforteth vs in all our tribulation, that we may be able to comfort them which are in any trouble; by the comfort wherewith wee ourselves are comforted of God.

For as the sufferings of Christ abound in vs, so our consolation also aboundeth by Christ.

And whether we be afflicted, it is for your consolation and saluation, which is effectual in the enduring of the same sufferings, which we also suffer: or whether we be comforted, it is for your consolation and saluation.

And our hope of you is steadfast, knowing that as you are partakers of the suffering, so shall ye be also of the consolation.

For we would not, brethren, have you ignorant of our trouble which came to vs in Asia, that we were pressed out of measure above strength, insomuch that we despaired even of life.

But we had the sentence of death in our selves, that we should not trust in our senses, but in God, which raiseth the dead:

Who delivered vs from so great a death, and doth deliver, in whom we trust that he will yet deliver us:

You also helping together by prayer for vs, that for the gift bestowed upon vs by the means of many persons, thanks may be given by many on our behalf.

For our rejoicing is this, the testimony of our conscience, that in simplicity and godly sincerity, not with fleshly wisdom, but by the grace of God, we have had our conversation in the world, and more abundantly to you wards.

For we write none other things unto you, than what you read or acknowledge, and I trust you shall acknowledge, even to the end.

As also you have acknowledged vs in part, that we are your rejoicing, even as ye also are ours in the day of the Lord Iesus.

And in this confidence I was minded to come unto you before, that you might have a second benefit.

And to pass by you into Macedonia, and to come againe out of Macedonia unto you, and of you to be brought on my way toward Iudea.

17 When I therefore was thus minded, did I not lightenle? or the things that I purpose, doe I purpose according to the flesh, that with me there should be yea, yea, and nay, nay?

18 But as God is true, our word toward you, I say was not yea, and nay:

19 For the Sonne of God, Iesus Christ, who was preached among you by vs, even by me and Silvanus, and Timotheus, was not Yea, and Nay, but in him, was Yea.

20 For all the promises of God in him are, Yea, and in him, Amen, unto the glory of God by vs.

21 Now hee which stablisheth vs with you in Christ, and hath anointed vs, is God.

22 Who hath also sealed vs, and given the earnest of the Spirit in our hearts.

23 Moreover I call God for a record upon my soule, that to spare you, I came not as yet unto Corinth.

24 Not that we have dominion over your faith, but are helpers of your joy: for by faith ye stand.

C H A P. II.

Having feared the reason why he came not to them, he requirerh them to forgive, and so comforteth that excommunicated person, so even as himselfe also, upon his true repentance, had forgiveness here, 12 declaring what, why he departed from Troas to Macedonia, 13 and the happy success which God gave to his preaching in all places.

But I determined this with my selfe, that I would not come againe to you in heaviness:

For if I make you sorry, who is hee then that maketh me glad, but the same which is made sorry by me?

And I wrote this same unto you, least when I came, I should have sorrow from them of whom I ought to reioyce, having confidence in you all, that my joy is the joy of you all:

For out of much affliction & anguish of heart I wrote unto you with many teares, not that ye should be grieved: but that ye might know the love which I have more abundantly unto you.

But if any have caused griefe, hee hath not grieved me, but in part: that I may not overcharge you all.

Sufficient to such a man is this punishment, which was inflicted of many.

So that cooperating, ye ought rather to forgive him and comfort him, least perhaps such a one should be swallowed up with overmuch sorrow.

Wherefore I beseech you, that you would continue your love toward him.

For to this end also did I write, that I might know the proofe of you, whether ye be obedient in all things.

To whom ye forgive any thing, I forgive also: for if I forgive anything, to whom I forgive it, for your sakes forgive I it, in the person of Christ.

Least Satan should get an advantage of vs: for we are not ignorant of his devices.

Furthermore, when I came to Troas, to preach Christs Gospel, and a doore was opened unto mee of the Lord, 13 I had no rest in my spirit, because I found not Titos my brother, but taking my leave of them, I went from thence into Macedonia.

14 Now thanks be unto God, which alwaye causeth vs to triumph in Christ, and maketh manifest the fauour of his knowledge by vs in every place.

15 For we are vnto God a forget fauour of Christ in them that are saved, and in them that perish.

16 To the one we are the fauour of death vnto death; and to the other the fauour of life vnto life: and what is sufficient for these things?

17 For we are not as many, which corrupt the word of God: but as of sincerity, but as of God, in the sight of God speake we in Christ.

CHAP. III.

1 Left their public teacher should charge him with vaine glorye, he sheweth the faith and graces of the Corinthians, as be a iust iudgementation of his ministry. 2 Whereupon entering a comparison betwene the Ministers of the Law, and of the Gospel, he prooeth that his ministry is farre the more excellent as the Gospel of life and liberty is more glorious than the Law of condemnation.

Do we begin againe to commend our selues? Or need we as some others, Epistles of commendation to you, or letters of commendation from you?

2 Yee are our Epistle written in our hearts, known and read of all men.

3 Forasmuch as ye are manifestly declared to be the Epistle of Christ, ministered by vs, written not with ink, but with the spirit of the liuing God, not in tables of stone, but in fleshy tables of the heart.

4 And such trust haue wee through Christ to Godward?

5 Not that wee are sufficient of our selues to thinke any thing as of our selues: but our insufficiency of God?

6 Who also hath made vs able ministers of the new Testament, not of the letter, but of the Spirit: for the letter killeth, but the Spirit giueth life.

7 But if the manifestation of death written, and engrauen in stones was glorious; so that the children of Israel could not stedfastly behold the face of Moses, for the glory of his countenance, which glory was to be done away:

8 How shall not the manifestation of the Spirit be rather glorious?

9 For if the manifestation of condemnation bee glory, much more doeth the manifestation of righteousness exceed in glory.

10 For euen that which was made glorious, had no glory in this respect by reason of the glory that excelleth.

11 For if that which is done away, was glorious, much more that which remaineth is glorious.

12 Seeing then that we haue such hope, wee vse great plainnesse of speech.

13 And not as Moses, which put a vail ouer his face, that the children of Israel could not stedfastly looke to the end of that which is abolished;

14 But their mindes were blinded: for vntill this day remaineth the same vail vntaken away, in the reading of the old Testament: which vail is done away in Christ.

15 But euen vnto this day, when Moses is read, the vail is vpon their heart.

16 Nevertheless, when it shall turne to the Lord, the vail shall be taken away.

17 Now the Lord is that Spirit, and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty.

18 But we all with open face, beholding as in a glasse, the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image, from glory to glory, euen as by the Spirit of the Lord.

CHAP. IIII.

1 He declareth how he hath used all sincerity and faithfull diligence in preaching the Gospel, and how the troubles and persecutions which hee daily endured for the same, did redound to the praise of Gods power, to the benefit of the Church, to the end to the Apostles owne eternal glory.

Therefore seeing we haue this ministry, as wd I haue received mercy, we faint not:

2 But haue renounced the hidden things of dishonestly, nor walking in craftinesse, nor handling the word of God deceitfully, but by manifestation of the truth, commending our selues to every mans conscience in the sight of God.

3 But if our Gospel be hid, it is hid to them that are lost:

4 In whom the God of this world hath blinded the minds of them which beleeue not, lest the light of the glorious Gospel of Christ, who is the image of God, should shine vnto them.

5 For we preach not our selues, but Christ Iesus the Lord, & our selues your seruants for Iesus sake.

6 For God who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to giue the light of the knowledge of the glory of God, in the face of Iesus Christ.

7 But wee haue this treasure in earthen vessels, that the excellency of the power may be of God, and not of vs.

8 Wee are troubled on every side, yet not distressed; we are perplexed, but not in despair; 9 Persecuted, but not forsaken; cast downe, but not destroyed,

10 Alwaye beareinge about in the body, the dying of the Lord Iesus, that the life also of Iesus might be made manifest in our body.

11 For we which liue, are alway deliuered vnto death for Iesus sake, that the life also of Iesus might be made manifest in our mortal flesh.

12 So then death worketh in vs, but life in you.

13 Well using the same spirit of faith, according as it is written, "I beleene," and therefore haue I spoken: we also beleene, and therefore speake.

14 Knowing that he which raised vp the Lord Iesus, shall raise vp vs also by Iesus, and shall present vs with you.

15 For all things are for your sakes: that the abundant grace might, through the thanksgiving of many redound to the glory of God.

16 For which cause we faint not, but though our outward man perish, yet the inward man is renewed day by day.

17 For our light affliction which is but for a moment, worketh for vs a farre more exceeding and eternall weight of glory, 18 While we looke not at the things which are seene, but at the things which are not seene: for the things which are seene, are temporall, but the things which are not seene, are eternall.

CHAP. V.

1 That in his assured hope of immortall glory, and in expectance of it, and of the generall iudgement, he laboureth to keepe a good conscience, so that he may beerein loath of himselfe, so that no one that hauing receiued life from Christ, censureth to liue as a new creature to Christ euilly, and by his ministry of reconciliation, so receiue others also in Christ so God.

1000 of the Lord the Spirit

1000 of the Greekes

1000 of the allegorist

1000 of the Plat.

For we know, that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, & a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens.

For in this we groane earnestly, desiring to be clothed upon with our house, which is from heaven.

If so be that being clothed we shall not be found naked.

For we that are in this tabernacle, doe groane being burdened, not for that we would be unloaded, but clothed upon, that mortality might be swallowed up of life.

Now he that hath wrought vs for the fellowship thing is God, who also hath given unto vs the earnest of the Spirit.

Therefore we are always confident, knowing that which we are at home in the body, we are absent from the Lord.

For we walke by faith, not by sight.

Wee are confident, I say, and willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord.

Wherefore we labour, that whether present or absent, we may be accepted of him.

For we must all appeare before the iudgement seat of Christ: that every one may receive the things done in his body, according to that hee hath done, whether it be good or bad.

Knowing therefore the terror of the Lord, we persuade men, but we are made manifest unto God, and I trust also, are made manifest in your consciences.

For we commend not our selves againe unto you, but give you occasion to glory on our behalfe, that you may have somewhat to answer them which glory in appearance, and not in heart.

For whether we be besides our selves, it is to God: or whether we be tober, it is for your cause.

For the love of Christ constraineth vs, because we thus judge: that if one dyed for all, then were all dead.

And that he dyed for all, that they which live, should not henceforth live unto themselves, but unto him which dyed for them, and rose againe.

Wherefore henceforth know we no man after the flesh; though we have knowne Christ after the flesh; yet now henceforth know we him no more.

Therefore if any man see in Christ, if he is a new creature: old things are past away, behold, all things are become new.

And all things are of God, who hath reconciled vs to himselfe by Iesus Christ, and hath given to vs the ministry of reconciliation,

To wit, that God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto himselfe, not imputing their trespasses unto them, and hath committed unto vs the word of reconciliation.

Now then we are ambassadors for Christ, as though God did beseech you by vs, we pray you in Christs stead, be ye reconciled to God.

For he hath made him to be sinne for vs, who knew no sinne, that we might be made the righteousness of God in him.

CHAP. VI.

That he hath approved himselfe a faithful Ministry of Christ, both by his exhortations, & add by integrity of life, & and by patient enduring all kinds of affliction and disgraces for Iesus Christ. Of which see Greekes, the more fully writing.

them because his heart is open unto them. 12 And he expecteth the like affliction from them againe: 14 Exhorting vs see the fiery and passionate of idolaters, as being themselves Temples of the living God.

Wee then, as workers together with him, beseech you also that ye receive not the grace of God in vaine.

For he saith, I have heard thee in a time accepted, and in the day of salvation, he hath heard thee: Behold, now is the accepted time, behold, now is the day of salvation.

Giving no offence in any thing, that the ministry be not blamed:

But in all things approving our selves, as the ministers of God, in much patience, in afflictions, in necessities, in distresses,

In stripes, in imprisonments, in tumults, in labours, in watchings, in fastings,

By pureness, by knowledge, by long suffering, by kindness; by the holy Ghost, by love unfeigned,

By the word of truth, by the power of God, by the armour of righteousness, on the right hand, and on the left,

By honour, and dishonour, by euill report, and good report; as deceivers, and yet true:

As unknowne, and yet well knowne: as dying, and behold, we live: as chastened and not killed:

As forro-wiall, yet alway reioycing: as poore yet making many rich: as having nothing, and yet possessing all things.

O ye Corinthians, our mouth is open unto you, our heart is enlarged.

Ye are not straitened in vs, but ye are straitned in your owne bowels.

Now for a recompener in the same, (I speake as unto my children) he ye also enlarged.

Be ye not equally woked together with rebelleuets: for what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousnesse? and what communion hath light with darkenesse?

And what concord hath Christ with Belial? or what part hath he that belieueth with an infidel?

And what agreement hath the Temple of God with idols? for we are the Temple of the living God: as God hath said, I will dwell in them, and walke in them, and I will be their God, and they shall be my people.

Wherefore come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the vncleane thing, and I will receive you.

And will bee a father unto you, and ye shall be my sonnes and daughters, saith the Lord Almighty.

CHAP. VII.

We praedeth in exhorting them to purity of life, & and to beare him like affliction, as he doth to them: 3 Whereof left he might seeme to doubt, he delateth what comfort he take in his afflictions, by the reports which Titus gave of their godly sorrow, which his former Epistle had wrought in them: 12 and of their loving kinde and obedience towards him: 2 as for askeable is his former boasting of them.

Having therefore these promises dearly beloved, let vs cleaue our titans from all filthinesse of the flesh and spirit, persequing holinesse in the feare of God.

Receiue vs, we have wronged no man, we haue corrupted no man, we haue defrauded no man.

I speake not this to condemne you; for I knowe said said before, that you are in our hearts to die and live with you.

4 Great is my boldnesse of speech toward you, great is my glorying of you, I am filled with comfort, I am exceeding joyfull in all our tribulation.

5 For when we were come into Macedonia, our flesh had no rest, but we were troubled on every side; without were fightings, within were feares,

6 Nevertheless, God that comforteth those that are cast downe, comforted vs by the coming of Titus.

7 And not by his coming onely, but by the consolation wherewith he was comforted in you, when he told vs your earnest desire, your mourning, your earnest mind toward mee, so that I rejoyced the more.

8 For though I made you sorry with a letter, I doe not repent, though I did repent: for I perceive that the same Epistle hath made you sorry, though it were but for a season.

9 Now I rejoyce, not that ye were made sorry, but that ye were sorrowed to repentance: for ye were made sorry false a godly manner, that ye might receive damage by vs in nothing.

10 For godly sorrow worketh repentance to salvation, not to be repented of; but the sorrow of the world worketh death.

11 For behold, this selfe same thing that ye sorrowed after a godly sort, what carefulnesse it wrought in you, yea, what clearing of your selves; yea, what indignation; yea, what feare; yea, what vehement desire; yea, what zeal; yea, what revenge: In all things ye have approved your selves to be cleare in this matter.

12 Wherefore though I wrote unto you, I did it not for this cause, that had done the wrong, nor for this cause that suffered wrong, but that our care for you in the sight of God might appeare unto you.

13 Therefore we were comforted in your comfort; yea, and exceedingly the more toyed we for encouage: Titus, because his spirit was refreshed by you all.

14 For if I have burdened any thing to him of you, I am not ashamed; but as we speake all things to you: in a truth, and so our boasting which I made before Titus, is found a truth.

15 And his inward affection is more abundant toward you, whilst he remembreth the obedience of you all, how with feare and trembling you received him.

16 I rejoyce therefore that I have confidence in you in all things.

CHAP. VIII.

1 He stirreth them up to a liberal contribution for the poorer sinners at Ierusalem, by the example of the Macedonians, 7 by commendation of their former forwardnesse, 8 by the example of Christ, 14 and by the spirituall profit that shall redound to themselves thereby: 16 Commending to them the gravity and willingness of Titus, and charging his brethren, who upon his request, exhortations, and commendation, were proposed to them for this business.

17 Overcomer, brethren, we doe you to wit of the grace of God bestowed on the Churches of Macedonia,

2 Now that in a great trial of affliction, the abundance of their joy, and their deepe poverty, abounded unto the riches of their liberality.

3 For to their power (I bare record) yea, and beyond their power they were willing of themselves,

4 Paying vs with much increase, that we would receive the gift, and take upon us the fellowship of the ministering to the Saints.

5 And this they did, not as we hoped, but first gave their owne selves to the Lord, and unto vs by the will of God.

6 Inasmuch that we desired Titus, that as hee had begun, so he would also finish in you the same grace also.

7 Therefore (as ye abound in every thing, in faith and utterance, and knowledge, and in all diligence, and in your love to us) (for that ye abound in this grace also.

8 I speake not by commandment, but by occasion of the forwardnesse of others, and to prove the sincerity of your love.

9 For ye know the grace of our Lord Iesus Christ, that though he was rich, yet for your sakes hee became poore, that ye through his poverty might be rich.

10 And herein I give my advice, for this is expedient for you, who have begun before, not onely to doe, but also to be forward a yere agoe.

11 Now therefore perfect the doing of it, that as there was a readinesse to will, so there may be a performance also of it, that which you have.

12 For if there be first a willing mind, it is accepted according to that a man hath, and not according to that he hath not.

13 For I meant not that other men be eased, and you burdened:

14 But by an equality: that now at this time your abundance may be a supply for their want, that their abundance also may be a supply for your want, that their may be equality,

15 As it is written, He that had gathered much, had nothing over, and hee that had gathered little, had no lacke.

16 For as it is written, He that had gathered much, had nothing over, and hee that had gathered little, had no lacke.

17 For indeed, he accepted the exhortation, but being more forward, of his owne accord hee went unto you.

18 And we have sent with him the brother whose praise is in the Gospel, throughout all the Churches.

19 And not that only, but who was also chosen of the Churches to travell with vs, with this grace which is testified by vs to the glory of the same Lord, and declaration of your ready minde.

20 Avoiding that, that no man should blame vs in this abundance which is administered by vs.

21 Providing for honest things, not onely in the sight of the Lord, but in the sight of men.

22 And we have sent with them our brother, whom we have often times proved diligent, in many things, but now much more diligent upon the great confidence which I have in you.

23 Whether any doe enquire of Titus, he is my partner and fellow-helper concerning you: or our brethren be enquired of, they are the ministers of the Churches, and of their glory, of Christ.

24 Wherefore shew ye to them, and before the Churches, the promise of your love, and of our boasting on your behalfe.

CHAP. IX.

1 He exhorteth the rest to obey, though he know their forwardnesse, yet he sent Titus and his brethren in fower bands. 6 And he proceeth to injoyning them up to a boundlesse love, as hee hat a kind of sowing of seeds, so which shall receive a great increase of them, 13 and occasions a 3rd saying of thanksgiving unto God.

For as touching the ministering to the saints, it is superfluous for me to write to you.

For I know the forwardness of your mind, for which I boast of you to them of Macedonia, that at Athens was ready a year ago, and your zeale hath provoked very many.

Yet have I sent the brethren, lest our boasting of you should be in vaine in this behalfe, that as I said, ye may be ready:

Let us supply, if they of Macedonia come with me, and finde you vnprepared, we (that we wote not you) should be ashamed in this same confident boasting.

Therefore I thought it necessary to exhort the brethren that they would goe before vnto you, and make vp before hand your bounty, I whereof ye had notice before, that the same might be ready, as a matter of bounty, not of countenance.

But this I say, Fee which soweth sparingly, shall reape sparingly; and he which soweth bountifullly, shall reape bountifullly.

Every man according as hes purpofeth in his heart, so let him giue; not grudgingly, or of necessity, for God loatheth a cheereless giuer.

And God is able to make all grace abound towards you, that ye alwayes hauing all sufficiency in all things, may abound to every good worke.

As it is writen: He hath dispersed abroad: He hath giuen to the poore: his righteousnesse remaineth for ever.

Now hee that ministereth seed to the sower, both minister bread for your food, and multiply your seed sower, and increase the fruits of your righteousnesse.

Being enriched in every thing to all bountifullnesse, which cometh through vs thanksgiving to God.

For the administration of this seruice, not onely supplieth the want of the Saints, but is abundant also by many thanksgivings vnto God.

Whiles by the experiment of this ministracion, they glorifie God for your professed subiection vnto the Gospel of Christ, and for your liberall distribution vnto them, and vnto all men:

And by their prayer for you, which long asseer you, for the exceeding grace of God in you.

Thanke be vnto God for his vspeakable gift.

CHAP. X.

Against the false Apostles, who displayed the weakness of his persons bodily presence, he searcheth out the spiritual might and authority which he is armed against all aduersary powers, referring them that as his commanding he will be found as mighty in word, as he is now in writing, being absent. And withall taxing them for teaching one themselves beyond their compass, and vntoing themselves into other mens labours.

Now I beseech you my selfe be each you, by the meeknesse and gentlenesse of Christ, who in presence am same among you, but being absent, am bold toward you:

But I beseech you that I may not be bold when I am present, with that confidence wherewith I thinke to be bold against some, which I thinke of vs as if we walked according to the flesh.

For though we walk in the flesh, we doe not warte after the flesh:

(For the weapons of our warfare are not carnall, but mighty through God, to the pulling downe of strong holds.)

Casting downe imaginations, and every high thing that exalteth it selfe against the knowlege of God, and bringing into captiuitie euery thought to the obedience of Christ:

And louing in a readinesse to aneage all disobedience, when your obedience is fulfilled:

Doe ye looke on things after the outward appearance: If any man trust to himselfe that he is Christ, let him of himselfe thinke this againe, that as he is Christ, even so are we Christ.

For though I should boast somewhat more of our authority (which the Lord hath giuen vs for edification, and not for destruction) I should not be ashamed:

That I may not seeme as if I would terrifie you by letters.

For his letters (say they) are weightie and powerful, but his bodily presence is weak, and his speech contemptible.

Let such a one thinke this: like such as wee are in word by letters, when we are absent, such will we be also in deed, when we are present.

For we dare not make our selues of the number, or compare our selues with some that commend themselves: but they measuring themselves by themselves, and comparing themselves amongst themselves, are not wise.

But wee will not boast of things without our measure, but according to the measure of the rule, which God hath distributed to vs, a measure to reach vnto you.

For wee stretch not our selues beyond our measure, as though we reached not vnto you, for we are colles as if: As to you also in preaching the Gospel of Christ:

Not boasting of things without our measure, that is, of other mens labours, but hauing hope, when your faith is increased, that we shall be enlarged by you, according to our rule abundantly.

To preach the Gospel in the regions beyond you, and not to boast in another mans line of things made ready to our hand.

But hee that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord.

For not hee that commendeth himselfe is approved, but whom the Lord commendeth.

CHAP. XI.

One of his iustifications over the Corinthians, who seemed to make more account of the false apostles, then of him, so enueth into a forced commendation of himselfe, of his equality with the chief Apostles, of his preaching the Gospel: then of his, and without any other charge, showing that he was no inferior, but an equal worker in any legal prerogatives, and in the service of Christ, as in all kind of sufferings, for his masters sake, superior.

Would to God you could beare with me a litle in my folly, and indeed I weare with me.

For I am ienalous ouer you with godly ienalousie: for I haue espoused you to one husband, that I wish may present you as a chaste virgin to Christ.

But I feare lest by any meanes, as the Serpent beguiled Eue through his subtilty, so your minds should be corrupted from the simplicity that is in Christ.

For if hee that cometh, preacheth another Iesus, whom we haue not preached, or if ye receive another spirit which ye haue not received, or another Gospel, which ye haue not accepted, ye might very well beare with him.

For I suppose, I was not a while behind the chief Apostles,

But though I be rude in speech, yet not in knowlege:

knowledge; but we have heard thoroughly made manifest among you in all things.

7 Have I committed an offence in abusing my selfe, that you might be exalted, because I have preached to you the Gospel of God freely?

8 I robbed other Churches, taking wages of them to doe you service.

9 And when I was present with you, and wanted, I was chargeable to no man: for that which was lacking to me, the brethren which came from Macedonia supplied; and in all things I have kept my selfe from being burdnesome to you, and so will I keepe my selfe.

10 As the truth of Christ is in me, no man shall stop me of this boasting in the regions of Achaia.

11 Wherefore? because I love you not? God knoweth.

12 But what I doe, that I will doe, that I may cut off occasion from them which desire occasion, that wherein they glory, they may be found even as we.

13 For such are false Apostles, deceitfull workers, transforming themselves into the Apostles of Christ.

14 And so marvell: for Satan himselfe is transformed into an Angel of light.

15 Therefore it is no great thing if his ministers also bee transformed as the Ministers of righteousness, whose end shall bee according to their workes.

16 I say againe, let no man thinke me a foole: if otherwise, yet as a foole receive me, that I may haue my selfe a litle.

17 That which I speake, I speake it not after the Lord, but as it were foolishly in this confidence of boasting.

18 Seeing that many glory after the flesh, I will also.

19 For you suffer foolcs gladly, seeing yee your selves are wise.

20 For ye rather if a man bring you into bondage, if a man denoure you, if a man take of you, if a man exalt himselfe, if a man smite you on the face.

21 I speake as concerning reproach, as though we had bene weak: howbeit, whatsoever any is bold, I speake foolishly, in bold life.

22 Are they Hebrewes? so am I: are they Israelites? so am I: are they the seed of Abraham? so am I:

23 Are they Ministers of Christ? I speake as a foole, I am more: in labours more abundant: in stripes above measure: in prisons more frequent: in deaths oft.

24 Of the Jews five times received I 40 scourges stripes save one.

25 Thrice was I beaten with rods, once was I stoned: thrice I suffered shipwacke: a night and a day I liane bene in the deep,

26 In burning often, in perils of waters, in perils of roades, in perils by my owne countrey-men, in perils by the heathen, in perils in the city, in perils in the wilderness, in perils in the sea, in perils among false brethren:

27 In wearinesse and painefulnesse, in watchings often, in hunger and thirst, in fastings often, in cold and nakednesse.

28 Besides these things that are without, that which commeth vpon me daily, the care of all the Churches.

29 Who is weak, and I am not weak? who is offended, and I burne not?

30 If I must needs glory, I will glory of the things which concern mine infirmities.

31 The God and Father of our Lord Iesus Christ, which is blessed for euermore, knoweth that I lie not.

32 In Damascus the gouernour vnder Arcas the King, kept the city with a garison, desirous to apprehend me.

33 And through a window in a basket, was I let downe by the wall, and escaped his hands.

CHAP. XVII.

1 For commendings of his Apostleship, though he might glory of his wonderfull venturations, yet he rather chooseth to glory of his infirmities, in blaming them for forcing him to this want boasting.

2 He promisseth to come to them againe: but yet altogether in the affliction of a fathers, although he feareth he shall in his griefe find many obstinate, and publike disorders there.

3 It is not expedient for me doubtlesse to glory, I will come to visions, and revelations of the Lord

4 I knew a man in Christ about fourteene yeeres agoe; whether in the body, I cannot tell, or whether out of the body, I cannot tell, God knoweth: such a one caught vp to the third heauen.

5 And I know such a man, whether in the body, or out of the body, I cannot tell, God knoweth: how that he was caught vp into Paradise, and heard vspeakable words, which it is not lawfull for a man to utter.

6 Of such a one will I glory, yet of my selfe I will not glory but in mine infirmities.

7 For though I would desire to glory, I shall not be a foole: for I will say the truth, that now I forbear least any man should thinke of me above that which he seeth me to be: or that he heareth of mee.

8 And lest I should be exalted above measure, through the abundance of the revelations, there was giuen to me a thorne in the flesh, the messenger of Satan to buffet me, lest I should be exalted above measure.

9 For this thing I besought the Lord thrice, that it might depart from me.

10 And hee said vnto me: My grace is sufficient for thee: for my strength is made perfect in weaknesse. Most gladly therefore will I rather glory in my infirmities, that the power of Christ may rest vpon me.

11 Therefore I take pleasure in infirmities, in reproaches, in necessities, in persecutions, in distresses, for Christs sake: for when I am weak, then am I strong.

12 I am become a foole in glorying, ye haue compelled me. For I ought to haue bene commended of you: for in nothing am I behind the very chiefest Apostles, though I be nothing.

13 Apply the signes of an Apostle were wrought among you in all patience, in signes and wonders, and mighty deedes.

14 For what is it wherein ye were inferiour to other Churches, except it be, that I my selfe was not burdnesome to you? forgive me this wrong.

15 Behold the third time I am ready to come to you, and I will not be burdnesome to you: for I seeke not yours, but you: for the children ought not to lay vp for the parents, but the parents for the children.

16 And I will very gladly spend, and be spent for you, though the more abundantly I love you, the lesse I be loued.

17 But he is so: I did not burden you: mercethelss, being craftie, I caught you with guile.

18 Did I make a gaine of you by any of these whom I sent vnto you?

14 I desired Titus, and with him I sent a brother: did Titus make a gaine of you? I walked we not in the same spirit? I walked we not in the same steps?

15 Against, thinke you that we exaspe our selves unto you? we speake before God in Christ: but we do all things, dearly beloved, for your edifying.

16 For I feare least when I come, I shall not find you such as I would, and that I shall see found unto you, such as ye would not, least their be debates, emyings, wraths, strifes, backbitings, wisprings, swellings, tumults, 17 And least when I come againe, my God will humble me among you, and that I shall bewraite many which have sinned already, and have not repented of the violence, and fornication, and lasciviousnesse, which they have committed.

CHAP. XIII.

1 He strengtheneth himself, and the power of his Apostleship against obstinate sinners. 2 And admonishing them to a trial of their faith. 3 And to a reformation of their finnes before he cometh, 4 He concludes his Epistle with a general exhortation and a prayer.

This is the third time I am coming to you: in the mouth of two or three witnesses shall every word be established.

2 I told you before, and foretold you, as if I were present the second time, and being absent, now I write to them which heretofore have sinned, & to all other, that if I come againe, I will not spare:

3 Since ye seeke a proofe of Christs speaking in me, which to you-would is not weak, but is mighty in you.

4 For though he was crucified through weakness, yet he liueth by the power of God: for we also are weak: yet in him, but we shall liue with him by the power of God towards you.

5 Examine your selves, whether ye bee in the faith: prove your owne felices. Know ye not your owne idles, how that Iesus Christ is in you, except ye be reprobat?

6 For I must that ye shall know that wee are not reprobaters.

7 Now I pray to God, that ye doe not enuill, nor that we should appeare approued, but that ye should doe that which is honest, though we be as reprobaters.

8 For we can doe nothing against the truth, but for the truth.

9 For we are glad when we are weak; and ye are strong: and this also we wish, euen your perfection.

10 Therefore I write these things being absent, lest being present, I should use sharpcnells, according to the power which the Lord hath giuen mee to edification, and not to destruction.

11 Finally brethren, farewell: be perfect, bee of good comfort, be of one mind, liue in peace: and the God of one and peace shall be with you.

12 Greete one another with an holy kisse.

13 All the Saints salute you.

14 The grace of the Lord Iesus Christ, and the loue of God, and the communion of the holy Ghost be with you all. Amen.

¶ The second Epistle to the Corinthians, was written from Philippias, a city of Macedonia, by Titus and Lucas.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL to the Galatians.

CHAP. I.

¶ He wondereth that they have so soon left him and the Gospel: 2 And exhorteth those that preach any other Gospel than he did. 3 He learned the Gospel not of man, but of God: 4 And sheweth what he was before his calling: 5 And what he did presently after it.

I And an Apostle, not of men, neither by man, but by Iesus Christ, and God the Father, who raised him from the dead.

2 And all the brethren, which are with me, unto the Churches of Galatia.

3 Grace bee to you, and peace, from God the Father, and from our Lord Iesus Christ.

4 Who gave himselfe for our finnes, that hee might redeem vs from this present euill world, according to the will of God, and our Father,

5 To himselfe for glory for ever and ever. Amen.

6 I marvel that you are so loone removed from him that called you into the grace of Christ, unto another Gospel:

7 Which is not another, but there be some that trouble you, and would pervert the Gospel of Christ.

8 But though wee, or an Angel from heauen preach any other Gospel unto you, than that which we have preached unto you, let him be accursed.

9 As we said before, so say I now againe, If any man preach any other Gospel unto you, than that ye have receiued, let him be accursed.

10 For doe I now perswade men or God? for doe I seek to please men? For if I yet pleased men, I should not be the seruant of Christ.

11 But I certifie you, brethren, that the Gospel which was preached of me, is not after man.

12 For I neither receiued it of man, neither was I taught it: but by the revelation of Iesus Christ.

13 For ye haue heard of my former condition, how that I persecuted the Church of God, & walked in it:

14 And profited in the lawes religion, above many my equals in mine owne nation, being more zealous, zealous of the traditions of my fathers.

15 But when I pleased God, who separated me from my mothers wombe, and called mee by his grace,

16 To reveal his Sonne in mee, that I might preach him among the heathen, immediately I conferred not with flesh and blood:

17 Neither went I up to Ierusalem, to them which were Apostles before mee, but I went into Arabia, and returned againe unto Damascus.

18 Then after three yeeres, I came againe to Ierusalem to see Peter: & abode with him thirtie dayes.

19 But other of the Apostles saw I none, save Iames the Lords brother.

20 Now the things which I write unto you, behold before God, I be true.

21 Afterward, I came into the regions of Syria and Cilicia.

20 And was unknown by face unto the Churches of Iudea, which were in Christ.

21 But they had heard onely, that he which persecuted vs in times past, now preacheth the faith, which once he destroyed.

22 And they glorified God in me.

CHAP. II.

1 He sheweth what he went up againe to Hierusalem, and for what purpose: 2 And that Titus was not circumcised, 3 and that he resisted Peter, and told him the reason, 4 why he and other borne Jewes, doe beleue in Christ to be iustified by faith, and not by works: 5 and that they loue not an ymage, who are so iustified.

Then fouretyene yeeres after, I went vp againe to Hierusalem with Barnabas, and took Titus with me also.

2 And I went vp by reuelation, and communicated vnto them that Gospel which I preach among the Gentiles, but I primary to them: which were of reputation, lest by any means I should run, or had run in vaine.

3 But neither Titus, who was with me, being a Greeke, was compell'd to be circumcised:

4 And that because of false brethren ynwares brought in, who came in pryly to spie out our liberty, which we haue in Christ Iesus, that they might bring vs into bondage.

5 To whom we gave place by subiectiue, no not for an houre, that the truth of the Gospel might continue with you.

6 But of these, who seemed to be somewhat, (whosoever they were, it makes no matter to me, God accepteth no mans person) for they who seemed to be somewhat, in conference added nothing to me.

7 But contrariwise, when they saw that the Gospel of the circumcision was committed vnto me, as the Gospel of the Circumcision was vnto Peter:

8 (For he that wrought effectually in Peter to the Apostleship of the Circumcision: the same was mighty in me towards the Gentiles.)

9 And when James, Cephas, and Iohn, who seemed to be pillars, perceived the grace that was giuen vnto me, they came to me, and Barnabas the right hands of fellowship, that we should go vnto the heathen: and they vnto the Circumcision.

10 Only they would that we should remember the poore, the same which I also was forward to doe.

11 But when Peter was come to Antioch, I withstood him to the face, because he was to be blamed.

12 For before that certaine came from James, he did eate with the Gentiles: but when they were come, he withdrew, and separated himselfe, fearing them which were of the Circumcision.

13 And the other Jewes dissembled likewise with him: insomuch that Barnabas also was carried away with their dissimulation.

14 But when I saw that they walked not uprightly, according to the truth of the Gospel, I said vnto Peter before them all, If thou being a Jew, livest after the manner of Gentiles, and not as doe the Jewes, why compellest thou the Gentiles to live as doe the Jewes?

15 We who are Jewes by nature, and not sinners of the Gentiles,

16 knowing that a man is not iustified by the works of the Law, but by the faith of Iesus Christ, euen wee haue beleued in Iesus Christ, that wee might be iustified by the faith of Christ, and not by the workes of the Law: for by the workes of the Law shall no flesh be iustified.

17 But if while wee seeke to be iustified by Christ, wee our selues also are found sinners: is therefore Christ the minister of sinne? God forbid.

18 For if I build againe the things which I destroyed, I make my selfe a transgressor.

19 For I through the Law, am dead to the Law, that I might live vnto God.

20 I am crucified with Christ: Nevertheless I live, yet not I, but Christ liueth in me, and the life which I now live in the flesh, I live by the faith of the Sonne of God, who loued me, and gave himselfe for me.

21 I doe not frustrate the grace of God: for if righteousnesse come by the Law, then Christ is dead in vaine.

CHAP. III.

1 How aske what wrought them to leaue the faith, and haue vpon the Law. 2 They that beleue are iustified, 3 and blessed with Abraham: 4 and this he sheweth by many reasons.

○ Foolish Galatians, who hath bewitched you, that you should not obey the truth, before whose eyes Iesus Christ hath bene evidently set forth, crucified among you?

2 This ouly would I learne of you, Received ye the Spirit by the workes of the Law, or by the hearing of faith?

3 Are ye so foolish? Having begun in the Spirit, are ye now made perfect by the flesh?

4 Haue ye suffered [so many things in vaine? if it be yet in vaine?]

5 He therefore that ministereth to you the Spirit, and worketh miracles among you, doth he it by the workes of the Law, or by the hearing of faith?

6 Euen as Abraham beleued God, and it was accounted to him for righteousnesse.

7 Know ye therefore, that they which are of faith, the same are the children of Abraham.

8 And the Scripture foreseeing that God would iustifie the heathen through faith, preached before the Gospel vnto Abraham, saying, In thee shall all nations be blessed.

9 So then, they which be of faith, are blessed with faithful Abraham.

10 For as many as are of the workes of the Law, are vnder the curse: for it is written, Cursed is every one that continueth not in all things which are written in the booke of the Law, to doe them.

11 But that no man is iustified by the Law: in the sight of God, it is euident: for The iust shall live by faith.

12 And the Law is not of faith: but the man that doth them shall live in them.

13 Christ hath redeemed vs from the curse of the Law, being made a curse for vs: for it is written, Cursed is every one that hangeth on a tree.

14 That the blessing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles, through Iesus Christ: that we might receive the promise of the Spirit through faith.

15 Brethren I speake after the manner of men: though it be but a mans covenant, yet it is confirmed, no man dissolueth or addeth thereto.

16 Now to Abraham and his seed were the promises made, He saith not, And to seeds, as of many:

but as of one. And to thy seed, which is Christ.

17 And this I say, that the Covenant that was confirmed before of God in Christ, the Law which was four hundred and thirty yeeres after, cannot disannul, that it should make the promise of none effect.

18 For if the inheritance be of the Law, it is no more of promise: but God gave it to Abraham by promise.

19 Wherefore then seemeth the Law? it was added because of transgressions, till the seed should come, to whom the promise was made: and it was ordained by Angels in the hand of a Mediator.

20 Now a Mediator is not a Mediator of one, but God is one.

21 Is the Law then against the promises of God? God forbid: for if there had been a Law given which could have given life, verely righteousnesse should have beene by the Law.

22 But the Scripture hath concluded all vnder sinne, that the promise by faith of Iesus Christ might be given to them that beleue.

23 But before faith came, we were kept vnder the Law, that vp vnto the faith, which should afterwards be revealed.

24 Wherefore the Law was our Schoole-master to bring vs vnto Christ, that we might be iustificed by faith.

25 But after that faith is come, we are no longer vnder a Schoole-master.

26 For ye are all the children of God by faith in Christ Iesus.

27 For as many of you as have beene baptized, into Christ, have put on Christ.

28 There is neither Jew nor Greeke, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male nor female: for ye are all one in Christ Iesus.

29 And if ye be Christs, then are ye Abrahams seed, and heires according to the promise.

CHAP. IIII.

1 We were vnder the Law till Christ came, as the heire is vnder his guardian till he be of age: 2 But Christ freed vs from the Law: 7 therefore we are seruants no longer to it. 14 Hierusalem is their good will to him, and his to them, 22 and sheweth that we are the sonnes of Abraham by the free woman.

Now I say, that the heire, as long as he is a child, differeth nothing from a seruant though he be lord of all,

2 But is vnder tutors and gouernours, untill the time appointed of the Father.

3 Even so we, when we were children, were in bondage vnder the elements of the world:

4 But when the fulnesse of the time was come, God sent forth his Sonne made of a woman, made vnder the Law,

5 To redeem them that were vnder the Law, that we might receive the adoption of sonnes.

6 And because ye are sonnes, God hath sent forth the Spirit of his Sonne into your hearts, crying, Abba, Father.

7 Wherefore thou art no more a seruant, but a sonne; and if a son, then an heire of God through Christ.

8 Howbeit, then when ye knew not God, ye did serue vnto them which by nature are no gods.

9 But now after that ye haue knowen God, or rather are known of God, how turne ye [against] the weak and beggerly elements wherunto ye desire againe to be in bondage?

10 Ye observe daies, and monthes and times, and yeeres.

11 I am afraid of you, lest I haue bestowed vpon you labour in vaine.

12 Be careful, therefore, ye be as I am, for I am as ye are; ye haue not injured me at all.

13 Ye know how through infirmity of the flesh, I preached the Gospel vnto you at the first.

14 And my temptation which was in my flesh, ye despised not, nor rejected, but receaued me as an Angel of God, even as Christ Iesus.

15 Where is then the bitterness you spake of? for I beare you record, that if it had beene possible, if you would haue plucked out your owne eyes, and haue given them to me.

16 Am I therefore become your enemy, because I tell you the truth?

17 They zealously affect you, but not well: yea, they would exclude you, that you might affect them.

18 But it is good to be zealously affected alwayes in a good thing, and not onely when I am present with you.

19 My little children of whom I travel in birth againe, vntill Christ be formed in you:

20 I desire to be present with you now, and to change my voyce, for I stand in doubt of you.

21 Tell me, ye that desire to be vnder the Law, doe ye not heare the Law?

22 For it is written, that Abraham had two sons, the one by a bond-maid, the other by a free-woman.

23 But he who was of the bond-woman, was borne after the flesh: but he of the free woman, was by promise.

24 Which things are an Allegory: for these are the two Covenants: the one from the mount Sinai, which gendereth to bondage, which is Agar.

25 For this Agar is mount Sinai in Arabia, and is iherusalem which now is, and is in bondage with her children.

26 But Iherusalem which is aboute, is free, which is the mother of vs all.

27 For it is written, * Reioyce thou barren that bearest not, breake forth and cry, thou that travailest not: for the desolate hath many more children, then she which hath an husband.

28 Now we brethren, as Isaac was, are the children of promise.

29 But as then he that was borne after the flesh, persecuted him that was borne after the Spirit, even so it is now.

30 Nevertheless, what saith the Scripture? * Call out the bond-woman and her son; for the sonne of the bond-woman shall not be heire with the sonne of the free-woman.

31 So then, brethren, we are not children of the bond-woman, but of the free.

CHAP. V.

1 He crucifieth show vs stand in their liberty, 3 and was to observe circumsision: 13 but rather love, which is the sum of the Law. 19 He reckoneth up the workes of the flesh, 22 and the fruites of the Spirit, 25 and exhorteth vs to walke in the Spirit.

Stand fast therefore in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made vs free, and be not entangled againe with the yoke of bondage.

2 Behold, I Paul say vnto you, that if ye be circumcised, Christ shall profit you nothing:

CRAP. VI.

1 He maneth them to deale mildly with a brother that hath sipped, 2 and to beare one anothers burden: 3 To be liberal to their seeders, 4 and not weary of well doing. 5 He sheweth what they intend that preach circumcision. 6 He glorieth in nothing save in the crosse of Christ.

Brethren, if a man be overtaken in a fault, ye which are spirituall restore such a one in the spirit of meeknesse, considering thy selfe, lest thou also be tempted.

1 Beare ye one anothers burden, and so fulfill the Law of Christ.

2 For if a man thinke himselfe to be something, when he is nothing, he deceiveth himselfe.

3 But let every man prone his owne worke, and then shall he have rejoycing in himselfe alone, and not in another.

4 For every man shall beare his owne burden.

5 Let him that is taught in the word communicate vnto him that teacheth in all good things.

6 Be not deceived, God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reape.

7 For he that soweth to his flesh, shall of the flesh reape corruption: but he that soweth to the spirit, shall of the spirit reape life everlasting.

8 And let vs not be weary in well doing: for in due season we shall reape if we faint not.

9 As whoeue therefore opportunity, let vs doe good vnto all men, especially vnto them who are of the household of Faith.

10 Yee see how large a letter I haue written vnto you with mine owne hand.

11 As many as desire to make a faire show in the flesh, they constrain you to be circumcised: only lest they should suffer persecution for the crosse of Christ.

12 For neither they themselves, who are circumcised keepe the Law, but desire to haue you circumcised, that they may glory in your flesh.

13 But God forbid that I should glory, save in the crosse of our Lord Iesus Christ, by whom the world is crucified vnto mee, and I vnto the world.

14 For in Christ Iesus neither circumcision availeth any thing, nor vncircumcision, but a new creature.

15 And as many as walke according to this rule, peace be on them, and mercy, and vpon the mercies of God.

16 From henceforth let no man trouble mee, for I beare in my body the marques of the Lord Iesus.

17 Brethren the grace of our Lord Iesus Christ be with your spirit: Amen.

¶ Vnto the Galatians, written from Rome.

For I tellie againe to every man that is circumcised, that he is a debtor to doe the whole Law.

Christ is become of none effect vnto you, whoe soeuer of you are iustificed by the Law: ye are fallen from grace.

For wee through the Spirit waite for hope of righteousness by faith.

For in Iesus Christ, neither circumcision availeth any thing, nor vncircumcision, but faith which worketh by love.

Yee did run well; who did hinder you, that ye should not obey the truth?

This persecution cometh not of him that calleth you.

A little leaven leaveneth the whole lump.

I haue confidence in you through the Lord, that you will be none otherwise minded: but see that troubleth you shall beare his iudgement, whoseener he be.

And I, brethren, if I yet preach circumcision, why doe I yet suffer persecution? then is the offence of the crosse ceased.

I would they were cut off which trouble you.

For brethren, ye haue been called vnto liberty, only not liberty for an occasion to the flesh, but by love serue one another.

For all the Law is fulfilled in one word, even in this, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thy selfe.

But if ye bite, and deuoure one another, take heed ye be not consumed one of another.

This I saythen, walke in the spirit, and ye shall not fulfill the lust of the flesh.

For the flesh lusteth against the spirit, and the spirit against the flesh: and these are contrary the one to the other: so that ye cannot doe the things that ye would.

But if ye be led of the spirit, ye are not vnder the Law.

Now the workes of the flesh are manifest, which are these, adultery, fornication, vncleanness, lasciuiousnesse,

Idoltery, witchcraft, hatred, variance, emulation, wrath, strife, seditions, heresies, Enuiings, murders, drunkennesse, revellings, and such like: of the which I tell you before, as I haue also told you in time past, that they which doe such things, shall not inherit the Kingdome of God.

But the fruit of the spirit is love, ioy, peace, long suffering, gentleness, goodnesse, faith, Meechancie, temperance: against such there is no law.

And they that are Christs, haue crucified the flesh, with the affections and lusts.

If we live in the spirit, let vs also walke in the spirit.

Let vs not be desirous of vaine glory, prouiding one another, envying one another.

THE

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE Apostle to the Ephesians.

CHAP. I.

1 After the salutation, 3 and thanksgiving for the Ephesians, 4 he treateth of our Election, 6 and adoption by grace, 11 which is the true and proper fountain of mans salvation. 13 And because the height of this mystery cannot easily be attained vnto, 16 he prayeth that they may come to the full knowledge and 20 possession thereof in Christ.

But an Apostle of Iesus Christ: by the will of God, to the Saints which are at Ephesus, and to the faithful in Christ Iesus, Grace be to you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ.

Blessed be the God the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ, who hath blessed vs with all spiritual blessings in heavenly places in Christ:

According as he hath chosen vs in him before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy and without blame before him in loue:

Having predestinated vs vnto the adoption of children by Iesus Christ to himselfe, according to the good pleasure of his will:

To the praise of the glory of his grace, wherewith he hath made vs accepted in the beloved:

In whom we haue redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of finnes, according to the riches of his grace,

Wherewith he hath abounded toward vs in all wisdom and prudence:

Having made knowne vnto vs the mystery of his will, according to his good pleasure, which he had purposed in himselfe,

That in the dispensation of the fulnesse of times, he might gather together in one, all things in Christ, both which are in heauen, and which are on earth, euen in him:

In whom also we haue obtained an inheritance, being predestinated, according to the purpose of him who worketh all things after the counsell of his owne will:

That we should be to the praise of his glory who first trusted in Christ.

In whom ye also trusted, after that ye heard the word of truth, the Gospel of your salvation: in whom also after that ye believed, ye were sealed with that holy spirit of promise,

Which is the earnest of our inheritance, vntill the redemption of the purchased possession, vnto the praise of his glory.

Wherefore I also after I heard of your faith in the Lord Iesus, and loue vnto all the Saints, Cease not to giue thanks for you, making mention of you in my prayers:

That the God of our Lord Iesus Christ, the Father of glory, may giue vnto you the Spirit of wisdom, and reuelation in the knowledge of him:

That the eyes of your vnderstanding being enlightened; that ye may know, what is the hope of his calling, and what the riches of the glory of his inheritance in the Saints:

And what is the exceeding greatnesse of his power to vs ward, who beleeue according to the working of his mighty power:

Which he wrought in Christ, when he raised him from the dead, and set him at his owne right hand in the heauenly places.

Farre above all principality, and power, and might, and dominion, and every name that is named, not only in this world, but also in that which is to come:

And hath put all things vnder his feet, and gave him to bee the head over all things to the Church,

Which is his body, the fulnesse of him that filleth all in all.

CHAP. II.

By comparing what we were by nature, with what we are by grace: 10 He declareth that we are made for good works, and 13 being brought nether by Christ should not live as the Gentiles and 15 forgiuers in true path, but as citizens with the Saints, and the family of God.

And you hath he quickned, who were dead in sinnes and stones,

Wherin in time past ye walked according to the course of this world, according to the prince of the power of the ayre, the spirit that now worketh in the children of disobedience,

Among whom also wee all had our conversation in times past, in the bills of our flesh, fulfilling the desires of the flesh, and of the mind, as we were by nature the children of wrath, euen as others:

But God, who is rich in mercy, for his great loue, wherewith he loued vs,

Euen when we were dead in sinnes, hath quickened vs together with Christ (by grace ye are saved.)

And hath raised vs vp together, and made vs sit together in heavenly places in Christ Iesus:

That in the ages to come he might shew the exceeding riches of his grace, in his kinnesse toward vs, through Christ Iesus.

For by grace are ye saued, through faith, and that not of your selues: it is the gift of God:

Not of works, lest any man should boast.

For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Iesus vnto good works, which he hath ordained that we should walke in them.

Wherefore we remember that ye being in time past Gentiles in the flesh, who are called vncircumcision by that which is called the circumcision in the flesh made by hands,

That at that time ye were without Christ, being aliens from the covenenent of promise, having no hope, and without God in the world.

But now in Christ Iesus, ye who sometimes were farre off, are made nigh by the blood of Christ.

For he is our peace, who hath made both one, and hath broken downe the middle wall of partition betweene vs:

Having abolished in his flesh the enmitie, even the law of Commandements contained in ordinances, but to make in himselfe of twaine one new man, making peace,

And that he might reconcile both vnto God in our body by the crosse, hauing slaine the enmitie thereby, 17 And came and preached peace to you, which ye were afarre off, and to them that were nigh.

18 For through him we both have an access, by one Spirit unto the Father.

19 Now therefore ye are no more strangers and foreigners, but fellow citizens with the Saints, and of the household of God,

20 And are built upon the foundation of the Apostles and Prophets, Iesus Christ himselfe being the chiefe corner-stone,

21 In whom all the building fely framed together, groweth unto a holy Temple in the Lord:

22 In whom you also are builded together, for an habitation of God through the Spirit.

CHAP. III.

1 The hidden mystery, & that the Gentiles should be saved; was made knowne to Paul by revelation: & to him was that grace given, that he should preach it. 2 He desireth them not to faint for his tribulation, 14 and prayeth 19 that they may perceive the great love of Christ toward them.

FOR this cause, I Paul, the prisoner of Iesus Christ, for you Gentiles,

1 If ye have heard of the dispensation of the grace of God, which is giuen me to you-waite:

2 How that by reuelation he made knowne vnto me the ministry, (as I wrote afore in few words,

4 Whereby winn ye stande, ye may vnderstand my knowledge in the mystery of Christ.)

5 Which in other ages was not made knowne vnto the finnes of men, as it is now reuealed vnto his holy Apostles and Prophets by the Spirit,

6 That the Gentiles should bee fellow heires: and of the same body, and partakers of his promise in Christ by the Gospel:

7 Whereof I was made a minister, according to the gift of the grace of God giuen vnto me, by the effectuall working of his power.

8 Vnto mee, who am lesse then the least of all Saints, is this grace giuen, that I should preach among the Gentiles the vnsarchable riches of Christ,

9 And to make all men see, what is the fellowship of the mystery, which from the beginning of the world hath bene hid in God, who created all things by Iesus Christ:

10 To the intent that now vnto the principallities and powers in heauenly places, might bee knowne by the Church the manifold wisdom of God,

11 According to the eternall purpose which hee purposed in Christ Iesus our Lord:

12 In whom we have holinesse and access: with confidence by the faith of him.

13 Wherefore I desire that yee faint not at my tribulations for you, which is your glory.

14 For this cause I bow my knees vnto the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ, 15 Of whom the whole family in heauen and earth is named,

16 That hee would grant you according to the riches of his glory, to be strengthened with might by his spirit in the inner man,

17 That Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith, that ye being rooted and grounded in loue,

18 May bee able to comprehend with all Sainets, what is the breadth, and length, and depth, and height:

19 And to know the loue of Christ which passeth knowledge, that ye might be filled with all the fulnesse of God.

20 Now vnto him that is able to doe exceeding abundantly, sheweth all these things vnto you, according to the power that was with him in re-21 Vnto him bee glory in the Church, by Christ Iesus, throughout all ages world without end. Amen.

CHAP. III.

1 He exhorteth to vniuersity, 7 and declareth that God therefore giueth diuers 12 gifts vnto men, that his Church might be 13 builded, and 16 growne vnto Christ. 18 He calleth them from the vniuersity of the Gentiles. 24 To put on the new man. 25 To cast off lym, and 29 corrupt communication.

I Therefore the prisoner of the Lord, beseech you, that yee walke worthy of the vocation wherewith ye are called,

2 With all lowlinesse and meeknesse, with long suffering, forbearing one another in loue,

3 Encouraging to keepe the vniuersity of the Spirit in the bond of peace.

4 There is one body, and one spirit, euen as you are called in one hope of your calling,

5 One Lord, one Faith, one Baptisme,

6 One God and Father of all, who is aboue all, and through all, and in you all.

7 But vnto every one of vs is giuen grace, according to the measure of the gift of Christ.

8 Wherefore he saith, 9 When hee ascended vp on high, he led captivity captiue, and gaue gifts vnto men.

9 (Now that he ascended, what is it, but that he also descended first into the lower parts of the earth?)

10 Hee that descended, is the same also that ascended vp farre aboue all heauens, that hee might fill all things.)

11 * And hee gaue some, Apostles and some, Prophets: and some, Euangelists: and some, Pastours and teachers:

12 For the perfecting of the Saints, for the worke of the ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ:

13 Till we all come in the vniuersity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Sonne of God, vnto a perfect man, vnto the measure of the stature of the fullnesse of Christ;

14 That we henceforth bee no more children, tossed to and fro, and carried about with every wind of doctrine, by the sleight of men, and cunning craftinesse, whereby they lie in wait to deceive:

15 But speaking the truth in loue, may growe vnto him in all things, which is the head, euen Christ:

16 * From whom the whole body fitly ioyned together, and compacted, by that which euenly ioyneth supplieth, according to the effectuall working in the measure of every part, maketh increase of the body vnto the edifying of it selfe in loue.

17 This I say therefore, and testify in the Lord, that yee henceforth walke not as other Gentiles walke in the vniuersity of their mind,

18 Having the vnderstanding darkened, being alienated from the life of God, through the ignorance that is in them, because of the blindness of their heart:

19 Who being past feeling, haue groen themselves ouer vnto lasciuiousnesse, to worke all vncleannesse with greedinesse.

20 But yee haue not so learned Christ:

21 If so bee that yee haue heard him, and haue bene taught by him, as the truth is in Iesus,

22 That ye put off, concerning the former conuersation, the old man, which is corrupt, according to the deceitfull lusts:

23 And be engaged in the spirit of your minde:

24 And that ye put on that new man, which after God is created in righteousness and true holiness.

25 Wherefore putting away lying, speake every man truth with his neighbour: for wee are members one of another.

26 Bee yet angry and fume not, let not the Sun goe downe vpon your wrath:

27 Neither giue place to the deuill.

28 Let him that stole, steale no more: but rather let him labour, working with his hands the thing which is good, that he may haue [to] giue to him that needeth.

29 Let no corrupt communication proceed out of your mouth, but that which is good [to] the vie of edifying, that it may minister grace vnto the hearers.

30 And grieue not the holy Spirit of God, whereby ye are sealed vnto the day of redemption.

31 Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamour, and euill speaking be put away from you, with all malice.

32 And bee ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, euen as God for Christs sake hath forgiven you.

CHAP. V.

1 After general exhortations to loue, 3 to set fornication, 4 and all uncleannesse, 7 not to converse with the wicked, 15 to walke warily, and to be 18 filled with the Spirit: 23 He defendeth to the particular duties, how wiues ought to obey their husbands, 25 and husbands ought to loue their wiues, 32 euen as Christ doeth his Church.

BE ye therefore followers of God, as deare children.

2 And walke in loue, as Christ also hath loued vs, and hath giuen himselfe for vs, an offering and a sacrifice to God for a sweet smelling sanour;

3 But fornication, and all uncleannesse, or concouesence, let it not be once named amongst you, as becommeth Saints;

4 Neither filthinesse, nor foolish talking, nor iesting, which are not conuenient: but rather giuing of thanks.

5 For this ye know, that no whoremonger, nor vncleane person, nor contentious man, who is an idolater, hath any inheritance in the kingdome of Christ, and of God.

6 Let no man deceiue you with vaine wordes: for because of these things cometh the wrath of God vpon the children of [dis]obedience.

7 Be not ye therefore partakers with them.

8 For ye were sometimes darknesse, but now are ye light in the Lord: walke as children of light,

9 (for the fruit of the Spirit is in all goodnesse, and righteousness, and truth.)

10 Proouing what is acceptable vnto the Lord:

11 And haue no fellowship with the vniuersall workes of darkness, but rather reprove them.

12 For it is a shame euen to speake of those things which are done of them in secret.

13 But all things that are [to] reprobated, are made manifest by the light: for whatsoever doth make manifest, is light.

14 Wherefore bee saith: *Awake thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall giue thee light.

15 * See then that ye walke circumspectly, not as sleepers, but as wise, 16 Redeeming the time, because the dayes are euill.

17 Wherefore bee ye not wise: but understanding what the will of the Lord is.

18 And be not drunke with wine wherein is excess: but be filled with the Spirit:

19 Speaking to your selues in Psalms, and Hymnes, and spirituall songs, singing and making melody in your heart to the Lord.

20 Gining thanks alwayes for all things vnto God, and the Father, in the name of our Lord Iesus Christ, 21 Submitting your selues one to another in the feare of God.

22 Wiues, submit your selues vnto your owne husbands, as vnto the Lord.

23 For the husband is the head of the wife, euen as Christ is the head of the Church: and he is the Saviour of the body.

24 Therefore as the Church is subject vnto Christ, so let the wiues be to their owne husbands in euery thing.

25 Husbands, loue your wiues, euen as Christ also loued the Church, and gave himselfe for it,

26 That hee might sanctifie and cleanse it with the washing of water by the word, 27 That he might present it to himselfe a glorious Church, not having spot or wrinkle, or any such thing: but that it should be holy and without blemish.

28 So ought men to loue their wiues, as their owne bodies: hee that loueth his wife, loueth him selfe.

29 For no man euer yet hated his owne flesh, but nourisheth and cherisheth it, euen as the Lord doth the Church:

30 For we are members of his body, of his flesh and of his bones.

31 For this cause shall a man leaue his father and mother, and shall be ioyned vnto his wife, and they two shall be one flesh.

32 This is a great mystery: but I speake concerning Christ and the Church.

33 Nevertheless, let euery one of you in particular so loue his wife, euen as himselfe, and the wife see that shee reuerence her husband.

CHAP. VI.

1 The duty of children towards their parents: 8 Of seruants towards their masters. 10 no life is a warfare, 12 not only against flesh and blood, but also spiritual enemies. 13 The compleat armour of a Christian, 18 and how it ought to be vsed. 21 Discipline is commended.

CHILDREN, obey your parents in the Lord: for this is right.

2 Honour thy father and mother, (which is the first commandment with promise.)

3 That it may bee well with thee, and thou mayest line long on the earth.

4 And ye fathers, prouoke not your children to wrath: but bring them vp in the nurture and admonition of the Lord.

5 Seruants, bee obedient to them that are your masters, according to the flesh, with feare and trembling in singleness of your heart, as vnto Christ:

6 Not with eye-service, as men-pleasers, but as the seruants of Christ, doing the will of God from the heart:

7 With good will doing seruice, as to the Lord, and not to men.

 10 Finally, my brethren, be strong in the Lord, and in the power of his might,
 11 For on the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the deuil.
 12 For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places.
 13 Wherefore take unto you the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand.
 14 Stand therefore, having your loines girt about with truth, and having on the breastplate of righteousness:
 15 And your feet shod with the preparation of the Gospel of peace.
 16 Above all, taking the shield of faith, where-with ye shall be able to quench all the fiery darts of the wicked.

 19 And for me, that veterance may be given unto me, that I may open my mouth boldly, to make knowne the mystery of the Gospel:
 20 For which I am an Ambassador in bonds, that therein I may speak boldly as I ought to speak.
 21 But that ye may also know my affairs, and how I doe, Tychicus a beloved brother, and faithful Minister in the Lord, shall make knowne to you all things:
 22 Whom I have sent unto you for the same purpose: that ye might know our affaires, and that he might comfort your hearts.
 23 Peace be to the brethren, and loue, with faith from God the Father, and the Lord Iesus Christ.
 24 Grace be with all them that loue our Lord Iesus Christ § in sincerity. Amen.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE Apostle to the Philippians.

CHAP. I.

§ He testifies his thankfulness to God, and his love toward them, for the fruits of their faith, and fellowship in his sufferings, § daily praying to him for their increase in grace. 12 He sheweth what good the faith of Christ had received by his troubles at Rome: 27 and how ready hee is to sacrifice Christ, either by his life or death: 31 exhorting them to unity, 28 and to continue in persecution.

that the things which happened unto me, had fallen out rather unto the furtherance of the Gospel:
 12 So that my bonds § in Christ are manifest in all the § palace, and in § all other places.
 14 And many of the brethren in the Lord, waxing confident by my bonds, are much more bold to speak the word without feare.
 15 Some indeed preach Christ, even of envy and strife, and some also of good will.
 16 The one preach Christ of contention, not sincerely, supposing to add affliction to my bonds:
 17 But the other of loue, knowing that I am set for the defence of the Gospel.
 18 What then? Notwithstanding eny way, whether in pretence, or in truth, Christ is preached, and I therein doe reioyce, yea, and will reioyce.
 19 For I know that this shall turne to my saluation through your prayer, and the supply of the Spirit of Iesus Christ.
 20 According to my earnest expectation, and my hope, that in nothing I shall be ashamed: but that with all boldnesse, I shall alwayes, so now also Christ shall be magnified in my body, whether it be by life or by death.
 21 For to me to live is Christ, & to die is gaine.
 22 But if I live in the flesh, this is the fruit of my labour: yet what I shall choose, I wote not:
 23 For I am in a strait betwixt two, having a desire to depart, and to bee with Christ, which is farre better.
 24 Nevertheless, to abide in the flesh, is more needfull for you.
 25 And having this confidence, I know that I shall abide and continue with you all, for your furtherance and ioy of faith.
 26 That your reioycing may be more abundant in Iesus Christ for mee, by my coming to you againe.
 27 Only let your conversation be as it becometh the Gospel of Christ, that whether I come and see you, or else be absent, I may heare of your affaires,

Or, for Christ
 Or, before court.
 Or, in all others.

Paul and Timotheus, the servants of Iesus Christ, to all the Saints in Christ Iesus which are at Philippi, with the Bishops and Deacons:
 2 Grace be unto you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ.
 3 I thanke my God upon every § remembrance of you,
 4 Alwayes in euery prayer of mine for you all, making request with ioy,
 5 For your fellowship in the Gospel, from the first day until now;
 6 Being confident of this very thing, that he which hath begun a good worke in you, § will performe it until the day of Iesus Christ:
 7 Even as it is meet for mee to thinke this of you all, because § I have you in my heart, in as much as both in my bonds, and in the defence and confirmation of the Gospel, ye all are § partakers of my grace.
 8 For God is my record, how greatly I long after you all, in the bowels of Iesus Christ.
 9 And this I pray, that your loue may abound yet more and more, in knowledge, and in all § iudgement.
 10 That ye may § approue things that are § excellent, that ye may be sincere, and without offence till the day of Christ,
 11 Being filled with the fruits of righteousness, which are by Iesus Christ unto the glory and praise of God.
 12 But I would ye should understand, brethren, that the things which happened unto me, had fallen out rather unto the furtherance of the Gospel:

 12 So that my bonds § in Christ are manifest in all the § palace, and in § all other places.
 14 And many of the brethren in the Lord, waxing confident by my bonds, are much more bold to speak the word without feare.
 15 Some indeed preach Christ, even of envy and strife, and some also of good will.
 16 The one preach Christ of contention, not sincerely, supposing to add affliction to my bonds:
 17 But the other of loue, knowing that I am set for the defence of the Gospel.
 18 What then? Notwithstanding eny way, whether in pretence, or in truth, Christ is preached, and I therein doe reioyce, yea, and will reioyce.
 19 For I know that this shall turne to my saluation through your prayer, and the supply of the Spirit of Iesus Christ.
 20 According to my earnest expectation, and my hope, that in nothing I shall be ashamed: but that with all boldnesse, I shall alwayes, so now also Christ shall be magnified in my body, whether it be by life or by death.
 21 For to me to live is Christ, & to die is gaine.
 22 But if I live in the flesh, this is the fruit of my labour: yet what I shall choose, I wote not:
 23 For I am in a strait betwixt two, having a desire to depart, and to bee with Christ, which is farre better.
 24 Nevertheless, to abide in the flesh, is more needfull for you.
 25 And having this confidence, I know that I shall abide and continue with you all, for your furtherance and ioy of faith.
 26 That your reioycing may be more abundant in Iesus Christ for mee, by my coming to you againe.
 27 Only let your conversation be as it becometh the Gospel of Christ, that whether I come and see you, or else be absent, I may heare of your affaires,

Or, that that ye stand fast in one spirit, with one minde, striving together for the faith of the Gospel.

18 And in nothing terrified by your adversaries, which is to them an evident token of perdition: but to you of salvation, and that of God.

19 For unto you it is given in the behalfe of Christ, not onely to believe on him, but also to suffer for his sake, 20 Having the same conflict, which ye saw in me, and now heare so be in me.

CHAP. II.

He exhorteth them to unity, and to all humbleness of minde, by the example of Christs humility and exaltation, 12 so a carefull proceeding in the way of salvation, that they be at lights to the wicked world, 16 and comforts to him their Apostle, who is now ready to be offered up to God. 19 He saith so that he is ready to suffer for them, whom he greatly commendeth, 25 as Epaphroditus also, whom hee presently sendeth to them.

If there be therefore any consolation in Christ, if any comfort of love, if any fellowship of the Spirit, if any bowels, and mercies;

1 Fulfill ye my ioy, that ye be like minded, having the same love, being of one accord, of one minde.

2 Let nothing be done through strife or vainglory, but in lowliness of minde, let each esteeme other better then themselves.

3 Look not every man on his owne things, but every man also on the things of others.

4 Let this minde bee in you, which was also in Christ Iesus:

5 Who being in the forme of God, thought it not robbery to be equal with God:

6 But made himselfe of no reputation, and took upon him the forme of a servant, and was made in the likeness of men.

7 And being found in fashion as a man, he humbled himselfe, and became obedient unto death, even the death of the crosse.

8 Wherefore God also hath highly exalted him, & given him a Name, which is above every name:

9 That at the Name of Iesus every knee should bow, of things in heaven, and things in earth, and things under the earth:

10 And that every tongue should confesse, that Iesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

11 Wherefore, my beloved, as ye have alwayes obeyed: not as in my presence onely, but now much more in my absence: 12 worke out your owne salvation with feare and trembling:

13 For it is God which worketh in you, both to will and to doe, of his good pleasure.

14 Doe all things without murmurings and disputings:

15 That ye may be blameless, and harmless, the followers of God, without rebuke in the midst of a crooked and perverse nation, among whom ye shine as light in the world:

16 Holding forth the word of life, that I may reioyce in the day of Christ, that I have not run in vaine, neither laboured in vaine.

17 Yes, and if I be offered vpon the sacrifice and service of your faith, I ioy and reioyce with you all.

18 For the same cause also doe ye ioy, and reioyce with me:

19 That I trust in the Lord Iesus to send Timotheus shortly unto you, that I also may by good success, when I know your state, 20 For I have no man like minded, who will naturally care for your state.

21 For all seek their owne, not the things which are Iesus Christs.

22 But ye know the proofe of him, that as a son with the father, hee hath served with me in the Gospel.

23 Him therefore I hope to send presently, so soone as I shall see how it will goe with me.

24 But I trust in the Lord, that I also my selfe shall come shortly.

25 Yet I supposed it necessary to send to you Epaphroditus my brother, and companion in labour, and fellow-souldier, but your messenger, and he that ministered to my wants.

26 For he longed after you all, and was full of heavinesse, because that ye had heard that he had bene sicke.

27 For indeed he was sicke, nigh unto death, but God had mercy on him: and not on him only, but on me also, lest I should have sorrow upon sorrow.

28 I sent him therefore the more carefully, that when ye see him againe, ye may reioyce, and that I may be the lesse sorrowfull.

29 Receive him therefore in the Lord with all gladnesse, and hold such in reputation:

30 Because for the worke of Christ he was nigh unto death, not regarding his life, to supply your lacks of service toward me.

CHAP. III.

He warneth them to beware of the false teachers of the circumcision, 4 shewing that himselfe hath greater cause then they to trust in the righteousness of the Law: 7 which notwithstanding he counteth as dung and losse, to gaine Christ and his righteousness, 12 shewing acknowledging his owne imperfectiō. 15 Hee exhorteth them to see that minded, 17 and to imitate him, 18 and to decline the wayes of carnall Christians.

Finally, my brethren, reioyce in the Lord. To write the same things to you, to me indeed is not grievous: but for you it is sale.

1 Beware of dogs, beware of evil workers, beware of the circumcision.

2 For we are the Circumcision, which worship God in the Spirit, and reioyce in Christ Iesus, and have no confidence in the flesh:

3 Though I might also have confidence in the flesh: if any other man thinketh that he hath whereof he might trust in the flesh, I more:

4 Circumcised the eighth day, of the stocke of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin, an Hebrew of the Hebrewes, as touching the Law, a Pharisee:

5 Concerning zeale, persecuting the Church: touching the righteousness which is in the Law, blamelesse.

6 But what things were gaine to me, those I counted losse for Christ.

7 Yea doubtlesse, and I count all things but losse, for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Iesus my Lord: for whom I have suffered the losse of all things, and doe count them but dung, that I may win Christ,

8 And be found in him, not having mine owne righteousness, which is of the Law, but that which is through the faith of Christ, the righteousness which is of God by faith:

9 That I may know him, and the power of his resurrection, and the fellowship of his sufferings, being made conformable unto his death, 11 If by any means I might ascend unto the resurrection of the dead.

12 Not as though I had already attained, either were already perfect: but I follow after, if that I may apprehend that for which also I am apprehended of Christ Jesus.

13 Brethren, I count not my selfe to have apprehended: but this one thing I doe, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before.

14 I press toward the mark, for the price of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.

15 Let vs therefore as many as be perfect, bee thus minded: and if in any thing ye be otherwise minded, God shall reveale unto this unto you.

16 Nevertheless, whereto we have already attained, let vs walke by the same rule, let vs misde the same thing.

17 Brethren, bee followers together of me, and marke them which walke so, as yee have vs for an example.

18 For many walke, of whom I have told you often, and now tell you again weeping, that they are the enemies of the Crosse of Christ:

19 Whose end is destruction, whose God is their belly, and whose glory is in their shame, who misde earthly things.

20 For our conversation is in heaven, from whence also we looke for the Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ:

21 Who shall change our vile body, that it may be fashioned like unto his glorious body, according to the working, whereby he is able even to subdue all things unto himselfe.

CHAP. III.

From particular admonitions, he proceedeth to general exhortations, showing how he rejoiced at his liberality towards him lying in prison, not so much for the supply of his own wants, as for the glory of God in them. And so he concludes with prayer and salutations.

Therefore my brethren, dearly beloved, and longed for, my joy and crowne, stand fast in the Lord, my dearly beloved.

1 I beseech Euodias, and beseech Syntyche, that they be of the same minde in the Lord.

2 And I intreat the also, true yoke-fellow, helpe those women which laboured with me in the Gospel, with Clement also, and with other my fellow-labourers, whose names are in the booke of life.

3 Rejoyce in the Lord alway: and againe, I say, Rejoyce.

4 Let your moderation be knowne unto all men. The Lord is at hand.

5 Be careful for nothing: but in every thing by prayer and supplication, with thanksgiving, let your request be made knowne unto God.

6 And the peace of God which passeth all understanding, shall keepe your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus.

7 Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report: if there be any vertue, and if there be any praise, thinke on these things:

8 Those things which ye have both learned, and received, and heard, and (seem in me, doe: and the God of peace shall be with you.

9 But I rejoiced in the Lord greatly, that now at the last, your care of me hath flourished againe whereto ye were also careful, but yet lacked opportunity.

10 Not that I speake in respect of want: for I have learned in whatsoever state I am, therewith to be content.

11 I know both how to be abased, and I know how to abound: every where in all things I am instructed both to be full and to be hungry, both to abound and to suffer need.

12 I can doe all things through Christ, which strengtheneth me.

13 Notwithstanding, yet have well done, that ye did communicate with my affliction.

14 Now ye Philippians know also, that in the beginning of the Gospel, when I departed from Macedonia, no Church communicated with mee, as concerning giving and receiving, but ye only.

15 For even in Thessalonica, ye sent once and againe unto my necessity.

16 Not because I desire a gift, but I desire fruit that may abound to your account.

17 But I have all, and abound, I am full, having received of Epaphroditus the things which were sent from you, an odour of a sweet smell, a sacrifice acceptable, well pleasing to God.

18 But my God shall supply all your need, according to his riches in glory by Christ Jesus.

19 Now unto God and our Father, be glory for ever and ever, Amen.

20 Salute every Saint in Christ Jesus: the brethren which are with me, greet you.

21 All the Saints salute you, chiefly they that are of Cesars household.

22 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all, Amen.

23 It was written to the Philippians from Rome by Epaphroditus.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE Apostle to the Colossians.

CHAP. I.

2 After salutation he thanketh God for their faith, confirmeth the doctrine of Epaphras, and presseth further for their increase in grace, and describeth the true Christ, and commendeth his own minister.

And an Apostle of Jesus Christ, by the will of God, & Timotheus our brother,

2 To the Saints and faithful brethren in Christ, which are at Colosse, grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 We give thanks to God, and the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, praying always for you,

4 Since we heard of your faith in Christ Jesus, and of the love which ye have to all the Saints,

5 For the hope which is laid up for you in heaven, wherof ye heard before in the word of the truth of the Gospel,

6 Which is come unto you, as it is in all the world, and bringeth forth fruit, as it doth also in

C H A P. II.

you, since that ye heard of it, and knew the grace of God in truth.

7 As ye also learned of Epaphras, our deare fellow-labourer, who is for you a faithfull minister of Christ :

8 Who also declared unto vs your love in the Spirit.

9 For this cause we also, since the day wee heard it, doe not cease to pray for you, and to desire that ye might be filled with the knowledge of his will, in all wisdom, and spiritually understanding :

10 That ye might walke worthy of the Lord, unto all pleasing, being fruitful in every good work, and increasing in the knowledge of God :

11 Strengthened with all might according to his glorious power, unto all patience and long suffering with joyfulness :

12 Giving thanks unto the Father, which hath made vs meet to be partakers of the inheritance of the Saints in light :

13 Who hath deliuered vs from the power of darkness, and hath translated vs into the kingdom of his deare Sonne,

14 In whom wee haue redemption, through his blood, even the forgiveness of sinnes :

15 Who is the image of the invisible God, the first borne of every creature.

16 For by him were all things created that are in heauen, and that are in earth, visible and invisible, whether they be thrones, or dominions, or principalities, or powers : all things were created by him, and for him.

17 * And he is before all things, and by him all things consist.

18 And he is the head of the body, the Church : who is the beginning, the first borne from the dead that is in all things the first borne in the preeminence.

19 For it pleased the Father that in him should all fulnes dwell.

20 And (having made peace through the blood of his crosse) by him to reconcile all things unto himselfe, by him, I say, whether they be things in earth, or things in heauen.

21 And you that were sometimes alienated, and enemies by wicked works, yet now haue reconciled :

22 In the body of his flesh through death, so present to you in all things, and without blame, and without reproach in his sight.

23 He continue in the flesh grounded and sealed, and we not washed away from the hope of the Gospel, which he bore in his flesh, and which was preached unto every creature which is under heauen, whereof I Paul am made a Minister.

24 Who now rejoice in my sufferings for you, and fill up that which is behind of the afflictions of Christ in my flesh, for his bodies sake, which is the Church,

25 Whereof I am made a Minister, according to the dispensation of God, which is given to me for you, that I might fulfill the word of God :

26 Even the mystery which hath bene hid from ages, and from generations, but now is made manifest to his Saints,

27 To whom God would make knowne, what is the riches of the glory of this mysterie among the Gentiles, which is Christ in you, the hope of glory :

28 Whom we preach, warning every man, and teaching every man in all wisdom, that wee may present every man perfect in Christ Jesus.

29 Whereunto I also labour, striving according to his working, which worketh in us mightily.

1 He still exhorteth them to be constant in Christ,
2 To beware of Philosophie, and vaine traditions,
3 worshipping of Angels, and legall Ceremonies, which are ended in Christ.

4 Or I would that ye knew what great I could doe for I haue for you, and for them at Laodicea, and for as many as haue not seene my face in the flesh,

5 That their hearts might be comforted, being knit together in love, and unto all riches of the full assurance of understanding, to the acknowledgement of the mysterie of God, and of the father, and of Christ,

6 In whom are hid all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge.

7 And this I say, lest any man should beguile you with enticing words.

8 For though I be absent in the flesh, yet am I with you in the spirit, loving and beholding your order, and the steadfastness of your faith in Christ.

9 As ye haue therefore receiued Christ Jesus the Lord, so walke ye in him, 10 Rooted and built vp in him, and stablished in the faith, as ye haue bene taught, abounding therein with thanksgiving.

11 Beware lest any man spoile you through Philosophy and vaine deceit, after the tradition of men, after the rudiments of the world, and not after Christ :

12 For in him dwelleth all the fulnesse of the Godhead bodily.

13 And ye are complete in him, which is the head of all principality and power.

14 In whom also ye are circumcised with the Circumcision made without hands, by putting off the body of the sinnes of the flesh, by the Circumcision of Christ :

15 Buried with him in Baptisme, wherein also you are risen with him through the fauour of the operation of God, who hath raised him from the dead.

16 And you being dead in your sinnes, and the vncircumcision of your flesh, haue been quickned together with him, having forgiven you all trespasses,

17 Blotting out the hand writing of ordinances, that was against vs, which was contrary to vs, and took it out of the way, putting it to his Crosse :

18 And having spoiled principalities and powers, he made a shew of them openly, triumphing over them in it.

19 Let no man therefore iudge you in meat or in drink, or in respect of an holy day, or of the new Moone, or of the Sabbath dayes.

20 Which are a shadow of things to come, but the body is of Christ.

21 Let no man beguile you of your reward, in a voluntary humility, and worshipping of Angels, intruding into those things which hee hath not seene, vainely puffing up by his fleshly minde :

22 And not holding the head, from which all the body by ioynts and bands hauing nourishment ministered, and knit together, increaseth with the increase of God.

23 Wherefore if ye bee dead with Christ from the rudiments of the world ; why, as though ye were alive in the world, are ye subject to ordinances ?

24 Touch not, taste not, handle not :

25 Which all are to perish with the using ; after the commandments and doctrines of men :

26 Which things haue indeed a shew of wisdom, done in will-worship, and humility, and neglecting of the body, not in any honour to the satisfying of the flesh.

C H A P. III.

1 He flourisheth where we should seeke Christ. 2 He exhorteth to mortification, 30 so put off the old man, and so put on Christ. 32 exhorting to charity, familiarity, and other generall duties.

If ye then be risen with Christ, seeke those things which are above, where Christ sitteth on the right hand of God :

1 See your affection on things above, not on things on the earth.

2 For ye are dead, and your life is hid with Christ in God.

3 When Christ, who is our life, shall appeare; then shall ye also appeare with him in glory.

4 Mortifie therefore your members which are upon the earth: fornication, uncleanness, inordinate affections, euill concupiscence, and contentious, which is idolatry :

5 For which things sake, the wrath of God cometh on the children of disobedience,

6 In the which ye also walked sometime, when ye liued in them.

7 But now you also put off all these, anger, wrath, malice, blasphemy, filthy communication out of your mouth.

8 Lie not one to another, seeing that ye haue put off the old man with his deeds :

9 And haue put on the new man, which is reuealed in knowledge, after the image of him that created him,

10 Where there is neither Greeke nor Iew, circumcision, nor uncircumcision, Barbarian, Scythian, bond nor free: but Christ is all, and in all.

11 Put on therefore (as the elect of God, holy and beloved) bowels of mercies, kinde life, humbleness of minde, meeknesse, long suffering, 12 Forbearing one another, and forgiving one another, if any man haue a quarrell against any; euen as Christ forgane you, so also doe ye.

13 And about all these things put on Charity, which is the bond of perfectiōne.

14 And let the peace of God rule in your hearts, to the which also ye are called in one body: and be ye thankfull.

15 Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom, teaching and admonishing one another, in Psalmes and Hymnes, and spirituall songs, singing with grace in your hearts to the Lord.

16 And whatsoever ye doe in word or deed, doe all in the Name of the Lord Iesus, giuing thanks to God, and the Father by him.

17 Wines submit your selves vnto your owne husbands, as it is by the Lord.

18 Husbands loue your wines, and be not bitter against them.

19 Children obey your parents in all things, for this is well pleasing vnto the Lord.

20 Fathers, provoke not your children to anger lest they be discouraged.

21 Seruaunts obey in all things your masters according to the Lord: not with eye service, as men-pleasers; but in singleness of heart, fearing God :

22 And whatsoever ye doe, doe it heartily, as to the Lord, and not vnto men :

23 Knowing, that of the Lord ye shall receiue the reward of the labourer: for ye serue the Lord Christ.

24 But he that doeth wrong, shall receive for the wrong which he hath done; and there is no respect of persons.

C H A P. IIII.

1 He exhorteth them to be seruent in prayer, 5 to walke wisely toward them that are not yet come to the true knowledge of Christ. 10 He salueth them, and wisheth them all prosperity.

Masters, give vnto your seruants that which is iust and equall, knowing that ye also haue a Master in heauen.

2 Continue in prayer, and watch in the same with thanksgiving :

3 With all praying also for vs, that God would open vnto vs a doore of vnterance, to speake the mystery of Christ, for which I am also in bonds :

4 That I may make it manifest, as I ought to speake.

5 Walke in wisdom toward them that are without, redeeming the time.

6 Let your speech be alway with grace, seasoned with salt, that you may know how ye ought to answer euery man.

7 All my three shall Tythiens declare vnto you, who is a beloved brother, and a faithfull minister, and fellow seruant in the Lord :

8 Whom I haue sent vnto you for the same purpose, that he might know your estate, and comfort your hearts.

9 With Onesimus a faithfull and beloved brother, who is one of you. They shall make knowe vnto you all things which are done here.

10 Aristarchus my fellow prisoner salueth you, and Marcus sisters souer to Barnabas, (touching whom ye receiued commandements, if he come vnto you, receiue him :) :

11 And Titus which is called iustus, who are of the circumcision. These onely are my fellow workers vnto the Kingdome of God, which haue bene a comfort vnto me.

12 Epaphras, who is one of you, a seruant of Christ, salueth you, alway labouring seruently for you in prayers, that ye may stand perfect, and compleat in all the will of God.

13 For I beare him record, that he hath a great zeale for you, and them that are in Laodicea, and them in Hierapolis.

14 Luke the beloved Physician, and Demas, greet you.

15 Salute the brethren which are in Laodicea, and Nymphas, and the Church which is in his house.

16 And when this Epistle is read amongst you, canie that it be read also in the Church of the Laodiceans: and that ye likewise reade the Epistle from Laodicea, 17 And say to Archippus, Take heed to the ministry which thou hast receiued in the Lord, that thou fulfill it.

18 The salutation by the hand of me Paul. Remember my bonds. Grace be with you. Amen.

¶ Written from Rome to the Colossians by Tythiens and Onesimus.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL
the Apostle to the Thessalonians.

C H A P. I.

The Thessalonians are given to understand, how much Paul was at all times in thanksgiving and prayer, and also how much he was persecuted of the wrath and fury of their rulers.

Recommending to you, Timothy, and Silvanus, and the Church of the Thessalonians, which is in God the Father, and in the Lord Jesus Christ: Grace be unto you and peace, from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

1 Wee give thanks to God alwayes for you all, making mention of you in our prayers,

2 Remembering without ceasing your work of faith, and labour of love, and patience of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ, in the sight of God, and our Father.

3 Knowing brethren beloved, your election of God.

4 For our Gospel came not unto you in word only: but also in power, and in the holy Ghost, and in much assurance, as ye know what manner of men we were among you for your sake.

5 And ye became followers of vs, and of the Lord, having received the word in much affliction, with joy of the holy Ghost:

6 So that ye were examples to all that beleene, in Macedonia and Achaia.

7 For from you sounded out the word of the Lord, not onely in Macedonia and Achaia, but also in every place your faith to God-ward is spread abroad, so that we need not to speake any thing:

8 For they themselves shew of vs, what manner of coming in we had unto you, and how ye turned to God from idols, to serve the living and true God.

9 And to wait for his Son from heaven, whom he raised from the dead, even Jesus, which delivered vs from the wrath to come.

C H A P. II.

In what manner the Gospel was brought and preached to the Thessalonians, and in what sort also they received it. A reason is required, both why Saint Paul was so long absent from them, and also why he was so desirous to see them.

1 For your sakes, brethren, know our entrance in unto you, that it was not in vain:

2 But even after that we had suffered before, and were shamefully increased, as ye know, at Philippi, we were bold in our God, to speake unto you the Gospel of God with much contention.

3 For our exhortation was not of deceit, nor of violence, nor in guile:

4 But as we were allowed of God to be put in trust with the Gospel, even so we speake, not as pleasing men, but God, which tryeth our hearts.

5 For neither at any time used we flattering words, as ye know, nor a cloak of covetousness, God is witness:

6 Nor of men sought we glory, neither of you, nor yet of others, when we might have become burdensome, as the Apostles of Christ:

7 But we were gentle among you, even as a nurse cherisheth her children.

8 So being affectionately desirous of you, we were willing to have imparted unto you, not the Gospel of God onely, but also our owne soules, because ye were dear unto vs.

9 For yet remember, brethren, our labour, and travail: for labouring night and day, because wee would not be chargeable unto any of you, we preached unto you the Gospel of God.

10 Ye are witnesses, and God also, how holily, and justly, and blameably, we behaved our selves among you that beleene.

11 As you know how we exhorted, and comforted, and charged every one of you, (as a Father doth his children,) 12 That ye would walke worthy of God, who hath called you unto his kingdome and glory.

13 For this cause also thanke wee God without ceasing, because when ye received the word of God, which ye heard of vs, ye received it not as the word of men, but (as it is in truth) the word of God, which effectually worketh also in you that beleene.

14 For ye, brethren, became followers of the Churches of God, which in Iudea are in Christ Jesus: for ye also have suffered like things of your owne country men, even as they have of the lowest.

15 Who both killed the Lord Jesus, and their owne Prophets, and have persecuted vs: and they please not God, and are contrary to all men:

16 Forbidding vs to speake to the Gentiles, that they might be saved, to fill up their finnes alway: for the wrath is come upon them to the uttermost.

17 But wee, brethren, being taken from you for a short time, in presence, not in heart, endeavoured the more abundantly to see your face with great desire.

18 Wherefore, wee would have come unto you, (even I Paul) once and againe: but Satan hindered vs.

19 For what is our hope, or joy, or crown of rejoicing? Are not even you in the presence of our Lord Jesus Christ at his coming?

20 For your sake we will stand by the glory and joy.

C H A P. III.

Saint Paul sheweth his great love to the Thessalonians, partly by sending Timothy unto them to strengthen and comfort them: partly by rejoicing in their well-doing: and partly by praying for them, and desiring a safe coming unto them.

Wherefore when we could no longer forbear, we thought it good to bee left at Athens alone:

2 And sent Timothy our brother and minister of God, and our fellow labourer in the Gospel of Christ, to establish you, and to comfort you concerning your faith:

3 That no man should be moved by these afflictions: for your selves know, that wee are appointed thereunto:

4 For verily when we were with you, we told you before, that we should suffer tribulation, even as it came to passe, and ye know.

5 For this cause when I could no longer forbear,

For beloved of God, your election.

For, and last but not

Soule and body bee preferred blamelesse, vnto the coming of our Lord Iesus Christ.

24 Faithfull is hee that calleth you, who also will doe it.

25 Brethren pray for vs.

26 Greet all the brethren with an holy kisse.

27 I charge you by the Lord, that this Epistle be read vnto all the holy brethren.

28 The grace of our Lord Iesus Christ be with you. Amen.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL

the Apostle to the Thessalonians.

CHAP. I.

1 Saint Paul commendeth them of the good opinion which he had of their faith, love, and patience: 11 and sheweth how they shal be rewarded for the comforting of them in persecution, whereby the chiefest is taken from the righteous iudgement of God.

BAUL, and Siluanus, and Timotheus, vnto the Church of the Thessalonians, in God our Father, and the Lord Iesus Christ:

2 Grace vnto you, and peace, from God our Father, and the Lord Iesus Christ.

3 Wee are bound to thank God alwayes for you, brethren, as it is meet, because that your faith groweth exceedingly, and the charity of euery one of you all towards each other aboundeth:

4 So that wee our selues glory in you in the Churches of God, for your patience and faith in all your persecutions and tribulations that ye endure.

5 Which is a manifest token of the righteous iudgement of God, that ye may be counted worthy of the kingdom of God, for which ye also suffer:

6 Seeing it is a righteous thing with God to recompense tribulation to them that trouble you:

7 And to you who are troubled, rest with vs, when the Lord Iesus shall be revealed from heauen, with his mighty Angels,

8 In flaming fire, taking vengeance on them that knowe not God, and that obey not the Gospell of our Lord Iesus Christ,

9 Who shall be punished with everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord, and from the glory of his power:

10 When hee shall come to be glorified in his Saints, and to be admired in all them that beleene (because our testimony among you was beleued) in that day.

11 Wherefore also wee pray alwayes for you, that our God would Ioue you worthy of this calling, and fulfill all the good pleasure of his goodnesse, and the worke of faith with power:

12 That the Name of our Lord Iesus Christ may be glorified in you, and ye in him, according to the grace of our God, and the Lord Iesus Christ.

CHAP. II.

1 Hee warneth them to continue steadfast in the truth received, 3 sheweth that there shall be a departure from the faith, 9 and a discovery of Antichrist before the day of the Lords come: 15 And sheweth how he repeateth his former exhortation, and comfort for them.

NOW we beseech you, brethren, by the coming of our Lord Iesus Christ, and by our gathering together vnto him,

2 That ye be not moued in minde, or be troubled, neither by spirit, nor by word, nor by letter, as ifren vs, as that the day of Christ is at hand.

3 Let no man deceiue you by any means: for that day shall not come, except there come a falling away first, and that man of sune bee revealed, the soune of perdition,

4 Who opposeth and exalteth himselfe aboue all that is called God, or that is worshipped: so that hee, as God, sitteth in the Temple of God, shewing himselfe that he is God.

5 Remember ye not, that when I was yet with you, I told you these things?

6 And now ye know what I withholdeth, that he might be revealed in his time.

7 For the mysterie of iniquitie doth already worke; onely he who now letteth, will let, until he be taken out of the way.

8 And then shall that wicked bee revealed, whom the Lord shall consume with the spirit of his mouth, and shall destroy with the brightness of his coming:

9 Even him whose coming is after the working of Satan, with all power and signes, and lying wonders,

10 And with all deceiuableness of vniuersities, in them that perish: because they receiued not the loue of the truth, that they might be saved.

11 And for this cause God shall send them strong delusion, that they should beleene a lie:

12 That they all might be damned who beleued not the truth, but had pleasure in vniuersities.

13 But wee are bound to giue thanks alway to God for you, brethren, beloved of the Lord: because God hath from the beginning chosen you to saluation, through sanctification of the Spirit, and beliefe of the truth, 14 Whereunto he called you by our Gospell, to the obtaining of the glory of the Lord Iesus Christ.

15 Therefore brethren, stand fast, and hold the traditions which ye haue bene taught, whether by word, or our Epistle.

16 Now our Lord Iesus Christ himselfe, and God our Father, which hath loued vs, and hath given vs euerlasting consolation, and good hope through grace, 17 Comfort your hearts, and stablish you in euery good word and worke.

CHAP. III.

He traucth how he prayes for himselfe, 3 testifieth what confidence hee hath in them, 5 maketh request to God in their behalf, 6 warneth them diuersly, especially to shew illnesse, and ill company, 16 and last of all, concludes with prayer and salutation.

Finally, brethren, pray for vs, that the word of the Lord may haue free course, and be glorified, euen as it is with you:

2 And that wee may be deliuered from vnreasonable and wicked men: for all men haue not faith.

3 But the Lord is faithful, who shall stablish you, and keepe you from euill.

you, that yet both doe, and will doe the things which we command you,

5 And the Lord direct your hearts into the love of God, and into the patient waiting for Christ.

6 Now we command you brethren in the Name of our Lord Iesus Christ, that ye withdraw your selves from every brother that walketh disorderly, & not after the tradition which he received of vs.

7 For your selves know, how ye ought to follow vs: for we behaved not our selves disorderly among you.

8 Neither did we eat any mans bread for naught: but wrought with labour and travail night and day, that we might not be chargeable to any of you.

9 Not because we have not power, but to make our selves an ensample unto you to follow vs.

10 For even when we were with you, this wee commanded you, That if any would not worke, neither should he eat.

11 For we heare that there are some which walk among you disorderly, working not at all, but are busy-bodies.

12 Now them that are such, we command and exhort by our Lord Iesus Christ, that with quietnes they worke, and eat their owne bread.

13 But ye, brethren, I doe not weary in wall doing.

14 And if any man obey not our word, by this Epistle, I note that man, and have no company with him, that he may be ashamed;

15 Yet count him not as an enemy, but admonish him as a brother.

16 Now the Lord of peace himselfe, give you peace always, by all means. The Lord bee with you all.

17 The salutation of Paul, with mine owne hand, which is the token in every Epistle: so I write.

18 The grace of our Lord Iesus Christ bee with you all. Amen.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL the Apostle to Timothy.

CHAP. I.

Timothy is put in minde of the charge which was given unto him by Paul, at his going to Macedonia. 1. Of the right use and end of the Law. 2. Of Sams Pauls calling to be an Apostle, and of Hymeneus and Alexander.

PAUL an Apostle of Iesus Christ, by the commandment of God our Saviour, and Lord Iesus Christ, which is our hope,

2 Vn to Timothy, my owne soune in the faith; Grace, mercy, and peace, from God our Father, and Iesus Christ our Lord.

3 As I brought thee to abide still at Ephesus, when I went into Macedonia; that thou mightest charge some that they teach no other doctrine.

4 Neither give heed to fables, and endless genealogies, which minister questions, rather than edifying which is in faith: so doe.

5 Now the end of the commandment is charity, out of a pure heart, and of a good conscience, and of faith contained.

6 From which some I having swarued, have turned aside vnto vaine tangling.

7 Desiring to be teachers of the Law, understanding neither what they say, nor whereof they affirm.

8 But we know that the Law is good, if a man use it lawfully.

9 Knowing this, that the Law is not made for a righteous man, but for the lawlesse and disobedient, for the vngodly, and for sinners, for vnholy, and profane, for murderers of fathers, and murderers of mochers, for man-slayers,

10 For whommers, for them that defile themselves with mankind, for man-stealers, for lyers, for perjured persons, and if there be any other thing, that is contrary to sound doctrine.

11 According to the glorious Gospel of the blessed God, which was committed to my trust.

12 And I thank Christ Iesus our Lord, who hath enabled me: for that he counted me faithful, putting me into the Ministry.

13 Who was before a blasphemer, and a persecu-ter, and inhumane. But I obtained mercy, because I did it ignorantly, in unbelief.

14 And the grace of our Lord was exceeding abundant, with faith and love, which is in Christ Iesus.

15 This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptation, That Christ Iesus came into the world to save sinners, of whom I am chiefe.

16 Howbeit for this cause I obtained mercy, that in me first, Iesus Christ might shew forth all long suffering, for a patterne to them which should hereafter believe on him to life everlasting.

17 Now vnto the King eternall, immortal, invisible, the only wise God, bee honour and glory for ever and ever. Amen.

18 This charge I commit vnto thee, sonne Timothy, according to the prophecies which went before on thee, that thou by them mightest warre a good warfare, 19 Holding faith and a good conscience, which some having put away, concerning faith have made shipwrecke.

20 Of whom is Hymeneus and Alexander, whom I have delivered vnto Satan, that they may learne not to blaspheme.

CHAP. II.

1 That it is meet to pray and give thanks for all men, and intercession why.

2 They are not permitted to teach.

3 They shall be saved notwithstanding the restlessness of Gods wrath, in child-birth, if they continue in faith.

¶ Exhort therefore, that first of all, supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks be made for all men:

2 For Kings, and for all that are in authority, that we may lead a quiet and peaceable life, in all godlinesse and honesty.

3 For this is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Saviour, 4 Who will have all men to be saved, and to come vnto the knowledge of the truth.

5 For there is one God, and one Mediator betweene God and men, the man Christ Iesus.

¶ Who

Or, desire place.

Who gain him self a reuon for all, to be testified in due time.

7 Whereunto I am ordained a Preacher, and an Apostle (I speake the cruch in Christ and lie not) a teacher of the Gentiles in faith and verity.

8 I will therefore that men pray euerywhere, lifting vp holy hands, without wrath, and doubting. In like manner also, that women adorne themselves in modest apparel, with shamefastnesse and sobriety, nor with braided haire, or gold, or pearles, or costly array.

10 But (which becomming women professing godlinesse) with good works.

11 Let the women learne in silence with all subiection.

12 But I suffer not a woman to teach, nor to usurpe authority ouer the man, but to be in silence.

13 For Adam was first formed, then Eue.

14 And Adam was not deceiued, but the woman being deceiued was in the transgression.

15 Notwithstanding she shall be saved in child-bearing, if they continue in faith and charity, and holinesse, with sobriety.

CHAP. III.

How Bishops and Deacons and their wives should be qualified, and so when and since Paul wrote to Timothy of these things. 15 Of the Church, and the blessed truth thereof taught and professed.

This is a true saying. If a man desire the office of a Bishop, he desireth a good worke.

1 A Bishop then must be blamelesse, the husband of one wife, vigilant, sober, of good behauiour, giuen to hospitality, apt to teach.

2 Not giuen to wine, no striker, nor greedy of filthy lucre, but patient, not a brawler, nor contentious.

3 One that ruleth well his owne house, hauing his children in subiection, with all gravity.

4 (For if a man know not how to rule his owne house, how shall he take care of the Church of God ?)

5 Not a noyce, least being lifted vp with pride, he fall into the condemnation of the deuill.

6 Moreover he must haue a good report of them which are without, least he fall into reproach, and the snare of the deuill.

7 Likewise must the Deacons be grave, not double tongued, nor giuen to much wine, nor greedy of filthy lucre.

8 Holding the mystery of the faith in a pure conscience.

9 And let these also first be proued, then let them vse the office of a Deacon, being found blamelesse.

10 Euen so must their wives be grave, not bawlers, sober, faithfull in all things.

11 Let the Deacons be the husbands of one wife, ruling their children, and their owne houses well.

12 For they that haue vsed the office of a Deacon well, purchase to themselves a good degree, & great boldnesse in the faith, which is in Christ Iesus.

13 These things write I vnto thee, hoping to come vnto thee shortly.

14 But if I tarry long, that thou maist know how thou oughtest to behaue thy selfe in the house of God, which is the Church of the liuing God, the pillar and ground of the truth.

15 And without controuersie, great is the mystery of godlinesse: God was manifest in the flesh, inhabited in the Spirit, scene of Angels, preached vnto the Gentiles, beleued on in the world, receiued vp into glory.

CHAP. IIII.

He forgetteth that in the latter times there shall be a departure from the faith. And so the end that Timothy might not faile in doing his duty, he first setteth him with duties preceptes belonging thereto.

Now the Spirit speaketh expressly, that in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, giuing heed to seducing spirits, and doctrines of deuals:

1 Speaking lies in hypocricie, hauing their conscience seared with an hot iron,

2 Forbidding to marry, and commanding to abstaine from meats, which God hath created to be receiued with thanksgiving of them which beleene and know the truth.

3 For euery creature of God is good, and nothing to be refused, if it be receiued with thanksgiving.

4 For it is sanctified by the word of God, and prayer.

5 If thou put the brethren in remembrance of these things, thou shalt be a good minister of Iesvs Christ, nourished vp in the words of faith, and of good doctrine, whereunto thou hast attained.

6 But refuse profane and old wives fables, and exercise thy selfe rather vnto godlinesse.

7 For bodily exercise profiteth little, but godlinesse is profitable vnto all things, hauing promise of the life that now is, & of that which is to come.

8 This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptation:

9 For therefore we both labour & suffer reproach, because we trust in the liuing God, who is the Saviour of all men, specially of those that beleene.

10 These things command and teach.

11 Let no man despise thy youth, but be thou an example of the beleeuers: in word, in conuersation, in charity, in spirit, in faith, in purity.

12 Till I come, giue attendance to reading, to exhortation, to doctrine.

13 Neglect not the gift that is in thee, which was giuen thee by prophesie, with the laying on of the hands of the Presbyters.

14 Meditate vpon these things, giue thy selfe wholly to them, that thy profiting may appeare to all.

15 Take heed vnto thy selfe, and vnto the doctrine, continue in them: for in doing this, thou shalt both saue thy selfe, and them that heare thee.

CHAP. V.

Rules to be observed in preuoyning. Of widowers, of their children, & a precept for Timotheus health. 24 Some were first got before vnto judgement, and some were doe follow after.

Rebuke not an Elder, but exhort him as a father, and the younger men as brethren:

1 The elder women as mothers, the younger as sisters, with all purity.

2 Honour widowers that are widowers indeed. 3 But if any widow haue children or nephewes, let them learne first to shew piety at home, and to requite their parents: for that is good and acceptable before God.

4 Now she that is a widow indeed, and desolate, trusteth in God, and continueth in supplications and prayers, night and day.

5 But she that liueth in pleasure, is dead while she liueth.

6 And these things giue in charge, that they may be blamelesse.

7 But if any provide not for his owne, and specially for those of his owne house, he hath denied the faith, and is worse then an infidel.

10 Well reported of for good workes, if shee have brought vp children, if shee have lodged strangers, if shee have washed the Saints feet, if shee have relieved the afflicted, if shee have diligently followed every good worke.

11 But the younger widowes refuse: for when they have begun to waive wozon against Christ, they will marry.

12 Having damnation, because they have cast off their first faith.

13 And withall they learne to be idle, wandring about from house to house, and not onely idle, but eaters also, and busie-bodies, speaking things which they ought not.

14 I will therefore that the younger women marry, beare children, guide the house, give none occasion to the adversary to speake reprochfully.

15 For some are already turned aside after Satan. 16 If any man or woman that beleuech home widowes, let them relieue them, and let not the Church be charged, that it may relieue them that are widowes indeede.

17 Let the Elders that rule well, be counted worthy of double honour, especially they who labour in the word and doctrine.

18 For the Scripture saith, * Thou shalt not amulge the one that treadeth out the corne: and * the labourer is worthy of his reward.

19 Against an Elder receive not an accusation, but before two or three witnesses.

20 Them that sin, rebuke before all, that others also may feare.

21 I charge thee before God, and the Lord Iesus Christ, and the elect Angels, that thou observe these things, without preferring one before another, doing nothing by partiality.

22 Lay hands suddenly on no man, neither be partaker of other mens sins. Keep thy selfe pure.

23 Drinke no longer water, but vse a little wine, for thy stomackes sake, and thine often infirmitie.

24 Some mens finnes are open beforehand, going before to iudgement: and some men they follow after.

25 Likewise also the good workes of some are manifest before hand, and they that are otherwise, cannot be hid.

CHAP. VJ

1 Of the duty of servants. Not to have fellowship with new fangled teachers. & Godliness is great gaine, to and love of money the root of all euill. 11 What Timothy is to doe, and what to follow. 17 and whereof to aduise him rich. 20 To keepe the parts of true doctrine, and to auoid profane ianglings.

Let as many servants as are vnder the yoke, count their owne maisters worthy of all honour, that the Name of God and his doctrine bee not bla'phemed.

2 And they that haue believing maisters, let them not despise them, because they are brethren: but rather doe them service, because they are faithful and beloved seruants of the house of Thee things teach and exhort.

3 If any man teach otherwise, and collect not wholesome words, euen the words of our Lord Iesus Christ, and to the doctrine which is according to godliuicke:

4 He is proud, knowing nothing, but dotting about questions, and strifes of words; whereof cometh enuy, strife, railings, evil surmisinges,

5 & Peruerse disputings of men of corrupt minds, and defiled of the truth, supposing that gaine is godliuicke: From such withdraw thy selfe.

6 But godlines with contentment is great gaine.

7 For we brought nothing into this world, and it is certaine, we can carry nothing out.

8 And hauing food and raiment, let vs be therewith content.

9 But they that will be rich, fall into temptation, and a snare, and into many foolish and hurtfull lustes, which drowneth men in destruction and perdition:

10 For the love of money is the root of all euill, which while some coveted after, they haue throwen from the faith, and pierced themselves thorow with many sorrowes.

11 But thou, O man of God, see these things, and follow after righteousnesse, godlinesse, faith, love, patience, meeknesse.

12 Fight the good fight of faith, lay hold on eternall life, wherunto thou art also called, and hast professed a good profession before many witnesses.

13 I giue thee charge in the sight of God, who quickeneth all things, and before Christ Iesus, who before Pontius Pilate witnessed a good confession.

14 That thou keepe this commandement without spot, vnrubnable, vntill the appearing of our Lord Iesus Christ:

15 Which in his times he shall shew, who is the blessed and onely Potentate, the King of kings, and Lord of lords:

16 Who only hath immortality dwelling in the light, which no man can approach vnto, whom no man hath seene, nor can see: to whom be honour and power everlasting. Amen.

17 Charge them that are rich in this world, that they be not high minded, nor trust in vncertaine riches, but in the liuing God, who giveth vs richly all things to enjoy.

18 That they doe good, that they be rich in good workes, ready to distribute, & willing to communicate, 19 Laying vp in store for themselves a good foundation against the time to come, that they may lay hold on eternall life.

20 O Timothy, keepe that which is committed to thy trust, auoiding profane and vaine babblings, and oppositions of science, falsely so called:

21 Which some professing, haue erred concerning the faith. Grace be with thee. Amen.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL
the Apostle to Timothee.

CHAP. I.

Pauls love to Timothee, and the washed faith which was in Timothee himselfe, his mother and grandmother. 6 He is exhorted to stir up the gifts of God which was in him. 8 To bee steadfast and patient in persecution, 12 and to persevere in the forme and civill of that doctrine which he had learned of him. 15 Phylitus and Hermogenes, and such like are noted, and Onesiphorus is highly commended.

Paul an Apostle of Iesus Christ, by the will of God, according to the promise of life, which is in Christ Iesus, 2 To Timothy my dearly beloved sonne: grace, mercy, and peace from God the Father, and Christ Iesus our Lord.

3 I thank God, whom I serve from my fathers with pure conscience, that without ceasing I have remembrance of thee in my prayers night and day,

4 Greatly desiring to see thee, being mindfull of thy teares, that I may be filled with ioy,

5 When I call to remembrance the washed faith that is in thee, which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and thy mother Eunice: and I am persuaded that in thee also,

6 Wherefore I put thee in remembrance, that thou stirre up the gift of God which is in thee, by the putting on of my hands.

7 For God hath not given vs the spirit of feare, but of power, of love, and of a sound minde.

8 Be not thou therefore ashamed of the Testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner, but be thou partaker of the afflictions of the Gospel, according to the power of God,

9 Who hath saved vs, and called vs with an holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his owne purpose and grace, which was given vs in Christ Iesus, before the world began,

10 But is now made manifest by the appearing of our Saviour Iesus Christ, who hath abolished death, and hath brought life and immortality to light, through the Gospel.

11 Whereunto I am appointed a Preacher, and an Apostle, and a teacher of the Gentiles.

12 For the which cause I also suffer these things: notwithstanding, I am not ashamed: for I know whom I have believed, and I am persuaded that hee is able to keepe that which I have committed unto him against that day.

13 Hold fast the forme of sound words which thou hast heard of me, in faith and love which is in Christ Iesus.

14 That good thing which was committed unto thee, keepe, by the holy Ghost which dwelleth in vs.

15 This thou knowest, that all they which are in Asia be turned away from me, of whom are Phylitus and Hermogenes

16 The Lord give mercy unto the house of Onesiphorus, for he oft refreshed me, and was not ashamed of my chains.

17 But when he was in Rome, he sought me out very diligently, and found me,

18 The Lord grant unto him, that he may finde mercy of the Lord in that day: and in how many things hee ministered unto me at Ephesus, thou knowest very well.

CHAP. II.

He is exhorted to come to constant, and perseverant, and to do the duty of a faithful servant of the Lord, in dividing the word aright, and staying profane and vain bablings. 20 Of Hymeneus and Philetus. 21 The foundation of the Lord is sure. 22 He is taught whereof to beware, and what to follow after, and in what sort the servants of the Lord ought to behave himselfe.

Thou therefore, my son, be strong in the grace that is in Christ Iesus.

2 And the things that thou hast heard of me among many witnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men, who shall be able to teach others also.

3 Thou therefore endure hardness, as a good soldier of Iesus Christ.

4 No man that warreth, entangleth himselfe with the affairs of this life, that he may please him who hath chosen him to be a soldier.

5 And if a man will strive for mastery, yet is he not crowned, except he strive lawfully.

6 The husbandman that laboreth, must be first partaker of the fruits.

7 Consider what I say, and the Lord give thee understanding in all things.

8 Remember that Iesus Christ, of the seed of David, was raised from the dead, according to my Gospel:

9 Wherein I suffer trouble as an evil doer, men unto bonds: but the word of God is not bound.

10 Therefore I endure all things for the reeds sake, that they may also obtaine the salvation which is in Christ Iesus, with eternal glory.

11 It is a faithful saying: for if wee be dead with him, we shall also live with him.

12 If we suffer, wee shall also reign with him, if we deny him, he also will deny vs.

13 If we believe not, yet he abideth faithful, he cannot deny himselfe.

14 Of these things put them in remembrance, charging them before the Lord, that they strive not about words to no purpose, but to the subverting of the hearers.

15 Study to show thy selfe approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth.

16 But shun profane and vain bablings, for they will increase unto more vagabondage.

17 And their word will exte as doth a figger, of whom is Hymeneus and Philetus:

18 Who concerning the true faith, have erred, saying, that the resurrection is past already, and overthrow the faith of some.

19 Nevertheless, the foundation of God standeth sure, having this seale, The Lord knoweth them that are his. And let every one that nameth the Name of Christ, depart from iniquity.

20 But in a great house, there are not only vessels of gold and of silver, but also of wood and of earth: and some to honour, and some to dishonour.

21 If a man therefore purge himselfe from these, he shall be a vessel unto honour, sanctified and meeet for the masters use, and prepared unto every good worke.

- 22 Fly also you fall lusts; but follow righteousness, faith, charity, peace with them that call on the Lord out of a pure heart.
- 23 But foolish and unlearned questions avoid, knowing that they doe gender strifes.
- 24 And the servant of the Lord must not strive; but be gentle unto all men, apt to teach, patient, in meekness instructing those that oppose themselves, if God peradventure, will give them repentance to the acknowledging of the truth.
- 25 And that they may recover themselves out of the snare of the devil, who are taken captives there, by him at his will.

CHAP. III.

1 Hee adverteth him of the times to come, & describeth the enemies of the truth, 10 prouphesies vnto him by owne example, 16 and commendeth the holy Scriptures.

This know also, that in the last daies perilous times shall come.

2 For men shall be lovers of their owne selves, contentious, boasters, proud, blasphemers, disobedient to parents, unthankfull, wholy.

3 Without naturall affection, true breakers, false a conscience, insensitie, fierce, despisers of those that are good,

4 Traitors, heady, high-minded, lovers of pleasures more then lovers of God,

5 Having a forme of goddesse, but denying the power thereof: from such came away.

6 For of this sort are they which creepe into houses, and lead captive silly women laden with sines, led away with divers lusts,

7 Ever learning, and never able to come to the knowledge of the truth.

8 Now as Iannes and Iambres withstood Moses: so doe these also resist the truth: men of corrupt minde, 9 I say, concerning the faith.

9 But they shall proceed no further: for their folly shall be manifest to all men, as was also was.

10 But Iohn hath full knowe my doctrine, number of life, purpose, faith, long-suffering, charity, patience.

11 Persecutions, afflictions, which came vnto me at Antioche in Iconium, at Lystra, what persecutions I endured: but out of them all the Lord delivered me.

12 Yea, and all that will live godly in Christ Iesus, shall suffer persecution.

13 But cull men, and seducers shall waxe worse and worse, deceiving and being deceived.

14 But continue thou in the things which thou hast learned, on which thou hast assured of, knowing of whom thou hast learned them.

15 And that from a child thou hast knowe the holy Scriptures, which are able to make thee wise vnto salvation through faith which is in Christ Iesus.

16 All Scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproofe, for correction, for instruction in righteousness, 17 That the man of God may be perfect, I thowly furnished vnto all good workes.

CHAP. IIIII.

1 Hee exhorteth him to live by duty with all care and diligence, & certifieth him of the necessity of his death, & willett him to come speedily vnto him, and to bring Martin with him: and certifieth other things which he wrote by, 24 warneth him to beware of Alexander the Smith, 26 Infirmeth him what had befallen him at his first answering, 29 and soote after hee concluded.

I Charge thee therefore before God, and the Lord Iesus Christ, who shall iudge the quick and the dead at his appearing, and his Kingdome:

2 Preach the word, be instant in season, out of season, reprove, rebuke, exhort with all long suffering and doctryne.

3 For the time will come, when they will not endure sound doctrine, but after their owne lusts shall they heape to themselves teachers, having itching eares:

4 And they shall turne away their eares from the truth, and shall be turned vnto fables.

5 But watch thou in all things, endure afflictions, doe the worke of an Evangelist, I make full proofs of thy ministry.

6 For I am now ready to be offered, and the time of my departure is at hand.

7 I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith.

8 Henceforth there is laid vp for me a crowne of righteousness, which the Lord the righteous Iudge shall give me at that day: and not to me only, but vnto them also that love his appearing.

9 Doe thy diligences come shortly vnto me:

10 For Demas hath forsaken me, having loved this present world, and is departed vnto Thessalonica: Crescens to Galatia, Titus vnto Dalmatia.

11 One'y Luke is with mee. Take Marke, and bring him with thee: for he is profitable to men for the ministry.

12 And Tychicus have I sent to Ephesus.

13 The cloake that I left at Troas with Carpus, when thou comest, bring with thee, and the bookes, but especially the parchment.

14 Alexander the coppersmith did mee much evil, the Lord reward him according to his worke.

15 Of whom be thou ware also, for he hath greatly withstood our words.

16 At my first answer no man stood with me, but all men forsooke me: I pray God that it may not be laid to their charge.

17 Nowe understanding, the Lord stood with mee, and strengthened me, that by mee the preaching might be fully knowne, and that all the Gentiles might heare: and I was delivered out of the mouth of the lion.

18 And the Lord shall deliver mee from every euill work: and will preferre mee vnto his heavenly Kingdome, to whom be glory for ever and euer. Amen.

19 Salute Prisca, and Aquila, and the household of Onesiphorus.

20 Erastus abode at Corinth: but Trophimus have I left at Miletum sicke.

21 Doe thy diligences to come before winter. Eubulus greeteth thee, and Pudens, and Claudia, and all the brethren.

22 The Lord Iesus Christ be with thy spirit. Grace be with you. Amen.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL TO TITUS.

CHAPTER I.

1 For what end Titus was left in Crete. & How they that are to be chosen Ministers ought to be qualified. 2 The mouths of evil teachers to be stopped: 3 and what manner of men they be.

1 And a servant of God, and an Apostle of Jesus Christ, according to the faith of Gods elect, and the acknowledging of the Truth, which is after Godliness,

2 In hope of eternal life, which God that cannot lie, promised before the world began:

3 But both in due times manifested his Word through preaching, which is committed unto mee according to the Commandment of God our Saviour:

4 To Titus mine own son, after the common faith, Grace, mercy, and peace from God the Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ our Saviour.

5 For this cause left I thee in Crete, that thou shouldst set in order the things that are wanting, and ordaine Elders in every city, as I had appointed thee.

6 If any be blameless, the husband of one wife, having faithful children, not accused of riot, or vnicely.

7 For a Bishop must be blameless, as the steward of God: not self-willed, nor soon angry, not given to wine, nor striker, nor given to filthy lucre,

8 But a lover of hospitality, a lover of good men, sober, just, holy, temperate,

9 Holding fast the faithful word, as he hath been taught, that he may be able by sound doctrine both to exhort, and to convince the gainsayers.

10 For there are many vnicely and vaine talkers and deceivers, specially they of the circumcision:

11 Whose mouths must be stopped, who subvert whole houses, teaching things which they ought not, for filthy lucre sake.

12 One of themselves, even a Prophet of their owne, said, The Cretians are alway liars, evil beasts, slow bellies.

13 This witness is true: wherefore rebuke them sharply, that they may be found in the faith:

14 Not giving heed to Jewish fables, and commandments of men that turne from the truth.

15 Unto the pure, all things are pure, but vnto them that are defiled and unbelieving, is nothing pure: but even their mind & conscience is defiled.

16 They professe that they know God: but in workes they deny him, being abominable, and disobedient, and vnto every good worke: reprobate.

CHAPTER II.

1 Directions given vnto Titus, both for his doctrine and life. 2 Of the duty of servants, and in general of all Christians.

But speake thou the things which become sound doctrine.

2 That the aged men be sober, grave, temperate, found in faith, in charity, in patience.

3 The good women likewise, that they be in behaviour as becometh holines, not false accusers, nor given to much wine, teachers of good things,

4 That they may teach the young women to be sober, to loue their husbands, to loue their children,

5 To be discreet, chaste, keepers at home, good, obedient to their owne husbands, that the word of God be not blasphemed.

6 Young men likewise exhort to be sober minded.

7 In all things shewing thy selfe a pattern of good workes: in doctrine shewing vnicely, in gravity, sincerity,

8 Sound speech that cannot be condemned, that he that is of the contrary part may be ashamed, having no ill thing to say of you.

9 Exhort servants to be obedient vnto their owne masters, and to please them well in all things, not answering againe:

10 Not purloining, but shewing all good fidelitie, that they may adorne the doctrine of God our Saviour in all things.

11 For the grace of God that bringeth salvation, hath appeared to all men,

12 Teaching vs, that denying vngodliness and worldly lustes, we should live soberly, righteously, and godly in this present world,

13 Looking for that blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God, and our Saviour Iesus Christ, 14 Who gaue himselfe for vs, that hee might redeme vs from all iniquity, & purifie vnto himselfe a peculiar people, zealous of good workes.

15 These things speake and exhort, and rebuke with all authority. Let no man despise thee.

CHAPTER III.

1 Titus is yet further directed by Paul, both concerning the things he should teach, and not teach.

2 Hee is willed also to reuel obstinate hereticks: 3 Which doctrine he opposeth him both in one and place, wherein hee should come vnto him, and so conclude them.

Put them in mind to bee subject to principallities and powers, to obey Magistrates, to bee ready to every good worke.

2 To speake euill of no man, to be no brawlers, but gentle, shewing all meeknesse vnto all men.

3 For we our selues also were sometimes foolish, disobedient, deceiued, ieruing diuers lustes and pleasures, hating in malice and enuy, hateful, and hating our neighbour.

4 But after that the kindeesse and loue of God our Saviour toward man appeared,

5 Not by workes of righteousness which wee haue done, but according to his mercy hee saved vs, by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the holy Ghost,

6 Which he shed on vs abundantly, through Iesus Christ our Saviour:

7 That being iustified by his grace, we should be made heires according to the hope of eternal life.

8 This is a faithful saying, and these things I will that thou asfirme constantly, that they which haue beleued in God, might be carefull to maintain good workes: these things are good and profitable vnto men.

9 But auid foolish questions, and genealogies, and contentions, and strivings about the Law; for they are vaprofitable and vaine.

10 A man that is an heretike, after the first and second admonition, reiect:

11 Knowing that hee that is such, is subuerted, and sinneth, being condemned of himselfe.

12 When

11 When I shall send Artemas unto thee, or Ty-chicus, be diligent to come unto me to Nicopolis: for I have determined there to winter.
12 Bring Zenas the Lawyer, and Apollas on their journey diligently, that nothing bee wanting unto them.
13 And let ours also learn to maintaine good works for necessary uses, if they bee not unfruitfull.

14 All that are with me salute thee. Greet them that love vs in the faith. Grace bee with you all Amen.

¶ It was written to Titus, ordained the first Bi-shop of the Church of the Cretians, from Nicopolis of Macedonia.

¶ THE EPISTLE OF PAUL TO PHILEMON.

¶ He requesteth to have of the faith and love of Philemon, whom he desireth to forgive his servant Onesimus, and lovingly to receive him againe.

PAUL, a prisoner of Iesus Christ, and Timothy our brother, unto Philemon our dearly beloved, and fellow-labourer,

2 And to our beloved Apphia, and Archippus our fellow-souldier, and to the Church in thy house.

3 Grace to you and peace, from God our Father, and the Lord Iesus Christ.

4 I thank my God, making mention of thee alwayes in my prayers.

5 Hearing of thy love and faith which thou hast toward the Lord Iesus, and towards all Saints:

6 That the communication of thy faith may become effectuall, by the acknowledging of every good thing which is in you in Christ Iesus.

7 For we have great joy and consolation in thy love, because the bowels of the Saints are refreshed by thee, brother.

8 Wherefore though I might bee much bold in Christ, to enioyne thee that which is convenient:

9 Yet for loves sake I rather beseech thee, being such a one as Paul the aged, and now also a prisoner of Iesus Christ.

10 I beseech thee for my Sonne Onesimus, whom I have begotten in my house.

11 Which in time past was to thee unprofitable: but now profitable to thee and to me:

12 Whom I have sent againe: thou therefore receive him that is mine owne bowell.

13 Whom I would have retained with me, that in thy stead he might have ministered unto me in the bonds of the Gospel.

14 But without thy mind would I doe nothing, that thy benefit should not be as it were of necessity, but willingly.

15 For perhaps he therefore departed for a season, that thou shouldst receive him for ever.

16 Not now as a servant, but above a servant, a brother beloved, specially to mee, but how much more unto thee, both in the flesh, and in the Lord?

17 If thou count me therefore a partner, receive him as my selfe.

18 If he hath wronged thee, or oweth thee ought, put that on mine account.

19 I Paul have written it with mine owne hand, I will repay it: albeit I doe not say to thee, how thou owest unto mee even thine owne selfe besides.

20 Yea, brother, let mee have joy of thee in the Lord: refresh my bowels in the Lord.

21 Having confidence in thy obedience, I wrote unto thee, knowing that thou wilt also doe more than I say.

22 But withall prepare me also a lodging: for I trust that through your prayers I shall be given unto you.

23 There salute thee Epaphras my fellow-prisoner in Christ Iesus:

24 Marcus, Aristarchus, Demas, Lucas, my fellow-labourers.

25 The grace of our Lord Iesus Christ be with your spirit. Amen.

¶ Written from Rome to Philemon, by Onesimus a servant.

¶ THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE Apostle, to the Hebrewes.

CHAP. I.

¶ Christ is the last times coming to us from the Father, & is preserved above the Angels, both in person and office.

GOD, who at sundry times, and in divers manners, spake in time past unto the Fathers by the Prophets,

2 Hath in these last dayes spoken unto us by his Sonne, whom he hath appointed heire of all things, by whom also hec made the worlds,

3 Who being the brightnesse of his glory, and the expresse image of his person, and upholding all things by the word of his power, when he had by himselfe purged our finnes, sate down on the right hand of the Maiesty on high.

4 Being made so much better than the Angels, as he hath by inheritance obtained a more excellent Name than they.

5 For unto which of the Angels said hee at any time, Thou art my Sonne, this day have I begotten thee? And againe, I will be to him a Father, and he shall be to me a Sonne.

6 And againe, when hec bringeth in the first begotten into the world, hec saith, And let all the Angels of God worship him.

7 And of the Angels he saith, Who maketh his Angels spirits, and his Ministers a flame of fire.

8 But unto the Sonne, he saith, Thy throne, O God is for ever and ever: a Scepter of righteousness is the Scepter of thy Kingdome.

9 Thou hast loved righteousness, and hated iniquity: therefore God, even thy God, hath oriented thee with the cople of gladnesse above thy fellows.

10 And thou, Lord, in the beginning hast laid the foundation of the earth: and the heavens are the workes of thine hands.

11 They shall perishe, but thou remainest: as the they all shall waxe olde as doth a garment.

12 And as a vesture shall thou fold them vp, and they shall be changed, but thou art the same, and thy yeeres shall not faile.

13 But to which of the Angels said hee at any time, Sit on my right hand, vntill I make thine enemies thy footstool?e

14 Are they not all ministering spirits, sent forth to minister for them, who shall be heires of saluation?

CHAP. II.

1 We ought to be obedient to Christ Iesus, and thus because he waschafed to take our nature upon him, 2 And was necessary.

Therefore we ought to give the more earnest heed to the things which we haue heard, lest at any time we should let them slip.

2 For if the word spoken by Angels was stedfast and everye confession and disobedience receiued a iust recompence of reward?

3 How shall we escape, if we neglect so great saluation, which at the first began to be spoken by the Lord, and was confirmed vnto vs by them that heard him.

4 God also bearing them witness, both with signes and wonders, and with diuers miracles, and gifts of the holy Ghost, according to his owne will?

5 For vnto the Angels hath he not put in subiection the world to come, whene of wnspeake.

6 But one in a certaine place testified, saying, What is man, that thou visitest him? or the sonne of man, that thou visitest him?

7 Thou madest him a little lower then the Angels, thou crownedst him with glory and honour, and didst set him ouer the workers of thy hands.

8 Thou hast put all things in subiection vnder his feet: For in that he put all in subiection vnder him, he left nothing that is not put vnder him. But now we see not yet all things put vnder him.

9 But we see Iesus, who was made a little lower then the Angels, for the suffering of death, crowned with glory and honour, that he by the grace of God should taste death for every man.

10 For it became him, for whom are all things, and by whom are all things, in bringing many soules vnto glory, to make the Captaine of their saluation perfect through sufferings.

11 For both he that sanctifieth, and they who are sanctified are all of one: for which cause he is not ashamed to call them brethren.

12 Saying, I will declare thy Name vnto thy brethren, in the midst of the Church will I sing praise vnto thee.

13 And againe, I will put my trust in him: and againe, Behold, I, and the children which God hath giuen me.

14 Forasmuch then as the children are partakers of flesh and blood, he also himselfe likewise took part of the same, that through death hee might destroy him that had the power of death, that is, the deuil:

15 And deliuer them, who through feare of death, were all their life time subiect to bondage.

16 For verily he took not on him selfe nature of Angels: but he took on him the seed of Abraham.

17 Wherefore in all things it behoued him to be made like vnto his brethren, that he might be a mercifull and faithful high Priest, in things pertaining to God, to make reconciliation for the sinnes of the people.

18 For in that he himselfe both suffered, being tempted, he is able to succour them that are tempted.

CHAP. III.

1 Christ is more worthy then Moses: 2 Therefore if we beleue not in him, we shall be more wretched punishment then had hee heard Iesus.

Wherefore holy brethren, partakers of the heavenly calling, consider the Apostle, and high Priest of our profession, Christ Iesus,

2 Who was faithful to him that appointed him, as also Moses was faithful in all his house.

3 For this man was counted worthy of more glory then Moses, in as much as hee who hath builded the house, hath more honour then the house.

4 For every house is builded by some man: but he that builde all things, is God.

5 And Moses verily was faithful in all his house as a seruant, for a testimony of those things which were to be spoken after.

6 But Christ as a Sonne, he hold his owne house, whose house are we, if we hold fast the confidence, and cherishing of the hope firme vnto the end.

7 Wherefore as the holy Ghost saith, To day if ye will heare his voyce,

8 Harden not your hearts, as in the promocation, in the day of temptation, in the wilderness:

9 When your fathers tempted mee, proued mee, and saw my works forty yeeres.

10 Wherefore I was giuen with this generation, and said, They doe alway erre in their hearts, and they haue not knowne my wayes.

11 So I sware in my wrath: They shall not enter into my rest.

12 Take heed, brethren, lest there be in any of you an euill heart of unbelief, in departing from the liuing God.

13 But exhort euery one another daily, while it is called to day, lest any of you be betrayed through the deceitfulness of sinne.

14 For we are made partakers of Christ, if we hold the beginning of our confidence stedfast vnto the end.

15 Whiles it is said, To day if ye will heare his voyce, harden not your hearts, as in the promocation.

16 For some when they had heard, did provoke him, not all that came out of Egypt by Moses.

17 But with whom was he giuen forty yeeres as it is not with them that had failed, whose carcasses fell in the wilderness?

18 And to whom sware he that they should not enter into his rest, but to them that beleueed not?

19 So wee see that they could not enter in, because of unbelief.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The rest of Christians is attained by faith. 2 The power of Gods Word, 3 It is our high Priest Iesus the Sonne of God, subiect to infirmitie, but not sinne, 4 We must not seeke boldly to the Throne of Gods seat.

Let vs therefore feare, lest a promise being left vs of entering into his rest, any of you should seeme to come short of it.

2 For vnto vs was the Gospell preached as well as vnto them: but the Word preached did not profit them, for not being mixed with faith in them that heard it.

3 For we which haue beleueed, doe enter into rest, as he said, As I haue sworn in my wrath, if they shall enter into my rest, although the workers were fulfilled from the foundation of the world.

4 For hee saith in a certaine place of the seventh day, on this wise: And God did rest the seventh day from all his workes.

5 And in this place againe: If they shall enter into my rest.

6 Seeing therefore it remaineth, that some must enter therein, and they to whom it was first preached entered not in because of unbelief:

7 Againe he limiteth a certaine day, saying in David: To day, after so long a time, as it is said, To day, if ye will heare his voyce, harden not your hearts.

8 For if I Iesus had giuen them rest, then would hee not afterward haue spoken of another day.

9 There remaineth therefore a rest to the people of God.

10 For he that is entered into his rest, he also hath ceased from his owne works, as God did from his.

11 Let vs labour therefore to enter into that rest, lest any man fall after the same example of unbeliefs, 12 For the word of God is quick and powerful, and sharper then any two edged sword, piercing euen to the diuiding asunder of soules and spirit, and of the ioynts and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart.

13 Neither is there any creature that is not manifest in his sight: but all things are naked and opened vnto the eyes of him, with whom we haue to doe.

14 Seeing then that we haue a great high Priest that is passed into the heauens, let vs haue the Sonne of God, let vs hold fast our profession.

15 For we haue not an high Priest, which cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities: but was in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sinne.

16 Let vs therefore come boldly vnto the throne of grace, that we may obtaine mercy, and finde grace to helpe in time of need.

CHAP. V.

1 The authority and honour of our Saviours Priesthood. 2 Negligent in the knowledge thereof reproured.

3 For every high Priest taken from among men, is ordained for men in things pertaining to God that hee may offer both gifts and sacrifices for sin.

4 Who can haue compassion on the ignorant and on them that are out of the way: for that he himselfe is also compassed with infirmity.

5 And by reason hereof he ought, as for the people, so also for himselfe, to offer for sinnes.

6 And no man taketh this honour vnto himselfe, hee that is called of God, as was Aaron.

7 So also Christ glorified not himselfe to bee made an high Priest: but hee that said vnto him, Thou art my Sonne, to day haue I begotten thee.

8 As he saith also in another place, Thou art a Priest for euer, after the order of Melchisedec.

9 Who in the dayes of his flesh, when hee had offered vp prayers and supplications, with strong crying and teares, vnto him that was able to saue him from death, and was heard, in that he feared.

10 Though he were a Sonne, yet learned he obedience by the things which he suffered:

11 And being made perfect, hee became the author of eternall saluation vnto all them that obey him.

12 Called of God an high Priest after the order of Melchisedec:

13 Of whom we haue many things to say, and hard to be vnderstood, seeing ye are dull of hearing.

14 For when for this time ye ought to be teachers, ye haue need that one teach you againe, which by the first principles of the Oracles of God, and are become slacke, or haue need of milke, and not of strong meate.

15 For every one that useth milke, is vnskillfull in the word of righteousness: for hee is a babe.

16 But strong meate belongeth to them that are of full age, such as those, who by reason of vices, haue their senses exercised to discerne both good and euill.

CHAP. VI.

1 Hee subuerteth not to fall Locke from the faith: 21 but to see steadfast, 22 diligence and patient, to wait vpon God, 23 because God is most sure in his promise.

Therefore leaving the principles of the doctrine of Christ, let vs goe on vnto perfection, not laying againe the foundation of repentance from dead works, and of faith towards God.

2 Of the doctrine of baptisme, and of laying on of hands, and of resurrection of the dead, and of iudgement.

3 And this will we doe, if God permit.

4 For it is impossible for those who were once enlightened, and haue tasted of the heauenly gift, and were made partakers of the holy Ghost,

5 And haue tasted the good word of God, and the powers of the world to come:

6 If they shall fall away, to renew them againe vnto repentance: seeing they crucifie to themselves the Sonne of God afresh, and put him to an open shame.

7 For the earth which drinketh in the raine that cometh oft vpon it, and bringeth forth herbs meet for them by whom it is dressed, receiueth blessing from God:

8 But that which beareth thornes and briars, is rejected, and is nigh vnto cutting, whose end is to be burned.

9 But beloved, we are persuaded better things of you, and things that accompany salvation, though we thus speake.

10 For God is not vnrighteous to forget your worke, and labour of loue, which ye haue showed toward his Name, in that ye haue ministered to the Saints, and doe minister.

11 And we desire that every one of you do shew the same diligence, to the full assurance of hope, vnto the end:

12 That ye bee not slothfull, but followers of them who through faith and patience haue obtained the promises.

13 For when God made promise to Abraham, because he could sweare by no greater, he swaue by himselfe, 14 Saying, Surely blessing, I will bleesse thee, and multiplying, I will multiply thee.

15 And so after hee had patiently endured, he obtained the promise.

16 For when verely sweare by the greater, and an oath of confirmation is to them an end of all strife.

17 Wherein God willing more abundantly to shew vnto the heires of promise, the immutability of his counsell, confirmed it by an oath:

18 That by two immutable things, in which it was impossible for God to lie, we might haue a strong consolation, who haue fled for refuge to lay hold vpon the hope set before vs.

19 Which hope we haue as an anchor of the soule both sure and steadfast, and which entereth into that within the vaille.

20 Whether the fore-runner is for vs entered for Iesus, made an high Priest for euer after the order of Melchisedec.

CHAP. VII.

1. Christ Iesus is a Priest after the order of Melchisedec: 21 And so, far more excellent then the Priests of Aarons order.

For this Melchisedec King of Salem, Priest of the most high God, who met Abraham returning from the slaughter of the Kings, and blessed him:

2 To whom also Abraham gave a tenth part of all: first being by interpretation, King of righteousness, and after that also King of Salem, which is, King of peace.

3 Without father, without mother, without descent, having neither beginning of dayes, nor end of life: but made like unto the Sonne of God, abideth a Priest continually.

4 Now consider how great this man was, unto whom even the Patriarch Abraham gave the tenth of the spoiles.

5 And verely they that are of the house of Leui, who received the office of the Priesthood, have a commandment to take tithes of the people according to the Law, that is, of their brethren, though they come out of the bowels of Abraham:

6 But hee whose I descent is not counted from them, received tithes of Abraham, and blessed him that had the promises.

7 And without all contradiction, the lesse is blessed of the better.

8 And here wee see that he, receive tithes: but there hee received them, of whom it is witnessed, that he liveth.

9 And as I may so say, Leui also who receiveth tithes, payed tithes in Abraham:

10 For hee was yet in the loynes of his father, when Melchisedec met him.

11 If therefore perfection were by the Leviticall Priesthood, (for vnder it the people received the Law) what further need was there that another Priest should rise after the order of Melchisedec, and not be called after the order of Aaron?

12 For the Priesthood being changed, there is made of necessity a change also of the Law.

13 For he of whom these things are spoken, pertaineth to another tribe, of which no man gave attendance at the Altar.

14 For it is evident that our Lord sprang out of Iuda, of which tribe Moses spake nothing concerning Priesthood.

15 And it is yet farre more evident: for that after the similitude of Melchisedec there ariseth another Priest, 16 Who is made, not after the Law of a carnall commandment, but after the power of an endless life.

17 For he testifieth: Thou art a Priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec.

18 For there is verely a dismantling of the commandment going before, for the weaknesse and vnaprofitablenesse thereof:

19 For the Law made nothing perfect, but the bringing in of a better hope did: by the which we draw nigh unto God.

20 And in as much as not without an oath hee was made Priest,

21 (For those Priests were made without an oath: but this with an oath, by him that said unto him, * The Lord swate, and will not repent, Thou art a Priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec.)

22 By so much was Iesus made a Surety of a better Testament.

22 And they truly were many Priests, because they were not suffered to continue, by reason of death.

23 But this man, because he continueth ever, hath an unchangeable Priesthood.

24 Wherefore hee is able also to save them to the uttermost, that come unto God by him, seeing hee ever liveth to make intercession for them.

25 For such an high Priest became vs, who is holy, harmlesse, undefiled, (separat from sinners, and made higher then the heavens, 27 Who needeth not daily as those high Priests, to offer up sacrifices, first for his owne sinnes, and then for the peoples: for this hee did once, when he offered up himselfe.

28 For the Law maketh men high Priests which have infirmitie, but the worship of the oath, which was sweare the Law, maketh the Son, who is consecrated for evermore.

CHAP. VIII.

1. By the eternal Priesthood of Christ, the Leviticall Priesthood of Aarons abolished. 2 And the temporal covenant with the fathers, by the eternal Covenant of the Gospel.

Now of the things which we have spoken, this is the summe: wee have such an high Priest, who is set on the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in the heavens:

2 A Minister of the Sanctuary, and of the true Tabernacle, which the Lord pitched, and not man.

3 For every high Priest is of neede, to offer gifts and sacrifices: wherefore it is of necessity, that this man have somewhat also to offer.

4 For if he were on earth, he should not be a Priest, seeing that there are Priests that offer gifts according to the Law:

5 Who serve unto the example and shadow of heavenly things, as Moyses was admonished of God, when he was about to make the Tabernacle: For see (saith he) that thou make all things according to the pattern shewed to thee in the mount.

6 But now hath hee obtained a more excellent Ministry, by how much all that is the Mediator of a better Covenant, which was established upon better promises.

7 For if that first Covenant had bene faultlesse, then should no place have bene sought for the second.

8 For an ingoing with them, he saith, Behold, the dayes come (saith the Lord) when I will make a new Covenant with the house of Iuda, and the house of Iuda.

9 Not according to the Covenant that I made with their fathers, in the day when I took them by the hand, to lead them out of the land of Egypt, because they continued not in my Covenant, and I regarded them not, (saith the Lord.)

10 For this is the Covenant that I will make with the house of Iuda: after those dayes, saith the Lord: I will put my Lawes into their minds, and write them in their hearts: and I will be to them a God, and they shall be to me a people.

11 And they shall not teach every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: For all shall know mee, from the least to the greatest.

12 For I will be mercifull to their iniquities, and their finnes and their iniquities will I remember no more.

C H A P. IX.

The description of the rites and bloody sacrifices of the Law. 11 Forre instruction to the dignity and perfection of the blood and sacrifices of Christ.

THEN verily the first Covenant had also ordinances of divine service, and a worldly Sanctuary.

1 For there was a Tabernacle made, the first wherein was the Candlestick, and the Table, and the Shewbread which is called the Sanctuary.

2 And after the second vovle, the Tabernacle which is called the holiest of all:

3 Which had the golden center, and the Arke of the Covenant overlaid round about with gold, wherein was the golden pot that had Manna, and Azarods rod that budded: and the Tables of the Covenant.

4 And over it the Cherubims of glory shadowing the Mercy-seat, of which we cannot now speake particularly.

5 Now when these things were thus ordained, the Spirits went alwaies into the first Tabernacle, accomplishing the service of God.

6 But into the second went the high Priest alone once every yeere, not without blood which he offered for himselfe, and for the errors of the people.

7 The holy Ghost thus signifying, that the way into the holiest of all was not yet made manifest, while as the first Tabernacle was yet standing:

8 Which was a figure for the time then present, in which were offered both gifts and sacrifices, that could not make him that did the service perfect, as pertaining to the conscience.

9 Which stood only in meats and drinks, and divers washings, and carnall ordinances imposed on them untill the time of reformation.

10 But Christ being come an high Priest of good things to come, by a greater and more perfect Tabernacle, not made with hands, that is to say, not of this building:

11 Neither by the blood of goats and calves: but by his owne blood hee entered in once into the Holy place, having obtained eternall redemption for us.

12 For if the blood of buls and of goats, and the ashes of an heifer sprinkling the vncleane; sanctifieth to the purifying of the flesh:

13 How much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternall Spirit, offered himselfe without spot to God, purge your conscience from dead workes to serve the living God?

14 And for this cause he is the Mediator of the new Testament, that by means of death, for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first Testament, they which are called, might receive the promise of eternall inheritance.

15 For where a Testament is, there must also of necessity be the death of the Testator.

16 For a Testament is of force after men are dead: otherwise it is of no strength at all, whilest the Testator liueth.

17 Whereupon neither the first Testament was dedicated without blood.

18 For when Moses had spoken every precept to all the people, according to the Law, he tooke the blood of calves and of goats, with water and scarlet wool, and hyssop, and sprinkled both the booke and all the people, 19 Saying, this is the blood of the Testament which God hath enjoyned vnto you.

20 Moreover, he sprinkled with blood, both the Tabernacle, and all the vessels of the ministry.

21 And almost all things are by the Law purged with blood: and without shedding of blood is no remission.

22 It was therefore necessary that the purgation of things in the heaues should be purified with these, but the heavenly things themselves, with better sacrifices than these.

23 For Christ is not entered into the Holy places made with hands, which are the figures of the true, but into heauen it selfe, now to appeare in the presence of God for vs.

24 Nor yet that he should offer himselfe often, as the high Priest entereth into the Holy place, every yeere with blood of others:

25 For then must hee often haue suffered since the foundation of the world: but now once in the end of the world hath he appeared to put away sinnes by the sacrifice of himselfe.

26 And as it is appointed vnto men once to die, but after this the iudgement:

27 So Christ was once offered to beare the sinnes of many, and vnto them that looke for him, shall he appeare the second time without sinne vnto salvation.

C H A P. X.

The weakness of the Law-sacrifices. 10 The sacrifice of Christs body once offered. 14 For ever hath taken away sin. 19 An exhortation to hold fast the faith-which patience and thanksgiving.

FOR the Law having a shadow of good things to come, and not the very image of the things, can neuer with these sacrifices which they offered yeere by yeere continually, make the conuersers thereunto perfect:

1 For then would they not haue ceased to be offered, because that the worshippers once purged should haue had no more conscience of sinnes:

2 But in those sacrifices there is a remembrance againe made of sinnes euery yeere.

3 For it is not possible that the blood of buls and of goats, should take away sinnes.

4 Wherefore when hee cometh into the world, he saith, Sacrifice and offering thou wouldst not, but a body hast thou prepared me:

5 In burnt offerings and sacrifices for sinne, thou hast had no pleasure:

6 Then said I, Lo, I come (in the volume of the booke it is written of mee) doe thy will, O God.

7 Above when he said sacrifice and offering, and burnt offerings, and offering for sin thou wouldst not, neither hast pleasure therein, which are offered by the Law:

8 Then said he, Lo, I come to doe thy will (O God:) He taketh away the first, that he may establish the second.

9 By the which will we are sanctified through the offering of the body of Iesus Christ once for all.

10 And euery Priest standeth daily ministering and offering oftentimes the same sacrifices which can neuer take away sinnes.

11 But this man after he had offered one sacrifice for sinns for ever, sat down on the right hand of God, 12 From henceforth expecting till his enemies be made his fothstool.

13 For by one offering he hath perfected for euer them that are sanctified.

14 Whereof the holy Ghost also is a witness to vs: for after that he hath said before,

15 This is the Covenant that I will make with them after those dayes, saith the Lord: I will put my Lawes in their hearts, and in their mindes will I write them:

17 And their finnes and iniquities will I remember no more.

18 Now where remission of these is, there is no more offering for finne.

19 Having therefore brethren, boldnesse to enter into the Holiest by the blood of Iesus, 20 By a new and living way which he hath consecrated for vs, through the vaine, that is to say, His flesh:

21 And being an high Priest over the house of God:

22 Let vs draw neere with a true heart in full assurance of faith, having our hearts sprinkled from an euill conscience, and our bodies washed with pure water.

23 Let vs hold fast y^e profession of our faith without wavering, (for he is saydfull that promised.)

24 And let vs consider one another, to prouoke vnto loue, and to good works:

25 Not forsaking the assembling of our selues together, as the manner of some is: but exhorting one another, and to much the more, as ye see the day approaching.

26 For if we haue wilfully after that we haue received the knowledge of the truth, times remaineth no more sacrifice for finnes, 27 But a certaine fearefull looking for of judgement, and fiery indignation, which shall deuoure the aduersaries.

28 Whether despised Moses Law, died without mercy vnder two or three witnesses.

29 Of how much more punishment, suppose ye shall he be thought worthy, who hath trodden vnder foot the Son of God, and hath counted the blood of the Couenant, wherewith he was sanctified, an vholly thing, and hath done despite vnto the Spirit of grace?

30 For we know him that hath said, Vengeance belongeth vnto mee, I will recompense, saith the Lord and againe, The Lord shall iudge his people.

31 It is a terrible thing to fall into the hands of the liuing God.

32 But call to remembrance the former dayes, in which after ye were illuminated, ye endured a great fight of afflictions:

33 Partly whilst you were made a gazing stocke, both by reproches, and afflictions, & partly whilst ye became companions of them that were so vsed.

34 For ye had compassion of mee in my bonds, and tookes joyfully the spoiling of your goods, knowing in your selues, that ye haue in iustices a better and an enduring substance.

35 Cast not away therefore your confidence, which hath great recompence of reward.

36 For ye haue need of patience, that after ye haue done the will of God, ye might receive the promise.

37 For yet a litle while, and he that shall come, will come, and will not tarry.

38 Now the iust shall liue by faith: that if any man draw backe, my soule shall haue no pleasure in him.

39 But we are not of them who draw backe vnto perdition: but of them that beleue to the saving of the soule.

CHAP. XI

1 Who has faith in. & Without faith mee cannot please God. 2 The worthy fruits sheweth in the F-actors of old time.

NOW faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen.

3 For by it the Elders obtained a good report.

3 Through faith we understand that the worlds were framed by the word of God, so that things which are seen, were not made of things which doe appeare.

4 By faith Abel offered vnto God a more excellent sacrifice then Cain, by which he obtained witness that he was righteous, God testifying of his gifts: and by it, he being dead, yet speaketh.

5 By faith Enoch was translated, that hee should not see death, and was not found, because God had translated him: For before his translation hee had this testimony, that he pleased God.

6 But without faith it is impossible to please him: for he that cometh to God, must beleue that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seeke him.

7 By faith Noah being warned of God of things not seen as yet, moued with feare, prepared an Arke to the saving of his house, by the which hee condemned the world, and became heire of the righteousness which is by faith.

8 By faith Abraham when he was called to goe out into a place which hee should after receiue for an inheritance, obeyed, and he went out not knowing whether he went.

9 By faith he sojourned in the land of promise, as in a strange country, dwelling in tabernacles with Isaac and Jacob, the heires with him of the same promise.

10 For he looked for a city which hath foundations, whose builder and maker is God.

11 Through faith also Sara her selfe receiued strength to conceive Iseak, and was deliuered of a child when shee was past age, because shee iudged him faithfull who had promised.

12 Therefore sprang there euen of one, and him as good as dead, so many as the stars of the heaue in multitude, and as the sand which is by the sea shore innumerable.

13 These all died y^e in faith, not hauing receiued the promise, but hauing seen them afair off, according to the promise, and were persuaded of them, and embraced them, and confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth.

14 For they that say such things, declare plainly that they seeke a country.

15 And truly if they had bene mindfull of that country, from whence they came out, they might haue had opportunity to haue returned:

16 But now they desire a better country, that is, an heauenly: wherefore God is not ashamed to be called their God: for he hath prepared for them a city.

17 By faith Abraham when he was tried, offered vp Isaac: and he that had receiued the promise, offered vp his only begotten Sonne.

18 Of whom it was said, that in Isaac shall thy seed be called:

19 Accounting that God was able to raise him vp, euen from the dead: in as much as hee receiued him in a figure.

20 By faith Isaac blessed Jacob and Esau, concerning things to come.

21 By faith Jacob when he was a dying, blessed both the finnes of Ioseph, and worshipped leaning vpon the top of his staffe.

22 By faith Ioseph when hee died, made mention of the departing of the children of Israel: and gave commandement concerning his bones.

23 By faith Moses when he was borne, was hid three moeths of his parents, because they saw he was a proper child, and they not afraid of the Kings commandment.

26 By faith Moyses when hee was come to yeeres refused to be called the son of Pharaons daughter,

27 Choosing rather to suffer affliction with the people of God, then to enjoy the pleasures of sinne for a season:

28 Esteeming the reproach of Christ greater riches, then the treasures in Egypt: for he had respect vnto the recompence of the reward.

29 By faith he forsokt Egypt, not fearing the wrath of the King: for he endured, as seeing him who is invisible.

30 Through faith he kept the Passouer, and the sprinkling of blood, lest he that destroyed the first-borne should touch them.

31 By faith they passed thorow the red sea, as by dry land: which the Egyptians assaying to doe, were drowned.

32 By faith the walls of Iericho fell downe, after they were compassed about seven daies.

33 By faith the harlot Rahab perished not with them: for shee believed not, when shee had received the spies with peace.

34 And what shall I more say? for the time would faile me to tell of Gideon, and of Barak, and of Sampson, and of Iephthah, of Dauid also and Samuel, and of the Prophets:

35 Who through faith subdued kingdomes, wrought righteousness, obtained promises, stopped the mouths of Lions, 36 Quenched the violence of fire, escaped the edge of the sword, out of weaknesse were made strong, waxed valiant in fight, turned to flight the armies of the aliens.

37 Women received their dead raised to life againe: and others were tortured, not accepting deliverance that they might obtaine a better resurrection.

38 And others had trial of cruell mockings and scourgings: yea moreover, of bonds and imprisonment.

39 They were stoned, they were sawen asunder, were tempted, were torne with the sword: they were tried about in sleep-skins, and goat-hair, being destitute, afflicted, tormented.

40 Of whom the world was not worthy: they wandered in deserts, and in mountaines, and in dens and caves of the earth.

41 And these all having obtained a good report, through faith, received not the promise:

42 God having provided some better thing for vs, that they without vs should not bee made perfect.

CHAP. XII

1 An exhortation to constant faith, patience, and godlinesse. 22 A commendation of the new Testament above the old.

Wherefore seeing we also are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, let vs lay aside every weight, and the sinne which doeth so easily beset vs, and let vs runne with patience the race that is set before vs.

2 Looking vnto Iesus the author and finisher of our faith, who for the joy that was set before him, endured the Crosse, despising the shame, and is set downe at the right hand of the throne of God.

3 For consideration him that endured such contradiction of sinners against himselfe, lest ye be wearied and faint in your mindes.

4 Yee haue not yet resisted vnto blood, striving against sinne.

5 And ye haue forgotten the exhortation which speaketh vnto you as vnto children, My sonnes despise not thou the chastening of the Lord, nor hate when thou art rebuked of him.

6 For whom the Lord loveth, he chasteneth, and scourgeth every sonne whom he receiveth.

7 If ye endure chastening, God dealeth with you as with sonnes: for what sonne is hee whom the father chasteneth not?

8 But if ye be without chastisement, whereof all are partakers, then are ye bastards, and not sonnes.

9 Furthermore, we haue had fathers of our flesh which corrected vs, and we gave them reverence: shall we not much rather be in subiection vnto the Father of Spirits, and live?

10 For they really for a few dayes chastened vs after their owne pleasure, but hee for our profit, that we might be partakers of his holinesse.

11 Now we endure chastening, because we are desirous to be joyous, but grieuous: nevertheless, afterward it yeeldeth the peaceable fruit of righteousness, vnto them which are exercised thereby.

12 Wherefore lift vp the hands which hang downe, and the feeble knees:

13 And make straight paths for your feet, lest that which is lame be turned out of the way: but let it rather be healed.

14 Follow peace with all men, and holinesse, without which no man shall see the Lord:

15 Looking diligently lest any man faile of the grace of God, lest any of bitternesse springing vp, trouble you, and thereby many be defiled:

16 Lest there be any fornicator, or profane person, as Esau, who for one morsell of meate sold his birthright.

17 For ye know how that afterward when hee would haue inherited the blessing, hee was refused, for he found no place of repentance, though hee sought it carefully with teares.

18 For ye are not come vnto the mount that might be touched, and that burned with fire, nor vnto blackenesse, and darkenesse, and tempest, 19 And the sound of a trumpet, and the voice of words, which voyes they that heard, increased that the word should not be spoken to them any more.

20 For they could not endure that which was commanded: And if so much as a beast touch the mountaine, it shall be stoned, or thrust thorow with a dart.

21 And so terrible was the sight, that Moyses said, I exceedingly feare and quake.

22 But ye are come vnto mount Sion, and vnto the citie of the living God, the heavenly Ierusalem, and to an innumerable company of Angels:

23 To the generall assembly, and Church of the first borne, which are written in heauen, and to God the iudge of all, and to the spirits of iust men made perfect.

24 And to Iesus the mediator of the new Testament, and to the blood of sprinkling, that speaketh better things then that of Abel.

25 See that ye refuse not him that speaketh: for if they escaped not, who refused him that spake on earth, much more shall not we escape, if we turne away from him that speaketh from heauen.

26 Whose voice they shooke the earth: but now he hath promised, saying, Yet once more I shake not the earth onely, but also heauen.

27 And this word, yet once more, signifieth the removing of those things that are shaken, as of things that are made: that those things which cannot be shaken, may remaine.

of Wherefore we receiving a kingdom, which cannot be corrupted, let vs have grace, whereby we may sturue God acceptably, with reverence and godly feare.

19 For our God is a consuming fire.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Diners admonitions, 2 to charity, 3 to honest life, 4 to auoide contentiouse, 5 to regard Gods Teachers, 6 to take heed of strange doctrines, 7 to loue Christ, 8 to giue almes, 9 to obey gouernours, 10 to pray for the Apostles, 11 The conclusiō.

Let brotherly loue continue.

1 Let vs be not forgetfull to entertaine strangers, for thereby some haue entertained Angels vniuerses.

2 Remember them that are in bonds, as bound with them, and them which suffer a death, as being your selves also in the body.

3 Marriage is honourable in all, and the bed vndefiled; but whoremongers and adulterers God will iudge.

4 Let your conuersation be without enuouousness; and be content with such things as ye haue: for hee hath said, I will neuer leaue thee, nor forsake thee.

5 So that we may boldly say, The Lord is my helper, and I will not feare what man shall doe vnto mee.

6 Remember them which I haue the rule ouer you, who haue spokē vnto you the word of God, whose faith follow, considering the end of their conuersation.

7 Iesus Christ, the same yesterday, and to day, and for euer.

8 Be not carried about with diuers and strange doctrines: for it is a good thing that the heart be established with grace, not with meates, which haue not profited them that haue becū occupied therein.

9 We haue an Altar, whereof they haue no right to eate, which serue the Tabernacle.

10 For the bodies of those beasts, whose blood is brought into the Sanctuary, by the high Priest for sinnes, are burnt without the campe.

11 Wherefore Iesus also, that he might sanctifie the people with his owne blood, suffered without the gate.

12 Let vs goe forth therefore vnto him without the campe, hearing his reproach.

13 For here haue wee no continuing city, but we seeke one to come.

14 By him therefore let vs offer the sacrifice of praise to God continually, that is, the fruit of our lips, giving thanks to his Name.

15 Let vs doe good, and to communicate, forgetting not: for with such sacrifices God is well pleased.

16 Obey them that haue the rule ouer you, and submit your selves for their watch for your soules, as they that must giue account, that they may see it with ioy, and not with griefe: for that is vnpromisable for you.

17 Pray for vs: for wee trust wee haue a good conscience in all things, willing to liue honestly.

18 But I beseech you the rather to doe this, that I may be refreshed to you the sooner.

19 Now the God of peace that brought againe from the dead our Lord Iesus, that great sheperd of the sheepe, through the blood of the euerlasting Covenant, 20 Make you perfect in every good worke, & doe his will, I beseeching in you that which is well pleasing in his sight, through Iesus Christ, in whom be glory for euer and euer. Amen.

21 And I beseech you, brethren, suffer the word of exhortation, for I haue written a letter vnto you in few words.

22 Know ye, that our brother Timothy is set at liberty, with whom if hee come shortly, I will see you.

23 Salute all them that haue the rule ouer you, and all the Saints. They of Italy salute you.

24 Grace be with you all. Amen.

Written to the Hebrewes from Italy, by Timothy.

THE GENERAL EPISTLE OF IAMES.

CHAP. I.

We are to triuie vnder the Crosse, 5 to aske patience of God, 12 and in our trials, vs to impute our weaknesse, or sinnes vnto him, 15 but rather to bearken to the Word, 16 to meditate it, and so doe thereafter, 26 Otherwise men may seeme, but neuer be truly religious.

IAMES, a seruant of God, and of the Lord Iesus Christ, to the euellue Tribes which are scattered abroad, greeting.

2 My brethren, count it all ioy when ye fall into diuers temptations.

3 Knowing this, that the trying of your faith worketh patience:

4 But let patience haue her perfect worke, that ye may be perfect and entire, wanting nothing.

5 If any of you lacke wisdom, let him aske of God, that giueth to all men liberally, and vphraideth not: and it shall be giuen him.

6 But let him aske in faith, nothing wanting, for he that wavereth, is like a waue of the Sea, driven with the wind, and tossed.

7 For let not that man thinke that hee shall receive any thing of the Lord.

8 A double minded man is vnsutable in all his wayes.

9 Let the brother of low degree reioyce in that he is exalted:

10 But the rich is that he is made low: because as the flower of the grasse he shall passe away.

11 For the Sunne is no sooner risen with a burning heat, but it withereth the grasse, and the flower thereof falleth, and the grace of the possession of it perisheth: so also shall the rich man fade away in his wayes.

12 Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when hee is tried, he shall receive the crowne of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that loue him.

13 Let no man say when hee is tempted, I am tempted of God: for God cannot be tempted with evil, neither tempteth he any man.

14 But

14 But every man is tempted, when he is drawn away of his own lust, and enticed.

15 Then when lust hath conceived, it bringeth forth sinne, and sinne when it is finished, bringeth forth death.

16 Doe not erre, my beloved brethren,

17 Every good gift, and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh downe from the Father of lights, with whom is no variablenesse, neither shadow of turning.

18 Of his owne will begate he vs, with the word of truth, that wee should be a kind of first fruits of his creatures.

19 Wherefore, my beloved brethren, let every man bee swif to heare, slow to speake, slow to wrath.

20 For the wrath of man worketh not the righteousness of God.

21 Wherefore lay apart all filthines, and superfluity of naughtinesse, and receive with meeknesse the ingrafted Word, which is able to save your soules.

22 But bee ye doers of the Word, and not hearers onely, deceiving your owne selues.

23 For if any be a hearer of the Word, and not a doer, he is like vnto a man beholding his naturall face in a glasse :

24 For he beholdeth himselfe, and goeth his way, and straightaway forgetteth what manner of man he was.

25 But who so looketh into the perfect law of liberty, and continueth therein, he being not a forgetfull hearer, but a doer of the worke, this man shall be blessed in his deed.

26 If any man among you seeme to be religious, and brideth not his tongue, but deceiveth his own heart, this mans religion is vaine.

27 Pure religion, and undefiled before God, and the Father, is this. To visit the fatherlesse, and widowes in their affliction, and to keepe himselfe vnspotted from the world.

CHAP. II.

It is more acceptable to Christian professors to regard the rich, and to despise the poore brethren : 13 For rather wee are to be loving and mercifull : 14 and not in brast of faith where no deede are, 19 which is but a dead faith, 19 the faith of devils, 21 not of Abraham, 21 and Rahab.

MY brethren, haue not the faith of our Lord Iesus Christ, the Lord of glory, with respect of persons.

2 For if there come vnto your assembly a man with a gold ring, in goodly apparell, and there come in also a poore man in vile raiment :

3 And ye haue respect to him that weareth the gay clothing, and say vnto him, Sit thou here in a good place : and say to the poore, Stand thou there, or sit here vnder my footstool :

4 Are ye not then partiall in your selues, and are become iudges of euill thoughts ?

5 Hearken my beloved brethren, Hath not God chosen the poore of this world, rich in faith, and heires of the kingdome, which he hath promised to them that loue him ?

6 But ye haue despised the poore. Doe not rich men oppresse you, and draw you before the iudgement seat ?

7 Doe not they blaspheme that worthy Name, by the which ye are called ?

8 If ye fulfill the royall Law, according to the Scripture, Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe, ye doe well.

9 But if ye haue respect to persons, ye commit sinne, and are conuincid of the Law as transgressours.

10 For whosoever shall keepe the whole Law, and yet offend in one point, he is guilty of all.

11 For he that said, Doe not commit adultery, said also, Doe not kill. Now if thou commit an adultery, yet if thou kill, thou art become a transgressour of the Law.

12 So speake ye, and so doe, as they that shall be iudged by the Law of liberty.

13 For he shall haue iudgement without mercy, that hath showed no mercy, and mercy is reioyceth against iudgement.

14 What doth it profit my brethren, though a man say he hath faith, and haue not workes ? can faith saue him ?

15 If a brother or sister bee naked, and destitute of dailie food, 16 And one of you say vnto them, Depart in peace, bee you warmed and filled : notwithstanding ye giue them not those things which are needfull to the body : what doeth it profit ?

17 Euen so faith, if it hath not workes, is dead being alone.

18 Yea, a man may say, Thou hast faith, and I haue workes : shew me thy faith without thy workes, and I will shew thee my faith by my workes.

19 Thou believest that there is one God, thou doest well : the devils also beleaue and tremble.

20 But wilt thou know, O vaine man, that faith without workes is dead ?

21 Was not Abraham our father iustified by workes, when he had offered Isaac his soune vpon the Altar ?

22 Is not the Serf thou how faith wrought with his workes, and by workes was faith made perfect ?

23 And the Scripture was fulfilled, which saith, Abraham beleueed God, and it was imputed vnto him for righteousness : and he was called, The friend of God.

24 Yee see then, how that by workes a man is iustified, and not by faith onely.

25 Likewise also, was not Rahab the harlot iustified by workes, when she had receiued the messengers, and had sent them out another way ?

26 For as the body without the spirit is dead, so faith without workes is dead also.

CHAP. III.

1 Wee are not rashly or arrogantly to reprove others, 5 but rather to bridle the tongue, a little member, but a powerfull instrument of much good, and great hurt. 13 They who be truly wise, be milde and peaceable, without enuy and strife.

MY brethren, hee not many masters, knowing that we shall receive the greater condemnation.

2 For in many things we offend all. If any man offend not in word, the same is a perfect man, and able also to bridle the whole body.

3 Behold, we put bits in the horses mouthes, that they may obey vs, and we tame about their whole body.

4 Behold also the ships, which though they be so great, and are driven of fierce winds, yet are they turned about with a very small helme, whithersoever the gouernour listeth.

5 Euen so the tongue is a little member, and boasteth great things : behold, how great a matter a little fire kindleth.

4 And the tongue is a fire, & will defile the so is the tongue amongst our members, that it defileth the whole body, and setteth on fire the course of nature, and it is set on fire of hell.

7 For every kind of beasts, and of birds, and of serpents, and things in the sea is tamed, and hath been tamed of mans hand.

8 But the tongue can no man tame, it is an unruly evil, full of deadly poison.

9 Therewith bless we God, even the father; and therewith curse we men, which are made after the similitude of God.

10 Out of the same mouth proceedeth blessing and cursing: my brethren, these things ought not so to be,

11 With a fountain send forth at the same place sweet water and bitter?

12 Can the figree, my brethren, heare Olive berries? neither a vine signed so can we fountain both yeel salt water and fresh.

13 Who is a wise man, and inclined with knowledge amongst you? let him first shew out of a good conuersation his workes with meekenesse of wil-dome.

14 But if ye haue bitter envying and strife in your hearts, glory not, and lie not against the truth.

15 This wisdom descendeth not from above, but is earthly, sensual, devilish.

16 For where envying and strife is, there is confusion and every euill worke.

17 But the wisdom that is from above, is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, and easie to be entrea-ted, full of mercy and good fruits, without partialitie, and without hypocrisy.

18 And the fruit of righteousnesse is sown in peace, of them that make peace.

CHAP. III.

1 We are to strive against covousnesse, & intemperance, & pride, & detraction and rash iudgment of others: & thus to be consistent in the good success of worldly business: but wisdomfull care of the eternall of the life, to count our selues and all our affaires to Gods providence.

2 From whence come wars, and fightings among you? come they not hence, even of your lusts, that warre in your members?

3 Ye kill, and haue not: ye kill, and desire to haue, and cannot obtaine; ye fight and warre, yet ye haue not, because ye aske not.

4 Ye aske and receiuenot, because ye aske amiss, that ye may consume it upon your lusts.

5 Ye adulterers and adulteresses, know ye not that the friendship of the world is enemie with God? whoeuer thereof will be a friend of the world is the enemy of God.

6 Doe ye thinke that the Scriptures saith in vain, The Spirit that dwelleth in vs lusteth to enemie?

7 Doe hee giueh more grace: wherefore hee saith, God resisteth the proud, but giueh grace vnto the humble.

8 Submit your selues therefore to God: resist the deuall, and he will flee from you.

9 Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you: cleanse your hands ye sinners, and purifie your hearts, ye double minded.

10 Be afflicted, and mouerne, and weep let your laughter be turned to mourning, and your joy to heavinesse.

11 Humble your selues in the sight of the Lord, and hee shall lift you vp.

12 Speake not euill one of another (brethren) he that speaketh euill of his brother, and iudgeth his brother, speaketh euill of the Law, and iudgeth the Law: but if thou iudge the Law, thou art not a doer of the Law, but a Judge.

13 There is one Lawgiver, who is able to save, and to destroy: who art thou that iudgeth another?

14 Doe to now, ye that say, To day, or to morrow we will goe into such a city, and continue there a yeere, and buy, and sell, and get gain:

15 Whereas ye know not what shall be on the morrow: for what is your life? it is such a vapour that appeareth for a litle time, and then vanisheth away.

16 For that ye ought to say, If the Lord will, we shall live, and doe this, or that.

17 Doe now ye reioyce in your boistings: all such reioycing is euill.

18 Therefore to him that knoweth to doe good, and doeth it not, to him it is sinne.

CHAP. V.

1 Wicked rich men are to feare Gods vengeance, 7 We ought to be patient in afflictions. after the example of the Prophets, and Job, 12 to sweare swearing, 15 to pray admittity, to sing in prosperity: 18 To acknowledge mutually our sinfull faults, to pray one for another, 19 and to resist a straying brother to the truth.

2 Oe to now ye rich men, weep and howle for your miseries that shall come upon you.
Your riches are corrupted, and your garments mote-eaten.

3 Your gold and silver is cankered, and the rust of them shall be a witness against you, and shall eat your flesh: as it were fire: ye haue heaped treasure together for the last dayes.

4 Behold the hire of the labourers, which haue reaped down your fields, which is of you kept backe by fraud, cryeth, and the cryes of the which haue reaped, are entered into the eares of the Lord of Sabbath.

5 Ye haue loved in pleasure on the earth, and beare wanton: ye haue nourished your hearts, as in a day of slaughter.

6 Ye haue condemned, and killed the iust, and he doth not resist you.

7 Be patient therefore brethren, vnto the coming of the Lord: behold, the husbandman waiteth for the precious fruit of the earth, and hath long patience for it, until hee receive the early and latter raine.

8 Be ye also patient: stablish your hearts: for the coming of the Lord draweth nigh.

9 Grudge not one against another brethren, lest ye bee condemned: behold, the iudge standeth before the doore.

10 Take my brethren, the Prophets, who haue spoken in the Name of the Lord, for an example of suffering affliction, and of patience.

11 Behold, we count them happy which endure.
Ye haue heard of the patience of Job, and haue seene the end of the Lord: that the Lord is very pitifull and of tender mercy.

12 But shone all things my brethren, sweare not, neither by heauens, neither by the earth, neither by any other oath: but let your yea be yea, and your nay, nay: lest ye fall into condemnation.

13 Is any among you afflicted? let him pray. Is any merry? let him sing Psalms.

14 Is any sick among you? let him call for the Elders of the Church, and let them pray over him, anoynting him with oyle, in the Name of the Lord:

15 And the prayer of faith shall save the sick, and the Lord shall raise him up, and if hee have committed finnes, they shall be forgiven him.

16 Confesse your finnes one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed: the effectuall fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much.

17 Elias was a man subject to like passions as we are, and he prayed earnestly that it might not raine 70 dayes upon the earth of three yeeres.

18 And he prayed againe, and the heavens gave raine, and the earth brought forth her fruit.

19 Brethren, if any of you doe erre from the truth, and overthrow him, 20 Let him know, that hee which converteth the sinner from the error of his way, shall save a soule from death, and shall hide a multitude of finnes.

THE FIRST EPISTLE GENERALL
of

CHAP. I.

Ye blessed God for his manifold spiritual graces: 1. Seeing that the salvation in Christ is no newes, but a thing prophesied of old: 2. and exhorteth them accordingly to a godly conversation, for as much as they are now borne anew by the word of God.

1 Peter, an Apostle of Iesus Christ, to the strangers scattered throughout Pontus, Galatia Cappadocia, Asia and Bithynia, elect according to the foreknowledge of God the Father, through sanctification of the Spirit unto obedience, and sprinkling of the blood of Iesus Christ: Grace unto you and peace be multiplied.

2 Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Iesus Christ, which according to his abundant mercy, hath begotten us againe into a lively hope, by the resurrection of Iesus Christ from the dead,

3 To an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and that faileth not away, reserved in heaven for you,

4 Who are kept by the power of God through faith unto salvation, ready to be revealed in the last time.

5 Wherein ye greatly reioyce: though now for a season, (if need be) ye are in heaviness through manifold temptations:

6 That the trial of your faith being much more precious then of gold that perisheth, though it be tried with fire, might be found unto praise, & honour, and glory, at the appearing of Iesus Christ:

7 Whom having not seene, yet love, in whom though now ye see him not, yet believing, ye reioyce with joy unspeakable and full of glory.

8 Receiving the end of your faith, even the salvation of your soules:

9 Of which salvation the Prophets have enquired, and searched diligently, who prophesied of the things that should come unto you,

10 Searching what, or what manner of time the Spirit of Christ which was in them, did signify, when it testified before hand the sufferings of Christ, and the glory that should follow.

11 Unto whom it was revealed, that not unto themselves, but unto you, they did minister the things which are now reported unto you, by them that have preached the Gospel unto you, with the holy Ghost sent downe from heaven, which things the Angels desire to looke into.

12 Wherefore gird up the loines of your minde, be sober, and hope to the end, for the grace that is to be brought unto you at the revelation of Iesus Christ:

13 As obedient children, not fashioning your selves according to the former lusts in your ignorance:

14 But as he which hath called you is holy, so be ye holy in all manner of conversation.

15 Because it is written, * Be ye holy, for I am holy.

16 And if ye call on the Father, who without respect of person judgeth according to every mans worke, passe the time of your sojourning here in feare:

17 For as much as ye know that ye were not redeemed with corruptible things, as silver or gold, from your vaine conversation received by tradition from your fathers:

18 But with the precious blood of Christ, a lambe without blemish, and without spot:

19 Who verely was fore-ordained before the foundation of the world, but was manifest in the last times for you:

20 Who by him doe believe in God, who raised him up from the dead, and gave him glory, your faith and hope might be in God.

21 Seeing you have purified your soules in obeying the truth through the Spirit, unto the love of the brethren: see that ye love another with a pure heart fervently, 22 Being borne againe not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the word of God, which liveth and abideth for ever.

23 For all flesh is as grasse, and all the glory of man as the flower of grasse: the grasse withereth, and the flower thereof falleth away.

24 But the word of the Lord endureth for ever, and this is the word which by the Gospel is preached unto you.

CHAP. II.

He debarrs them from the breach of charity: 1. showing that Christ is the foundation whereupon they are built. 2. He beseecheth them also to abstaine from fleshly lusts: 12 to be obedient to their masters: 18 and teacheth severally how to obey their masters, 20 patiently suffering for well doing, after the example of Iesus.

1 Wherefore, laying aside all malice, and all guile, and hypocrisies, and envies, and evil speakings,

2 As new borne babes desire the sincere milke of the word, that ye may grow thereby,

3 If so be ye have tasted that the Lord is gracious.

4 To whom coming: unto a living Stone, for ye ye disallowed indeed of men, but chosen of God, and precious,

5 Ye also as lively stones, are built up a spiritual house, an holy Priesthood, to offer up spirituall sacrifices, acceptable to God by Iesus Christ.

6 Wherefore it is contained in the Scripture, * Behold, I lay in Sion a chiefe corner Stone, elect, precious, they also may witness the word first wrought by the observation of the wisest

11 But ye are them which he disobedient, the same which the builders disallowed, the same is made the head of the corner,

12 And a Stone of stumbling, and a rock of offence, whoso shall stumble at the word, being disobedient, wherunto also they were appointed.

13 But ye are a chosen generation, a royal Priesthood, a holy nation, a peculiar people, that ye should shew forth the praises of him, who hath called you out of darkness into his marvellous light :

14 Which in times past were not a people, but are now the people of God : which had not obtained mercy, but now have obtained mercy.

15 Unwillingly ye are obedient, I beseech you, as strangers and pilgrims, abstaine from fleshly lusts, which warre against the soule, 16 Having your conversation honest among the Gentiles, that ye whereas they speake against you, as cuill doers, they may by your good workes which they shall behold, glorifie God in the day of visitation.

17 Submit your selves to every ordinance of the Lord, whether it be to the King, as supreme, 18 Or unto governors, as wro them that are sent by him for the punishment of cuill doers, and for the praise of them that doe well.

19 For so is the will of God, that which well doing ye may put to silence the ignorance of foolish men.

20 As free, and not using your liberty for a cloak of maliciousness, but as the servants of God.

21 Honour all men. Love the brotherhood. Feare God. Honour the King.

22 Servants, be subject to your masters with all feare, not onely to the good and gentle, but also to the froward.

23 For this is thankworthy, if a man for conscience toward God endure griefe, suffering wrongfully.

24 For what glory is it, if when ye be buffeted for your faults, ye shall take it patiently ? but if when ye doe well, and suffer for it, ye take it patiently, this is acceptable with God.

25 For even hereto were ye called : because Christ also suffered for us, leaving us an example that ye should follow his steps :

26 Who did no sinne, neither was guile found in his mouth.

27 Who when hee was reviled, reviled not againe, when hee suffered, he threatened not, but committed himselfe to him that judgeth righteously.

28 Who his owne selfe bore our finnes in his owne body upon the tree, that we being dead to sinne, should live unto righteousness, by whose stripes ye were healed.

29 For ye were as sheepe going astray, but are now returned unto the Shepherd and Bishop of your soules.

CHAPTER III

1 Her teacheth the duty of wives and husbands to each other, 2 embracing all men to unity and love, 3 and to suffer persecution. 4 He declareth also the benefits of Chr. toward the old world.

1 Whosoever ye wives bee in subjection to your husbands, as if any obey not the word,

2 While they behold your chaste conversation, as if ye were afraid of the Lord :

3 Whose adorning, let it not be that outward adorning, of plucking the haire, and of wearing of gold, or of putting on of apparell.

4 But let it be the hidden man of the heart, in that which is not corruptible, even the ornament of a meek and quiet spirit, which is in the sight of God of great price,

5 For after this manner in the old time, the holy women also who trusted in God, adorned themselves, being in subjection unto their own husbands,

6 Even as Sara obeyed Abraham, calling him Lord, whose daughters ye are, as long as ye doe well, and are not afraid with any amazement.

7 Likewise ye husbands dwell with them according to knowledge, giving honour unto the wife, as unto the weaker vessel, and as being fellow together of the grace of life, that your prayers bee not hindered.

8 Finally, as ye all of one mind, having compassion one of another, love as brethren, be pitiful, be courteous,

9 Not rendering evil for evil, or railing for railing; but contrariwise blessing, knowing that ye are thereunto called, that ye should inherit a blessing.

10 For he that will love life, and see good daies, let him refrain his tongue from evil, and his lips that they speake no guile :

11 Let him eschew evil, and doe good, let him seek peace, and ensue it.

12 For the eyes of the Lord are over the righteous, and his eares are open unto their prayers : but the face of the Lord is against them that doe evil.

13 And who is he that will harme you, if ye be followers of that which is good ?

14 But and if ye suffer for righteousness sake, happy are ye, and be not afraid of their contrary, neither be troubled :

15 But so rejoice the Lord God in your hearts, and be ready alwayes to give an answer to every man that aske you a reason of the hope that is in you, with meeknesse, and feare :

16 Having a good conscience, that whereas they speake evil of you, as of cuill doers, they may be ashamed that falsely accuse your good conversation in Christ.

17 For it is better, if the will of God be so, that ye suffer for well doing, than for evil doing.

18 For Christ also hath once suffered for us, to cleanse for the unrighteous, that hee might bring us to God, being put to death in the flesh, but quickned by the Spirit.

19 By which also he went, and preached unto the spirits in prison, 20 Which sometime were disobedient, when once the long suffering of God waited in the dayes of Noah, while the Ark was a prepering : wherein few, that is eight soules were saved by water.

21 The like figure whereunto, even Baptisme, doth also now save us, (not the putting away of the filth of the flesh, but the answer of a good conscience toward God,) by the resurrection of Iesus Christ.

22 Who is gone into heaven, and is on the right hand of God, Angels, and authorities, and powers, being made subject to him,

C. H. A. 20. 1. 1.

The evidence that witnesseth unto us by the example of Christ, and the imitations of the general and that were appointed, all and together seem against perfection.

1. Ourselves that to Christ hath suffered for us. In the flesh, as we your selves likewise with the same made: for he that hath suffered in the flesh, hath ceased from sinne.

2. That he no longer should have the will of his time in the flesh, to the lusts of men, but to the will of God.

3. For the time past of our life may suffice us to have wrought the will of the Gentiles, when we walked in lasciviousness, in lusts, excesses of wine, revellings, banquetings, and abominable idolatries.

4. Wherein they thinke it strange that you run not with them to the same excesses of riot, speaking evil of you.

5. Who shall give account to him that is ready to judge the quick and the dead.

6. For, for this cause was the Gospel preached also to them that are dead, that they might be judged according to men in the flesh, but live according to God in the Spirit.

7. But the end of all things is at hand: be ye therefore sober, and watch unto prayer.

8. And above all things have fervent charity among you selves: for charity shall cover the multitude of sinnes.

9. Use hospitality one to another without feigning.

10. As every man hath received the gift, even so minister the same one to another, as good stewards of the manifold grace of God.

11. If any man speak, let him speak as the Oracles of God: if any man minister, let him do it as of the ability which God giveth, that God in all things may be glorified through Jesus Christ, to whom be praise and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

12. Beloved, thinke it not strange concerning the dispensation, which is on us, as though some strange thing happened unto you.

13. But respect, in as much as ye are partakers of Christ's sufferings; that when his glory shall be revealed, ye may also with exceeding joy.

14. If ye be reproached for the Name of Christ, happy are ye, for the Spirit of glory, and of God resteth upon you: on their part he is evil spoken of, but on your part he is glorified.

15. But let none of you suffer as a murderer, or as a thief, or as an evil doer, or as a bawdy man in other mens matters.

16. Yet if any man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed, but let him glorify God on this behalf.

17. For the time is come, that judgement shall begin at the house of God: and if first at us, what shall come to the end of the world?

18. And if the righteous scarcely shall be saved, where shall the ungodly and the filthy appear?

19. Wherefore, let them that suffer according to the will of God, continue in the doing of their good works, as unto a faithful Creator.

CHAR.

1. Brethren be sober, watch, and constant the small adversary etc.

2. Be sober, watch, and constant the small adversary etc.

The Elders which are among you, I exhort you, who are also an Elder, and a witness of the sufferings of Christ, and also a partaker of the glory that shall be revealed.

1. For the flocke of God, which is among you, taking the oversight thereof, not by constraint, but willingly: not for filthy lucre, but of a ready mind.

2. Neither as being lords over Gods heritage, but being examples to the flocke.

3. And when the chief Shepherd shall appear, ye shall receive a crowne of glory that fadeth not away.

4. Likewise ye younger, submit your selves unto the Elder as unto the Lord, as unto Christ, who is the head of the Church, which is his body, of which he saveth the Church, which he hath purged by the word of water, with the word, that he might present unto himself a peculiar people, zealous of good works.

5. Humbly your selves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt you in due time.

6. Casting all your care upon him, for he careth for you.

7. Be sober, be vigilant: because your adversary the devill, as a roaring lion walketh about, seeking whom he may devour.

8. Whom resist steadfast in the faith, knowing that the same afflictions are accomplished in your brethren that are in the world.

9. But the God of all grace, who hath called us unto his eternal glory by Christ Jesus, after that ye have suffered a while, make you perfect, stablishing, strengthening, settling you.

10. To him be glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

11. By Symeon a faithful brother unto you, (as I suppose) I have written briefly, exhorting and certifying that this is the true grace of God, whereunto ye stand.

12. The Church that is at Babylon, elected together with you, saluteth you, and so doeth Marcus my sonne.

13. Greet ye one another with a kiss of charity: Peace be with you all that are in Christ Jesus. Amen.

THE SECOND EPISTLE GENERAL OF PETER.

C H A P. I.

1 Confirming them in hope of the increaſe of Gods mercy: 5 See how much them by faith and good works to make their calling ſure: 12 Whereof he is careful to remember ſome, knowing ſome what it is as hard: 16 and in which them to be conſtant in the faith of Chriſt who is the true Son of God, by the evi-dence of the Apoſtles, beholding his Works, and by the teſtimony of the Father, and the Prophets.

17 (I mean Peter, a ſervant, and an Apoſtle of Jeſus Chriſt, to them that have obtained like precious faith with us, through the righteousneſſe of God, and our Saviour Jeſus Chriſt.

18 Great is grace be multiplied unto you, through the knowledge of God, and of Jeſus our Lord.

19 According as his divine power hath given unto vs all things that pertaine unto life and godlineſſe, through the knowledge of him that hath called vs to glory and virtue.

20 Whereby are given unto vs exceeding great and precious promiſes, that by theſe you might be partakers of the divine nature, having eſcaped the corruption that is in the world through luſt.

21 And beſides this, giving all diligence, adde to your faith, vertue: and to vertue, knowledge;

22 And to knowledge, temperance; and to temperance, patience; and to patience, godlineſſe;

23 And to godlineſſe, brotherly kindneſſe, and to brotherly kindneſſe, charity.

24 For if theſe things be in you, and abound, they make you that yet ſhall neither be barren nor ſterile in the knowledge of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt.

25 But be that lacke; theſe things, is blinde, and cannot ſee farre off, and hath forgotten that hee was purged from his old finnes.

26 Wherefore the rather, brethren, give diligence to make your calling and election ſure: for if ye doe theſe things, ye ſhall never fall.

27 For ſo an entrance ſhall be miniſtered unto you abundantly into the everlaſting kingdome of our Lord and Saviour Jeſus Chriſt.

28 Wherefore I will not be negligent to put you always in remembrance of theſe things, though ye know them, and be eſtabliſhed in the preſent truth.

29 Yea, I thinke it meet, as long as I am in this tabernacle, to ſtirre you up, by putting you in remembrance;

30 Knowing that ſhortly I ſhall put off this my tabernacle; as our Lord Jeſus Chriſt hath ſhewed me.

31 Moreover, I will endeavour that you may be able after my deceaſe, to have theſe things; always in remembrance.

32 For we have not followed cunningly deviſed fables, when we made knowne unto you the power and coming of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, but were eye-witneſſes of his Maieſty.

33 For he received from God the Father, honour and glory, when there came ſuch a voyce to him from the heaven, ſaying, This is my beloved Sonne.

34 And theſe things ſay we unto you, as we have heard, and ſee, and have touched with our hands.

35 For we have ſeene his glorious maieſty ſhine upon us, when we were with him in the holy mount.

36 And we have ſeene ſignes and wonders wrought upon us, as we were together with him, as hee was ſpeaking unto us of theſe things, as ye ſee.

unto a light that ſhineth in a darke place, until the day dawne. In the day ſhall he aſcend in your heavens.

37 Knowing this firſt, that no prophetic of the Scripture is of any private interpretation:

38 For the prophetic came not in old time by the will of man, but holy men of God ſpoke as they were moved by the holy Ghoſt.

C H A P. II.

1 He forewarneth them of falſe teachers, ſhowing the impiety and puniſhment both of them and their followers: 7 from which the godly ſhall be delivered, as Lot was out of Sodome: 10 and more fully deſcribeth the manners of theſe preſent and blaſphemous ſeducers, whereby they may be the better knowne and avoided.

2 Ye there were falſe prophets alſo among the people, ſuch as there ſhall be falſe teachers among you, who privily ſhall bring in damnable hereties, even denying the Lord that bought them, and bring upon themſelves ſwift deſtruction.

3 And many ſhall follow their pernicious wayes, by reaſon of whom the way of truth ſhall be cull ſpoken of;

4 And through covouſneſſe ſhall they with ſoured words, make merchize of you, whoſe judgement now of a long time lingereth not, and their damnation burneth now.

5 For if God ſpared not the Angels that ſinned, but caſt them downe to hell, and delivered them into chains of darkeſſe to be referred unto judgement:

6 And ſpared not the old world, but ſaved Noah the eighth juſt ſon, a preacher of righteousneſſe, bringing in the flood upon the world of the wicked;

7 And curſing the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah into aſhes, condemned them with an overthrow, making them an example unto thoſe that after ſhould live ungodly;

8 And delivered juſt Lot, vexed with the filthy converſation of the wicked:

9 (For that righteous man dwelling among them, in ſeeing and hearing, vexed his righteous ſoule from day to day, with their unlawful deeds.)

10 The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptations, and to reſerve the unjuſt unto the day of judgement to be puniſhed:

11 But chiefly them that walke after the luſt in the luſt of uncleanneſſe, and deſpiſe government. Preſumptuous are they; ſelf-willed: they are not afraid to ſpeake evil of dignities:

12 Whereas Angels which are greater in power and might, bring not railing accuſation againſt them before the Lord.

13 But theſe as natural brute beaſts, made to be taken and deſtroyed, ſpeake evil of the things that they underſtand not, and ſhall utterly periſh in their owne corruption.

14 And ſhall receive the reward of unrighteousneſſe, as they that count it pleaſure to riot in the day time: ſpots they are and blemiſhes, ſporting themſelves with their owne doctines, while they ſeek with you:

15 Having eyes full of adultery, and that ceaſe not ceſſe from ſinne, beguiling vulnerable ſoules: un heart they have envenomed with covetous practices, curſed children;

15 Which have forsaken the right way, and are gone astray, following the way of Balaam the son of Beor, who loved the wages of vanity: and these are the wages of vanity: for he sought for his inheritance the dumb ass speaking with mans voice, forbade the madnesse of the Prophet.

17 These are wells without water, clouds that are carried with a tempest, to whom the mist of darkness is reserved for ever.

18 For when they speake great swelling words of vanity, they allure through the lusts of the flesh, through much wantonnesse, those that were pleased escape from them who live in error.

19 While they promise them liberty, they themselves are the servants of corruption: for of whom a wage is overcome, of the same is hee brought in bondage.

20 For if after they have escaped the pollutions of the world, through the knowledge of the Lord and Saviour Iesus Christ, they are againe entangled therein and overcome, the latter end is worse with them then the beginning.

21 For it had beene better for them not to have knowne the way of righteousness, then after they have knowen it, to turne from the holy commandment delivered unto them.

22 But it is happened unto them according to the true prophecy: The dog is turned to his own vomit againe, and the sow that was washed, to her wallowing in the mire.

CHAP. Iii.

Hee affirmeth them of the certainty of Christs coming to judgement, against those scorner, who despise against it: 8 warning the godly, for the long patience of God, to hasten their repentance. 10 Hee describeth also the manner how the world shall be destroyed: 11 exhorting them from the expectation thereof, to all holinesse of life: 25 and againe to thinke the patience of God to send to their salvation, as Paul wrote to them in his Epistles.

This second Epistle (belovéd) I now write unto you, in both which I stirre up your pure mindes by way of remembrance,

1 That ye may be mindfull of the words which were spoken before by the holy Prophets, and of the commandment of vs the Apostles of the Lord and Saviour:

2 Knowing this first, that there shall come in the last dayes, scoffers, walking after their owne lusts,

3 And saying, Where is the promise of his coming? For since the Fathers fell asleepe, all things continue as they were from the beginning of the creation.

4 For this they willingly are ignorant of, that by the word of God the heavens were of old, and the earth standing out of the water, and in the water

5 Whereby the world that then was, being overflowed with water, perished.

6 But the heavens and the earth which are now, by the same word are kept in store, reserved unto fire against the day of indignement, and perdition of ungodly men.

7 But (belovéd) be not ignorant of this one thing, that one day is with the Lord as a thousand yeeres, and a thousand yeeres as one day.

8 The Lord is not slack concerning his promise (as some men count him slacke) but is long suffering to vs-ward, not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance.

9 But the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night, in the which the heavens shall passe away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, the earth also, and the workes that are therein shall be burnt up.

10 Seeing then that all these things shall be dissolved, what manner of persons ought ye to be in all holy conversation and godliness,

11 Looking for, and hastning unto the coming of the day of God, wherein the heavens being on fire, shall be dissolved, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat;

12 Nevertheless, we according to his promise, look for new heavens, and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness.

13 Wherefore (belovéd) seeing that ye look for such things, be diligent that ye may be found of him in peace, without spot, and blamelesse.

14 And to occur that the long suffering of the Lord, is saluation, even as our belovéd brother Paul also, according to the wisdom given unto him, hath written unto you, 15 As also in all his Epistles, speaking in them of these things, in which are some things hard to be understood, which they that are vaines and unskilful wrest, as they do also the other Scriptures unto their owne destruction.

16 Yet therefore (belovéd), seeing ye know these things before, beware lest ye also being led away with the error of the wicked, fall from your own stedfastnesse.

17 But grow in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Iesus Christ, to him be glory both now and for ever. Amen.

THE FIRST EPISTLE GENERALL OF IOHN.

CHAP. I.

1 He describeth the person of Christ, in whom we have eternal life, by a communion with God: 5 To which we must adjoyne holinesse of life, to testify the truth of that our communion and profession is; faith, as also to assure vs of the forgiveness of our finnes by Christs atonement.

That which was from the beginning, which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes, which we have looked upon, and our hands have handled of the word of life.

2 For the life was manifested, and we have seen it, and have witnessèd, and shew unto you that ever all life which was with the Father, and was manifested unto vs,

3 That which we have seen and heard, declare we unto you, that ye also may have fellowship with vs; and truly our fellowship is with the Father, and with his Sonne Iesus Christ,

4 And these things write we unto you, that your joy may be full.

5 This then is the message which we have heard of him, and declare unto you, that God is light, and in him is no darkness at all.

6 If we say that we have fellowship with him and walke in darkness, we lie, and doe not the truth.

7 But if we walke in the light, as hee is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and

...the blood of Iesus Christ his Sonnet, cleareth vs from all finnes.

8 If we say that we have no finnes, we deceiue our selues, and the truth is not in vs.

9 If we confesse our finnes, he is faithfull and iust to forgive vs our finnes, and to cleanse vs from all vnrighteousnesse.

To If we say that we haue not finnes, we make him a liygard his word is not in vs.

CHAP. II.

1 He comforteth them against the finnes of infirmitie. 2 Rightly to know God, is to keepe his commandments. 3 To love our brethren, is and not to love the world. 4 We must beware of flatters, 20 from whose desires the godly are safe preserved to performe vs in faith, and holynesse of life.

M little children, these things write I vnto you, that ye sinne not. And if any man sinne we haue an Advocate with the Father, Iesus Christ the righteous.

2 And he is the propitiation for our finnes and not for ours onely, but also for the finnes of the whole world.

3 And hereby we doe know that we know him, if we keepe his Commandments.

4 He that saith, I know him, and keepeth not his commandments, is a liar, and the truth is not in him.

5 But who keepeth his word, in him verily is the love of God perfected: hereby know we, that we are in him.

6 He that saith, he abideth in him, ought himselfe also so to walke, as he walketh.

7 Brethren, I write no new commandment vnto you, but an old commandment which ye had from the beginning: the old commandment is the word which ye haue heard from the beginning.

8 Againe, a new commandment I write vnto you, which thing is true in him and in you: because the darkness is past, and the true light now shineth.

9 He that saith he is in the light, and hateth his brother, is in darkness, even vntill now.

10 He that loveth his brother, abideth in the light, and there is none occasion of stumbling in him.

11 But he that hateth his brother, is in darkness, and walketh in darkness, and knoweth not whither he goeth, because that darkness hath blinded his eyes.

12 I write vnto you, little children, because your finnes are forgiven you for his Names sake.

13 I write vnto you, fathers, because ye haue knowne him that is from the beginning. I write vnto you, young men, because ye haue overcome the wicked one. I write vnto you, little children, because ye haue knowne the father.

14 I haue written vnto you fathers, because ye haue knowne him that is from the beginning: that haue written vnto you, young men, because ye are strong, and the word of God abideth in you, and ye haue overcome the wicked one.

15 Love not this world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him.

16 For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world.

17 And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that doth the will of God, abideth for ever.

18 Little children, it is the last time: and as yet many deceiue, that shall come into the world, even now are there many Antichrists, whereby we know that it is the last time.

19 They went out from vs, but they were not of vs: for if they had been of vs, they would not doubt haue continued with vs, but they went out: lest they might bee made manifest, that they were not all of vs.

20 But ye haue an unction from the holy One, and ye know all things.

21 I haue not written vnto you, because ye know not the Father: but because ye know it, and that no lie is of the truth.

22 Who is a liar, but hee that denieth that Iesus is the Christ? He is Antichrist that denieth the Father and the Sonne.

23 Who denieth the Sonne, the same hath not the Father: but hee that acknowledgeth the Sonne, hath the Father also.

24 Let that therefore abide in you, which ye haue heard from the beginning, if that which ye haue heard from the beginning shall remaine in you, ye shall continue in the Sonne, and in the Father.

25 And this is the promise that he hath promised vs, euen eternall life.

26 These things haue I written vnto you, concerning them that seduce you.

27 But the anointing which ye haue receiued of him abideth in you: and ye need not that any man teach you: but as the same anointing teacheth you of all things, and is true, and is no lie, and euen as it teacheth you, ye shall abide in it.

28 And now little children, abide in him, that when he shall appeare, we may haue confidence, and not be ashamed before him at his coming.

29 If you know that he is righteous, ye know that euerie one which doth righteousnesse, is borne of him.

CHAP. III.

He declareth the singular love of God towards vs, in sending vs his Sonne, who therefore ought continually to keepe his commandments, & to walke in brotherly love one another.

Behold, what manner of love the Father hath bestowed vpon vs, that we should be called the children of God: therefore the world knoweth vs not, because it knew him not.

2 Before now we use the sonnes of God, and it doth not yet appeare wherewe shall be: but we know, that when he shall appeare, we shall be like him: for we shall see him as he is.

3 And euerie man that hath this hope in him, justifieth himselfe, as he is pure.

4 Whosoever committeth sinne, transgresseth also the law: for sin is the transgression of the law.

5 And ye know that he was manifested to take away our finnes, and in him is no sinne.

6 Whosoever abideth in him, sinneth not: whosoever sinneth, hath not seene him, neither knowne him.

7 Little children, let no man deceiue you: he that doth righteousness, is righteous, euen as he is right: one.

8 He that committeth sinne, is of the deuill, for the deuill sinneth from the beginning: for this purpose the Sonne of God was manifested, that hee might destroy the works of the deuill.

9 Whosoever is borne of God, doeth not commit sinne: for his seed remaineth in him, and hee cannot sinne: because he is borne of God.

10 In this the children of God are manifested, and the children of the deuill: whosoever doeth the righteousness, is not of God, neither he that loveth not his brother.

4 Greek. standeth.

11 For this is the love that we have heard from the beginning, that we should love one another.

12 Not as Cain, who was of that wicked one, and slew his brother: and wherefore slew he him? because his own works were evil, and his brother's righteous.

13 Marvaile not, my brethren, if the world hate you.

14 We know that we have passed from death unto life, because we love the brethren: he that loveth not his brother, abideth in death.

15 Whosoever hateth his brother, is a murderer: and ye know that no murderer hath eternal life abiding in him.

16 Hereby perceive we the love of God, because he laid down his life for vs, and we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren.

17 He who loveth his brother, and loveth his brother, hath need, & sheweth up his bowels of compassion from him: so dwelleth in the love of God in him?

18 My little children, let vs not love in word, neither in tongue, but in deed and in truth.

19 And hereby we know that we are of the truth, and shall assure our hearts before him.

20 For if our heart condemn vs, God is greater than our heart, and knoweth all things.

21 Beloved, if our heart condemn vs not, then have we confidence towards God.

22 And whatsoever we aske, we receive of him, because we keep his commandment, and doe those things that are pleasing in his sight.

23 And this is his commandment, that we should believe on the Name of his Son Iesus Christ, and love one another, as he gave us commandment.

24 And he that keepeth his Commandments, dwelleth in him, and hee is him: and hereby we know that he abideth in vs, by the Spirit which he hath given vs.

C H A P. III.

1 He was with them not to deliver all teachers, who boast of the Spirit, but to try them by the rules of the faithlike faith: 7 and by many reasons sheweth to brotherly love.

2 He is not every spirit, but try the spirits whether they are of God: because many false prophets are gone out into the world.

3 Hereby know ye the spirit of God: every spirit that confesseth that Iesus Christ is come in the flesh, is of God.

4 And every spirit that confesseth not that Iesus Christ is come in the flesh, is not of God: and this is that spirit of Antichrist, whereof you have heard, that it should come, and even now already is it in the world.

5 Ye are of God, little children, and have overcome them: because greater is he that is in you, then he that is in the world.

6 They are of the world: therefore speake they of the world, and the world heareth them.

7 We are of God, he that knoweth God, heareth vs: he that is not of God, heareth not vs, hereby know we the spirit of truth, & the spirit of error.

8 Beloved, let vs love one another: for love is of God: and every one that loveth, is borne of God, and knoweth God.

9 Hee that loveth not, knoweth not God, for God is love.

10 In this was manifested the love of God towards vs, because that God sent his onely begotten Sonne into the world, that we might live through him.

11 Herein is love, that we should love him, that he loved vs, and that his Sonne to be the propitiation for our finnes.

12 Beloved, if God so loved vs, we ought able to love one another.

13 No man hath seen God at any time. If we love one another, God dwelleth in vs, and his love is perfected in vs.

14 Hereby know we that we dwell in him, & he in vs, because he hath given vs of his Spirit.

15 And we have seen, and doe testify, that the Father sent the Sonne to be the Saviour of the world.

16 Whosoever shall confess that Iesus is the Sonne of God, God dwelleth in him, and he in God.

17 And we have knowne and beleeveth that which God hath to vs, God is love, and he that dwelleth in love, dwelleth in God, and God in him.

18 Herein is our love made perfect, that we may have boldnesse in the day of judgement, because as he is, so are we in this world.

19 There is no feare in love, but perfect love casteth out feare, because feare hath torment: he that feareth is not made perfect in love.

20 We love him: because he first loved vs.

21 If a man say, I love God, and hateth his brother, hee is a liar. For hee that loveth not his brother, whom he hath seen, how can he love God, whom he hath not seene?

22 And this commandment have we, that he who loveth God, love his brother also.

C H A P. IV.

1 He that loveth God, loveth his children, and keepeth his commandments: 2 which is the faithfull are light and not grievous. 3 Iesus is the Sonne of God able to save vs, 4 and to beare our sins, which we make for our selves, and for others.

5 Whosoever beleeve that Iesus is the Christ, is borne of God: and every one that loveth him that begat, loveth him also that is begotten of him.

6 By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God, and keep his commandments.

7 For this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments, and his commandments are not grievous.

8 For whatsoever is borne of God, overcometh the world, and this is the victorie that overcometh the world, even our faith.

9 Who is hee that overcometh the world, but he that beleeueth that Iesus is the Sonne of God?

10 This is he that came by water and blood, Iesus Christ, not by water onely, but by water and blood: and it is the Spirit that beareth witness, because the Spirit is truth.

11 For there are three that beare record in heaven, the Father, the Word, and the holy Ghost, and these three are one.

12 And there are three that beare witness in earth, the Spirit, and the Water, and the blood, and these three agree in one.

13 If we receive the witness of men, the witness of God is greater: for this is the witness of God which he hath testified of his Sonne.

14 He that beleeueth on the Sonne of God, becometh a witness in himselfe: that beleeueth not God, hath made him a liar, because he beleeueth not that record that God gave of his Sonne.

15 And this is the record, that God hath given us, eternal life, and this life is in his Sonne.

THE GENERALL EPISTLE OF IVDE.

He exhorteth them to be constant in the profession of the faith. 14 False teachers are crept in to seduce them: for whose damnable doctrine and manners, horrible punishment is prepared: so whereas the godly by the assistance of the holy Spirit, and prayers to God, may persevere and grow in grace, and keep themselves, and recover others out of the snares of these deceivers.

I VDE the servant of Iesus Christ, and brother of James, to them that are justified by God the Father, and preferred in Iesus Christ, and called: Mercy unto you, and peace, and love be multiplied.

1 Remembred, when I gave all diligence to write unto you of the common salvation, it was needfull for me to write unto you, and exhort you, that yee should earnestly contend for the Faith which was once delivered unto the Saints.

2 For there are certaine men crept in unawares, who were before of old ordained to this condemnation, vngodly men, turning the grace of our God into lasciuiousnesse, and denying the onely Lord God, and our Lord Iesus Christ.

3 I will therefore put you in remembrance, though yee once knew this, how that the Lord hath punished the people out of the land of Egypt, afterward destroyed them that believed not.

4 And the Angels which kept not their first estate, but left their owne habitation, hee hath reserved in enchaining chains, vnder darkness, vnto the iudgement of the great day.

5 Euen as Sodom, and Gomorrah, and the cities about them, in like manner giving themselves over to fornication, and going after strange bells, are set forth for an example, suffering the vengeance of eternall fire.

6 Likewise these filthy dreamers defile the flesh, despite dominion, speaking evil of dignities.

7 Yee Michael the Archangel, when commanding with the devil, hee disputed about the body of Moyses, durst not bring against him a railing accusation, but said, The Lord rebuke thee.

8 But these speake words of those things which they know not: but what they know naturally, as brute beasts, in those things they corrupt themselves.

9 Woe unto them, for they have gone in the way of Cain, and ran greedily after the error of Balaam for reward, and perished in the gainesaying of Cora.

12 These are spots in your feasts of charity, when they feast with you, feeding themselves without feare: clouds they are without water, carried about of winds: trees whose fruit withereth, without fruit, twice dead, plucked vp by the roots.

13 Raging waves of the Sea, blowing out their owne shame, waunding Starrs, to whom is referred the blacknesse of darkness for ever.

14 And Enoch also the seventh from Adam, prophesied of these, saying, Behold, the Lord cometh, with ten thousands of his Saints;

15 To execute iudgement vpon all, and to convince all that are vngodly among them, of all their vngodly deeds, which they haue vngodly committed, and of all their hard speeches, which vngodly sinners haue spoken against him.

16 These are murmurers, complainers, walking after their owne lusts, and their mouth speaketh great swelling words, hauing many persons in admiration because of advantage.

17 But beloved, remember ye the words which were spoken, before of the Apostles of our Lord Iesus Christ:

18 How that they told you there should be mockers in the last time, who should walke after their owne vngodly lusts.

19 These be they who separate themselves, sensual, hauing not the Spirit.

20 But yee beloved, building vp your selues on your most holy faith, praying in the holy Ghost, 21 Keepe your selues in the love of God, looking for the mercie of our Lord Iesus Christ vnto eternall life.

22 And of some haue compassion, making a difference:

23 And others save with feare, pulling them out of the fire: hating euen the garment spotted by the flesh.

24 Now vnto him that is able to keepe you from falling, and to present you faultlesse before the presence of his glory with exceeding ioy,

25 To the onely wise God our Saviour, be glorie and honour, dominion and power, now and ever. Amen.

THE REVELATION OF S. IOHN THE DIVINE.

CHAP. I.

4 John writeth his Revelation to the seven Churches of Asia, signified by the seven golden Candlesticks. 7 The coming of Christ. 14 His glorious vnto and earthly.

I VDE the Revelation of Iesus Christ, which God gave vnto him, to shew vnto his seruants things which shall shortly come to passe: and hee sent and signified it by his Angel, vnto his servant Iohn,

2 Who hath record of the word of Gods and of the testimony of Iesus Christ, and of all things that he saw.

3 Blessed is he that readeth, and they that hear the words of this prophetic, & keepe those things which are written therein: for the time is at hand.

4 Iohn to the seven Churches in Asia: Grace be vnto you, and peace from him which is, and which was, and which is to come, and from the seven Spirits which are before his Throne:

5 And from Iesus Christ, who is the faithfull and true Prince of the Kings of the earth: vnto him that

* Exod. 3:14
* 1. Cor. 5:21
* 1. Cor. 1:14
* 1. Cor. 1:14

1. Behold, I have washed you from your sinners in his own blood,

2. And hath made us Kings and Priests unto God and his Father: to him be glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

3. Behold, he cometh with clouds, and every eye shall see him, and they also which pierced him: and all kindreds of the earth shall wail because of him: even so. Amen.

4. I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending, saith the Lord, which is, and which was, and which is to come, the Almighty.

5. I John, who also am your brother, and companion in tribulation, and in the kingdom and patience of Jesus Christ, was in the Isle that is called Patmos, for the Word of God, and for the Testimony of Jesus Christ.

6. I was in the Spirit on the Lords day, and heard behind me a great voyce as of a Trumpet,

7. Saying, I am Alpha and Omega, the first and the last, and what thou seest, write in a Booke, and send it unto the seven Churches which are in Asia, unto Ephesus, and unto Smyrna, and unto Pergamos, and unto Thyatira, and unto Sardis, and Philadelphia, and unto Laodicea.

8. And I turned to see the voyce that spake with me. And being turned, I saw seven golden Candlestickes,

9. And in the midst of the seven Candlestickes, one like unto the Sonne of man clothed with a garment down to the foot, and girt about the paps with a golden girdle.

10. His head and his haire were white like wool, as white as snow, and his eyes were as a flame of fire.

11. And his feet like unto fine brasse, as if they burned in a furnace, and his voyce as the sound of many waters.

12. And he had in his right hand seven Starres: and out of his mouth went a sharpe two edged sword, and his countenance was as the Sun shinning in his strength.

13. And when I saw him, I fell as his feet as dead: and he laid his right hand vpon me, saying, vnto me, Feare not, I am the first and the last,

14. I am he that liueth, and was dead, and behold I am aline for evermore, Amen. And haue the keys, of hell and of death.

15. Write the things which thou hast seene, and the things which are, and the things which shall be hereafter,

16. The mystery of the seven Starres which thou sawest in my right hand, and the seven golden Candlestickes: The seven Starres are the Angels of the seven Churches, and the seven Candlestickes which thou sawest are the seven Churches.

CHAP. II.

What is commanded to be written to the Angels, that is, the Ministers of the Churches of 1. Ephesus, 2. Smyrna, 3. Pergamos, 4. Thyatira, and what is commanded or so, and wanting in them.

Vnto the Angel of the Church of Ephesus, write. These things saith he that holdeth the seven Starres in his right hand, who walketh in the midst of the seven golden Candlestickes:

1. I know thy workes, and thy labour, and thy patience, and how thou canst not beare them which are euill, and thou hast cried them, which say they are Apostles, and are not, and hast found them liars:

2. And hast borne, and hast patience, and for my Names sake hast laboured, and hast not fainte,

3. Neuertheless, I have somewhat against thee, because thou hast left thy first loue.

4. Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and doe the first works, or else I will come vnto thee quickly, and will remove thy Candlestick out of his place, except thou repent.

5. But this thou hast, that thou haste the deeds of the Nicolaitanes, which I also hate,

6. He that hath an eare, let him heare what the Spirit saith vnto the Churches: To him that overcometh, will I giue to eate of the tree of life, which is in the midst of the Paradise of God.

7. And vnto the Angel of the Church in Smyrna, write, These things saith the first and the last, which was dead and is aline,

8. I know thy workes, and tribulation, and poverty, but thou art rich, and I know the blasphemy of them which say they are Iewes, and are not, but are the Synagogue of Satan.

9. Feare none of those things which thou shalt suffer: behold, the deuil shall cast some of you into prison, that ye may be tried, and yet shall hee not tribulation ten dayes: but thou shalt faithfull vnto death, and I will giue thee a crowne of life.

10. He that hath an eare, let him heare what the Spirit saith vnto the Churches: He that overcometh, shall not be hurt of the second death.

11. And to the Angel of the Church in Pergamos write, These things saith he, which hath the sharpe sword with two edges:

12. I know thy workes, and where thou dwellest, euen where Satans seat is, and thou holdst fast my Name, and hast not denied my faith, euen in those daies wherein Antipas was my faithful martyrt, who was slaine among you where Satan dwelleth.

13. But I haue a few things against thee, because thou hast them that hold the doctrine of Balaam, who taught Balaam to cast a stumbling blocke before the children of Israel, to eat things sacrificed vnto Idoles, and to commit fornication.

14. So hast thou also them that hold the doctrine of the Nicolaitanes, which thing I hate.

15. Repent, or else I will come vnto thee quickly, and will fight against thee with the sword of my mouth.

16. He that hath an eare, let him heare what the Spirit saith vnto the Churches: to him that overcometh, will I giue to eate of the hidden Manna, and will giue him a white stone, and in the stone a new name written, which no man knoweth, sauing he that receiveth it.

17. And vnto the Angel of the Church in Thyatira, write, These things saith the Sonne of God, who hath his eyes like vnto a flame of fire, and his feet as like fine brasse.

18. I know thy workes, and charitie, and service, and faith, and thy patience, and thy workes, and the last to be more then the first.

19. Notwithstanding, I haue a few things against thee, because thou sufferest that woman Jezabel, which calleth her selfe a Prophetesse, to teach, and to seduce my seruants to commit fornication, and to eat things sacrificed vnto Idoles.

20. And I giue her space to repent of her fornication, and she repented not.

21. Behold, I will cast her into a bed, and them that commit adultery with her, into great tribulation, except they repent of their deeds.

22. And I will kill her children with death, and all the Churches shall know, that I am he which searcheth the reins and hearts: and I will giue vnto every one of you according to your workes.

24 But unto you, I say, and unto the rest in Thy-sira, as many as have not this doctrine, and which have not knowne the depths of Sazra, as they speake, I will put vpon you some other burden:

25 But that which ye have already, hold fast till
I come.

26 And hee that ouercometh, and keepeth my words vnto the end, to him will I giue power ouer
the nations:

27 And he shall rule them with a rod of iron:
as the vessels of a potters shall they be broken to shivers: euen as I will eate of my father.

28 And I will giue him the morning starre.

29 He that hath an eare, let him heare what the Spirit saith vnto the Churches.

CHAP. III.

1 The Angel of the Church of Sardis is reproved,
2 exhorted to repent, and threatened if he do not repent. 3 The Angel of the Church of Philadelphia is approved for his diligence and patience. The Angel of Laodicea rebuked for being neither hot nor cold, 19 and admonished to be more zealous.
20 Christ standeth at the doore and knocketh.

And vnto the Angel of the Church in Sardis,
I write, These things saith he that hath the seven Spirits of God, and the seven starres, I know thy workes, tharison hath a name that thou liest and art dead.

1 Be watchfull, and strengthen the things which remaine, that are ready to die: for I haue not found thy workes perfect before God.

2 Remember therefore how thou hast receiued and heard, and hold fast, and repent. * If therefore thou shalt not watch, I will come on thee as a thiefe, and thou shalt not know what houre I will come vpon thee.

3 Thou hast a few names euen in Sardis, which haue not defiled their garments, and they shall walk with me in white: for they are worthy.

4 He that ouercometh, and I will not blot out his name out of the * booke of life, nor will I confesse his name before my Father, and before his Angels.

5 He that hath an eare, let him heare what the Spirit saith vnto the Churches.

6 And to the Angel of the Church in Philadelphia, write, These things saith he that is holy, hee that is true, he that hath the key of David, he that openeth, and no man shutteth; and shutteth, and no man openeth:

7 I know thy workes, behold, I haue set before thee an open doore, and no man can shut it: for thou hast a little strength, and hast kept my word, and hast not denyed my Name.

8 Behold, I will make them of the Synagogue of Sazra, which say they are Iewes, and are not, but doe lie: behold, I will make them to come and worship before thy feet, and to know that I haue loved thee.

9 Because thou hast kept the word of my paci-ence, I also will keep thee from the houre of temptation, which shall come vpon all the world, to try them that dwell vpon the earth.

10 Behold, I come quickly, hold that fast which thou hast, that no man take thy crowne.

11 Him that ouercometh, will I make a pillar in the Temple of my God, and he shall go no more out: and I will write vpon him the Name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, which is new Ierusalem, which cometh downe out of heauen from my God: and I will write vpon him my Name.

12 He that hath an eare, let him heare what the Spirit saith vnto the Churches.

13 And vnto the Angel of the Church of the Laodiceans, write, These things saith the Amen, the faithfull and true Witness, the beginning of the creation of God:

14 I know thy workes, that thou art neither cold nor hot: I would thou wert cold or hot.

15 So then because thou art like warme, and neither cold nor hot, I will spue thee out of my mouth:

16 Because thou sayest, I am rich, and increased with goods, and haue need of nothing: and knowest not that thou art wretched, and miserable, and poore, and blinde, and naked:

17 I counsell thee to buy of me gold, cryed in the fire, that thou mayest be rich, and when thou shalt buy, thou shalt not be clothed, and that the blame of thy nakedness doe not appeare, and another thing say, with eye I see, that thou mayest see.

18 As many as I loue, I rebuke and chasten; be zealous therefore and repent.

19 Behold, I stand at the doore and knocke: if any man heare my voyce, & open the doore, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me.

20 To him that ouercometh, will I grant to sit with me in my Throne, euen as I also ouercame, and am set downe with my Father in his Throne.

21 He that hath an eare, let him heare what the Spirit saith vnto the Churches.

CHAP. IIII.

1 John seeth the throne of God in heauen, 4
The foure and twenty Elders. 6 The foure beasts full of eyes before and behinde. 10 The Elders lay downe their crownes, and worship him that sitteth on the Throne.

After this I looked, and beheld a doore was opened in heauen: and the first voyce which I heard, was as it were of a trumpet, talking with me, which said, Come vp hither, and I will shewe thee things which must be hereafter.

2 And immediately I was in the Spirit, and behold, a Throne was set in heauen, and one sate
on the Throne.

3 And he that sate was to looke vpon like a Ias-per, and a Sardine stone: and there was a rainbow round about the Throne, as sight like vnto an Emeralld.

4 And round about the Throne were foure and twenty seats, and vpon the seats I saw foure and twenty Elders sitting, clothed in white raiment, and they had on their heads crownes of gold.

5 And out of the Throne proceeded lightnings, and thunders, and voyces: and there were seven lamps of fire burning before the Throne, which are the seven Spirits of God.

6 And before the Throne there was a Sea of glasse like vnto Cryball: and in the middle of the Throne, and round about the Throne, were foure beasts, full of eyes, before and behinde.

7 And the first beast was like a lyon, and the second beast like a calie, and the third beast had a face as a man, and the fourth beast was like a flying Eagle.

8 And the foure beasts had each of them six wings about him, and they were full of eyes, within, and they rest not day and night, saying, Holy holy, holy, Lord God Almighty, which was, and is, and is to come.

9 And when these beasts giue glory, and honour and thanks to him that sate on the Throne, who liueth for euer and euer.

10 The four and twenty Elders fall down before him that sat on the Throne, and worship him that liveth for ever and ever: and cast their crownes before the Throne, saying,

11 *Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive glory, and honour, and power: for thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasure they are, and were created.

C H A P. V.

1 The booke sealed with seven scales: 9 which only the Lambe that was found worthy to open: 10 Therefore the Elders praise him, 9 and confesse that he redeemed them with his blood.

And I saw in the right hand of him that sat on the Throne, a booke written within, and on the backside sealed with seven scales.

2 And I saw a strong Angel proclaiming with a loud voyce; Who is worthy to open the booke, and to looke the scales thereof?

3 And no man in heauen nor in earth, neither vnder the earth, was able to open the booke, neither to looke thereon.

4 And I wept much, because no man was found worthy to open and to reade the booke, neither to looke thereon.

5 And one of the Elders saith vnto me, Weepe not: behold, * the Lion of the tribe of Iuda, the root of Dauid, hath prevailed to open the booke, and to looke the seven scales thereof.

6 And I beheld, and loe, in the midst of the Throne, and of the four beasts, and in the midst of the Elders stood a Lambe, as it had been slaine, having seven hooves, and seven eyes, which are the seven Spirits of God, sent forth vnto all the earth.

7 And he came, and took the booke out of the right hand of him that sat vpon the Throne.

8 And when he had taken the booke, the four beasts, and four and twenty Elders fell down before the Lambe, having every one of them harpes, and golden vials full of odours, which are the prayers of Saints.

9 And they sung a new song, saying, Thou art worthy to take the booke, and to open the scales thereof: for thou wast slaine, and hast redeemed vs to God by thy blood, out of every kindred, and tongue, and people, and nation:

10 *And hast made vs vnto our God, Kings and Priests, and we shall reigne on the earth.

11 And I beheld, and heard the voyce of many Angels round about the Throne, and the beasts, and the Elders, and the number of them was ten thousand times ten thousand, and thousands of thousands.

12 Saying with a loud voyce, Worthy is the Lambe that wast slaine, to receive power, and riches, and wisdom, and strength, and honour, and glory, and blessing.

13 And every creature which is in heauen, and on the earth, and vnder the earth, and such as are in the sea, and all that are in them, heard I saying, Blessing, honour, glory, and power, be vnto him that sitteth vpon the Throne, and vnto the Lambe, for ever and ever.

14 And the four beasts said, Amen. And the four and twenty Elders fell down, and worshipped him that liveth for ever and ever.

C H A P. VI.

1 The opening of the scales in order, and what followed thereupon, containing a prophetic to the end of the world.

And I saw when the Lambe opened one of the scales, and I heard, as it were the noise of thunder, one of the four beasts, saying, Come and see.

2 And I saw, and beheld, a white horse, and he that sat on him, had a bow, and a crowne was given vnto him, and he went forth conquering, and to conquer.

3 And when he had opened the second scale, I heard the second beast say, Come and see.

4 And there went out another horse that was red: and power was given to him that sat thereon, to take peace from the earth, and that they should kill one another: and there was given vnto him a great sword,

5 And when he had opened the third scale, I heard the third beast say, Come and see. And I beheld, and loe, a blacke horse: and he that sat on him, had a paire of balances in his hand.

6 And I heard a voyce in the midst of the scales beasts, say, A measure of wheat for a peny, and three measures of barley for a peny, and he that hurt not the oyle and the wine.

7 And when hee had opened the fourth scale, I heard the voyce of the fourth beast say, Come, and see.

8 And I looked, and beheld a pale horse, and his name that sat on him was Death, and hell followed with him: and power was given vnto them, to sweep out the fourth part of the earth, to kill with sword, and with hunger, and with death, and with the beasts of the earth.

9 And when he had opened the fifth scale, I saw vnder the Altar the soules of them that were slaine for the word of God, and for the testimony which they held.

10 And they cryed with a loud voyce, saying, How long, O Lord, holily and true, dost thou not iudge, and avenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth?

11 And white robes were given vnto every one of them, and it was said vnto them, that they should rest yet for a litle season, vntill their fellow-servants also, and their brethren, that should be killed as they were, should be satisfied.

12 And I beheld, when he had opened the sixth scale, and loe, there was a great earthquake, and the Son became blacke, as sackcloth, and the Moon became as blood.

13 And the stars of heauen fell vnto the earth, even as a figtree casteth her fruit vnto the earth, when she is shaken of a mighty wind.

14 *And the heauen departed as a scroll, when it is rolled together, and every mountaine and Island were cast out of their places.

15 And the King of the earth, and the great men, and the rich men, and the chief captains, and the mighty men, and every bond-man, and every freeman, hid themselves in the dens, and in the rocks of the mountaines.

16 And said to the mountains and rocks, Fall on vs, and hide vs from the face of him that sitteth on the Throne, and from the wrath of the Lambe:

17 For the great day of his wrath is come, and who shall be able to stand?

C H A P. VII.

1 An Angel: 2 sealeth the servants of God in their foreheads. 3 The number of them, that were sealed: of the tribes of Israel a certaine number: 9 Of all other nations, an innumerable multitude, which stand before the Throne, stand in white robes, and Palmes in their hands. 14 They rest vpon grass in the blood of the Lambe.

And

And after these things, I saw foure Angels standing on the foure corners of the earth, holding the foure winds of the earth, that the wind should not blow on the earth, nor on the sea, nor on any tree.

2 And I saw another Angel ascending from the East, having the keile of the living God: and hee cryed with a loud voice to the foure Angels, to whom it was given to hurt the earth, and the sea,

3 Saying, Hurt not the earth, neither the sea, nor the trees, till we have sealed the servants of our God in their foreheads.

4 And I heard the number of them which were sealed: and there were sealed an hundred and forty and four thousand of all the tribes of the children of Israel.

5 Of the tribe of Iuda were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Ruben were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Gad were sealed twelve thousand.

6 Of the tribe of Aser were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Nephtali were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Manasses were sealed twelve thousand.

7 Of the tribe of Simeon were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Levi were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Machas were sealed twelve thousand.

8 Of the tribe of Zabulon were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Ioseph were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Benjamin were sealed twelve thousand.

9 After this I beheld, and hee, a great multitude, which no man could number, of all nations, and kindreds, and people, and tongues, stood before the Throne, and before the Lambe, clothed with white robes, and palms in their hands:

10 And cryed with a loud voice, saying, Salvation to our God, which sitteth upon the Throne, and unto the Lambe.

11 And all the Angels stood round about the Throne, and about the Elders, and the foure beasts, and fell before the Throne on their faces, and worshipped God, 12 Saying, Amen: Blessing, and glory, and wisdom, and thanksgiving, and honour, and power, and might, be unto our God for ever and ever. Amen.

13 And one of the Elders answered, saying unto mee, What are these which are arrayed in white robes? and whence came they?

14 And I said unto him, Sir, thou knowest. And he said unto me, These are they which came out of great tribulation, and have washed their robes, and made them white in the blood of the Lambe.

15 Therefore are they before the Throne of God, and serve him day and night in his Temple: and he that overcometh the Devil, shall dwell among them.

16 They shall hunger no more, neither thirst any more, neither shall the Sun light on them, nor any heat.

17 For the Lambe which is in the midst of the Throne, shall feed them, and shall lead them unto living fountains of waters: and God shall wipe away all teares from their eyes.

CHAP. VIII.

1 At the opening of the seventh seale, 2 Seven Angels had seven Trumpets given them, 6 Foure of them sounded their Trumpets, and great plagues followed, 3 Another Angel purposed to offer the prayers of the Saints on the golden Altar.

And when hee had opened the seventh seale, there was silence in heaven about the space of halfe an houre.

2 And I saw the seven Angels which stood before God, and to them were given seven trumpets.

3 And another Angel came and stood at the Altar, having a golden censur, and there was given unto him much incense, that hee should offer it with the prayers of all Saints, upon the golden Altar which was before the Throne.

4 And the smoke of the incense which came with the prayers of the Saints, ascended up before God, out of the Angels hand.

5 And the Angel took the censur, and filled it with fire of the Altar, and cast it into the earth: and there were voyces, and thundrings, and lightnings, and an earthquake.

6 And the seven Angels, which had the seven trumpets, prepared themselves to sound.

7 The first Angel sounded, and there followed haile, and fire mingled with blood, and they were cast upon the earth, and the third part of trees was burnt up, and all greene grasse was burnt up.

8 And the second Angel sounded, and as it were a great mountaine burning with fire was cast into the Sea, and the third part of the Sea became blood.

9 And the third part of the creature which were in the Sea, and had life, died: and the third part of the ships were destroyed.

10 And the third Angel sounded, and there fell a great starre from heaven, burning as it were a lampe, and it fell upon the third part of the Rivers, and upon the fountains of waters:

11 And the name of the Star is called Wormewood, and the third part of the waters became Wormewood, and many men died of the waters, because they were made bitter.

12 And the fourth Angel sounded, and the third part of the Sun was smitten, and the third part of the Moone, and the third part of the Starres, so as the third part of them was darkened: and the day became not for a third part of it, and the night likewise.

13 And I beheld, and heard an Angel flying thorough the midst of heaven, saying with a loud voice, Woe, woe, woe to the inhabitants of the earth, by reason of the other voyces of the trumpet of the three Angels which are yet to sound.

CHAP. IX.

1 At the sounding of the fifth Angel, a Starre fell from heaven, to whom is given the key of the bottomlesse pit, 2 Hee opened the pit, and there came forth Locusts like Scorpions, 12 The first was past, 13 The six Trumpets sounded, 14 Foure Angels are let loose that were bound.

And the six Angel sounded, and I saw a Starre fall from heaven unto the earth: and to him was given the key of the bottomlesse pit.

2 And he opened the bottomlesse pit, and there arose a smoke out of the pit, as the smoke of a great furnace, and the Sun and the aire were darkened, by reason of the smoke of the pit.

3 And there came out of the smoke, Locusts upon the earth, and unto them was given power, as the Scorpions of the earth have power.

4 And it was commanded them, that they should not hurt the grasse of the earth, neither any greene thing, neither any tree: but onely those men which have not the seale of God in their foreheads.

5 And to them it was given that they should not kill them, but that they should bee corrupted five months, and their torment was as the torment of a Scorpion, when hee striketh a man.

6 And in those dayes shall men seeke death, and shall not find it, and shall desire to die, and death shall see from them.

7 And the shapes of the locusts were like vnto horses prepared vnto battell, and on their heads were as it were crownes like gold, and their faces were as the faces of man.

8 And they had haire as the haire of women, and their teeth were as the teeth of Lyons.

9 And they had breth-plates, as it were breth-plates of iron, and the found of their wings was as the found of charres of many horses running to battell.

10 And they had tailes like vnto scorpions, and those were stinges in their tailes, and their power was to hurt men five monthes.

11 And they had a King ouer them, which is the Angel of the bottomlesse pit, whose name in the Hebrew tongue is Abaddon, but in the Greeke tongue hath his name Apollyon.

These are the seven

12 One was in part, and behold, there come two woes more hereafter.

13 And the sixt Angel sounded, and I heard a voyce from the fourne hornes of the golden Altar, which is before God,

14 Saying to the sixt Angel which had the trumpet, Loose the foure Angels which are bound in the great river Euphrates.

15 And the foure Angels were loosed, which were prepared for an houre, and a day, and a month, and a yeere, for to slay the third part of men.

16 And the number of the army of the horsemen were two hundred thousand thousand; and I heard the number of them.

17 And thus I saw the horses in the vision, and them that sat on them, having breth-plates of fire and of scalded, and brimstone, and the heads of the horses were as the heads of lions, and out of their mouthes issued fire, and smoke, and brimstone, 18 By their three was the third part of men killed, by the fire, and by the smoke, and by the brimstone which issued out of their mouthes.

19 For their power is in their mouth, and in their scales: for their scales were like vnto serpents, and had heads, & with them they doe hurt.

20 And the rest of the men which were not killed by these plagues, yet repented not of the workes of their hands, that they should not worship devils, and idoles of gold, and silver, and braasse, and stone, and of wood, which neither can see, nor heare, nor walke:

And the first

21 Neither repented they of their murders, nor of their incests, nor of their fornication, nor of their thefts.

CHAR. X.

A mighty strong Angel appeared with a Booke open in his hand, & hee sweareth by him that liueth for euer, that there shall be no more time. 2 Iohn is commanded to take and tate the Booke.

And I saw another mighty Angel come downe from heauen clothed with a cloud, and a rainbow was vpon his head, and his face was as it were the Sunne, and his feet as pillars of fire.

3 And he had in his hand a little Booke open; and hee set his right foot vpon the Sea, and his left foot on the earth.

4 And called with a loud voyce, as when a Lion roareth: and when hee had cryed, seven thunders uttered their voyces.

5 And when the seven thunders had uttered their voyces, I was about to write: and I heard a voyce from heauen, saying vnto me, Seale vp the things which the seven thunders uttered, and write them not.

6 And the Angel which I saw stand vpon the Sea, and vpon the earth, lifted vp his hand to heauen.

7 And sware by him that liueth for euer and euer, who created heauen, and the things that therein are, and the earth, and the things which are therein, that there should be time no longer.

8 But in the dayes of the voyce of the seventh Angel, when hee shall begin to sound, the mysterie of God should be finished, as hee hath declared to his seruants the Prophets.

9 And the voyce which I heard from heauen, spake vnto me againe, and said, Goe, and take the little Booke which is open in the hand of the Angel which standeth vpon the Sea, and vpon the earth.

10 And I went vnto the Angel, and said vnto him, Giue me the little Booke. And he said vnto me, Take it, and eat it vp, and it shall make thy belly bitter, but it shall be in thy mouth sweet as honey.

And the 11 And Iooke the little booke out of the Angels hand, and ate it vp, and it was in my mouth sweet as honey, and in my belly bitter.

12 And hee said vnto mee, Thou must prophesie againe before many peoples, and nations, and tongues, and Kings.

CHAP. XI.

3 The two messengers prophesie. 4 They haue power to shut heauen that it raine not. 7 The beast shall fight against them, and kill them, 8 They lie vnto the earth, 11 and after three dayes and a halfe, rise againe. 14 The second was in part, 15 the seventh trumpet soundeth.

And there was giuen mee a reede like vnto a rod, and the Angel saide, saying, Rise and measure the Temple of God, and the Altar, and them that worship therein.

2 But the Court which is without the Temple, leave out, and measure it not: for it is giuen vnto the Gentiles, and the holy city shall they tread vnder foot forty and two monthes.

3 And it will giue power vnto my two witnesses, & they shall prophesie a thousand two hundred and threecore dayes, clothed in sackcloth.

And the

4 These are the two Olive trees, and the two Candlestickes, standing before the God of the earth.

And the

5 And if any man will hurt them, fire procedeth out of their mouth, and devoureth their enemies: and if any man will hurt them, hee shall in this manner be killed.

And the 6 These haue power to shut heauen, that it raine not in the daies of their prophesie: and haue power ouer waters to turne them to blood, and to smite the earth with all plagues, as often as they will.

And the 7 And when they shall haue finished their testimony, the beast that ascendeth our of the bottomlesse pit, shall make warre against them, and shall overcome them, and kill them.

And the

8 And their dead bodies shall lie in the street of the great city, which spiritually is called Sodom and Egypt, where also our Lord was crucified.

And the 9 And they of the people, and kindreds, and tongues, and nations, shall see their dead bodies three dayes and an halfe, and shall not suffer their dead bodies to be put in graues.

10 And they that dwell vpon the earth, shall reioyce ouer them, and make merry, and shall send gifts one to another, because these two Prophets testified them that dwell on the earth.

11 And after three dayes and an halfe, the Spirit of life from God entred into them: and they stood vpon their feet, and great feare fell vpon them which saw them.

12 And they heard a great voyce from heauen, saying vnto them, Come vp hither. And they ascended vp to heauen in a cloud, and their enemies beheld them.

13 And the same houre was there a great earthquake, and the tenth part of the City fell, and in the earthquake were slaine $\frac{1}{10}$ of man seuen thousand: and the remanent were affrighted, and gaue glory to the God of heauen.

14 The second wo is past, and behold, the third wo cometh quickly.

15 And the fourth Angel sounded, and there were great voyces in heauen, saying, The Kingdomes of this world are become the Kingdomes of our Lord, and of his Christ, and hee shall reigne for ever and ever.

16 And the foure and twenty Elders which sat before God on their seats, fell vpon their faces, and worshipped God, 17 Saying, We giue thee thanks, O Lord God Almighty, which art, and wast, and art to come; because thou hast taken to thee thy great power, and hast reigned.

18 And the nations were angry, and thy wrath is come, and the time of the dead, that they should be iudged, and that thou shouldst giue reward vnto thy seruants the Prophets, and to the Saints, and them that feare thy Name, small and great, and shouldst destroy them which destroy the earth.

19 And the Temple of God was opened in heauen, and there was seene in his Temple, the Ark of his Testament, and there were lightnings, and voyces, and thunders, and an earthquake, and great hoile.

CHAP. XII.

1 A woman clothed with the Sunne, traucelleth
2 The great red Dragon standeth before her, ready to deuoure her child: 6 when she was deliuered, she feedeth in the wilderness. 7 Michael and his Angels fight with the Dragon, and victualle, 12 The Dragon being cast downe into the earth, persecuteth the woman.

1 And there appeared a great wonder in heauen, a woman clothed with the Sunne, and the Moone vnder her feet, and vpon her head a crowne of twelue Starres;

2 And the being with child, cryed, traucelling in birth, and pained to be deliuered.

3 And there appeared another wonder in heauen, and behold, a great red Dragon, having seuen heads, and ten hornes, and seuen crownes vpon his heads.

4 And his taile deckt the third part of the Stars of heauen, and did cast them to the earth, and the Dragon stood before the woman which was ready to be deliuered, for to deuoure her child as soon as it was borne.

5 And she brought forth a man child, who was to rule all nations with a rod of iron: and her child was caught, vp vnto God, and to his Throne.

6 And the woman fled into the wilderness, where she hath a place prepared of God, that they should feed her there a thousand two hundred and threescore dayes.

7 And there was war in heauen, Michael and his Angels fought against the Dragon, and the Dragon fought, and his Angels.

8 And prevailed not, neither was their place found any more in heauen.

9 And the great Dragon was cast out, that old serpent, called the Devil and Satan, which deceiveth the whole world: hee was cast out into the earth, and his Angels were cast out with him.

10 And I heard a loud voyce, saying in heauen, Now is come saluation and strength, and the Kingdom of our God, and the power of his Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast down, which accused them before our God day and night.

11 And they overcame him by the blood of the Lambe, and by the word of their testimony, and they loued not their liues vnto the death.

12 Therefore reioyce ye heauens, and ye that dwell in them: Woe to the inhabitants of the earth, and of the sea; for the Devil is come downe vnto you, having great wrath, because he knoweth that he hath but a short time.

13 And when the dragon saw that hee was cast vnto the earth, hee persecuted the woman which brought forth the man child.

14 And to the woman were given two wings of a great Eagle, that she might flee into the wilderness in a place, where she is nourished for a time, and times, and halfe a time; from the face of the Serpent.

15 And the Serpent cast out of his mouth water as a flood, after the woman, that hee might cause her to be caried away of the flood.

16 And the earth helped the woman, and the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed vp the flood which the Dragon cast out of his mouth.

17 And the Dragon was wroth with the woman, and went to make warre with the remanent of her seed, which hee keepeth the Commandments of God, and haue the testimony of Iesus Christ.

CHAP. XIII.

1 A beast riseth out of the Sea with seven heads and ten hornes, to whom the Dragon giueth his power. 21 Another beast cometh vp out of the earth: 24 causeth an image to be made of the former beast: 15 and that men should worship it, 16 and receive his mark.

1 And I stand upon the sand of the Sea, and saw a beast rise vp out of the Sea, having seven heads and ten hornes, and vpon his hornes ten crownes, and vpon his heads the name of blasphemy.

2 And the beast which I saw, was like vnto a Leopard, and his feet were as the feet of a Beare, and his mouth as the mouth of a Lion: and the Dragon gaue him his power, and his seat, and great authority.

3 And I saw one of his heads as it were wounded to death, and his deadly wound was healed: and all the world wondered after the beast.

4 And they worshipped the Dragon which gaue power vnto the beast, and they worshipped the beast, saying, Who is like vnto the beast? Who is able to make warre with him?

5 And there was giuen vnto him a mouth speaking great things, and blasphemies, and power was giuen vnto him to continue fourey and twentie moethes.

6 And hee opened his mouth in blasphemie against God, to blasphemie his Name, and his Tabernacle, and them that dwell in heauen.

7 And it was giuen vnto him to make warre with the Saints, and to overcome them: and power was giuen him ouer all kindreds, and tongues, and nations.

8 And all that dwell vpon the earth shall worship him, whose names are not written in the booke of life of the Lambe, sliue from the foundation of the world.

9 If any man haue an eare, let him heare:

10 He that leadeth into captivity, shall goe into captivity: * Hee that killeth with the sword, must be killed with the sword. Here is the patience, and the faith of the Saints.

11 And I beheld another beast coming vp out of the earth, and he had two hornes like a Lambe, and he spake as a Dragon.

12 And hee exerciseth all the power of the first beast before him, and causeth the earth, and them which dwell therein, to worship the first beast, whose deadly wound was healed.

13 And he doth great wonders, so that he maketh fire come downe from heauen on the earth, in the sight of men,

14 And deceueth them that dwell on the earth, by the means of those miracles which he had power to doe in the sight of the beast, saying to them that dwell on the earth, that they should make an image to the beast, which had the wound by a sword, and did liue.

15 And hee had power to giue life vnto the image of the beast, that the image of the beast should both speake, and cause that as many as would not worship the image of the beast, should be killed.

16 And he causeth all both small and great, rich and poore, free and bond, to receiue a marke in their right hand, or in their forehead:

17 And that no man might buy or sell, save he that had the marke, or the name of the beast, or the number of his name.

18 Here is wisdom. Let him that hath understanding count the number of the beast, for it is the number of a man, and his number is, six hundred threescore and sixe.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The Lambe standing on mount Sion with his company: 2 An Angel preacheth the Gospell. 3 The fall of Babylon. 13 The harvest of the world, and putting in of the sickle. 20 The vintage and winepresse of the wrath of God.

And I looked, and loe, a Lambe stood on the mount Sion, and with him an hundred forty and foure thousand, having his Fathers Name written in their foreheades.

2 And I heard a voyce from heauen, as the voyce of many waters, and as the voyce of a great thunders: and I heard the voyce of harpers harping with their harpes,

3 And they sung as it were a new Song before the throne, and before the foure beasts, and the Elders, and no man could learne that Song, but the hundred and forty and foure thousand which were redeemed from the earth,

4 These are they which were not defiled with women: for they are virgins: These are they which follow the Lambe whithersoever he goeth: These were redeemed from among men, being the first fruits vnto God, and to the Lambe,

5 And in their mouth was found no guile: for they are without fault before the Throne of God.

6 And I saw another Angel ste in the midst of heauen, having the euerlasting Gospell, to preach vnto them that dwell on the earth, and to every nation, and kindred, and tongue, and people,

7 Saying with a loud voyce, Feare God, and giue glory to him, for the houre of his iudgement is come: * And worship him that made heauen and earth, and the sea, and the fountaines of waters.

8 And there followed another Angel, saying, * Babylon is fallen, is fallen, that great city, because shee made all nations drinke of the wine of the wrath of her fornication.

9 And the third Angel followed them, saying with a loud voyce, If any man worship the beast and his image, and receiue his marke in his forehead, or in his hand,

10 The same shall drinke of the wine of the wrath of God, which is poured out without mixture into the cup of his indignation, and he shall be tormented with fire and brimstone in the presence of the holy Angels, and in the presence of the Lambe:

11 And the smoke of their torment ascendeth vp for euer and euer. And they haue no rest day nor night, who worship the beast and his image, and whosoever receiue the marke of his name.

12 Here is the patience of the Saints: Here are they that keepe the Commandements of God, and the faith of Iesus.

13 And I heard a voyce from heauen, saying vnto me, Write, Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord, from henceforth, yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labours, and their workes doe follow them.

14 And I looked, and behold, a white cloud, and vpon the cloud one sat like vnto the Sonne of man, having on his head a golden crowne, and in his hand a sharpe sickle.

15 And another Angel came out of the Temple, crying with a loud voyce to him that sat on the cloud: * Thrust in thy sickle, and reape, for the time is come for thee to reape, for the harvest of the earth is ripe.

16 And hee cast his sickle on the cloud, and the earth was reaped.

17 And another Angel came out of the Temple, which is in heauen, he also having a sharpe sickle.

18 And another Angel came out from the Altar, which had power ouer fire, and cried with a loud cry to him that had the sharpe sickle, saying, Thrust in thy sharpe sickle, and gather the clusters of the vine of the earth, for her grapes are fully ripe.

19 And the Angel thrust in his sickle into the earth, and gathered the vine of the earth, and cast it into the great winepresse of the wrath of God.

20 And the winepresse was troden without the city, and blood came out of the winepresse, even vnto the horie bridles, by the space of a thousand and sixe hundred furlongs.

CHAP. XV.

1 The seven Angels with the seven last plagues. 2 The song of them that overcome the beast. 7 The seven vials full of the wrath of God.

And I saw another signes in heauen, great and marvellous, seven Angels, having the seven last plagues, for in them is filled vp the wrath of God.

2 And I saw as it were a Sea of glasse, mingled with fire, and them that had gotten the victorie over the beast, and over his image, and over his marke, and over the number of his name, stand on the Sea of glasse, having the harpes of God.

4 And they sing the song of Moses the servant of God, and the song of the Lambe, saying, Great and marvellous are thy works, Lord God Almighty: just and true are thy wayes, thou King of Saints.

5 Who shall not feare thee, O Lord, and glorify thy Name? for thou only are holy: for all nations shall come and worship before thee, for thy iudgements are made manifest.

6 And after that I looked, and behold, the Temple of the Tabernacle of the Testimony in heaven was opened:

7 And the seven Angels came out of the Temple having the seven plagues, clothed in pure and white linnen, and having their breasts girded with golden girdles.

8 And one of the foure beasts came unto the seven Angels, seven golden vials full of the wrath of God, who lanch for ever and ever.

9 And the Temple was filled with smoke from the glory of God, and from his power, and no man was able to enter into the Temple, till the seven plagues of the seven Angels were fulfilled.

CHAP. XVII

1 The Angels powred out their vials full of wrath. 2 The plagues that followed thereupon. 3 Christ commeth as a blasse: Blessed are they that watch.

1 And I heard a great voyce out of the Temple, saying to the seven Angels, Goe your wayes, and powre out the vial: of the wrath of God upon the earth.

2 And the first went and powred out his viall upon the earth, and there fell a noy: one and grievous sore upon the men, which had the marke of the beast, and upon them which worshipped his image.

3 And the second Angel powred out his viall upon the sea, and the blood of the sea became as the blood of a dead man: and every living soule died in the sea.

4 And the third Angel powred out his viall upon the rivers and foun: taines of watter, and they became blood.

5 And I heard the Angel of the waters say, Thou art righteous, O Lord, which art, and wast, and shalt be, because thou hast iudged thus:

6 For they have shed the blood of Saints, and Prophets, and thou hast given them blood to drinke: for they are worthy.

7 And I heard another out of the Altar say, Evenso, Lord God Almighty: for we and righteous are thy iudgements.

8 And the fourth Angel powred out his viall upon the Sunne, and power was given unto him to scorch men with fire.

9 And men were scorched with great heat, and blasphemed the Name of God, which hath power over these plagues: and they repented not, to give him glory.

10 And the fifth Angel powred out his viall upon the seat of the beast, and his kingdome was full of darkness, and they gnawed their tongues for paine, 11 And blasphemed the God of heauen, because of their paine, and their sores, and repented not of their deeds.

12 And the sixth Angel powred out his viall upon the great river Euphrates, and the water thereof was dried up, that the way of the Kings of the East might be prepared.

13 And I saw three unlesse spirits like frogs, come out of the mouth of the dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of the false prophet.

14 For they are the spirits of devils, working miracles, which goe forth unto the Kings of the earth, and utter the whole world, to gather them to the battell of that great day of God Almighty.

15 Behold, I come as a thiefe: Blessed is he that watcheth, and keepeth his garments, lest he walk naked, and they see his shame.

16 And he gathered them together into a place, called in the Hebrew tongue, Armageddon.

17 And the seventh Angel powred out his viall into the ayre, and there came a great voyce out of the Temple of heauen, from the Throne, saying, It is done.

18 And there were voyces, and thunders, and lightnings: and there was a great earthquake, such as was not since men were upon the earth, to mighty an earthquake and so great.

19 And the great city was divided into three parts, and the cities of the nations fell: and great Babylon came in remembrance before God, to give unto her the cup of the wine of the fiercenesse of his wrath.

20 And every Island fled away, and the mountains were not found.

21 And there fell upon men a great halle out of heauen, every stone about the weight of a talent, and men blasphemed God, because of the plague of the halle: for the plague thereof was exceeding great.

CHAP. XVII

3. 4. A woman arrayed in purple and scarlet, with a golden cup in her hand, sitting upon the beast, which is great Babilon the mother of all abominations. 5 The interpretation of the seven heads, 12 and the ten horns. 8 The punishment of the whore. 13 The victory of the Lambe.

1 And there came one of the seven Angels, which had the seven vials, and talked with me, saying unto mee, Come hither: I will shew unto thee the judgement of the great Whore, that sitteth upon many waters:

2 With whom the Kings of the earth have committed fornication, and the inhabitants of the earth have become made drunke with the wine of her fornication.

3 So he carried me away in the spirit into the wilderness: and I saw a woman sit upon a scarlet coloured beast, full of names of blasphemy, having seven heads and ten horns.

4 And the woman was arrayed in purple and scarlet colour, and decked with gold and precious stone, and pearles, having a golden cup in her hand, full of abominations, and filthinesse of her fornication.

5 And upon her forehead was a name written, MYSTERIE, BABYLON THE GREAT, THE MOTHER OF HARLOTS, AND ABOMINATIONS OF THE EARTH.

6 And I saw the woman drunken with the blood of the Saints, and with the blood of the Martyrs of Iesus: and when I saw her, I wondered with great admiration.

7 And the Angel said unto me, Wherefore dost thou marvel? I will tell thee the mystery of the woman, and of the beast that carrieth her, which hath the seven heads, and ten horns.

1 Dr, for

8 The beast that thou sawest, was, and is not, and shall ascend out of the bottomless pit, and go into perdition; and they that dwell on the earth, shall wonder (whose names were not written in the booke of life from the foundation of the world) when they behold the beast that was, and is not, and yet is.

9 And here is the mind, which hath wisdom, The seven heads are seven mountains, on which the woman sitteth.

10 And there are seven Kings; five are fallen and one is, and the other is not yet come: and when he cometh, he must continue a short space.

11 And the beast that was, and is not, even he is the eighth, and is of the seven, and goeth into perdition.

12 And the ten horns which thou sawest, are ten Kings, which have received no kingdom as yet: but receive power as Kings one houre with the beast.

13 These have one mind, and shall give their power and strength unto the beast.

14 These shall make warre with the Lambe, and the Lambe shall overcome them: * For he is Lord of lords, and King of kings, and they that are with him, are called, and chosen, and faithful.

15 And he saith unto me, The waters which thou sawest where the whore sitteth, are peoples, and multitudes, and nations, and tongues.

16 And the ten horns which thou sawest upon the beast, these shall hate the whore, and shall make her desolate and naked, and shall eat her flesh, and shall burne her with fire.

17 For God hath put in their hearts to fulfill his will, and to agree, and give their kingdom unto the beast, vntill the words of God shall be fulfilled.

18 And the woman which thou sawest, is that great City, which reigneth ouer the Kings of the earth.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 Babylon is fallen. 4 The people of God commanded to depart out of her. 9 The Kings of the earth, it wish the merchants, and mariners, lament over her. 20 The Saints reioyce for the iudgements of God upon her.

1 And after these things, I saw another Angel come downe from heauen, having great power, and the earth was lightened with his glory.

2 And he cryed mightily with a strong voyce, saying, * Babylon the great is fallen, is fallen, and is become the habitation of devils, and the hold of every foule spirit, and a cage of every vncleane and hateful bird:

3 For all nations have drunken of the wine of the wrath of her fornication, and the Kings of the earth have committed iniquitation with her, and the merchants of the earth are waxed rich through the abundance of her delicacies.

4 And I heard another voyce from heauen, saying, Come out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her sinnes, and that ye receive not of her plagues:

5 For her sinnes have reached vnto heauen, and God hath remembered her iniquities.

6 Reward her even as shee rewarded you, and double vnto her double according to her workes: in the cup which she hath filled, fill to her double.

7 How much she hath glorified her selfe, and lifted vp herselfe, so much torment and sorrow give ye to her: and she shall say, I sit a * Queen, and shall see no sorrow,

8 Therefore shall her plagues come in one day, death and mourning, and famine, and she shall be utterly burnt with fire: for strong is the Lord God who iudgeth her.

9 And the Kings of the earth which have committed fornication, and lived deliciouly with her, shall bewaile her, and lament: for her, when they shall see the smoke of her burning:

10 Standing a farre off for the feare of her torment, saying, Alas, alas, that great city Babylon, that mighty city: for in one houre is thy iudgement come.

11 And the Merchants of the earth shall weepe, and mourne ouer her, for no man buyeth their merchandise any more.

12 The merchandise of gold and siluer, and precious stones, and of pearles, and fine linnen, and purple, and silke, and scarlet, and all thinges of fine wood, and all manner vessels of yvorie, and all manner vessels of most precious wood, and of brasse, and yron, and marble,

13 And Cinnamon, and Odours, and Ointments, and Frankincense, and Wine, and Oile, and fine Flour, and Wheat, and Beasts, and Sheepe, and Horses, and Chariots, and Slaves, and Soules of men.

14 And the fruites that thy soule lusteth after, are departed from thee, and all things which were deputy and goodly, are departed from thee, and thou shalt haue them no more at all.

15 The Merchants of these things, which were made rich by her, shall stand a farre off for the feare of her torment, weeping and wailing:

16 And saying, Alas, alas, that great city, that was clothed in fine linnen, and purple, and scarlet, and decked with gold, and precious stones, and pearles:

17 For in one houre so great riches is come to nought. And every ship-master, and all the company in ships, and sailors, and as many as trade by Sea, stood a farre off, 18 And cryed when they saw the smoke of her burning, saying, What city is like vnto this great city?

19 And they cast dust on their heads, and cryed, weeping and wailing, saying, Alas, alas, that great city, wherein were made rich all that had ships in the Sea, by reason of her costliness, for in one houre is she made desolate.

20 Reioyce ouer her, thou heauen, and ye holy Apostles and Prophets, for God hath avenged you on her.

21 And a mighty Angel tooke vp a stone like a great millstone, and cast it into the Sea, saying, Thus with violence shall that great city Babylon be throwne downe, and shall be found no more at all.

22 And the voyce of harpers and musicians, and of pipers, and trumpeters, shall be heard no more at all in thee: and no craftsman of whatsoever craft he be, shall be found any more in thee: and the sound of a millstone shall be heard no more at all in thee:

23 And the light of a candle shall shine no more at all in thee: and the voyce of the bridegroom, and of the bride shall be heard no more at all in thee: for thy merchants were the great men of the earth: for by thy successe were all nations deceived.

24 And in her was found the blood of Prophets, and of Saints, and of all that were slain upon the earth.

CHAP. XII.

2 God is praised in heauen, for iudging the great whore, and awaying the blood of his Seruants. 7 The marriage of the Lambe. 10 The Angel will not bee worshipped. 17 The soules called to the great slaughter.

And after these things, I heard a great voyce of much people in heauen, saying, Alleluia: salvation, and glory, and honour, and power vnto the Lord our God:

1 For true and righteous are his iudgements, for he hath iudged the great whore, which did corrupt the earth with her fornication, and hath auenged the blood of his seruants at her hand.

2 And againe they said, Alleluia: and her smoke rose vp for ever and ever.

4 And the foure and twenty Elders, and the foure beasts fell downe, and worshipped God that sitteth on the Throne, saying, Amen, alleluia.

5 And a voyce came out of the Throne, saying, Praise our God, all ye his seruants, and ye that feare him, both small and great.

6 And I heard as it were the voyce of a great multitude, and as the voyce of many waters, and as the voyce of mighty thunderings, saying, Alleluia: for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth.

7 Let vs be glad and reioyce, and giue honour to him: for the marriage of the Lambe is come, and his wife hath made her selfe ready.

8 And to her was granted, that she should be arrayed in fine linnen, cleane and white, for the fine linnen is the righteousness of Saints.

9 And he saith vnto mee, Write, * Blessed are they which are called vnto the marriage Supper of the Lambe. And hee saith vnto mee, These are the true sayings of God.

10 And I fell at his feet to worship him: And he said vnto mee, * See thou doe it not: I am thy fellow-seruant, and of thy brethren, that haue the testimony of Iesus: worship God, for the testimony of Iesus is the spirit of prophecy.

11 And I saw heauen opened, and beheld a white horse, and he that sat vpon him, was called faithfull and true, and in righteousness he doeth iudge and make warre.

12 His eyes were as a flame of fire, and on his head were many crownes, and he had a name written, that no man knoweth but he himselfe.

13 * And he was clothed with a vesture dipt in blood, and his Name is called, the Word of God.

14 And the armies which were in heauen, followed him vpon white horses, clothed in fine linnen, white and cleane.

15 And out of his mouth goeth a sharpe sword, that with it he should smite the nations: and hee shall rule them with a rod of iron: and hee treadeth the winepress of the fiercenesse and wrath of Almighty God.

16 And he hath on his vesture, and on his thigh, a Name written, * KING OF KINGS, AND LORD OF LORDS.

17 And I saw an Angel standing in the Sunne, and he cried with a loud voyce, saying to all the soules that sit in the midle of heauen, Come, and gather your selves together vnto the Supper of the great God:

18 That ye may eate the flesh of Kings, and the flesh of captiues, and the flesh of mighty men, and the flesh of horses, and of them that sit on them, and the flesh of all men, both free and bond, both small and great.

19 And I saw the beast, and the King of the earth, and their armies gathered together, to make war against him that sat on the horse, and against his army.

20 And the beast was taken, and with him that false prophet, that wrought miracles before him, with which hee deceiued them that had received the marke of the beast, and them that worshipped his image: These both were cast alike into a lake of fire burning with brimstone.

21 And the remnant were slaine with the sword of him that sat vpon the horse, which sword proceeded out of his mouth, and all the soules were filled with their flesh.

CHAP. XIII.

2 Satan bound for a thousand yeeres. 6 The first resurrection: they blessed that haue part therein. 7 Satan let loose againe. 8 Gog and Magog. 10 The death cast into the lake of fire and brimstone. 12 The last and generall resurrection.

And I saw an Angel come downe from heauen, having the key of the bottomlesse pit, and a great chaine in his hand.

2 And he laid hold on the dragon, that old Serpent, which is the deuill and Satan, and bound him a thousand yeeres.

3 And cast him into the bottomlesse pit, and shewed him vp, and set a seale vpon him, that hee should deceiue the nations no more, till the thousand yeeres should be fulfilled: and after that hee must be loosed a litle season.

4 And I saw thrones, and they sat vpon them, and iudgement was giuen vnto them: and I saw the soules of them that were beheaded for the witness of Iesus, and for the word of God, and which had not worshipped the beast, neither his image, neither had received his marke vpon their foreheads, or in their hands: and they liued and reigned with Christ a thousand yeeres.

5 But the rest of the dead liued not againe, vntill the thousand yeeres were finished. This is the first resurrection.

6 Blessed and holy is hee that hath part in the first resurrection: on such the second death hath no power, but they shall be Priests of God, and of Christ, and shall reigne with him a thousand yeeres.

7 And when the thousand yeeres are expired, Satan shall be loosed out of his prison,

8 And shall goe out to deceiue the nations, which are in the foure quarters of the earth, * Gog and Magog, to gather them together to battell, the number of whom is as the sand of the Sea.

9 And they went vp on the breadth of the earth, and compassed the campe of the Saints about, and the beloved city: and fire came downe from God out of heauen, and deuoured them.

10 And the deuill that deceiued them, was cast into the lake of fire and brimstone, where the beast and the false prophet are, and shall bee tormented day and night for ever and euer.

11 And I saw a great white throne, and him that sat on it, from whose face the earth and the heauen fled away, and there was found no place for them.

12 And I saw the dead, small and great, stand before God: and the bookes were opened: and another * booke was opened, which is the booke of life: and the dead were iudged out of their works, which were written in the bookes, according to their works.

13 And the Sea gave up the dead which were in it; death and hell delivered up the dead which were in them: and they were judged every man according to their works.

14 And death and hell were cast into the lake of fire: this is the second death.

15 And whosoever was not found written in the book of life, was cast into the lake of fire.

CHAPTER XXI.

1 Of new heaves and new earth. 10 The holy city Hierusalem, with a full description thereof. 15 The third no more. the glory of God is her light. 18 The Kings of the earth bring their victors unto her.

And I saw a new heaven, and a new earth: for the first heaven and the first earth were passed away, and there was no more sea.

2 And I John saw the holy city, new Hierusalem, coming down from God out of heaven, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband.

3 And I heard a great voice out of heaven, saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God.

4 And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes: and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away.

5 And he that sat upon the throne, said, Behold, I make all things new. And he said unto me, Write for these words are true and faithful.

6 And hee said unto me, It is done: I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end. I will give unto him that is athirst, of the fountain of the water of life freely.

7 He that overcometh, shall inherit all things: and I will be his God, and he shall be my people.

8 But the fearful, and unbelieving, and the abominable, and murderers, and whoremongers, and idolaters, and all liars shall have their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone: which is the second death.

9 And there came unto mee one of the seven Angels, which had the seven vials full of the seven last plagues, and talked with me, saying, Come hither, I will shew thee these things. And hee carried me away in the Spirit to a great and high mountaine, and showed mee that great City, the holy Hierusalem, descending out of heaven from God.

11 Having the glory of God: and her light was like unto a stone most precious, even like a Jasper Stone, cleere as Crystal.

12 And had a wall great and high, and had twelve gates, and at the gates twelve Angels: and names written therein, which are the names of the twelve Tribes of the Children of Israel.

13 On the North three gates, on the South three gates, and on the West three gates, and on the East three gates.

14 And the wall of the city had twelve Foundations, and in them the names of the twelve Apostles of the Lamb.

15 And hee that talked with me, had a golden staffe, to measure the city, and the gates thereof, and the wall thereof.

16 And hee said unto me, Measure the city, and the street thereof, and the house thereof, and the length is as large as the breadth, and he measured the city with the reed, twelve thousand furlongs the length, and the breadth, and the height are equal.

17 And hee measured the wall thereof, an hundred and forty and four cubits, according to the measure of a man, that is, the Angel.

18 And the building of the wall of it was of Jasper, and the city was pure gold, like unto cleere glass.

19 And the Foundations of the wall of it were twelve, and the name of the Twelve Apostles. The first Foundation was Jasper, the second Saphire, the third Chalcedony, the fourth Emerald, the fifth Sardonyx, the sixth Sardonius, the seventh Chrysolite, the eighth Chrysolite, the ninth Chrysolite, the tenth Chrysolite, the eleventh Chrysolite, the twelfth an Amber.

20 And the twelve gates were twelve peales, every severall gate was of one peece, and the street of the city was pure gold, as it were cleere Jasper.

21 And the twelve gates were twelve peales, every severall gate was of one peece, and the street of the city was pure gold, as it were cleere Jasper.

22 And I saw no Temple therein: for the Lord God Almighty, and the Lamb are the Temple of it.

23 And the city had no wall: for the Sunne and the Moon, and the light of the Sun, and the light of the Moon, and the light thereof.

24 And the Kings of the earth shall bring their glory and honour into it: and they shall walk in the light of it: and the Kings of the earth shall bring their glory and honour into it.

25 And the gates of it shall not be shut at all day: for there shall be no there.

26 And they shall bring unto it, and shall be there: and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, neither mourning, neither shall there be any thing that doeth pain, when some shall work, when some shall sow, when some shall reap, when some shall rest.

27 And there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, neither mourning, neither shall there be any thing that doeth pain, when some shall work, when some shall sow, when some shall reap, when some shall rest.

CHAPTER XXII.

1 The river of life. 2 The tree of life. 3 The water of life. 4 The water of life. 5 The water of life. 6 The water of life. 7 The water of life. 8 The water of life. 9 The water of life. 10 The water of life. 11 The water of life. 12 The water of life.

And hee showed mee a pure river of water of life, cleere as Crystal, proceeding out of the Throne of God, and of the Lamb.

2 And upon the right side of the river, and upon the left side of the river, and upon the right side of the river, and upon the left side of the river, there were twelve trees, and the fruit thereof was such as they would desire: and the leaves thereof were for the healing of the nations.

3 And these things saith the Holy Ghost, which sheweth the things that shall come.

4 And they shall be his servants, and they shall be his servants, and they shall be his servants, and they shall be his servants.

5 And there shall be a multitude, and they shall need no candle, neither light of the Sun, nor of the Moon, nor of any light, for the Lord God giveth them light, and they shall continue for ever and ever.

6 And hee said unto me, These sayings are true, and true, and the Lord God the Father sent his Angel, to shew unto his servants the things which must shortly be done.

7 Behold, I come quickly, and my reward is with me, to give every man according to his works.
